PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION

I am extremely thankful to the members of the Bench and the Bar for the encouraging reception they have accorded to the first edition of this book. The first edition was exhausted within two years from its publication. In this edition I have incorporated in the body of the book the various amendments made by the Imperial Acts XXXV of 1935, XXI of 1936, VIII of 1937, IX of 1937 and XVI of 1935 as well as the amendments made by the Government of India (Adaptation of Indian Laws) Order, 1937. For the convenience of practitioners practising in British Burma, I have also given the amendments made by the Government of Burma (Adaptation of Indian Laws) Order, 1937. More than sixty sections and rules are affected by G. I. Order and G. B. Order. In this edition many portions of the book have been re written and nearly 200 pages of new matter have been added. All the cases whether reported in official or non-official reports up to the end of June, 1937, have been incorporated. To avoid confusion at the time of referring a rule, I have given all the rules framed by the different High Courts, Chief Courts and Judicial Commissioner's Courts not in the body of the book but in the Appendix. I shall deem my labour amply rewarded if it finds ready reception like its predecessor.

N. B.—The amendments made to section 60 by Act IX of 1937 shall not have effect in respect of any proceedings arising out of any suit instituted before the first day of June, nineteen hundred and thirty seven.—Vide Act IX of 1937, s. 3.

Amendments made by the Madras High Court

Order XIII.

Rule 9—Substitute the following for the existing sub-rule (3) and re-number the existing sub-rule (4) as sub-rule (5) :—

(3) Every application for return of a document under the first proviso to sub-rule (1) shall be made by a verified petition and shall set forth facts justifying the immediate return of the original.

(4) The Court may make such order as it thinks fit for the costs of any or all the parties to any application under sub-rule (1). The Court may further direct that any costs incurred in complying with or paid on application under sub-rule (1) or incurred in complying with the provisions of rule 5 of this order, shall be included as costs in the cause.

ORDER XXI.

Rule 11—(1) Add the following to sub-rule (2) (j) :—

"In an execution petition praying for relief by way of attachment of a decree of the nature specified in sub-rule (1) of rule 53 of this order there shall not be included any other relief mentioned in this clause".

(2) Add the following proviso at the end of sub-rule (2) :—

"Provided that when the applicant files with his application a certified copy of the decree, the particulars specified in clauses (b), (c) and (h) need not be given in the application".

Rule 17—(1) Substitute the following for sub-rule (1) :—

"(1) On receiving an application for the execution of a decree as provided by rule 11, sub-rule (2), the Court shall ascertain whether such of the requirements of rules 11 to 14 as may be applicable to the case have been complied with ; and if they have not been complied with, the Court may reject the application if the defect is not remedied within a time to be fixed by it".

(2) Add the following proviso at the end of the rule :—

"Provided that where an execution application is returned on account of inaccuracy in the particulars required under rule 11 (2) (g), the endorsement of return shall state what in the opinion of the returning officer is the correct amount".

Rule 22—Substitute the following for sub rule (1) :—

"(1) Where an application for execution is made—

- (a) more than two years after the date of the decree, or
- (b) against the legal representative of a party to the decree, or
- (c) where the party to the decree has been declared insolvent, against the

Assignee or Receiver in Insolvency, the Court executing the decree shall issue a notice to the person against whom execution is applied for requiring him to show cause, on a date to be fixed, why the decree should not be executed against him :

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary in consequence of more than two years having elapsed between the date of the decree and the application for execution, if the application is made within two years from the date of the last order against the party against whom execution is applied for, made on any previous application for execution, or in consequence of the application being made against the legal representative of the judgment-debtor, if upon a previous application for execution against the same person the Court has ordered execution to issue against him."

(2) Add the following proviso to sub-rule (2) of rule 22 :—

"Provided that no order for execution of a decree shall be invalid owing to the omission of the Court to record its reasons unless the judgment-debtor has sustained substantial injury as the result of such omission."

Rule 24—Substitute the following for sub-rule (3) :—

"(3) In every such process a day shall be specified on or before which it shall be executed and a day shall be specified on or before which it shall be returned to Court."

Rule 31—(1) Substitute the following for sub-rule (3) :—

"(2) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) has remained in force for three months, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder in cases where any amount has been fixed by the decree to be paid as an alternative to delivery of movable property, such amount, and, in other cases such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any), to the judgment-debtor on his application.

"(3) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing it which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of three months from the date of the attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made or, if made, has been refused, the attachment shall cease".

(2) Add the following as sub-rule (4) :—

"(4) The Court may on application extend the period of three months mentioned in sub-rules (2) and (3) to such period not exceeding six months on the whole as it may think fit".

Rule 32—Substitute the following for sub-rules (3) and (4) :—

"(3) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2) has remained in force for three months, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold; and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree holder such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any), to the judgment-debtor on his application. The Court may on application extend the period three months mentioned herein to such period not exceeding one year on the whole as it may think fit.

"(4) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing it which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of three months from the date of the attachment or of such extended period which the Court may order under sub-rule (3), no application to have the property sold has been made, or if made has been refused, the attachment shall cease."

"Where agriculture produce is attached, the Court shall make such arrangements for the custody thereof as it may deem sufficient, and, for the purpose of enabling the Court to make such arrangements, every application for the attachment of a growing crop shall specify the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered ; and the applicant shall deposit in Court within a date to be fixed by Court, such sum as the Court may deem sufficient to defray the cost of watching and tending the crop till such time."

Rule 53—Substitute the following for sub-rule (1) (b) (ii) :—

"(ii) the holder of the decree sought to be executed or his judgment-debtor if he has obtained the consent in writing of the decree-holder or the permission of the attaching Court, applies to the Court receiving such notice to execute the attached decree."

Rule 54—Add the following as sub-rule (3) :—

"(3) The order of attachment shall be deemed to have been made as against transferees without consideration from the judgment-debtor from the date of the order of attachment, and as against all other persons from the date on which they respectively had knowledge of the order of attachment, or the date on which the order was duly proclaimed under sub-rule (2) whichever is the earlier."

Rule 57—Substitute the following for rule 57 :—

"57. (1) Where any property has been attached in execution of a decree and the Court hearing the execution application either dismisses it or adjourns the proceedings to a further date, it shall state whether the attachment continues or ceases, provided that when the Court dismisses such an application by reason of the decree-holder's default the order shall state that the attachment do cease.

(2) Where the property attached is a decree of the nature mentioned in sub-rule (1) of rule 53, and the Court executing the attached decree, it shall report to the Court which attached the decree the fact of such dismissal. Upon the receipt of such report the Court attaching the decree shall proceed under the provisions of sub-rule (1) and communicate its decision to the Court whose decree is attached."

Rule 66—Rename the existing clause (e) to sub-rule (2) as (f) and add the following as clause (e) :—

"The value of the property as stated (i) by the decree-holder and (ii) by the judgment-debtor."

Rule 67—Add the following as sub-rule (4) :—

"(4) Unless the Court so directs it shall not be necessary to send a copy of the proclamation to the judgment-debtor."

Rule 69—Substitute the following for sub-rule (2) :—

"(2) Where a sale is adjourned under sub-rule (1) for a longer period than thirty days, a fresh proclamation under rule 67 shall be made, unless the judgment-debtor consents to waive it."

Rule 75—Substitute the following for the existing rule :—

"75 (1) Where the property to be sold is a growing crop and the crop from its nature admits of being stored but has not yet been stored, unless the Court decides to proceed under the provisions of sub-rule (2) hereunder, the day of the sale shall be so fixed as to admit of its being made ready for storing before the arrival of such day, and the sale shall not be held until the crop has been cut or gathered and is ready for storing.

(2) Where the crop from its nature does not admit of being stored, or can be sold to greater advantage in an unripe state, it may be sold before it is cut and gathered or in such unripe state, and the purchaser shall be entitled to enter on the land, and do all that is necessary for the purpose of tending and cutting or gathering it."

Rule 85.—Substitute the following for the existing rule :—

The full amount of purchase money payable and the amount required for the Time for payment in full of general stamp for the certificate under rule 94 shall purchase money and value of be paid by the purchaser into Court before the stamp for certificate of sale. Court closes on the fifteenth day from the sale of the property.

Provided that in calculating the amount to be so paid into Court, the purchaser shall have the advantage of any set-off to which he may be entitled under rule 72.

Rule 87.—Substitute the following for the existing :—

Every re-sale of immovable property, in default of the payment of the amounts mentioned in rule 85 within the period allowed for Notification on re-sale. such payment, shall be made after the issue of a fresh proclamation in the manner and for the period hereinbefore prescribed for the sale.

Rule 89—Substitute the following for sub-rule (1) :—

“(1) Where immovable property have been sold in execution of a decree the judgment-debtor, or any person deriving title from the judgment-debtor, or any person holding an interest in the property may apply to have the sale set aside on his depositing in Court—

(a) for payment to the purchaser, a sum equal to 5 per cent of the purchase money, and

(b) for payment to the decree-holder, the amount specified in proclamation of sale as that for the recovery of which the sale was ordered, less any amount which may, since the date of that proclamation of sale, have been received by the decree-holder :

Provided that where the immovable property sold is liable to discharge a portion of the decree debt the payment under clause (d) of this sub-rule need not exceed such amount as under the decree the owner of the property said is liable to pay.

Rule 90—Substitute the following for the existing rule :—

“90. Where any immovable property has been sold in execution of a decree, the decree-holder, or any person entitled to share in a rateable distribution of assets or whose interests are affected the sale, may apply to the Court to set the sale aside on the ground of a material irregularity or fraud in publishing or conducting it :

Provided that the Court may, before admitting the application, call upon the applicant either to furnish security to the satisfaction of the Court for an amount equal to that mentioned in the sale warrant or that realized by the sale, whichever is less or to deposit such amount in Court ;

Provided also that the security furnished or the deposit made as aforesaid, shall be liable to be proceeded against only to the extent of the deficit on a re-sale of the property already brought to sale.

Provided further that no sale shall be set aside on the ground of irregularity or fraud unless upon the facts proved the Court is satisfied that the applicant has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity or fraud.”

Rule 99—Substitute the following for the existing rule—

“99 Where the Court is satisfied that the resistance or obstruction was occasioned by any person (other than those mentioned in rule 98) claiming in good faith to be in possession of the property on his own account or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor, the Court shall make an order dismissing the application.”

ACT NO. V OF 1908.*

RECEIVED THE G. G.'S ASSENT ON THE 21ST MARCH, 1908.

An Act to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the procedure of the Courts of the Civil Judicature ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Interpretation of amending and consolidating Act.—The present Code like the previous ones of 1882 and 1877, is also a consolidating and amending Act. In interpreting the codifying portion of such an Act the observation of Lord Chancellor, Lord Halsbury in Vagliano v. Bank of England, 60 L. J. Q. B. 145=64 L. T. 353=39 W. R. 657=(1891) A. C. 102 at p. 107, must be borne in mind. There he observed: "I am wholly unable to adopt the view that, where a statute is expressly said to codify the law, you are at liberty to go outside the Code, so created, because before the existence of that Code another law prevailed." In the same case at p. 144, Lord Herschell also observed: "The proper course is in the first instance to examine the language of the statute and to ask, what is its natural meaning, uninfluenced by any considerations derived from the previous state of the law, and not to start with enquiry how the law previously stood and then assuming that it was probably intended to leave it unaltered, to see if the words of the enactment will bear an interpretation in conformity with this view. If a statute, intended to embody in a Code a particular branch of the law, is to be treated in this fashion, it appears to me that its utility will be almost destroyed and the very object with which it was enacted will be frustrated. The purpose of such a statute surely was that on any point specifically dealt with by it, the law should be ascertained by interpreting the language used instead of, as before, by roaming over

The Act has been extended by notification under ss. 5 and 5A of the Scheduled Districts Act, 1874 (14 of 1874), to the following Scheduled Districts :—

- (1) The Districts of Jalpaiguri, Cachar (excluding the North Cachar Hills), Sylhet, Goalpara (including the Eastern Duars), Kamrup, Darrang, Nowgong (excluding the Mikir Hill Tracts), Sibsagar (excluding the Mikir Hill Tracts) and Lakhimpur (excluding the Dibrugar Frontier Tracts). Gazette of India, 1909, Pt. I, p. 5. Gazette of India, 1914 Pt. I, p. 1690.
- (2) Upper Burma (except the Shan States). Gazette of India, 1909, Pt. I, p. 5.
- (3) The Province of Sindh. Bombay Government Gazette, Extraordinary, 1909, Pt. I, Gazette of India, 1909, Pt. I, p. 32.
- (4) The Districts of Darjeeling and Districts of Hazaribagh, Ranchi, Palamau and Manbhum in Chota Nagpur. Calcutta Gazette, 1909 Pt. I, p. 25. Gazette of India, 1909, Pt. I, p. 33.
- (5) The Province of Kumaun and Garwal and the Tarai Parganas with modifications. United Provinces Gazette, 1909, Pt. I, p. 3. Gazette of India, 1909, Pt. I, p. 31.
- (6) The Pargana of Janswar, Bawar in Dehra-Dun and the Scheduled portion of the Mirzapur District. United Provinces Gazette, 1909, Pt. I, p. 4 and Gazette of India, 1909, Pt. I, p. 32.
- (7) Coorg. Gazette of India, 1909, Pt. I, p. 32.
- (8) Scheduled Districts in Punjab. Gazette of India, 1909, Pt. I, p. 33.

Under section 3 (3a) of the Santhal Parganas Settlement Regulation (3 of 1872), ss. 38 to 42 and 156 and Rules 4 to 9 in Order XXI in the first Schedule have been declared in force in the Santhal Parganas and the rest of the Code for the trial of suits referred to in section 10 of the Santhal Parganas Justice Regulation, 1893, (5 of 1893). Calcutta Gazette, 1909, Pt. I, p. 45 and the whole Code in the Angul District under s. 3 of the Angul Laws Regulation, 1913 (3 of 1913), B. & O. Code.

This Act has been declared in force in British Baluchistan under s. 3 of the Baluchistan Laws Regulation, 1913 (2 of 1913). Bal Code. Sections 38, 39, 41 and 42, 45 and 46 Order IX, Rules 1 and 2, Order XXI, Rules 1—9 have been declared in force in the Arakan Hill District by Regulation I of 1916, s. 2, see Supplement to Burma Code.

a vast number of authorities in order to discover what the law was, extracting it by a minute critical examination of the prior decisions, dependent upon a knowledge of the exact effect even of an obsolete proceeding such a demurrer to evidence. I am of course far from asserting that resort may never be had to the previous state of the law for the purpose of aiding in the construction of the provisions of the Code. If, for example, a provision be of doubtful import, such resort would be perfectly legitimate....." See also A. I. R. 1928 B. 35=30 Bom. L. R. 1 ; 23 C. 563=23 I. A. 18=6 M. L. J. 71 ; 14 A. 145 ; 22 B. 112 ; 29 C. 707=29 I. A. 196=6 C. W. N. 825.

In construing an Act of Parliament which is a consolidating Act and does not profess to amend or alter the provisions of the Acts, consolidated, prima facie the same effect ought to be given to its provisions as was given to those of the Act for which it was substituted. Mitchel v. Simpson, 25 Q. B. D. 183. In Bedgett, Cooper v. Adams, (1894) 2 Ch. 557 at p. 561. Chitty J. said : "I referred yesterday to the Lord Chancellor's observations in Bank of England v. Vogliono (1891) A. C. 144, with reference to the Bills of Exchange Act, codifying the law, the proper rule of interpretation is to read the Act and to interpret its provisions without reference to previous decisions or to previous legislation, that being a prima facie rule only to which there would be reasonable exceptions. As the Lord Chancellor said : "I am of course far from asserting that resort may never be had to the previous state of the law for the purpose of aiding in the construction of the provisions of the Code." Then he gives some examples, which I need not cite at length. But I have here to deal, not with an Act of Parliament codifying the law, but with an Act to amend and to consolidate the law, and therefore it is I say those observations do not apply, and I think it is legitimate in the interpretation of the sections in this amending and consolidating Act to refer to the previous state of the law for the purpose of ascertaining the intention of the Legislature."

Construction Imposed by statutes.—When a clause in an Act which has received a judicial interpretation is re-enacted in the same terms, the Legislature is deemed to have adopted that interpretation. Campbell, Ex parte In re, 5 L. R. Ch. 703=23 L. T. 237=18 W. R. 1056 ; Balmukund Dube, In the goods of A. I. R. 1930 All. 82=126 Ind. Cas. 357. The Legislature must be presumed to have known the interpretation put by the Courts and others on the terms of a statute and when a provision of an earlier statute is re-enacted in practically the same language in a latter statute, it is legislative recognition of the correctness of the earlier interpretation. Pormeshar v. Emperor, 3 Pat. L. J. 537=19 Cr. L. J. 281=4 Pat. L. W. 152 ; Nogendia v. Peary, 21 C. L. J. 605=20 C. W. N. 312. "When construction placed upon the provisions of the Code has been reproduced by the Legislature in successive Codes without alteration, the inference is that this constitutes a legislative affirmation of the construction adopted by the Courts." Partab v. Sarat, 33 C. L. J. 201=25 C. W. N. 544 ; see also Kalimuddin v. Sahibuddin, 24 C. W. N. 4 (14) (F. B.) ; Monchar v. Sheo Saran, 25 A. L. J. 545=A. I. R. 1927 All. 369 ; Ishan v. Safatulla, 29 C. W. N. 103=35 C. W. N. 36 ; Jones v. Mersey Docks, 11 H. L. Cas. 480 ; Barlow v. Zeal, 15 Q. B. D. 405 ; Avery v. Wood, (1891) 3 Ch. 118.

Retrospective Operation of Code—Every statute which takes away and impairs vested rights must not be presumed to have a retrospective operation, unless the language clearly supports a contrary construction. 36 C. L. J. 132 ; 47 C. 1108=24 C. W. N. 1011=58 Ind. Cas. 327. This rule is based on the maxim Novus Constitutio futuris formam imponere debet non praeteritis (A new rule ought to be prospective, not retrospective, in its operation) Moon v. Durdan, 2 Ex. Ch. 22. But the general principle, indeed, seems to be that alterations in the procedure are always retrospective, unless there be some good reason against it. Gardner v. Lucas, 3 App. Cas. 603 ; Kimbray v. Draper, L. R. 3 Q. B. 160 ; Costa Rica v. Erlanger, 3 Ch. D. 67 ; Turnbull v. Forman, 15 Q. B. D. 238. Wright v. Hale, 6 H. & N. 227. "No rule of construction is more firmly established than this : that a retrospective operation is not to be given to a statute as to impair an existing right or obligation, otherwise than as regards matter of procedure, unless their effect cannot be avoided without doing violence to the language of the enactment. If the enactment is expressed in language which is fairly capable of either interpretation, it ought to be construed as prospective only." Per Wright J. in Athlamney. In re (1898) 2 Q. B. 551. But enactments dealing with procedure have an immediate effect and must unless the contrary is expressed apply to all actions whether commenced before or after the passing of the Act. A party has no vested right ; is mere procedure. A. I.

R. 1927 All. 657 ; see also 17 C. L. J. 316=17 C. W. N. 980 ; 30 C. W. N. 18. The general principle, indeed, seems to be that alterations in the procedure are always restrospective, unless there be some good reason against it. Per Lord Blackburn in Gardner v. Lucas, 3 App. Cas. 603 ; Kimbray v. Draper L. R. 3 Q. B. 160. But a new procedure would be presumably inapplicable, when its application would prejudice rights established under the old. Phoenix Bessemer Co., Ex. p. 45 L. J. Ch. 11. A statute which affects only the procedure would apply to pending actions. Jaga Mohan v. Behari, 39 C. W. N. 1006. The general rule is well-established that an amendment of an Act during the currency of a suit does not affect pending actions. The rights of parties are governed by the Act as it existed at the time the suit was started. 37 Bom. L. R. 372=A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 257. But it can not be laid down that a litigant has a vested right to the continuance of the tribunal before which he originally seeks his relief. When an Act or Regulation giving a special jurisdiction is repealed, parties cannot claim as of right that that jurisdiction must continue under the new Act or Regulation. 1935 A. L. J. 18.

Preamble.—The preamble is undoubtedly a part of the Act. Salked v. Johnson, 2 Ex. 283. The meaning and effect of a preamble of a Code must be understood to overlie the whole Act, giving colour to and controlling its provisions, and by showing the intention of the Legislature supplying pro tanto the rule for interpretation of these provisions. 2 A 74 (99).

Other Rules of interpretation—It is not allowable, says Vattel, to interpret what has no need of interpretation. (Law of N. S. 23). Absoluta sententia expositore no indiget (2 Inst. 533). The Legislature must be intended to mean what it has plainly expressed, and consequently there is no room for construction. Per Parke J. in R. v. Banbury, A. & E. 142. So a Court is bound to construe a section in a statute according to the plain meaning of the language used, unless it finds, either in the section itself or in any part of the statute, anything that will either modify, or qualify or alter the statutory languages even if the result of such construction leads to anomalies or be productive even by absurdity. 27 C. 11=3 C. W. N. 660. If the language admits of no doubt or secondary meaning, it is to be obeyed. 32 C. W. N. 1136=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 141. Where there is a positive enactment of the Indian Legislature the proper course is to examine the language of statute and to ascertain its proper meaning, uninfluenced by any consideration derived from the previous state of the law or of the English law upon which it is founded. A. I. R. 1928 P. C. 2 ; A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 361.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, commencement and extent.

1. [S. 1.] (1) This Act may be cited as the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of January, 1909.

(3) This section and sections 155 to 158 extend to the whole of British India : the rest of the Code extends to the whole of British India, except the Scheduled Districts.

Amendment in Burma—Sub-section (3) has been omitted in Burma by Government of Burma order.

British India—For the meaning of the expression, vide the General Clauses Act, s. 3, clause (7). Native States do not come within the term of British India. 29 C. 400=6 C. W. N. 573 ; 191 P. R. 1888 ; 33 I. A. 1=10 C. W. N. 361. As regards Berar, vide 88 Ind. Cas. 430.

Scheduled Districts.—Vide Schedule I to the Scheduled Districts Act XIV of 1874. Where property is in Scheduled Districts an order for sale under mortgage-decree is without jurisdiction. 51 Ind. Cas. 185=A. I. R. 1919 P. C. 150.

Foreigners.—Foreigners are not excepted from the jurisdiction of British Indian Courts. 49 A. 669=A. I. R. 1927 All. 413. Court will not pass a decree against a foreign subject as it cannot enforce it. A. I. R. 1927 Sind 160=238 L. R. 356 ; see also 48 M. L. J. 680=88 Ind. Cas. 430.

Applicability of Code to proceedings in Revenue Courts.—Revenue Courts are, in matters arising under the Land Revenue Act, undoubtedly Courts of Civil jurisdiction within the meaning of the Code of Civil Procedure and the procedure of such Courts are governed by the C. P. Code. 155 Ind. Cas. 557=A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 125.

Code whether exhaustive.—The Code of Civil Procedure is not exhaustive, 39 Ind. Cas. 763=2 P. L. J. 361.

Definitions.

2. [S. 2.] In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Code" includes rules :

(2) "decree" means the formal expression of an adjudication which, so far as regards the Court expressing it, conclusively determines the rights of the parties with regard to all or any of the matters in controversy in the suit and may be either preliminary or final. It shall be deemed to include the rejection of a plaint and the determination of any question within section 47, or section 144, but shall not include—

(a) any adjudication from which an appeal lies as an appeal from an order, or

(b) any order of dismissal for default.

Explanation.—A decree is preliminary when further proceedings have to be taken before the suit can be completely disposed of. It is final when such adjudication completely disposes of the suit. It may be partly preliminary and partly final :

(3) "decree-holder" means any person in whose favour a decree has been passed or an order capable of execution has been made :

(4) "district" means the local limits of the jurisdiction of a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction (hereinafter called a "District Court"), and includes the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of a High Court :

(5) "foreign Court" means a Court situate beyond the limits of British India which has no authority in British India and is not established or continued by the "Central Government or the Crown Representative" :*

(6) "foreign judgment" means the judgment of a foreign Court :

(7) "Government Pleader" includes any officer appointed by the "Provincial Government"* to perform all or any of the functions expressly imposed by this Code on the Government Pleader and also any pleader acting under the directions of the Government Pleader :

(8) "Judge" means the presiding officer of a Civil Court :

(9) "Judgment" means the statement given by the Judge of the grounds of a decree or order :

(10) "judgment-debtor" means any person against whom a decree has been passed or an order capable of execution has been made :

(11) "legal representative" means a person who in law represents the estate of a deceased person, and includes any person who intermeddles with the estate of the deceased and where a party sues or is sued in a representative character the person on whom the estate devolves on the death of the party so suing or sued :

(12) "mesne profits" of property means those profits which the person in wrongful possession of such property actually received or might with ordinary diligence have received therefrom, together with interest on such profits, but shall not include profits due to improvements made by the person in wrongful possession :

(13) "movable property" includes growing crops :

(14) "order" means the formal expression of any decision of a Civil Court which is not a decree :

(15) "pleader" means any person entitled to appear and plead for another in Court, and includes an advocate, [a vakil and an attorney] of a High Court :

(16) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules :

* Substituted by the Government of India (Adaptations of Indian Laws) Order, 1937. In British Burma read "Governor" for the words within quotations.—Vide G. B. order of 1937.

(17) "public officer" means a person falling under any of the following descriptions, namely :—

- (a) every Judge ;
- (b) every member of the Indian Civil Service ;
- (c) every commissioned or gazetted officer in the military or "naval or air"* forces of His Majesty, while serving "under 'the Crown'"† ;
- (d) every officer of a Court of Justice whose duty it is, as such officer, to investigate or report on any matter of law or fact, or to make, authenticate or keep any document, or to take charge or dispose of any property, or to execute any judicial process, or to administer any oath, or to interpret, or to preserve order, in the Court, and every person especially authorised by a Court of Justice to perform any of such duties ;
- (e) every person who holds any office by virtue of which he is empowered to place or keep any person in confinement ;
- (f) every officer, of "the Crown"‡ whose duty it is, as such officer, to prevent offences, to give information of offences, to bring offenders to justice, or to protect the public health, safety or convenience ;
- (g) every officer whose duty it is, as such officer, to take, receive, keep or expend any property on behalf of "the Crown,"‡ or to make any survey, assessment or contract on behalf of "the Crown,"‡ or to execute any revenue-process, or to investigate or to report on, any matter affecting the pecuniary interests of "the Crown,"‡ or to make, authenticate or keep any document relating to the pecuniary interests of "the Crown,"‡ or to prevent the infraction of any law for the protection of the pecuniary interests of "the Crown,"‡ ; and
- (h) every officer in the service or pay of "the Crown,"‡ or remunerated by fees or commission for the performance of any public duty ;

(18) "rules" means rules and forms contained in the First Schedule or made under section 122 [or section 125] :

(19) "share in a corporation" shall be deemed to include stock, debenture-stock, debentures or bonds : and

(20) "signed" save in the case of a judgment or decree, includes stamped.

Amendments in Burma.—In Clause (15) omit the words "a Vakil and an Attorney."

In Clause 17 in Sub-clause (b) add at the end of the clause "or of the Burma Civil Service (Class I.)"

In clause (18) omit in British Burma the words "or section 125."—Vide G. B. Order 1937.

Code.—The method of construction properly applicable to an Act divided into sections and rules, as the C. P. Code is, that the sections lay down general principles and the rules provide the means by which they can be applied, and they cannot be otherwise applied, the result is that the rules restrict the provisions contained in the sections. 20 Ind. Cas. 39=18 C. L. J. 613. The body of the Code is fundamental and is unalterable except by the Legislature ; the rules are concerned with details and machinery and can be more readily altered. The body of the Code creates jurisdiction while the rules indicate the mode in which it is to be exercised. It follows that the body of the Code is expressed in more general terms but it has to be read in conjunction with the more particular provisions of the Rules. 43 C. 148 = 33 Ind. Cas. 329 ; see also 44 C. 929=21 C. W. N. 877=41 Ind. Cas. 598. If there is a conflict between a general provision as contained in the order and a rule under the First Schedule the general provision must prevail. Basavayya v. Mittapalli, A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 676=1926 M. W. N. 341=51 M. L. J. 90=95 Ind. Cas. 439. Where there is a contradiction between the Schedule and the enacting portion, "it would be quite contrary to the recognized principles upon which the Courts of law construe Acts.....to enlarge the conditions of enactment and thereby restrain its operation by any reference to the words of a mere form given for convenience sake in a Schedule." Per Lord Penzance in Dean v. Grecon, (1882) 8 P. D. 89; see also Allen v. Flicker, 10 A. & E. 640.

* Substituted by Act XXXV of 1934.

† For the words "under the Crown" substitute in Burma "in Burma."—Vide G. B. Order 1937.

‡ Substituted by G. I. Order. But in British Burma read "the Government" for words within quotations.

Decree.—Final decree means decree which settles all disputed questions between parties. A decree modified in a review must be considered as the final decree. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 323=131 Ind. Cas. 258. Decision finally determining rights of parties, not finally drawn up is still a decree. 26 N. L. R. 24=127 Ind. Cas. 887=Ind. Rul. (1930) Nag. 359. To be appealable an order under s. 47 must be of such a nature as to come within the word "decree" as defined by s. 2 (2). A. I. R. 1927 All. 208=99 Ind. Cas. 455. Where a Court, before deciding a case finally order the names of a certain defendants to be struck off from the record on the ground that the plaintiff made out no cause of action against them, such order is tantamount to a dismissal of the case against those defendants, and the plaintiff can treat the order as a decree. 8 Ind. Cas. 409. An order in a partition suit declaring the specific right of the parties and the property to be partitioned is a decree. 23 C. 279. The definition of decree is not intended to include an interlocutory decision in ordinary suit upon each and every point in controversy between the parties, even in those cases, where the decision upon any such question is embodied in a separate and distinct order passed during the pendency of the proceedings. An order cannot be regarded as a decree unless it is formally drawn up as such or at all events, unless it could be so drawn up. A 'preliminary decree' properly understood is passed only in those cases in which the Court has first to adjudicate upon the rights of the parties and has then to stay its hand for the time being until it is in a position to pass a final decree in the suit. 115 P. L. R. 1911; see also 82 P. R. 1911. "Decree" includes Revenue Court decree. A. I. R. 1925 All. 264=85 Ind. Cas. 660. Decision delivered in default of plaintiff is not a decree. 85 Ind. Cas. 393=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 485=28 O. C. 124.

The question whether an adjudication is an order or decree to be tested not by general principles but by the expressions of the Code and these words are to be construed in their plain and obvious sense; only such orders of dismissal for default as are treated as such by the Code itself are excluded from the definition. 39 C. L. J. 399=51 C. 715=28 C. W. N. 795=83 Ind. Cas. 220. If an order rejecting the claim of a person to be the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff is to have the character of a decree it must conclusively determined the right of the parties to the suit. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 813=47 M. L. J. 370=1924 M. W. N. 763=80 Ind. Cas. 942.

Matters in Controversy.—"Matters in controversy" in the suit may also come to arise, at a subsequent stage of the suit. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 362=5 O. W. N. 633=3 Luck. 628. This term must not be understood as relating solely to the merits of the case. It would cover any question relating to the character and status of the party suing, to the jurisdiction of the Court, to the maintainability of the suit and to other matters preliminary, which necessitate an adjudication before a suit is enquired into, in fact all questions concerning a pending suit. It does not include an order passed on an application preliminary to the institution of suit itself, such as application for leave to sue. 2 L. W. 519=17 M. L. T. 447=29 Ind. Cas. 393.

What are decrees.—An order of the Court appointing a committee to draw up a scheme of management with regard to wakfs is a decree. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 476=31 P. L. R. 220=121 Ind. Cas. 74. The Revenue officer's judgment as to the liability of the lands to assessment or otherwise in manner directed by s. 20, Regulation II of 1819, has the force and effect of a decree. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 411=51 C. L. J. 297=126 Ind. Cas. 769. Where an appeal against preliminary decree is withdrawn and dismissed, such order of dismissal is decree within s. 2. 143 Ind. Cas. 412=1933 M. W. N. 623=64 M. L. J. 695=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 444. Where lower Courts decree contains adjudication on several points, each such adjudication is a decree. A. I. R. 1933 All. 473. Order refusing to allow interest pendente lite is appealable. 143 Ind. Cas. 43=14 P. L. T. 133=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 207. An order dismissing an application for a final decree in a mortgage suit is a decree. A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 214. Order dismissing a cross-objection is a decree. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 961. An order of abatement of a suit is a decree and should not be made ex parte without notice to plaintiff. 33 M. L. J. 486=44 I. A. 218 (P. C.)=22 C. W. N. 169=15 A. L. J. 777=19 Bom. L. R. 865=42 Ind. Cas. 43 (P. C.); 38 M. L. J. 266=54 Ind. Cas. 565.

A decree passed on the admission of the defendant is appealable by a person aggrieved thereby. 56 Ind. Cas. 845. Order striking out name of a defendant and dismissing the suit against him is a decree. 42 M. 219=35 M. L. J. 169=9 L. W. 329=49 Ind. Cas. 835. An order dismissing an application for final decree for sale in a mortgage suit is decree and is appealable as such. 48 Ind. Cas. 298=42 M. 52=35 M. L. J. 552. An order refusing to make a decree under Order 34, rule 6, is a decree. 47 Ind. Cas. 561=40 A. 553=16 A. L. J. 488. An order rejecting Memorandum of Appeal for deficit Court-fee is appealable. 67 Ind. Cas. 225=A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 62=18 N. L. R. 15. An order declaring the defendants not liable for mesne profits, amounts to a decree. 67 Ind. Cas. 93=A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 308; 22 O. C. 289=54 Ind. Cas. 733; 67 Ind. Cas. 901=3 L. L. J. 237.

Order defining mode and period of taking account is a decree. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 514=4 P. L. T. 405. An order directing the decree-holder purchaser to pay mesne profits on setting aside the sale is a decree. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 89=56 C. 550=120 Ind. Cas. 807. Decision in reference under s. 30, Land Acquisition Act, being one on rights of contending parties, is a decree within s. 2 (2). A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 223=56 M. L. J. 387=115 Ind. Cas. 345. An order limiting the right of the decree-holder to recover mesne profits for a certain period is of the nature of a final decree. 115 Ind. Cas. 591=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 804. When a Court refuses to ascertain mesne profits and holds that the claim is time-barred, that decision operates as a decree. 109 Ind. Cas. 734=A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 236=52 B. 360=30 Bom. L. R. 503. The decree subsequently made on review, even if it does not modify the decree originally passed, is a new decree and therefore no appeal can lie for the original decree. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 418=107 Ind. Cas. 751. Refusal of adjournment and dismissal of suit in consequence is decree. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 148=6 Bur. L. J. 77=101 Ind. Cas. 618.

Refusal to record adjustment of a decree is a decree. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 809=26 P. L. R. 237=105 Ind. Cas. 724. The dismissal of an appeal under Order XXI, r. 11 by High Court is a decree. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 638=30 C. W. N. 334=93 Ind. Cas. 909. Order in proceedings under s. 47 is decree only if it determines a question which parties ask Court to decide as to their rights or liabilities and not if it decides merely incidental question of procedure. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 683=2 Pat. L. R. 222=84 Ind. Cas. 576; see also A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 623=71 M. L. J. 256=164 Ind. Cas. 217. The rejection of a Memorandum of Appeal on the ground that the deficit Court-fee has not been paid is not a decree. 163 Ind. Cas. 402=A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 140. An order rejecting a prayer for restitution under s. 144 on the ground of limitation amounts to a decree. A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 812. All findings conclusively determining rights are not necessarily decrees. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 92. Order allowing petition for passing of final decree is neither decree nor appealable. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 198. Order of remand setting aside a decree is not necessarily a decree. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 97. Every order in execution is not decree. Only such orders as conclusively determine a question before the parties to the suit relating to the execution of the decree are decrees. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 500. An order passed under s. 144 is a decree within the meaning of s. 2. 158 Ind. Cas. 908=1935 A. L. J. 995=A. I. R. 1935 All. 873. A suit was dismissed. On appeal an application for postponement of the appeal was made by the appellant's pleader on the ground that for some reasons he could not prepare the appeal and therefore he was not able to argue. The Court rejected the application and dismissed the appeal for want of prosecution: Held that the disposal of the appeal amounted to a decree as defined in the C. P. Code and a second appeal therefore was maintainable. A. I. R. 1937 All. 284.

What are not decrees.—Order refusing to stay execution is not decree. A. I. R. 1930 All. 121=122 Ind. Cas. 182. An order passed under Order XXI, r. 22 for arrest, not being a final order is not a decree. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 718=30 L. W. 230=(1929) M. W. N. 74=119 Ind. Cas. 43. Ex parte order granting leave to apply for execution is not a decree. A. I. R. 1929 All. 390=(1929) A. L. J. 553=115 Ind. Cas. 865. Decision of the Court under Chapter VII of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act is not a decree under s. 2 (2). A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 69=56 M. L. J. 199=29 L. W. 537=115 Ind. Cas. 504. Order striking off objection of judgment-debtor for default is not appealable. 112 Ind. Cas. 380. An order permitting the withdrawal of a suit or appeal is not a decree. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 416=51 M. 664=55 M. L. J. 345. An order for security to stay execution is neither an order under s. 47 nor it is a decree. 106 Ind. Cas. 890. No appeal lies from an order accepting security concerning sufficiencies thereof. 106 Ind. Cas. 866. Where appellate Court frames additional issues and remands a case, the order of remand is not a decree. A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 297=6 Pat. 380. An order under Order 1, rule 10 (2) is not a decree. A. I.

R. 1926 Nag. 75=89 Ind. Cas. 331. Order simply refusing to official referee to take accounts is not a decree. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 406=73 Ind. Cas. 903. In a partnership suit an order referring suit to Commissioner for determining shares, is not a decree. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 406=73 Ind. Cas. 903. Order striking out names of parties under Order I, rule 10 is not a decree. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 332=45 M. 194=32 M. L. J. 97=69 Ind. Cas. 961. Where after this passing of preliminary decree the Court directs the Commissioner to take a valuation of certain property, the order is an interlocutory order. 65 Ind. Cas. 983=24 O. C. 306. A party cannot prefer an appeal from an order disallowing interrogatories which is not a decree, nor can apply for revision. 58 Ind. Cas. 721=14 S. L. R. 28. A decision on a question of the valuation to be inserted in a sale proclamation is merely an interlocutory order and therefore is not appealable A. I. R. 1920 Pat. 227=5 Pat. L. J. 270=56 Ind. Cas. 452. Every order in execution proceeding is not a decree. 115 P. L. R. 1920=56 Ind. Cas. 173. The decision of a Court on an application to file a private award, part of it being on a matter outside the scope of the declaration is an order. 31 Ind. Cas. 80=66 P. R. 1915. An order extending time for payment of mortgage money under a decree is not a decree. 39 M. 876=29 M. L. J. 708=31 Ind. Cas. 240. An order overruling a plea against the maintainability of a suit is not a decree. 33 Ind. Cas. 664=9 Bur. L. T. 195. An order absolute under Order XXXIV, rule 5 is an order and is not a decree. 33 Ind. Cas. 749=18 Bom. L. R. 38=40 B. 321. A purely formal order recognising the abatement is not a decree. But an order of abatement resulting from the adjudication upon rights of parties is a decree. 34 Ind. Cas. 822=128 P. R. 1916 (F. B.)=146 P. L. R. 1916.

An order rejecting a Memorandum of Appeal is not a decree. 59 Ind. Cas. 388=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 482=138 Ind. Cas. 643. An order under s. 52 of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920, is not a decree, nor an order under s. 47 and is not appealable. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 152=64 M. L. J. 119=141 Ind. Cas. 817. Order of District Judge under s. 84 (2), Madras Hindu Religious Endowments Act, on application to set aside decision of Board under s. 84 (1) is not a decree. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 103. Order granting stay of execution is not a decree. A. I. R. 1924 All. 808=46 A. 733=22 A. L. J. 706=83 Ind. Cas. 1035; 124 Ind. Cas. 349=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 187. The dismissal of a suit against some defendants on account of non-representation for which plaintiffs are not to blame is not a decree. 33 C. W. N. 742=124 Ind. Cas. 75=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 669. An order passed on an application under Order 21, rule 90 is not a decree. 165 Ind. Cas. 654=1936 A. L. J. 959=A. I. R. 1936 All. 763. An order passed under s. 144 is a decree. A. I. R. 1935 All. 873=1935 A. L. J. 995=158 Ind. Cas. 908. Neither an order of the Court of first instance returning a plaintiff under Order 7, rule 10, C. P. Code, nor adjudication of an appellate Court on appeal from such an order is a decree. 158 Ind. Cas. 252=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 574. Rejection of plaint does not amount to decree when such rejection is not authorized by some provisions of the Code. A. I. R. 1937 All. 280.

Order under s. 47.—An order under section 73 is not an order under s. 47. 57 Ind. Cas. 421=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 401=1 P. L. T. 296. In order to be appealable an order in execution must fall within the definition. A. I. R. 1926 All. 401=94 Ind. Cas. 1. Where on a mortgage decree being put in execution an objection was raised that execution could proceed only after payment of additional amount of Court-fee, but was negatived: Held an appeal lay. 70 Ind. Cas. 483=A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 59=3 P. L. T. 146.

Dismissal for default.—Rejection of appeal for failure to pay deficit Court-fee is a decree and is not dismissal for default. 63 Ind. Cas. 99=A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 281=3 P. L. T. 117=6 P. L. J. 625. An order dismissing an appeal for default is not a decree. 47 Ind. Cas. 125. An 'order of dismissal for default' includes an order of the execution Court dismissing an objection for default. A. I. R. 1926 All. 401=94 Ind. Cas. 1.

Preliminary decree.—A preliminary decree must define the rights of the parties, though it does not necessarily lead to a final and complete disposal of the case. 62 Ind. Cas. 462=A. I. R. 1921 Nag. 108=17 N. L. R. 66. A decree in a suit for specific performance of a contract, though conditional in form, is not a preliminary decree. 51 Ind. Cas. 442. Decision on a preliminary issue merely enabling the plaintiff to go on with the suit, is not a preliminary decree. 9 Bur. L. T. 119=36 Ind. Cas. 431. A preliminary decree is not extinguished by the passing of the final decree but is given effect to by the final one. 21 C. W. N. 1174=1 Pat. L. J. 406=36 Ind. Cas. 873. An order rejecting a plaint as being void is a preliminary decree and a second appeal lies against it. 39 Ind. Cas. 791=1 P. L. W. 499. The decree dissolving partnership is final as regards matters finally decided and preliminary as regards matters still undisposed of. 131 Ind. Cas. 160=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 528=53 M. 378. Mere use by Court of form for final decree for partition does not make it a final decree. A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 206=13 N. L. J. 83=26 N. L. R. 166=122 Ind. Cas. 441. Where in a suit by a mortgagee for a final decree debarring the mortgagor from redeeming the mortgaged land the Court merely refuses to pass a final decree in terms of the preliminary decree, it is doubtful whether it is final order against which an appeal can lie. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 355=10 Lah. L. J. 198=110 Ind. Cas. 81.

Decree holder.—It is not necessary that a decree-holder in a decree for the sale of immovable property should necessarily have been the plaintiff in the case. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 492=116 Ind. Cas. 212. Decree-holder does not include an attaching creditor. 80 Ind. Cas. 947=A. I. R. 1925 All. 123. Plaintiff got decree for specific performance of agreement to sell against defendant but did not want to execute the decree. Defendants were also decree-holders within this clause and as such could execute the decree. 67 Ind. Cas. 667; see also 59 C. 501=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 579=36 C. W. N. 172. A decree-holder need not be a party to a decree. It is enough if the decree confers some right enforceable under the decree upon some person mentioned in it. 61 M. L. J. 904=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 193=35 L. W. 22.

District Court.—It is not legitimate in every instance to construe the words "District Court" wherever they appear to mean and include a High Court in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction. 100 Ind. Cas. 331=45 C. L. J. 71=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 290

Foreign Court.—Definition of foreign Court is not applicable to Provincial Insolvency Act. 123 Ind. Cas. 20=A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 900=57 M. L. J. 393.

Foreign judgment.—Judgment in the expression "foreign judgment" as used in s. 2 (6) has the English meaning and not the meaning (as regards the word "judgment") given by s. 2 (9) of C. P. Code. 62 M. L. J. 566=35 L. W. 763=138 Ind. Cas. 648=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 661.

Judgment.—The decision of the trial Court on preliminary issue is a judgment. 97 Ind. Cas. 780=27 S. L. R. 701=8 Lah. L. J. 361=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 638. Short-hand notes dictated by, but never approved by the Judge, cannot be considered as part of his actual judgement. 29 Bom. L. R. 126=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 113=51 Bom. 167=100 Ind. Cas. 941.

Judgment debtor.—A defendant who is exempted and against whom no decree is passed is not a judgment debtor within s. 2 (10). A. I. R. 1933 All. 57=54 A. 1031. An assignee of a J. D. is not J. D. 13 Ind. Cas. 650.

Legal representatives.—A person who is entitled to the possession of the assets of the deceased becomes legal representative irrespective of whether he is actually in possession or not. For the purpose of the suit it is sufficient if he is a person on whom the estate would devolve. The question whether he is in actual possession or not can be determined in execution proceeding. 27 N. L. R. 247=A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 173=134 Ind. Cas. 862. A son taking by survivorship is a legal representative. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 484=134 Ind. Cas. 961=33 Bom. L. R. 1144=5 B. 709. Donee of a deceased legatee is a legal representative. 35 C. W. N. 1028. By this definition the Mahomedan Law has not been changed. The heirs of a deceased Mahomedan are liable for the debt due to the estate proportionately to the share inherited by them. 138 Ind. Cas. 746=1932 A. L. J. 727=A. I. R. 1932 All. 591. Where there are two rival claimants to the estate of the deceased it is open to decree-holder to choose as the legal representative the one who appears to have paima facie title. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 482=120 Ind. Cas. 65=30 L. W. 778. Heirs of intestate Parsee who intermeddle with his estate are his legal representatives. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 474=51 B. 771=29 Bom. L. R. 900=51 B. 771. Executor de son tort need not be added, when there is other legal representative. 30 C. W. N. 565=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 825=96 Ind. Cas. 695. A suit against a legal representative should not be dismissed for want of assets. 40 Ind. Cas. 407. Person in possession of deceased's estate can validly represent him. 31 M. L. J. 222=1916 M. W. N. 233=35 Ind. Cas. 124. Legal representative does not necessarily mean beneficial owner. 42 M. 76=35 M. L. J. 632=1918 M. W. N. 107=49 Ind. Cas. 11. Decree obtained in good faith against wrong legal representative binds the real heir. 36 M. L. J. 106=52 Ind. Cas. 509; 40 Ind. Cas. 57=4 O. L. J. 463; 99 Ind. Cas. 865=A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 114=8 P. L. T. 287; 56 Ind. Cas. 963=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 476=9 N. L. J. 183; 120 Ind. Cas. 65=1929 Mad. 1025=30 L. W. 778. A decree-holder has right to select among the claimants, persons appearing to have prima facie the best title as legal representatives. 29 M. L. J. 698=31 Ind. Cas. 920. Person in possession of property of a deceased judgment-debtor is legal representative of a deceased. 69 Ind. Cas. 179=A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 362. In case of decree for injunction against father in joint Hindu family, sons are not legal representatives for the purpose of execution against them. 42 B. 504=20 Bom. L. R. 560=46 Ind. Cas. 745. An intermeddler with the property of the deceased is liable to the extent of the property taken by him. 42 Ind. Cas. 122=3 P. L. W. 302=1918 Pat. 86. Surviving co-parceners in a joint Hindu-family are not legal representatives. 61 Ind. Cas. 628=3 Lah. L. J. 349=A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 34=2 Lah. 114=73 P. L. R. 1921; 42 B. 504. An intermeddler is not a representative for the purposes of succession to the deceased's property. 75 Ind. Cas. 114=A. I. R. 1924 All. 717. Trustees are not legal representatives of their predecessors in office. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 540=92 Ind. Cas. 520. Heirs of deceased mortgagor whose equity of redemption has already been sold are not his legal representatives relating to that property but the proper representatives are the purchasers of the equity of redemption. 95 Ind. Cas. 974=(1926) M. W. N. 276.

Suit against legal representatives, of a deceased should not be dismissed merely on the ground that they are not in possession of any assets of the deceased. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 170=89 Ind. Cas. 236. Where a father and a son are co-parceners and whereafter the son's undivided share is attached in execution of a decree against him alone son dies, father is legal representative of his deceased son and decree can be executed against him. A. I. R. 1926 All. 157=48 A. 4=23 A. L. J. 877=L. R. 6A. 511 Civ. Where ostensible sole heirs is brought on record, decree binds the whole estate including the interest of those heirs not brought on record and not served with notice. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 330=12 O. L. J. 37=2 O. W. N. 34=28 O. C. 177=87 Ind. Cas. 892. Where a managing member sues and the suit refers to joint-family estate, it is really a suit in a representative character for all the members of the family. When he dies, the next managing member can come in as the legal representative. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 456=21 L. W. 21=86 Ind. Cas. 178. A decree for removal of the defendant as mohant of shrine on the ground of mismanagement cannot be executed against the succeeding mohant who was on the death of the first in defacto possession but who claimed to be appointed by the bhakt since the successors could not in any sense be treated as the legal representative of the deceased. 77 Ind. Cas. 585=A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 251=5 Lah. L. J. 459. Where on an application to substitute the brother of the deceased judgment-debtor as his legal representative, he pleads that he is not liable to satisfy decree, the objection must be decided by the executing Court before an order substituting him as legal representative is made. A. I. R. (1923) Pat. 149=3 P. L. T. 106=82 Ind. Cas. 803. To become legal representative it is necessary that a person should possess properties with intention of representing estate. 37 C. W. N. 758. Court of Wards represents no particular ward in administration of estate but administers estate on its own authority and being person who in law represents estate of deceased is legal representative. 29 N. L. R. 118=A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 85. Decree obtained against mother as legal representative of a tenant binds daughter. 29 N. L. R. 89=A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 73. The definition of the term "legal representative" is not exhaustive and this definition should be qualified by s. 53 of the Code. 36 Bom. L. R. 977=A. I. R. 1936 Bom. 456. Hindu sons are not legal representatives of their fathers under s. 2(11). 14 Pat. 752=157 Ind. Cas. 53=16 Pat. L. T. 393=A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 275 (F. B.). The term legal representative includes an universal legatee. A. I. R. 1235 Oudh 1031. Brothers of a deceased co-parcener are legal representatives in respect of their separate estate. A. I. R. 1935 All. 390=1935 P. L. J. 293. Official Assignee or Receiver is not legal representative. 58 M. 403=154 Ind. Cas. 934=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 151=68 M. L. J. 78.

Mesne profits.—The statutory definition of mesne profits includes interest. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 525=52 C. L. J. 173=126 Ind. Cas. 717; 55 M. 975 (981)=63 M. L. J. 845=1932 M. W. N. 949=A. I. R. 1932 M. 722=139 Ind. Cas. 457=A. I. R. 1932 M. 1365. Assessment of mesne profits must be made on the basis of plaintiff's loss by exclusion and not what defendant made or might with reasonable diligence have made by his wrongful possession. 59 C. 859=55 C. L. J. 205=138 Ind. Cas. 852=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 600=A. L. R. 1932 C. 474; see also 35 C. W. N. 367. In the case of a claim for mesne profits against several trespassers in wrongful possession two courses are left open to the Court. A decree for mesne profits may be passed jointly and severally against all the trespassers who may have jointly kept the plaintiffs out of possession for any particular period, leaving them to have their respective rights adjusted in a separate suit for contribution; or the respective liabilities of such trespassers may be ascertained in the plaintiff's suit against them, and a decree on the basis of such several liabilities may be passed as against the respective trespassers in plaintiff's favour. 59 C. 859=55 C. L. J. 205=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 600; see also 53 Cal. 992 P. C.

Ordinarily interest on mesne profits is allowed but such interest may be disallowed on special grounds. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 513=131 Ind. Cas. 833. In computing the mesne profits the expenses of management or collection are to be deducted. 1931 M. W. N. 813. Interest on mesne profits is in the discretion of the Court. 44 C. L. J. 182=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1233=98 Ind. Cas. 198. Where decree is silent as to interest on profits the Executing Court cannot award the interest. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 952=50 M. L. J. 563=96 Ind. Cas. 697. Mesne profits are in the nature of damages for being deprived of the benefit which the person in possession derives from the property. 157 Ind. Cas. 96=37 P. L. R. 50=A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 379; see also A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 80. Profits always means the difference between the amount realised and the expenses incurred in realising it and this rule applies even to cases of mesne profits. In India 10 per cent. is the customary allowance for mesne profits and it is unnecessary for defendant to adduce evidence on this. Secretary of State v. Saroj Kumar, 62 C. 499=62 I. A. 53=A. L. R. 1935 P. C. 14=41 L. W. 284=1935 O. W. N. 261=1935 A. L. J. 438=1935 M. W. N. 165=37 Bom. L. R. 327=39 C. W. N. 405=A. I. R. 1935 P. C. 49=68 M. L. J. 580 (P. C.). In the absence of special circumstances 6 per cent. is a fair rate of interest, a sufficient compensation to the decree-holder for having been deprived of the rents and profits of the suit lands. Ibid. "Mesne profits" means the amount that might have been collected less the collection charges; damages resulting from non-payment on becoming due or loss of interest year by year is not included therein. 8 C. 332 (P. 3. [S. 2.] For the purposes of this Code, the District Court is subordinate to the High Court, and every Civil Court of a grade inferior to that of a District Court and every Court of Small Causes is subordinate to the High Court and District Court.

Notes.—For matters covered by the Code, Court cannot go beyond the Code. A. I. R. 1926 Cal 568=44 C. L. J. 399=30 C. W. N. 415=94 Ind. Cas. 235. The Collector though he may be acting judicially when exercising his functions under s. 18 of the Land Acquisition Act and though he may be even called a Court, is certainly not a Court subordinate to the High Court. A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 271=123 Ind. Cas. 911. A Court can be said to be subordinate to another Court only if the latter Court has appellate or revisional jurisdiction or power of superintendence given to it by some statutory provision over the former Court. The mere authority to decide a reference does not necessarily make the Court making the reference subordinate to the Court deciding the same. 1932 A. L. J. 816=140 Ind. Cas. 123=A. I. 4. [S. 4.] (1) In the absence of any specific provision to the contrary, nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any special or local law now in force or any special jurisdiction or power conferred, or any special form of procedure prescribed, by or under any other law for the time being in force.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the proposition contained in sub-section (1), nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any remedy which a land-holder or landlord may have under any law for the time being in force for the recovery of rent of agricultural land from the produce of such land.

Notes.—In view of s. 4, C. P. Code the law applicable to soldiers is defined in s. 93 of the Army Act (1881) and it overrides s. 60 of the C. P. Code. 43 B. 368=21 Bom. L. R. 137=50 Ind. Cas. 427. Under s. 4 (1) the general provisions in respect of the procedure of appeal to His Majesty in Council enacted in s. 109 must give place to any special jurisdiction or power conferred or any special form of procedure prescribed by or under any other law for the time being in force. S. 12 of the Oudh Courts Act (IV of 1925) prescribes such special jurisdiction and as such abrogates the provisions of s. 109. 8 O. W. N. 1207; see also A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 185=132 Ind. Cas. 270=8 O. (2) "Revenue Court" in sub-section (1) means a Court having jurisdiction under any local law to entertain suits or other proceedings relating to the rent, revenue or profits of land used for agricultural purposes, but does not include a Civil Court having original jurisdiction under this Code to try such suits or proceedings as being suits or proceedings of a civil nature.

Notes.—This section clearly contemplates Revenue Courts being governed by the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. 26 M. 518 (520).

6. [S. 6.] Save in so far as is otherwise expressly provided, nothing herein contained shall operate to give any Court Pecuniary jurisdiction. jurisdiction over suits the amount or value of the subject-matter of which exceeds the pecuniary limits (if any) of its ordinary jurisdiction.

(1) the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay, as the case may be, may, from time to time, by notification in the "official Gazette"‡ direct that any such provisions not inconsistent with the express provisions of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882,* and with such modifications and adaptations as may be specified in the notification, shall extend to suits or proceedings or any class of suits or proceedings in such Court ;

(2) all rules heretofore made by any of the said High Courts under section 9 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882, * shall be deemed to have been validly made).

Amendment in Burma.—This section has been omitted in Burma by G. B. order of 1937.

Notes.—Where a decree of the Madras Small Cause Court is transferred to a mofussil District Munsiff's Court for execution, not on its Small Cause side, but on its original side, against the immovable property of the judgment-debtor, an order made by the latter Court in execution is appealable under s. 47 of the C. P. Code. A District Munsiff's Court in executing a decree of the Madras Small Cause Court in respect of the movable property exercises its powers not as a Small Cause Court but as a Court of original jurisdiction, and the rules applicable to proceedings in execution of an original decree are applicable to the execution proceedings of the Small Cause decree so transferred to the original side of the Court. 90 Ind. PART I.

SUITS IN GENERAL.

JURISDICTION OF THE COURTS AND Res Judicata.

9. [S. 11.] The Courts shall (subject to the provisions herein contained) have jurisdiction to try all suits of a civil nature excepting suits of which their cognizance is either expressly or impliedly barred.

Explanation.—A suit in which the right to property or to an office is contested is a suit of a civil nature, notwithstanding that such right may depend entirely on the decision of questions as to religious rites or ceremonies.

Scope.—The Scope of the section is very vast, including even what are known as rent suits or suits cognizable by the Revenue Courts, but for the circumstances that such suits, though civil in their nature, are expressly excluded from the jurisdiction of Civil Courts, by dint of some Special Statutes. 12 A. 409 (F. B.). In suits relating purely to rituals or religious observances, the Civil Courts have no jurisdiction ; but the Courts are bound to enquire into the questions of religion or ritual, which are material for determining civil rights in dispute between the parties. 30 M. 15=16 M. L. J. 471. Civil Courts must be taken prima facie to have jurisdiction to entertain and dispose of all suits of a civil nature. Persons who allege that there is a bar must prove it. (1930) M. W. N. 945. Civil Courts have jurisdiction to try suits of a civil nature under this section, except suits of which cognizance is expressly or impliedly barred. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 199 (F. B.)=137 Ind. Cas. 606=9 O. W. N. 488. It is for the party who seeks to oust the jurisdiction of the ordinary Civil Courts to establish his contention. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 121=9 Lah. 504=29 P. L. R. 396 (F. B.) ; see also 54 A. 646=A. I. R. 1932

A. 293 (F. B.)=1932 A. L. J. 437 ; 11 Rang. 125=A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 124. The right of conscience, i. e., the right of individual members of a community to hold certain religious beliefs and opinions, is of course a religious one and one that cannot be called in question or adjudicated upon in the Civil Court, and it is not covered by the explanation of s. 9, C. P. Code. But the right to remain in the community or to exercise rights and privileges of the members of the community, is of course a civil one, and one that must be decided by the Civil Court when it is called in question. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 156=157 Ind. Cas. 302. Where a legal right exists and its infringement is alleged, a cause of action is disclosed and unless there is a bar to the entertainment of such a suit the ordinary Civil Courts are bound to entertain it. The words "expressly barred" in s. 9, mean barred by any enactment for the time being in force. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh. 96=11 O. W. N. 1435=152 Ind. Cas. 861. Suits are of civil nature if they are suits between subject and subject dealing with civil rights. A suit for a declaration that the assessment of town-tax by a Panchayat is illegal and ultra vires is not between subject and subject but between a subject and a branch of a Local Self Government and it does not deal with civil rights but it deals with a question to taxation, and as such is not a suit of civil nature and Civil Court has no jurisdiction in a suit of that nature. A. I. R. 1936 All. 117=1936 A. L. J. 33=159 Ind. Cas. 897.

No jurisdiction in caste question.—A caste is a social combination, the members of which are entitled by birth, not by enrolment. Its rules consist partly of resolutions passed from time to time, but for the most part of usages handed down from generation to generation. The caste is not a religious body, though its usages, like all other Hindu usages, are based on religious feelings. In religious matters, strictly so called, the members of the caste are guided by their religious preceptors and their spiritual heads. In social matters they lay down their own laws. Caste is not a corporation or partnership. Of course a caste, regarded as a social organism, is very different from a club, but both institutions are unincorporated aggregates of individuals, associated together for purposes other than trade, and the legal consequences which flow from the position must apply to both bodies. 56 B. 242=34 Bom. L. R. 313=137 Ind. Cas. 461=A. I. R. 1932 B. 122=A. I. R. 1932 B. 342 (F. B.). A caste question is a question which relates to matters which affect internal autonomy of the caste and its social relations. Ibid. The Hindu caste is unique aggregation so wholly unknown to the English law that English decision concerning English Corporations and partnership tend rather to confusion than to guidance upon matters relating to caste. Where according to well-established principles certain questions have been removed from the jurisdiction of the Court, they can not be brought within the jurisdiction, on the plea that the Court has inherent jurisdiction to do what justice requires for the parties upon it. 11 Bom. L. R. 1014=34 B. 467=4 Ind. Cas. 108. The recognition by Courts of Hindu castes as distinct corporation with exclusive legal rights for certain purposes ought not to be extended to Christian communities. 39 M. 1059=30 M. L. J. 423=34 Ind. Cas. 557. Court can decide that rights to the user of property is in accordance with existing caste usage but cannot decide whether a particular user is sanctioned by custom of caste. 76 Ind. Cas. 635=A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 522. A konkani Brahmin had been ex-communicated by order of spiritual tribunal which was the recognised authority in all such matters the order having been passed in perfect good faith, without malice and in due exercise of spiritual authority. There was no negation of the natural justice. The suit by the Brahmin for declaration that he was in caste as well as for damages is not maintainable. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 160=123 Ind. Cas. 14. For ex-communication from caste it is necessary, that there must be a caste offence, that the rules of procedure of the caste (if any) must be complied with, that notice of charge and of the meeting at which it is to be dealt with must be given to the person accused, and full opportunity afforded to him of defending himself, and that notice must be given to the members of the caste of the meeting and what it is intended to be dealt with. Ranje v. Naranje, A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 268=37 Bom. L. R. 261=157 Ind. Cas. 127 ; see also 23 B. 122 ; 10 M. 133 ; 11 B. 185 ; 21 C. 463 ; Labonchere v. Earl of Whamcliff, 19 Ch. D. 346 ; *Young v. The General principle applicable to the expulsion of members from a club governs cases of expulsion of persons from a caste. Abdul Razak v. Adam Haje, A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 367=37 Bom. L. R. 603=159 Ind. Cas. 650. A Civil Court has jurisdiction to entertain a suit for a declaration that a resolution of a caste tribunal ex-communicating a person from caste is void. Ibid.

But a properly assembled caste Panchayat has jurisdiction to outcaste members of its community who have committed caste offence. 37 Bom. L. R. 417=A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 361=158 Ind. Cas. 414.

When jurisdiction can be entertained in Caste question.—The right to inspect account books kept in connection with caste funds and properties is not in any sense a caste privilege. It is a legal right. The members of the caste are at all reasonable times and on proper demand entitled to full and free inspection of all account books, paper and vouchers relating to the trustee's management of caste properties under their management. 56 B. 242=34 Bom. Award under Co-operative Societies Act.—The Civil Courts have no jurisdiction to set aside an award made by arbitrators appointed under the Co-operative Societies Act. A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 91=36 Bom. L. R. 1245=154 Ind. Cas. 583.

Suit to declare Order of Privy Council Illegal and void.—No Court in British India has jurisdiction to grant a declaratory decree to the effect that a decree passed by their Lordships of the Judicial Committee is illegal and void. 158 Ind. Cas. 338=1935 O. W. N. 1071.

Provision for special remedy—Where a right of action exists, a suit is maintainable to enforce that right independently of the special remedies provided by the Code. 160 Ind. Cas. 209=1935 M. W. N. 1207=43 L. W. 262=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 421.

Ouster of Jurisdiction by Legislature.—It is an established principle of law that when an Act of Legislature gives power to any person for a public purpose for which an individual may receive an injury, then if the mode of redress is also specified in the statute jurisdiction of ordinary Courts will be ousted. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 562=10 Lah. 338=111 Ind. Cas. 508. Unless Courts are satisfied that conditions ousting then are fulfilled, they will not hold that they are barred. 11 Rang. 125=A. I. "Where a special tribunal, out of the ordinary course, is appointed by an Act to determine questions as to right which are the creation, of that Act, then except so far as otherwise expressly provided or expressly implied that tribunal's jurisdiction to determine those questions is exclusive. It is an essential condition of those rights that this should be determined in the manner prescribed by the Act to which they owe their existence. In such a case there is no ouster of the jurisdiction of the ordinary Courts, for they never had any; there is no change in the old order of things; a new order is brought into being," Per Jenkins C. J. in Bhaikar v. The Municipal Corporation of Bombay, 31 B. 604; see also 36 M. 120; Maxwell 240; A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 798=94 Ind. Cas. 546; A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 193 (F. B.)=29 N. L. R. 278=143 Ind. Actions of public body.—Misuse of the powers given to a public body by attempting to acquire land not in furtherance of the objects of the statute but for the purposes of exacting exemption-fee from owners is actionable in a Civil Court. 47 C. 500=47 I. 10. [S. 12.] No Court shall proceed with the trial of any suit in which the matter in issue is also directly and substantially in issue in a previously instituted suit between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title where such suit is pending in the same or any other Court in British India having jurisdiction to grant the relief claimed, [or in any Court beyond the limits of British India established] or continued by the Governor-General in Council and having like jurisdiction, or before His Majesty in Council.

Explanation.—The pendency of a suit in a foreign Court does not preclude the Courts in British India from trying a suit founded on the same cause of action.

Amendment in Burma.—The words within brackets has been omitted in Burma by G. B. Order of 1937. In Burma substitute the words "British India" by "British Burma."—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope—The provisions of the section leave no discretion to the Courts in respect of the stay of suits when circumstances are such as to invoke the operation of the section. 36 C. W. N. 667=140 Ind. Cas. 135=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 751. One test of the applicability of this section to a particular case is whether on the final decision being reached in the previous suit such decision would operate as res judicata in the subsequent suit. Ibid. A suit must commence with a plaint. 22 M. 256. This section is inapplicable unless both subject-matter and relief are identical. The fact of one issue being common would not necessitate stay of subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1929 All. 805=51 A. 1017=(1930) A. L. J. 284=122 Ind. Cas. 752; 114 Ind. Cas. 775=A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 351. This section does not apply to execution proceedings. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 694=119 Ind. Cas. 488. Before an order under s. 10 staying a suit is passed, the Court must see (1) if the matter in issue is also directly and substantially in issue in a previously instituted suit; (2) between the same parties; (3) in the same or any other Court in British India; and (4) having jurisdiction to grant the relief claimed. 110 Ind. Cas. 418; 106 Ind. Cas. 661=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1199; A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 113=26 L. W. 241=103 Ind. Cas. 274. This section is not applicable where the parties are not the same but the question is the same. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 321=68 Ind. Cas. 167; 15 L. W. 667; 61 Ind. Cas. 830. The three essential conditions that are necessary for bringing into operation s. 10 are : (1) that the matter in issue in the second suit is directly and substantially in issue in the previously instituted suit ; (2) that the parties in the two suits are the same, and (3) that the Court in which the first suit is instituted, is a Court of competent jurisdiction to grant the relief claimed in the subsequently instituted suit. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 887=60 C. 1096. Under section 10 it is mandatory upon the Court not to proceed with the trial of any suit in which the matter in issue is also directly and substantially in issue in a previously instituted suit, between the same parties, in another Court having jurisdiction to grant relief. The mere addition of prayers for a declaration that certain interlocutory order in the first suit are illegal and for an injunction restraining defendant from proceeding with the first suit, cannot possibly change the character of the suit, which could otherwise be indetical for the purpose of section 10. In endeavouring to arrive at a correct decision as to whether the subsequent decision as to whether the subsequent suit is parallel to the previous suit, one must have regard to the position of affairs at the time when each of the suit was respectively instituted and further what would be the position of affairs when both the suits have been tried and finally decided. The real criterion ought to be whether, if the first suit had been determined and then the second one started, the matter in the second suit might be regarded as res judicata by reason of the decision in the first. Durga v. Kanti, 38 C. W. N. 818=61 C. 670. It is hardly open to a party to blow hot and cold and ask the Court not to inquire into an application filed by such party until a previous suit in respect of the same subject-matter filed by him decided in another Court. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 38=149 Ind. Cas. 1169. When stay is asked in a criminal proceeding the principle of s. 10 may well be applied. Kalki v. Kishor, 151 Ind. Cas. 897=A. L. R. 1934 All. 454=1934 A. L. J. 342=A. I. R. 1934 All. 131. If two Courts have concurrent jurisdiction, the institution of proceedings by one party in one Court, cannot in law, prevent the other party from taking proceedings with respect to the same subject-matter in the other Court, and all that can be done in such a case is to stay proceedings in one of the Courts on the principle of s. 10, in order to avoid multiplicity of litigation. Echholz v. Amar, 157 Ind. Cas. 796=A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 76=A. L. R. 1935 Lah. 260 ; see also A. I. R. 1933 Sind 255. The date of presentation of the plaint, and not the date of its admission is the date of institution for purposes of s. 10, C. P. Code. Harendra Nath v. Dheerendra, 62 C. 1115. For application of s. 10, the entire matter in the subsequent suit must be in issue in the previous suit and it is not sufficient that there should be one matter in issue in common in both the suits. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 112=155 Ind. Cas. 1002=1935 M. W. N. 123=41 L. W. 449. As regards the application of this section when a partition proceeding is pending in Revenue Court vide 161 Ind. Cas. 865=1936 A. L. J. 347=A. I. R. 1936 All. 485. Where a suit was first instituted in wrong Court and subsequently in a proper Court, the second suit is not a continuation of the first suit even though subject-matter and parties are the same. A. I. R. 1933 Sind 117=144 Ind. Cas. 56. Section 10 does not make the trial of the latter suit without jurisdiction unless it is between parties under whom the parties in the earlier suit claim litigations under the same title. 31 Ind. Cas. 25. Concurrent jurisdiction of both Courts is an essential requisite for a stay order under this section. 12 N. L. R. 174=37 Ind. Cas. 540. The word jurisdiction has no reference to territorial jurisdiction, 13 Bur. L. T. 19=10 L. B. R. 154=57 Ind. Cas. 904. Stay does not prevent passing of interlocutory orders. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 276=46 B. 431=33 Bom. L. R. 1228. Section 10 does not bar suit nor justifies dismissal. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 201=77 Ind. Cas. 157. It is doubtful whether a Sub-ordinate Court in British India has power to restrain by injunction a party from prosecuting a suit in a foreign Court though within the British Empire. The Chartered High Courts have such power A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 491=27 L. W. 418=109 Ind. Cas. 281. Court can stay suit under its inherent power even where it does not come within the provision of s. 10. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 341=7 O. W. N. 157=114 Ind. Cas. 775.

Matter in issue.—"Matter in issue" means entire subject in controversy and not main question involved. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 574=48 M. L. J. 251=88 Ind. Cas. 421 ; 24 C. L. J. 514=36 Ind. Cas. 641 ; A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 245=29 Bom. L. R. 382 ; A. I. R. 1929 All. 805=51 A. 1017=1930 A. L. J. 284=122 Ind. Cas. 752 ; A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 304=31 M. L. T. 360=70 Ind. Cas. 682 ; A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 69=69 Ind. Cas. 111=33 P. W. R. 1922 ; 70 Ind. Cas. 5=A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 88 ; 40 L. W. 715=67 M. L. J. 748=1934 M. W. N. 1380 ; A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 816. For a stay of a suit under this section, identity of relief is no longer essential. If the matter in issue in two suits is the same, the latter suit must be stayed without regard to the relief sought. 55 Ind. Cas. 254=12 Bur. L. T. 203.

Suit includes appeals.—The term suit includes appeals. 75 Ind. Cas. 231=A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 716=27 C. W. N. 772. A suit on same cause of action was stayed pending decision of appeal on the ground of balance of convenience. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 65=31 P. L. R. 550=129 Ind. Cas. 889. Applying for obtaining leave to appeal to His Majesty does not amount to pendency of appeal. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 67=6 R. 775=115 Ind. Cas. 665. Where same matter is in issue in suit in another Court and appeal in High Court between same parties, the High Court can order stay. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 692=96 Ind. Cas. 958.

Time for stay.—The Court has power, generally to stay such second suit at any stage at which it seems expedient so to do, and this even before the suit proceeds to "trial", in the strict sense of the term. However, it is always expedient to stay or arrest altogether the second suit at the earliest possible moment. Durga v. Kanti, 61 C. 670=38 C. W. N. 818.

Revision—High Court can interfere in revision against order under s. 10 if suitable grounds are disclosed. 139 Ind. Cas. 48=33 P. L. R. 787=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 34; 34 P. L. R. 123=141 Ind. Cas. 186. Order rejecting application for stay of suit is interlocutory order and is therefore not subject to revision. Court can however interfere under s. 151 or Government of India Act, s. 107. 128 Ind. Cas. 49=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 525=31 P. L. R. 174; see also 141 Ind. Cas. 177=34 P. L. R. 86=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 191. Order refusing to exercise jurisdiction under s. 10 is revisable. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 355=5 O. W. N. 604. No revision lies against an order refusing to stay a suit under s. 10 there being no case decided under s. 115. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 567=75 Ind. Cas. 101; 67 Ind. Cas. 167=1 Lah. L. J. 425.

Appeal.—An order by a single Judge of the High Court refusing to stay a suit under this section is a judgment within clause 15 of the Letters Patent and is appealable. 61 C. 670=38 C. W. N. 818.

Suit whether includes Arbitration proceeding.—In Srikrishna khanna, In re, 1, A. I. R. 1934 Sind 38. Rupchand A. J. C. said: "At the time when I was dealing with the case of Messrs Grahams Trading Company (Jud. Mis. No. 182 of 1933) my attention was not invited to the case of S. R. Malotra v. L. Sukh dayal, A. I. R. 1928 Sind 169, where I expressed a doubt with regard to the ruling in Jainarain Babulal v. Naraindas, A. I. R. 1922 Sind 6, with regard to the question whether arbitration proceedings are a suit within the meaning of section 10 and s. 141, C. P. Code and whether an arbitrator is a party to the proceedings instituted by a person adversely affected by the award filed under the Arbitration Act, to have it set aside. I think there is a good deal to be said in favour of the view taken by me.....see also Grahams v. Chindu, A. I. R. 1935 Sind 228.

11. [S. 13.] No Court shall try any suit or issue in which the matter

Resjudicate. directly and substantially in issue has been directly and substantially in issue in a former suit between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim, litigating under the same title, in a Court competent to try such subsequent suit or the suit in which such issue has been subsequently raised, and has been heard and finally decided by such Court.

Explanation I.—The expression "former suit" shall denote a suit which has been decided prior to the suit in question whether or not it was instituted prior thereto.

Explanation II.—For the purposes of this section, the competence of a Court shall be determined irrespective of any provisions as to a right of appeal from the decision of such Court.

Explanation III.—The matter above referred to must in the former suit have been alleged by one party and either denied or admitted, expressly or impliedly, by the other.

Explanation IV.—Any matter which might and ought to have been made ground of defence or attack in such former suit shall be deemed to have been a matter directly and substantially in issue in such suit.

Explanation V.—Any relief claimed in the plaint, which is not expressly granted by the decree, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have been refused.

Explanation VI.—Where persons litigate bonafide in respect of a public right or of a private right claimed in common for themselves and others, all persons interested in such right shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to claim under the persons so litigating.

Principle.—The rule of res judicata is founded on ancient precedent and is dictated by wisdom which is for all time 43 I. A. 91=43 C. 694=20 C. W. N. 738 (744). "It hath been well said" declared Lord Coke, interest rei publicae ut sit finis litium otherwise great oppression might be done under colour and pretence of law." Priddle v. Napier, 6 Coke, 9A. Though the rule of the Code may be traced to English source, it embodies a doctrine in no way opposed to the spirit of the law as expounded by the Hindu commentators Vijnanesvara and Nilkantha, who include the plea of former judgment among those allowed by law, each citing for his purpose the text of Katyayana, who describes the plea thus: "If a person though defeated, at law sue again he should be answered, "you are defeated formerly." This is called the plea of former judgment. And so the application of the rule by the Courts of India should be influenced by no technical considerations of form, but by matter of substance within the limits allowed by law. 43 I. A. 91=43 C. 694=20 C. W. N. 738 (744).

The following rule was laid down by Sir William De Grey C. J. in the Dutchess of Kingston's case, 20 How St. Tr. 355 (357): "As a general principle, a transaction between two parties, in a judicial proceeding, ought not to be binding upon a third; for it would be unjust to bind any person who could not be admitted to make a defence or to examine witnesses, or to appeal from a judgment he might think erroneous; and therefore the depositions of witnesses in another cause in proof of a fact the verdict of a jury in finding the fact, and the judgment of the Court upon the facts found, although evidence against the parties, and all claiming under them, are not, in general, to be used to the prejudice of strangers. From the variety of cases relating to judgments being given in evidence in civil suits, these two deductions seem to follow as generally true; first, that the judgment of a Court of concurrent jurisdiction directly upon this point, is a plea, a bar, or as evidence conclusive, between the same parties, upon the same matter, directly in question in another Court; secondly, that the judgment of a Court of exclusive jurisdiction, directly upon the point, is, in like manner, conclusive upon the same matter, between the same parties coming incidentally in question in another Court for a different purpose. But neither the judgment of a concurrent or exclusive jurisdiction is evidence of any matter incidentally cognizable, nor of any matter to be inferred by argument from the judgment." "If" said Lord Kenyon C. J. in Great Head v. Bramley, 7 T. R. 456, "an action be brought and the merits of the question be discussed between the parties, and a final judgment obtained by either, the parties are concluded, and cannot canvass the same question again in another action, although perhaps some objection or argument might have been urged upon the first trial, which would have led to a different judgment." The same learned Judge said in Marriott v. Hampton, 7 T. R. 269: "If this action could be maintained I knew not what cause of action could ever be at rest. After recovering by process, of law there must be an end of litigation, otherwise there would be no security for any person." A party who has lost in one Court can not be permitted to add causes of action or prayers for reliefs in another suit for the purpose of swelling the valuation of his suit and claim that the decision in the former suit does not operate as res judicata. But if it appears that his subsequent suit proceeded upon a cause of action which did not exist at the date of the previous suit, or if that cause of action existed it was one which he could not have availed of at that time, having regard to the nature of the suit as it then was, the fact that he had now instituted a suit embracing the entire cause of action with the result that his suit was of a higher value would justify him in claiming that the decision in the earlier suit was not operative as res judicata. If it is possible to treat the entire cause of action upon which the latter suit is founded as divisible and if in the earlier suit one of the component parts of the cause of action was relied upon, then the previous decision will stand as a bar to the extent of the matter involved in the earlier suit. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 792. It is a principle in every system of jurisprudence that there should be finality in litigation. A judgment not appealed from binds the parties and privies for all time by what appears upon its face ; and if it can be shown that in the course of the action that resulted in the judgment a certain definite and material issue was raised by the parties and determined judicially or by consent, it would be contrary to public policy to allow the same parties to reargue the same matter in subsequent legal proceedings. Estoppel by matter of record rests on this principle, and although it may be said in one sense to exclude the truth, it is essentially just and righteous. There is no difference within the meaning of s. 11, C. P. Code between a certain definite material issue which has been raised or which should have been raised. There is no difference in this matter between a consent decree and a decree passed per invitum. A. I. R. 1936 Sind 99=29 S. L. R. 455=164 Ind. Cas. 43.

Resjudicate and estoppel distinguished.—Res judicata bars fresh litigation at the outset and binds parties and his representatives estoppel is a rule of evidence preventing a man who by his acts or statement has induced another to believe a thing to be true from denying the truth of that thing to the prejudice of the person misled. A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 33=1 Pat 174=3 P. L. T. 506=67 Ind Cas. 266. Section 11 of the Civil Procedure Code is concerned with the law of procedure. A. I. R. 1922 Sind 6=16 S. L. R. 79=66 Ind. Cas. 796. The rule of res judicata does not create any new right or interest in the property, though it may indirectly affect the rights of persons against whom it is effective. The rule is a rule of personal estoppel and does not attach itself to property. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 306=44 M. 514=41 M. L. J. 288=63 Ind. Cas. 205. There is a difference between res judicata and estoppel. Res judicata ousts the jurisdiction of the Court while estoppel does no more than shut the mouth of a party. Estoppel never means anything more than that a person shall not be allowed to say one thing at one time and the opposite of it at another time ; while res judicata means nothing more than that a person shall not be heard to say the same thing twice over. A. I. R. 1936 Sind 99=164 Ind. Cas. 43.

Section is not exhaustive.—This section is not exhaustive, but the statutory principles in this section must be fulfilled before any of the principles of res judicata can be applied. 126 Ind. But section 11, Civil Procedure Code is exhaustive in respect of all cases falling within its terms and with regard to such cases, the Court is not entitled to travel outside the section and apply the general principles. Sekender v. Sadaruddin, A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 792. "Section 11 of the Code is not exhaustive of the circumstances in which an issue is res judicata. Although the section did not in terms apply, the plea of res judicata still remained, apart from the limited provision of the Code, and it was that plea which the respondents had to meet in the present case". A. I. R. 1921 (P. C.) 11=48 C. 499=48 I. A. 187 (P. C.). This dictum was re-affirmed by Lora Buckmaster in T. B. Ramchandra Rao v. A. N. S. Ramchandra Rao, A. I. R. 1922 (P. C.) 80=45 M. 320=49 I. A. 129 (P. C.). Where it was remarked that "the principle which prevents the same cause being twice agitated is of general application and is not limited by the specific words of the Code in this respect."

Scope of the Section.—Section 11 is not applicable when the previous suit was not dismissed on merits, but had abated. 12 Lah. 275=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 79=131 Ind. Cas. 98. If there are two issues which had been determined in a prior suit and the decision of either of those issues was enough to dispose of the plaintiff's claim, the decisions on both those issues would, nevertheless, operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit. 32 P. L. R. 815. This section does not in terms apply to subsequent proceedings in the same suit. Such proceedings are only a part of the original proceedings and it cannot be said that the matter was decided either specifically or by implication in a previous suit. The rule of res judicata has been applied to subsequent proceedings when the point raised in the subsequent proceedings were raised in the earlier proceedings and specifically decided. But where there was no such specific decision in the earlier proceedings, the rule can not apply. 52 A. 901=1930 A. L. J. 1524=A. I. R. 1931 All. 99. When the question which had to be decided in the prior suit is different from what has to be decided in the subsequent suit, the principle of res judicata will not apply. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 254. The rule depends upon the identity of the issues. In order to consider whether a previous decision is res judicata or not the substantial effect of what has been decided in the case has to be considered. 56 C. L. J. 369.

For the application of the rule of res judicata it is essential that there must be a previous order having the force of a decree. 9 O. W. N. 488 (511)=A. I. R. 1932 Oudh 199 (F. B.). Section 11 does not require the cause of action to be the same nor the reliefs claimed to be the same before the doctrine of res judicata can come into operation; what it requires is that the matter in issue shall be the same and it makes no distinction between questions of fact and questions of law. The rules of res judicata requiring the identity of the matter in issue will apply even when the subject matter, the object of the relief and the cause of action are different. 138 Ind. Cas. 161=15 N. L. J. 1=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 90. For the application of the rule of res judicata there must be reciprocity. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 210. A question at issue between the parties once heard and finally decided, binds the parties at subsequent stages of the same suit, under general principles of law though not under s. 11. 48 C. 499=48 I. A. 187=19 A. L. J. 366=40 M. L. J. 423=25 C. W. N. 915=23 Bom. L. R. 648 (P. C.). The doctrine of res judicata should not be unduly conditioned and qualified by all sorts of ingenious attempts at evasion where there has been in fact a fair contest on a question and Court has given a final decision thereon. 108 P. L. R. 1919=67 Ind. Cas. 775. The principle applies to all orders passed in the same suit between the same parties when the question arises in subsequent proceedings in suits. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 406=73 Ind. Cas. 903. It is difficult if not impossible to answer in general terms a question as to whether a whole class of cases can or cannot be held barred by res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 172=6 O. W. N. 191.

Even when law has been since determined to be otherwise by judicial decision, the rights of parties decided upon prior law remain unaffected. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 777=56 C. 723=33 C. W. N. 126=48 C. L. J. 327=115 Ind. Cas. 593. For the purposes of res judicata a finding by necessary implication is no less potent than an express finding. 113 Ind. Cas. 120=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 888.

The prohibition in s. 11 applies also to an appellate Court. Where pending a second appeal, the former suit is decided on second appeal, it operates as res judicata (1919) M. W. N. 455=52 Ind. Cas. 625. Matters decided by the lower Court cease to be res judicata and if the appeal is disposed of on some other ground, the finding of lower Court is not res judicata concerning matters not covered by appellate judgment. 27 M. L. T. 54=56 Ind. Cas. 199. Implied adjudication is res judicata. 24 M. L. T. 205=48 Ind. Cas. 905=8 L. W. 206. Where a suit of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes is tried as a regular suit, decision operates as res judicata. 41 A. 54=16 A. L. J. 782=47 Ind. Cas. 837. Where in an appellate judgment, a point is left undecided, though it was decided by the trial Court, the appellate judgment does not operate as res judicata 47 Ind. Cas. 685. If there is an appeal it destroys the finality of the decision of the lower Court and if the ultimate Court of Appeal dismisses the suit as being badly framed the merits of the case are not res judicata. 45 C. 492=44 I. A judgment obtained by fraud or collusion does not operate as res judicata. 1936 A. L. J. 1162. section 11 does not affect jurisdiction of Court. A. I. R. 1934 Cal 282. In order to operate as res judicata raising of express issue is not necessary, decision by implication is sufficient. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 179. If s. 11 is applicable it must be applied in its entirety. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 112. In deciding whether a suit is barred by res judicata, the pleadings, issues and judgment of previous case should be looked at. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 265. Where an issue was tried between parties in proper suit in competent Court, it cannot be tried again in another suit between them. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 112. Decree in redemption cannot operate as res judicata unless it extinguishes right to redeem. A. I. R. 1934 P. C. 205. Principle of res judicata though wider cannot transgress s. 11. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 178. Order of Court is binding on all except superior Court in appeal or revision. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 416. If two conflicting decrees have been obtained by parties in two different Courts or even from the same Court then the last one should be the effective decree between the parties and the first decree should be regarded as dead. The basis of this statutory rule is that if a party who could raise the plea of res judicata does not raise the same when an opportunity is given to him he must be deemed to have waived it. A. I. R. 1935 All. 645=155 Ind. Cas. 571. A judgment can operate as res judicata only in so far as it finally determines a controversy which is directly and substantially in issue in the case. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 22=18 N. L. J. 32. A matter which is res judicata cannot be agitated afresh merely by reason of a suggestion, made in a judgment which was unnecessary to the decision of the case, that the party may bring another suit. 158 Ind. Cas. 995=A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 150.

Applicability of the Section.—Where a person is merely a pro forma defendant in a previous suit and no relief is sought against him there, he is not precluded from raising the same question in subsequent suit and the principle of res judicata in any shape or form does not apply. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 942. Where the decision of the Court in a previous suit determined that section 12A of the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act had never applied to a transaction a Court in a new suit between the same parties with regards to the same transaction cannot try a new issue as to its applicability in face of express prohibition in s. 11 of the C. P. Code. 63 I. A. 53=15 Pat. 203=1936 A. L. J. 104=38 Bom. L. R. 339=62 C. L. J. 521=38 P. L. R. 325=40 C. W. N. 289=1936 O. W. N. 127=1936 M. W. N. 321=A. I. R. 1936 P. C. 46=70 M. L. J. 122 (P. C.).

Application of the general principle of res judicata and S. 11 of the C. P. Code.—In Iswar Datt v. General Assurance, A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 346, Bhide J. observed: "Section 11 of the C. P. Code has been interpreted to apply when the two Courts concerned have concurrent jurisdiction: Cf. (9 C. 439=9 I. A. 197). But the principle of res judicata is of wider application, as pointed out by their Lordships of the Privy Council in 48 C. 499=48 I. A. 187=60 Ind. Cas. 631 and 45 M. 320=49 I. A. 129=67 Ind. Cas. 408. It has been held to govern cases where the matter in issue is the same and has been previously decided by a competent Court. For instance, when a Court has exclusive jurisdiction to try any matter its decision on that point will operate as res judicata; Cf. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 236, A. I. R. 1934 Sind 112; A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 324=36 P. L. R. 64; A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 623=143 Ind. Cas. 59=34 P. L. R. 462; A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 586=121 Ind. Cas. 507=30 P. L. R. 427."

Application of the principle of res judicata to appeals—In Lushni v. Bhullar, A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 289=8 Lah. 384=104 Ind. Cas. 849 (F. B.). Tekchuna J. observed: "It must therefore be settled at the very outset whether s. 11 applies to appeals or whether its operation is limited only to suits as meaning proceedings in an action in Courts of the first instance as distinguished from proceedings in appellate Courts. After a careful examination of the section I have reached the conclusion that it applies to suits only and not to appeals. It is no doubt true that in the body of the Civil Procedure Code, as well as in other enactments, the word 'suit' is often used as including proceedings before the appellate Court, and also other proceedings of civil nature. But having regard to the phraseology used in s. 11, and more particularly to Expl. II, which, it might be noted, was for the first time added in 1908, the word 'Court' as used in this section can but mean the trial Court, and 'suit' signifies proceedings beginning with the plaint and ending with the decree in that Court. It seems to me that no other interpretation is possible. If the word 'suit' is to be taken as including 'appeal', the section becomes inconsistent with Expl. II.....If then s. 11 does not in terms, apply to appeals, we have to fall back upon the general principles of the rule of res judicata and to see if there is anything in those principles which debars the appellate Court from hearing and deciding an issue under circumstances such as those described in the question. It is, however, necessary to bear in mind that in applying these general principles, the Courts are not hampered by any technical rules of interpretation such as govern the applicability of a statute. As remarked by Sir Lawrence Jenkins in Sheopersan Singh v. Ramanandan Prasad, 43 C. 654 (706)=33 Ind. Cas. 194=43 I. A. 91 (P. C.) 'the application of the rule by Courts in India should be influenced by no technical considerations of form, but by matter of substance within the limits allowed by law.' In England, the same rule was laid down by Butt M. R. in Re May (28 Ch. D. 516). When he said that the doctrine of res judicata was not a technical doctrine, but was very substantial one'. So also in Roman Law, as administered by the Practors, the 'exceptio res judicata' was among the 'equitable grounds' on which the defendant was allowed to render ineffectual an action ipso jure (see Bown's Legal Maxim, Ninth Edition, page 225). In India, some Judges have gone to the extent of laying down that in interpreting the sections of the Civil Procedure Code relating to res judicata, the fundamental principle of the rule embodied in it should not be ignored: [per Mahmood J. in Situ Ram v. Amir Begam, (8 A. 324) and per West J. in Bholubai v. Adusang (9 B. 75 at p. 81). What we have therefore, to do, is to ascertain the raison d'être of the doctrine and then to apply it to the facts of a particular case unfettered by any technicalities. It is the spirit of the law and not its letter which is to be the governing factor, the soul of the rule rather than its outward form.

"Let us see what are the fundamental principles of res judicata and how do they affect the present case. It has already been indicated that the foundation of the rule, as understood both by ancient and modern lawyers is that a question must be once fairly and finally tried by a competent Court and after this has been done all further litigation about it should be concluded for ever between the parties. The maxim is, as has been stated above that, no one shall be vexed twice over the same matter." This, to my mind, presupposes that the issue has been once fairly and finally tried in a former litigation, which was independent of the proceedings in which the same matter is again in dispute. The essence of the rule seems to me to be that the two proceedings should be so independent of each other that the trial of the one cannot be confused with the trial of the other. Where two suits having a common issue, are, by consent of parties or by order of the Court, tried together, the evidence being written in one record and both suits disposed of by a single judgment, can it be said that there have been two distinct and independent trials? There being but one finding and one judgement, on what principle can the hearing of the appeal in which this finding and this judgement are under consideration be barred merely because no appeal has been filed in the connected suit which was disposed of by that very judgment? There has been in substance as well as in form, but one trial and one verdict, and I venture to think, it will be a travesty of justice to stifle the hearing of the appeal against such a judgement on the ground that the findings contained in it operate as res judicata. In such a case there can be no question of the successful party being 'vexed twice' over the same matter, nor does the hearing of the appeal in any way militate against any rule of public policy, which requires that there must be an end of the litigation. There is not only nothing here to attract the principles underlying the rule of res judicata, but, on the other hand, it seems to me that the acceptance of such a plea in such circumstances would strike at the very root of the basic conception of the doctrine which requires that a party must have at least one fair trial of the issue resulting in a decision by the Court of ultimate appeal as allowed by the law for the time being in force." See also A. I. R. 1925 All. 488=87 Ind. Cas. 804; A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 821=9 Lah. L. J. 526=105 Ind. Cas. 850.

Essential conditions of the application of the doctrine.—In order to give rise to a valid bar to res judicata the following conditions must be fulfilled :—

(I) There must be two suits, one of which must have been passed and finally decided prior to the second suit whether or not it was instituted prior thereto.

(II) The matter directly or substantially in issue in the subsequent suit must have been directly and substantially in issue in the former suit.

(III) The subsequent suit must be between the parties (including their privies) of the former suit.

(IV) The parties of the two suits must be litigating under the same title.

(V) The Court trying the former suit must have been competent to try the second suit or the suit in which such issue has subsequently been raised.

Where the trial Court gave a finding on a certain question even though there was no specific issue regarding it, but the finding was objected to in appeal and the appellate Court without specifically referring to it dismissed the appeal, the question must be deemed to be heard and finally decided within the meaning of s. 11 and would operate as res judicata. 33 Bom. Cas. 368; A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 526=16 Pat. L. T. 448=158 Ind. Cas. 734. A statement by the Judge in the judgment which is merely obiter and without which the suit has already been decided does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 96=157 Ind. Cas. 816. The dismissal of the suit on the grounds of multifariousness and misjoinder of parties without deciding on the merits does not bar a subsequent suit. 155 Ind. Cas. 7=37 Bom. L. R. 62=A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 131. Unnecessary decision does not operate as a bar. 68 M. L. J. 625=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 551=156 Ind. Cas. 1033=1935 M. W. N. 612; A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 696. There is no bar where the appellate Court refuses to decide on the merits. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 686=159 Ind. Cas. 419. Adverse finding on unnecessary issues does not also bar. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 733. A decision is none-the-less res judicata even if in point of law it is wrong. 14 Pat. 633=159 Ind. Cas. 173=16 Pat. L. T. 819. A judgment by consent giving validity to a transaction which is illegal or ultra vires does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 121=11 O. W. N. 1571.

Mortgage suit.—If in a mortgage suit the intention of Court is only to declare and maintain a relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee between the parties and also to fix amount of the mortgage money due from the mortgagor to the mortgagee and to declare the mortgagor's right to recover possession on payment of that sum of money, then the matter as to when and how the mortgagor may recover possession of the mortgaged property, or the mortgagee may foreclose or sell in default; and this in either case the mortgage be extinguished, must be held not to have been finally heard and decided. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 465=7 O. W. N. 902=130 Ind. Cas. 75. In a suit by a mortgagee for recovery of the mortgage debt against a Hindu father and sons the plaintiff's pleader stated that the sons may be discharged and a simple money decree passed against the father. In a subsequent declaratory suit brought by the sons that the joint-family property was not liable to attachment and sale in execution of the simple money decree passed against the father, the statement does not operate either as an estoppel or as res judicata. A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 15=3 O. W. N. 862=98 Ind. Cas. 300. Where a decree for redemption did not fix period for paying mortgage-money, a second suit for redemption is not barred. A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 457=4 O. W. N. 882=105 Ind. Cas. 93; but see 5 O. L. J. 648=48 Ind. Cas. 922. Where in a redemption suit, decree is not drawn as per Order XXXIV, r. 7, subsequent suit for redemption is not barred. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 31=5 Lah. 371=84 Ind. Cas. 67. Where mortgagor sues for accounts under one mortgage and mortgagee puts forth other mortgages and the Court decides suits only with respect to one mortgage, that decision does not bar subsequent suit on other mortgages. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 311=27 Bom. L. R. 488=87 Ind. Cas. 716. A mortgagee who has sued for and obtained a decree for possession under his mortgage from the mortgagor is barred from a fresh suit for possession unless he had been dispossessed after the date of the former decree. 2 Lah. L. J. 678=67 Ind. Cas. 281. Where in a mortgage suit, a decree is passed for redemption without condition as to payment of money in a certain time, a fresh suit for redemption is not barred. A. I. R. 1922 All. 377=44 A. 730=20 A. L. J. 631=69 Ind. Cas. 167. Mortgagor who has brought a suit for redemption and obtained a decree nisi which neither the mortgagor nor the mortgagee has applied to be made absolute, can after the execution of that decree is time-barred, bring a fresh suit for redemption. 21 Bom. L. R. 56=43 B. 334.

Where a decree is once passed in a suit on a mortgage, the mortgage merges in the decree and a second suit on the mortgage does not lie. 20 P. R. 1917=26 P. L. R. 1917=39 Ind. Cas. 753. In a suit for redemption of a decree for payment of the mortgage amount by instalments was passed under the Deccan Agriculturists Relief Act, but the decree was left unexecuted. Mortgagor or any person claiming under him by a title subsequently decided, cannot bring a suit for redemption of property.

His remedy lies in execution, 20 Bom. L. R. 164=42 B. 246=44 Ind. Cas. 908. Where the right to redeem was in issue in a mortgage suit for sale and Court decreed the sale, a fresh suit for redemption is barred. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 816=49 M. 691=25 L. W. 258=50 M. L. J. 612=96 Ind. Cas. 607.

Rent Suit.—The judgment of a former rent suit does operate as res judicata between the parties if in the subsequent suit between the parties, the areas of lands and the defence are all the same. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 369=90 Ind. Cas. 756. Where a review against a decree expending rent of a tenancy and holding it to be permanent was dismissed holding that the applicant was aggrieved not by decree but by judgment, but the pronouncement in which regarding permanent nature of the tenancy was however accepted by the Judge as having been based on misapprehension of Counsel's argument on the subject. Such a judgment cannot be res judicata as to the nature of tenancy. Dhumi Mal v. Moti Sagor, A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 102=8 Lah. 573=54 I. A. 178=52 M. L. J. 653=29 Bom. L. R. 870=31 C. W. N. 677=25 A. L. J. 959=28 P. L. R. 658=26 L. W. 634 (P. C.)=101 Ind. Cas. 355 (P. C.) Decision in previous suit on liability of defendant to pay interest as per kabuliyat is res judicata in subsequent rent suit. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 361=76 Ind. Cas. 444. Where fixed parcel of land with definite boundaries is dismissed, question as to rent are decided in the suit is binding. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 307=74 Ind. Cas. 961. As regards rent suits the decision as regards the rent for one year precludes question as to rent for following years. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 378=82 Ind. Cas. 990. Where relationship of landlord and tenant held not established in former suit for rent for suit years, another suit to eject defendant on grounds of his not being a tenant is not barred. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 355=33 C. L. J. 334=61 Ind. Cas. 201. Where in a suit for rent, the question of title is decided incidentally, that decision is not res judicata in a subsequent suit for declaration of title for possession. 63 Ind. Cas. 762. In a case under s. 105, B. T. Act, the only point decided was the amount of additional rent to be allowed for the excess area it does not constitute res judicata as to the rate of rent. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 282=68 Ind. Cas. 298. In an ejectment suit, where Court passes a decree for rent only, the finding as to title need not be incorporated in the decree. A. I. R. 1929 om. 32=3a Bom. L. R. 1602=114 Ind. Cas. 272.

Leave to withdraw suit or appeal—Where a suit was dismissed on account of formal defect in plaint but with liberty to file a fresh suit, subsequent suit on the same cause of action is not barred. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 634=130 Ind. Cas. 572. Appellate Court can pass an order under Order XXIII, r. 1, and that the decision set aside in appeal cannot operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 All 260=74 Ind. Cas. 894. Order under Order XXIII, r. 1, though erroneous is not void or one without jurisdiction and hence the order in a subsequent suit holds good, nor does the previous suit operate as res judicata. 31 L. J. 482=24 C. W. N. 723 (F. B.)=58 Ind. Cas. 806 (overruling 44 C. 567=20 C. W. N. 1000); see also 32 M. L. J. 434=40 Ind. Cas. 611=(1917) M. W. N. 234; but see 46 Ind. Cas. 392=3 Pat. L. J. 404; 56 Ind. Cas. 697=1 Pat. 300. Where a suit was allowed to be withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit without the consent of other plaintiffs it was held that such an order was without jurisdiction, and suit must be thought not to be withdrawn. Fresh suit for partition is not barred by previous suit, cause of action being a recurring one. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 489=1 Pat. 228. Whether leave to withdraw with permission to bring a fresh suit was properly granted or not, is not a matter for Court trying the subsequent suit to consider. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 44=1922 Pat. 17=3 Pat. L. J. 80=64 Ind. Cas. 337=1 Pat. 90.

Connected suits or appeals and res judicata—Section 11 or at any rate the principle on which that section is based, will prevent an appellate Court from trying a case involving a matter decided finally by a suit heard along with the suit from the appeal is pending. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 598=86 Ind. Cas. 380. Where in two suits the lands in dispute are different but the issue as to defendant's title to the lands raised in both and decided in one, that decision is res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 122=4 Rang. 8=95 Ind. Cas. 104. Where in both of the cross-suits between the same parties the question at issue arising out of the same transaction is the same, and one is decided before the other, the decision in the suit decided first is res judicata against other. 96 Ind. Cas. 694 (All) But where two suits between same parties against each other were tried as cross-suits. One suit does not operate as res judicata against appeal from the other. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 353=34 C. W. N. 839=131 Ind. Cas. 562; see also

A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 378=92 Ind. Cas. 352 ; A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 575=4 O. W. N. 297 =120 Ind. Cas. 171 ; 78 Ind. Cas. 1026=A. I. R. 1924 All. 834. Where rival pre-emptors sue for pre-emption and the suit of one of them is dismissed, the failure on the part of the vendee or the remaining pre-emptors to appeal from the decree does not debar them from appealing against the decree passed in their own suits. A. I. R. 1927 All. 540=101 Ind. Cas. 518 ; but see A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 98=8 Lah. L. J. 136=27 P. L. R. 203=93 Ind. Cas. 1014.

Where both parties appeal against trial Court's decision but one appeal was allowed and the other dismissed and a second appeal was filed against one appellate decree only, other unappealed decree does not bar hearing of the second appeal. A. I. R. 1928 All. 274=50 A. 517=26 A. L. J. 258=113 Ind. Cas. 93. Where during the pendency of appeal from preliminary decree in a mortgage suit an appeal from final decree was presented but was dismissed for want of prosecution : Held that the appellate Court is not, by such dismissal, debarred from granting, in the appeal before it, a relief inconsistent with the final decree. A. I. R. 1926 All. 667=48A. 611=24 A. L. J. 769=96 Ind. Cas. 1. Where two suits regarding same subject-matter are tried on the same evidence and separate decrees are drawn up though judgments fallow closely each other, an appeal against one of the decrees is not barred by a failure of appeal against the other under s. 11, C. P. Code. 29 M. L. J. 551=39 Ind. Cas. 216 ; but see 156 Ind. Cas. 998 ; 61 C. L. J. 93=39 C. W. N. 938=62 Cal. 642 ; A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 401=164 Ind. Cas. 743. If two suits involving common issues are disposed of in one judgment and an appeal is filed against the decree in one and not from the decree in the other, the matter decided in the latter cannot become res judicata. 40 C. W. N. 1176.

Adverse findings—If a decree is wholly in favour of the defendant, no issue decided against him can operate as res judicata so as to bind him in a subsequent suit, for he cannot appeal from a finding on any such issue. Conversely, if a plaintiff's suit is decreed in its entirety no issue decided against him can be res judicata in a subsequent suit, for he cannot appeal from a finding on any such issue, the decree being wholly in his favour. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 770=38 L. W. 614 ; see also A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 218=34 P. L. R. 225=141 Ind. Cas. 339 ; 164 Ind. Cas. 851 ; A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 241 ; A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 541=1932 M. W. Arbitration.—When a party raises an objection as to appointment of arbitrators before the arbitration Court and procures a decision in it, a suit to set aside an award made by the arbitrator on the same ground will be barred by res judicata. 137 Ind. Cas. 846=33 P. L. R. 365=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 378. Where objections have been preferred during the arbitration proceedings and disallowed, the principle of finality applies and the same matter cannot be agitated in a separate civil suit. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 865 ; see also A. I. R. 1925 Sind 42 ; A. I. R. 1930 Sind 195 ; A. I. R. 1932 Sind 20.

Refusal of plaint for want of jurisdiction.—Where Court refused plaint for want of jurisdiction, suit on the same cause of action may be instituted after the Court was vested with jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1931 All. 200=130 Ind. Cas. 4.

Decision by Court which is not competent.—Decision by Court not competent to try an issue is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 296=107 Ind. Cas. 895. Where in a partition proceedings a question of title was open to a Revenue Officer to be tried as a Civil Court, following the procedure of a Civil Court as the presiding officer of such a Court, but he did not try it as a Civil Court it is barred by the rule of res judicata in a subsequent civil suit. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 128=91 Ind. Cas. 528.

Dismissal of suit for want of evidence.—Dismissal of suit for want of evidence bars fresh suit. 34 Ind. Cas. 640=3 O. L. J. 236 ; see also 1 M. 84 ; 12 W. R. 34 (P. C.) ; A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 271. Dismissal of suit for non-prosecution under Order XVII, r. 3 bars subsequent suit. 40 A. 590=16 A. L. J. 462. Dismissal owing to failure of party to produce evidence is one on merits and operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 404=122 Ind. Cas. 519.

Dismissal for default.—In case of dismissal for default no question of res judicata arises. 41 Ind. Cas. 505 ; 9 C. 426 ; 10 C. 98 (P. C.) ; 24 Ind. Cas. 480=12 A. L. J. 911 ; 56 Ind. Cas. 932 ; 54 Ind. Cas. 789 ; 80 Ind. Cas. 933=46 A. 820=22

C. P. Code—5

A. I. R. 749. Dismissal for default of an appeal does not bar fresh appeal. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 514=2 Pat. 739=75 Ind. Cas. 284. Dismissal of suit for default of plaintiff to appear on the day fixed for appointing a guardian to minor defendant, fresh suit is not barred. 6 P. L. J. 650=2 P. L. T. 572=63 Ind. Cas. 570=A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 252. Where a suit brought by one of the parties to the reference to complete the arbitration and for a decree in terms of the award which might be passed was dismissed for default, it does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit for possession of the specific property under the award. 49 Ind. Cas. 89=8 L. W. 551=24 M. L. T. 424=(1918) M. W. N. 683.

Other cases of dismissal, which does not bar.—Dismissal of suit for want of proper Court-fees is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh. 503=114 Ind. Cas. 120=5 O. W. N. 895=4 Luck. 159; 13 M. 44; 35 B. 38; 8 A. 282. Dismissal of suit for non-joinder does not operate as res judicata. 104 Ind. Cas. 576. Where a suit is dismissed on the ground that it is not properly framed, the decisions on other issues by the Court, do not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 996=41 C. L. J. 396=88 Ind. Cas. 616. A dismissal under Order IX, r. 3 creates no res judicata. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 337=12 O. L. J. 1=28 O. C. 8=85 Ind. Cas. 509. Dismissal for misdescription of suit property does not bar a subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 193=38 Ind. Cas. 579; 2 Pat. L. J. 313=39 Ind. Cas. 126. Dismissal of prior suit for non-joinder of parties is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 259=43 M. L. J. 572=1922 M. W. N. 428=73 Ind. Cas. 491. A dismissal of an appeal, for want of a copy of the first Court's judgment necessary under the Allahabad High Court rules, does not operate as res judicata. 19 A. L. J. 706=63 Ind. Cas. 344. Dismissal on pleadings is no bar to second suit. 45 Ind. Cas. 969=24 M. L. T. 311=7 L. W. 557. Dismissal of application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 501=126 Ind. Cas. 591. Rejection of memo of appeal presented by an unauthorized wakil is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1930 All. 112=(1930) A. L. J. 394=121 Ind. Cas. 546. In case of dismissal of suit for mere declaration on the ground that plaintiff ought to have asked for possession also, latter suit for possession is not barred. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 596=127 Ind. Cas. 8. Dismissal of suit on technical ground does not bar latter suit. 47 Ind. Cas. 909. Dismissal on pleadings is no bar to second suit. 7 L. W. 557=(1918) M. W. N. 299=(1918) M. W. N. 427=45 Ind. Cas. 326.

Same cause of action.—Where cause of action in two suits are different res judicata should be restricted to questions of fact and mixed questions of fact and law and should not be extended to pure questions of law. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 415=49 C. L. J. 357=125 Ind. Cas. 299. Where in the first suit plaintiff sued as reversioner and in the subsequent suit he claimed as widow's heir, the latter suit is not barred. A. I. R. 1931 All. 21=1930 A. L. J. 1254=130 Ind. Cas. 13. Where suit for arrears of rent, was dismissed on the ground that no relationship of tenancy existed subsequent suit on title for ejectment is not barred. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 355=33 C. L. J. 334=61 Ind. Cas. 201. Where cause of action is different but the same relief is claimed in both suits, the latter suit is not barred. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1172=86 Ind. Cas. 949. Where two causes of action are the same or different is no test. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh. 172=6 O. W. N. 191=4 Luck. 603=116 Ind. Cas. 200. Withdrawal of a previous suit for ejectment does not bar a subsequent suit for ejectment against the same party. A. I. R. 1926 All. 34=89 Ind. Cas. 397.

Decision when res judicata.—Award of arbitrators is res judicata on questions decided by the award. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh. 389=7 O. W. N. 541=127 Ind. Cas. 254. Where a suit has been decreed but permission has been given to defendant to file another suit, the permission does not prevent the bar of res judicata. 33 Bom. L. R. 613=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 417. Though section 109 of B. T. Act may not in express terms prohibit a Civil Court from entertaining a defence which is at variance with a decision under s. 106, yet it is clear provisions of s. 107 (1) of the B. T. Act read with s. 11, C. P. Code that a Court trying a rent suit had no jurisdiction to decide an issue between the parties which has already been finally and definitely decided by a decision under s. 10 of the B. T. Act. 12 P. L. T. 717=A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 215=10 P. 337. The retrial of issues that have been finally decided in the same suit is barred by res judicata. A. I. R. 1921 P. C. 11=40 M. L. J. 423=48 C. 499=48 I. Dismissal of suit to contest alienation is res judicata in a subsequent suit by the same reversioner for possession after the death of the widow. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 187=4 Lah. L. J. 442=59 Ind. Cas. 946. Decision as given by predecessor-in-office of Judge after fully considering the law on the subject cannot be re-opened by successor. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 836=122 Ind. Cas. 724. Party sought to be affected by res judicata should have notice and opportunity to contest. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 414=120 Ind. Cas. 863. Where a party himself raised an issue which was decided in his favour by the trial Court and against him by the appellate Court, decision on the issue is res judicata. 118 Ind. Cas. 168. Where objections were raised and decided in appeal, the same cannot be raised by way of cross-objection. A. I. R. 1924 All. 867=22 A. L. J. 365=78 Ind. Cas. 677. Where the plaintiff was out of possession and a suit for declaration only was dismissed on merits, a subsequent suit for possession is barred. A. I. R. 1923 All. 554=77 Ind. Cas. 755. Judicial order made in one stage of a suit is binding. 34 C. L. J. 415=70 Ind. Cas. 6. A decision in a partition case not ultimately carried though, has the force of res judicata. 54 Ind. Cas. 303=1 U. P. L. R. (B. R.) 39. Suit against Receiver on allegations already found against plaintiff is barred. 22 Bom. L. R. 1126=45 B. 99=59 Ind. Cas. 421.

If relief in subsequent petition rests on some question of fact as in previous petition dismissed, petition is barred. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 404=122 Ind. Cas. 519. An erroneous decision on a question of fact, operates as res judicata between parties to the previous suit. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 717=48 C. L. J. 184=32 C. W. N. 828=115 Ind. Cas. 588. Construction of grant in previous suit though erroneous binds parties in subsequent suit relating to property involved in previous suit. 31 M. L. J. 97=(1916) 2 M. W. N. 96=35 Ind. Cas. 266. Prior decision of High Court as to construction of a solenama is binding in subsequent suit although position of two parties is subsequently changed, being a question of law. 46 C. 870=29 C. L. J. 465=51 Ind. Cas. 922; see also 2 Pat. L. W. 146=41 Ind. Cas. 778. Evidence adduced to prove that former decision is erroneous is irrelevant as an erroneous decree establishing rights is as much res judicata as just decree. (1918) M. W. N. 580=8 L. W. 473=49 Ind. Cas. 369. Where a plaintiff sues for correction of an entry in Record of Rights of the defendant and subsequently sues for possession of property alleging that it was not the niskor property of the defendant but part of his real property (which would have been the situation if this suit for correction of record had been decided in his favour) the decision against the plaintiff in the prior suit is bar to his subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 385=49 C. L. J. 285=33 C. W. N. 623=120 Ind. Cas. 147. Where the question whether defendant executed a certain Kabuliyat in favour of the plaintiff was a material fact in issue in a previous suit and it was decided then that the plaintiff failed to prove the same there the decision is res judicata concerning everything in that kabuliyat. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1228=97 Ind. Cas. 291. The decision in a former suit between the parties though based on a mistaken view of the law, nevertheless operates as res judicata in a subsequent suit. The fact that the finding was based on a wrong view of the law and that the reason on which the decision was based was unsound does not affect the conclusiveness or binding nature of the decision as to the rights of the parties. 165 Ind. Cas. 957=38 Bom. L. R. 853=A. I. R. 1936 Bom. 402.

Decision when not res judicata—Decision on assumed fact is not res judicata. 113 Ind. Cas. 384=30 Bom. L. R. 1089=A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 116. Where a particular question in dispute is expressly left open for a separate proceeding the question is not res judicata. 96 Ind. Cas. 302. When appeal from decision in previous suit is pending before Privy Council, the decision is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 161. Issue raised and decided but unnecessary is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 163=42 C. L. J. 560=92 Ind. Cas. 981. Where appellate Court decides case on grounds other than those of trial Court, the decision of trial Court on issues decided by it, is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 179=90 Ind. Cas. 480; 86 Ind. Cas. 295. Where a point is expressly left undecided by the Court in a suit it can be agitated in subsequent suit. 88 Ind. Cas. 822=A. I. R. 1925 All. 770=48 A. 34=23 A. L. J. 950. Where there is no express adjudication on a particular point there is no res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 469=6 Lah. L. J. 45=80 Ind. Cas. 525. Where a finding is recorded only to avoid a possible remand and is not the basis of the judgment the point is not res judicata. 82 Ind. Cas. 485=47 M. L. J. 532. In a suit for specific performance and possession, where latter relief has not referred to in judgment and the decision on that relief was not necessary, the decision is not res judicata as regards the latter relief. 27 Bom. L. R. 42=86 Ind. Cas. 137=A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 181. Where secondary relief claimed and determined by lower Court and not by appellate Court, the decision on that relief is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 21 (F. B.)=13 L. W. 25. A matter decided behind the back of the judgment-debtor without notice to him cannot operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1930 All. 669=1930 A. L. J. 1400=128 Ind. Cas. 607. Obiter dicta not necessary for the decision of a suit cannot have the force of res judicata. 14 L. R. 457 Rev. Where plea of occupancy right was raised but not decided, the decision is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 241=30 M. L. T. (P. C.) 279=48 I. A. 49=48 C. 460=64 Ind. Cas. 231. Where a question in issue is merely mentioned in the course of giving a narration of events in a judgment in former suit and there is no finding on it in that suit, the parties to former suit are not debarred from raising it again in a subsequent suit as between them on principles of res judicata. A. I. R. 1937 Oudh 116. The case of withdrawal is analogous to a dismissal in default as there is no decision on merits. There is no res judicata in such a case. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 710. Where the Court in the previous suit definitely determines the area of the land in the defendant's possession and the annual rent payable for the same the defendant can only succeed in a subsequent suit by proving that the area and the rent have since altered. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 672=23 C. L. J. 116. The fact that the personal remedy is asked for in the plaint and that nothing appears about it in the decree, is not enough to say that the plaintiff is forever barred from asking for it. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 779=53 M. L. J. 489=39 M. L. T. 22=(1927) M. W. N. 330=103 Ind. Cas. 528. In a case where the previous proceedings were confined by statute to the question of possession a subsequent proceeding in which the question of title is raised is not barred. A. I. R. 1925 All. 200=L. R. 5A. 132 Rev.=78 Ind. Cas. 115. Decision in a previous suit is not res judicata if there is to contest, no issue and no finding between the parties although they were ranged on opposite sides. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 124=76 Ind. Cas. 635. Dismissal of prior suit for non-joinder of parties is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 259=43 M. L. J. 572=16 L. W. 26=73 Ind. Cas. 491. Where an ejectment suit is dismissed on the ground of absence of notice but the Court records a finding that the permanent tenancy alleged by the defendant is not proved decision on the question as to nature of tenancy is not res judicata. 67 Ind. Cas. 271. Dismissal of a suit by a Hindu widow for declaration that an execution sale was illegal, as the question was one under s. 47, C. P. Code, does not bar a subsequent suit by reversioner for possession. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 96=24 Bom. L. R. 249=46 B. 726=67 Ind. Cas. 209. So long as the property remains joint, one of the co-owners can bring a second suit for partition though a previous suit for partition has been dismissed. 56 Ind. Cas. 610. Where in a previous suit for declaration as to the genuineness of a Will, the lower Court decided not only that it was genuine but that the Will was admissible as an authority to adopt though the latter point was not in issue and the appellate Court decided in favour of genuineness only, the decision is not res judicata as to other point. 57 Ind. Cas. 852.

Previous unexecuted decree in a partition suit does not bar fresh suit for partition. 77 P. R. 1915=164 P. W. R. 1915=31 Ind. Cas. 205. Where plaintiff obtained a decree for possession but that decree is barred by limitation a fresh suit is maintainable on the decree. 14 A. L. J. 102=32 Ind. Cas. 634. Issue not decided upon but left open though it should have been decided is not res judicata. 41 Ind. Cas. 19. Where suit is withdrawn with permission pending appeal there is no decision to operate as res judicata. 40 Ind. Cas. 353. Refusal to decide issue does not operate as res judicata. 4 Pat. L. W. 299=45 Ind. Cas. 326. Dismissal of suit on pleadings is no bar to second suit. 7 L. W. 557=45 Ind. Cas. 969=(1918) M. W. N. 427. Where an issue is expressly excluded from decision that decision is not res judicata so far that issue is concerned. 70 P. R. 1918=11 P. L. R. 1918=71 P. W. R. 1918=44 Ind. Cas. 859. Where a prior suit has been dismissed on preliminary point, question not directly in issue cannot be res judicata unless there has been a judicial determination expressly and impliedly on the matter. 42 Ind. Cas. 508. A suit disposed of in the absence of both the parties does not operate as res judicata. 39 Ind. Cas. 755=1 Pat. L. W. 375.

Plaintiff obtained a decree for possession of certain property which was not executed for three years. Possession over the property had been obtained otherwise than in execution and plaintiff was subsequently dispossessed: Held that dispossession of the plaintiff subsequent to the date of the decree was a fresh cause of action which can be the basis of fresh suit. 38 A. 509=14 A. L. J. 709=35 Ind. Cas. 601. Decision on suit by plaintiff as proprietor for possession is no bar to subsequent suit by the same plaintiff as mortgagor for redemption, as he is not litigating under the same title. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 833=120 Ind. Cas. 420. Where in the latter case the question in issue is the right to sell and in the previous case it was the right to mortgage, there is no res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 139=2 O. W. N. 944=91 Ind. Cas. 1021. Where the issues in latter suit are different from the issues which formed the subject of the previous litigation it was held that the subsequent suit was not barred. 85 Ind. Cas. 76=A. I. R. 1924 All. 922. The mere fact that the petition in the suit itself, to have the property sold in a particular order is disallowed, is no bar to the executing Court making a fresh order in the course of execution. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 509=19 L. W. 23=46 M. L. J. 32=83 Ind. Cas. 918. The dismissal of a previous suit for ejectment for want of notice does not bar a subsequent suit for the same relief with notice even when a decision concerning the defendant's status forms part of the dismissal order in the previous suit. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 333=78 Ind. Cas. 147. The directions as to management of an endowment do not cease to be operative simply because the original provision as to devolution of shebaitship ceases to be operative, owing to its being varied. 85 Ind. Cas. 875=40 C. L. J. 564=29 C. W. N. 17.

Ex-parte decrees.—Ex parte decrees in prior suits in which no issue was raised as to the rate of rent and there was no decision with regard to rate, do not operate as res judicata on that point. 65 Ind. Cas. 581. Ex parte decision in rent suit involving questions of status and rate of rent operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh. 335=7 O. W. N. 507=127 Ind. Cas. 241. Ex parte decree is res judicata quite as much as decree passed on contest. A. I. R. 1929 All. 761=122 Ind. Cas. 664; see also A. I. R. 1929 All. 761=122 Ind. Cas. 664; see also A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 560=5 L. L. J. 163=74 Ind. Cas. 577. An ex parte decree can operate as res judicata only on a necessary issue. 2 Pat. L. W. 108. But a decree for foreclosure passed ex parte against a person joined as defendant on the only ground that he possesses the mortgaged property does not bar defendant or his transferee from setting up a title paramount in a subsequent suit, where there has been no express adjudication on title, though the final decree orders delivery of possession which accordingly has been delivered. 15 N. L. R. 114 (F. B.)=52 Ind. Cas. 82. A suit for declaration that a decree ex parte is void for fraud can not lie if an earlier application to set aside the decree has been dismissed unless based on fresh grounds of fraud. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 328=2 Pat. 833=5 P. L. T. 666=2 Pat. L. R. 65=74 Ind. Cas. 825. Rejection of application under Order IX, r. 13, does not bar a suit to set aside decree as fraudulent and also of proving non-service of summons incidentally. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 241=1923 Pat. 336=5 P. L. T. 37=75 Ind. Cas. 344.

Decision against absent defendant is as much res judicata as one on contest. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 717=48 C. L. J. 184=32 C. W. N. 828=115 Ind. Cas. 588. An ex parte decree for rent does not more than affirm that a certain amount is claimed and allowed. There is no res judicata as to rate of rent especially when it relates to a later year. L. R. 9 A. 345 Rev. In a suit for rent ex parte judgment of the Revenue establishes that the relationship of landlord and tenant does exist between the present parties. A. I. R. 1927 All. 552=49 A. 658=25 A. L. J. 467=101 Ind. Cas. 516. Ex parte decree is admissible in a subsequent rent suit to prove rate of rent allowed but is not conclusive. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 767=91 Ind. Cas. 380. An ex parte decree for rent which was subsequently satisfied can operate as res judicata on the question of the relationship of landlord and tenant. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 114=87 Ind. Cas. 672. Subsequent suit to set aside an ex parte decree contained matters which could not have been raised in an application under Order IX, rule 13 which had been dismissed: Held that the question of non-service of summons was not precluded by res judicata. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 663=41 C. L. J. 281=29 C. W. N. 325=86 Ind. Cas. 779. Where a number of defendants in a case have a common interest and the contest is carried on by some of them bonafide against the plaintiff's claim the defendants who are ex parte are also bound by the decision. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 571=46 M. L. J. 471=34 M. L. T. 209=83 Ind. Cas. 985.

Ex parte decree in rent suit is res judicata on the point of rate of rent. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 515=33 C. W. N. 507=117 Ind. Cas. 854. But Ex parte order passed without hearing opposite party is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Sind. 110=116 Ind. Cas. 101. Ex parte decision of settlement officer under s. 105, B. T. Act, as to fair and equitable rent does not operate as res judicata in subsequent suit for establishing niskar rights. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 467.

Decision must be a necessary one.—A finding not necessary to the relief granted by the decree cannot operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh. 205=10 O. L. J. 404=79 Ind. Cas. 666. An adverse finding against the defendants in whose favour a decree is passed is not res judicata but will lay onus on them of displacing the finding. A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 241=48 C. 460=30 M. L. T. 279=48 I. A. 45=54 Ind. Cas. 231 (P. C.). So a finding cannot be conclusive against a party if the decree is not based upon it but is made in spite of it. A. I. R. 1929 All. 910=1929 A. L. J. 1110=121 Ind. Cas. 102. However definite a finding may be, it will not operate as res judicata when it is not the basis of the decision. A finding in a suit will operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit against a party, when he has a right of appeal. 2 Pat. L. J. 189=38 Ind. Cas. 211; 30 C. W. N. 415=44 C. L. J. 399; 53 Ind. Cas. 558; A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 613. But an unfavourable finding on a necessary point may be appealed against though the decree is favourable and constitute res judicata. 40 Ind. Cas. 771. Finding against a party not necessary for a decree in his favour though given only to settle the main contentions of the parties is res judicata. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 514=31 M. L. T. 430=(1922) M. W. N. 763. Finding as to res judicata cannot operate as res judicata, if decree is passed in spite of it, such a finding not being necessary for its decision. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 672=43 C. L. J. 116=94 Ind. Cas. 844. Favourable decree with adverse finding may amount to res judicata under certain circumstances to the extent of the finding itself. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 626=46 M. L. J. 515=34 M. L. T. 175=84 Ind. Cas. 799. Adverse finding in a decree in favour of a party is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 469=47 M. 453=46 M. L. J. 198=84 Ind. Cas. 622; A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 5=56 C. 639=120 Ind. Cas. 710. Decision on an issue not necessary for final decision is not res judicata. 44 B. 321=22 Bom. L. R. 64=55 Ind. Cas. 322; 19 O. C. 69=3 O. L. J. 677=36 Ind. Cas. 643; 52 Ind. Cas. 258=25 M. L. T. 66; 2 Lah. L. J. 605. Where the finding on an issue is unnecessary but still it is embodied in the decree itself it operates as res judicata. 34 M. L. J. 431=28 M. L. T. 291=7 L. W. 482=45 Ind. Cas. 975. Finding not incorporated in the decree and not the basis of the decree cannot be held as finally decided and to operate as res judicata. 33 Ind. Cas. 620. Decisions arrived at in previous suit though dismissed operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 449=122 Ind. Cas. 547. Where the decree is in favour of a party an adverse finding in the judgment is not res judicata. 3 Pat. L. J. 178=44 Ind. Cas. 723. Unnecessary finding can not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh. 205=10 O. L. J. 404=79 Ind. Cas. 666. A question raised at the instance of a party and decided by the Court as necessary though in fact is not necessary operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 368=33 C. L. J. 317=63 Ind. Cas. 161. Plaintiffs excluded certain questions by the statement of his pleader. First Court expressly stated that it could not decide it but the defendant expressly urged in appeal to decide it and the Court did decide it: Held that the question was necessary for the decision of the suit. A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 144=26 Bom. L. R. 651=51 C. 631=51 I. A. 293=23 A. L. J. 76=29 C. W. N. 34=20 L. W. 770=47 M. L. J. 23=80 Ind. Cas. 827. To operate as res judicata finding must be material and necessary. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 430; see also A. I. R. 1934 All. 465.

Compromise and consent decree.—This section does not apply in terms to consent decrees. A consent decree, however, has to all intents and purposes the same effect as res judicata as it raises an estoppel as much as a decree passed in invitum. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 487=12 Lah. L. J. 157=126 Ind. Cas. 570; 43 C. L. J. 116=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 672=94 Ind. Cas. 844; A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 96=(1928) M. W. N. 654; A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 650=2 O. W. N. 684=90 Ind. Cas. 408; A. I. Compromise decree constitutes res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 88=75 Ind. Cas. 336; see also A. I. R. 1929 Oudh. 63=5 O. W. N. 1081=8 Luck. 181=115 Ind. Cas. 294.

A compromise decree cannot be taken to decide every point that ought to have been pleaded, as a decree on the merits must. A. I. R. 1929 All. 243=51 A. 575=(1929) A. L. J. 344=116 Ind. Cas. 436. Where a compromise decree is passed on the basis of a Commissioner's map, the Court in subsequent suit cannot go into the correctness or otherwise of the map. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 852=111 Ind. Cas. 1.

Where pre-emptor was party to suit by village landlords challenging sale to be pre-empted and sale was confirmed by a compromise decree, right of pre-emption cannot be exercised. A. I. R. 1928 P. C. 190=10 Lah. 75=55 I. A. 266=48 C. L. J. 158=33 C. W. N. 90=30 P. L. R. 1=110 Ind. Cas. 1 (P. C.). Where a previous petition for declaring the marriage a nullity has been dismissed by consent of parties a second petition is not competent. A party cannot approbate and reprobate. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 279=30 Bom. L. R. 523=110 Ind. Cas. 266. An order by consent not discharged by mutual agreement and remaining unreduced is as effective as an order of the Court made otherwise than by consent and not discharged on appeal. A. I. R. 1929 P. C. 289=(1929) A. C. 482=57 M. L. J. 429=30 L. W. 606=118 Ind. Cas. 7 (P. C.); see also A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 431=32 Bom. L. R. 389=126 Ind. Cas. 305. A decision in a former suit, unless tainted by fraud or procured by undue influence against the predecessor-in-title of the plaintiff will be binding on him. A. I. R. 1922 All. 19=44 A. C. 334=20 A. L. J. 193=67 Ind. Cas. 523. It is not essential in order to create res judicata that the matter should have been brought to its conclusion or indeed brought out at all. 63 C. 454. A consent decree or order is as effective as a decree or order passed on contest. 63 C. 550; see also A. I. R. 1936 Bom. 301=36 Bom. L. R. 593.

Directly and substantially in issue.—When a matter directly and substantially in issue in a subsequent suit has been directly and substantially in issue in a previous suit and has been finally heard and decided between the same parties, the issue cannot be re-opened in a subsequent suit notwithstanding the fact that the previous suit could have been decided independently of the decision upon that issue. A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 625=4 O. W. N. 307=101 Ind. Cas. 522. A fact can not be in issue directly when the judgment can be correct whether the fact exists or not. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 353=34 C. W. N. 839=131 Ind. Cas. 562. In such cases res judicata by reason of a prior decision is not confined to the actual decision or finding in the case but extends to the common basis or facts accepted by both parties which are incorporated and made the foundation of the judgment and decree in the case. 36 L. W. 414=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 519=139 Ind. Cas. 761=A. L. R. 1932 M. 1466. The rule of res judicata is inapplicable to matters in respect of which no controversy was raised and no express decision arrived at. 137 Ind. Cas. 606=A. I. R. 1932 Oudh 199=9 O. W. N. 488=A. L. R. 1932 Oudh 507 (F. B.) A judgment is conclusive only in respect of the matter necessarily consistent with it. 34 C. W. N. 839=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 353=131 Ind. Cas. 562. So a judgment is not conclusive on matters brought incidentally during trial. Ibid. A judgment operates as res judicata as regards all the findings which are essential to sustain the judgment, though not as regards findings which did not form the basis of the decision or were in conflict therewith. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1003=43 C. L. J. 501=95 Ind. Cas. 1011. Even if a particular matter be not included in a formal issue, if it is directly and substantially in issue between the parties, and if there be a decision thereon it will operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1022=30 C. W. N. 873=97 Ind. Cas. 73; see also A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 288=94 Ind. Cas. 553; A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 643=25 L. W. 797=103 Ind. Cas. 90. The finding on the real ground of decision in the case operates as res judicata even though there may have been other issues on which the case might equally well have been decided. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 390=12 O. L. J. 248=2 O. W. N. 292=88 Ind. Cas. 985. Where a particular issue does not arise on the pleadings or in any case is so indistinct that it does not indicate that the parties knew that they had to adduce any evidence on it, any finding on such issue does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1925 All. 794=85 Ind. Cas. 690. Observation not arising out of the issues which were before the Court for decision is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 All. 884=47 A. 17=22 A. L. J. 866=84 Ind. Cas. 631. The rule that a judgment or decree is not conclusive of anything not required to support it is an unyielding restriction of the power of parties and of the Courts. A. I. Cas. 795. Decision of a co-lateral issue in the previous suit necessary for the purposes of that case operates as res judicata. 1930 A. L. J. 1309=130 Ind. Cas. 194. Although a finding upon an issue which is immaterial and unnecessary may not have the force of res judicata, yet where the parties go to trial, evidence is given and the Court at their invitation decides the point raised, a finding on one of the issues is conclusive between the parties in spite of the fact that it is only one of the several grounds on which the judgment was based and even if that issue had been decided the other way the decree would have been the same. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 810=57 C. 872=129 Ind. Cas. 310 ; see also 126 Ind. Cas. 176=31 P. L. R. 406=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 690. A judgment operates as res judicata as regards all findings which are essential to sustain the judgment. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 71=10 P. L. T. 630=120 Ind. Cas. 292. A useful test for considering whether a finding is res judicata is to see whether an appeal would lie against the finding. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 71=10 P. L. T. 630=120 Ind. Cas. 292.

Suit dismissed on the ground that there is no cause of action is not a bar under the principles of res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 All. 844=(1929) All. 919=118 Ind. Cas. 711. A stray remark not incorporated in operative portion of award cannot supersede previous decree. A. I. R. 1929 All. 521=1929 A. L. J. 540=117 Ind. Cas. 361. If in a previous suit brought by a person claiming to be next reversioner on the ground of an illegal relationship it is held that there is no relationship between him and the deceased and on that finding the alienation made by the female owner was not declared as invalid against the reversioner. Subsequent suit by the same person on inheritance opening by death of last female owner is barred. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 71=10 P. L. T. 630=120 Ind. Cas. 292. A matter arising in a previous redemption suit which was dismissed for failure to pay decretal amount, and decided in that suit cannot be re-opened in a subsequent redemption suit. A. I. R. 1929 All. 409=(1929) A. L. J. 761=(1929) All. 1053=119 Ind. Cas. 525. Decision on a point not directly and substantially in issue cannot operate as res judicata in subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 169=113 Ind. Cas. 225. A finding against a defendant who has joined only as a pro forma party and against whom no relief was claimed cannot operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 493=10 Lah. L. J. 239=11 Ind. Cas. 394. Issues raised by parties even improperly and admitted by the Court as relevant and argued by both parties and decided, is res judicata. A. I. R. 1927 All. 803=102 Ind. Cas. 28. Section 11 though not exhaustive is binding as far as it goes and, according to that section there is no bar of the res judicata unless there is a final decision. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 804=102 Ind. Cas. 22.

In rent suits res judicata can be applied only when it can be shown in the previous suit right or liability or rate, not only for the period in suit, but for all times to come was decided. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 650=43 C. L. J. 146=30 C. W. N. 593=94 Ind. Cas. 837. Previous decree awarding rent at a certain rate for the suit period is not res judicata as to rate of rent in a subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 698=43 C. L. J. 135 ; see also A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 32=98 Ind. Cas. 77. Though one and the same person can combine in himself the status of an occupancy raiya and a raiya at a fixed rent still decision as to status is no bar to the consideration of the question as to fixity of rent as in the rent suit litigation will not be under the same title and that matter in issue will also substantially be different. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 887=94 Ind. Cas. 310. Where in a rent suit the title of a person is in issue for the purpose of determining his share in the rent, the decision on the issue operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1004=85 Ind. Cas. 804. A previous decree in a rent suit without the judgment cannot amount to more than a strong piece of evidence regarding the amount of rent realized from year to year. A. I. R. 1915 Cal. 1116=85 Ind. Cas. 770. So far as the rents of the years which were in contest in the previous suit were concerned, the decision no doubt is an absolute bar for the rents of those years. But so far as the rents or rates of rent of subsequent years are concerned, that judgment cannot be held to be an absolute bar. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 213=77 Ind. Cas. 334. But it is plainly not open to the landlord, who was a party to the previous suit, to take up a position inconsistent with the decision in the previous litigation which was pronounced in his presence, e.g., that the tract then in dispute was covered by the lease of one of his two tenants and not that of the other. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 128=38 C. L. J. 291=76 Ind. Cas. 917. The decision in a previous rent suit that rent was payable as Bhauji rent, does not operate as res judicata in a suit for the rent of the subsequent years at the cash rent system. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 371=1 Pat. L. R. 109=72 Ind. Cas. 138.

In order to see what was in issue in a suit, or what has been heard or decided, the judgment must be looked at. 37 Ind. Cas. 674=14 A. L. J. 1171. An incidental determination of an issue of title in a suit for rent is no bar to any issue of the title being raised subsequently. 34 Ind. Cas. 123. A decision as to rate of rent in previous suit is res judicata as to rate of rent in subsequent suit between the same parties for the same land for the same period. 41 Ind. Cas. 584. Though a finding may be unnecessary to sustain the ultimate decision of the case still if it is embodied in the decree it will operate as res judicata. 33 M. L. J. 740. An ex parte decree in a rent suit decreeing the claim as prayed for, does not operate as res judicata as regards the rate of annual rent unless there was a prayer in the plaint for a declaration as to the rate of rent as part of the substantive relief claimed. 45 Ind. Cas. 416.

Where some of the co-shebaits of a deity filed a suit against other shebaits for a scheme for the better management of the debutter properties of the deity, and one of the defendants denied the debutter character of the properties, it was held, that the decision on the question of debutter was only incidental to the suit, and did not amount to res judicata. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 996=41 C. L. J. 396=88 Ind. Cas. 616. Where a prior suit for share of profits was decreed and no question of right to partition was raised or decided in a subsequent suit, the question of partition was not res judicata. A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 184=21 N. L. R. 117=52 C. 971=30 C. W. N. 122=50 M. L. J. 136=23 A. L. J. 667=52 I. A. 294.

Res judicata is not confined to the judgment but extends to all facts involved in it as necessary steps or ground work, in other words, a judgment operates res judicata as regards all the findings which are essential to sustain the judgment even when one or more of the findings were based on issues not actually framed. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 600=39 C. L. J. 40=79 Ind. Cas. 520. Decision on an issue, which is not necessary for the determination of the real question in controversy between the parties does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1923 All 495=21 A. L. J. 393=45 A. 466=74 Ind. Cas. 656; see also A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 248=73 Ind. Cas. 854. Where a Court having the question before its mind decided that the issue did arise, that decision would be as much res judicata as the final determination of the issue on the merits. 33 C. L. J. 317=63 Ind. Cas. 161. In order that an adjudication be res judicata between plaintiffs and defendants or the latter inter se, there must be a conflict of interest between the defendants and a judgment defining their rights inter se. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 47=2 Lah. 88=3 Lah. L. J. 223=62 Ind. Cas. 665.

Where a party seeks to set aside an ex parte decree on the ground that summons was not served upon him, but the Court disbelieves him and dismisses his application, a suit to set aside the decree on the same ground is barred. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 119=76 Ind. Cas. 794; see also 74 Ind. Cas. 825=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 238=2 Pat. 833. The judgment is res judicata concerning all facts involved in it as necessary steps on the ground work upon which it must have been founded. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 750=33 C. L. J. 186=25 C. W. N. 106=62 Ind. Cas. 491.

In order that a decision in previous suit on a issue should operate as res judicata it is not necessary that the decision of the issue should have been the basis of the decree. It is enough that the issue had been finally heard and determined and that it arose directly and substantially (and not incidentally or collaterally) for determination, i.e., that it was necessary for the determination of the suit though it may not have been ultimately made the basis of the decree. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 985=85 Ind. Cas. 953. A Hindu widow cannot in a suit on a mortgage of the property executed by herself deems that she had power to alienate the property and, therefore, the question of her power to alienate it is not in issue in the suit so as to bar it from being agitated by her heirs in a subsequent suit for possession after her death. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 625=88 Ind. Cas. 141=4 Pat. 510=6 P. L. T. 634. A prior suit determining a question of title regarding a certain land of which the present disputed land does not appear to form part, does not bar a subsequent suit between the same parties in respect of the land in dispute. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 379=50 C. 475=72 Ind. Cas. 1041. In order that an incidental finding in one proceeding shall be res judicata in another, it is essential that the issue in the second proceeding should have been raised and decided clearly in the first. 69 Ind. Cas. 570=41 M. L. J. 437=14 I. W. 702. The doctrine of res judicata does not depend on the identity of the subject-matter of the dispute, but depends on the identity of issues, and the question to be considered is whether the matter in controversy in the latter suit, was substantially the matter in controversy in the previous suit. 63 C. 550. A mere suggestion by the Court in a judgment passed by it on a point which is not in controversy and in respect of which no issue has been framed does not operate as res judicata as it has not binding effect. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 148. Where the matter was not directly and substantially in issue in the former suit, an incidental finding by the trial Court in that suit can not operate as res judicata in a later suit especially when the appellate Court, held, that the question did not arise at all in the former suit. 165 Ind. Cas. 213=17 Pat. L. T. 677. A finding on a question in a prior suit which was not necessary for the purpose of the litigation, does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 203. The dismissal of a suit which was previously one between a landlord and tenant, does not bar a subsequent suit based on title, the plaintiff claiming in the second right, as against the defendants while it was not possible to raise in the prior suit. A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 131=37 Bom. L. R. 62=A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 147. It is well settled that the decision of an issue is res judicata when the issues arise directly and not incidentally having regard to the particular suit or proceeding. 14 Pat. 70=A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 306=157 Ind. Cas. 433; see also A. I. R. 1935 All. 208=153 Ind. Cas. 497; 61 C. L. J. 366=A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 607=159 Ind. Cas. 515. The decision as to the relationship of landlord and tenant in a rent suit operates as res judicata in the subsequent suit between the same parties on the same question. 17 Pat. L. T. 633=A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 556. But on other questions in a subsequent suit, such decision does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 772=62 C. L. J. 517.

Question of law.—A decision on a point of law will not operate as res judicata only if the matter in issue in the two suits is not the same or if the parties are not litigating under the same title, that is, when the requirements of s. 11 have not all been satisfied. 138 Ind. Cas. 161=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 95=15 N. L. J. 1. The rule that an erroneous decision on a question of law is not res judicata is subject to the important qualification that the decision on the question in the subsequent suit should not in any way affect the operation of the former decree or take away any rights acquired by the parties thereunder. Though the former decision may be deemed to have been based on a wrong view of law, the decision arrived at, i. e., the decree given can in no way be affected by giving a different finding in a subsequent suit on the same question. 36 L. W. 664=140 Ind. Cas. 326=1932 M. W. N. 1274=I. R. 1932 Mad. 854. Decision based on erroneous view of law does not operate as res judicata in subsequent proceedings for different relief. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 907=12 Lah. 52=129 Ind. Cas. 12. In other cases, it was held that an erroneous decision on a point of law operated as res judicata in the same manner as correct decisions on a question either of law or of fact. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 585=9 Pat. 674=128 Ind. Cas. 337; A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 135=53 B. 676=31 Bom. L. R. 778=122 Ind. Cas. 113; 56 C. 723=48 C. L. J. 327=33 C. W. N. 126; 32 C. W. N. 828=48 C. L. J. 184=A. I. A decision based on an erroneous conception of law cannot operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 55=6 Rang. 691=117 Ind. Cas. 52. A question of jurisdiction wrongly decided, operates as res judicata between parties if not objected. A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 481=28 Bom. L. R. 829=98 Ind. Cas. 341. Decision on the ground of limitation only does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 150=73 Ind. Cas. 705. Decision on a mixed question of law and fact operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 80=87 Ind. Cas. 811; A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 251=92 Ind. Cas. 769. The question of the personal liability of the mortgagor is not a substantial question of law. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 245=91 Ind. Competent Court.—Previous decrees passed without jurisdiction being invalid altogether cannot be pleaded as res judicata. A. I. R. 1930 All. 681=52 A. 568=130 Ind. Cas. 801; A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 781=117 Ind. Cas. 83. Competency refers to jurisdiction of Court at the time. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 928=30 P. L. R. 620=10 Lah. 528=113 Ind. Cas. 90; 108 Ind. Cas. 623; 107 Ind. Where a judgment has been delivered by a Court of incompetent jurisdiction that is to say, by a Court which had no jurisdiction to hear the case, the judgment cannot be pleaded as res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 All. 650=95 Ind. Cas. 406 ; A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 603=91 Ind. Cas. 1026 ; A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1270=49 M. L. J. 430=22 L. W. 178=91 Ind. Cas. 497 ; 73 Ind. Cas. 874=5 Lab. L. J. 494=A. I. Court trying former suit must have had jurisdiction to try later suit and not merely the issue. 29 C. L. J. 237=51 Ind. Cas. 127. The finding in the previous suits between the same parties are not res judicata in a subsequent suit not tenable by the previous Court though the judgment is admissible in evidence. 31 P. W. R. 1916=32 Ind. Cas. 504. The Court referred to in s. 11 of the C. P. Code is the original Court subject to the proviso that, that Court's judgment is not final until the time of appeal has elapsed or till the appeal has been decided. 48 P. R. 1916=34 Ind. Cas. 581. Decision of a Court without jurisdiction is void and cannot be res judicata. Consent of parties cannot confer jurisdiction. 24 C. W. N. 633=31 C. L. J. 272=56 Ind. Cas. 532. The test of determining the operation of a decree as res judicata in a subsequent suit is whether the Court that passed the decree in the previous suit should try the subsequent one or not. 58 Ind. Where the trial Court which tried the previous suit was by reason of the pecuniary limits of its jurisdiction incompetent to try the subsequent suit and the judgment in the former suit was binding on the defendant only in a representative capacity there would be no question of res judicata. 52 Ind. Pecuniary jurisdiction must be looked to, to determine competency. Competency to try one or the other of the issues is not enough. A. I. R. 1927 All. 297=49 A. 543=25 A. L. J. 564 ; see also 87 Ind. Cas. 705=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1167.

Title to land is to be directly determined not merely according to the laws of the country where the land is situate, but by the Courts of that country. So an adjudication by a Pondicherry Court with respect to law in British India is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 327=54 M. L. J. 479=51 M. 720=29 L. W. 250=108 Ind. Cas. 305. So also a Court in British India is not competent to try a suit in respect of property which is situate in the Native State, and the judgment of the Court of British India could not operate as res judicata in the Court of the Native State. 20 C. W. N. 1213=(1916) 2 M. W. N. 153 (P. C.)=36 Ind. Cas. 710. Decision of Small Cause Court as regards actual subject-matter is res judicata although not as regards question of title. A. I. If the latter suit was not of a small cause nature, a decree for money made in a previous suit instituted in the Small Cause Court, does not operate as res judicata nor does the decision of the High Court refusing to interfere with that decree in revision. 28 C. W. N. 271=39 C. L. J. 532=80 Ind. Cas. 210. Civil Court decree in a suit for profit cannot operate as res judicata and for the suit which is suit for profits only tenable by a Revenue Court under the Tenancy Act. A. I. R. 1927 All. 397=65 Ind. Cas. 530. The trial of an issue by a Court which had no jurisdiction to try the subsequent suit can never be regarded as operating as res judicata when the same issue arises in such subsequent suit. 40 C. W. N. 174 ; see also A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 629 ; 156 Ind. Cas. 1031. Where property in two suits is identical, the mere fact that its value has arisen in the interval between the two suits and the subsequent suit is, therefore, beyond the jurisdiction of the former Court, cannot affect the question, of res judicata. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 998 ; see also A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 951=71 M. L. J. 619=44 L. W. 530=1936 M. W. N. 1086.

There is no question of res judicata where the judgment has been delivered by a Court not competent to deliver it affecting the subject-matter of the suit A. I. R. 1935 Rag. 517. There is a distinction between the inherent want of jurisdiction in a Court and want of jurisdiction on grounds which have to be determined by the Court itself. The first makes the decree a nullity which can be ignored and need not be set aside. The second does not make the decree a nullity but only voidable ; such a decree can be set aside by adopting the proper procedure, but cannot be collaterally impeached. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 835=69 M. L.

J. 196=42 L. W. 446=1935 M. W. N. 677=157 Ind. Cas. 917. Where the previous suit relates to only a portion of the property which is the subject-matter in the subsequent suit, if the other conditions under s. 11 are satisfied, the finding in the previous suit that property therein is ancestral will be res judicata as regards that portion of the property which is the subject-matter in the subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 391. Judgment of Court which had no jurisdiction to try latter suit is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 270 ; see also A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 192. As regards question of title decision of Small Cause Court cannot act as res judicata. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 324.

Decision of Revenue Court.—The decision of a Revenue Court in matters in which it has exclusive jurisdiction is res judicata in a subsequent suit in Civil Court. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 589=11 Lah. L. Where in an administration suit, a declaratory decree is passed, another suit praying that the shares declared by the previous decree be distributed is not barred by res judicata. 64 Ind. Cas. 813=11 L. B. R. 60. Where in an administration suit it is found that the plaintiff's claim against the administrator for a share in the estate is excluded by limitation the determination of that case is res judicata as regards an application by the same plaintiff for a revocation of the grant of administration. 12 Bur. L. T. 114=9 L. B. R. 273=51 Ind. Cas. 355.

Land Acquisition proceedings.—Decision as to title and apportionment of compensation between rival claimants operates as res judicata in subsequent suit between parties not by reason of s. 11 but by general principle of res judicata. A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 80=45 M. 320=43 M. L. J. 78=24 Bom. L. R. 963=16 L. W. 1=(1922) M. W. N. 359=20 A. L. J. 684=35 C. L. J. 545=30 M. L. T. 154=26 C. W. N. 713=49 I. A. 129 (P. C.)=67 Ind. Cas. 408. A prior decision in land acquisition case, though between the same parties and in respect of adjacent land, is not res judicata if land is acquired under different notification. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 263=172 Ind. Cas. 797. The doctrine of constructive res judicata cannot apply to any person who is not a party to the land acquisition proceedings just as it could not apply to a person who is not a party to a civil suit. The Land Acquisition Act cannot go further than the Civil Procedure Code. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 29=160 Ind. Cas. 1010.

Parties and their representatives.—The whole policy of the Code is that if the proceeding originally instituted is right and proper any decision obtained therein is binding on all persons on whom the interest or right may devolve pending the disposal of the proceedings. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 246=1927 M. W. N. 743=108 Ind. Cas. 401. A party is privy to decree and is bound by it irrespective of notice. 53 Ind. Cas. 143. But a judgment not inter partes does not operate as res judicata in subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 246=41 M. L. J. 223=44 M. 778=67 Ind. Cas. 971. Where the very question raised in the suit was raised in a previous suit to which the predecessors-in-interest were parties, and a decision was given therein that decision will operate as res judicata. 44 M. L. J. 443=A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 519=72 Ind. Cas. 582. Persons, who were parties to a suit, but omitted in formal order by oversight are barred from suing again. A. I. R. 1930 P. C. 22=58 M. L. If a deceased person's estate is represented sufficiently for an effective decree to be made against it, that decree will bind all the deceased's legal representatives in their capacity as such, whether they are on the record of the proceedings or not. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1199=117 Ind. Cas. 138. A suit which is dismissed on the ground that plaintiff has no right to continue the suit cannot operate as res judicata in favour of the sons of the plaintiff. A. I. R. 1929 All. 910=(1929) A. L. J. 1100=121 Ind. Cas. 102. Decision as to predecessor's title arrived at after the title had vested in the successor does not bind the successor. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 635=110 Ind. Cas. 548. Where former suit was contested as daughter of her mother subsequent suit as sister of her brother is not barred by res judicata. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 36. A decree between lessee and third person does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit by a lessor against that person. 155 Ind. Cas. 1087=1935 O. W. N. 674=A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 394. A decree-holder is a representative of the judgment-debtor so a decree against the judgment-debtor binds the future decree-holder and execution purchaser. 1935 A. L. J. 1001=A. I. Findings in a mortgage suit may be said to be binding on the auction-purchaser purchasing property in execution of the mortgage-decree though he is not a party to the mortgage suit as he in a sense represents the mortgagor and the mortgagee and so claims under the judgment-debtor. 119 Ind. Cas. 222=A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 183.

If in a litigation a decision, fair and square, is obtained against the adoptive mother, to the effect that she possessed no authority to adopt, that decision must be considered to be binding upon the adopted son by virtue of Expl. 6, s. 11. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 155=1 Luck. 733=108 Ind. Cas. 817. Plaintiff sued the first defendant and purchasers through him for setting aside a sale in favour of first defendant. The sale-deed was held valid as between first defendant and plaintiff and the suit was dismissed. In appeal plaintiff joined the subsequent purchasers as respondents but not the defendant No. 1. It was held that the finding as to validity of sale-deed was res judicata as between plaintiff and defendant No. 1 and also as against the subsequent purchasers. A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 252=32 C. W. N. 281=30 Bom. L. R. 220=26 A. L. J. 371=54 M. L. J. 88 (P. C.)=107 Ind. Cas. 237. The judgment against a creditor who sought to attach the property cannot operate as res judicata as against the judgment-debtor in a suit brought by him against the claimant. A. I. R. 1928 C. 130=55 C. 448=32 C. W. N. 248=105 Ind. Cas. 647. Where a mortgagor dies and his property devolves upon an insolvent over whose estate a receiver has been appointed, a decree for foreclosure in favour of the mortgagee in a suit to which the receiver has not been made a party, is not res judicata against him, even though he has been heard on petitions and objections against the decree. 31 C. W. N. 741=A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 108=52 M. L. J. 734=54 C. 595=54 I. A. 190=29 Bom. L. R. 882=45 C. L. J. 544=25 A. L. J. 621. A previous decision in a suit by the lessee against a third person cannot operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit by the lessor against the same person. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 270=29 Bom. L. R. 274=101 Ind. Cas. 340. Where some new parties are added to a subsequent suit in addition to all the parties to the prior suit, the decision in the previous suit is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 259=100 Ind. Cas. 849. An execution purchaser is the representative of the judgment-debtor so as to bring him within the rule of estoppel and the principle of res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 478=1926 Pat. 249=97 Ind. Cas. 205.

A suit brought by widow in possession of the whole estate holding as widow's estate to challenge an alleged adoption is a representative suit and all persons having a common interest (namely the reversioners in the case) must be deemed to have been represented through her under s. 11, Expl. VI. A. I. R. 1925 All. 79=46 A. 637=22 A. L. J. 690=87 Ind. Cas. 938; see also 73 Ind. Cas. 284=18 L. W. 491. Dismissal of suit by certain reversioners for setting aside alienation by sonless proprietor bars another suit for the same purpose by other reversioners who had been co-defendants in previous suit. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 89=5 Lah. 421=84 Ind. Cas. 477. A decision in a suit by a widow or a limited owner, in respect of and for the protection of her own rights in certain property, bars a subsequent suit by reversioners in respect of that property even though such a suit may not be of a representative character. A. I. R. 1936 All. 422; see also A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 247; 42 I. A. 125. A lessee who claims under a title previously created by a lessor is not bound by subsequent finding between the lessor and third parties. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 576=19 L. W. 369=34 M. L. T. 160=(1924) M. W. N. 378=83 Ind. Cas. 965. Decision against insolvent after insolvency is no bar as against Official Assignee who is not made a party. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 689=20 L. W. 63=(1924) M. W. N. 491=47 M. 633=83 Ind. Cas. 960. In a proceeding by or against the benamidar the person beneficially entitled is fully affected by the rule of res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 703=75 Ind. Cas. 1048. A decree passed against the widow as representing the estate in previous suit operates as res judicata against the reversioners in a subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1922 M. 233=43 M. L. J. 95=31 M. L. T. 129=70 Ind. Cas. 387. But widow's suit for recovery of possession of property in her own right on being dispossessed does not bar subsequent suit by reversioner. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 204=35 C. L. J. 348=68 Ind. Cas. 322. A decision against one reversioner does not operate as res judicata against another. 19 A. L. J. 514=43 A. 558=63 Ind. Cas. 524. A lessor as such is not a person claiming under lessee within the meaning of s. 11. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 306=44 M. 514=41 M. L. J. 288=63 Ind. Cas. 205. Permanent lessee or mortgagee is not bound by adjudication against owner after creation of mortgage or lease unless party to suit. 28 C. L. J. 223=22 C. W. N. 721=47 Ind. Cas. 315; 24 C. W. N. 746 (P. C.). A decision in a suit by or against a benamidar is res judicata against the real owner. 46 C. 566=28 C. W. N. 521=36 M. L. J. 68 (P. C.).

Personal decree in mortgage suit.—No doubt a mortgagee is entitled in his original suit on a mortgage to ask for a personal decree against the mortgagor, but where a claim for a personal decree is made but is rejected upon its merits, the decision whether right or wrong operates as res judicata and is binding on the parties to the suit, when, it being open to the party aggrieved to object to or appeal against the portion of the decree refusing a personal decree against the mortgagor, it does not do so. A. I. R. 1937 All. 54=1936 A. L. J. 1228; see also A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 6.

Minor—Where it was not shown that a guardian ad litem acted in fraud of the minor's interest or that his or her interest was adverse to the minor, the minor is bound by the decree in the prior suit. 51 Ind. Cas. 724=25 M. L. T. 154=9 L. W. 479; see also 41 Ind. Cas. 479=13 P. R. 1918; A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 633=87 Ind. Cas. 238; 53 Ind. Cas. 412; A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 354=4 O. W. N. 748=105 Ind. Cas. 59. Where there was no proper appointment of a guardian ad litem, and therefore, the minor was not properly represented in the former suit, the decree passed in the suit does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1928 All. 447=26 A. L. J. 777=114 Ind. Cas. 743. When one of the defendants in the previous suit was a minor, and his guardian ad litem was grossly negligent in that she did not produce the document supporting the minor's title to the property in dispute, which it was plainly her duty to do, the decree in the prior suit would be of no effect and would not operate as res judicata so as to bar a subsequent suit by the minor to enforce his just rights. 40 L. W. 823=67 M. L. J. 927.

Res judicata between Co-defendants.—Res judicata as between parties arrayed on same side does not arise in the absence of active controversy between them and of the necessity for adjudication between them for granting relief to plaintiff. 80 Ind. Cas. 389=20 N. L. R. 197; 79 Ind. Cas. 22=A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 168. A judgment can operate as res judicata between co-defendants whose interests are conflicting. 57 Ind. Cas. 594; 62 Ind. Cas. 665=A. R. 1930 Cal. 787=34 C. W. N. 1129=53 C. L. J. 91=130 Ind. Cas. 369. If a plaintiff cannot get at his right without trying and deciding a case between co-defendants, the Court will try and decide that case, and the co-defendants will be bound. But if the relief given to the plaintiff does not require or involve a decision of any case between co-defendants, the co-defendants will not be bound as between each other by any proceeding which may be necessary only to the decree the plaintiff obtains. Three conditions are necessary for the applicability of the rule of res judicata between co-defendants: (1) there must be a conflict of interest between the defendants concerned, (2) it must be necessary to decide this conflict in order to give the plaintiff the relief he claims, and (3) the question between the defendants must have been finally decided. Per Lord Russel of Killowen in 59 I. A. 247=10 Rang. 322=36 C. W. There is no principle or authority which justifies the contention that the doctrine of res judicata cannot apply as between co-defendants to a previous suit, if no relief had been granted to the plaintiff in that suit. The adjudication would not any less be an adjudication because its consequence was the dismissal of the suit than it would have been if its tenor had been the other way. 10 Rang. 322=55 C. L. Where in a suit there were two sets of defendants one set being merely impleaded pro forma and no question fell to be determined between the two sets of defendants, no matter raised in a subsequent suit between the descendants can be res judicata A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 603=7 Pat. 566=109 Ind. Cas. 287. An issue raised by a defendant which is not strictly appropriate to the pleadings in the plaint cannot be held to have been a matter substantially in issue so as to operate as res judicata between that defendant and another defendant who elected to remain ex parte after perusal of the plaint alone. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 630=(1928) M. W. N. 321=110 Ind. Cas. 596. The principle of constructive res judicata is not applicable between co-defendants inter se jointly defending plaintiff's case. A. I. Where a suit is dismissed, findings in judgment as between co-defendants not embodied nor implied in decree are not res judicata nor appealable. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 858=47 M. L. J. 612=(1924) M. W. N. 867=22 L. W. 384=85 Ind. Cas. 868.

In a partition suit all the parties who are interested in the property to be partitioned occupy much the position whether they are plaintiffs or defendants and a party claiming or resisting partition whether he is plaintiff or defendant is bound by the decision of the Court. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 203=25 Bom. L. R. 268=47 B. 534=73 Ind. Cas. 912; see also A. I. R. 1931 All. 29=(1930) A. L. J. 1281=130 Ind. Cas. 382; 22 O. C. 300=6 O. L. J. 529=54 Ind. Cas. 325. But decision would not operate as res judicata where the question was not expressly decided in the previous suit. 20 C. W. N. 1177=39 Ind. Cas. 259; see also 43 Ind. Cas. 860=33 M. L. J. 740. Decision of an issue incidentally raised in a previous suit cannot be treated as res judicata when the question is directly and substantially in issue between co-defendants in a subsequent suit. 96 Ind. Cas. 625. If there is a conflict of interests amongst the co-defendants and the judgment, defines their real rights and obligations inter se, the decision is res judicata between them. A. I. The general rule is that necessary issues should not be determined after the plaintiff's suit has been dismissed. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 156=6 Bur. L. J. 52=101 Ind. Cas. 637. Notwithstanding the dismissal of the plaintiff's suit, the decision can be held to operate as res judicata as between co-defendants if it was final and necessary to decide on the conflict between co-defendants. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 568=44 C. L. J. 399=30 C. W. N. 415=94 Ind. Cas. 235. If the decision was not necessary to give relief to the plaintiff in former suit, it would not operate as res judicata A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 71=4 Bur. L. J. 250=93 Ind. Cas. 197.

In order to see whether the rights of partition between co-defendants amongst themselves have not been determined the nature of the partition suit should be considered. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 282=96 Ind. Cas. 406. Where in prior suit for partition certain parties were arranged as co-defendants and that suit did not decide any question of partition amongst them inter se, that decision does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 568=44 C. L. J. 399=30 C. W. N. 415=94 Ind. Cas. 235. "If a plaintiff cannot get at his right without trying and deciding a case between the co-defendants; the Court will try and decide the case and the co-defendants will be bound by the decision. But if the relief given to the plaintiff does not require or involve a decision of any case between the co-defendants, the co-defendants will not be bound as between each other by any proceeding which may be necessary only to the decree, the plaintiff obtains." Collingham

v. Earl of Shrewsbury, 3 Have, 627=15 L. J. Ch. 441; A. I. R. 1932 P. C. 161=137 Ind. Cas. 329=59 I. A. 247=10 Rang. 322 (P.C.) "In such a case" said Sir George Loundey "therefore three conditions are requisite: (1) there must be a conflict of interest between the defendants concerned; (2) it must be necessary to decide this conflict in order to give the plaintiff the relief he claims; and (3) the question between the defendants must have been finally decided." 53 A. 103=A. But in order that a decision may operate as res judicata between co-defendants, it is not necessary that there should first be a decision of the conflict between the co-defendants inter se before deciding the plea of the plaintiff. Although the plea by the main contesting defendant and that of the plaintiff is identical, if there is really a conflict between the co-defendants and there is a decision of the conflict, the decision would operate as res judicata between the co-defendants. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 102=157 Ind. Cas. 771. Finding recorded against a co-defendant is not res judicata as against non-appearing defendant. A. I. R. 1935 All. 678. Where parties in present suit were arranged as respondents in previous suit in which same issue was finally decided, present suit is barred by res judicata. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 270.

Resjudicata between co-plaintiffs.—The conditions which are necessary to give rise to the plea of res judicata between co-defendants are also necessary to bar a suit by res judicata between the co-plaintiffs. 11 B. 216; 21 M. 8; 36 B. 207; 8 A. L. J. 807; 38 Ind. Cas. 213; A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 569; 57 B. 488=145 Ind. Cas. 262=35 Bom. L. R. 418=A. I. R. 1933 B. 287; 90 Ind. Cas. 124=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 645. Where there is no conflict of interest between co-plaintiffs, the decision cannot be held binding as res judicata on their successors. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 218=70 Ind. Cas. 232. The decree passed in a partition suit in which for giving relief to plaintiff, if a question has to be decided as between the different parties, whether as plaintiff or defendant, must be binding on all. A. I. R. 1930 All. 287=1929 A. L. J. 883=118 Ind. Cas. 175.

Litigating under same title.—The word litigating under the same title means that the demand should have been of the same quality in the second suit as in the first. 33 C. W. N. 876=57 C. 258=124 Ind. Cas. 161. When personnel of plaintiff in two suits are different the principle of res judicata is not applicable. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 161; 117 Ind. Cas. 167=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 173. The term 'title' refers to the capacity or interest of a party, personal representative or a combination of the two. It has nothing to do with the particular cause of action on which he sues or is sued. A. I. R. 1929 All. 400=116 Ind. Cas. 738. Where relief claimed by plaintiffs in the previous suit was based on a right inherited by them from their father, but the title upon which the plaintiffs instituted the second suit was a reversionary heirs of the last full owner: Held the principle of res judicata cannot apply. 89 Ind. Cas. 207=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1195=29 C. W. N. 861. Different capacities of the persons suing in the two suits renders section inapplicable though cause of action is the same. A. I. R. 1924 All. 355=46 A. 230=78 Ind. Cas. 402; 130 Ind. Cas. 13=1930 A. L. J. 254=A. I. R. 1931 All. 21. Previous suit in private capacity, does not bar a second suit by the same person in representative capacity under s. 92. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 43=16 L. W. 122=31 M. L. T. 125=43 M. L. J. 418=69 Ind. Suit as reversioner does not bar a suit as owner, the two titles being quite different. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 384=120 Ind. Cas. 532. Where prior suit is contested in private capacity and subsequent suit in public capacity, decision is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 528=3 O. W. N. 645=1 Luck. 489=13 O. L. J. 696=97 Ind. Cas. 853. Suit for redemption as donee of mortgagor if dismissed does not bar a subsequent suit for redemption by the same plaintiff as heir of mortgagor. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 87=28 Bom. L. R. 1507=99 Ind. Cas. 814. Where the plea is one of justitii, decision thereon is not res judicata since it is generally raised merely as defence. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 844=50 M. 877=26 L. W. 115=53 M. L. W. 864=104 Ind. Cas. 468. The decree in favour of a reversioner in a former suit operates as res judicata in the subsequent suit brought by other reversioners against the same defendants if they have a right in common arising out of the same cause of action. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 371=110 Ind. Cas. 725. Where a Muhammadan widow was in possession of her husband's estate in lieu of dower and a suit was brought by the nephew for possession of his share and was decreed on payment of a certain sum within certain time and on his failure to pay anything, he was kept out of possession, a subsequent suit by the daughter of the deceased nephew claiming her share of the property is not barred by res judicata. A. I. R. 1927 All. 39=48 A. 803=24 A. L. J. 910=98 Ind. Cas. 928.

Former suit brought to establish personal right and dismissed is not a bar to subsequent suit on behalf of guild. 18 A. L. J. 150=75 Ind. Cas. 673. Former suit on the basis of gift does not bar a second suit on the basis of heirship. 43 Ind. Cas. 395. Where a person is not litigating under the same title in both the cases, judgment in the prior suit does not bind him in the subsequent suit as res judicata. 37 Ind. Cas. 881; see also 151 P. W. R. 1915=68 F. R. 1915=31 Ind. Cas. 159; A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 16=84 Ind. Cas. 257; A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 624=2 Pat. L. R. 125=6 P. L. R. 303=83 Ind. Cas. 951; 71 Ind. Cas. 808=A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 177; A. I. "Same title" means same capacity. When a party occupies different positions in the two suits, the decision in the prior suit will not operate as res judicata. 153 Ind. Cas. 585=11 O. W. N. 1571=A. I. R. 1935 Oudh. 121; see also A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 61=31 N. L. R. 165=156 Ind. Cas. 180; A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 71=31 N. L. R. Sup. 202=163 Ind. Cas. 179; 1936 M. W. N. 1154=71 M. L. J. 823.

Application of the doctrine in insolvency proceedings—General principles underlying rule of res judicata can be invoked owing to insolvency proceedings, although section 11 does not in terms apply. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 4=163 Ind. Cas. 515=38 P. L. R. 761. Decision of Insolvency Court on a question of fraudulent transfer cannot be re-opened in a suit in Civil Court. 16 N. L. R. 201=57 Ind. Cas. 612; see also 41 A. 378=17 A. L. J. 374=49 Ind. Cas. 540.

Explanation I.—The rule of res judicata so far as relates to the trial of an issue refers, "not to the date of the commencement of the litigation but to the date when the Judge is called upon to decide the issue." A. I. R. 1927 All. 189=99 Ind. Cas. 299.

Explanation II.—The competency of Court for the purposes of s. 11 is to be determined irrespective of any provision as to right of appeal from the decision of such. A. I. R. 1927 All. 189=99 Ind. Cas. 299; see also 32 A. 67=3 Ind. Cas. 707=6 A. L. J. 991.

Explanation IV.—Where a matter which ought to have been made a ground of defence in the previous suit was not made, it must be presumed that the matter was constructively in issue in that case and as such is res judicata in the subsequent suit. 11 Lah. L. J. 97=117 Ind. Cas. 805. Where a question has been necessarily decided in effect though not in express terms between the parties to a suit they cannot raise the same question as between themselves in any other suit in any other form. 24 C. W. N. 223=54 Ind. Cas. 952. Point ought to have been raised in previous suit is res judicata. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 120=24 L. W. 812=99 Ind. Cas. 525. A ground of attack which must have been but was not referred to in plaint cannot be the basis of another suit. A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 55=48 M. L. J. 64=52 I. A. 100=47 A. 158=27 O. C. 334=27 Bom. L. R. 725=29 C. W. N. 749=23 A. L. J. 739=91 Ind. Cas. 280; A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 560=5 Lah. L. J. 163=74 Ind. Cas. 577. Explanation IV, cannot be given effect to bar a suit, unless all the requisite conditions laid down in the body of the section are also fulfilled. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 264=127 Ind. Cas. 139. Whether a particular matter should have been made a ground of defence or attack must depend upon the particular facts of each case. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh. 411=112 Ind. Cas. 266=5 O. W. N. 653. Explanation IV would not apply to a point which the Court may or may not decide in its discretion. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 120=24 L. W. 812=99 Ind. Cas. 525. Where it is not certain that a matter would have affected the result of the suit it cannot be said that it ought to have been made a ground of attack within s. 11. 46 Ind. Cas. 929. In regard to execution proceedings what is binding upon the parties is the point actually decided.

The principle of Explanation IV of s. 11 has no direct application but in determining the exact effect of the point decided on the subsequent proceedings the principle cannot be altogether ignored. Where point of limitation was not raised in previous proceeding : Held it could not be raised in another proceeding on same application. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 495=48 B. 638=26 Bom. L. R. 817=83 Ind. Cas. 155 ; see also A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 218=9 R. R. 43=163 Ind. Cas. 671. The principle of res judicata, in s. 11, Explanation IV applies to interlocutory proceedings in the same suit. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 431=54 B. 696=32 Bom. L. R. 389. A subsequent suit based on a claim of title, which the plaintiff owing to want of knowledge of it, could not put forth as a ground of attack in a prior suit, is not barred under Explanation IV of s. 11, C. P. Code and under Order II, r. 2. 94 P. R. 1916=37 Ind. Cas. 119. Where in an appeal by the plaintiffs from a suit which has been dismissed, although it is open to the defendants to support the order of dismissal on the ground of res judicata, they do not do so and the suit is rendered to be passed on merits they are precluded from raising the plea of res judicata subsequently. A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 454. In a case where a person fails to appear in the original suit or if he appears fails to raise the issue of jurisdiction, the decision of the Court will be binding upon him as res judicata, and it will not be open to him to reargue the same point in another suit. A. I. R. 1936 Sind 34=161 Ind. Cas. 324. Explanation IV to s. 11, C. P. Code, embodying the rule of constructive res judicata applies to execution proceedings as well. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 123=19 N. L. J. 129=165 Ind. Cas. 948. To sustain a plea of res judicata on the basis of Explanation IV, it must not only be shown that on the ground of attack or defence taken in the subsequent suit might or ought to have been raised in the prior suit but also that the parties were litigating under the same title. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 753=156 Ind. Cas. 543 ; see also 62 C. L. J. 153 ; A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 786 ; A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 487=37 P. L. R. 65 (consent decree) ; A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 825. Where the defendant in an earlier suit against him was not bound to counter-claim, the mere mention by him in his written statement of a debt due to him by the plaintiff without attempting to convert the matter into a counter-claim cannot operate as res judicata so as to bar a separate suit by him to recover the debt. 1935 A. L. J. 37.

Might and ought.—constructive rejudiciata.—Where subject-matter is not the same in both the suits, doctrine of constructive res judicata does not apply. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 201=116 Ind. Cas. 637. The refusal of a Court to try extraneous issues in a case is not a bar to a subsequent suit. A verdict between parties upon one question does not bind them in an issue on another, unless the point in issue was clearly the same in both cases. The two questions should not simply be allied but should be identical. 36 Ind. Cas. 650. Where the present plaintiffs were defendants in the original suit in the sense that they were members of the firm, the matter is res judicata if the plea now taken could have been taken by their respective fathers and grandfathers whose names were shown in the plaint. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 26=43 P. L. R. 1922=69 Ind. Cas. 783.

Might and ought—alternative claims and reliefs.—The question as to whether a plaintiff can or cannot bring a second suit depends upon whether : (1) he could have based his former suit upon the same cause of action, and (2) whether he ought to have so based it. In the first case he can escape from the operation of s. 11 and from Order II, r. 2, if he can show that he was, when he instituted the first suit, actually unaware of his second cause of action. In the second case he can similarly escape from the operation of those sections if he can show that he could not unite his two causes of action in a single suit without inconsistency and confusion. 71 Ind. Cas. 1009. A person is not bound to sue on an alternative cause of action and failure to so sue in the former suit does not bar subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 322=103 Ind. Cas. 888. In a pre-emption suit plaintiff is not bound to plead alternatively that he is the sole owner of the property. Decision on his failure to do so will not operate as res judicata. An alternative cause of action for an alternative relief is not a matter which should be made a ground of attack within the meaning of Explanation IV. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 545=96 Ind. Cas. 71. Where title by purchase is raised and negated, subsequent suit on title by heirship is barred. 46 M. 135=17 L. W. 188=(1922) M. W. N. 845=72 Ind. Cas. 207 ; see also A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 122=2 Bur. L. J. 34=11 L. B. R. 451=72 Ind. Cas. 14. Where a person failed to assert in the alternation a claim to share and his claim for the whole is dismissed he or his heirs are precluded from claiming the share. 47 M. L. J. 20=78 Ind. Cas. 1055=(1924) M. W. N. 569=A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 711. If the effect of the decision in a former suit is necessarily inconsistent with the defence that ought to have been raised but has not been raised, the defence must be deemed to have been finally decided against the person who ought to have raised it. A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 239=2 Bur. L. J. 109=76 Ind. Cas. 612. Dismissal of prior suit for damages for non-delivery bars a suit for delivery of goods. 22 A. L. J. 745=83 Ind. Cas. 969.

Might or ought—relief not claimed.—Relief claimable in prior suit but not claimed cannot be claimed in a subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 280=24 A. L. J. 33=5 Pat. 135=7 P. L. T. 97=28 Bom. L. Omission to claim personal decree will bar mortgagee for suing therefor afterwards. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 450=1 Pat. 506=3 P. L. T. 709=66 Ind. Cas. 945. When a mortgage has ripened all claims relating to the mortgage between parties thereto, must be determined in one suit whether for sale, foreclosure or redemption. Where in a mortgage suit, the defendants omits to put forward a counter-claim due to him by the mortgagee, arising out of the mortgage transaction a separate suit for such recovery is barred. 12 L. W. 173=60 Ind. Cas. 226. Where the suit is for mere declaration, subsequent suit for possession is barred. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 129=4 N. L. J. 192=21 N. L. R. 124=65 Ind. Cas. 194. Where previous suit was confined to a particular right, plea claiming general right in subsequent suit is barred. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 701=(1930) M. W. N. 520=58 M. L. J. 703=125 Ind. Cas. 554. Explanation IV applies even where the matter in dispute was not heard and finally decided in the former suit. The question whether the person ought to have raised a point in a suit so that his failure to raise it should preclude him from raising it in a subsequent suit is a question of fact. 56 Ind. Cas. 193. All grounds of attack or defence which can be joined without embarrassment must be put forward. (1916) 1 M. W. N. 286=34 Ind. Cas. 456 ; see also 43 Ind. Cas. 221 ; A. I. Might or ought—Omission to plead—Plea that ought to have been raised barred. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 333=6 Bur. L. J. 26=101 Ind. Cas. 327 ; 24 Bom. L. R. 1281=70 Ind. Cas. 103=A. I. R. 1913 Bom. 145. Pleas if raised would have been fatal to the prior suit cannot be raised in the subsequent suit. 5 Lah. L. J. 251=24 P. W. R. 1923=72 Ind. Cas. 91. Omission to plead in previous suit bars subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1923 All. 115=79 Ind. Cas. 486. Where a matter which ought to have been raised was not raised it must be held to be a matter which also must have been heard and finally decided in the previous suit. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 427=40 C. L. Section 11 creates what may be called a statutory waiver of the objection to jurisdiction so far as it relates to the place of suing and where there was no consequent failure of justice the validity of a decree passed in such suit cannot be challenged by a separate suit. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 449=11 Lah. L. J. 306=120 Ind. Cas. 279. The failure by a defendant to raise a ground of defence which he cannot lawfully raise in a particular suit does not debar him from subsequently suing on that ground. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 719=87 Ind. The fact that plaintiffs might have raised a certain plea in the alternation in a former suit but which cannot be said they ought to have so raised, does not preclude a fresh suit in respect of the plea. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 17=3 Lah. L. J. 215=63 Ind. Cas. 717.

Might or ought—Partition suit.—Partition suit is not a bar to suit for share of gifted property. 40 Ind. Cas. 255=121 P. L. R. 1917=87 P. W. R. 1917. Plea not raised in partition proceedings cannot be raised in a subsequent suit between the same parties. 42A. 91=17 A. L. J. 1072=52 I. C. 779. A separate suit is not maintainable if the claim in respect of which the suit was filed is a matter which should have been dealt with in partition proceedings. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 119=46 B. 327=23 Bom. L. R. 1171=64 Ind. Cas. 995. Where suit for possession was brought by a co-sharer on the allegation of partition but the allegation was not proved, a subsequent suit for partition is not barred. A. I. R. 1921 L. B. 13=11 L. B. R. 1=64 Ind. Cas. 174. Where first suit for partition was brought for partition of some items of family properties a subsequent suit for other items is not maintainable even if properties lay in different jurisdictions. 72 Ind. Cas. 430=44 M. L. J. 652=17 L. W. 740=(1923) M. W. N. 294. But where properties not included in the first suit were not known to the plaintiff, a subsequent suit for partition of omitted properties is not barred. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 213=38

M. L. T. 82=98 Ind. Cas. 538. Members of a joint-family partitioned part of the property among themselves in 1875 and kept undivided two pieces of land which were left in the possession of defendants, one in that of defendants 1 to 4 and other in that of 5 to 6. Defendants 1 to 4 sued plaintiffs and defendants 5 to 6 for partition of the piece of land in possession of defendants 5 and 6. The plaintiffs raised a plea of inclusion of the other piece of land. The point left undecided. Then subsequently a suit was brought by the plaintiffs to recover their shares in the land in possession of defendants 1 to 4 : Held that the suit was not barred by res judicata under s. 11 (4) for the plaintiffs could not be said to have been to bring the land in suit for partition in the previous suit in as much as that suit was brought by one tenant in common to recover his proportionate share of the property. A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 323=31 B. 640=119 Ind. Cas. 779. Where a co-sharer has been in possession of a plot of land under an irredeemable mortgage it is incumbent on him during the course of partition proceedings to set up his proprietary rights with regard to the plot and if he does not raise such a title then it is no more open to him to gain it in a Civil Court after the partition proceedings have become complete and final. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh. 509=1 Luck. 210=13 O. L. J. 260=96 Ind. Cas. 75. Where in a suit for partition the defendants pleaded an independent right and the suit was dismissed without a definite finding as to their rights inter se : Held in a subsequent suit for partition among co-defendants that the decision in the prior suit did not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 162=117 Ind. Cas. 587. In a prior suit for partition in 1904 a house mortgaged to the family by one S was not included. Court ordered in 1910 that S's house on possession being taken should be divided half and half. Plaintiff sued in 1922 to recover a half portion of the house recovered from the debtor : Held that the suit was not barred by res judicata. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 365=30 Bom. L. R. 912=113 Ind. Cas. 173. A prior suit by the plaintiff for partition under a partition deed and a Will was dismissed. The plaintiff brought the present suit after the death of his father for partition of joint-family property : Held that the plaintiff's subsequent suit was not barred by res judicata because the cause of action in the prior suit was the partition deed executed by his father and there was no obligation on him to sue in the alternative for a partition of the property as joint-family property, though he certainly might have done so if he liked. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 467=25 Bom. L. R. 797=77 Ind. Cas. 92.

Might and ought—Mortgage suit.—In case of two mortgages over same property, suit on one only is no bar to suit for redemption. A. I. R. 1930 Rang. 197=127 Ind. Cas. 477. Omission by sub-mortgagee to claim amount due on, sub-mortgage does not bar fresh suit. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 456=6 O. W. N. 851=124 Ind. Cas. 353. Where prior mortgagee was made party to suit by puisne mortgagee question of res judicata cannot arise in subsequent suit unless prior mortgagee's right is attacked and adjudicated upon adversely with reference to prior mortgagee. A. I. R. 1930 All. 163=124 Ind. Cas. 27 ; see also A. I. R. 1920 P. C. 81=47 C. 662=47 I. A. 11=38 M. L. J. 424=25 C. W. N. 417=22 Bom. L. R. 557=55 Ind. Cas. 959=(1920) M. W. N. 308 (P. C.). As a general rule a paramount title cannot be drawn in controversy in a mortgage action. But if a defendant in a mortgage suit sets up a paramount title and without objection goes to trial upon that issue, neither party can afterwards say that the issue was irrelevant. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 678=10 P. L. T. 645=121 Ind. Cas. 353. Subsequent incumbrancer in a mortgage suit is not bound to set up a prior title. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 678=10 P. L. T. 645=121 Ind. Cas. 353. The plea of res judicata in respect of a paramount title cannot be set up against a person who happens to be a party in a mortgage suit in a different capacity unless the paramount title has been expressly the subject of controversy and there has been an actual decision in respect of it. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 97=7 O. W. N. 25=121 Ind. Cas. 277 ; A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 622=33 C. W. N. 659=122 Ind. Cas. 215 ; 78 Ind. Cas. 118=A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 408. To raise the plea of res judicata against prior mortgage it is necessary for subsequent mortgagee as plaintiff in the former suit to allege a distinct claim in the plaint in derogation of the prior mortgage. 117 Ind. Cas. 820. Where a prior mortgagee who is also puisne mortgagee was impleaded in suit by mesne mortgagee as subsequent mortgagee. There was no contest as to prior mortgage. Prior mortgagee's rights are not barred by res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh. 463=4 Luck. 250=6 O. W. N. 1=115 Ind. Cas. 833.

A person claiming adversely to the mortgagor and mortgagee is not a necessary party to a mortgage suit but if he is made a party, the Court has discretion whether to adjudicate on his title or not and therefore, if such party fails to assert his title he is not barred by s. 11, Explanation IV from doing so in a subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1927 Mad 301=52 M. L. J. 52=25 L. W. 238=38 M. L. T. 20=99 Ind. Cas. 468; see also A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 945=106 Ind. Cas. 574. Where in a suit on a mortgage certain persons who had purchased the mortgaged property in execution of a single money decree, and who happened to be also the heirs and legal representatives of the mortgagor, were made parties as such heirs and failed to plead their purchase, held that they cannot subsequently claim to redeem the properties by a separate suit subsequently. A. I. R. 1922 All. 463=20 A. L. J. 641=73 Ind. Cas. 920. If the prior mortgagee is impleaded in a suit by the puisne mortgagee without his priority being recognised, he is bound to set up his prior charge as a ground of defence under Explanation IV. A. I. R. 1924 All. 927=75 Ind. Cas. 108; see also 4 Pat. L. T. 108=2 Pat. 435=71 Ind. Cas. 948. Unless relief is claimed against the prior mortgagee, the latter need not set up his prior mortgage and his subsequent suit on the prior mortgage will not be barred under s. 11. 1 Pat. L. T. 629=58 Ind. Cas. 33.

A subsequent mortgagee need not set up his right of redemption as defence in a suit for ejectment. He can rely upon his right of redemption in a subsequent suit for possession. 54 Ind. Cas. 276. If a mortgagor admits as a fact in proceedings under s. 84 of the T. P. Act that the deposit was of the full amount due on the date it was made, but refuses to receive it on some other ground, he cannot in a suit on the mortgage subsequently, be heard to say that the deposit was insufficient. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 174=67 Ind. Cas. 324. Ordinarily a redemption suit by a mortgagor is not barred by res judicata by a previous suit by a second mortgagee to redeem the first. 36 Ind. Cas. 551=4 L. W. 184. A subsequent mortgagee claiming title as owner of a portion in a prior mortgage suit may set up his title in a separate suit as the question cannot be raised in the former suit. 16 A. L. J. 639=40 A. 584=46 Ind. Cas. 559. Under the Explanation of Order 34, Rule 1, Civil Procedure Code, it is not necessary for a puisne mortgagee to implead a prior mortgagee and he may without impugning such a mortgagee claim to sell the property subject to such a mortgage. Consequently a person who has taken a subsequent mortgage and also possesses prior mortgagee's rights by satisfaction of the decree on the prior mortgage has a dual capacity; he is a necessary party in his capacity as a subsequent transferee but not necessary party in his capacity as a prior mortgagee or as possessing prior mortgagee's rights. If, therefore, the validity of the prior mortgage is admitted in the plaint and he has been professedly impleaded as a subsequent transferee there is no reason to require that such subsequent mortgagee must of necessity appear in Court and set up rights under the prior mortgage which is not disputed by the plaintiff. And in the circumstances a decree in such a suit ex parte against such subsequent mortgagee does not operate as res judicata in a suit on the basis of the prior mortgagee's rights as such by satisfaction of the prior mortgage-decree. A. I. R. 1936 All. 576=1936 A. L. J. 774 (F. B.).

Where a mortgagee in possession resists the right of the mortgagor to get release of the mortgaged property and to give up possession even after invalid tender made by the latter has been refused by the former or a deposit made by the latter under s. 83 has not been accepted by the former and the mortgagee refused to withdraw the same, the suit which the mortgagor has to institute is a suit for redemption, and the mortgagor must include in such a claim his claim for over payments to the mortgagee or excess profits received by him; and if he does not include the said claim he would be debarred from claiming the same in a subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 200=40 C. W. N. 627.

Might and ought—Mesne profits—In a suit for possession and mesne profits, where the decree is silent as to mesne profits, subsequent suit for mesne profits is not barred. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 566=33 C. W. N. 945=124 Ind. Cas. 65; see also (1915) II. U. B. R. 81=31. 'Relief' is one which has accrued at the date of suit. Therefore, suit for mesne profits from the date of suit to the date of delivery of possession is not barred by a previous decision awarding past mesne profits but being silent as to future mesne profits. 41 M. 188=22 M. L. T. 484=33 M. L. J. 697=6 L. W. 784=(1917) M. W. N. 847 (F. B.); see also A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 145=6 P. L. T. 78=80 Ind. Cas. 710. Omission to sue for mesne profits prior to the date of the suit where plaintiffs sue for possession of immovable property does not bar the second suit against the same defendants for those mesne profits. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 368=26 Bom. L. R. 288=80 Ind. Cas. 259. Where in a prior suit for possession and future mesne profits the Court did not purport to decide the question of future mesne a subsequent suit for mesne profits pendente lite is not barred. 16 A. L. J. 182=40 A. 292=44 Ind. Cas. 88. When claim for partition and possession is made and decree is silent as to the claim of future mesne profits it will be taken to have been refused and a separate suit will be barred by the Explanation IV to s. 11 of the Code. 58 Ind. Cas. 419=44 B. 954=22 Bom. L. R. 982. Mesne profits from the date subsequent to the decree when the money is paid into Court by the mortgagor cannot be had in the redemption suit itself. When in a redemption suit, a claim for mesne profits is withdrawn a subsequent suit for mesne profits from the date of payment after the decree up to the date of delivery of possession is not barred by Order XXIII, r. 1, or Order VI, r. 1, or s. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 178=85 Ind. Cas. 547.

Might and ought—Defence.—Defendant in possession must resist claim on all possible grounds. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 162=7 Lah. 40=27 P. L. R. 209=94 Ind. Cas. 27. Ex parte decree in prior suit in which no issue was raised as to the rate at which the rent was payable by defendant and there was no decision with regard to such rate do not operate as res judicata in favour of the plaintiffs' landlords. 65 Ind. Cas. 581. Where prior suit for possession on basis of gift decreed, subsequent suit questioning donor's right to make gift is barred. A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 234=1 Luck. Cas. 78=101 Ind. Cas. 812. But where the law forbids a certain thing being done in suit, no amount of failure by a defendant in previous suit to plead the positive bar created by Legislature will prevent its being taken up in a subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1927 All. 505=49 A. 918=25 A. L. J. 582=L. R. 8 A. 225 Rev.=103 Ind. Cas. 379. Where the plaintiff sued the judgment-debtor for specific performance of the contract to sell it, it was open to the latter to plead that the agreement was void because the property was under attachment or in the hands of the Collector at the time. Explanation IV of s. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code will bar him from taking that plea in a subsequent suit and it will equally bar the appellant who claims under him and is litigating under the same title. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 81=66 Ind. Cas. 850. Where the want of jurisdiction is not apparent on the face of the proceedings but the absence of jurisdiction depends on a fact in the knowledge of a party, then, if he does not bring the fact forward but allows the Court to proceed with the judgment he ought not to be permitted to impeach the jurisdiction in any collateral proceeding. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 322=67 Ind. Cas. 686.

Might and ought—set off.—Where a person who could put forward a counter claim or plead an equitable set off does not do so, his subsequent suit for such a claim, or claim to set off would not be barred by reason of his not having put forward in the suit against him. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1020=24 L. W. 282=97 Ind. Cas. 488. The fact that a defendant omitted to claim a set off in a suit brought against him by the plaintiff would not bar his claim in a subsequent suit as he was under no obligation to avail himself of the right to claim a set off in the former suit. 74 P. R. 1919=52 Ind. Cas. 850.

Explanation V.—To support a plea of res judicata it is not enough that the parties to both the suits are the same and that the same matter is in issue. The matter must have been heard and finally decided in the previous suit. Where a declaration of title in a suit is claimed merely as a step towards the decree sought, namely, a decree for possession, and the suit with regard to the relief for possession is dismissed on the ground of limitation and no finding is given on the question of title, the mere fact that the relief as to declaration has not been granted will not, under Exp. V to s. 11 operate to render the question of title res judicata in a subsequent suit. Nripendra v. Basanta, 89 Ind. Cas. 207=29 C. W. N. 861. Explanation V apparently has a reference to what has been adjudicated by the Court and not to the result arrived at by a compromise, in which the parties have omitted to settle a part of their dispute. A. I. R. 1930 All. 619=123 Ind. Cas. 448. An application under Order 34, rule 6, Civil Procedure Code is not an application in execution but substantive original application for a new decree in the suit. The procedure applying to this application would be governed by s. 141, Civil Procedure Code. Where therefore, a definite application had been made for a decree under Order 34, rule 6 and no prayer were granted by the Court for passing of a personal decree, the provisions of Explanation 5, s. 11, Civil Procedure Code, would apply with the result that the relief which was not expressly granted shall be deemed to have been refused. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 388=163 Ind. Cas. 119=38 P. L. R. 700. Where the right of the plaintiff to obtain a personal decree has been decided, the parties will be bound by such decision. But where there has been no decision on the point, even though plaintiff had claimed for such a relief in the plaint, the plaintiff is not barred from claiming it under Explanation V, s. 11. Explanation V would not apply unless the relief claimed was such as it was obligatory on a Court to grant. A. I. R. 1935 All. 411=1935 A. L. J. 279=157 Ind. Cas. 533.

Expl. VI—Representative suit.—Findings in a representative suit enure for the benefit of the entire family. They are res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 All. 775=122 Ind. Cas. 673. Application of Expl. VI, implies a community of interest claimed and the claim should be made in good faith. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 75=77 Ind. Cas. 1028 ; 75 Ind. Cas. 626=10 O. L. J. 535=26 O. C. 133. In the absence of fraud and collusion the decree in a suit in the interest of the whole estate and for the benefit of all persons operates as res judicata in a subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1923 All. 338=75 Ind. Cas. 593. A decision against a managing member of a Hindu family is binding on all members of the family in subsequent suit. 42 A. 359=18 A. L. J. 326=55 Ind. Cas. 846. A decree fairly and properly obtained against a Hindu widow in possession of her husband's estate is in the absence of fraud or collusion, binding on the reversionary heir. A. I. R. 1918 P. The expression "private right claimed in common" in Explanation VI is not merely confined to the rights of joint Hindu family, etc., but extends to village communal rights. 31 M. L. J. 26=35 Ind. Cas. 116. Decision in a winding up proceeding of a company against the official liquidator representing the debenture-holders and creditors is binding on all. A. I. R. 1920 P. C. 56=43 M. 550=47 I. J. 338=62 Ind. Cas. 558. Decision in a suit by some reversioners in the interest of the whole body is binding on the entire reversionary body. 7 O. L. J. 342=23 O. C. 238=57 Ind. Cas. 541 ; see also 64 Ind. Cas. 980=49 C. 45=33 C. L. J. 421=25 C. W. N. 585 ; 64 Ind. Cas. 248=19 A. L. J. 749 (F. B.)=44 A. 19. Explanation VI to s. 11 is not confined only to cases when leave of the Court has been granted under Order I, rule 8. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 88=18 L. W. 177=(1923) M. W. N. 545=75 Ind. Cas. 336 ; A. I. R. 1928 M. 77=51 M. 128 (F. B.). A decree passed in a suit under s. 92 is binding also on all the worshippers at the temple. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1070. Bona fide litigation implies every attempt to bring all interested persons before the Court. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 645=52 M. L. J. 641=110 Ind. Cas. 58. Unless the cause-title shows that the suit is brought in a representative capacity the suit cannot be treated as one brought in a representative capacity. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 445=54 M. L. J. 587=27 L. W. 769=109 Ind. Cas. 199. The plaintiffs in a second representative suit relating to the same right cannot avoid the bar of res judicata except by proving fraud or collusion on the part of the former plaintiffs, as under s. 44 of the Evidence Act, or their want of bonafides. Mere negligence or gross negligence is not fraud or collusion and the principles of section 44 of the Evidence Act cannot be extended thereto. Omission to produce certain evidence or to place certain other evidence before the appellate Court, though it may amount to gross negligence, cannot establish collusion or want of bonafides in the absence of proof of that there was intentional suppression. Talwari v. Thadi Kanda, 41 C. W. N. 257 (P. C.)=A. I. R. 1936 P. C. 1. The expression "claimed in common for themselves and others" in Explanation VI does not also govern a claim in respect of public right. With regard to such public right if the litigation is bonafide on the part of the plaintiff the decision would be res judicata against others who claim to be entitled to the right. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 70. Explanation VI is applicable where there is a community of interest claimed on common title and where the claim is in good faith for enforcing or defending that common interest. Such common interest may have been vested in a joint-family which may form its basis or it may rest on joint title obtained in some other way. 4 U. P. L. R. (O. C.) 47. In the absence of fraud and collusion a decision against the Mohunt of a Mutt operates as res judicata against his successor. A. I. R. 1935 All. 255=157 Ind. Cas. 1092 In a representative suit, instituted under Order I, rule 8, the decision in a former suit does not operate as res judicata, unless the former suit was instituted in compliance with this rule, vis., by permission of the Court, the Court giving notice to all persons interested. An exception to this principle is where the former suit having been litigated bonafide on behalf of the plaintiff and others was a common right, the omission to comply with rule has been inadvertent and no injury therefore has been sustained by the plaintiff in the second suit. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 965. Explanation

VI applies to those suits only which are instituted in a representative capacity. 157 Ind. Cas. 1006=A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 537. Where the parties are different in two suits the findings in the previous suit cannot be res judicata in the subsequent suit unless it is shown that the plaintiffs in the subsequent suit are claiming under the plaintiffs in the previous suit and the plaintiffs in the previous suit had claimed the right in common for themselves and for the plaintiffs in the subsequent suit. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 391.

Fraud and collusion.—It is always open to a party to a suit to show that a judgment was obtained by fraud or collusion or that there was want of jurisdiction and in such cases s. 11 would not apply. No doubt in the case of a joint Hindu family, it is impossible to allow each member of the family to litigate the same point over and over again and s. 11, Explanation 6 applies, but where there is a finding in the subsequent suit that the father in a joint Hindu family who was a party to the previous suit was in collusion with the opposite party, s. 11, Explanation (6) would not apply and his son is not bound by the decision in the previous suit. Parbati v. Gajraj A. I. R. 1937 All. 28=1936 A. L. J. 1162. Judgment set up as res judicata can be impeached on the ground of fraud and collusion in the same suit. Separate suit is not necessary. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 685=114 Ind. Cas. 407. Where the question of alleged fraud has been in effect adjudicated upon an attempt to re-open the case cannot be allowed. A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 82=1 Bur. L. J. 129=74 Ind. Cas. 278.

Execution proceedings.—The principle of constructive res judicata applies to orders in execution. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 746=28 L. W. 895=114 Ind. Cas. 545; see also A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 305=7 O. W. R. 1924 Pat. 265=2 Pat. 771=5 P. L. T. 7=74 Ind. Cas. 781. A decision in the course of execution proceedings is final between the parties, though as to the some of the parties it was based on agreement and as to others on an adjudication. 47 C. 446=30 C. L. J. 496=24 C. W. N. 269=55 Ind. Cas. 189. Where a decision of the Executing Court is that no property of the judgment-debtor can be attached, that decision is final. 4 Pat. L. W. 279=44 Ind. Cas. 654. A judgment-debtor is barred by res judicata from contending in the course of execution proceeding, that a particular person is not the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff while at his instance the particular legal representation was recorded as such and final decree passed. 45 Ind. Cas. 657. Objection to application for execution proceedings once dismissed operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 65=124 Ind. Cas. 445. Order passed in execution proceedings and not appealed against is final. A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 341=31 M. L. T. 219=21 A. L. J. 195=27 C. W. N. 279 (P. C.)=73 Ind. Cas. 882. Decree-holder applied for partial execution but subsequently applied for amendment for executing the whole decree. The judgment-debtor objected to the amendment but his objection was overruled. No appeal was made by the judgment-debtor. The decision operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1019=53 C. 582=43 C. L. J. 596=96 Ind. Cas. 562. Where in a prior execution case of the same decree the Judge dismissed the objection by A, an attorney of B on the ground that it was vague but did not raise the question whether A was authorized to appear for B in his personal capacity and when A subsequently made an application to have his order reviewed, the application was dismissed on the ground that it was incompetent, A having no power to represent B personally: Held that the decision could not operate as res judicata in the subsequent execution case. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 21. The principle of res judicata applies to execution proceeding. A. I. R. 1928 All. 527=51 A. 346=26 A. L. J. 1160=112 Ind. Cas. 534. But the special rules laid down in the explanation to that section which go beyond the ordinary doctrine of res judicata ought not to be applied generally in execution cases. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 289=3 P. L. T. 403=1 Pat. 593=67 Ind. Cas. 656; see also A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 119 (2)=70 Ind. Cas. 530. A prior order under Order XXI, rule 23 for execution is not res judicata but is vacated by a subsequent order of dismissal of execution application under rule 57. To be a bar the previous order must be in force. 2 L. W. 1055=31 Ind. Cas. 293. The principle of res judicata must be applied wherever it is relevant, and a decision between the parties in execution proceedings operates as res judicata in a subsequent suit between them. 37 Bom. L. R. 123=A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 174=158 Ind.

Cas. 1059; see also A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 966; A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 949; 1935 A. L. J. 1189 (F. B.)=1935 A. W. R. 1371.

Execution proceedings—Decision when binding.—Decision in execution proceedings that certain property is liable for payment of decree cannot operate as res judicata when the liability of another property is under consideration. A. I. R. 1926 All. 220=48A. 245=24 A. L. J. 273=91 Ind. Cas. 785. Order ultra vires does not operate as res judicata in same proceeding. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 807=4 Pat. 440=7 P. L. T. 456=93 Ind. Cas. 257. Decision that order on application to set aside execution sale is under s. 47 is binding. 26 Bom. L. R. 817=48 B. 638=83 Ind. Cas. 155. Earlier order not deciding the point raised in the latter application is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 145=18 L. W. 652=33 M. L. T. 64=76 Ind. Cas. 761. An erroneous decision in prior execution proceedings is not res judicata in subsequent proceedings in execution. 45 Ind. Cas. 201. The judgment-debtor is not debarred in a subsequent execution application from objecting to amount claimed in a previous application, if no opportunity was given to object in the first application. 34 Ind. Cas. 144. Plea decided against impliedly in suit cannot be raised again in execution proceedings. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 36=24 Bom. L. R. 1291=76 Ind. Cas. 148. Decision that former execution petition was invalid is res judicata. 40 M. L. J. 556=A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 315=13 L. W. 529=63 Ind. Cas. 189. Where an order of attachment is intended to be attacked on the ground that certain pleas were not taken originally the propriety of the order can be questioned only in subsequent proceedings other than those in which it was passed. 35 M. L. J. 312=(1918) M. W. N. 143=44 Ind. Cas. 4. On an application for execution by sale of properties the Court inspite of the judgment-debtor's objections to such an execution ordered issue of sale proclamation but did not in express terms pass by order for sale or decide that execution could be so enforced: Held, that the orders of the Court would not operate as res judicata. 45C. 73=41 Ind. Cas. 73. Order of attachment before judgment does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 153. Decision under Order 22, rule 5, does not operate as res judicata, but should be considered and due weight should be given to it in subsequent title suit. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 60.

Execution proceedings—Exparte Orders—Order is not res judicata unless passed after notice to parties. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 532=13 L. W. 289=62 Ind. Cas. 480. Exparte order is not res judicata on the point that application for execution was time-barred. 54 Ind. Cas. 933. If after notice to the other party the execution Court passes an order for sale and the order is not appealed against any subsequent application to reconsider the order is time-barred. 113 Ind. Cas. 93 (Mad).

Execution proceedings—Heard and finally decided.—Execution Court has no jurisdiction to entertain a second application of objection to the attachment and sale, when one has failed though grounds are different. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 470=117 Ind. Cas. 816. Dismissal of a former objection to attachment is a bar to fresh objection. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 872=26 P. L. R. 151=105 Ind. Cas. 693. Objection once decided cannot be again raised in execution of the same decree. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 179=99 Ind. Cas. 1096. Where an objection petition in an execution proceeding is dismissed for non-prosecution there is no adjudication on the merits and hence it cannot be res judicata. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 287=67 Ind. Cas. 663. If an executing Court expressly decides a point inter parties that becomes final according to the general principles of law, though the question whether the law of res judicata applies would be irrelevant. A. I. R. 1922 All. 413=44A. 159=19 A. L. J. 954=65 Ind. Cas. 377. An order passed in execution of decree, against a party without notice, is not binding on that party. 31 C. L. J. 382=56 Ind. Cas. 801. Order made at one stage of the execution proceedings to which the judgment-debtor is a party is binding in all subsequent stages. 48 Ind. Cas. 226=8 L. W. 519=(1918) M. W. N. 748=24 M. L. T. 483.

An order delivering possession of property on an execution application is an adjudication that the application is in time and judgment-debtor cannot question the legality of that order in proceedings on a subsequent execution. 54 Ind. Cas. 924. Where a Court executing a decree passes an order after notice to the parties, that decision is unless set aside on appeal, binding upon the parties. 1 Pat. L. R. 145=73 Ind. Cas. 359. Executing Court's decision as to title of one of rival claimants is res judicata and bars suit for possession by one of the claimants on the ground of his subsequent purchase from the municipality. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 112=26 P. L. R. 171=7 Lah. L. J. 198=92 Ind. Cas. 131. Where at one stage of an execution proceeding an order is made disallowing the objections of the judgment-debtor, the order is binding in all subsequent stages of the same execution. 64 Ind. Cas. 724. Where the judgment-debtor does not object to the first application for execution of a decree on the ground of illegalities in relation to the execution proceedings, he cannot raise such an objection when a subsequent application for execution is made. 5 Pat. L. J. 639=1 P. L. T. 504=57 Ind. Cas. 707. Once a judgment-debtor's application to set aside a sale on the ground of fraud is rejected by the executing Court, the decision bars the plea of fraud in subsequent proceedings. 38 Ind. Cas. 47. The conclusive character of the adjudication in a former execution proceedings as to a party's right to execute the decree cannot be affected by the subsequent dismissal of that application for default. 3 L. W. 339=(1916) 2 M. W. N. 64=33 Ind. Cas. 443. A dar-khast disposed of for default of appearance as the plaintiff's pleader was absent cannot be said to have been heard and decided on merits. It does not operate as res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 217=31 Bom. L. R. 400=118 Ind. Cas. 700. Where point as to whether anything is still due under a decree not raised and decided by an appealable or judicial order in an execution proceeding, mere order passed on an application to bid at the same execution proceedings is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 903=122 Ind. Cas. 161. But matter decided in prior application cannot be re-opened. A. I. R. 1924 All. 34=45 A. 735=21 A. L. J. 641=74 Ind. Cas. 513. Where an order releasing property from attachment is not appealed against, the order becomes final and so fresh application for the attachment of the same property does not lie. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 85=28 P. L. R. 6:7=9 Lah. L. J. 193=100 Ind. Cas. 23. The question at issue in a prior execution petition and appeal to High Court being only about the re-opening of a partition and not as to whether there was or was not a decision of particular items of property, a subsequent execution petition for decision of the same item is not barred. (1916) 2 M. W. N. 118=4 L. W. 101=37 Ind. Cas. 354. An order made at an earlier stage of the execution proceedings cannot be questioned at a later stage unless the party to be bound has had no notice of the proceedings. 21 C. W. N. 945=26 C. L. Execution proceedings—might and ought have.—Omission to object to execution application being not in accordance with law operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 861=32 C. W. N. 1107=118 Ind. Cas. 337; see also A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 279=31 Bom. L. R. 320=118 Ind. Cas. 694; A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 164=89 Ind. Cas. 1009; 72 Ind. Cas. 397=A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 649=45 M. L. J. 71=17 M. L. W. 566; A. I. Code also applies to execution proceedings. 15 Lah. 869=155 Ind. Cas. 286=A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 200 ; A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 485. Omission to object as regards jurisdiction does not operate as res judicata. 158 Ind. Cas. 811=1935 M. W. N. 1116=42 L. W. 856=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 935=69 M. L. J. 466.

Execution proceedings—parties and representatives.—Where matter in execution is res judicata against Hindu father the plea of res judicata is effective against son. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 257=(1929) M. W. N. 776=120 Ind. Cas. 375. Official Assignee is not the representative of a judgment-debtor who has been adjudged insolvent. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 688=48 M. L. J. 530=88 Ind. Cas. 85. An order refusing an application in execution proceedings for substitution under Order XXII does not operate as res judicata as against an application for execution under Order XXI, r. 1. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 417=2 O. W. N. 352=10 O. L. J. 538=29 O. C. 98=88 Ind. Cas. 1016. Decision in execution proceedings binds the assignee of the decree-holder. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 200=21 N. L. R. 159=92 Ind. Cas. 47. A widow of a judgment-debtor who has been brought on record after the death of her husband can extend that property against which execution was sought was gifted to her by judgment-debtor. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 303=(1931) M. W. N. 48=33 L. W. 359=131 Ind. Cas. 610. Judgment-debtor not a party to prior proceedings is not precluded from showing that the said proceedings were barred by limitation. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 322=67 Ind. Cas. 878.

Execution proceedings—Sale-proclamation.—Decision under Order XXI, r. 66 is not res judicata in a later suit. A. I. R. 1924 All. 480=78 Ind. Cas. 582 ; 88 Ind. Cas. 332=4 Pat. 731=6 P. L. T. 843=3 Pat. L. R. 118. But decision that notice under Order XXI, r. 66 is not necessary to party bars a plea of want of notice even after sale. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 628=92 Ind. Cas. 326. Omission to appear to settle terms does not bar plea that property was not liable to attachment. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 1=46 M. 768=(1923) M. W. N. 571=18 L. W. 757=45 M. L. J. 346=74 Ind. Cas. 155. Where settlement of sale proclamation is made after notice, Court cannot go behind the subsequent proceedings. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 134=1 Pat. L. R. 52=72 Ind. Cas. 863. A party who is sought to be affected by the bar of res judicata should have notice of the point which is likely to be decided against him and should have an opportunity of putting forward his contention against such a decision. Where a question of want of attachment is available to the judgment-debtor, the notice of settlement of proclamation gives him the opportunity of putting forward that ground, and that he must put it forward then, if he wants to do so and should not be allowed to reserve it for later occasion because if the objection succeeds it makes further execution proceedings fertile. Sashayya v. Sattiraya, A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 414=120 Ind. Cas. 863 ; see also A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 320=21 N. L. R. 23=88 Ind. Cas. 831.

Execution proceedings—limitation.—Where the plea of limitation was raised inter alia in the defence to an execution application and the application was granted the plea was barred although the judgment did not expressly refer to it. A. I. R. 1921 P. C. 23=48 Ind. Cas. 45=19 A. L. J. 168=23 Bom. L. R. 701=13 C. L. J. 218=25 C. W. N. 581=40 M. L. J. 197=29 M. L. T. 345 (P. C.)=59 Ind. Cas. 880 ; see also 63 Ind. Question of bar of limitation for execution of a decree, arises when (1) notice requiring the judgment-debtor to show cause why the decree should not be executed against him has been served on him ; and (2) he has thus been in a position to raise that plea of limitation, and (3) that a Court has expressly or impliedly decided by its order the question of limitation in favour of the decree-holder. 33 Ind. Cas. 663. It is only when the point of limitation is concluded by proceedings in a previous execution that the judgment-debtor is not allowed to take that objection in a subsequent execution. 53 Ind. Cas. 85=1920 Pat. 109. Point of limitation cannot be raised after sale. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 606=34 C. L. J. 163=64 Ind. Cas. 594. Where intermediate execution proclamation was ordered on notice to the judgment-debtor, he cannot on a subsequent execution application plead that the intermediate application was time-barred and therefore the subsequent application was also barred. 22 Bom.

L. R. 1389=45 B. 453=59 Ind. Cas. 747. Even in an application for transfer of a decree the judgment-debtor can and ought to plead limitation. If he fails the point is barred. A. I. Order allowing execution to issue operates as res judicata on the question of limitation. Subsequent dismissal of execution application does not imply that the order has become ineffective. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1052=116 Ind. Cas. 363; see also A. I. R. 1922 Oudh. 117=25 O. C. 13=68 Ind. Cas. 267; 74 Ind. Cas. 130=2 Pat. 759; but see A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 471. Dismissal of an application for execution as out of time does not prevent the executing plaintiff from filing another darkhast and seeking to bring it within limitation on new grounds. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 238=24 Bom. L. R. 97=46 B. 467=66 Ind. Cas. 930. Where notice was issued to the judgment-debtor and the judgment-debtor did not raise the plea that the execution of the decree was debarred: Held that the decision is res judicata. 113 Ind. Cas. 92. Plea that a previous execution was time-barred and hence the subsequent application was not valid should be raised at the earliest opportunity. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 77=22 L. W. 747=(1926) M. W. N. 33=91 Ind. Cas. 1017.

Execution proceedings.—Whether decree is executable.—An order of a Court directing execution of a barred decree to proceed after due notice to the judgment-debtor precludes the judgment-debtor from raising the same objection in a subsequent execution. 3 P. L. W. 13=41 Ind. Cas. 675. An order in execution to the effect that the decree is not executable is res judicata. 4 Pat. L. J. 330=5 Pat. L. W. 208=47 Ind. Cas. 154. The fact that execution has been ordered as regards a certain sum does not operate as res judicata with regard to the amount due under the decree. A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 172=120 Ind. Cas. 664. Waiver of objection as to executability of a decree, by judgment-debtor creates res judicata. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 203=27 L. W. 20=1928 M. W. N. 67=109 Ind. Cas. 866. Judgment-debtor raising objections as regards the executability of the decree on application to transfer it for execution passed on service of proper notice to the judgment-debtor, which raised a question about the executability of the decree operates as res judicata. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 149=98 Ind. Cas. 702; 59 Ind. Cas. 161=12 L. W. 34; A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 813=26 L. W. 481. Judgment-debtor can plead at a later stage non executability though not previously pleaded where assignee of decree-holder was benamidar of judgment-debtor. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 189=18 M. L. W. 453=75 Ind. Cas. 845; see also 17 L. W. 319=73 Ind. Cas. 213. Where a preliminary decree under Order XXXIV, r. 4 is, as such, incapable of execution unless made absolute under Order XXIV, r. 5 but the judgment-debtor fails to raise such objection at the first application for execution he cannot raise it later on. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 640=7 Lah. L. J. 397=26 P. L. R. 784=92 Ind. Cas. 254.

Execution proceedings—separate suit.—Where objection that land of judgment-debtor could not be attached as he was agriculturist dismissed, no separate suit lies for declaration that judgment-debtor is agriculturist. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 628=31 P. L. R. 191=127 Ind. Cas. 858. But an order passed in execution proceeding as to the nature of land which is sought to be sold is not final and separate suit lies. A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 62=7 O. W. N. 1162=130 Ind. Cas. 115. Against order allowing legal representative to execute decree an appeal lies but separate suit is barred. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 536=92 Ind. Cas. 377.

Execution proceedings—Dismissal for default—The doctrine of res judicata applicable to execution proceedings does not rest on s. 11, C. P. Code and distinction are sometimes made between positive decisions and mere dismissal for default. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 616=163 Ind. Cas. 38; see also A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 41=160 Ind. Cas. 835; 1936 M. Amendment in Burma.—For words within brackets, substitute "British Burma" in Burma.

Scope.—This section applies to plaintiffs as well as defendants. A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 319=6 Rang. 552=116 Ind. Cas. 465 ; A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 327=51 M. 720=54 M. L. J. 479. Section 13 refers to cases where for one reason or another, the controversy raised in the action has not been the subject of direct adjudication by the Court. 40 M. 112=44 I. A. 6=32 M. L. J. 35=A. L. J. 92=19 Bom. L. R. 206=21 C. W. N. 358 P. C. A judgment of a foreign Court granting probate of a Will is conclusive evidence that the instrument passed was testamentary according to the law of the foreign country. It proves nothing else. A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 197=1936 M. W. N. 82=43 L. W. 75.

Clause (a).—Decision of a foreign Court under the authority of the state on a subject-matter of res is conclusive. A. I. R. 1928 P. C. 83=47 C. L. J. 263=30 Bom. L. R. 753 (P. C.)=107 Ind. Cas. 352. Foreign judgment in connection with the land outside the jurisdiction of the Court are not binding on the British Indian Courts. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 627=119 Ind. Cas. 482. Foreign judgment passed without jurisdiction is not binding. 144 Ind. Cas. 557=1933 M. W. N. 657=37 L. W. 410=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 393=64 M. L. J. 531. A foreign Court clearly has no jurisdiction to pass a decree against a defendant in a personal action for money where the defendant on the date of the suit is not a resident of the foreign state at all, but a resident of British India. 59 M. 918=162 Ind. Cas. 904=1936 M. W. N. 478=43 L. W. 607=A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 552=71 M. L. J. 93 ; see also Chormal v. Kasture, 63 C. 1033=63 C. L. J. 175=40 C. W. N. 591. A question under section 13 (a) of the C. P. Code as to whether the foreign Court was a Court of competent jurisdiction must be determined in regard to the personal actions, not by the territorial law of the foreign state but by the rules of Private International law. In a personal action, a foreign Court has jurisdiction in an international sense ; if (i) the defendant is the subject of the foreign country in which the judgment has been delivered ; or (ii) he was a resident in that foreign country when the action began ; or (iii) he, in the character of a plaintiff, has selected the forum in which he is afterwards sued ; or (iv) he had voluntarily appeared in that Court and submitted to its jurisdiction ; or (v) he had contracted to submit himself to the foreign forum in which the judgment is obtained ; or (vi) (simple)—he has real estate within the foreign jurisdiction in respect of which the cause of action arose while he was within that jurisdiction. 63 C. 1033=63 C. L. J. 175=40 C. W. N. 591 ; see also 158 Ind. Cas. 24. A foreign judgment to be valid cause of action for a suit upon it in British India must be final and conclusive in the Court in which it is passed. 158 Ind. Cas. 547=A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 284. Foreign judgments stand upon a different footing and the considerations which apply to the judgments of ordinary Courts in British India, do not apply to them in their entirety. Therefore the executing Court can enter into the question. Whether the foreign Court had jurisdiction to pass a decree against the judgment-debtors and if it finds that the judgment-debtor was not amenable to the jurisdiction of that foreign Court, the decree passed against him is not pronounced by the Court of competent jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 551=37 P. L. R. 240=158 Ind. Cas. 232. The concluding words of s. 44 namely, "as if they had been passed by the Court of British India" do not in any way control the operation of the provisions of s. 3, clause (a). Ibid. It is not open to the Court trying the suit on foreign judgment to decide whether the decision of the foreign Court on the materials put before it is right or not. The duty of the Court is merely to see that the foreign Court has applied its minds to the facts and the law on the point. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 390=36 Bom. L. R. 844. A person whose interest was in conflict with that of a minor was appointed a guardian ad litem in a suit against the minor in a foreign Court. That Court decided against the minor and upon this decision the minor sued the plaintiff in a British Court; Held that since that person was not a fit person to be appointed a guardian and that the foreign Court did not follow the rules and procedure under order 32 or the rules of natural justice in appointing him a guardian, the minor was not properly represented in the suit in the foreign Court, and the appointment has prejudicial to the defence of the minor there, and the foreign Court decree against the minor was not binding on the minor and did not avail the plaintiff. Ibid.

Clause (b).—In Derby v. Martin, 62 C. 682=39 C. W. N. 557=61 C. L. J. 20 Cunliff J. observed: "Section 13 deals with the principles of res judicata in relation to a foreign judgment; but whilst giving general effect to the principle, the section contains six provisos in the form of exceptions.....Section (b) has been the subject of considerable judicial interpretation. The leading case in this regard is the decision of the Privy Council in Reymer v. Visvanatham Reddi, (L. R. 44 I. A. 6=40 M. 112=21 C. W. N. 358)....Endeavouring to deduce the principles contained in this body of decisions, it seems to me that they deal with three different categories of case. Firstly, there is the category in which the defence is put in, but is struck out and judgment is artificially given by default without any judicial consideration of the plaintiff's evidence at all. Secondly, there is the class of case where no defence has ever been on the file and again there is no consideration of the plaintiff's evidence by the Court, judgment being given by default under summary procedure. Thirdly, we have the position in which there is no defence again, but where the plaintiff's evidence is considered in some manner or another. The case before me now is clearly within the second category and in my opinion is also clearly within the ambit of Reymer v. Visvanatham Reddi (44 I. A. 6=40 M. 112=21 C. W. N. 358) ... If the query had been put to me, I should have said that, in my view, primarily, this sub-section was not meant to British Courts at all. I should have argued that it was a sub-section of a special nature deliberately inserted as a proviso to the ordinary rules of res judicata in the Code, for the purpose of protecting persons in India from unfair and unmeritorious judgments of Courts outside the British Empire where procedure and principles were followed in no way compatible with ideas of British justice." Foreign judgment is not binding on the British Indian Courts if it was not decided on merits. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 146=123 Ind. Cas. 600. An ex parte decree of a foreign Court is not a decree on merits and as such not binding on the British Indian Courts. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 149=57 M. L. J. 459=123 Ind. Cas. 579; A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 133=26 L. W. 803=107 Ind. Cas. 810; 82 Ind. Cas. 425=47 M. 877=47 M. L. J. 356; but see 92 Ind. Cas. 491=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 259=22 L. W. 820.

Ex parte judgment of foreign Court passed only on plaintiff's pleading is no judgment on merits. A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 319=6 Rang. 552=116 Ind. Cas. 465; A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 265=52 M. L. J. 240=50 M. 261=100 Ind. Cas. 555. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 544=38 L. W. 232. Decision of a foreign Court is conclusive if the defendant filed his written statement but his solicitor reported no further instruction. 11 L. W. 609=57 Ind. Cas. 742; 17 A. L. J. 501=50 Ind. Cas. 780. Judgment is a judgment on merits if evidence is taken although there is default. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788=21 L. W. 330=86 Ind. Cas. 492; see also A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 284=158 Ind. Cas. 547. An ex parte decree is none the less a decree on the merits, when the defendant, after proper service fails to appear. Such default of appearance amounts to admission of the plaintiff's claim. 16 Lah. 768=158 Ind. Cas. 113=A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 396=37 P. L. R. 852. But decision against a party due to default on his part is not judgment given on merits of the case. A. I. R. 1927 All. 510=25 A. L. J. 887=105 Ind. Cas. 186; see also 140 Ind. Cas. 82=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 649=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 689.

Clause (c).—International law governs rules of jurisdiction of foreign Courts. Submission to jurisdiction of foreign Court creates jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788=21 L. W. 330=86 Ind. Cas. 492. Execution of power of attorney in favour of another empowering him to conduct litigation in foreign Court amounts to submission to its jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 155=47 M. L. J. 356=47 M. 877=20 L. W. 677=82 Ind. Cas. 425; A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 259=92 Ind. Cas. 491. Section 13 should be determined by the International Law and not by the law of the country. 39 M. 733=3 L. W. 90=19 M. L. T. 68=30 M. L. J. 148=(1916) M. W. N. 83=32 Ind. Cas. 597. Where the Supreme Court of Penang in the inquiry before it refuses to recognize the law of British India applicable to deceased's immovable property in India, the judgment of the Supreme Court is not one on which the plaintiff can successfully sue in India. 148 Ind. Cas. 297=1934 M. W. N. 658=39 L. W. 58=A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 145=66 M. L. J. 207.

Clause (d).—Proceedings against minor defendant without appointing guardian ad litem are opposed to natural justice. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 200=8 Lah. 54=102 Ind. Cas. 523. Suits based on foreign judgments should not be dismissed although they are merely contrary to natural justice. 13 P. W. R. 1916=34 Ind. Cas. 255. Mistake of law in a foreign judgment does not vitiate it unless the procedure is opposed to natural justice. 41 M. 205=34 M. L. J. 295=45 Ind. Cas. 703.

Clause (e).—Vide A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 175.

Clause (f).—Foreign judgment cannot be challenged even if opposed to Indian law. 9 Bur. L. T. 106=35 Ind. Cas. 741.

British India.—For meaning of British India in its application to British Burma. Burma General Clauses Act of 1898, s. 2 (5) given under s. 29 of this book.

Objection to jurisdiction when can be taken.—Objection as to jurisdiction of foreign Court can be raised even in execution proceeding. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 955=89 Ind. Cas. 347=41 C. L. J. 503=30 C. W. N. 785=98 Ind. Cas. 740; see also A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 788=21 L. W. 330=86 Ind. Cas. 492. A Court which entertains a suit on a foreign judgment cannot institute an enquiry into the merits of the original action or the propriety of the decision. A. I. R. 1924 All. 161=46 A. 119=21 A. L. J. 890=79 Ind. Cas. 332.

Submission.—What is submission is a question of some nicety. Submission need not be by some overt act in Court. Part payment towards decree is an important circumstance from which submission may be inferred. (1931) A. L. J. 653. If a non-resident defendant appears in a foreign Court, and pleads that that Court has no jurisdiction, and also pleads to the merits, he submits to the jurisdiction of that Court voluntarily. Chormal v. Kasturi, 40 C. W. N. 591=63 C. 1033=63 C. L. J. 175. A person who has filed suits in a Court having jurisdiction to try them cannot thereby by implication be taken to submit to the jurisdiction of the same Court in cases when the Court has no jurisdiction. Oomer v. Thirce, A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 552=1936 M. W. N. 478=59 M. 918=162 Ind. Cas. 904=43 L. W. 607=71 M. L. J. 93; see also 1936 M. W. N. 1165=44 L. W. 752=71 M. L. J. 838. The British Courts will not recognise the judgment of the Courts of a foreign country passed in an action in personam against a British subject, not resident in that country at the date of the action, who has neither appeared in the suit nor submitted to the jurisdiction of the foreign Court. 63 M. L. J. 761=1932 M. W. N. 1314=36 L. W. 756=140 Ind. Cas. 588. The effect of the decision of the Judicial Committee in Sirdar Gurdial Singh v. The Raja of Faridkote, (1894) A. C. 670 is that the mere fact that a person enters into a contract in a foreign country, does not lead to the inference that he agrees to be bound by the decisions of that Courts of that country. 63 M. L. J. 761=1932 M. W. N. 1314=36 L. W. 756=140 Ind. Cas. 588.

14. [S. 13, Exp. IV.] The Court shall presume, upon the production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, that such judgment was pronounced by a Court of competent jurisdiction, unless the contrary appears on the record; but such presumption may be displaced by proving want of jurisdiction.

Notes.—In a suit on foreign judgment every presumption is made in favour of foreign judgment. 24 M. L. T. 244=49 Ind. Cas. 202. The jurisdiction of the Court trying the previously instituted suit depends upon allegations made in a plaint. 43 C. 144=33 Ind. Cas. 288. A judgment of a foreign Court obtained against a defendant cannot be enforced in British India where he at the time of the commencement of the suit was not a subject of, nor resident in, the country in which the judgment was obtained. A. I. R. 1927 All. 510=25 A. L. J. 887=105 Ind. Cas. 186.

PLACE OF SUING.

15. [S. 15.] Every suit shall be instituted in the Court of the lowest grade competent to try it.

Scope of the section.—This section is a proviso to ss. 19 and 20 of the Bengal Civil Courts Act. The word “shall” in this section is imperative on the suitor and not upon the Court for whose benefit it is intended. 7 A. 230=A. W. N. 1885, 1 (F. B.) per Petheram C. J. This section is a rule of procedure and not of jurisdiction. Ibid; per Brodhurst and Mahmood J. A subordinate Judge trying a Munsiff’s Court suit does not act without jurisdiction; and his decree cannot be reversed on appeal on the ground of want of jurisdiction. 7 A. 230 (F. B.)=A. W. N. 1885, 1; see also 15 M. 241; 17 C. 155.

Even where two Courts have concurrent jurisdiction to try the same suit, in view of the imperative wording of s. 15, C. P. Code, every suit must be instituted in the Court of the lowest grade having jurisdiction to try the same. 4 S. L. R. 264; but see 184 P. R. 1888. The trial of the suit by a Court of higher grade is merely an irregularity. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 568=52 M. L. J. 323=24 L. W. 367. The Sub-Judge should not have returned the plaint to the Court of Munsiff even if it was afterwards found that the value of the subject-matter was below Rs. 5,000. (1930) A. L. J. 386=122 Ind. Cas. 187. Prima facie the plaintiff’s claim determines the jurisdiction unless some other principles come into operation to prevent such a result. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 783=51 C. 737=28 C. W. N. 710=78 Ind. Cas. 747; see also A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 246=145 Ind. Cas. 294. The party should file his suit in the Court of lowest grade. The higher Court can try a suit triable by the Court of lower grade. A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 278=4 Bur. L. J. 104=90 Ind. Cas. 728. Date of presentation to the proper Court is the date of institution of the suit. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 421=52 Bom. 548=30 Bom. L. R. 970. The section is exhausted once the institution takes place in accordance with its provision. 54 Ind. Cas. 655. The value put by a plaintiff prima facie determines jurisdiction. 9 S. L. R. 164=32 Ind. Cas. 629. Where a Judge receives plaints for distributing to proper Courts, he acts ministerially. His discretion overrides the provisions of s. 15, in so far as he can direct a suit which might be tried by a Court of lower jurisdiction to be tried by a Court of higher jurisdiction. But a suit is barred by the provision of this section. 110 Ind. Cas. 293=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 484. Section 15 is not one of the sections excepted by s. 120 but clearly it cannot apply to the High Court in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 517. In the case of under valuation of relief it is the duty of the Court on the motion of either party or Ex proprio motu to order that the plaint be returned for presentation in the proper Court. 3 A. W. R. 405.

16. [S. 16.] Subject to the pecuniary or other limitations prescribed by any law, suits—Suits to be instituted where subject-matter situate.

- (a) for the recovery of immovable property with or without rent or profits,
- (b) for the partition of immovable property,
- (c) for foreclosure, sale or redemption in the case of a mortgage of or charge upon immovable property,
- (d) for the determination of any other right to or interest in immovable property,
- (e) for compensation for wrong to immovable property,
- (f) for the recovery of movable property actually under distraint or attachment, shall be instituted in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate :

Provided that a suit to obtain relief respecting, or compensation for wrong to, immovable property held by or on behalf of the defendant may, where the relief sought can be entirely obtained through his personal obedience, be instituted either in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate, or in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain.

Explanation.—In this section "property" means property situate in British India.

Scope of the section.—Non-compliance with provisions of ss. 16 to 20 is not fatal to jurisdiction of Court and does not render decree passed by Court of competent jurisdiction mere nullity and the executing Court cannot refuse to execute it. A. I. R. 1931 Sind 47=131 Ind. Cas. 182. Once the Court has seisin of the case it has jurisdiction to try it to its conclusion unless there is any reason for holding that that jurisdiction has been removed. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 117=47 M. L. J. 448. A suit for a declaration that the probate proceedings shall not affect the plaintiffs and for the administration of the estate left by the testator, does not fall under s. 16. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 456=94 Ind. Cas. 1046. Where the properties are situate in different jurisdictions these sections are no bar to parties bringing successive suits. 32 Ind. Cas. 423=(1916) 1 M. W. N. 146=3 L. W. 107. Section 16 applies only to suits determining rights in immovable property. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 109=16 L. W. 785=43 M. L. J. 615=72 Ind. Cas. 920. An agent of plaintiff's firm at Delhi obtained an order from the defendant who had a shop in Nasik District. The parties had agreed that all claims should be settled at Delhi. Further the goods were sent by rail from Delhi : Held that both Courts had jurisdiction, that the Delhi Court had jurisdiction as the goods were made over to railway company in Delhi and that section 39, Sale of Goods Act, would apply. A. I. R. 1934 Lahore 44=144 Ind. Cas. 828. The Province of Berar is a foreign territory and a British Indian Court has no jurisdiction to pass a decree upon a mortgage for sale of property situate in Berar. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 250=159 Ind. Cas. 739 (F. B.) ; see also A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 193 ; 4 N. L. R. 61. In suit relating to movable property a Court, within whose jurisdiction the movable property is kept, has jurisdiction to try the case. A. I. R. 1934 All. 226=47 Ind. Cas. 591=A. L. R. 1934 All. 721=3 A. W. R. 11. The Courts in India like the English Courts have a limited jurisdiction to entertain suits relating to foreign immovable property. These Courts have power to exercise a jurisdiction in personam, in respect of foreign immovables against person locally within the jurisdiction, in case where there is an equity between the parties arising from contracts, fraud or trust provided that the decision of title be not directly involved. But such an equity must be of a personal nature, i.e., there must be either a fiduciary relationship or privity of some other kind between the parties. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 123=28 S. L. R. 54.

Clause (a).—The object of the detailed provisions of s. 16, C. P. Code, 1882, is to limit jurisdiction in respect of claims to immovable property to Court within whose local jurisdiction such property may be situated ; and as a rule, Indian Courts have no power to decide on rights and interests in immovable property lying outside the local jurisdiction. 23 B. 22. A suit for rent can be brought where property is situate or where the tenant resides. But a suit for ejectment can be brought only where property is situate. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 619=27 C. W. N. 542=77 Ind. Cas. 253. Suit for administration of the estate of the deceased is cognizable by the Court in the jurisdiction of which a portion of the immovable property is situate. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 503=27 P. L. R. 398=96 Ind. Cas. 691. Ss. 16 and 17 apply both to movable and immovable properties the latter must be situate wholly or in part within the jurisdiction of the Court. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 506=27 P. L. R. 398=96 Ind. Cas. 691. Courts in British India cannot entertain a suit with respect to property outside its jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 295=24 N. L. R. 95=111 Ind. Cas. 135. A suit for specific performance of contract to sell land is a suit for land under this section. 143 Ind. Cas. 759=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 436. A suit for setting aside the Boards' decision under the Madras Religious Endowment Act that a temple is a public temple lies only in the Court where the temple is situate, A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1272=28 L. W. 535=55 M. L. J. 605=116 Ind. Cas. 561. A suit for declaring that a Will set up is a forgery and for its cancellation can be instituted under s. 20 (c) in a Court having jurisdiction over any part of the properties dealt with by the Will. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 109=43 M. L. J. 615=(1922) M. W. N. 834=16 L. W. 785=72 Ind. Cas. 920.

Clause (b).—Where the property in respect of which a partition suit is filed, consists of both movable and immovables, the immovable property being outside the jurisdiction of the Court and the movable within jurisdiction, the Court may grant relief so far as movable property is concerned, but must decline jurisdiction with regard to immovable property. 25 S. L. R. 275=A. I. R. 1931 Sind 50=131 Ind. Cas. 186.

Clause (c).—This section does not apply to a suit for declaration, that a mortgage-decree in respect of properties at Patna passed by the Court at Benares is in operation against the plaintiff. A. I. R. 1924 Pat 831=75 Ind. Cas. 469.

Clause (d).—Section 16 (d) includes a charge on immovable property, A. I. R. 1931 Sind 47=131 Ind. Cas. 182. A suit for maintenance with a prayer for a charge on property within jurisdiction of a Court is cognizable by the Court. 18 Bom. L. R. 67=40 B. 337=52 Ind. Cas. 985. A suit for specific performance is not a suit for land or for the determination of any right to or interest in immovable property 9 Bur. L. T. 119=36 Ind. Cas. 431. A suit to enforce a charge created of the land, can be instituted in the Court where the land is situated. 29 M. L. J. 639=42 M. 795=2 L. W. 1046=18 M. L. T. 464=31 Ind. Cas. 255. A suit on a promissory-note and also for declaration that the decretal amount is a charge on a certain property mortgaged as security for payment of the amount on promissory-note falls under clause (i). A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 660=66 Ind. Cas. 752. A suit for accounts cannot be considered to be a suit in respect of an interest in immovable property within the meaning of s. 16 (d), C. P. Code, merely because the accounts relate to a factory. 32 P. L. R. 464. Where to a suit for maintenance by a Hindu widow is added a further claim for a declaration that the past and future maintenance due to the plaintiff and costs of the suit are a charge on a certain immovable properties in the hands of the defendant, the suit falls within the purview of s. 16 (d), C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 1043=158 Ind. Cas. 1012=1935 M. W. N. 1135=42 L. W. 647. Where the dispute submitted to arbitration involves the determination of a right to or interest in immovable properties situated outside the jurisdiction of the Court, the Court would have no jurisdiction to file the award. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 183.

Clause (f).—Court in whose jurisdiction movable property is kept has jurisdiction to try suit relating to movable property. A. I. R. 1934 All. 226=1934 A. L. J. 254=147 Ind. Cas. 441.

Proviso.—The Court cannot in the case of immovable property situate without the jurisdiction, give relief in rem, still it can entertain a suit in respect of it when the relief sought can be entirely obtained through the defendant's obedience. (1885) A. W. N. 195. A suit for dissolution of partnership can be instituted in the Court within whose jurisdiction the parties reside or the cause of action arises. 17 A. L. J. 567=50 Ind. Cas. 156. A suit that the defendant should execute and register a deed of surrender of the occupancy holding or should pay back to the plaintiffs the consideration of his promise, is triable in a Court within whose jurisdiction the defendant resides. 18. [S. 16A.] (1) Where it is alleged to be uncertain within the local limits of the jurisdiction of which two or more Courts any immovable property is situate, any one of those Courts may, if satisfied that there is ground for the alleged uncertainty, record a statement to that effect and thereupon proceed to entertain and dispose of any suit relating to that property, and its decree in the suit shall have the same effect as if the property were situate within the local limits of its jurisdiction :

Place of institution of suit where local limits of jurisdiction of Courts are uncertain.

Provided that the suit is one with respect to which the Court is competent as regards the nature and value of the suit to exercise jurisdiction.

(2) Where a statement has not been recorded under sub-section (1), and an objection is taken before an appellate or revisional Court that a decree or order in a suit relating to such property was made by a Court not having jurisdiction where the property is situate, the appellate or revisional Court shall not allow the objection unless in its opinion there was, at the time of the institution of the suit, no reasonable ground for uncertainty as to the Court having jurisdiction with respect thereto and there has been a consequent failure of justice.

Scope.—In a suit by the proprietors of village B in the Muzaffarnagrah district for a declaration that certain land awarded to the proprietors of village K, in the Multan District by the Settlement Authorities in a boundary dispute, belongs to them, and should be included in their village, the Munsiff of Muzaffarnagrah, in whose Court the suit was filed, not being certain whether he had jurisdiction to try the case, determined the question before the merits were gone into, and decided that he possessed jurisdiction. The Divisional Judge on appeal set aside the decree passed by the Munsiff : Held that the Divisional Judge was wrong in setting aside the decree passed by the Munsiff for want of jurisdiction ignoring the provision of this section. 25 P. L. R. 1901 = 1 P. L. R. 1901.

19. [S. 18.] Where a suit is for compensation for wrong done to the person or to movable property, if the wrong was done within the local limits of the jurisdiction of one Court and the defendant resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of another Court, the suit may be instituted at the option of the plaintiff in either of the said Courts.

(a) A, residing in Delhi, beats B in Calcutta, B may sue A either in Calcutta or in Delhi.

(b) A, residing in Delhi, publishes in Calcutta statements defamatory of B. B. may sue A either in Calcutta or in Delhi.

Scope.—Persons may be sued at the place where he carries on business though the cause of action arose at a different place. A. I. R. 1926 P. C. 88 = 1926 M. W. N. 592 = 31 C. W. N. 174 (P. C.). In this section the term "business" means commercial business. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 689 = 50 M. 449 = 53 M. L. J. 355 = 39 M. L. T. 301 = 26 L. W. 558 = 105 Ind. Cas. 576. The place where the cause of action arises must be determined with reference to the terms of the original contract. 65 Ind. Cas. 65 = A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 127. This was suit for damages for wrongful seizure of two cargo boats of the plaintiff alleged to be seized in Rangoon by order of a Magistrate of some other place, where all the defendants resided. The question to be decided was, whether on the allegations in the plaint, "the wrong was done" in Rangoon so as to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of the Chief Court : Held that the seizure of the boats having been made at Rangoon, it was the place, where the 'wrong was done' within the meaning of this section and the Chief Court of Rangnon, consequently was competent to entertain the suit. 3 L. B. R. 164. Where the plaintiff has the option to file suit at two places, institution of suit at one of such places does not affect the question of jurisdiction of plaintiff's bona fide. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 264.

Sections 19 and 20.—If a person wrongfully converts a bill and receives the amount, the owner of the bill may either sue in tort or may waive the tort and recover the money as received to his use in which case the jurisdiction to try the suit would be determined by s. 20. Where he does not so elect but bases his suit on tort the jurisdiction would be determined by s. 19. An owner of a Shahjog hundi residing at K transmitted it to the drawee at B. The hundi was stolen at B before reaching drawee and was negligently received by a Shahjog Behari, who got it cashed from the drawee. The owner did not elect to base his suit on money had and received but based it on tort : Held that as the tort was committed by B, s. 19 applied and therefore K Court had no jurisdiction to try the suit. 30 S. L. R. 182=A. I. R. 1936 Sind 229.

Other suits to be instituted where defendants reside or cause of action arises.

20. [S. 17.] Subject to the limitations aforesaid, every suit shall be instituted in a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction—

(a) the defendant, or each of the defendants where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain ; or

(b) any of the defendants, where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain, provided that in such case either the leave of the Court is given, or the defendants who do not reside or carry on business, or personally work for gain, as aforesaid, acquiesce in such institution ; or

(c) the cause of action wholly or in part, arises.

Explanation I.—Where a person has a permanent dwelling at one place and also a temporary residence at another place, he shall be deemed to reside at both places in respect of any cause of action arising at the place where he has such temporary residence.

Explanation II.—A corporation shall be deemed to carry on business at its sole or principal office in [British India] or, in respect of any cause of action arising at any place where it has also a subordinate office, at such place.

Illustrations.

(a) A is a tradesman in Calcutta. B carries on business in Delhi. B, by his agent in Calcutta, buys goods of A and requests A to deliver them to the East Indian Railway Company. A delivers the goods accordingly in Calcutta. A may sue B for the price of the goods either in Calcutta, where the cause of action has arisen, or in Delhi, where B carries on business.

(b) A resides at Simla, B at Calcutta and C at Delhi. A, B and C being together at Benares, B and C make a joint promissory-note payable on demand, and deliver it to A. A may sue B and C at Benares, where the cause of action arose. He may also sue them at Calcutta, where B resides, or at Delhi where C resides ; but in each of these cases, if the non-resident defendant objects, the suit cannot proceed without the leave of the Court.

Amendment in Burma.—For the words "British India" substitute "British Burma" in Burma.—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope of the Section.—Prima facie the question of jurisdiction must be decided on the averments contained in the plaint. 114 Ind. Cas. 507=A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 91=4 Luck. 347; see also 151 Ind. Actually or voluntarily resides.—The words "actually and voluntarily resides" refer only to natural persons and not to legal entities such as Limited Companies and Government, A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 818=126 Ind. Cas. 514. A person is deemed to reside at the place where he actually and voluntarily resides and carries on business ; he cannot be said to reside at a place where he has the family home and which he only occasionally visits. 2 Bom. But a defendant who has a permanent dwelling at one place and a temporary residence at another and where cause of action arose at the place of his temporary residence, he can be sued at both places. 143 Ind. Cas. 357=34 P. L. R. 908=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 120. The Court within whose jurisdiction plaintiff ordinarily resides has jurisdiction to try a suit to set aside an ex parte fraudulent decree obtained against plaintiff in another Court by suppressing summons. 41 Ind. Cas. 161. In a suit by a husband against his wife for restitution of conjugal rights the cause of action arises from the wife absenting herself from the husband's residence. The Court, within whose local jurisdiction such residence is situate, is competent to try such suit. 54 Ind. Cas. 120. The mere fact that the ancestral home of persons, who are really residing outside the jurisdiction, was within the jurisdiction, does not give jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1921 All. 193=19 A. L. J. 822=64 Ind. Cas. 688. Suit instituted in Court within whose jurisdiction defendant has permanent residence is properly instituted though he resides for business elsewhere. A. I. Carries on business.—The meaning of the term "business" is commercial business and not the business of Government. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 818=126 Ind. Cas. 514. The test of carrying on business is not the continuity or intermittency of the business but the fact of owning interest in the business and receiving profits. The expression "carrying on business" is used as distinct from personally working; it does not necessarily involve personal presence or personal effort. It only means having an interest in a business, at that place, a voice in what it is done, a share in the gain or loss, and some control, if not over the actual method of working, at any rate upon the existence of the business. 28 N. L. R. 118=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 114=140 Ind. Cas. 63; see also 19 A. L. J. 696=3 U. P. L. R. 18=65 Ind. Cas. 93. A person can be sued at a place where he carries on business through an agent. 5 Bom. L. R. 494. Where a partnership was entered into to carry on business at a certain place a suit for its dissolution can be brought only at the place of business and not at any other place where capital for the concern might have been subscribed. 42 P. R. 1916=98 P. W. R. 1916=33 Ind. Cas. 953. It is doubtful whether the mere letting of house property through an agent can be said to be carrying on business. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 164=66 Ind. Cas. 865. The term residence is naturally a flexible one, but in the case of trader, carrying on business it is manifestly the place where they have a living and do their daily work. A. I. R. 1924 All. 669=22 A. L. J. 457=79 Ind. Cas. 566. A firm having an office at a place at which a partner or manager is in control of the business carried on can be considered to carry on business at that place. 29 S. L. R. 292=164 Ind. Cas. 1015=A. I. R. 1936 Sind 121. A firm carries on business at a place where accounts are kept. 160 Ind. Cas. 353=A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 6.

Leave of the Court.—Clause (b) provides that a suit may be instituted within the local limits of whose jurisdiction each of the defendants, where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually carries on business, and secondly in the alternative, within the limits of whose jurisdiction any of the defendant at the time of the commencement of the suit, carries on business, provided that in such a case either the leave of the Court is given or a defendant who does not carry on business acquiesces in the suit being brought. A. I. R. 1922 All. 397=19 A. L. J. 696=65 Ind. Cas. 93. Where leave granted without notice under s. 20 (b), Court can hear objection under s. 151 and pass necessary orders. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 266. An application under this section can be made after the decision of the preliminary issue regarding jurisdiction. 145 Ind. Cas. 706=27 S. L. R. 232=A. I. R. 1933 Sind 179. Discretion used under this sub-section should not be lightly treated by the appellate Court. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 179=145 Ind. Cas. 706. Leave to sue may be granted without previous notice to the defendant. 11 L. B. R. 26=64 Ind. Cas. 794.

Acquiescence in such institution.—Not applying for stay of proceedings is acquiescence. 6 M. 344; 30 B. 81=7 Bom. L. R. 289. Where some defendants lived outside jurisdiction and leave to sue was refused by Court, the suit cannot go on unless outside defendant acquiesced. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 152=46 Bom. 229=23 Bom. L. R. 1930 Pat. 528=11 P. L. T. 384=122 Ind. Cas. 153. The term "cause of action" means the cause of action as it was at the time when the right to sue arose for the first time. 31 M. L. J. 316=5 L. W. 246=37 Ind. Cas. 681. The cause of action has no relation to the defence set up or to the character of the relief prayed for in the plaint but refers to the media upon which the plaintiff asks the Court to arrive at a conclusion in his favour. 46 Ind. Cas. 913. "Cause of action" means all facts which plaintiff must prove for his relief. A. I. R. 1934 All. 226.

Cause of action in suits on contracts.—"Cause of action" is correctly defined as meaning all the congeries of facts which is necessary for the plaintiff to establish before he can ask the Court to grant the relief which he claims in the suit. 61 C. 1023=155 Ind. Cas. 882=39 C. W. N. 293=A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 160. The words "cause of action" are not limited as to mean the whole cause of action but includes any material fact of it, not necessarily all the facts constituting the right to sue. 25 A. 48=A. W. N. 1902, 79. Where a plaintiff sues the drawer, acceptor and subsequent endorser of a hundi, the cause of action arises out of the original contract, i. e., hundi, in the place where it was made and payable, though the hundi might have been endorsed to him by some of the defendants at a different place. 57 P. In a suit for damages on a breach of contract the cause of action consists of the making of the contract and of its breach in a place where it ought to have been performed; thus where the contract was to be completed at Karachi though made at Lyallpur, suit for damages can lie in Karachi. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 132=19 S. L. R. 207=29 Ind. Cas. 30. Where a breach of a contract takes place outside a certain place still if the contract is to be performed or its performance is completed within that place or money is payable in that place in performance of the contract, a suit for recovery of damages for breach of that contract will be filed in a Court within the jurisdiction of which that place is situated. A. I. R. 1924 Sind 64=76 Ind. Cas. 353. Delivery by the seller of the goods sold to the Railway Company to be despatched to the buyer operates as delivery to the buyer under s. 91, Contract Act and a suit for breach of contract to deliver goods by the buyer would lie at the place where the goods were delivered to the Railway Company. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 474=67 Ind. Cas. 888. Where the contract was made in Bengal and the goods were to be sent to Bengal and the only thing done in Azamgarh was that the goods were despatched from Azamgarh, it cannot be said that the cause of action wholly or in part arose in Azamgarh. A. I. R. 1922 All. 418=66 Ind. Cas. 501. The place where the cause of action arises in respect of a pledge must be determined with reference to the terms of the original contract and not by subsequent negotiations thereafter. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 127=65 Ind. Cas. 65. In a suit upon a contract the offer is a part of the cause of action and the suit can be instituted in the Court within whose jurisdiction the offer is made finally. 10 L. W. 44=54 Ind. Cas. 260. Where the proposal and acceptance are made by letters, the contract is made at the time and at the place where the letter of acceptance is posted, though the contract is revocable before the acceptance reaches the proposer. Jurisdiction is determined by the place where the contract is made or in other words, where the cause of action arises. 17 N. L. R. 1=57 Ind. Cas. 636. In a contract for the sale of goods, payment for, and delivery of the goods, was to be made at a place other than the place where the purchaser was effected. It was held that a suit on account of non-delivery of a portion of the goods may be brought in a Court having jurisdiction over the place where delivery and payment were to be made. 42 A. 480=18 A. L. J. 566=56 Ind. Cas. 192. A contract is made when it is accepted and the buyer at Agra cannot sue at Agra for breach of a contract to sell goods concluded by acceptance at Delhi. 41 A. 602=17 A. L. J. 718=14 P. L. R. (H.C.) 120=51 Ind. Cas. 331. In the case of a proposal made from Karachi and accepted at Calcutta, the cause of action for breach of the contract arises at Calcutta. 12 S. L. R. 93. An action for damages for breach of contract for carriage of goods by a railway can be brought either where the breach was committed or where the contract was made. 43 P. W. R. 1919=50 Ind. Cas. 139.

The defendant a Raja wrote a letter from S to plaintiff at F calling upon him to go to S to treat the Raja. After plaintiff's arrival at S, agreement regarding the fees, payment, etc., was arrived at S and plaintiff was to be paid at S. Plaintiff sued for the fee fixed at F: Held that the cause of action arose at S as the whole contract was made at S. A. I. R. 1934 All. 549=148 Ind. Cas. 875. Where a suit for prompt dower by a Mahamedan wife against her husband is instituted in the Court, with whose jurisdiction the wife resides, the place of performance must be taken to be the place where the plaintiff resides and the Court has jurisdiction to entertain the suit. *Tustiman v. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 347=56 M. L. J. 299=29 L. W. 628=121 Ind. Cas. 155. The death of the assured being a part of the plaintiff's cause of action in a suit on an insurance policy the suit is maintainable at the place of his death. 22 C. W. N. 517=44 Ind. Cas. 694 ; 41 Ind. Cas. 392. For the purposes of s. 20 of the Code, the words "cause of action" in cases based on contract of insurance, do not include the loss or damage of the property insured, which is merely a cause of the cause, and is not even a proximate cause since the real cause of action is the failure to pay the money due under the contract and the primary cause of that cause is the contract itself ; the destruction of the property being only a secondary cause which is purely accidental being due merely to the nature of the particular kind of contract under consideration. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 2=76 Ind. Cas. 482

Suit against non-resident foreigner.—The Civil Procedure Code empowers a British Court to pass judgment against a non-resident foreigner, provided that the cause of action has arisen within the jurisdiction of the Court pronouncing the judgment. 3 Bom. L. R. 82=25 B. 528 ; A. I. R. 1927 All. 413=49 A. 669=25 A. L. J. 356=101 Ind. Cas. 673 ; see also A. I. R. 1934 All. 740=1934 A. L. J. 1093. An assignment of a claim whether voluntary or by virtue of adjudication of the person in whom that claim resides form a part of the cause of action in a suit in respect of that claim and the Court within whose limits the said assignment takes place can entertain the suit. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 31=20 S. L. R. 209. In a suit for refund of over-charge demanded from a consignee by a foreign railway the cause of action arises in part at the place where the contract for carrying was made and so the Court at the latter place has jurisdiction to try the suit. A. I. R. 1925 All. 823=L. R. 6 A. 395=88 Ind. Cas. 575. Where a thing is purchased at C and the property passes to the vendee, but part of the purchase money is paid at D, to which place the article is sent, a Court at D, has jurisdiction to try suit by vendee for return of purchase money on the ground of breach of warranty by the vendor. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 100=86 Ind. Cas. 1046. Where payment was according to the contract to be made in one place but was made in another owing to the plaintiff's own default, advantage can not be taken of the fact to give him a choice of jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 213=17 P. L. R. 1922=64 Ind. Cas. 387. If the plaintiff and defendant are within the jurisdiction of the Court the plaintiff can file a suit against the defendant for dissolution of partnership, even though that partnership commenced and was carried on in foreign territory. A. I. R. 1921 Bom. 460=45 B. 1228=23 Bom. L. R. 543=63 Ind. Cas. 959. Where payment for goods purchased by the plaintiff or on his behalf by somebody else, was to be made at place J by bills drawn against and presented to the plaintiff at place T, new part of the cause of action arose at T and therefore, a suit for an amount due for short fall in goods ordered and for damages on account of inferiority of quality of those goods lies in the Court in the jurisdiction of which place T is situated. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 663=68 M. L. J. 504 (F. B.)=41 L. W. 519=1935 M. W. N. 554=156 Ind. Cas. 1041. In the absence of an agreement that account should be taken elsewhere, a suit for the taking of the accounts of a partnership should be instituted in the Court within whose jurisdiction the business of the partnership was carried on. 17 A. L. J. 1015=52 Ind. Cas. 655. In a suit on fire insurance, part of the cause of action arises where fire occurs and the suit is maintainable at that place. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 305=11 N. L. J. 184=113 Ind. Cas. 896. In a suit for damages for conversion of land it is open to the plaintiffs to proceed against any one or more of the joint tort-feasors as they may elect. Therefore a suit started against one of the (tort-feasors), who resides in Calcutta, can be properly maintained in Calcutta. High Court either with previous leave of the Court or with the acquiescence of other tort-feasors. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 887=32 C. W. N. 208=116 Ind. Cas. 727. Where the cause of action indubitably arises within the jurisdiction of the Court no leave under s. 20 (b) is necessary. A. I. R. 1929 Sind 170=23 S. L. R. 365=117 Ind. Cas. 150. A Court, where a suit was originally rightly instituted, continues to have jurisdiction over the suit even if the place where the cause of action arises ceases to be situate within its jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 746=28 L. W. 885=114 Ind. Cas. 545. No hard and fast rule as to revision can be laid down in case of decisions as to jurisdiction under s. 2 and each case must be decided on its own merits. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 565=77 Ind. Cas. 764. Where in order to bring a suit within the jurisdiction of a Court of a particular locality, the plaintiff makes false statements knowing them to be false that is fraud on the Court and cannot give the Court jurisdiction which it originally had not. A. I. R. 1923 All. 137=45 A. 193=71 Ind. Cas. 411.

Explanation II.—A corporation resides wherever it carries on its business, irrespective of the location of its head office and if a corporation such as Bank has 50 branch offices it has fifty separate and distinct jurisdictions, and a suit can be brought in any one of such Courts for the enforcement of a right in respect of which a cause of action exists within the limits of each independent jurisdiction. 4 Pat. L. J. 141=(1919) Pat. 155=48 Ind. Cas. 943. The whole of the Punjab Province cannot be said to be a single place for the purpose of Explanation II and so it cannot be claimed that the Punjab Government can be sued at any place within the limits of that Province. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 818=126 Ind. Cas. 514.

21. [New.] No objection as to the place of suing shall be allowed by any Objections to jurisdiction. appellate or revisional Court unless such objection was taken in the Court of first instance at the earliest possible opportunity and in all cases where issues are settled at or before such settlement, and unless there has been a consequent failure of justice.

Scope.—This section has no application in case of inherent incompetency in a Court to deal with a cause which affects immovable property outside its jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 250 (F. B.)=18 N. L. J. 295; see also 76 C. 193; A. I. R. 1930 P. C. 188; A. I. R. 1919 P. C. 150. Section 21 refers only to an objection made as to the place of suing and not as to the nature of the Court in which the suit has been filed. A. I. R. 1931 All. 406. Where a decree has been passed by a Court having no territorial jurisdiction over the matter in controversy and no objection was ; taken as to the place of suing, an independent suit for its avoidance is not barred by s. 21 and it is not legitimate to extend the bar of the section. 1931 A. L. J. 240=A. I. R. (1931) A. 454=131 Ind. Cas. 248. Section 21 does not apply to the Chartered High Courts in the exercise of their original jurisdiction. It does not also apply to a case where the objection is not one to the place of suing, but one which goes to the root of the whole suit, such as an objection to the jurisdiction of the Court, which can be taken at any stage of the proceedings, even at the hearing of the suit and an appeal. 33 Bom. L. R. 1364=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 42=135 Ind. Cas. 170. Where the point taken in the written statement related only to the want of jurisdiction based on the pecuniary value of the subject-matter of the suit, an objection, raised in appeal to the place of suing, on the ground that the defendant resided outside the jurisdiction of the trial Court, cannot be entertained, as the point was not specifically raised at the earliest possible opportunity. 33 Bom. L. R. 1437. This section is inapplicable to High Court in its ordinary original civil jurisdiction. 56 B. 324=34 Bom. L. R. 236=137 Ind. Cas. 381=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 291=A. L. R. 1932 B. 498. Where there is no competency at all in the original Court to hear a case, objection to jurisdiction before the appellate Court is not barred by s. 21. 16 R. D. 279=12 U. D. 348. Where the Court has no jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the suit, mutual consent of the parties cannot confer jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1933. Mad. 471=38 L. W. 896=146 Ind. Cas. 204 ; A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 425. A Court cannot also acquire jurisdiction by the acquiescence of the parties. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 346=1933 M. W. N. 208=142 Ind. Cas. 613. The principles underlying this section applies to proceedings other than original suits. 29 N. L. R. 342=A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 318. In a case under this section the defendant must prove that the land is within the territorial jurisdiction of another Court as well as there was no ground of uncertainty about the matter and that there has been a failure of justice thereby. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 555. Initial jurisdiction should be determined only from allegations in the plaint. A. I. R. 1933 All. 298=141 Ind. Cas. 25. If the High Court in its original sile has no jurisdiction under clause 12 of the Letters Patent, the mere fact that objection as to the place of suing, as contemplated by s. 21, C. P. Code, was not taken at the earliest possible opportunity cannot confer on the Court that jurisdiction which it does not possess. 40 C. W. N. 65=164 Ind. Cas. 907 ; see also A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 517. It is an established principle of law that in a case which the Court is competent to try, if the parties without objection join issue and go to trial, the defendant cannot subsequently dispute its jurisdiction upon the ground that there were irregularities in the initial procedure which if objected to at the time would have led to the dismissal of the suit. S. 21, C. P. Code applies to such a case. But section 21, has no application to a case in which a Court which has no jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the action passes a decree which is wholly void and the maxim applies that consent cannot give jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 1=31 N. L. R. (Sup.) 57=161 Ind. Cas. 877. Question of jurisdiction can be allowed to be raised on completion of proceedings if questions depend upon decision of some fact or point of law. 142 Ind. Cas. 113=12 Pat. 117=13 P. L. T. 737=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 104. Questions of jurisdiction must be decided first. 17 R. D. 147=10 O. W. N. 143=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 191. Question of jurisdiction cannot be raised collaterally except when there is absolute lack of jurisdiction in Court passing decree. 142 Ind. Cas. 113=12 Pat. 117=13 P. L. T. 737=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 104 ; see also 34 C. W. N. 999=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 327=131 Ind. Cas. 396. An objection as to the place of suing cannot be raised for the first time in appeal or second appeal. A. I. 22. [S. 22.] Where a suit may be instituted in any one of two or more

Power to transfer suits which may be instituted in more than one Court.

Courts and is instituted in one of such Courts, any defendant, after notice to the other parties, may, at the earliest possible opportunity and in all cases where issues are settled at or before such settlement, apply to have the suit transferred to another Court, and the Court to which such application is made, after considering the objections of the other parties (if any), shall determine in which of the several Courts having jurisdiction the suit shall proceed.

Scope.—It is only when a suit may be brought in one or other of two Courts, both of which have jurisdiction, that an application may be made for transfer. Where the jurisdiction of one of the Courts is denied an application cannot lie. 71 Ind. Cas. 268=A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 288. An application under section 22 not presented at the earliest opportunity must be rejected. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 322=7 L. L. J. 93=26 P. L. R. 465=88 Ind. Cas. 531. Ss. 22 and 23 do not apply where transfer to the original side of a High Court from a Court subordinate to another High Court is desired. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 306=69 Ind. Cas. 772. In the absence of bias for or against any party mere taking erroneous view is not sufficient for transfer. A. I. R. 1934 All. 37=1933 A. L. J. 1573=146 Ind. Cas. 791. In a suit pending before the original side of the High Court an application to transfer the case to the Court where the suit ought to be tried should be made under s. 22 on the original side of the High Court which has seisin of the case. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 265=12 Rang. 548=151 Ind. Cas. 573=7 R. R. 88. Although the plaintiff has a right to choose the locus for the decision of his suit and the exercise of his right should be restricted except for cogent reasons, yet where two suits between the parties are instituted at two different places and the interests of the majority of the parties are such that the balance of convenience is undoubtedly that the two suits should be tried in the same place and the trial of the suit in the other place would cause so much inconvenience as would amount to an abuse of the process of the Court, an application for transfer of suit from such place to the place where the trial of both the suits would be more convenient should be allowed. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 5. When an application for transfer of a case under s. 22 does not challenge the jurisdiction of the Court in which the suit is pending, such application is maintainable. A. I. R. 1935 All. 979=1935 A. L. J. 1093=159 Ind. Cas. 644.

Notice.—Provisions as to notice, not being merely directory, bar application for transfer if not complied with. 107 Ind. Cas. 593. The words "after notice to other parties" mean notice prior to application. 11 P. R. 1917=150 P. W. R. 1916=16 P. L. R. 1917=35 Ind. Cas. 616. It is doubtful whether absence of notice contemplated by s. 22 is fatal to an application under s. 23. A. I. R. 1934 All. 14=1933 A. L. J. 1201 ; A. I. R. 1935 All. 979=1935 A. L. J. 1093.

Matters to be considered in granting relief.—Where the law allows a person to institute a suit in two different Courts, it is the plaintiff who has the right to choose his forum and his choice will not be interfered with by Court except under special circumstances. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 183. In application for transfer of suits the defendants must show that consideration of convenience outweigh the plaintiff's right as arbitrator and one should rather look to the allegation of the plaintiff than that of the defendant in considering such applications. Where the application is merely an attempt to get an order from the Court which would enable the petitioner to evade the question of jurisdiction decided against him, the application should not be allowed. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 183=100 Ind. Cas. 67. Where it was established that almost all the evidence would be available only at the place to which the transfer is applied for, the transfer should be allowed. Application for transfer should be made as early as possible. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 304=69 Ind. Cas. 239 ; but see 167 P. R. 1919=54 Ind. Cas. 935. Fact that defendant's witnesses will be put to inconvenience is no ground for transferring a case. 21 O. C. 217=48 Ind. Cas. 105. In an application for transfer under ss. 22 and 23 the question of want of jurisdiction of trying Court could not be raised. 1 Pat. L. T. 277=56 Ind. Cas. 920. In an application for transfer under s. 22 the convenience of the parties alone should not be considered, but the locality of the circumstances should indicate that a suit should proceed in a Court different from the Court chosen by the plaintiffs. A. I. R. 1935 All. 979=1935 A. L. J. 1093=1935 A. W. R. 1125.

23. [Ss. 22—24.] (1) Where the several Courts having jurisdiction are

To what Court application subordinate to the same appellate Court, an application under section 22 shall be made to the appellate Court, lies.

(2) Where such Courts are subordinate to different appellate Courts but to the same High Court, the application shall be made to the said High Court.

(3) Where such Courts are subordinate to different High Courts, the application shall be made to the High Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the Court in which the suit is brought is situate.

Amendment in Burma.—In sub-section (2) omit "but to the same High Court" and "said." Omit section (3)—G. B. Order, April, 1937.

Scope—For the purpose of transfer of a case, original side is subordinate to the High Court. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 183 ; A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 22=1 Bur. L. J. 194=11 L. B. R. 446=77 Ind. Where it has been held that a Judge of the original side not being subordinate to the High Court an application for the transfer of a suit pending before him will not lie before a bench of the same High Court. High Court can direct case to be tried by Court subordinate to High Court other than making such direction A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 640=110 Ind. Cas. 693. Application to a High Court to transfer a suit pending in a subordinate Court to another High Court falls under s. 23 (3) of the Code. S. 24 does not lay down any provision for the transfer of suits from and to the Courts subordinate to different High Courts. The High Court can, however, determine whether the suit shall proceed which order shall be final. A suit can be transferred only upon two grounds, viz., (a) that there will not be an impartial trial by the trying Court or (b) that there is a manifest preponderance of convenience to the petitioner if the suit is transferred to the other Court. The convenience of the plaintiffs and their witnesses has also to be considered. 1 Pat. L. T. 277=(1920) Pat. 235=56 Ind. Cas. 920. The mere fact that it would be more convenient to the applicant to have the action tried elsewhere is no sufficient reason to force the plaintiffs summarily out of the Court in which they are entitled to sue and to deprive them of the substantial sum expended by them on Court-fees by the application of inherent powers not utilized in practice except for the purpose of preventing or remedying grave abuse. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 306=69 Ind. Cas. 772. Under sub-section (3) High Court has jurisdiction to order the transfer of a suit even to a Court, outside its appellate jurisdiction. A. I. A case can be transferred from one Court to another, only when the Court is satisfied that the proceedings in the trying Court institute an abuse of the process of the Court. It is doubtful whether under s. 23 (3) a case can be transferred from the Purnea Court to the original side of the Calcutta High Court. 57 Ind. Cas. 649=1 Pat. L. T. 389. Court of Small Causes is not competent to make a reference in a case under s. 23, Cl. (3) if the Court has no jurisdiction to hear the suit. And the Chief Court will not order transfer of the suit, when no great inconvenience will be caused to the defendant by the trial of the suit in the Court in which it is filed. 77 P. L. R. 1909. 24. [S. 25.] (1) On the application of any of the parties and after notice to the parties and after hearing such General powers of transfer of them as desire to be heard, or of its own and withdrawal. motion without such notice, the High Court or the District Court may at any stage—

(a) transfer any suit, appeal or other proceeding pending before it for trial or disposal to any Court subordinate to it and competent to try or dispose of the same, or

(b) withdraw any suit, appeal or other proceeding pending in any Court subordinate to it, and

(i) try or dispose of the same ; or

(ii) transfer the same for trial or disposal to any Court subordinate to it and competent to try or dispose of the same ; or

(iii) retransfer the same for trial or disposal to the Court from which it was withdrawn.

(2) Where any suit or proceeding has been transferred or withdrawn under sub-section (1), the Court which thereafter tries such suit may, subject to any special directions in the case of an order of transfer, either retry it or proceed from the point at which it was transferred or withdrawn.

(3) For the purposes of this section, Courts of Additional and Assistant Judges shall be deemed to be subordinate to the District Court.

(4) The Court trying any suit transferred or withdrawn under this section from a Court of Small Causes, shall, for the purposes of such suit, be deemed to be a Court of Small Causes.

Scope—Where original Court finds that it has no jurisdiction to hear a suit the District Judge has no jurisdiction under s. 24 for that section contemplates only a transfer from one competent Court to another to transfer the suit. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 195=125 Ind. Cas. 334. The power of transfer vested in the High Court or the District Court by s. 24 is untrammelled by any conditions. Section 24 is general in its terms, and the power of transfer and withdrawal defined by that section can be exercised even with respect to suits which can be entertained by one Court alone ; all that is necessary to bring into play the jurisdiction of the High Court or the District Court to exercise the power of transfer and withdrawal given under s. 24 is that the suit, appeal or other proceeding sought to be transferred should be "pending before it" or "pending in any Court subordinate to it". The mere fact, that the suit, appeal or other proceeding is pending in a Court not having jurisdiction to dispose of the same, cannot oust the jurisdiction of the High Court or the District Court to withdraw or transfer that suit, appeal or other proceeding from the Court in which it is pending to some other Court competent to try the same. A. I. R. 1934 All. 569=1934 A. L. J. 345=3 A. W. R. 690=A. L. R. 1934 All. 412=150 Ind. Cas. 942. It is competent to the Senior Subordinate Judge to make an administration order transferring a case from one of the Subordinate Judges attached to that Court to another. But when once a Judge has taken cognizance of a suit, any order removing the suit from his file is an order of transfer. It may be no serious inconvenience is occasioned by such an order if the Judge has not commenced to hear the evidence ; but that is not the point. If the order is an order for transfer, it can only be made by the District Judge or the High Court, and once a Judge has taken cognizance of a suit, any order removing the suit from his file is an order of transfer, and cannot be regarded as a mere administrative redistribution of business. An order of transfer made without notice to the other party can be set aside in revision and on the application of one party. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 189=78 Ind. Cas. 614. Where District Judge transfers case on his own motion, he can do so without notice to the parties, but if the transfer is applied for by a party he must issue notice before ordinary transfer under s. 24. 18 A. L. J. 351=U. P. L. R. (All.) 83=58 Ind. Cas. 560. It is illegal to transfer suit without notice to parties. 33 P. W. R. 1917=40 Ind. Cas. 111 ; see also 13 N. L. R. 203=42 Ind. Cas. 746. In the absence of a notice informing parties of the transfer of case a party may well plead that he did not know in what Court he had to appear. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 444=84 Ind. Cas. 238. Notice to plaintiff's pleader in original Court is not sufficient. A. I. R. (1932) Lah. 668. No notice before institution is necessary. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 635=146 Ind. Cas. 38.

At any stage.—Where High Court refuses to transfer a case on its own motion, it can still transfer the case at a subsequent stage on plaintiff's application and after notice to defendant. A. I. R. 1923 All. 153=20 A. L. J. 97=70 Ind. Cas. 942. No order for transfer should be made when not only the evidence for the parties have been closed, but even the arguments have been heard. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 593=35 P. L. R. 574=A. L. R. 1934 Lah. 442.

Suit, appeal, etc.—Suit includes execution proceedings and so execution proceedings can be transferred under this section. A. I. R. 1925 All. 276=47 A. 57=85 Ind. Cas. 746 ; A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 345=95 Ind. Cas. 243 ; A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 421=49 M. 746=50 M. L. J. 161=95 Ind. Cas. 12. The word "proceeding" covers only those proceedings which were contemplated at the time of the passing of the C. P. Code. 25 A. L. J. 433=A. I. R. 1927 All. 469=49 A. 460=101 Ind. Cas. 247. Where a Judge has already expressed an opinion when deciding an appeal, it is desirable in the interests of justice, that the other appeal should be heard and decided by another Court. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 539=35 P. L. R. 468=152 Ind. Cas. 696. The High Court may not exercise the power of transferring appeals in its discretion. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 345=163 Ind. Cas. 962. It is not open to a District Judge in whose Court an appeal under s. 476B, Cr. P. Code is pending to transfer the appeal to the Court of Subordinate Judge. A. I. R. 1935 All. 440=1935 A. L. J. 473.

Any Court Subordinate to it.—Divisional Court not being subordinate to High Court, latter cannot transfer petition for alimony to Divisional Court. 40 B. 109=17 Bom. L. R. 948=31 Ind. Cas. 331. District Judge can transfer case from Munsiff to Sub-Judge having Small Cause Jurisdiction, though thereby party is deprived of his right of appeal. 36 Ind. Cas. 881. A Sub-Judge cannot exercise the powers under s. 24 unless the same are delegated to him by the District Judge under ss. 37 and 44, Punjab Courts Act. 33 P. W. R. 1917. A District Judge can delegate power of transfer but when so delegated it can only be exercised in cases pending in a Court subordinate to the Court exercising the power. 52 Ind. Cas. 352.

Competent to try.—The word "competent" refers to pecuniary jurisdiction only. 143 Ind. Cas. 75=54 A. 824=1932 A. L. J. 984=A. I. R. 1932 All. 660. Court, not possessing both pecuniary and territorial jurisdiction is not competent. 136 Ind. Cas. 304=1931 A. L. J. 1061=53 A. 916=A. I. R. 1933 All. 178. Proper construction to be put on the word is to hold that Court is competent when it can as regards nature and subject-matter of case and as regards pecuniary value, entertain transferred suit. Word does not include competence from point of view of territorial jurisdiction. 10 O. W. N. 443=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 154=144 Ind. Cas. 578=6 Luck. 347 "Competent" means of jurisdiction competent to try. 55 M. 960=1932 M. W. N. 763=36 L. W. 476=139 Ind. Cas. 477 M ; 63 M. L. J. 689=A. I. R. 1932 M. 683=A. L. R. 1932 M. 1213. A transfer cannot be made from one Court to another, unless the original Court has jurisdiction such one order, if made is void. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 405=54 M. L. J. 145=27 L. W. 609=108 Ind. Cas. 413.

Grounds for transfer.—Where the Judge has expressed his opinion, the case should be better transferred to another Court. 109 Ind. Cas. 402 (Lah). Applicant under s. 24 must make out strong case for transfer. Court should not interfere unless expense and difficulties are so great as would lead to injustice. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 944=130 Ind. Cas. 523. The fact that a Judge has decided a point of law arising in a previous case is not a good ground for transferring from his Court another case involving the same point. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 176=124 Ind. Cas. 687 ; A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 343=94 Ind. Cas. 394 ; 78 P. L. R. 1922=67 Ind. Cas. 228=1921 Lah. 357. The burden always lies on the applicant to make out a strong case for transfer. Mere balance of convenience would not be a sufficient ground, unless the expense and difficulties of the trial would be so great as to lead to injustice, or the forum was deliberately chosen for the purpose of working injustice. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 115=31 P. L. R. 920=130 Ind. Cas. 523. The onus of establishing sufficient ground for transfer lies heavily on the applicant. He must prove that he has a reasonable apprehension that he might not get justice in the Court in which the suit is pending. Incidents said to have taken place between a party's pleader and the Judge do not justify transfer of the case from the Judge. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 593=35 P. L. R. 574=A. L. R. 1934 Lah. 442. Even in a case of a communal or quasi-communal nature, it is not open to a person belonging to one community to obtain the transfer of the case from a Court presided over by a Judge belonging to the rival community. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 762=150 Ind. Cas. 334=36 P. L. R. 29.

The High Court has no jurisdiction to transfer the matter if the matter sought to be transferred is not one within the jurisdiction of the Court. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 95=150 Ind. Cas. 839. Defendant having influence in the town is no ground for transfer. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 80=98 Ind. Cas. 859. Prejudice of Judge against party's pleader cannot be presumed to operate against the party and hence it is no ground for transfer unless it is likely to affect judicial attitude of Judge towards the party or his case. 91 Ind. Cas. 559. The reasonable apprehension on the part of the litigant should no doubt receive consideration, but the apprehension must be such as a reasonable man might reasonably be expected to have. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 564=77 Ind. Cas. 762. Transfer of case without looking to convenience of parties and without hearing defendants is illegal. 23 C. L. J. 295=33 Ind. Cas. 797. Burden of proof of balance of convenience as ground for transfer is on applicant. 14 A. L. J. 242=32 Ind. Cas. 613. Removal of suit against plaintiff's will from Court where plaintiff brought it, must be supported by good cause. 17 A. L. J. 371=41 A. 38=50 Ind. Cas. 368. The convenience of the parties in the conduct of litigation is certainly a relevant consideration, and it is perhaps not too much to say that it is the basis of nearly all statutory jurisdiction on the civil side. 135 Ind. Cas. 402=27 N. L. R. 307=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 49=A. L. R. 1932 Nag. 15; see also A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 635=146 Ind. Cas. 38. Where a judgment-debtor is justified in thinking the Subordinate Judge is prejudiced against him, the case should be transferred to some other Court. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 915. Mere fact that a Subordinate Judge is subordinate to Commissioner in his executive capacity is no ground for transfer of suit, where the person applying transfer has been dismissed from the office of Ghatwal and the suit is a declatory suit relating to that office. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 338. Where District Judge decided appeal on entire evidence including additional evidence admitted by himself and his decree was set aside and the case was remanded, it was held on application of transfer by party that it was a proper case for transfer. 10 O. W. N. 443=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 154=8 Luck. 347. An order for transfer by the High Court is competent where two appeals are pending involving the same questions in the District Court and the High Court respectively. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 1033. Close relationship of the Judge to one of the parties is a ground for transfer. A. I. R. 1932 Sind 206. Mere balance of convenience is not sufficient ground for transfer, though it may be a relevant consideration. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 115. Where in some prior proceedings the Judge has expressed an opinion very definitely as to the nature and value of the plaintiffs' account books and the same books have to be considered in the subsequent suit, it is desirable to transfer the case in the interest of justice. 32 P. L. R. 388. In ordering transfer convenience of the parties is not merely a relevant but also a material consideration, and such convenience is at the basis of all the arrangement for statutory jurisdiction on the civil side. Where in a partition suit the greater part of the property is situated in B District, that is a reason why it should be advantageous to both parties to have the suit tried in that district. The mere fact that the majority of the parties reside there, is not very weighty consideration in favour of transfer. That a party has engaged a counsel with heavy fees is a circumstance to be considered when ordering transfer. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 219=10 N. L. J. 67=101 Ind. Cas. 723.

Sub-section (2)—Under s. 24 (2), the District Judge can transfer a Small Cause suit from the Court of Small Causes to another Court not exercising Small Cause Court powers. 147 Ind. Cas. 334. The word "suit" when occurs for the second time in sub-section (2) must be taken to include proceeding: otherwise parts of sub-section would be quite meaningless. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 56=161 Ind. Cas. 54.

Sub-section (4).—The expression "Court of Small Causes" includes a Court vested with the powers of a Court of Small Causes as well as Courts constituted under Act IX of 1887, and where a suit is transferred under that sub-section procedure for trial is governed by the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act and no appeal lies from the decision. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 354=49 C. L. J. 237=56 C. 588=120 Ind. Cas. 589; A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 49=4 Pat. L. T. 259=69 Ind. Cas. 717; 14 A. L. J. 705; 38 A. 425=14 A. L. J. 549=34 Ind. Cas. 113; 39 A. 214=15 A. L. J. 69=37 Ind. Cas. 809; 38 M. 25=23 M. L. J. 373=(1912) M. W. N. 1086=17 Ind. Cas. 425; A. I. R. 1928 All. 609=26 A. L. J. 839=110 Ind. Cas. 493; 46 Ind. Cas. 314=20 O. C. 350. Section 24 (4) does not apply to cases transferred from Small Causes Court to Honorary Munsiff's Court. Decrees passed by latter Court are therefore appealable. 1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 27 ; 54 Ind. Cas. 435. Section 16, Small Cause Courts Act is no bar to the exercise of powers of transfer of the District Judge under s. 24, C. P. Code, A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 901 ; see also 151 Ind. Cas. 385=A. I. R. 1934 All. 530. Where Small Cause Court finding question of title involved, sends a case to District Judge and the latter transfers the same to a Munsiff, the District Judge's order of transfer is under s. 23, Provincial Small Cause Courts Act and not under s. 24, C. P. Code. An appeal therefore, lay from the decision. 64 Ind. Cas. 335 ; see also 115 Ind. Cas. 127=26 A. L. J. 772=50A. 810=A. I. R. 1929 A. 50. The Small Cause Court does not cease to exist if at any time there should be no Judge to preside over it. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 561=26 P. L. R. 308=88 Ind. Cas. 139. Where a suit instituted in the Court of Small Cause is transferred to the regular side, the Judge trying the suit has the same powers as the Small Cause Court possessed in the matter of awarding compensation under s. 35A. A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 133=120 Ind. Cas. 412. Order of transfer passed under sub-clause (4) cannot invest Court not having Small Cause jurisdiction with such jurisdiction nor could such an order enable a Judge having Small Cause jurisdiction up to a particular limit to try suit exceeding that limit as a Small Cause suit. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 513=56 M. L. J. 649=29 L. W. 810=121 Ind. Cas. 481. Where a Small Cause suit is transferred to a Court which is not invested with any Small Cause jurisdiction, the latter Court is to be deemed for the purpose of the transferred suit to be a Court of Small Causes. 55 M. 960=1932 M. W. N. 763=36 L. W. 479=63 M. L. J. 689=139 Ind. Cas. 477=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 683=A. L. R. 1932 Mad. 1213 ; 135 Ind. Cas. 402=27 N. L. R. 307=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 49=A. L. R. 1932 Nag. 15 ; 1933 A. L. J. 1196=A. I. R. 1933 All. 662=145 Ind. Cas. 701 ; A. I. R. 1935 All. 690=1935 A. L. J. 511=157 Ind. Cas. 210 ; A. I. R. 1935 All. 765 ; A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 42=31 N. L. R. 170 ; A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 883. Section 24 (4) makes no reference to the Court to which a case is transferred from a Small Cause Court being invested with Small Cause powers upto any particular extent or indeed with Small Cause Court powers at all. The terms of the section appear rather to be intended to confer the powers of a Small Cause Court upon the trying Court for that particular case irrespective of the powers with which the Court is invested. Sub-section (4) gives the power to transfer a suit from a Small Cause Court to a regular Court irrespective of the Small Cause Court powers of the Court to which the suit is transferred, provided the suit to be transferred is within the limits of the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court to which the transfer is to be made. Pcr Baker J. in 56 B. 387=34 Bom. L. R. 931=139 Ind. Cas. 194=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 486=A. L. R. 1932 Bom. 681. Sub-clause (4) does not deal with transfers to a Court already invested with Small Cause powers. The word "deemed" seems to indicate that it deals with transfers to a Court without such powers. Therefore where a suit is transferred to a Small Cause Court, there is nothing in the sub-section which requires that suits of higher value when transferred should be tried as Small Cause suits or that there shall be no appeal therefrom. 55 M. 960=1932 M. W. N. 763=36 L. W. 479=63 M. L. J. 689=139 Ind. Cas. 477=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 683=A. L. R. 1932 Mad. 1213. Obviously s. 24 contemplates the transfer of a case from one existing Court to another existing Court. If therefore, a Court of Small Causes has ceased to exist or the officer invested with Small Cause Court powers has been transferred from the District and there is no other officer possessing such power there would be no Court from which the District Court can under s. 24 transfer the case to an ordinary Civil Court. The contingency where no Court or officer invested with Small Cause Court powers exists is provided for in s. 35 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. 54 A. 171=A. I. R. 1931 All. 574=136 Ind. Cas. 357=1931 A. L. J. 953 (F. B.).

Revision.—High Court in its general powers of superintendence can direct transfer of a case where District Judge has refused to exercise that power under s. 24. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 326=87 Ind. Cas. 170 ; A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 383=8 P. L. T. 777=103 Ind. Cas. 456. The High Court in revision has authority to retransfer a case to the original Court without the formality of first having the plaint filed in the Court to which the case is transferred. A. I. R. 1933 All. 249=21 A. L. J. 86=73 Ind. Cas. 495. The High Court has jurisdiction to make an order of transfer under s. 24 and not being a 'judgment' either under the Code or under any other "express enactment" an order of transfer made under s. 24 is not subject to appeal. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 267 (F. B.)=13 Rang. 457=157 Ind. Cas. 1107.

notice to the defendant and time was granted for putting in the deficit Court-fee : Held that at the time the order of dismissal was set aside, there was no opposite party on whom the notice could be served, as the summons in the suit had not yet been issued on the defendant and as until the suit was registered, the suit could not be said to have been duly instituted. The order of dismissal passed at that stage of case can be reviewed without notice to the defendant. 26 C. W. N. 391 = A. I. R. 1922 Cal 234 = 69 Ind. Cas. 43.

Service of summons where defendant resides in another Province.

28. [S. 85.] (1) A summons may be sent for service in another Province to such Court and in such manner as may be prescribed by rules in force in that province.

(2) The Court to which summons is sent shall, upon receipt thereof, proceed as if it had been issued by such Court and shall then return the summons to the Court of issue together with the record (if any) of its proceedings with regard thereto.

Amendment in Burma.—This section has been omitted in Burma by Government of Burma (Adaptation of Laws) Order, 1937.

29. [S. 650A.] Summonses issued by any Civil or Revenue Court situate beyond the limits of British India may be sent to the Courts in British India and served as if they had been issued by such Courts :

[India] "Provided that the Court issuing such summonses have been established or continued by the authority of Central Government or of the Crown Representative, or that the Provincial Government by whose Courts a summons is to be served has by notification in the official Gazette declared the provisions of this section to apply to Courts of the Province."*

British India.—"British India" shall mean as respects the period before the commencement of the Government of Burma Act, 1935, all territories and places with His Majesty's Dominions which were for the time being governed by His Majesty through the Governor-General of India or through any Governor or officer subordinate to the Governor-General of India, and as respects any period after that date shall have the same meaning as in the Government of India Act, 1935."—Burma General Clauses Act, s 2(5).

30. [New.] Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may, at any time, either Power to order discovery and the like. of its own motion or on the application of any party,—

(a) make such orders as may be necessary or reasonable in all matters relating to the delivery and answering of interrogatories, the admission of documents and facts, and the discovery, inspection, production, impounding and return of documents or other material objects producible as evidence ;

(b) issue summonses to persons whose attendance is required either to give evidence or to produce documents or such other objects as aforesaid ;

(c) order any fact to be proved by affidavit.

31. [New.] The provisions in sections 27, 28 and 29 shall apply to Summons to witness. summonses to give evidence, or to produce documents or other material objects.

32. [New.] The Court may compel the attendance of any person to whom a summons has been issued under section Penalty for default. 30 and for that purpose may—

- (b) attach and sell his property ;
- (c) impose a fine upon him not exceeding five hundred rupees ;
- (d) order him to furnish security for his appearance and in default commit him to the civil prison.

Scope.—This section does not apply to the case of a party who fails to produce documents which he has been ordered to produce. 5 Pat. L. J. 550=1 Pat. L. T. 668=58 Ind. Cas. 281. No fine will be imposed on person who fails to attend on the day for which he was summoned, if he is not subsequently required to give evidence and has not been called upon to appear on subsequent date. JUDGMENT AND DECREE.

33. [S. 198.] The Court, after the case has been heard, shall pronounce judgment and decree. Judgment and decree shall follow.

Scope.—Decree drawn up by the Court must be in accordance with judgment. A. I. R. 1924 All. 818=22 A. L. J. 791=46 A. 864=82 Ind. Cas. 184. Court's omission to draw up decree following judgment does not deprive party of his right to appeal. 66 P. R. 1919=52 Ind. Cas. 479. A party is not required to apply to draw up decree nor is he required to apply for copy of a decree until it is drawn up. Hence party's failure so to apply does not affect right to appeal. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 271=20 N. L. R. 131=78 Ind. Cas. 996. The judgment having been pronounced a decree must be prepared in accordance with it and the Court cannot direct the stoppage of the preparation of the decree. 11 P. 532=13 P. L. T. 304=137 Ind. Cas. 855=A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 228=1 R. 1932 P. 195.

INTEREST.

34. [S. 209] (1) Where and in so far as a decree is for the payment of money, the Court may, in the decree, order interest at such rate as the Court deems reasonable to be paid on the principal sum adjudged, from the date of the suit to the date of the decree, in addition to any interest adjudged on such principal sum for any period prior to the institution of the suit, with further interest at such rate as the Court deems reasonable on the aggregate sum so adjudged, from the date of the decree to the date of payment, or to such earlier date as the Court thinks fit.

(2) Where such a decree is silent with respect to the payment of further interest on such aggregate sum as aforesaid from the date of the decree to the date of payment or other earlier date, the Court shall be deemed to have refused such interest, and a separate suit therefor shall not lie.

Scope.—Section 34 or its principle is not intended to be used as a means for providing for compound interest but to relieve the debtor of a harder rate of interest. But an order allowing interest up to date of decree and compounding it with the principal on the date of the decree and allowing interest thereon at the Court rate is sanctioned by s. 34 of the C. P. Code. 61 C. 711. The plaintiff cannot claim the contract rate of interest as a matter of right. 61 C. 711. The Court has discretion in awarding interest. A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 141=8 R. R. 558=162 Ind. COSTS.

Costs.

Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, and to the provisions of any law for the time being in force, the costs of and incident to all suits shall be in the discretion of the Court, and the Court shall have full power to determine by whom or out of what property and to what extent such costs are to be paid, and to give all necessary directions for the purposes aforesaid. The fact that the Court has no jurisdiction to try the suit shall be no bar to the exercise of such powers.

(2) Where the Court directs that any costs shall not follow the event, the Court shall state its reasons in writing.

(3) The Court may give interest on costs at any rate not exceeding six per cent. per annum, and such interest shall be added to the costs and shall be recoverable as such.

Scope—The award of cost rests with the discretion of the Judge. Discretion means judicial discretion, which must be exercised with established legal principles and not to be exercised capriciously. 24 C. W. N. 352=58 Ind. Cas. 421; A. I. R. 1937 Mad. 145. Where a person whose suit has been dismissed by the trial Court is successful in appeal and the appellate Court remands the case for trial in accordance with law, he is entitled to his costs if he ultimately succeeds in the trial Court, but it is a fairer order to direct that the costs of appeal in the appellate Court should abide the final result of the suit. A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 316=9 R. R. 59=164 Ind. Cas. 133. When the judgment-debtor appellant was evading the satisfaction of the decree for a long time, inspite of his ability to pay, he was not allowed any costs even when successful. 148 Ind. Cas. 246=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 10=11 O. W. N. 72.

Where the action of the petitioning creditor in making the application for the winding up of a company and in insisting upon further proceedings in liquidation is not bonafide he should be saddled with the entire costs of the liquidation. And in the absence of a clear provision in the Companies Act dealing with a case of this kind, the matter is governed by s. 35, Civil Procedure Code, under which section the High Court can pass proper order in this behalf. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 746. A plaintiff appellant should be allowed the cost of appeal where a wrong decree has been passed by the trial Court through oversight. 11 O. W. N. 1165=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 449.

The Court has power to order on unsuccessful infant plaintiff to pay the defendant's costs and vice versa and such costs can be ordered to be paid out of the minor's estate. Orders can be made on a next friend or guardian ad litem to pay the costs personally. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 474=59 C. L. J. 9=51 C. 227=151 Ind. Cas. 399. But in considering the provisions of the Code relating to costs i. e. s. 35 or to damages for improper arrest or attachment before judgment, it is not right to deal with the general law where a minor's estate is to be made liable in respect of the acts of a guardian. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 866=42 L. W. 542=1935 M. W. N. 1055=158 Ind. Cas. 831.

Cost should follow the result of the suit.—The ordinary rule is that a successful party is entitled to the cost of the suit. 18 B. 474. But a successful party may be ordered to pay the cost of the suit because his conduct in the case does not appear to be creditable and straight-forward. 124 Ind. Cas. 140=A. I. R. 1930 M. 154=58 M. L. J. 29=1929 M. W. N. 831=31 L. W. 97 ; 27 M. 341 ; 12 C. 18 (P. C.) ; 54 M. L. J. 603=110 Ind. Cas. 5=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 346. A party must produce all such material documents relating to the suit as may be in his possession, even though no application has been made for their production by the other party. Non-production would entail deprivation of costs. A. I. R. 1929 All. 134=1929 A. L. J. 262=112 Ind. Cas. 791. Where party, tries to profit by his fraud, discretion in awarding costs should be used against him. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 707=123 Ind. Cas. 39. Where a case was not properly presented in trial Court, but appeal was successful, the costs in the trial Court was refused. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 218=58 M. L. J. 210=21 L. W. 65=53 M. 480=122 Ind. Cas. 504; see also 104 Ind. Cas. 325=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 723; A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 246=118 Ind. Cas. 533; A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 240=115 Ind. Cas. 23. In an application by plaintiff to revenue authorities for partition of land, the defendant set up exclusive title to the land and repeated it in the Civil Courts but failed. The plaintiff should be allowed the costs of the suit. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 222=116 Ind. Cas. 717. Where a point as to limitation was newly raised in application for review, the party was allowed to raise it but was ordered to pay the costs of that application. A. I. R. 1928 P. C. 103=6 R. 302=30 Bom. L. R. 842=47 C. L. J. 515=26 C. L. J. 657=32 C. W. N. 845=55 I. A. 161=28 L. W. 204=54 M. L. J. 696 (P. C.). Costs generally abide result. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 513=77 Ind. Cas. 416; A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 297=40 A. L. J. 504=85 Ind. Cas. 127; A. I. R. 1921 Bom. 71=45 Bom. 1177=23 Bom. L. R. 189=61 Ind. Cas. 271; A. I. R. 1923 B. 265=25 Bom. L. R. 323=47 B. 637. Costs to successful party are given as compensation for probable expenses. In complicated cases, special costs may be given. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 185=48 C. 427=25 C. W. N. 297=60 Ind. Cas. 337. Wasting of Court's time by false or unnecessary evidence justifies refusal of cost. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 474=100 Ind. Cas. 224. Absent defendant need not be necessarily exempted from payment of costs. Antecedent conduct of defendant leading up to necessity for institution of suit should be looked into. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 569=29 C. W. N. 297=86 Ind. Cas. 321. Where trial Court decided case on generally accepted rulings which were subsequently explained or dissented from, the appellate Court in reversing the decision should not saddle the respondent with costs. A. I. R. 1930 All. 167=124 Ind. Cas. 23. In awarding costs, Court should not include the costs of witnesses who were summoned but were not examined in Court. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 681=164 Ind. Cas. 689=38 P. L. R. 219. Where two sets of defendants, having the same defence appeared through different counsel, they are not entitled to two separate sets of costs. 1936 A. M. L. J. 63. A successful party may be deprived of cost, if he has rendered elucidation difficult by confusion of pleadings. 18 R. D. 510=15 L. R. 652 (Rev.).

Sub-section (2).—Successful party is generally entitled to cost. 122 Ind. Cas. 378; 54 M. L. J. 603=27 L. W. 841=110 Ind. Cas. 5=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 346. Sub-section (2) provides that where a Court directs that costs shall not follow the Court, the Court shall state the reasons in writing. 16 R. D. 290=12 U. D. 336; A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 224=5 O. W. N. 35=107 Ind. Cas. 881; A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 527=27 Bom. L. R. 422; A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 302=75 Ind. Cas. 64; 3 U. P. L. R. All. 55=64 Ind. Cas. 962; 24 C. W. N. 352=58 Ind. Cas. 421; 17 R. D. 164; A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 49=29 N. L. R. 8; 1936 A. M. L. J. 63. Such discretion may be interfered with when there has been violence of any established principle, misapprehension of facts and no real exercise of discretion. 3 U. P. L. R. All. 55=64 Ind. Cas. 962; 24 C. W. N. 352=58 Ind. Cas. 421. Reasons should be stated also when granting greater or less costs than are usually granted in a particular case. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 171=108 Ind. Cas. 740. Where Court's discretion results in costs following even, reasons need not be stated. 95 Ind. Cas. 446 (Nag.). Where not only the reasons are not stated but there is no reason at all why any cost should not be allowed and the main expenditure in the case appears to have been due to the folly of the party against, when the decree has been passed, the full costs in the case should be allowed. 16 R. D. 290=12 U. D. 336.

Appeal against order of cost.—The awarding of costs is a matter entirely within the discretion of trial Court and if the trial Court has exercised that jurisdiction in a judicial manner it is not open to the appellate Court to interfere with the discretion of the trial Court except for good reasons which are clear from the facts and circumstances in the case. Where the appellate Court interferes on wrong grounds, the High Court can interfere in the second appeal. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 259=11 O. W. N. 754=149 Ind. Cas. 901; see also A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 9=6 Luck. 378.

Appeal only against order of costs while accepting decisions on main point is not maintainable. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 445=32 Bom. L. R. 406=126 Ind. Cas. 334. Discretion exercised will not be interfered with unless the lower Court proceeds manifestly upon wrong ground. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 699=2 O. W. N. 901=91 Ind. Cas. 111; 72 Ind. Cas. 993=A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 37; 47 C. 67=56 Ind. Cas. 334; 20 C. W. N. 929=23 C. L. J. 606=36 Ind. Cas. 655. Appeal is entertainable against a decision on the question of costs where a question of principle is involved. 21 C. W. N. 339=39 Ind. Cas. 388; A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 73; 42 B. 327=20 Bom. L. R. 905=

47 Ind. Cas. 762 ; 25 Bom. L. R. 242=47 B. 559=72 Ind. Cas. 324 ; 40 A. 558=16 A. L. J. 592=48 Ind. Cas. 478 ; A. I. R. 1921 U. B. R. 20=63 Ind. Cas. 811 ; 3 U. P. L. R. (A.) 55=64 Ind. Cas. 262 ; A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 234 ; 30 Bom. L. R. 1622=53 B. 178. Some order as to costs must be made, so failure to do so is appealable. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 155=25 O. C. 385=10 O. L. J. 20=73 Ind. Cas. 222. Second appeal lies on question of costs if question of law or principle is involved or discretion is exercised arbitrarily. 2 Lah. 332=27 P. L. R. 391=100 Ind. Cas. 598 ; 35 C. L. J. 156=68 Ind. Cas. 60 ; 2 Lah. L. J. 310 ; 52 Ind. Cas. 961 ; 97 P. W. R. 1918=45 Ind. Cas. 948 ; 56 Ind. Cas. 971 ; A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 156=34 C. L. J. 475=66 Ind. Cas. 903

Question of costs cannot be raised newly in second appeal. A. I. R. 1923 All. 334=75 Ind. Cas. 527. Second appeal does not lie on question of costs concurrently decided. A. I. R. 1926 All. 419=93 Ind. Cas. 1008. No appeal lies against direction how costs are to be taxed. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 432=27 Bom. L. R. 692=89 Ind. Cas. 211. Where trial Court orders parties to bear their own costs, and only one party appeals therefrom, such party cannot be ordered to pay costs of non-appealing party in trial Court. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 177=30 P. L. R. 600=118 Ind. Cas. 464.

Interference by High Court.—High Court will not interfere unless question of principle is involved. A. I. R. 1931 All. 126=(1931) A. L. J. 16=129 Ind. Cas. 551 ; A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 406=6 O. W. N. 689=119 Ind. Cas. 449 ; A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 35=90 Ind. Cas. 577 ; 46 Ind. Cas. 544 ; 27 C. L. J. 78=45 Ind. Cas. 733 ; 32 Ind. Cas. 579=3 L. W. 109=19 M. L. T. 86. But the High Court can interfere where reason given by the lower Court is not supported by facts. 11 N. L. R. 189=31 Ind. Cas. 880. Where trial Court had given good reasons for order as to costs, and the first appellate Court interfered without giving any reasons, the High Court interfered. A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 114=27 O. C. 64=9 O. L. J. 629=74 Ind. Cas. 369. The High Court can interfere in second appeal where question of principle is involved. 41 A. 254=17 A. L. J. 169=49 Ind. Cas. 696. But there would be no interference where reasonable discretion has been exercised. 73 Ind. Cas. 507=A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 110.

Appeal to Privy Council.—Where leave to appeal obtained but appeal not presented, appellant must pay costs of application. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 471=27 Bom. L. R. 699=89 Ind. Cas. 213. Where respondent lodged a case but did not appear at the hearing and the appeal was dismissed with costs, the costs should be paid to the respondent down to the lodging of the case. 47 A. 459=87 Ind. Cas. 292=41 C. L. J. 450=27 Bom. L. R. 853 (P. C.)=49 M. L. J. 238.

Costs against legal practitioners.—High Court cannot order a legal practitioner to pay the costs of an application or suit personally except where s. 35 can be made applicable. A. I. R. 1930 All. 225=(1930) A. L. J. 402=52 A. 619=125 Ind. Cas. 477 (F. B.). Section 35 has a wider scope and authorizes a Court to make an order as to costs, against a person who is not a party to the litigation but the section has nothing to do with the misconduct of Advocates. Cases of contempt of Court are not within the scope of the section. Ibid.

Sub section (3).—There is no such thing as a "Court rate" of interest. A rate of six per cent. per annum which is the maximum awardable on costs may be appropriate rate of interest to allow for damages. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 363=94 Ind. Cas. 971. Interest should not be allowed until costs have been actually incurred. 60 Ind. Cas. 345. Where judgment is silent as to costs, it can be included in decree. 35 Ind. Cas. 218.

Account suit—Costs against unsuccessful party can be given in preliminary decree. A. I. R. 1930 All. 72=121 Ind. Cas. 550. Where defendants are largely responsible for litigation and hampering investigation they must pay full costs. 24 C. W. N. 110=30 C. L. J. 417=54 Ind. Cas. 636 ; see also 20 C. W. N. 368=35 Ind. Cas. 383.

Costs in administration suit.—Where litigation is caused by act of deceased, estate should pay the cost. A. I. R. 1931 Sind 17=25 S. L. R. 72=129 Ind. Cas. 900. Costs of intervenor voluntarily coming in for future personal benefit should not be saddled on claimant. 24 C. W. N. 888=48 C. 352=59 Ind. Cas. 581.

Cost of Commission.—Party taking out commission succeeding to any extent is entitled to costs. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 719=33 C. W. N. 614=122 Ind. Cas. 220.

Cost against several defendants.—Where a decree for cost has passed against several defendants, each is jointly and severally liable. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 215=70 Ind. Cas. 782. Where the decree does not indicate the proportions in which the costs are to be borne by the defendants or respondents, the accepted rule is that such a decree imposes a joint and several liability on all the respondents. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 24=13 P. L. T. 619=140 Ind. Cas. 874; see also A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 308=1932 P. C. L. 308; 1932 A. L. J. 411=A. I. R. 1932 A. 383=A. L. R. 1932 All. 641.

Divorce suit.—Wife's cost in a divorce suit should be paid by the husband irrespective of result. 66 Ind. Cas. 494=A. I. R. 1922 All. 243.

Guardianship proceedings.—Philanthropic society unsuccessfully seeking to be made a guardian of a minor's property cannot claim costs as they are not expenses either on account of necessities or as having been incurred for the welfare of the minor or for the protection of his estate. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 397=51 C. L. J. 272=58 C. 15=126 Ind. Cas. 707.

Income-tax reference.—Successful assessee is entitled to recover deposit. A. I. R. 1931 All. 23=1930 A. L. J. 1548=52 A. 991=130 Ind. Cas. 634.

Insolvency proceeding.—Costs on petitioning creditor on setting aside adjudication order cannot be set off against debt due. A. I. R. 1930 B. 516=32 Bom. L. R. 1076=128 Ind. Cas. 24. Where simple order cost has been passed against official receiver, he is personally liable, he is entitled to be reimbursed on obtaining leave of Court. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 105=55 M. L. J. 873=28 L. W. 719=114 Ind. Cas. 825. Official Receiver or trustee in bankruptcy may be ordered to pay costs. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 105=54 M. L. J. 873=28 L. W. 719=52 M. 263=114 Ind. Cas. 825.

Judicial separation.—Section 35] does not empower Court to order costs in cases of judicial separation. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 558=57 C. 1089=34 C. W. N. 319=127 Ind. Cas. 559.

Maintenance suits.—In awarding costs in maintenance suits, Courts should see if claim was excessive or exaggerated. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 479=59 M. L. J. 531=32 L. W. 729=126 Ind. Cas. 597. Costs in proportion to success should be awarded. 10 L. W. 540=(1919) M. W. N. 878=53 Ind. Cas. 796; A. L. R. 1932 Mad. 1203. Where widow claimed maintenance at a rate found to be excessive though being prevented from knowing the actual income of the family property and where the defendant put up vexatious pleas to defeat her claim, she is entitled her full costs. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 216=54 M. L. J. 530=28 L. W. 328=108 Ind. Cas. 712.

Mortgage suit.—Personal decree for cost against party who is not mortgagor can be granted by Court. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 272=33 L. W. 263=131 Ind. Cas. 151. Mortgagor is ordinarily entitled to costs in redemption suit. But where question of compensation is involved and where mortgagor failed even to deposit the mortgage amount in full mortgagee is entitled to his cost. (1917) M. W. N. 275=38 Ind. Cas. 655. In a redemption suit where the mortgagee alleges the transaction to be a sale he is not entitled to cost. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 172=25 Bom. L. R. 1209. Claim for cost is not an independent claim, costs form part of entire decretal amount to be realized. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1135=41 C. L. J. 697=93 Ind. Cas. 364. In a suit by mortgagee to enforce his security, the order as to costs may be to give him liberty to add his costs to his security. But there must be an order for payment of costs against mortgagor or receiver disputing validity of mortgage. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 11=31 Bom. L. R. 1199=122 Ind. Cas. 857. The transferee of the equity of redemption can be personally saddled with cost where he raises pleas for which there is no foundation. 34 F. L. R. 171=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 329. A puisne mortgagee may also be liable for cost for his own conduct, although ordinarily he is not so liable in a mortgage suit. A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 335. It is not illegal to award a personal decree for costs against a party to a suit who is not himself a mortgagor. A. I. R. 1931 M. 272=131 Ind. Cas. 151; see also A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 153=133 Ind. Cas. 225=9 R. 186.

Parties.—Guardian continuing as such after minor has attained majority, is liable for costs. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 782=1929 M. W. N. 545=123 Ind. Cas. 805. The words "by whom" in s. 35 include next friends and guardians of minor plaintiffs and defendants. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 782=(1929) M. W. N. 545=123 Ind. Cas. 805. Third party claiming through a party to a suit, against whom costs are awarded is liable. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 577=(1930) M. W. N. 153=58 M. L. J. 318=31 L. W. 262=53 M. 708=123 Ind. Cas. 47. Where several defendants raised various defences, separate costs can be awarded. 18 M. L. T. 460=(1915) M. W. N. 1021=31 Ind. Cas. 312; A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 432=27 Bom. L. R. 692=89 Ind. Cas. 211. In case of alternative relief against two sets of defendants unsuccessful defendant must bear costs of other defendant. 11 S. L. R. 1=42 Ind. Cas. 636. Defendant against whom suit fails is entitled to costs. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1084=51 M. L. J. 446=24 L. W. 378. Guardian ad litem of a party can be made to pay costs. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 590=1928 M. W. N. 318=110 Ind. Cas. 380. Co-plaintiff not appealing made respondent cannot get costs of appeal. A. I. R. 1923 All. 119=20 A. L. J. 980=71 Ind. Cas. 424; A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 738=52 M. 845=30 L. W. 254=57 M. L. J. 374=122 Ind. Cas. 167. Defendant against whom claim is not proved is entitled to costs. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 464=26 P. L. R. 254=97 Ind. Cas. 795. Plaintiff who had no just claim should pay defendant's costs. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 76=52 C. L. J. 357=58 C. 561=129 Ind. Cas. 860. Where parties are joined, unnecessarily the party at whose instance they were joined should pay cost. 129 Ind. Cas. 235=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 913=59 M. L. J. 524=23 L. W. 438. Costs cannot be granted against a party against whom no relief is sought. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 195=30 L. W. 949=58 M. L. J. 118=124 Ind. Cas. 216.

Damage suit.—In a claim for moral damages, it is hardly right to order proportionate costs. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 493=29 L. W. 604=(1929) M. W. N. 341=119 Ind. Cas. 149. In a libel case where claim for damage was much higher than allowed the cost is at the discretion of the Court. 117 Ind. Cas. 884=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 129=10 Lah. 816; see also 78 Ind. Cas. 573=46 M. L. J. 366=A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 692=(1924) M. W. N. 373=20. L. W. 60.

Partition suit.—In a suit for partition where the defendant pleaded but failed to prove partition, he can be directed to pay costs of suit. 35 C. W. N. 115. Ordinarily in a partition suit, parties should bear their own costs. The institution fee should be borne proportionately by all. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 464=77 Ind. Cas. 914. Where plaintiff's claim has not been contested, the costs up to preliminary decree cannot be awarded to the plaintiff. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 336=11 Pat. L. T. 233=9 Pat. 773=125 Ind. Cas. 129. Where neither party is guilty of unfair contention, costs till the preliminary decree, should come out of the estate. 11 L. W. 5=54 Ind. Cas. 382.

Will.—Where litigation was caused by vagueness of Will, costs should come out of estate. 78 Ind. Cas. 249=A. I. R. 1925 Sind 195=19 S. L. R. 220.

Cost of witness.—Expenses incurred in procuring attendance of witnesses can be included in the cost. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 800=10 Lah. L. J. 401=109 Ind. Cas. 476. Non-resident witness whether party or not is entitled to his expenses when his evidence is material and necessary. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 24=54 B. 62=31 Bom. L. R. 1020=122 Ind. Cas. 121.

* [35A.] (1) If in any suit or other proceeding, not being an appeal, Compensatory cost in respect of false or vexatious claims or defences.

any party objects to the claim or defence on the ground that the claim or defence or any part of it is, as against the objector, false or vexatious to the knowledge of the party by whom it has been put forward, and if thereafter, as against the objector, such claim or defence is disallowed, abandoned or withdrawn in whole or in part, the Court, if the objection has been taken at the earliest opportunity and if it is satisfied of the justice thereof, may, after recording its reasons for holding such claim or defence to be false or vexatious, make an order for the payment to the objector, by the party by whom such claim or defence has been put forward, of costs by way of compensation.

(2) No Court shall make any such order for the payment of an amount

* Section 35A was inserted by s. 2 of the Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1922 (9 of 1922) which under section 1 (2) thereof may with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council be brought into force in any Province by the Local Government on any specified date.

exceeding one thousand rupees or exceeding the limits of its pecuniary jurisdiction, whichever amount is less :

Provided that where the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of any Court exercising the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887,* and not being a Court constituted under that Act, are less than two hundred and fifty rupees, the High Court may empower such Court to award as costs under this section any amount not exceeding two hundred and fifty rupees and not exceeding those limits by more than one hundred rupees :

Provided, further, that the High Court may limit the amount which any Court or class of Courts is empowered to award as costs under this section.

(3) No person against whom an order has been made under this section shall, by reason thereof, be exempted from any criminal liability in respect of any claim or defence made by him.

(4) The amount of any compensation awarded under this section in respect of a false or vexatious claim or defence shall be taken into account in any subsequent suit for damages or compensation in respect of such claim or defence.

Scope.—Costs under s. 35 A are compensatory and not penal. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 509=131 Ind. Cas. 377. In a suit against father and minor sons with identical interest in which the father alone has to bear the harassment and trouble it would be wrong to award costs under s. 35 A to both separately. Ibid. In case of harassment of the plaintiff by the defendant, punitive costs can be awarded under this section. 14 L. R. 15 (Rev.)=17 R. D. 227. Compensation can be awarded only after objection by the opposite party. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 472=94 Ind. Cas. 78. An order under this section can be passed against next friend of a minor. 52A. 907=(1930) A. L. J. 1295=128 Ind. Cas. 225. A suit instituted in the Court of Small Cause was subsequently transferred to the regular side. Judge trying has same powers as the Small Cause Court in awarding compensation under s. 35 A. A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 133=120 Ind. Cas. 412. Power of Small Cause Court to award costs under s. 35 A is conditional upon its having express authority from High Court so to do or having jurisdiction up to Rs. 250. A. I. R. 1926 All. 354=94 Ind. Cas. 790. Appeal against order of Small Cause Court awarding cost under s. 35 A lies to District Judge. A. I. R. 1927 All. 554=94 Ind. Cas. 790. In appeal the Collector is not competent to award penal cost on the ground that the claim is false and vexatious. 15 L. R. 115 (Rev.). An Insolvency Court passing an order awarding exemplary costs, has powers in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction to apply s. 35A, Civil Procedure Code ; and whether that section was in existence or not when the Provincial Insolvency Act came into force is immaterial. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 207=158 Ind. Cas. 394=31 N. L. R. 365.

EXECUTION.

GENERAL.

36. [New.] The provisions of this Code relating to the execution of decrees shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to the execution of orders.

Application to orders.

Scope.—A subsequent order of Court in regard to particular costs is executable even though those particular costs are not shown in the decree. A. I. R. 1931 Sind 13=15 S. L. R. 11=62 Ind. Cas. 507. An order directing the payment of an amount to Commissioner for work done is executable as decree an order 47 applies to such execution. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 57=52 C. 269=40 C. L. J. 180=84 Ind. Cas. 724. An order under Order XX, rule 11 (2) is executable as if decree. A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 189=4 Bur. L. J. 32=2 Rang. 673=85 Ind. Cas. 291. Judgment obtained on admission under Order XII, rule 6. Plaintiff can enforce payment of amount awarded as an order in execution proceeding, without a decree being drawn up. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 119=20 S. L. R. 216=92 Ind. Cas. 562. Section 36 is not limited to orders made only under the Code, but is applicable to all orders which could be included in the definition of the term "order" as defined in s. 2 (14). The order made on a notice of motion would be an order within the meaning of s. 2 (14) and could therefore be executed under s. 36. Kila Chand v. Ajodhya Prasad, A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 452=36 Bom. L. R. 992.

37. [S. 649, 2nd para.] The expression "Court which passed a decree", or words to that effect, shall, in relation to the execution of decrees, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, be deemed to include—

Definition of Court which passed a decree.

(a) where the decree to be executed has been passed in the exercise of appellate jurisdiction, the Court of first instance, and

(b) where the Court of first instance has ceased to exist or to have jurisdiction to execute it, the Court which, if the suit wherein the decree was passed was instituted at the time of making the application for the execution of the decree, would have jurisdiction to try such suit.

Scope.—This section has no reference to a Court to which a decree has been transferred for execution. 162 Ind. Cas. 865=8 R. R. 596=A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 184.

Clause (a).—As a general rule decree of final Court can be executed. A. I. R. 1921 L. B. 37=11 L. B. R. 163.

COURTS BY WHICH DECREES MAY BE EXECUTED.

38. [S. 223, 1st para.] A decree may be executed either by the Court which passed it, or by the Court to which it is sent for execution.

Scope.—This section confers jurisdiction for execution on either the Court which passed the decree or the Court to which it is sent for execution. 35 C. W. N. 77=A. I. R. (1931) Cal. 312=52 A. L. J. 569=132 Ind. Cas. 149=58 C. 832; see also 15 Pat. 439=165 Ind. Cas. 959=A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 615. Where mortgaged property is situate outside the territorial jurisdiction of the executing Court it can order the sale of the property so mortgaged. 14 Lah. 457=143 Ind. Cas. 574=34 P. L. R. 815=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 687; see also 14 C. 661; 15 C. 667; 21 C. 639; 45 M. 746; 80 Ind. Cas. 901. Territorial jurisdiction is necessary to carry on execution. 35 C. W. N. 77=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 312=52 C. L. J. 569=132 Ind. Cas. 149.

Under this section a decree may be executed either by the Court which passed it or by the Court to which it is sent for execution and where the trial Court is not the Court to which the decree is sent for execution, section 38 prevents it from proceeding with the suit to set aside a sale as a matter in execution and executing the decree. 68 Ind. Cas. 693=A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 189. The Code does not prohibit concurrent execution. A. I. R. 1921 L. B. 25=11 L. B. R. 15=63 Ind. Cas. 809; 34 Ind. Cas. 302=3 L. W. 336. Where the application for execution is not at all entertained by the Court which alone had jurisdiction to entertain it, nor is it properly sent by that Court to another Court, other Court will not derive any jurisdiction by the mere filing of the application in that Court. No Court can execute a decree in which the subject-matter of the suit or of the application of the suit is property entirely outside the local limits of its jurisdiction except in cases of decrees for sale of mortgaged properties. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 139=6 P. L. T. 71=80 Ind. Cas. 901.

This section is not exhaustive. If a suit instituted in Court A is transferred to Court B and Court B decided it, application for execution shall be presented to Court B and not to Court A. A. I. R. 1925 All. 276=47 A. 57=85 Ind. Cas. 746. In all cases where original Court has lost jurisdiction over subject-matter of suit between passing of decree and executing it, it should send its decree to the Court which has territorial jurisdiction. Court passing decree can entertain application for its execution and determine questions as to the executability but cannot order sale of properties not within its territorial jurisdiction. A. I. 39. [S. 228, 2nd and 3rd paras.] (1) The Court which passed a decree may, on the application of the decree-holder, send it for execution to another Court,—

(a) if the person against whom the decree is passed actually and voluntarily resides or carries on business, or personally works for gain, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such other Court, or

(b) if such person has not property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree sufficient to satisfy such decree and has property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such other Court, or

(c) if the decree directs the sale or delivery of immovable property situate outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed it, or

(d) if the Court which passed the decree considers for any other reason, which it shall record in writing, that the decree should be executed by such other Court.

(2) The Court which passed a decree may of its own motion send it for execution to any subordinate Court of competent jurisdiction.

Scope of the section.—The word “may” in this section does not mean that it is in the discretion of the Court which passed the decree either to execute the decree or to send the application for execution to another Court, when the property against which execution is sought, is situated outside the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree. The discretion given there indicates that the Court should send the application for execution to another Court where it thinks that the decree is executable in the way prayed for. 59 C. 199=35 C. W. N. 1096=136 Ind. Cas. 533=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 213=I. R. 1932 C. 213. Application for executing a decree and application for transferring a decree to another Court for execution are two distinct applications. Whether a particular application is an application or for transfer of a decree is to be decided on the nature of the prayer made, and not on the choice of a particular form. An application for transfer of a decree for execution cannot become an application for execution simply because the form of the latter has been adopted. 11 P. 785=13 P. L. T. 498=A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 309 (311). An application under this section need not be in any particular form. Ibid. An order of transfer takes effect from the date of the order of transfer. 56 M. 692=144 Ind. Cas. 923=65 M. L. J. 137=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 627=1933 M. W. N. 789=38 L. W. 133. After that date the Court to which the decree has been transferred can entertain an application for execution even in the absence of a copy of the decree. Ibid. Execution application in anticipation of the arrival of the decree to the transferee Court is incompetent. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 103=(1930) M. W. N. 368=130 Ind. Cas. 458. Court in considering application under s. 39 must go into the question of limitation. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 199=29 L. W. 246=(1929) M. W. N. 36=116 Ind. Cas. 113. Execution proceedings were started within 12 years and the robkar in transferring execution under s. 39 considered issue of limitation as not to arise on transfer, held that the robkar did not intend to decide that objection to limitation could not be taken in transferee Court. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 118=11 Lah. L. J. 501=125 Ind.

Cas. 55. Section 39 only contemplates that the entire decree and not a part of it is to be sent for execution to another Court or Courts. 38 C. W. N. 1053. Where a decree is transferred for execution the original Court is not wholly divested of its jurisdiction but can still retransfer the proceedings to itself or to some other Court. When however a decree is transferred without any limitation, the original Court has no longer the power to execute the decree until and unless the decree is returned by the transferee Court with a certificate of non-satisfaction. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 728=35 P. L. R. 751=152 Ind. Cas. 128; see also A. I. R. 1916 P. C. 16; A. L. R. 1933 Cal. 906; A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 113; 162 Ind. Cas. 51=1936 A. L. J. 277=A. I. R. 1936 All. 655. In a case where execution is pending in a Court, the Court is not deprived of the power of issuing a certificate of non-satisfaction. But the Court should before ordering transfers issue notice to the judgment-debtor, and after hearing the judgment-debtor's objection, if any, as regards the order to be made, the Judge should proceed to consider whether sufficient cause has been made out justifying the issue of simultaneous execution. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 268=39 C. W. N. 165. But the Madras High Court in a recent case has held that the act of transmitting a decree for execution to another Court is a ministerial act and can be made by an order passed ex parte 159 Ind. Where the application for execution is filed in the transferring Court before transfer of the case it is not necessary to file a fresh application for that purpose in the transferee Court. A. I. W. 246=(1929) M. W. N. 36=116 Ind. Cas. 113. Transfer of decree for execution to another Court is not by itself an execution of the decree. A. I. R. 1929 All. 390=(1929) A. L. J. 553=115 Ind. Cas. 865. Sale of property not within local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree can only be held by the Court within whose local limits property is situate, and an order of attachment before judgment does not make any difference. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 818=33 C. W. N. 848=57 C. 67=126 Ind. Cas. 43. Irrespective of the mode in which the decree is sought to be executed before a decree can be transferred to another Court within the jurisdiction of which judgment-debtor resides it is necessary for the decree-holder to satisfy the Court that the judgment-debtor has not sufficient property within the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree sufficient to satisfy the decree. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 529=33 C. W. N. 620=56 C. 1176. Order of transmission of a decree by one Court to another is a ministerial act and can be made ex parte. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 40=5 Rang. 775=6 Bur. A decree cannot be transferred to another Court for a limited purpose only. 1 P. L. W. 582=39 Ind. Cas. 737. Transferee Court having like pecuniary jurisdiction has no jurisdiction to execute a decree of the transferring Court, in excess of the pecuniary jurisdiction of that Court. 57 Ind. Cas. 722. Judgment-debtor's death before a certificate of full satisfaction of decree is issued, does not divest Court of transfer of its jurisdiction over the execution proceedings, are merely suspended until the judgment-creditor has obtained an order from the Court which passes the decree for inserting the name of the legal representative A. I. R. 1930 Sind 16=118 Ind. Cas. 221. Transfer of a portion of a decree to another Court for execution is irregular and if made without notice to the judgment-debtor will not be binding upon him. 3 P. L. W. 247=43 Ind. Cas. 186. Application for transfer of decree is not application for execution. A. I. R. 1926 All. 423=94 Ind. Cas. 482. A Court to which a decree is transferred for execution has no jurisdiction to entertain an application for bringing on the record the legal representative of a deceased decree-holder. The application must be made to the Court which passed the decree 55 Ind. Cas. 156. Where a Court has power to execute an award as if it were decree of that Court as under Bombay Co-operative Societies Act, s. 43 and rr. 31 and 34 thereunder, it can also transfer it under s. 39. A. Transferring Court ceases to have jurisdiction till it receives a certificate under s. 41, and second transfer before such certificate is without jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 428=12 O. L. I. R. 1924 Pat. 120=5 P. L. T. 11=2 Pat. 909=(1923) Pat. 280. Decree transferred for execution to another Court, an application to re-transfer the same for execution to a third Court, or to execute itself, can be made to the Court passing the decree. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 367=10 N. L. J. 24=101 Ind. Cas. 279. Jurisdiction of a Court transferring decree for execution to another Court is not confined to cases in which there is no property within the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree sufficient to satisfy decree. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 481=28 O. C. 199. Sending of a certificate does not of itself put an end to the jurisdiction of the Court to execute the decree, and sending of a certificate intimating result of each application under executive orders of High Court, if any, cannot do so at all. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 210=18 N. L. R. 178=68 Ind. Cas. 657. District Munsiff receiving by transfer a decree of a village Court or withdrawing execution of a decree to his own file has no jurisdiction to transfer it for execution to another District Munsiff's Court. 46 M. 731=32 M. Where decree has been transmitted to Agent's Court for execution if nothing more is said, it is presumably intended that it should be executed against those properties over which the Agent's Court has jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 144=18 L. W. 747=76 Ind. Cas. 269. Even after transfer of a decree, the transferring Court retains jurisdiction to deal with applications under Order 21, rules 16 and 22. 60 C. 1176=58 C. L. J. 192=37 C. W. N. 1167=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 906. Where the transfer is made under s. 39 (d) the transferee Court cannot question the power of the transferring Court to order the transfer. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 266=1934 M. W. N. 1209=149 Ind. Cas. 1212. An order for sending a decree to another Court for execution is not an order can be made without there being a formal application for execution. Therefore an execution application on which such an order has been made will not help to save limitation in case of subsequent application for execution. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 485=157 Ind. Cas. 971.

Simultaneous execution of decree.—A decree may be executed in more than one Court simultaneously whatever may be the case with regard to institution of suit. A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 418=53 B. 844=31 Bom. L. R. 1105=123 Ind. Cas. 507. This Code does not prohibit the sending of a decree for execution of two Courts at the same time. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 258=5 Rang. 397=104 Ind. Cas. 133. Where a decree is transferred to another Court for execution, concurrent execution of it is permissible in the Court from which the decree has been transferred. 15 A. L. J. 532=39 Ind. Cas. 729. Where a Court transfers a decree for payment of money, on application of the decree-holder to another Court by grant of a certificate of non-satisfaction and the property is attached by transferee Court, the former Court does not lose jurisdiction to execute the decree and is competent to proceed with the execution except where the value of the property is greater than the amount of decree and decree-holder is likely to realize the whole amount of its sale, when a further order for arrest of the judgment-debtor is not justified. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 199=121 Ind. Cas. 68; see also A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 267=162 Ind. Cas. 777. Simultaneous execution is permitted by the Court; but in making an order for such execution care should be taken so that there may not be any hardship on the judgment-debtor. The Court has jurisdiction to execute its decree and at the same time send it to another Court to execute it simultaneously. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 268 = 39 C. W. N. 165.

Clause (b).—Where the condition justifying transfer is that set out in s. 39, sub-section 1 (b), the intention to execute against the judgment-debtor who satisfies that condition. To hold that a judgment-creditor may obtain an order for transfer on the ground that one judgment-debtor has no property within the local limits of the Court which passed the decree, and has property within the local jurisdiction of another Court, and may then execute the decree through such other Court not against that judgment-debtor but against another judgment-debtor who does not fulfil that condition is absurd. A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 521. But a decree-holder has always a right to apply, as of course to the Court which passed the decree for its execution even if it be in respect of property outside the territorial jurisdiction of such Court can be no more than execution by transmission to another Court. A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 267 = 162 Ind. Cas. 777. Where an application for execution is made to the Court which passed the decree, that Court will transmit the same to the Court where the immovable property sought to be sold is situate along with the other papers required by Order 21, r. 5 or 6, and then the latter Court will make an order for sale. It is not necessary in such a case to have a fresh application for execution before the Court where immovable property sought to be sold in execution is situate. Ibid. The Court has jurisdiction to execute its decree and at the same time send it to another Court to execute it simultaneously. It is not necessary for the Court to go through the process of sale in order to find out whether in point of fact, the proceeds of the sale would be sufficient to cover the decree; it would be enough if there are allegations made, supported by an affidavit or some other evidence on which the Court can reasonably rely, which tends to show that there are circumstances present from which it can be safely inferred that the properties within the jurisdiction of the Court would not satisfy the decree. If such circumstances are proved to the satisfaction of the Court, it would be quite open to the Court having regard to the provision of clause (b) to make an order transferring the decree for execution to another Court. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 268 = 39 C. W. N. 165.

Whether application for transfer is a step in aid of execution.—A mere application to have a decree transferred to another Court though not an application for execution is a step-in-aid of execution. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 312 = 52 C. L. J. 569 = 35 C. W. N. 77 = 132 Ind. Cas. 149; 14 A. L. J. 415 = 33 Ind. Cas. 523. Where a decree is transferred for execution an application for execution in order to be a step-in-aid of execution has to be made to the Court to which the decree has been transferred and not to the Court which passed the decree. 39 M. 640 = 31 M. L. J. 300 = 18 Bom. L. R. 509 = 14 A. L. J. 1129 = 20 M. L. T. 472 = 24 C. L. J. 478 = 4 L. W. 558 = (1916) 2. M. W. N. 541 = 21 C. W. N. 162 = 43 I. A. 238 (P. C.) = 36 Ind. Cas. 682. An application for a certificate is a step-in-aid of execution. Consequently where the decree-holder having obtained his order does not carry out the order which he has obtained and the decree is not in fact sent, the Court passing the decree does not lose jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 301 = 3 P. L. T. 298 = 1 Pat. 328 = 65 Ind. Cas. 332.

Clause (d).—Transferee Court cannot question transferor Court's power to transfer. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 266.

Provisions of clause (d).—S. 39 have not to be considered at all where the decree directing sale is to be executed not only by sale of property but by removal of obstruction. A. I. R. 1936 Sind 11 = 161 Ind. Cas. 524 = 30 S. L. R. 290.

Form of application.—An order for sending a decree to another Court for execution is not an order for execution. Such an order can be made without thereby a formal application for execution. Therefore an execution application on which such an order has been made will not help to save limitation in case of a subsequent application for execution. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 485 = 157 Ind. Cas. 971.

Sub-section (2).—Under this sub-section, the subordinate Court to which a decree is transferred must be a Court which would be competent to execute the decree as an original Court; in other words, it must be a Court having pecuniary jurisdiction to pass such a decree. 1935 A. M. L. J. 18.

40. [New.] Where a decree is sent for execution in another province, it shall be sent to such Court and executed in such manner as may be prescribed by rules in force in that province.

Transfer of decree to Court in another province.

Soope.—Where the decree pending in the “transferor” Court has been completely withdrawn, transferee Court has no further jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 508=126 Ind. Cas. 516.

41. [S. 223, 4th para.] The Court to which a decree is sent for execution shall certify to the Court which passed it the fact of such execution, or where the former Court fails to execute the same the circumstances attending such failure.

Result of execution proceedings to be certified.

Soope.—The Court to which a decree is sent for execution retains its jurisdiction to execute the decree until the execution has been withdrawn from it, or until it has fully executed the decree and has certified the fact or until it has completely failed to execute the decree and has certified that fact to the Court which forwarded the decree. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 396=25 Bom. L. R. 453. For certifying the fact of execution all that the section requires is that the Court to which the decree is sent for execution should inform the Court which passed the decree what has happened in execution. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 371=76 Ind. Cas. 549. The sending of a certificate does not of itself put an end to the jurisdiction of the Court to execute the decree. 68 Ind. Cas. 657=A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 210; but see A. I. R. 1925 All. 179=22 A. L. J. 1039=L. R. 6 A. 28 Civ. Mere striking of application for execution does not terminate jurisdiction it is only after certifying that the transferee Court ceases to have jurisdiction to execute 5 Pat. 398=7 P. L. T. 461=(1926) Pat. 86=94. Ind. Cas. 36; 85 Ind. Cas. 390=A. I. R. 1955 All. 176=22 A. L. J. 1039=L. R. 6 A. 28. It is only when the Court to which Court the decree is sent has executed it or has failed to execute it and not merely on failure of an application that the Court is bound to send a certificate under s. 41. 25 Bom. L. R. 453=74 Ind. Cas. 149. The original Court who has transferred its decree for execution to another Court can also bring the decree back. A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 271=50 B. 439=28 Bom. L. R. 381=94 Ind. Cas. 146. Transferee Court has jurisdiction to decide objections relating to anything done in the course of its proceedings even after issue of certificate. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh. 76=5 O. W. N. 1053=4 Luck. 209=115 Ind. Cas. 444. Certification is a very important step when a decree has once been transferred to another Court, for with it the latter Court ceases to have jurisdiction to execute the decree. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 359=26 Bom. L. R. 345=80 Ind. Cas. 752; A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 149=143 Ind. Cas. 636=1. R. 1933 Lah. 376. Where a Court has both Small Cause powers and original jurisdiction and a decree passed under the former is executed under the latter and an entry of satisfaction is made in the Small Cause Register there is sufficient compliance with s. 41. 76 Ind. Cas. 549=(1923) Bam. 371.

The certificate prescribed by s. 41 from the Court of transfer is not a condition precedent to the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree to entertain the application. It is not also necessary that the Court which passed the decree should, after entertaining the application, stay its hand, until it receives certificate prescribed by s. 41 from the Court of transfer. 63 M. L. J. 788=36 L. W. 750=140 Ind. Cas. 591. Jurisdiction to execute decree that Court has, until (1) the execution is withdrawn from it or (2) it fully executes the decree and certifies that fact to the Court which sent the decree or executes it so far as the Court is able to execute it within its jurisdiction and certifies that fact to the Court which sent the decree or (3) it fails to execute the decree and certifies that fact to the Court which forwarded the decree. 11 P. 513=A. I. R. 1932 P. 286=139 Ind. Cas. 843=13 P. L. T. 623=A. L. R. 1932 Pat. 672.

42. [S. 228.] The Court executing a decree sent to it shall have the same powers in executing such decree as if it had been passed by itself. All persons disobeying or obstructing the execution of the decree shall be punishable by such Court in the same manner as if it had passed the decree.

Powers of Court in executing transferred decree.

And its order in executing such decree shall be subject to the same rules in respect of appeal as if the decree had been passed by itself.

Scope.—The expression “powers in executing such decree” in s. 42 means “powers in carrying out the purpose of executing such decree”. Although an order staying an execution may be passed while a Court is engaged in executing a decree, yet a power to order stay in execution cannot be held to be a power exercised to carry out execution of a decree. Power to stay execution is not included in s. 42. A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 184=162 Ind. Cas. 865=8 R. R. 596. Court to which execution has been transferred will exercise all the powers of the Court of first instance and will retain its jurisdiction to execute the decree even though there has been an appeal from the decree after such transfer and it has been affirmed in appeal, and the execution cannot be defeated merely by the fact that no fresh order of transfer was made by the Court which transferred the decree after such affirmation in appeal. A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 27=9 Pat. 829=129 Ind. Cas. 138. This section is intended to remove all questions arising out of the decree, such as those dealt with by s. 47 of the Code and the like, from the cognizance of the Court which made the transfer. A. I. R. 1924 All. 700=46 A. 560=22 A. L. J. 439=L. R. 5 A. 380 Civ.=83 Ind. Cas. 848. When a decree is transferred to a Court for execution the Court to which it is transferred has the power of attachment under Order XXI, rule 48 (1). A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 112=1 Luck. 46=13 O. L. J. 174=91 Ind. Cas. 1043. A Court executing a transferred decree cannot question legality or propriety of the order directing execution. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 143=123 Ind. Cas. 531. The executing Court can determine the question under Order XXI, rule 50 (2) whether a person is a partner. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 228=115 Ind. Cas. 536 ; 134 Ind. Cas. 1026=33 P. L. R. 598=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 736. A Court to which a decree is transferred for execution cannot execute it in absence of regular application for execution. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 413=80 I. C. 59. An appeal lies from an order passed in execution of a Small Cause decree which has been transferred to a Court where it is filed on original side. 14 A. L. J. 415=33 Ind. Cas. 523. Court to which a decree or order is transferred for execution is competent to determine the question under Order XXI, rule 50 (2) whether a certain person is a member of a firm. A. I. R. 1921 All. 193=43 A. 394=19 A. L. J. 187=61 Ind. Cas. 401. If order for the transfer of a decree for execution is made but the decree is not actually sent to the transferee Court, the Court which passed the decree retains jurisdiction to execute it. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 301=1 Pat. 328=3 Pat. L. T. 298=65 Ind. Cas. 332. Order in execution of a Small Cause Court decree transferred for execution to the ordinary Court is appealable in the same way as order made in execution of decrees passed by that Court. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 242=34 C. L. J. 477=67 Ind. Cas. 6. A revenue officer in the execution of a decree by ejectment cannot execute such a decree in favour of anyone but the person named in it. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 195=71 Ind. Cas. 409. The fact that in section 42 the transferee Court is given the same powers in executing such decree as vested from the start in the Court which passed the decree, does not divest the parent Court of the jurisdiction which it alone enjoys of making an order of re-transfer and the application for re-transfer to a second Court lies to the Court which passed the decree. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 113=89 Ind. Cas. 958. Even an application for the transfer of the decree again to another Court must be made in the first instance to the Court to which the decree has already been transferred. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 359=24 Bom. L. R. 798=47 B. 56=68 Ind. Cas. 505. Although the Court to which a decree is transferred for execution has no power to entertain any objection regarding the legality or propriety of the order directing execution or the right of the person shown in the order as the person entitled to execute the decree yet it is the duty of the executing Court, on being acquainted with facts showing that the decree is no longer in existence to refuse to allow the sale to proceed. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 104=4 Rang. 562=5 Bur. L. J. 239=100 Ind. Cas. 285. Section 42 applies to execution proceedings in the Madras Small Cause Court whether the decree sought to be executed was passed by the Madras Small Cause Court or transferred to that Court from a Court in the Mofussil but not where Madras Small Cause Court decree is transferred to a Court in Mofussil. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1179=22 L. W. 455=(1925) M. W. N. 713=49 M. L. J. 104=90 Ind. Cas. 509. In 43 A. 394, s. 42 was construed in effect to mean that by going to the executing Court a litigant was entitled to obtain the same reliefs that he would be able to obtain if he had been to the Court which passed the decree, that is to say, he is entitled to obtain in fact the same sort of relief which might have been obtained but was not in fact obtained before the Court which passed the decree.

This reasoning cannot be sustained. 11 P. 580=A. I. R. 1932 P. 323=13 P. L. T. 751=A. L. R. 1932 P. 628. In the case of an application for leave to execute under s. 21, R. 50, C. P. Code if the Court finds that it is not called upon to execute the decree, but to decide whether a particular person whose name does not appear on the face of the decree is or is not liable under it, s. 42, C. P. Code has no application. A. I. R. 1931 Sind 82=131 Ind. Cas. 712. A Court to which a decree has been transferred for execution must take the decree as it stands and is not entitled to question the validity of the decree upon the ground that the decretal Court had no jurisdiction, territorial, personal or pecuniary to pass it. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 252=9 R. 480. The transferee Court cannot act under Order 21, rule 16. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 690=133 Ind. Cas. 643. The Court to which a decree has been transferred can stay execution of a decree under Order 21, rule 29. 60 C. 1119=37 C. W. N. 846=57 C. L. J. 444. Court to whom decree is transferred can refuse to execute the decree being nullity. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 217. According to s. 42, Civil Procedure Code the latter Court has generally the same powers as the former in the matter of execution of decrees and in the absence of any specific provision to the contrary it seems anomalous to hold that while the Court passing the decree is entitled to refuse to execute a decree which is a nullity, the Court to which the decree is transferred for execution cannot take notice of such an objection. A Court to which a decree is transferred for execution can entertain such an objection. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 117=A. L. R. 1934 Lah. 702; 152 Ind. Cas. 135=35 P. L. R. 482=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 652. Order 42 does not override the plain words of Order 21, rule 16. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 648. But it is only the Court which has passed the decree that is competent to grant a certificate of non-satisfaction to the decree-holder in another Court and the Court to which a decree is transferred for execution by means of a certificate of non-satisfaction is not competent to grant such a certificate. The Court can only execute the decree itself and certify the result of execution before it to the original Court. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 330=150 Ind. Cas. 905=36 P. L. R. 176. Section 42 does not empower the Court to which a decree is sent for execution to pass an order which has the effect of amending, altering, or varying the decree itself. An order for payment of a decree by instalments, which is made after the decree has been passed, undoubtedly has the effect of altering or varying the terms of the original decree, and consequently it is not within the competence of the transferee Court to make such an order. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 165=12 Rang. 320=151 Ind. Cas. 937=7 R. R. 130=A. L. R. 1934 Rang. 183. Although the executing Court to which a decree has been transferred for execution has jurisdiction to decide whether the application to it is barred by limitation or not, it cannot, in considering the question of limitation, look further back than the order transforming the decree of the Court which passed the decree, for an order transforming a decree is a step-in-aid of execution and consequently provide a starting point for a period of limitation. A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 271=163 Ind. Cas. 403=14 Rang. 550=9 R. R. 17. In execution of a decree of the Bombay High Court against a firm certain properties within the jurisdiction of the Karachi Court were sold and purchased by the decree-holder. The auction purchaser was, however, resisted in possession thereof. The decree was then sent for execution to the Karachi Court: Held that once it was proved that the removal of obstruction was part of the execution of the decree, the High Court was not debarred from removing it merely because it did not pass the decree or sell the property. A. I. R. 1936 Sind 11=30 S. L. R. 290=161 Ind. Cas. 290.

This section has been amended in Burma thus :—

†44. The Governor* may, by notification in the Gazette, declare that the decrees of any Civil or Revenue Courts situate in the territories of any Native Prince or State in alliance with his Majesty,† or any class of such decrees, may be executed in British Burma as if they had been passed by the Courts of British Burma.

Execution of decrees passed by Courts in the United Kingdom and other reciprocating territory.

(2) Together with the certified copy of the decree shall be filed a certificate from such Superior Court stating the extent, if any, to which the decree has been satisfied or adjusted and such certificate shall, for the purposes of proceedings under this section, be conclusive proof of the extent of such satisfaction or adjustment.

(3) The provisions of section 47 shall as from the filing of the certified copy of the decree apply to the proceedings of a District Court executing a decree under this section, and the District Court shall refuse execution of any such decree, if it is shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the decree falls within any of the exceptions specified in clauses (a) to (f) of section 13.

Explanation 1.—'Superior Courts', with reference to the United Kingdom, means the High Court in England, the Court of Session in Scotland, the High Court in Northern Ireland, the Court of Chancery of the county Palatine of Lancaster and the Court of Chancery of the county Palatine of Durham.

Explanation 2.—'Reciprocating territory' means any country, or territory, situated in any part of His Majesty's Dominions or in India, which the [Central Government]* may, from time to time, by notification in the 'official Gazette'†, declare to be reciprocating territory for the purposes of this section; and 'Superior Courts' with reference to any such territory, means such Courts as may be specified in the said notification.

Explanation 3.—'Decree' with reference to a Superior Court, means any decree or judgment of such Court under which a sum of money is payable, not being a sum payable in respect of taxes or other charges of a like nature or in respect of a fine or other penalty, and Amendment in Burma.—Read "British Burma" for "British India".

Commencement.—This section will come into force on such date as the Central Government in British India may, by notification in the official Gazette appoint. Similarly it shall come into force in British Burma on such date as the Governor may by notification in the Gazette appoint.

Object of the section.—"On the 27th February, 1924, Government introduced a Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, the object of which was to provide for the enforcement in British India of judgments obtained in the United Kingdom and in other notified parts of His Majesty's Dominions, as part of a reciprocal arrangement, the other part of which consisted of the extension to British India of the provisions of Part II of the Administration of Justice Act, 1920, under which the judgment of Superior Courts in India would become enforceable in the United Kingdom. The Select Committee to which the Bill was referred expressed the opinion that the Bill would not ensure a fair measure of reciprocity. The difficulty arose from the fact that under the British Act reciprocity could not be applied to judgments of "Superior Courts" and most of the British Indian Courts of unlimited civil jurisdiction would not have come within the meaning of the term "Superior Courts" as used in that Act. No amendment of the Indian Bill could have altered that position, and for this reason it was decided to drop the Bill. The position has now been altered by the passing of the foreign judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act, 1933, which provides for the extension of Part I thereof to His Majesty's Dominions outside the United Kingdom by an order in Council, and also leaves it to the order in Council to specify the Courts which shall be deemed as "Superior" within the meaning of the Act. The Government of India have ascertained that the Lord Chancellor has no objection to the Act being applied to all Indian Courts possessing unlimited original civil jurisdiction. This removes the obstacle which stood in the way of legislation in 1925, and the present Bill substantially embodies the provisions of the old Bill with some modifications mainly necessitated by the terms of the new English Act."—Statement of objects and Reasons to Bill No. 10 of 1935.

*45. [S. 229A.] So much of the foregoing sections of this Part as empowers a Court to send a decree for execution in foreign territory, in tition to another Court shall be construed as empowering a Court in any Province to send a decree for execution to any Court established or continued by the authority of the Central Government or of the Crown Representative in the territories of any foreign Prince or State to which the Provincial Government has, by notification in the official Gazette, declared this section to apply.

Amendment in Burma—This section has been omitted in Burma, vide G. B. order of 1937.

46. [New.] (1) Upon the application of the decree-holder the Court which passed the decree may, whenever it thinks fit, issue a precept to any other Court which would be competent to execute such decree to attach any property belonging to the judgment-debtor and specified in the precept.

(2) The Court to which a precept is sent shall proceed to attach the property in the manner prescribed in regard to the attachment of property in execution of a decree :

Provided that no attachment under a precept shall continue for more than two months unless the period of attachment is extended by an order of the Court which passed the decree or unless before the determination of such attachment the decree has been transferred to the Court by which the attachment has been made and the decree-holder has applied for an order for the sale of such property.

Scope.—The object of s. 46 is to attach property of the judgment-debtor in another Court in order to prevent the judgment-debtor from alienating or otherwise dealing with it to the detriment of the decree-holder till proper proceedings for the sale of the property in pursuance of an application for execution can be taken, and it is for this reason that the effect of an attachment in pursuance of a precept is limited to two months and power is given to the Court which passed the decree to extend this period of two months in order to meet contingencies which may arise due to the delay in transferring the decree to the Court to which passed the decree to end this period of the months in order to meet contingencies which may arise due to the delay in transferring the decree to the Court to which the precept has been sent. An indefinite order stating that the attachment is made permanently is not contemplated by s. 46. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 486=163 Ind. Cas. 374. When money is attached in execution of a decree it cannot be paid over to another decree-holder who subsequently attaches it, but when money is not attached in execution of a decree but it is attached in pursuance of a precept under s. 46, C. P. Code, the effect of which is limited only for two months after which period the attachment no longer exists, the money attached under a precept can be paid over to another decree-holder who subsequently attaches it. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 486=163 Ind. Cas. 374. When a receipt is received for the attachment of property in the custody of the Court, the attachment takes effect from the date when it is received by the Court holding the property; and the refusal of the presiding officer to acknowledge the attachment can not affect the validity of an attachment which would be otherwise good. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 914. Under s. 46, C. P. Code, an attachment under precept is not invalidated by the fact that the order extending the statutory period of two months during which the attachment will remain in force is passed after the expiry of the said period, provided that the application for extension of time is put in before the expiry of the said two months. In such a case the order relates back to the date of the petition and has retrospective effect. 3 L. W. 336=34 Ind. Cas. 302. The Court to which the precept has issued has no jurisdiction to question the validity of the precept. The Court to which it is sent has only to carry it out. The issuing Court alone can vary it and not the Court to which it is sent. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 581=31 C. W. N. 653=102 Ind. Cas. 513. A Court to which precept is issued has no power to do anything not warranted thereby. But it has inherent powers to deal with matters incidentally arisen in connection with proceedings for attachment. The Court to which precept is sent has therefore jurisdiction to accept money or security. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 431=8 Lah. L. J. 164=27 P. L. R. 757=94 Ind. Cas. 119. "The Court which passed the decree" and not the Court to which a decree is transferred for execution is competent to issue precept. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 157=92 Ind. Cas. 621. An application for an attachment under s. 46 cannot be treated as an application for execution. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 249. Even after transfer of a decree for execution, the Court which passed it retains jurisdiction for issue an interim attachment when there is ground to apprehend that the decree-holder may otherwise be deprived of the fruits of his decree. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 581=31 C. W. N. 653. Extension order passed after expiry of statutory period has retrospective effect if application has been made before the expiry 3 L. W. 336=34 Ind. Cas. 302. Two applications for attachment of different properties can proceed simultaneously in the same Court in execution of the same decree, because this concurrent execution by the same Court is not different in principle from that provided by the new section 46 relating to precepts by which the parent Court and the transferee Court concurrently execute the same decree, and because besides section 46 there are other sections which indicate that the present Code does not view with disfavour concurrent execution A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 224=2 Pat 328=4 P. L. T. 99=(1923) Pat. 61=71 Ind. Cas. 741. A Court has jurisdiction to order attachment before judgment of properties situate outside its jurisdiction and it has also powers to order the raising of the attachment effected in pursuance thereof A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 279. A precept can be issued asking another Court to attach property within its jurisdiction. It cannot itself attach such property. 1933 A. L. J. 902=A. I. R. 1933 All. 844.

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937.

QUESTIONS TO BE DETERMINED BY COURT EXECUTING DECREE.

47. [S. 244.] (1) All questions arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed, or their representatives, and relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree, shall be determined by the Court executing the decree and not by a separate suit.

(2) The Court may, subject to any objection as to limitation or jurisdiction, treat a proceeding under this section as a suit or a suit as a proceeding and may, if necessary, order payment of any additional Court-fee.

(3) Where a question arises as to whether any person is or is not the representative of a party, such question shall, for the purposes of this section, be determined by the Court.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed and a defendant against whom a suit has been dismissed, are parties to the suit.

Object of numbering section.—The object of numbering separately sub-sections is to make several sub-sections independent of each other. 20 C. W. N. 679=32 Ind. Cas. 524.

Construction of S. 47.—Section 47 should be construed liberally and the decree-holder should get his relief as expeditiously as possible. 15 Pat. 545=162. Ind. Cas. 830=17 Pat. L. T. 434=A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 289; see also 19 C. 683 (P. C.).

Object and scope of the section.—The intention of the Legislature appears to be to dispose, in a single litigation, of all questions in reference to the subject-matter of that litigation arising between the parties once properly brought before the Court. 17 B. 49. All objections to execution sales should be disposed of as speedily and as cheaply as possible. 19 A. 613 (P. C.); see also 32 C. 1032; 9 C. W. N. 134; 27 C. 810; 4 C. W. N. 638. Question whether certain person was party at time of decree is within this section. 1 Pat. L. W. 282=2 Pat. L. J. 192. Question between parties but in different capacities is not under this section. R. 1925 Rarg. 271=3 Rang. 132=89 Ind. Cas. 300. Order of dismissal of execution case made on account of mutual mistake, may by consent be re-opened. Order of proceeding cannot be re-opened on ground of unilateral mistake of fact. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 670=33 C. W. N. 739=124 Ind. Cas. 79. The words "shall be determined by the Court executing the decree" in s. 47 do not mean merely that the Court will be bound to determine the questions mentioned therein if they are raised but that the executing Court has exclusive jurisdiction to determine such questions. The fact that they are not raised in the execution proceedings will not give the party a right to raise them in a separate suit except in cases of fraud of the decree-holder. A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 27=130 Ind. Cas. 154. Where the judgment-debtor fails to object the description of property sold at the time, he cannot come in under s. 47 to contest the description after the sale is complete. (1931) A. L. J. 49=A. I. R. (1930) A. 865. An order passed by the Court on an application for amending a scheme of management is not an order passed in execution proceedings under s. 47 of the Civil Procedure Code, and is not appealable as a decree. 33 Bom. L. R. 520=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 391=133 Ind. Cas. 740=55 B. 414; (1931) A. L. J. 1071=A. I. R. (1931) A. 765=133 Ind. Cas. 401. The question whether the Court has a discretion to decide the order in which the mortgaged items should be sold or whether the decree-holder can dictate in disregard of the rights of subsequent transferees involves adjudication of rights of parties and is a decree appealable under s. 47 read with section 2(2). (1931) A. L. J. 108. Where the decree is a nullity this section has no application for such a decree is not a decree at all. 148 Ind. Cas. 418=11 O. W. N. 416=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 167. Whether irrespective of any question of the representative character of the auction purchaser, s. 47 should apply to this case where the question raised is one relating to the execution, discharge and satisfaction of the decree and is one in which the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor are adversely interested. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 105=148 Ind. Cas. 901. A decision of a dispute between two sets of persons who are claiming to be the heirs of the deceased judgment-debtor is not at all a dispute between the decree-holder on the one side and the judgment-debtor on the other. Hence section 47 has no application in such a case. A. I. R. 1934 All. 730=4 A. W. R. 456=151 Ind. Cas. 473. The question of rateable distribution when between the parties to the suit comes within s. 47. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 350=150 Ind. Cas. 970. Section 47 draws no distinction between the functions of a Court executing a simple money-decree and one executing a decree under order 34. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 438. But there is a difference between a decree which leaves the manner of its execution to be decided by the executing Court and one which specifies certain property and unconditionally directs its sale for the satisfaction of the decree. Ibid. An objection or application by a judgment-debtor that his property is not liable to attachment and sale under s. 60 is an objection under s. 47. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 82=148 Ind. Cas. 200=30 N. L. R. 135. The question to be decided in an application under s. 173 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, to set aside a sale is a question relating to the execution and satisfaction of the decree, as between the parties to the suit and falls under s. 47, C. P. Code. 60 C. L. J. 36.

Question of priority of heirs in execution proceedings can be determined in execution proceeding under s. 47 which bars a separate suit. A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 298=59 B. 417=157 Ind. Cas. 658=37 Bom. L. R. 150. Where a person who has been impleaded as the legal representative of a defendant or a judgment debtor claims certain properties attached as the property of the judgment-debtor as his own, his remedy is by an application under s. 47 and not by an application under Order 21, rule 58. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 923=1935 M. W. N. 785=158 Ind. Cas. 410. It is not open to a decree-holder to re-open proceedings in execution of his decree, after satisfaction has entered by an application in Court, on a proper case being made out. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 645=158 Ind. Cas. 585.

This section does not confer upon a decree-holder any right to proceed in execution against persons who are not judgment-debtors themselves. A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 870=71 M. L. J. 385=1936 M. W. N. 1028. Disputes between rival decree-holders seeking to attach the simple property or claiming against each other in the distribution of the assets or disputes between joint decree-holders inter se are not within the purview of s. 47. A. I. R. 1936 Oudh 277=1936 O. W. N. 559. Where under a contract of surrender between the last surviving of three Hindu daughters and the next reversioners, the latter take the estate on undertaking to pay the dues under rent decrees obtained against the daughters and their debts, the decree-holder, though a stranger to the contract, can without recourse to a separate suit, enforce the liability in execution and proceed against the estate in the hands of reversioners. 40 C. W. N. 601=63 C. L. J. 25=A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 67. A puisne mortgagee against whom a personal decree has been passed, behind his back, when there was no prayer for a personal decree in the plaint, can in execution take an objection to the executability of such a decree under s. 47, within 30 days if the sale of the property of the puisne mortgagee, and relief cannot be refused to him. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 303=162 Ind. Cas. 867.

Parties to suit.—Section 47 does not apply unless the question arises between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed or their representatives and relates to execution, satisfaction or discharge of the decree. A defendant who was not a necessary party would not be a party to the suit within the meaning of s. 47 if he is exonerated without his claim being adjudicated upon. A. I. R. 1937 Mad. 268; see also A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 817. This section is not necessarily confined to decree-holders on one side and judgment-debtors, on the other, and is wide enough to cover a dispute between co-defendants who may be parties in a partition suit. 1932 A. L. J. 1036=A. L. R. 1933 A. 27. In order to attract the provisions of s. 47, it is necessary that the dispute must be between parties who are opposed to each other in the suit. If the legal representatives of the deceased decree-holder are disputing as regards the shares to which they are entitled in the inheritance of the deceased decree-holder, they ought to settle the point in a regular suit and they cannot do so by way of application for execution of the decree. 13 P. L. T. 557=A. I. R. 1932 P. 329=140 Ind. Cas. 97=A. L. R. 1932 P. 732. "Parties to the suit" means parties who are opposed to each other in the suit, though not necessarily as plaintiff and defendant. The nature of the suit and the contentions between the

A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 151=68 M. L. J. 78=41 L. W. 28=1935 M. W. N. 23=58 Mad. 403. The expression 'representatives' is not confined to a legal representative but includes a representative in interest and this expression has been liberally construed : (See 11 B. L. R. 149 ; 19 I. A. 166 and 30 M. L. J. 238). In determining whether a person is a representative of a party to the suit, two tests are to be applied, first whether any portion of the interest of the decree-holder or of the judgment-debtor, which was originally vested in one of the parties to the suit, has by act of parties or by operation of law vested in the person who is sought to be treated as representative, and secondly, if there has been a devolution of interest, whether so far as such interest is concerned, such person is bound by the decree. [9 C. L. J. 485 (488)]. A receiver under s. 47 is not the representative of the judgment-debtor within the meaning of this section. A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 573. Nephews of judgment-debtor who were survivors of the family and were in possession of his property are his representatives. 160 Ind. Cas. 119=A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 126. As to when purchaser decree-holder is a representative of the judgment-debtor, vide A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 289=17 Pat. L. T. 434=15 Pat. 545. Where A attached the mortgage decree obtained by G he is the representative of G in mortgage decree in view of Order 21, rule 53. A. I. R. 1937 Cal. 177.

Auction purchaser, whether representative.—Representative when taken with reference to judgment-debtor means not only his legal representative, but his representative in interest and includes a purchaser of his interest, whether he has purchased the judgment-debtor's interest at a private sale or at execution sale, and he can be made a party to the execution proceedings and he can have an opportunity to raise objections against the execution proceedings, if any. The real test to be applied in determining the question whether the auction-purchaser is to be regarded as the representative of the judgment-debtor or decree-holder depends upon the nature of the question raised and who the contesting party is. If the question is between the judgment-debtor and the auction purchaser and the interests of the two are conflicting the auction purchaser can in no sense be considered to be a representative of the judgment-debtor. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 412=3 Luck. 719=116 Ind. Cas. 49; see also 24 C. 62 (F. B.)=1 C. W. N. 37; 24 M. 689; 43 M. 107 (F. B.)=54 Ind. Cas. 209; 26 A. 447 (F. B.). An auction purchaser who is a stranger is not a representative of a decree-holder or the judgment-debtor. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 105=148 Ind. Cas. 901; see also 38 C. W. N. 983=A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 827=60 C. L. J. 7; A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 561=15 Pat. 414. But a question which arises between the judgment-debtor and the auction purchaser, who is also a decree-holder, is one which arises between parties to decree. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 30=31 N. L. R. 217=156 Ind. Cas. 995. An auction purchaser purchasing property at a sale in execution of a simple money decree against a judgment-debtor whose property has been ordered to be sold in a mortgage suit, is a representative of the judgment-debtor within the meaning of s. 47. 163 Ind. Cas. 926=1936 A. L. J. 541=A. I. R. 1936 All. 479; see also A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 347. Where Agha Haider J. observed: "It is admitted that he could only appeal if the case come within s. 47 and under no other provision of law. Mr. S. L. Puri who represents the respondents, has raised a preliminary objection to the effect that in view of the fact that Khazana Mal was an auction purchaser in execution of mortgage decree, he must, on the authorities be deemed to be the representative of the judgment-debtors and therefore any question arising between him and the judgment-debtor cannot be said to be one between the parties to the suit or their legal representative within the meaning of s. 47, Civil Procedure Code, and therefore he had no locus standi to maintain an appeal as from a decree passed under the provisions of s. 47. He relies upon 26 All. 447 and 31 All. 82. He further relies upon 12 P. R. 1919 and 79 Ind. Cas. 57. These authorities undoubtedly support his contention and, if I may say so with respect I am in full agreement with the view of law laid down in these cases. As pointed out by the Court below the contest is between the judgment-debtor and Khazana Mal, his representative, and the auction sale in which Khazana Mal purchased the property was in a mortgage decree. Therefore 26 All. 447 fully applies. In fact the learned Judges have gone further in the subsequent Full Bench decision in 31 All. 82. Mr. Ratan Lal, who was followed by Mr. Meher Chand Mohajan has invited my attention to 19 Cal. 683 and 41 Mad. 403. He has also referred to 43 Mad. 107. The Privy Council ruling 19 C. 683 was referred to in 26 All. 447. The Madras view seems to lend support to the contention of Mr. Meher Chand Mohajan, but the volume of judicial opinion on the other side is overwhelming. Allahabad, Patna, Rangoon and Bombay are all against the contention of the learned Counsel for the appellant. There are two cases of the Lahore High Court, one in 12 P. R. 1919 and the other in A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 176, which seem to go even further and lay down that an auction purchaser is not even a party to the suit. In this state of authorities I hold that Khazana Mal had no locus standi and could not maintain the present appeal." An order passed on application under Order 21, rule 95, Civil Procedure Code by an auction purchaser, who is also a decree-holder, is an Order under s. 47, C. P. Code, and appealable as such. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 145.

Benamidar.—The word "representative" has a wide import, and includes not only heirs and executors, but also assignees, all legal representatives in the strict sense of the words that is, persons interested in saving the property being sold, and whose interest would be jeopardized if the sale were not set aside. A person, for whom the predecessor of the judgment-debtors was the benamidar and who is therefore, really interested in protecting the property is a "representative" of the judgment-debtor within the meaning of s. 244 (=s. 47) of the C. P. Code of 1882. 7 C. L. J. 299; see also A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 835=114 Ind. Cas. 495. But a benamidar is neither party nor representative of party under this section. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1081=51 M. L. But a decree beyond the inherent jurisdiction of the Court is a nullity and it cannot be executed and the executing Court is competent to decide the question whether the decree is or is not a nullity. There is a clear distinction between the manner of exercise of jurisdiction and the existence of jurisdiction. Under sub-section (3) a statutory obligation is laid on the Court seized of execution proceedings to determine the question whether a particular person is or is not the representative of a party to the decree. It is also clear that when such a question arises in the appellate stage of the proceedings taken under s. 47, that question must be decided by the Court of appeal. 150 Ind. Cas. 425=11 O. W. N. 917=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 337 ; see also 39 C. W. N. 313. Sub-section (3) must be read as ancillary to sub-section (1) and only comes into operation where there is a question arising between the parties to the suit or their representatives relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree, and it does not apply to a case in which the question is between the rival representatives of one party, the other party having throughout disclaimed any interest in the question. There is no provision of appeal in the Code on an order passed under Order 21, rule 97. But if an order is passed under that rule in a dispute between the auction purchaser who is the decree-holder himself and a person who was a party to the suit, such an order falls under the provisions of s. 47 and is therefore appealable. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 541=38 C. W. N. 497=150 Ind. Cas. 313. An objection that a sum paid in part satisfaction of a rent decree is not given credit falls within s. 47 and so can legitimately form subject-matter of appeal. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 761. The proceedings for enforcement of an award under s. 47, C. P. Code and an appeal is competent for an order rejecting such application. The fact that an objection was raised that the award was given without jurisdiction does not preclude the applicability of s. 47. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 49=35 P. L. R. 635=151 Ind. Cas. 881. Section 145, Civil Procedure Code itself provides that any person who has become liable as surety and against whom a decree may be executed shall be deemed for the purpose of appeal to be a party within the meaning of s. 47. It follows that the surety has a right of appeal against an order directing execution against him. 152 Ind. Cas. 693=35 P. L. R. 466=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 538. An order passed under Order 21, r. 16 allowing a transferee of a decree his right to execute the decree though not appealable is appealable as a decree within s. 47 in as much as the transferee is a representative of the decree-holder within the meaning of that section and the order allowing his right to execute is one which decides therefor a question relating to the execution of the decree as between transferee and the judgment-debtor. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 328.

Where a decree is assigned and the assignee assigns it to another but the second assignee's application for permission to execute the decree and to recognize the assignment is offered by the first assignee and the application is dismissed, an appeal is competent from the order of dismissal as s. 47 applies. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 181. Where in consequence of a decree removing a mohant from office, an order is made in a miscellaneous application for appointing a committee which was to appoint a new mohant, the order is not appealable as it is neither a decree nor an order under s. 47, Civil Procedure Code, for an order made appealable under Order 43, rule 1. A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 43. Where the judgment-debtor himself applies to have an execution sale set aside a second appeal does lie from the appellate order dismissing an appeal from the lower Court's order dismissing the application as in such a case provision of s. 47, C. P. Code apply. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 438=1935 M. W. N. 403=42 L. W. 39=156 Ind. Cas. 699. A dispute between the decree-holder, who is also the auction purchaser and the judgment-debtor relating to the delivery of possession of property purchased by the decree-holder auction purchaser is a dispute relating to the execution or satisfaction of the decree, and arises between the parties to the suit or their legal representative. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 144=37 P. L. R. 116=153 Ind. Cas. 85. Though no appeal lies against an order passed wholly and singly under s. 73; an order which decides a matter covered by s. 47 (1) may although it be passed ostensibly under s. 73 be the subject of appeal. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 302=16 Lah. 909=156 Ind. Cas. 845.

An appeal by judgment-debtor from an order upholding the assignment from the decree-holder is not maintainable. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 609=37 P. L. R. 305=155 Ind. Cas. 574. It is not every order in execution which is a decree; it is only such orders as conclusively determine a question between the parties to the suit relating to the execution of the decree. So no appeal lies from an order by which the executing Court granted extension of time for payment of money. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 500.

Section 47 applies to execution proceedings of rent decree also and as such an appeal lies from an order passed on question relating to execution, in satisfaction of such a decree between the parties. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 227=16 Pat. L. T. 443=156 Ind. Cas. 881. Long after mortgage decree had been obtained, the mortgagor died and his sons were brought on the record as his legal representatives. They raised objections in execution that the mortgaged house was their personal property and was not liable to sale in execution of the mortgage decree: Held that s. 47 had no application as that section deals with the cases of execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree and takes for granted that a valid decree subsists. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 549=37 P. L. R. 123=A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 103. In considering whether an application is under s. 47 or not, a Court must examine the substance of the application to find out its true nature and should not be guided solely by the heading given to it by the applicant. Where money decree was fully satisfied before executing Court, and an application under s. 151, C. P. Code was made to inquire how much money was due by the judgment-debtor: Held, reading the application as a whole there could not be any manner of doubt that it related to matter touching the discharge or satisfaction of the decree and was therefore in reality and substance an application under s. 47 of the Code and therefore the order was appealable. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 725=161 Ind. Cas. 21. But an order is not appealable when it is made under s. 151, C. P. Code. 40 C. W. N. 89; see also A. I. R. 1936 Sind 166. In proceedings under Order 34, rule 5, the auction purchaser is not a necessary party. The decision of an executing Court on an application under Order 34, rule 5 falls within the purview of s. 47, C. P. Code as is appealable. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 562=38 P. L. R. 259=164 Ind. Cas. 53. An order setting aside a sale on the ground that the executing Court had no jurisdiction to sell the property without attachment, in the first instance, falls under s. 47 and a second appeal is competent against such an order. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 573=164 Ind. Cas. 140. Where an order is one under s. 73, C. P. Code and not under s. 47 of the Code, no appeal lies. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 181=162 Ind. Cas. 309. An order under Order 21, rule 66, which overruled the objection of the judgment-debtor that only a part of the property was saleable is an order under s. 47 and as such an appeal lies against such an order. 1936 A. M. L. J. 13. During the sale in execution of a mortgage decree the judgment-debtor died. As the sale proceeds were insufficient his legal representative was brought on record, and decree under Order 34, rule 6 was obtained against the assets in his hands. He made no objection that the property sold was his personal property. The execution Court disallowed the objection, and directed him to bring a regular suit. In a suit for declaration that the person belonged to the local representative: Held the objection of the local representative could not be treated as under Order 21, rule 58, but one under s. 47. Therefore the order of dismissal of objection was appealable and a separate suit did not lie from the order dismissing objection. A. I. R. 1937 All. 97.

LIMIT OF TIME FOR EXECUTION.

48. [S. 230, 3rd and 4th paras.] (1) Where an application to execute a decree not being a decree granting an injunction has been made, no order for the execution of the same decree shall be made upon any fresh application presented after the expiration of twelve years from—

- (a) the date of the decree sought to be executed, or
- (b) where the decree or any subsequent order directs any payment of money or the delivery of any property to be made at a certain date or at recurring periods, the date of the default in making the payment or delivery in respect of which the applicant seeks to execute the decree.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed—

(a) to preclude the Court from ordering the execution of a decree upon an application presented after the expiration of the said term of twelve years, where the judgment-debtor has, by fraud or force, prevented the execution of the decree at some time within twelve years immediately before the date of the application ; or

(b) to limit or otherwise affect the operation of Artical 180 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877.*†

Soope.—This section prescribes a period after the lapse of which an application for the execution of a decree though not barred by limitation, shall not be granted. 9 P. R. 1891 ; 109 P. R. 1889. This section contains an unqualified prohibition subject to exceptions contained in the cl.(2) thereof against execution of certain kinds of decree more than 12 years old and is not controlled by s. 15 (1) of the Limitation Act. The period mentioned in s. 48 C. P. Code is not a period of limitation in the strict sense; and consequently s. 15(1) of the Limitation Act is not applicable to it. 7 Lah. 49=A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 351=132 Ind. Cas. 257=14 O. L. J. 459=8 O. W. N. 642 ; see also 131 Ind. Cas. 345 ; A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1154=113 Ind. Cas. 260 ; A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 268=16 L. W. 68=(1922) M. W. N. 424=31 M. L. T. 140=43 M. L. J. 168=45 M. 785=70 Ind. Cas. 396. Section 7 of the Limitation Act does not exempt a minor decree-holder from the operation of s. 230 which is enacted absolutely for the benefit of the judgment-debtor that he might not be harassed for ever and for every execution proceedings. 128 P. R. 1894 ; A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1154=113 Ind. Cas. 260. The term "application to execute a decree" in the paragraph means any application for the purpose. And it should not be restricted to the last application immediately preceding an application made after 12 years from the date of the decree sought to be enforced, on which the sum decreed became payable. 15 A. 198=A. W. N. 1893, 93. As the Code by s. 48 prohibits the Court from making any order upon an application presented after expiration of 12 years, the statutory obligation of the Court cannot be got rid of on account of any private contract to the contrary. It will be the duty of the Court to ignore the private agreement and to give effect to the statute. The agreement may give rise to a separate suit, but cannot estop the judgment-debtor from objecting to the further execution of the decree. 54 A. 573 (590)=1932 A. L. J. 365=138 Ind. Cas. 583(2)=13 L. R. 199 (Rev.)=A. I. R. 1932 All. 273=A. L. R. 1932 A. 272 (F. B.). Section 48 does not prescribe a period of limitation in the strict sense, it imports limitation on the right of decree-holder to apply for execution after the expiry of 12 years from the date of the decree and in that sense 12 years period in effect lays down the period of limitation applicable to an application for execution of the decree within the meaning of s. 78 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act. 8 O. W. N. 1186. An application for execution of a decree stayed by an injunction or order of the Court filed after 12 years from the date of the decree cannot be saved from the bar under s. 48, C. P. Code by excluding under s. 15 (1) of the Limitation Act the time during which execution was stayed. 8 O. W. N. 642=A. I. R. (1931) Oudh 351=14 O. L. J. 459=132 Ind. Cas. 257. Section 48 is not controlled by s. 15, Limitation Act, and the only exception to sub-section (1), is that contained in sub-section (2). A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 597=120 Ind. Cas. 315. Section 48 has retrospective effect. It governs an application for execution of a mortgage decree passed before the new Code came into force. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 326=27 Bom. L. R. 461=87 Ind. Cas. 769. The period of limitation prescribed by s. 48 is a part of the substantive law of limitation, as will appear from the wording of Arts 181 and 182, Limitation Act. It has nothing to do with the manner of executing the decree. A. I. R. 1932 Sind 116=26 S. L. R. 91=A. L. R. 1932 Sind 82. A preliminary as well as final decree should be taken as single and indivisible decree. Date of decree means date of final decree. 33 Ind. Cas. 180. Application for execution of mortgage decree made more than 12 years barred under s. 48 though the decree was passed under the old Code. 20 C. W. N. 952=2 Pat. L. W. 370=1 Pat. L. J. 314=34 Ind. application to continue the execution is made beyond limitation the latter application is merely ancillary to first and is not barred. A. I. R. 1926 All. 331=24 A. L. J. 437=94 Ind. Cas. 613. An order under s. 48 must be passed by the Court which made the decree and acting as that Court. An adjustment sanctioned by executing Court to pay decree by instalments will not alter original decree nor will the limitation get a fresh starting point. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 678. "Period of limitation" in strict sense means such a period that a proceeding to which it is sought to be applied will be in time, if filed within the period, and beyond time, if filed after it. In loose sense it means a secondary period which applies as a further check to an application or suit which is found not wanting when the primary or strict period of limitation is applied. Section 48, C. P. Code, 1908, for example prescribed a period of limitation in the loose sense. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 268=16 L. W. 68=(1922) M. W. N. 424=31 M. L. T. 140=45 M. 785=43 M. L. J. 168=70 Ind. Cas. 396. A decree-holder has the undoubted right to waive a default where the decree directing payment of money by instalments contains a clause giving an option to the decree-holder to execute for the whole balance of the decretal amount on the happening of any default and if there is a default s. 48 is a bar to the execution of the decree only in respect of instalments payable more than 12 years before the date of the application is no bar to the execution in respect of instalments payable within 12 years of the date of application. A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 564=138 Ind. Cas. 255=1. R. 1932 Lah. 436. The 12 years' period prescribed by s. 48 ought to be taken to run from the date of the original decree and not from the date of any subsequent amendment. Paragraph (3), Schedule 3, controls s. 48. But where property sought to be sold was included amongst the properties in the previous execution application, the decree-holder cannot be said to have been temporarily deprived of his present remedy. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 465=11 O. W. N. 1103=151 Ind. Cas. 541. Section 29, Limitation Act, does not include the Code of Civil Procedure in its scope. Ss. 19 and 20, Limitation Act, do not apply to s. 48, Civil Procedure Code, and the reason is that so to apply then would be to render the provisions of s. 48, Civil Procedure Code largely nugatory. Ibid. An application praying for time to file a fresh list of properties is not an application for execution. 60 L. W. N. 1366=44 L. W. 805=71 M. L. J. 808. A decree which provides that the whole decree shall become payable in the event of a default in the payment of any instalment is not a decree for money payable on a certain date within the meaning of the first part of s. 48. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 159=162 Ind. Cas. 673. Section 48 is applicable only to fresh applications and not to revival applications. A. I. R. 1937 Pat. 43. An application for execution for revival of previous execution, by re-sale of some property, is governed for limitation by Art 181, Limitation Act and not by s. 48, C. P. Code. A. I. Sub-section (1) Clause (a).—The period of twelve years prescribed by this section ought to be taken to run from the date of the original decree. The period so fixed is final and cannot be extended by an amendment of the decree. 151 Ind. Cas. 541=11 O. W. N. 1103=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 465 Upon a decree the amount with interest was payable within 12 years and in default the mortgaged property was to be sold after 12 years but an option was given to the decree-holder to recover the entire amount by sale of the property before the expiry of the 12 years in case

Fresh start for limitation from a new personal decree in mortgage suit is given if no objection is taken. Application for execution is within time if made within 12 years from the date of the new decree. 57 Ind. Cas. 507. Decree in suit for foreclosure incapable of execution owing to absence of formal order for delivery of possession. The twelve years' period runs from the date of the formal order for delivery of possession. 54 Ind. Cas. 924. Limitation for execution in a personal mortgage decree runs from the date of such decree. 31 C. L. J. 167=66 Ind. Cas. 758. Clause (b) of Sub-section (1)—The wording of s. 48 (1) (b) is quite general and contains nothing to indicate that the subsequent order must be passed by the Court that passed the decree acting as such. The subsequent order must be passed by a competent Court and an order under Order 21, rule 2, certifying an adjustment made by the Court executing the decree is a subsequent order within the meaning of the clause. 27 N. Section 48 contains the substantive provision of the Code whereas Order 28, rule 11 can be altered by High Courts and other similar provisions can be also added in the rules. Further more, Order 20, rule 11, applies only to decrees for payment of money, whereas s. 48 (1) (b) covers decrees for the delivery of property also. S. 48 is accordingly of a wider scope, and there is no reason to confine it to particular order passed under Order 20, rule 11. 54 A. 573=1932 A. L. J. 365=138 Ind. Cas. 583=A. I. Fresh application.—Where an execution application is pending for a long time due to no fault of decree-holder, another application is filed to supplement list of properties to be attached 12 years after date of decree, the second application is in substance a fresh application for execution and is barred by time. Section 48 applies to a fresh application for execution after the expiration of 12 years from the date of the decree and does not apply where previous application for execution treated as rightly amended while it was pending though the amendment ordered after the expiry of the 12 years. Application for amendment though made after 12 years from date of decree is not as such ultra vires. But if amendment cannot be allowed and application for amendment was in substance a fresh application for the execution of the decree then it will be clearly barred under s. 48. Whether amendment can or cannot be allowed depends upon the circumstances of each case and is discretionary with Court. While exercising this discretion the Court should not allow the statutory provision of s. 48 to be evaded. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1154=113 Ind. Cas. 260. Where application for execution was made within three years of the previous execution proceedings for rateable distribution but after 12 years from the decree, wherein heir of the judgment-debtor asked to be brought on record and amount due asked to be realized by attachment and sale of judgment-debtor's movables. Such proceedings should be treated as application in continuation of the previous execution cases and prayer to bring the heir on the record and issuing notice to him would not make it a new application but the application, in so far as it sought to attach the movables, was a new application for execution within the provisions of s. 48 and was clearly barred by time. Clause (a) of sub-section (2)—The expression "fraud" in this section should be construed in a broad sense, and a deliberate evasion of the process of the Court with intention to defeat the execution of the decree would amount to "fraud." If the judgment-debtor, by fraud or force, at some time prevented the execution it is not necessary for the decree-holder to show that the judgment-debtor, guilty of fraud, had means to pay the decretal amount or that the decree-holder exercised continuous diligence and would have realised the fruits of his decree but for such fraud or force. (1911), 2 M. W. N. 434 ; A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 380=16 Pat. L. T. 506=14 Pat. 816=156 Ind. Cas. 297. It is not necessary to show that the fraud or stratagem of the judgment-debtor extended continuously for the whole period of 12 years following the date of the decree. It is sufficient to show that the judgment-debtor, on various occasions within the aforesaid period, dishonestly prevented the execution of the decree against him by frivolous devices. Such devices clearly constitute fraud within the meaning of s. 48 of C. P. Code. 14 O. C. 238 ; see also 9 A. L. J. 17 ; A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 597=120 Ind. Cas. 315. What is quite clearly contemplated, apart from the definition of the term fraud itself, is some action on the part of the judgment-debtor which prevents the decree-holder from taking out execution proceeding and thus allowing time to run against him or some action by the judgment-debtor which entices the decree-holder to hold his hand. Hence merely because the judgment-debtor is taking advantage of the procedure allowed by law, however obstructive that may be, he cannot be said that he is preventing the decree-holder from executing his decree by fraud. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 380=16 Pat. L. T. 506=14 Pat. 816=156 Ind. Cas. 297. The mere raising of objections so as to prolong execution proceedings beyond the period of limitation cannot in all cases, be regarded as fraud for the purposes of clause (a) of sub-section (2). 161 Ind. Cas. 960=A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 843 ; A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 532 ; 40 L. W. 694=67 M. L. J. 751. The term fraud in s. 48 is used in wider sense than in English law. Locking house, evading arrest or payment or fictitious transfer is fraud. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 82=22 N. L. R. 67=80 Ind. Cas. 905 ; A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 836=47 M. L. J. 428=20 L. W. 475=80 Ind. Cas. 731. Keeping door closed is not fraudulent conduct on the part of a pardanashin lady unless she deliberately does so or attempts to do so against the executing officer. 4 O. L. J. 345=40 Ind. Cas. 399. Where there is no fraud or force, pendency of appeal by judgment-debtor does not cause suspension of execution. 20 C. W. N. 686=32 Ind. Cas. 931. Section 48 does not mean that the fraud on the part of one judgment-debtor gives a new starting point against his co-debtors. One party should not suffer for the wrong doing of another. (1930) M. W. N. 729=32 L. W. 615=128 Ind. Cas. 455. Where there are more judgment-debtors than one, the fraud of any particular judgment-debtor would give the decree-holder further time for execution only as against him under s. 48 (2). (1911) 2. M. W. N. 434 ; see also 35 M. 670 ; 125 Ind. Cas. 830=A. I. R. 1030 Sind 218. Pleading a payment found not to have been made amounts to fraud. (1930) M. W. N. 729=32 L. W. 615=128 Ind. Cas. 455. Fraud includes not merely deceit but also circumvention. A. I. R. 1927 All. 668=25 A. L. J. 842=103 Ind. Cas. 277. The mere fact that there has been a prolongation of the execution proceedings due to objection however frivolous raised by the judgment-debtor would not itself amount to fraud. Fraud must be of a nature which the decree-holder is not liable to discover at the time. (1931) A. L. J. 894. The mere fact that consequent upon frivolous objection of judgment-debtor execution proceedings have been prolonged would not amount to 'fraud' within the meaning of sub-section 2. Fraud must be something which the decree-holder is not able to discover at the time and which enables the judgment-debtor in getting time. A. I. R. 1931 All. 134=129 Ind. Cas. 716=53 A. 419. Intentional avoiding of arrest under a warrant to avoid payment of decretal amount amounts to fraud and gives a fresh start to the period of limitation. 12 L. W. 710=(1920) M. W. N. 788=60 Ind. Cas. 630. If a force or fraud is proved, it gives a fresh starting point of limitation under s. 48 (2) (a). The period during which execution proceedings have been stayed cannot be deducted from the period of 12 years. 54 Ind. Cas. 279. Execution after 12 years from the date of the decree fraud or force need not be proved within three years of the application. Benefit of the proviso can be given even if the fraud or force was long anterior in date. 10 L. W. 566=53 Ind. Cas. 862. The proposition that any action of the judgment-debtor which puts off the decree-holder from executing his decree at once must be taken as fraud if it results thereof is to bar the execution of the decree under the 12 years' rule is much too broadly stated. 54 A. 573=1932 A. L. J. 365=138 Ind. Cas. 583=A. I. R. 1932 All. 273 (F. B.).

TRANSFEREES AND LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES.

49. [S. 233.] Every transferee of a decree shall hold the same subject to the equities (if any) which the judgment-debtor might have enforced against the original decree-holder.

Transferee.

Scope.—Section 49 only applies to the stage of execution and not to a suit for damages. A transferee from a decree-holder executing a decree in spite of adjustment is not inferentially a trustee for the judgment-debtor for the decree-amount. 42 M. 338=36 M. L. J. 376=9 L. W. 443=(1919) M. W. N. 248=50 Ind. Cas. 584. Decree-holder on record is entitled to execute decree. Transferee of a decree when brought on record can execute it and will be entitled to benefits arising from execution only when he takes out execution of the decree. A. I. So a right of set off available to a judgment-debtor against assignor decree-holder is equally available against assignee of decree. Ibid. The right is not however available where there is no cross-decree on the date of the assignment of the decree. 37 C. W. N. 758=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 865. Where on assignment of a decree a cross-decree is obtained by the judgment-debtor against assignor the amount deposited under the assigned decree can be attached by judgment-debtor for his own decree. 50. [S. 234.] (1) Where a judgment-debtor dies before the decree has been fully satisfied, the holder of the decree may apply to the Court which passed it to execute the same against the legal representative of the deceased.

(2) Where the decree is executed against such legal representative, he shall be liable only to the extent of the property of the deceased which has come to his hands and has not been duly disposed of; and, for the purpose of ascertaining such liability, the Court executing the decree may, of its own motion or on the application of the decree-holder, compel such legal representative to produce such accounts as it thinks fit.

Soope.—The language of s. 50, C. P. Code is permissive. But this does not mean that recourse to the section may not be obligatory. If a decree-holder does not desire to proceed with the execution after the judgment-debtor's death or if there are other parties on record against whom the decree can be executed, there will be no occasion to have recourse to s. 50. But if execution of the decree is necessary against the legal representative of the deceased judgment-debtor the decree-holder has no option but to proceed under s. 50. A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 205=1936 M. As the daughters were in enjoyment of the rents and profits of the tenure the liability for rent ought to be regarded as their personal liability and ought not to be held as attaching to the reversion unless the appellants proceed to bring the tenure itself to sale under the special provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The respondents reversioners therefore are not the legal representatives of the judgment-debtor, in respect of the properties which the applicants want to sell in execution of the rent decree within the meaning of s. 50, C. PROCEDURE IN EXECUTION.

51. [New.] Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may, on the application of the decree-holder, order execution of the decree—

- (a) by delivery of any property specifically decreed ;
- (b) by attachment and sale or by sale without attachment of any property ;
- (c) by arrest and detention in prison ;
- (d) by appointing a receiver ; or
- (e) in such other manner as the nature of the relief granted may require :

“Provided that where the decree is for the payment of money execution by detention in prison shall not be ordered unless, after giving the judgment-debtor an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison, the Court, for reasons recorded in writing, is satisfied—

(a) that the judgment-debtor, with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the execution of the decree,—

(i) is likely to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

(ii) has, after the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, dishonestly transferred, concealed, or removed any part of his property, or committed any other act of bad faith in relation to his property, or

(b) that the judgment-debtor has or has had since the date of the decree, the means to pay the amount of the decree or some substantial part thereof and refuses or neglects or has refused or neglected to pay the same, or

(c) that the decree is for a sum for which the judgment-debtor was bound in a fiduciary capacity to account.

Explanation.—In the calculation of the means of judgment-debtor for the purposes of clause (b) there shall be left out of account any property which, by or under any law or custom having the force of law for the time being in force, is exempt from attachment in execution of the decree.”

Scope.—An application under s. 51 may be inferred from an act of the Court. 52 Ind. Cas. 356. Compromise decree granting allowances to parties to a suit and also to a stranger. Latter cannot apply for execution, though he can sue separately for his claim. 3 O. L. J. 570=37 Ind. Cas. 133. The five separate methods for executing a decree, provided by section 51 are quite distinct from each other and prima facie an application asking that one method should be adopted is not in continuation of a previous application asking for some other methods. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 209. Section 51, C. P. Code lays down the mode in which a Court may execute a decree. It does not, however, give the Court any discretion to choose one particular mode of execution as against another. The Court has therefore no juris-

Clause (b).—If a decree in a mortgage suit based upon compromise does not indicate that attachment is necessary before taking out execution, there is no objection to executing the decree without attachment. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 320=2 P. L. T. 38=60 Ind. Cas. 652. Failure to attach does not vitiate sale unless substantial injury is caused thereby and the Court has jurisdiction to sell without attachment. J. 491=30 P. L. R. 6=10 Lah. 543=113 Ind. Cas. 907. Though ordinarily a decree is a saleable property and as such is liable to be sold in execution, yet the High Court is competent to frame rules under Ss. 51 and 122, C. P. Section 51 contemplates sale without attachment. A. I. R. 1937 Cyl. 199.

Clause (c).—Every personal decree does not carry with it a right to arrest the judgment-debtor in execution. Exceptions are females, legal representatives and minors. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 98=18 N. L. R. 145=5 N. L. J. 49=65 Ind. Cas. 53. So where a decree-holder comes before the Court for process against the judgment-debtor for his arrest, it is not open to the Court, in the absence of special circumstances, to say that the decree-holder must proceed against the properties of the defendant before applying for his arrest. 38 C. W. N. 1085. Decree-holder applying for arrest of judgment-debtor in execution of decree cannot be compelled to accept payment in instalments instead. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 220=30 P. L. R. 736=125 Ind. Cas. 61. Order committing a judgment-debtor to jail passed without jurisdiction. No objection made to committal and question of legality not then raised. Order is not under s. 47 and therefore not appealable. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 161=7 Rang. 110=117 Ind. Cas. 245.

Clause (d).—Execution of decree by appointment of receiver can be appointed only when ordinary execution cannot be effected with advantage and when such case made out and sole purpose of appointments is to have immovable property realized by sale, application for such appointment is to be made as application in execution to Court within whose territorial jurisdiction property is situate. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 502=34 C. W. N. 238=51 C. L. J. 209=57 C. 964=128 Ind. Cas. 97. Section 51 does not give any right to the judgment-debtor to apply for the appointment of a receiver but prescribes the mode in which the decree-holder may seek an execution of his decree. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 369=4 P. L. T. 58=(1922) Pat. 66=67 Ind. Cas. 606. A Court can appoint receivers of rents of the estate of the deceased person for the purpose of liquidating debts against the estate. 22 O. C. 194=52 Ind. Cas. 305. Executing Court can appoint receivers for realisation of property outside jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 119=13 L. W. 150=(1921) M. W. N. 106=61 Ind. Cas. 753. Although the Court has jurisdiction to appoint receivers in execution, of immovable properties outside the jurisdiction, still if the judgment-debtor objects to the appointment of a receiver in execution, and if there is a reasonable clause of the decree-holder being able to satisfy the decree by means of attachment and sale of such properties, he should be relegated to that remedy. 40 C. W. N. 1065. Where judgment-debtor possesses a share in a firm it is doubtful if receiver can be appointed in execution. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 313. Appointment of receiver under this section is subject to provision of Order 40, rule 1. A. I. R. 1937 Oudh 232. An order appointing a receiver made in execution proceedings may fall within the purview of Order 40, rule 1 so as to be appealable under Order 43, rule 1 (s.). A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 190=100 Ind. Cas. 298. Receiver appointed under s. 51 (d) is not agent of decree-holder nor do moneys received by him become ipso facto moneys belonging to decree-holder. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 4. A receiver appointed by the Court is appointed on behalf and for the benefit of all persons interested, as parties to the suit or proceeding and moneys in the hands of the receiver belong to the Court which appointed him and he cannot spend them except under the orders of the Court. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 4. Receiver can be appointed by way of equitable execution in respect of agricultural land of judgment-debtor in Santhal Parganas. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 700=10 P. L. T. 896=118 Ind. made out by the person, applying for the same. Ibid. There must be danger of waste or destruction of property. Ibid. Court has no power to appoint receiver in respect of property not subject-matter of suit. Ibid. In a proper case a receiver may be appointed. 1933 A. L. J. 51=A. I. R. 1933 All. 227. Section 51 clause (d) recognises the appointment of a receiver as a mode of execution. It gives only legislative sanction to previous decision which hold that execution may be had by appointment of a receiver where that course is equitable. Decree-holder cannot have it as a matter of right and as of course. It is only way of equitable execution and this section must be read with Order 40, rule 1, 35 C. W. N. 1066. The Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad has disposing power over the income of his properties. The Civil Court is competent to appoint a receiver of the rent and profits. 58 I. A. 215=A. I. R. (1931) P. Clause (e).—Where judgment-debtor is in possession of movable property sufficient to satisfy a decree but has successfully resisted the execution for about 10 years, the executing Court can mortgage the land of the judgment-debtor for the decretal amount. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 77=119 Ind. Cas. 231. Clause (e) does not authorize a Court to read into a decree supplementary or alternative relief which is not there. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 299=42 M. L. J. 356=16 L. W. 589=70 Ind. Cas. 259.

Object of the newly added proviso.—This proviso is the outcome of the recommendation of the Royal Commission. On Labour in India to the effect that in the case of industrial workers in respect of wages less than Rs. 100 a month arrest and imprisonment for debt should be abolished except where the debtor has been proved to be both able and unwilling to pay. This section seeks to amend the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, so as to protect honest debtors of all classes, and not the industrial workers only, from detention in civil prison and to confine such detention to debtors proved to be recalcitrant or fraudulent. It also provides inter alia that no order for execution by detention in prison shall be issued unless the debtor has been given an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison and the Court is satisfied for reasons recorded in writing that (i) the debtor is likely to leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or has after the institution of the suit fraudulently disposed of his property and (ii) that he is able to pay the amount of the decree otherwise than from the protected assets. This section applies to all judgment-debtors—Statement of objects and Reasons to Act XXI of 1936.

52. [S. 252.] (1) Where a decree is passed against a party as the legal representative of a deceased person, and the decree is for the payment of money out of the property of the deceased, it may be executed by the attachment and sale of any such property.

(2) Where no such property remains in the possession of the judgment-debtor and he fails to satisfy the Court that he has duly applied such property of the deceased as is proved to have come into his possession, the decree may be executed against the judgment-debtor to the extent of the property in respect of which he has failed so to satisfy the Court in the same manner as if the decree had been against him personally.

Sub-section (1).—A person holding a decree against the assets of a deceased person can obtain satisfaction by attachment and sale of only such property as is shown to have formed part of the assets of the deceased. It is his duty to prove, at least prima facie, that any particular property which is attached at his instance is part of the assets of the deceased. A. I. R. 1934 All. 249=148 Ind. Cas. 1113. Decree obtained against Karnavan when no executor is appointed by Will is valid against estate. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 243=1927 M. W. N. 894=108 Ind. Cas. 409 : Provided the debt on a pro-note is not tainted with immorality, a suit brought against the father and sons of the deceased debtor who formed a joint Hindu family can be decreed under s 52 and it would be for the execution department to decide whether the joint family property was liable. 26 A. I. R. 1934 All. 249. Where the Court is satisfied that at the time when the suit was brought the defendants had received no part of the assets of the deceased, the only course open to it is to dismiss the suit. 1936 A. Where the estate in the hands of the heirs of the original debtor against whose estate the decree was passed is liable for the satisfaction of the decree, then even the produce and income of that estates which has accrued after the death of the original debtor is liable to attachment and sale in satisfaction of such decree. 165 Ind. Cas. 802=A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 236. The creditors of the ancestor have a general lien upon the assets of the ancestor's estate for the payment of their debts and can follow such assets into the hands of the heirs but it does not follow that the creditors can follow such assets into the hands of the other persons. If the heir has disposed of the ancestor's property to other persons, who took the property without notice of the creditors' claims; then the creditors' right to follow the property is lost. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 162=12 Rang. 603=152 Ind. Cas. 558. A decree must be against a person, and not merely against something which is not a person, as e. g., the estate of a deceased person. The phrase "out of the assets of the deceased" is merely a restrictive qualification. And though payment has to be made only out of the assets of the deceased, the decree is nonetheless a decree against the legal representative. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 562=1934 M. W. N. 800=151 Ind. Cas. 617. Where joint-family consists of grand-father, father and son and where father died in the lifetime of the grand father, a decree against son as legal representative of his father can be executed against the joint-family property in the hands of the son. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 101=148 Ind. Cas. 930. Where the debtor is not himself sued but dies before the suit and a defendant is sued as representing the deceased person's estate, the defendant, in order to bind the estate and the rightful owner, must substantially represent the estate, and that where the defendant does not substantially represent the estate, the Court has no jurisdiction to sell the estate and the decree would not bind the real heir. A. I. R. 1934 All. 474=150 Ind. Cas. 323.

Sub-section (2).—Sub-section (2) applies only when no property of deceased is in possession of judgment-debtor and he fails to satisfy that he has duly applied property proved to have come into his possession. Right of creditor to follow assets in legatee's hands can be exercised only by suit and not by execution against assets in the hands of the legatee under a judgment against the legal representative. The questions arising in an enquiry under s. 52 (2) are questions arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree to be decided by Court exercising the decree and not by a separate suit. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 127=5 Rang. 44=101 Ind. Cas. 431. Where a plaintiff without any fraud or collusion sues a person who would be the ordinary legal representative, under the law, and some other person turns out to be the real and actual legal representative the decree obtained against the former is binding in the same manner and to the same extent on the real legal representative. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 243=1927 M. W. N. 894=108 Ind. Cas. 409. The fact that the plea of "plene administravit" can be taken in execution proceedings when events justifying such a plea may have occurred subsequent to the decree, is no reason why it cannot be taken in the suit as a reason for no decree being passed. 53. [New.] For the purposes of section 50 and section 52, property in the hands of a son or other descendant which is liable under Hindu law for the payment of the debt of a deceased ancestor, in respect of which a decree has been passed, shall be deemed to be property of the deceased which has come to the hands of the son or other descendant as his legal representative.

Scope.—Section 53 does not diminish or decrease the ordinary liability of a Hindu son which existed prior to the enactment of the section under the Hindu law. A. I. R. 1934 All. 590=1934 A. L. J. 483=150 Ind. Cas. 411=A. L. R. 1934 All. 582 (F. B.). The word property includes all proprietary interest in such property. Ibid. The words, "which is liable under the Hindu law for the payment of the debt of a deceased ancestor" in s. 53 do not mean that the representatives of the judgment-debtor in the mortgage decree can resist execution on ground that the decree ought not to have been passed as it stands but with a qualification in favour of the representatives that it has turned out to have succeeded by survivorship they could show that the debt on which the decree is based ought not to have been contracted. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 438. A person is entitled to sue the legal representatives of his deceased debtor and to obtain a decree against them without proving that any assets have come into their hands or even that the deceased debtor left any assets. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 196. Section 53 is only meant to cover the case of a son or other descendant who under the section is to be deemed the legal representative of his ancestor with respect to property which was liable under the Hindu law for the payment of the debt of the deceased ancestor in respect of which a decree had been passed. It does not apply where a share of the brother of the father has come to the son and no decree has been passed against the father's brother. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 650=159 Ind. Cas. 233. Where the ancestor against whom a decree is passed is still alive there is no question of enforcement of the decree against his legal representatives or against ancestral property in the hands of such legal representatives and the entire family property is, therefore, not liable to attachment and sale under the section. 1935 O. W. N. 1113=158 Ind. Cas. 490; see also 155 Ind. Cas. 574=1935 M. W. N. 38=41 L. W. 61=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 145=68 Ind. Cas. 104. Section 53 enacts a rule of procedure only and is not intended to affect in any way the extent of a son's liability for his father's debts under the Hindu law. The expression "property in the hands of a son" in s. 53 does not necessarily signify tangible property exclusively possessed by the son without any co-sharers or co-parceners, it means and includes the undivided share of the son in the joint family property held by himself and the other co-parceners who may be in existence. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 510=1935 O. W. N. 1005=157 Ind. Cas. 945. Section 53 which speaks of "a deceased ancestor" and "property of the deceased" which has come to the hands of the sons cannot be stretched to apply to the property which the sons obtain on partition with the father. A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 45. Decree against Hindu father can be executed against the entire joint property in the hands of his sons and ancestral property is to be deemed assets of deceased. 32 Bom. L. ARREST AND DETENTION.

55. [S. 336.] (1) A judgment-debtor may be arrested in execution of a decree at any hour and on any day, and shall Arrest and detention. as soon as practicable, be brought before the Court, and his detention may be in the civil prison of the district in which the Court ordering the detention is situate, or, where such civil prison does not afford suitable accommodation, in any other place which the "Provincial Government"† may appoint for the detention of persons ordered by the Courts of such district to be detained :

Provided, firstly, that, for the purpose of making a arrest under this section no dwelling-house shall be entered after sunset and before sunrise :

* Substituted for the word "Government" by G. I Order of 1937 but in British Burma the word "Government" has been retained because this order is not in force in Burma.

† Substituted by G. I. Order. In Burma read the word "Governor."

Provided, secondly, that, no outer door of a dwelling-house shall be broken open unless such dwelling-house is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor and he refuses or in any way prevents access thereto, but when the officer authorized to make the arrest has duly gained access to any dwelling-house, he may break open the door of any room in which he has reason to believe the judgment-debtor is to be found :

Provided, thirdly, that, if the room is in the actual occupancy of a woman who is not the judgment-debtor and who according to the customs of the country does not appear in public, the officer, authorized to make the arrest shall give notice to her that she is at liberty to withdraw, and, after allowing a reasonable time for her to withdraw and giving her reasonable facility for withdrawing, may enter the room for the purpose of making the arrest :

Provided, fourthly, that, where the decree in execution of which a judgment-debtor is arrested, is a decree for the payment of money and the judgment-debtor pays the amount of the decree and the costs of the arrest to the officer arresting him, such officer shall at once release him.

(2) The "Provincial Government"* may, by notification in the "official Gazette",† declare that any person or class of persons whose arrest might be attended with danger or inconvenience to the public shall not be liable to arrest in execution of a decree otherwise than in accordance with such procedure as may be prescribed by the "Provincial Government"* in this behalf.

(3) Where a judgment-debtor is arrested in execution of a decree for the payment of money and brought before the Court, the Court shall inform him that he may apply to be declared an insolvent, and that he† [may be discharged] if he has not committed any act of bad faith regarding the subject of the application and if he complies with the provisions of the law of insolvency for the time being in force.

(4) Where a judgment-debtor expresses his intention to apply to be declared an insolvent and furnishes security, to the satisfaction of the Court, that he will within one month so apply, and that he will appear, when called upon, in any proceeding upon the application or upon the decree in execution of which he was arrested, the Court‡ [may release] him from arrest, and, if he fails so to apply and to appear, the Court may either direct the security to be realized or commit him to the civil prison in execution of the decree.

A person tilling his land for years does not lose his status of agriculturist merely because he has temporarily let out the land. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 191=30 P. L. R. 649=119 Ind. Cas. 225. The term "artisan" does not include surgeon or doctor. 144 Ind. Cas. 848=34 P. L. R. 809=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 936. Charak an iron pot used for the purpose of preparing gur from sugarcane is an implement of husbandry. 81 I. C. 67. A sweetmeat vendor is an artisan. A. I. R. 1935 All. 848=1935 A. L. J. 1011.

Clause (c).—The fact that a person cultivates his own land and thereby maintain himself and his family will not necessarily make him any the less an agriculturist. 132 Ind. Cas. 809=A. I. R. 1931 All. 20. The term "agriculturist" is used in s. 60 (c) to denote a person making his living by tilling the soil. In other words one whose sole means of livelihood is gained by cultivating the land and does not necessarily mean a person who works with his own hands. The property of an agriculturist to be exempt under clause (c) must be shown to have been occupied by him as such for purposes of agriculture i. e., in order to enable the owner or occupier to cultivate the land. 8 O. W. N. 1353; see also 26 N. L. R. 295=A. I. R. (1931) N. 8=130 Ind. Cas. 81; A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 227 (F. B.)=145 Ind. Cas. 326=11 Rang. 372; A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 1010; 141 Ind. Cas. 824=29 N. L. R. 106=A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 80. An "agriculturist" includes a person who gives a substantial portion of his livelihood, not necessarily the whole of it by agriculture. 17 N. L. A judgment-debtor may be an agriculturist although the cultivation of land is not his sole means of livelihood i. e., even if he obtains some income from sources others than agriculture. 26 N. L. R. 295=A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 8=130 Ind. Cas. 81. In order to exempt a house of an agriculturist from attachment it must be proved that it is being used or occupied bona fide for purpose of agriculture. 12 Lah. 367=130 Ind. Cas. 419=31 P. L. R. 842=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 1034. The burden of proving essential facts lies on the debtor. Ibid. The intention of s. 60 in the proviso in question is that an agriculturist should not be deprived of his means of livelihood by passing his house and other buildings taken from him. 1932 A. L. J. 675=A. I. R. 1932 A. 508=138 Ind. Cas. 685=A. L. R. 1932 All. 883. Where the judgment-debtor belonged to an agriculturist caste and it is not proved that he had any other occupation, it is presumed that he is an agriculturist and occupies the building in that capacity. 1932 A. L. J. 499=138 Ind. Cas. 67=A. I. R. 1932 All. 499=A. L. R. 1932 All. 865. It is doubtful whether the word "agriculturist" as used in s. 60 (c) denotes a person making his living by tilling the soil and whether a judgment-debtor who is a Government servant cannot be said to have his sole means of livelihood by cultivating the land. 9 O. W. N. 1144=16 R. D. 589. The mere fact that these persons have obtained permission to build houses on a portion of the land which was formerly their occupancy tenancy does not necessarily imply that they have themselves ceased to be agriculturists or that they no longer occupy the house in the capacity of agriculturists. 1932 A. L. J. 499=138 Ind. Cas. A. 361=A. L. R. 1932, 865. Where house to be attached is occupied by sons of deceased debtors as agriculturists it need not be proved that their deceased father also occupied as agriculturist. A. I. R. 1928 All. 211=116 Ind. Clauses (h) and (i).—These two clauses were substituted by Act IX of 1937 in order to give effect to the recommendation of the Royal commission on labour. The following Statement of Objects and Reasons were appended to L. A. Bill 11 of 1935 which after some modifications was placed on the statute Book as Act IX of 1937. The framer of the Bill observes : "The Royal Commission on labour drew attention to the indebtedness prevailing among certain classes of workers, and expressed the view that this was due mainly for the credit enjoyed by them and the facilities afforded to creditors by the law relating to the attachment of salaries. With a view to reducing credit, the Commission recommended that wages and salaries of workmen receiving less than Rs. 300 a month should be entirely exempted from attachment. Enquiries made by Government of India in consultation with Local Government, afford justification for action on the lines suggested by the Commission and in particulars reveal a serving State of indebtedness among certain classes of Government employees. The Government of India therefore propose to amend section 60 of the Civil Procedure Code to provide—

(1) the salaries, not exceeding Rs. 100 a month, of all workers should be totally exempt from attachment ;

(2) that the pay of servants of Government Railway Companies and local authorities getting more than Rs. 100 a month should be exempt to the extent of the first Rs. 100 and one half of the remainder, and

(3) that which the attachable portion of the pay of servants of Government, Railway Companies and local authorities should remain as at present liable to continuous attachment the period of attachment should be restricted as follows viz, that after a debtor's pay has been attached for a total period of two years (in one or more periods) no further attachment should be possible in favour of the same decree or in favour of any other decrees until twelve months have elapsed.

"The Bill seeks to give effect to these proposals. It also takes away the privileged position of Co-operative Societies under the proviso to sub-clause (iii) under clause (i) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 60 of the Code as in the opinion of the Government of India it is unnecessary to continue that privilege.

"Under (existing) sub-clause (k) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 60 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, leave allowances if less than salary are exempt from attachment, but under sub-clause (i) leave allowances, if equal to salary on duty, are liable to attachment. Since the introduction of time-scales of pay in the services, this has created an anomalous position for if an officer drawing pay once time-scale proceeds on leave before enacting the maximum of the scale, the whole of his leave allowance, being less than his salary on duty, is exempt from attachment, while if he goes on leave after drawing the maximum pay of the scale for over a year, the whole of his leave allowance, being equal to his salary on duty would be liable to attachment. It is accordingly proposed to place leave allowances and salary on duty in exactly the same position as regards attachment. At the same time the Bill gives to the Governor-General in Council power to exempt certain allowances from attachment, the object being to enable him to exempt certain compensatory allowances granted for specific purpose."

Clause (3).—145 Ind. Cas. 259=34 Cr. L. J. 563.

63. [S. 285.] (1) Where property not in the custody of any Court is under attachment in execution of decrees of more Courts than one, the Court which shall receive or realize such property and shall determine any claim thereto and any objection to the attachment thereof shall be the Court of highest grade, or where there is no difference in grade between such Courts, the Court under whose decree the property was first attached.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to invalidate any proceeding taken by a Court executing one of such decrees.

Scope.—This section applies to immovable property. 7 M. 47; but see 7 C. 410=9 C. L. R. 361. Although the decree-holder claiming rateable distribution should ordinarily, as prescribed by s. 63 have applied for execution to the Court by which the assets are held s. 63 recognising an exception, lays down when and to what extent this rule may be departed from. Even if the decrees are passed by the same Court, still s. 63 applies. The object of s. 63 is to deal with the several attachments, no matter whether the decrees passed are by the same Court, or by different Courts. By which Court the decrees have been passed is an immaterial detail, the emphasis is upon the word 'attachment' and not upon the word 'decrees.' A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 797=1936 M. W. N. 655=71 M. L. J. 328=59 M. 1028=44 L. W. 358. Section 63 contemplates the case where attachments of the same property have been made by different Courts at the instance of different decree-holders of the common judgment-debtor and provides for the distribution among them of the proceeds of the attached property by one of such Courts only. The principle underlying it is the principle of avoiding multiplicity of proceedings the principle of fair distribution, and not the principle of exclusion. The distribution is to be made by the superior Court and if all the Courts be of the same grade, the distribution is to be made by the Court which first attached the property. For this purpose it is the duty of the Court of inferior grade or the Court of the same grade which had attached last of all to send the sale proceeds to the superior Court, or if all the Courts be of the same grade to the Court which first attached the property, and the proceeds so received shall be deemed to have been received on behalf of all the Courts in which there or delivery of the property attached or of any interest therein and any payment to the judgment-debtor of any debt, dividend or other monies contrary to such attachment, shall be void as against all claims enforceable under the attachment.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, claims enforceable under an attachment include claims for the rateable distribution of assets.

Scope.—Section 64 relates to private alienation of property after it has been attached by order of a Court. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 858=128 Ind. Cas. 304. It has no application to a case in which the alienation has been made after the issue of ad interim injunction restraining alienation of house. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 858=128 Ind. Cas. 304. Attachment begins to be binding from the date when all processes of attachment necessary under the law to effect valid attachment have been served, and not from the date of order of attachment. A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 58=9 Pat. 860=12 P. L. T. 398=129 Ind. Cas. 142; see also 145 Ind. Cas. 813=A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 267; 193 A. L. J. 1501; A. I. R. 1933. Rang. 198=146 Ind. Cas. 693=6 I. R. (Rang.) 119; A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 619. Attachment only prevents private alienations. It does not confer any title upon attaching creditor in the property in question and he is only entitled to be classed with other creditors A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 524=57 C. 122=123. Ind. Cas. 737; see also A. I. R. 1929 B. 395=53 B. 851=31 Bom. L. R. 1111=123 Ind. Cas. 510; A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 16=31 Bom. L. R. 1209=122 Ind. Cas. 836; A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 261=3 Lah. 414=69 Ind. Cas. 720; A. I. R. 1921 Oudh 170=8 O. L. J. 358=16 Ind. Cas. 642; A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 30=44 M. 232=40 M. L. J. 65=62 Ind. Cas. 121.

For the purpose of this section attachment takes effect not from the date on which it is ordered but when it is made under Order 21, rule 54. 32 Ind. Cas. 276; 53 Ind. Cas. 207=42 M. 844 (F. B.); (1931) M. W. N. 259=A. I. R. (1931) Mad. 570; see also A. L. R. 1934 All. 12.

Attachment before judgment is not a process in execution of a decree. Attachment in s. 64 covers attachment before judgment. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 238=68 Ind. Cas. 188; see also A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 494=33 C. W. N. 805=57 C. 274=122 Ind. Cas. 637; 113 Ind. Cas. 353=A. I. R. 1928 B. 444=30 Bom. L. R. 1136. An attachment is not effectual till the prohibitory order is posted in the Court house. 59 C. 1176=36 C. W. N. 733=A. L. R. 1933 Cal. 33; A. L. R. 1934 All. 12=1934 A. L. J. 1501.

The attachment under s. 64 must be made in the manner and published as prescribed in Order 21, rule 54. 39 Ind. Cas. 857; 36 Ind. Cas. 732=3 O. L. J. 422; see also A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 238=68 Ind. Cas. 188; 12 P. L. T. 398=A. I. R. (1931) P. 58=129 Ind. Cas. 142=9 P. 860.

Section 64 protects a creditor only from those transactions which are subsequent to attachment. 21 C. W. N. 158=34 Ind. Cas. 953=23 C. L. J. 115. A property was attached by a decree-holder but the assets were not brought to the Court. Pending this attachment, the property was transferred. Subsequently another decree-holder attached the same property and the transfer being held valid, he contended that he could enforce his claim under the attachment by the other decree-holder: Held that he was not entitled to do so as the attaching creditor under the prior attachment never got the assets into the executing Court and further the present attaching creditor under his attachment never applied for rateable distribution. A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 1. Under s. 64, C. P. Code an applicant for rateable distribution is placed on the same footing as the attaching decree-holder. 150 Ind. Cas. 770=A. I. R. 1934 All. 896. Under s. 64 of the present Civil Procedure Code, it has to be shown that the transfer was contrary to the attachment, which is the same thing as saying that it must be prejudicial to the interests of the attaching creditor or the auction-purchaser. 152 Ind. Cas. 757=A. I. R. 1934 All. 902. One of the objects of s. 64 is to prevent an alienation which might defeat the claim of the attaching creditor. A. I. R. 1934 All. 1057. This section which declares private alienation of property after attachment to be void, does not cover the enforced execution of a conveyance in obedience to a decree of Court. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 163. Agreement entered into before attachment is not affected. Ibid; see also A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 209; 19 N. L. J. 94; A. I. R. 1935 All. 391=1935 P. L. J. 749=154 Ind. Cas. 437; 158 Ind. Cas. 940=1935 M. W. N. 942=42 L. W. 544=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 872=69 M. L. J. 678=8 R. M. 386.

An alienation which is void by reason of its being made contrary to an attachment cannot revive or be validated by reason of the attachment ceasing as a result of the execution being struck off. 39 C. W. N. 733. If there is a valid attachment of debt, the satisfaction of the decree in which the debt might have been merged would be void under s. 64 against all claims and objections under the attachment. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 619=152 Ind. Cas. 795. A private transfer of property under attachment is not absolutely void but is only voidable. 63 Ind. Cas. 108; see also A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 338=47 M. L. J. 913=85.

Ind. Cas. 349. Mortgage during attachment is not binding on auction purchaser. A. I. R. 1922 All. 443=44 A. 714=20 A. L. J. 722=68 Ind. Cas. 790. Prior transfer is not affected by attachment before judgment. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 545=30 Bom. L. R. 1488=115 Ind. Cas. 414; A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 801=33 C. L. J. 7=62 Ind. Cas. 167. Section 64 is intended for the benefit of the decree-holder. He can however agree to forego the benefit. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 230=16 L. W. 988=44 M. L. J. 80=72 Ind. Cas. 839. Prohibitory order restraining payee of a promissory-note from receiving money under it, has the effect of an attachment. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 317=44 M. L. J. 206=(1923) M. W. N. 91=72 Ind. Cas. 189.

Agreement to sale entered into before attachment does not create any interest or charge on the property and so it cannot prevail against attachment. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 494=33 C. W. N. 805=57 C. 274=122 Ind. Cas. 637. The moment attachment comes to an end by reason of satisfaction of the decree, all claims under the attachment ceases to be enforceable. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 545=30 Bom. L. R. 1488=115 Ind. Cas. 414; see also 118 Ind. Cas. 615=A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 229=7 Rang. 201. Attachment under s. 64 is that under which execution sale is held and not attachment of creditor who is paid off. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 545=30 Bom. L. R. 1488=115 Ind. Cas. 414. Attachment does not continue after dismissal of execution application. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 81=66 Ind. Cas. 850. Where claim suit is decreed and attachment is raised, but the decree is reversed on appeal, the attachment revives and renders transfer during interval invalid. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 138=4 N. L. J. 213=65 Ind. Cas. 220.

Assignment of a debt or fund, equitable or legal, involves a transfer of an interest in that debt or fund. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 229=7 Rang. 201=118 Ind. Cas. 615. Property under attachment before judgment was transferred by private sale. Subsequently the attaching creditor was paid off and the suit was dismissed. In the circumstances the transfer is not contrary to attachment. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 545=30 Bom. L. R. 1488=115 Ind. Cas. 414. It is only those persons who have claims enforceable under attachment that can take objection that the transfer was void. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 1=7 Pat. 726=9 P. L. T. 822=113 Ind. Cas. 673. A person who has merely obtained an attachment before judgment cannot put up a claim for rateable distribution. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 545=30 Bom. L. R. 1488=115 Ind. Cas. 414. No title passes by virtue of attachment. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 90=10 Lah. 491=30 P. L. R. 6=113 Ind. Cas. 907.

Where attachment is wrongly released, subsequent attachment will relate back to the time when attachment was first made. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 744=51 C. 548=39 C. L. J. 418=83 Ind. Cas. 233; but see A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 229=7 Rang. 201=118 Ind. Cas. 715; 62 Ind. Cas. 121=40 M. L. J. 65=44 M. 232=A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 30. Decree embodying bona fide transfer is not private transfer. 68 Ind. Cas. 673=41 M. L. J. 557=45 M. 103. A purchaser under a private sale void under s. 64 has no lien of his purchase money on the property. 34 Ind. Cas. 34.

Attachment to money-decree is not governed by s. 64 but by Order XXI, rule 53. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 1=7 Pat. 726=9 P. L. T. 822=113 Ind. Cas. 673. Vesting order by which the rights of insolvent are vested in the Official Assignee has no analogy with attachment of property by Court. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 735=51 M. 417=(1928) M. W. N. 294=28 L. W. 109=55 M. L. J. 175 (F. B.)=112 Ind. Cas. 541. Mortgage executed to pay of prior mortgage debt is binding on purchaser under decree. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 703=28 L. W. 215=55 M. L. J. 369=111 Ind. Cas. 266. Mortgage executed by Court pursuant to decree for specific performance of agreement to execute a mortgage is not a private purchase, and is valid as against an attachment of the same property effected after the decree for specific performance but before the execution of the mortgage by Court. 34 Bom. L. R. 117=139 Ind. Cas. 610=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 301=A. L. R. 1932 Bom. 165; see also 63 M. L. J. 664=1932 A. L. J. 909=1932 M. W. N. 1063=56 C. L. J. 324=36 C. W. N. 1129=A. I. R. 1932 P. C. 235 (P. C.); 35 Bom. L. R. 1=56 C. L. J. 324 (P. C.).

Where the amount due under the writ of execution is paid and the attachment comes to an end, there are no further claims enforceable under the attachment in respect of which the alienation can be said to be void, and ex port facto the alienation is rehabilitated in law. 10 R. 199=138 Ind. Cas. 201=A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 103=A. L. R. 1932 Rang. 234; but see A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 82=A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 349. Though a plaintiff has obtained his decree there is nothing to prevent the judgment-debtor disposing of his property before it has been attached in execution of the decree. A. I. R. 1932 Sind 164=26 S. L. R. 158=A. L. R. 1932 Sind 192. A transferee of property pending its attachment in execution of a decree is entitled to apply to set aside the sale held pursuant to the attachment on the ground of material irregularity or fraud. 63 M. L. J. 945=36 L. W. 781=140 Ind. Cas. 600.

In case of attachment before judgment, actual attachment and not order for attachment is the starting point for avoidance of transfer. A. L. R. 1934 All. 12=1933 A. L. J. 1501. Attachment before judgment does not create a charge in favour of the attaching creditor. A. I. R. 1933 All. 953. A claim to be effective as questioning the private alienation, must be one enforceable under the attachment within the meaning of s. 64, C. P. Code, the attachment therein referred to being the attachment under which the execution sale is made and no other. A. L. R. 1933 Nag. 239=A. I. R. 19 3 Nag. 230=144 Ind. Cas. 681=I. R. 6 N. 5. The operation of a registered deed from the date of execution is not in any way affected by attachment of property between date of execution and registration. A. L. R. 1933 Cal. 33=59 C. 1176=36 C. W. N. 733=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 212=142 Ind. Cas. 452.

There is a distinction between an attachment made before judgment and one made after decree. If after attachment a decree is passed it is not necessary for the plaintiff to re-attach this property in execution, but he can immediately apply for sale. Transfers by the defendant after the attachment will be void against the plaintiff's claims enforceable under the attachment. If the suit is dismissed by the Court, or if any decree is passed in plaintiff's favour is reversed on appeal or annulled on review the attachment does not create a charge in the plaintiff's favour and when it ceases the plaintiff loses all his rights under it. Transfers made after dismissal of suit or reversal of decree for the plaintiff on appeal are not void. A. L. R. 1934 All. 12.

Explanation—If a party comes and says that he is entitled to rateable distribution under s. 73, before he can ask the Court to apply the provisions of the Explanation to s. 64 to his case, he has to prove that there are assets which have come into the hands of the Court. It is necessary that the decree-holder who seeks to enforce his decree should also get an attachment at his own instance. A. I. R. 1934 All. 1069. The combined effect of s. 64, C. P. Code and the explanation which has been added thereto is to extend the protection of that section to the claimants for rateable distribution against private alienations of property after attachment, just as much as to the decree-holder at whose instance the attachment is made. 1936 O. W. N. 861=164 Ind. Cas. 1037. A claim for rateable distribution of assets which is a claim enforceable under the attachment under the Explanation to s. 64 C. P. Code, must be taken to mean a claim enforceable under s. 73 C. P. Code i. e., it must satisfy the conditions laid down by s. 73, C. P. Code. 39 C. W. N. 1076; see also A. I. R. 1934 All. 1057; but see 13 Pat. 446=A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 685.

SALE.

65. [S. 316.] Where immovable property is sold in execution of a decree and such sale has become absolute, the Purchaser's title. property shall be deemed to have vested in the purchaser from the time when the property is sold and not from the time when the sale becomes absolute.

Scope.—Under s. 65 property vests in the purchaser from the date of its sale and if afterwards he passes to another person an agreement to convey it, the latter suit to enforce the agreement does not fall under s. 66. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 81=31 Bom. L. R. 1271=124 Ind. Cas. 117. Between the Court sale and its confirmation, the purchaser has in equity a good title while the judgment-debtor has the bare right to have the sale set aside and therefore on the sale being set aside the former can recover from the latter money spent by him on the property after the sale. A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 552=9 P. L. T. 795. A purchaser at a Court sale can have the sale set aside only if the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest at all in the property sold, otherwise he gets whatever right title and interest of the judgment-debtor there may be in the property, with all risks and defects therein. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 937=12 Lah. L. J. 203=130. Ind. Cas. 513; see also 123 Ind. Cas. 24=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 12=(1929) M. W. N. 811. Purchaser at auction sale of land already leased is entitled to rent due from the lessee. A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 67=5 Rang. 803=109 Ind. Cas. 151. At Court auction the purchaser is placed exactly into the shoes of the judgment-debtor as regards the land sold, and the Court is not responsible for breach of warranty. A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 67=5 Rang. 803=109 Ind. Cas. 151; see also A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 409=2. P. L. T. 240=61 Ind. Cas. 922; 45 Ind. Cas. 248=5 O. L. J. 31.

Property sold vests from the date of sale in the purchaser who is entitled to profits and responsible for loss from that date. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 17=88 Ind. Cas. 693 ; A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 355=4 P. L. T. 318=1 Pat. L. R. 267=73 Ind. Cas. 451 ; see also 1936 R. D. 49. Prima facie and in the absence of anything else, where land is sold the structures or buildings thereon do not pass. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 27=52 C. 862=90 Ind. Cas. 901. Purchaser's rights at revenue and voluntary sales are distinct. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 97=52 C. 862=90 Ind. Cas. 901. Decree-holder's failure to fulfil the conditions on which he was permitted to bid does not invalidate the sale in favour of highest bidder. A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 335=(1926) Pat. 138=95 Ind. Cas. 441. Auction-purchaser in execution of simple money decree against Hindu widow obtains only widow's interest. A. I. R. 1926 All. 715=48 A. 637=24 A. L. J. 873. Issue of sale certificate is not necessary for title to vest which it does on confirmation, from date of sale. 95 Ind. Cas. 965. Execution sale expressly subject to and admitting existence of a mortgage cannot operate against mortgage. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 446=95 Ind. Cas. 563. The auction-purchaser's title is good against a mortgagee under an invalid mortgage who can get equitable relief only by way of repayment of his mortgage-amount. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 332=6 Bur. L. J. 230=106 Ind. Cas. 861. A gift authorizing the donee to take possession by auction-purchaser made before confirmation of sale passes title though the donor is not actually in possession. A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 261=2 Luck 496=102 Ind. Cas. 72. Purchaser in execution of mortgage-decree can claim a right in the charge in favour of the mortgagor, if that was all the right, title and interest of the judgement-debtor. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 359=45 C. L. J. 151. Where property over which maintenance charge in pauper suit is decreed directing realization of Government costs from arrears of maintenance, is sold through Court for those costs, the sale is one of equity of redemption subject to the charge of maintenance. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 859=94 Ind. Cas. 391. Under the provisions of s. 65 the title to the mortgaged property vests in the purchaser from the time when the property is sold in execution of the decree on the mortgage. A. L. R. 1933 Oudh 619. The title of the auction-purchaser is derived from the sale and not from the sale certificate. It accrues on the sale becoming absolute but takes effect from the date of sale itself. The sale certificate is merely evidence of title of the auction-purchaser and not the title-deed in the sense that the title is conveyed or created by it. The word "sale certificate" itself denotes that it is only a certificate by the Court that the auction-purchaser had purchased the property. 136 Ind. Cas. 49=A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 80 ; 9 O. W. N. 948=140 Ind. Cas. 560=16 R. D. 567.

66. [S. 317.] (1) No suit shall be maintained against any person claiming title under a purchase certified by the Court in such manner as may be prescribed on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of the plaintiff or on behalf of some one through whom the plaintiff claims.

(2) Nothing in this section shall bar a suit to obtain a declaration that the name of any purchaser certified as aforesaid was inserted in the certificate fraudulently or without the consent of the real purchaser, or interfere with the right of a third person to proceed against that property, though ostensibly sold to the certified purchaser, on the ground that it is liable to satisfy a claim of such third person against the real owner.

Scope.—Section 66 raises an irrebuttable presumption in favour of the auction-purchaser but there is nothing to prevent the latter from creating a trust in favour of the person who supplied the purchase money. Such a course is not possible after the passing of the Trust Act, which requires a registered instrument for creation of trust. But twelve years' enjoyment by the beneficiary will in general confer a prescriptive right even in the absence of a registered instrument. A. I. R. 1934 All. 990. Section is intended to discourage benami purchasers at execution sales, held by the Court by penalising the person who purchases benami in the name of another. 61 C. 440=150 Ind. Cas. 1051=38 C. particular kind of such decrees, or the execution of decrees ordering the sale of any particular kind of, or interest in, immovable property, shall be transferred to the Collector.

Scope.—The Local Government has no power under this section to transfer to the Collector an execution case pending in a Civil Court in which the Court has already sold the property but the sale has not been confirmed. The power is confined only to those cases in which the property has not been sold but only an order for sale has been passed. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 143. If it is declared by notification that a decree for sale of a particular kind of property should be transferred to the Collector for execution, a sale of the property, if made by a Civil Court, is void as such a notification ousts the jurisdiction of the Court so far as regards the execution of the decree. A. I. R. 1934 All. 314. All that the executing Court has to see is whether it is a case in which a decree-holder asks for the sale of the agricultural property, and if that is the case, the decree has to be transferred to the Collector for execution as soon as the Court orders that the property should be sold. A. I. R. 1934 All. 253. 69. [New.] The provisions set forth in the Third Schedule shall apply to all cases in which the execution of a decree has been transferred under the last preceding section.

Scope.—Where decree is transferred for execution under s. 68 Collector may execute it under para 1 or para 2 of Schedule III. 61 Ind. Cas. 579. The Civil Court has no jurisdiction to interfere with an order passed by the Collector under Schedule III of C. P. 70. [S. 320, 3rd and 4th paras.] (1) The "Provincial Government"* may make rules consistent with the aforesaid provisions—Rules of procedure,

(a) for the transmission of the decree from the Court to the Collector, and for regulating the procedure of the Collector and his subordinates in executing the same, and for re-transmitting the decree from the Collector to the Court ;

(b) conferring upon the Collector or any gazetted subordinate of the Collector all or any of the powers which the Court might exercise in the execution of the decree if the execution thereof had not been transferred to the Collector ;

(c) providing for orders made by the Collector or any gazetted subordinate of the Collector, or orders made on appeal with respect to such orders, being subject to appeal to, and revision by, superior revenue-authorities as nearly as may be as the orders made by the Court, or orders made on appeal with respect to such orders, would be subject to appeal to, and revision by, appellate or revisional Courts under this Code or other law for the time being in force if the decree had not been transferred to the Collector.

(2) A power conferred by rules made under sub-section (1) upon the Collector or any gazetted subordinate of the Collector, or upon any appellate or revisional authority, shall not be exercisable by the Court or by any Court in exercise of any appellate or revisional jurisdiction which it has with respect to decrees or orders of the Court.

Scope.—Though a Civil Court cannot interfere in matters declared to be in the Collector's jurisdiction under s. 68 it is not deprived of its ordinary jurisdiction in regard to other matters because the decree has been sent to the Collector. 46 Ind. temporary alienation of the land or share, the Court may authorize the Collector to provide for such satisfaction in the manner recommended by him instead of proceeding to a sale of the land or share.

(a) In every such case the provisions of sections 69 to 71 and of any rules made in pursuance thereof shall apply so far as they are applicable.

Scope.—All objections relating to the proceedings before Collector must be disposed of by him. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 475=110 Ind. Cas. 173; see also 1 Lah. 192=2 Lah. L. J. 333 (F. B.)=58 Ind. Cas. 603. In case of sale of revenue paying land in execution of decree, sanction of revenue authorities is not necessary. 69 P. L. R. 1918=143 P. W. R. 1918=46 Ind. Cas. 864; 66 Ind. Cas. 893=A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 223. Where Collector reports his inability to execute a decree sent to him for execution the Court should file the execution petition but proceed with execution in accordance with law. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 682=95 Ind. Cas. 199. The Collector has under s. 72 jurisdiction to make a proposal for temporary alienation of land of a judgment-debtor who is member of agricultural tribe notwithstanding the provisions of s. 16 (1) of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act. 1 P. R. 1916 (Rev.)=51 Ind. Cas. 399. Section 72 must be read as alternative to s. 68 and so read it only indicates the source of the authority of the Collector to exercise powers under Sch. 3 in local areas where the Local Government has not issued a notification under s. 68. The Civil Court has under s. 72 power to authorise the Collector exactly as the Local Government has it under s. 68. Civil Court cannot under s. 72 exercise the powers of the Collector under Schedule 3 due to the express provisions of s. 72 (2) and 70 (2). A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 41. The intervention of the Collector contemplated by s. 72, is a preliminary requisite to the application of that section. Section 72 however can only be applied in cases where the land is saleable. Where the land is protected from sale by a special enactment, s. 72 can have no application. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 90=161 Ind. Cas. 628. The Collector has no authority to suggest satisfaction of the decree in part by transfer of certain debts from the judgment-debtors to the decree-holders, or that mortgagee's rights should similarly be transferred to the decree-holder. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 14=160 Ind. Cas. 571. Under s. 72, C. P. Code the Collector is empowered to represent to the Court that the public sale of land in other cases is objectionable and that a temporary alienation of land would satisfy the decree. A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 113. When the executing Court did not give consideration to the question whether the Collector's proposal ought to be confirmed in the circumstances, but proceed to adopt it as a matter of course, the Court failed to exercise judicially the discretion which is vested in it under s. 72, C. P. Code. It amounted to a material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction and revision was competent. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 964.

DISTRIBUTION OF ASSETS.

73 [S. 295.] (1) Where assets are held by a Court and more persons

Proceeds of execution sale to be rateably distributed among decree-holders.

than one have, before the receipt of such assets, made application to the Court for the execution of decrees for the payment of money passed against the same judgment-debtor and have not obtained satisfaction thereof, the assets, after deducting the costs of realization, shall be rateably distributed among all such persons :

(a) where any property is sold subject to a mortgage or charge, the mortgagee or incumbrancer shall not be entitled to share in any surplus arising from such sale ;

(b) where any property liable to be sold in execution of a decree is subject to a mortgage or charge, the Court may, with the consent of the mortgagee or incumbrancer, order that the property be sold free from the mortgage or charge, giving to the mortgagee or incumbrancer the same interest in the proceeds of the sale as he had in the property sold ;

(c) where any immovable property is sold in execution of a decree ordering its sale for the discharge of an incumbrance thereon, the proceeds of sale shall be applied—first, in defraying the expenses of the sale ;

secondly, in discharging the amount due under the decree ; thirdly, in discharging the interest and principal monies due on subsequent incumbrances (if any) ; and fourthly, rateably among the holders of decrees for the payment of money against the judgment-debtor, who have, prior to the sale of the property, applied to the Court which passed the decree ordering such sale for execution of such decrees, and have not obtained satisfaction thereof.

(2) Where all or any of the assets liable to be rateably distributed under this section are paid to a person not entitled to receive the same, any person so entitled may sue such person to compel him to refund the assets.

Scoope.—For purposes of rateable distribution of assets under this section, the assets must be deemed to have been received by the Court on the date when they were received by the Collector. A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 16. The principle of s. 73 is that as long as the assets are still held by a Court there should be rateable distribution. 151 Ind. Cas. 266=A. I. R. 1934 All. 652. Section 73 does not say that before the receipt of such assets an application must be made to the Court. The first step necessary in these cases is that there must be assets held by the Court. The next step is that there must be a decree-holder who has a decree for the payment of money passed against the same judgment-debtor. The decree-holder must not have obtained satisfaction and he must have made an application to the Court for the execution of his decree before the receipt of the aforesaid assets. 54 A. 516=1932 A. L. J. 359=138 Ind. Cas. 106=A. I. R. 1932 All. 411=A. L. R. 1932 All. 546; but see A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 16. "Assets held by" Court is an expression which is wide enough to cover such money as comes into the custody of the Court otherwise than by coercive process. 28 N. L. R. 179=A. I. The dismissal of an execution petition, after the application for rateable distribution is made prior to receipt of assets, does not affect the right of applicant to share in distribution. A. I. R. 1937 Pat. 92. The operation of section 73 of the Civil Procedure Code is attracted when several holders of decrees against a person attach a decree obtained by such person before the money due under the attached decree is deposited in Court. 40 C. W. N. 1249. A decree passed against certain persons as heirs of another person and a decree passed against the same persons in their individual capacity are decrees passed against the same judgment-debtors within the meaning of section 73 of the C. P. Code and rateable distribution can be claimed by the holder of one such decree in an execution case by the other. 40 C. W. N. 570=63 C. 923=162 Ind. Cas. 702=A. I. entitled to realise the balance by a personal decree is a decree for payment of money under this section. 60 C. L. J. 22=38 C. W. N. 850=A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 769. Where the money is already under attachment no fresh attachment is necessary when the application for execution and rateable distribution is transferred to another Court. 147 Ind. Cas. 1071=11 O. W. N. 161=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 110. An application for rateable distribution is maintainable in the original Court when the petition for execution is transferred from that Court. 35 P. L. R. 305=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 113. A decree for the payment of mesne profits, which are not yet ascertained is "decree for payment of money". 40 L. W. 291=151 Ind. Cas. 609=A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 604=67 M. L. J. 303=1934 M. W. N. 886. A person in whose favour an order for refund of purchase money has been passed is not entitled to put in his application for rateable distribution. 17 N. L. J. 146. Assets do not include money paid by judgment-debtor on arrest to get released and is not subject to rateable distribution. 19 Bom. L. R. 274=39 Ind. Cas. 623 ; 21 Bom. L. R. 975=53 Ind. Cas. 599. Assets held by Court includes money paid under Order 21, rule 89. A. L. R. 1933 Pat. 249=12 P. 772=14 P. L. T. 357=145 Ind. Cas. 390=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 303 ; A. L. R. 1933 Nag. 388=A. I. Cas. 209. The purpose of section 73 is that there should be an equitable distribution of assets between those judgment-debtors who have been diligent enough to obtain decrees and put in execution applications before the time such assets have been received and while considering the application the Court should rather look to the substance than to the form of the application. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 703=52 M. 760=37 M. L. J. 97=118 Ind. Cas. 72 ; see also A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 645=118 Ind. Cas. 908 ; A. I. R. 1931 All. 92=(1930) A. L. J. 1552=113 Ind. Cas. 244 ; A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 249=90 Ind. Cas. 527. Application for rateable distribution cannot be refused merely because it is made after realization of assets, if execution has been applied for before realization of assets. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 587=48 M. L. J. 459=21 L. W. 518=87 Ind. Cas. 390. Where money is deposited by sureties for release of an attachment before judgment, rateable distribution of such money can be made under s. 73. 70 Ind. Cas. 539=A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 19=26 C. W. N. 169. Where the mortgagee holds a money decree against the judgment-debtor apart from the mortgage, he can get relief under s. 73. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 434=74 Ind. Cas. 140 ; see also A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 52. Though one may effect attachment before judgment yet decree must be passed before realisation of money in order to entitle one to share in rateable distribution. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 70=40 P. L. An application for execution includes a prayer for rateable distribution and there is no need of separate application under s. 73. A. I. R. 1931 All. 92=(1930) A. L. J. 1552=131 Ind. Cas. 244 ; A. I. R. 1933 All. 337=1933 A. L. J. 336=145 Ind. Cas. 577 ; A. I. R. 1934 All. 1057. In order to entitle a person to a rateable distribution, the two decrees must have passed against same judgment-debtor, and a judgment-debtor's legal representative is not same as judgment-debtor in personal capacity. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 454=34 C. W. N. 294=130 Ind. Cas. 227. Provisions of Order XXI rule 72 must be taken subject to provisions of s. 73. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 103=(1930) M. W. N. 568=130 Ind. Cas. 458 ; see also A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 252=33 Bom. L. R. 503 ; A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 761=52 C. L. J. 19=129 Ind. Cas. 776. Decree raised against same judgment-debtor and another or others is covered by the section. A. I. R. 1930 Sind 300=128 Ind. Cas. 686. Court has no jurisdiction to order for rateable distribution when another Court has attached the moneys in deposit. 37 C. W. N. 821=1933 Cal. 792. Where there are decrees of several Courts against the same judgment-debtor and assets have been realised by the highest Court decree-holders of the inferior Court is entitled to rateable distribution without transferring the decree to or applying for execution in higher Court. A. L. R. 1933 All. 795 ; see also A.

Application for rateable distribution before appropriation of money towards decree is competent. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 4. This section has no application where money is paid by one judgment-debtor to a decree-holder who has no claim against him. 145 Ind. Cas. 362—14 Pat. L. T. 287—A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 277. This section is applicable where the Collector realises amount by sale of property or the decree-holder is declared to be the purchaser and the purchase money is to be set off against the decretal amount. 1933 A. L. J. 1102—A. I. R. 1933 All. 666. The Court should be deemed to be holding the assets of the judgment-debtor where the purchase money is set-off against the decretal amount. Ibid; see also A. L. R. 1933 Mad. 1003—A. I. R. 1933 M. 804—145 Ind. Cas. 975—38 L. W. 579—65 M. L. J. 569—1933 M. W. N. 579; 1933 A. L. J. 1102—A. I. R. 1933 All. 666; A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 804. The custody Court which is not attaching Court has no power to order rateable distribution. 37 C. W. N. 820—A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 814. Any amount received from judgment-debtor under pressure of the sale is “assets” under this section. A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 347; 12 Pat. 772—145 Ind. Cas. 390—14 Pat. L. T. 357—A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 303. Where a decree-holder is allowed to set off the purchase money against his decree instead of paying the money into Court, the noticed receipt of the purchase money by the Court amounts to holding of the assets within the meaning of the section. 33 Bom. L. R. 503—A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 252—132 Ind. Cas. 737; see also 12 Pat. L. T. 639—A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 405—134 Ind. Cas. 616; 12 P. L. T. 477—A. I. R. (1931) P. 359—133 Ind. Cas. 166. A decree obtained against a Hindu father and a decree against the father and his sons are decrees against the same judgment-debtor. 165 Ind. Cas. 664—1936 M. W. N. 1142—44 L. W. 615—A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 948—71 M. L. J. 541; see also 160 Ind. Cas. 559—43 L. W. 624—1936 M. W. N. 343—A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 123. Section 73 does not take into account at all whether payment orders have been passed for the different decree-holders who have decrees against the same judgment-debtor. All that the section considers necessary are that assets should be held by a Court and that more persons than one have made applications to the Court for the execution of decrees. A. I. R. 1934 All. 652—151 Ind. Cas. 266—3 A. W. R. 605. Where the parties are not entitled to claim rateable distribution under s. 73, Civil Procedure Code, by reason of the fact that none has applied for execution before the date of receipt of assets, to the Court having the custody of the assets, but all the same have made attachment does not create any lien in favour of any of them, and the Court holding the assets can divide the same amongst all of them pro rata. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 390. Under this section all the judgment-debtors need not be identical. 156 Ind. Cas. 631—A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 399—1935 M. W. N. 294. The word “application” in s. 73 cannot be unqualified. It must mean an application made in accordance with law, not barred by limitation, not yet satisfied, and capable of being satisfied and it must also mean an application still subsisting and pending, and not already disposed of whether on the merits or by default. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 135—13 Rang. 514—158 Ind. Cas. 515. S. 146 cannot enlarge the scope of s. 73 as it is expressly made subject to other provisions of the Code. 159 Ind. Cas. 575—40 C. W. N. 26—A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 738. A Court charged with distribution of assets under s. 73, C. P. Code has no power to inquire into the validity or bona fides of a decree on the strength of which rateable distribution is claimed. 62 C. 715—39 C. W. N. 490—61 C. L. J. 165—A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 290 (F. B.).

Where a property is already in attachment, a person need not apply for a fresh attachment in order to have the benefit of this section. 53 A. 125—1930 A. L. J. 1552—131 Ind. Cas. 244—A. I. R. 1931 All. 92. Where the same property of the same judgment-debtor is attached in execution of decrees of different Court, the decree-holder in the inferior Court is entitled to rateable distribution when he applies for it before the sale takes place, and it is not necessary for that purpose that his decree should be transferred to the superior Court for execution. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 111—132 Ind. Cas. 832; see also 133 Ind. Cas. 426—1931 A. L. J. 880. If a property is sold in execution of decree subject to mortgage and the mortgagee is satisfied out of sale proceeds first and surplus paid to attaching decree-holder, who is left short of his decretal amount, he can sue for recovery of his balance on basis of money had and received. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 56—8 Rang. 485—128 Ind. Cas. 834. Decree debt and mortgage debt are not two and distinct debts. Where decree-holder and mortgagee is the same person, provisos (a) and (b) are not applicable. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 138-122 Ind. Cas. 336.

A mere application for rateable distribution is not valid application for execution and in order to obtain rateable distribution under s. 72 the decree-holder must make an application for execution praying for execution of his decree in one of the ways mentioned in Order XXI, rule 11 before receipt of assets by Court. A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 148-25 N. L. R. 94-12 N. L. J. 64=116 Ind. Cas. 655. Mere attachment before judgment without decree and application for execution of the decree cannot entitle plaintiff for rateable distribution. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 545-30 Bom. L. R. 1448-115 Ind. Cas. 414. An actual transfer of the decree to the Court granting rateable distribution is not necessary provided application for rateable distribution is supplemented with transfer certificate subsequently received. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 332=110 Ind. Cas. 524; see also 110 Ind. Cas. 744=1928 Rang. 157; A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 496-27 L. W. 423=55 M. L. J. 120=109 Ind. Cas. 404; A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 96=5 Rang. 757=107 Ind. Cas. 169.

Section 73 requires that an application for execution should be made before the assets have been received and that the decree-holder at the time the assets are distributed has not obtained satisfaction. The word 'made' in section 73 does not imply that the application should be pending and it is only used with reference to a certain definite stage of the proceedings. A. L. R. 1933 Pesh. 2.

No rateable distribution can be ordered where no longer regular application for execution has been made, and prayer is only for rateable distribution. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 382=87 Ind. Cas. 1025. Order under s. 73 cannot be made in anticipation. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 102=28 C. W. N. 988=84 Ind. Cas. 747.

The mere deposit of the earnest money is not assets realised by the sale. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 956=29 C. W. N. 575=87 Ind. Cas. 783. 25 per cent. deposit made by auction-purchaser under Order XXI, rule 84 becomes assets under s. 73 on default in payment of full amount. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 872=49 M. 570=97 Ind. Cas. 86. Compensation money awarded under the Land Acquisition Act is 'assets' held by the Court after date of receipt of final award. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 307=49 M. 38=97 Ind. Cas. 496. Money paid by a judgment-debtor under Order XXI, rule 43 is assets held by the Court. A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 242=28 Bom. L. R. 237=93 Ind. Cas. 852.

Proviso (c).—In proviso (c), C. P. Code the words 'a decree ordering its sale' (the sale of immovable property), for the discharge of the incumbrance thereon are quite general and apply both where the charge exists independent of and prior to the decree and where it is created by the decree itself. Therefore a charge created in respect of the judgment-debtor's property by virtue of a decree obtained by unpaid vendor is not included from the operation of the proviso. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 713.

Sub-section (2).—In a case of contests as to the disposal of the surplus of assets not determined in suit or in execution proceedings, conflicting claims can only be determined by separate suit. A. I. R. 1927 All. 467=49 A. 636=25 A. L. J. 390=101 Ind. Cas. 505; A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 497=5 Pat. 445=93 Ind. Cas. 759. The Court distributing assets cannot go behind the decree. The remedy of the opponent raising the plea of fraud lies under s. 73 (2). A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 31=46 Bom. 635=24 Bom. L. R. 1=65 Ind. Cas. 600; A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 39=19 N. L. R. 172=75 Ind. Cas. 749=A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 97=32 M. L. T. 155; 43 M. 381=38 M. L. J. 108=27 M. L. T. 66=11 L. W. 81=55 Ind. Cas. 452; 39 A. 322=15 A. L. J. 295=39 Ind. Cas. 532. Unless it is ascertained or definitely alleged on substantial grounds that the assets realised or to be realised in execution of decrees of rival decree-holders would be insufficient to discharge in full the claims of all the decree-holders under s. 73 of C. P. Code, no decree-holder has a right to maintain a suit to have the decree of his rival declared void on the ground that it was fraudulently obtained and to ask the Court to grant an injunction permanently restraining the defendant from executing his decree against the common judgment-debtor or his property. 145 Ind. Cas. 206=A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 214. This sub-section is applicable where assets liable to be distributed under s. 73 are paid to persons not entitled to receive the same. 145 Ind. Cas. 362=14 Pat. L. T. 287=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 277. A Court cannot enquire into the validity of the decree sought to be executed under s. 73. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 944=39 M. L. T. 609=104 Ind. Cas. 735.

An order that a certain decree-holder is not entitled to make an application for rateable distribution is final and is not appealable. A. I. R. 1936 All. 626=1936 A. L. J. 559=162 Ind. Cas. 349.

Sub-section (3).—Where rights of the two attaching creditors and of the Government were brought into existence at one and the same time, and by the same decree, and the assets were realised or rather come into the hands of the Court before any of the judgment creditors applied for execution and were still held by the Courts and though the two creditors had obtained attachments before the Crown had obtained one, but no payment had been made to the creditors: Held that where the right of the Crown and that of the subject met at one and the same time, that of the Crown was in general preferred and that applying the principle, the claim of the Crown should prima facie be preferred to the other claim. A. L. R. 1933 Sind 357=A. I. R. 1933 Sind 368; see also 59 M. 872=162 Ind. Cas. 862=1936 Mad. 603=70 M. L. J. 601. Sub-section (3) does not confer any jurisdiction on the executing Court to entertain a claim on behalf of the Government in the absence of any decree in support of it. The sub-section only saves the rights of the Government, independent of the section, such as they might be, and merely appears to have reference to have the right of priority which can ordinarily be claimed in respect of debts due to the Crown. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 319=156 Ind. Cas. 826.

Appeal.—An order under s. 73 is an order in execution proceedings and not a decree and is not appealable. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 198=120 Ind. Cas. 693; see also 19 C. W. N. 1502=42 C. 1; 55 B. 473=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 350; 42 M. L. J. 473=67 Ind. Cas. 546; A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 645; A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 252=33 Bom. L. R. 503; A. L. R. 1933 Sind 181=A. I. R. 1933 Sind 329=27 S. L. R. 190; A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 401=5 Pat. L. J. 415=57 Ind. Cas. 421; A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 100=98 Ind. Cas. 884; 42 M. L. J. 473=67 Ind. Cas. 546; 134 Ind. Cas. 195.

In order to be appealable the order under s. 73 must decide a question arising between the decree-holder on the one hand and the judgment-debtors on the other. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 801=51 C. 761=28 C. W. N. 704=39 C. L. J. 439; A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 350=55 B. 473; A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 252=33 Bom. L. R. 503. Where the Order is under s. 73 between rival decree-holders and the judgment-debtor is not interested in it, the order does not fall under s. 47 and is not appealable. A. I. R. 1937 Rang 134. An order refusing to execute an order allowing an application for rateable distribution is appealable. 12 P. L. T. 477=A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 359=133 Ind. Cas. 166.

Revision.—An obviously wrong order under s. 73 is revisable. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1030=106 Ind. Cas. 208; 87 Ind. Cas. 390=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 587=48 M. L. J. 459=21 L. W. 518=87 Ind. Cas. 390; 36 C. 130; A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 380; A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 179; 32 M. 334; 15 C. W. N. 872; 78 Ind. Cas. 731=28 C. W. N. 704; 26 C. W. N. 169; 51 C. 761; A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 123. High Court does not interfere in revision with orders disallowing or allowing claim for rateable distribution except in very exceptional circumstances. 60 Ind. Cas. 371. An order under this section is not open to revision where the party has another remedy by way of suit. 27 S. L. R. 190=A. I. R. 1933 Sind 329; but see A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 362=54 M. L. J. 278. The Lahore High Court does not allow revision of an order under this section. 134 Ind. Cas. 195. Court will only interfere in revision against orders under s. 73 if there is any obvious mistake and the result of regular suit is certain. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 244=39 M. L. T. 609=104 Ind. Cas. 725. Taking a wrong view of s. 73 is an application for rateable distribution is not decting to exercise jurisdiction. Hence no revision is competent from the order. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 201=156 Ind. Cas. 409.

RESISTANCE TO EXECUTION.

74. [S. 330.] Where the Court is satisfied that the holder of a decree for the possession of immovable property or Resistance to execution. that the purchaser of immovable property sold in execution of a decree has been resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession of the property by the judgment-debtor or some person on his behalf and that such resistance or obstruction was without any just cause, the Court may, at the instance of the decree-holder or purchaser, order the judgment-debtor or such other person to be detained in the civil prison for a term which may extend to thirty days and may further direct that the decree-holder or purchaser be put into possession of the property.

Scope.—The word “possession” includes constructive possession. 25 B. 478 ; 33 C. 487 = 3 C. L. J. 293. Resistance or obstruction to execution by the judgment-debtor or by some body at his instigation is dealt with by this section. 16 M. 127 ; 25 B. 478 ; 2 C. W. N. 311. As regards what amounts to resistance, vide 15 B. 564 ; 6 Bom. L. R. 254.

PART III.

INCIDENTAL PROCEEDINGS.

COMMISSIONS.

Power of Court to issue Commissions.

75. [New.] Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may issue a Commission—

- (a) to examine any person ;
- (b) to make a local investigation ;
- (c) to examine or adjust accounts ; or
- (d) to make a partition.

Scope.—Section 75 defines the circumstances under which a Commission may be issued and does not authorize a Court to delegate to the Commissioner the trial of any material issue which it is bound to try. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 47 = 3 Lah. 209 = 68 Ind. Cas. 802 ; see also 17 C. W. N. 369 = 15 C. L. J. 17. The powers under s. 75 can only be exercised where a suit has been pending and not otherwise. This section must be qualified by the rules in the First Schedule, subject to such further rules as may be found in the High Court Rules. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 444 = 24 Bom. L. R. 853 = 47 B. 250 = 75 Ind. Cas. 221. Judge cannot make over the whole case to the Commissioners and delegate his functions in the matter of taking evidence and determining issues to them. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 145 = 89 Ind. Cas. 333 ; see also A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 57 = 89 Ind. Cas. 24. Whether one of the parties is personally engaged in agricultural labour cannot be referred to the Commissioner. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 145 = 30 Bom. L. R. 131 = 109 Ind. Cas. 133. Civil Procedure Code does not contemplate the issue of succession of Commissions covering the same ground. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 661 = 118 Ind. Cas. 296. PART IV.

SUITS IN PARTICULAR CASES.

SUITS BY OR AGAINST THE "CROWN"§ OR PUBLIC OFFICERS IN THEIR OFFICIAL CAPACITY.

|| 79. [New.] Subject to the provisions of section 179 and 185 of the Government of India Act, 1935, in a suit by or against the Crown the authority to be named as plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be, shall be—

(a) in the case of a suit by or against the Central Government, the Governor-General in Council before the establishment of the Federation of India, and thereafter, the Federation ;

(b) in the case of a suit by or against a Provincial Government, the Province ; and

(c) in the case of a suit by or against the Crown Representative, the Secretary of State.

The following section 79 has been substituted in British Burma by Government of Burma (Adaptation of Law) Order, 1937 :—

79. [New.] Subject to the provisions of sections 73 and 133 of the Government of Burma Act of 1935 and section 179 of the Government of India Act, 1935, in a suit by or against Government of Burma, the authority to be named as plaintiff or defendant as the case may be, shall be the Government of Burma.

Scope.—Contracts to be binding upon the Secretary of State, must be made in strict conformity with the provisions laid down in the statute. If they are not so made, they are not valid as against him. They were decided under the various acts passed in this country for the protection of public authorities, which were not in pari materia within the section of the Indian Code."

Object and scope.—The object of notice required by this section is to inform the Crown or the public officers concerned generally of the nature of the suit, which is intended to be field against them. The notice must not be too strictly or too narrowly construed. It must not be construed as if it were pleadings and it need not set out all the details and facts of the case, which the plaintiff intends to prove. It must be considered sufficient if it substantially fulfils its object of informing the parties concerned generally of the nature of the suit intended to be filed. 5 Bom. L. R. 30=27 B. 189; 24 M. 279; 13 C. L. R. 195. The object of this section is to afford opportunity to the Crown or public servant, time and opportunity to reconsider his legal position and to investigate the truth of the alleged cause of action and of making amends or of settling claims if he thinks fit without litigation. 40 B. 392=18 Bom. L. R. 243=34 Ind. Cas. 535; 34 C. 257=5 C. L. J. 148; 25 C. 214; 24 M. 279; 35 C. W. N. 161=58 C. 850=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 503; (1912) M. W. N. 786; 33 P. L. R. 508=137 Ind. Cas. 266=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 374=A. L. R. 1932 L. 790. Very little distinction is made by the section between suits against the Crown and as against public officers. Only this distinction is left between the two classes of suits that, whereas in the absence of a notice under s. 80 the Crown cannot be made a defendant in a suit, no matter what its character may be, a public officer may without such a notice be a defendant in a suit, in which no act of his is in question but he is made a party for some reason or other. The restrictive words in the section were unnecessary and would be inappropriate in the case of Secretary of State for India in Council, firstly, because the Secretary of State for India in Council, is a statutory body which has no capacity but an official one; and secondly, because he is often responsible for the acts of other public bodies and officers. 59 C. 961=55 C. L. J. 8=138 Ind. Cas. 4=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 275=A. L. R. 1932 Cal. 1037. Although the cause of action in s. 80 should not be taken in a narrow sense, yet the section requires the cause of action to be stated with some precision. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 74=54 C. 969=107 Ind. Cas. 360. Where defendant's interests devolve upon Government during suit, no notice as prescribed by s. 80 need be given. The matter is governed by Order 22, rule 10. A. I. R. 1926 All. 585=24 A. L. J. 726=96 Ind. Cas. 351. Where suit is alleged to be barred under a special law of limitation, the party is not entitled to deduct the period of two months for service of notice under s. 80. A. I. R. 1928 All. 625; A. I. R. 1928 All. 348; A. I. R. 1930 All. 742. Where plots mentioned in the notice comprised all the plots mentioned in the plaint the variance between the notice and the plaint will not justify dismissal of the suit. 20 C. W. N. 636=32 Ind. Cas. 752. A notice under s. 80 is defective if the case is set up in the plaint is different from the case stated in the notice. A suit instituted upon such a notice cannot be maintained. 32 Ind. Cas. 235. Objection as to want of notice under this section may be waived. 38 L. W. 891. A suit brought pursuant to an undertaking given under s. 14, Bombay Land Revenue Act within 30 days from the Collectors' decision is not a suit which falls within s. 80, C. P. Code; it is a suit on account of land revenue brought under special provisions of the Special Act, and the general provisions of s. 80 do not apply to such a suit. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 162=36 Bom. L. The plea of want of notice under this section must be taken at the earliest possible opportunity and must be specifically pleaded. Where such a plea is taken by the defendant at a very late stage the defendant must be deemed to have waived the privilege of notice. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 175=53 C. L. J. 31=130 Ind. Cas. 894 ; A. I. Service of an application for leave to sue is no substitute for service of notice under s. 80. 35 C. W. N. 161. The words of s. 80 as to how notice is to be served are mandatory and not controlled by Order 48, rule 2, C. P. Code. 35 C. W. N. 161. This section contemplates a notice of action in the English sense, since it requires a statement of the name, description and place of residence of the plaintiff. The rule is not to be relaxed simply because the defendant could have had little or no difficulty in finding out these matters for himself by other means. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 61=57 C. 1127. A public officer against whom a suit is filed in respect of an act done by him in his official capacity is entitled to notice under section 80, even though he has acted malafide. A. I. Exemption from arrest and personal appearance.

* The words within quotation have been substituted by G. I. Order of 1937.

81. [SS. 425, 428.] In a suit instituted against a public officer in respect of any act purporting to be done by him in his official capacity—

(a) the defendant shall not be liable to arrest nor his property to attachment otherwise than in execution of a decree, and,

(b) where the Court is satisfied that the defendant cannot absent himself from his duty without detriment to the public service, it shall exempt him from appearing in person.

82. [S. 429.] (1) Where the decree is against "the Crown"* or against a public officer in respect of any such act as aforesaid, a time shall be specified in the decree within which it shall be satisfied ; and if the decree is not satisfied within the time so specified, the Court shall report the case for the orders of the "Provincial Government."*

(2) Execution shall not be issued on any such decree unless it remains unsatisfied for the period of three months computed from the date of such report.

SUITS BY ALIENS AND BY OR AGAINST "FOREIGN RULERS AND RULERS OF INDIAN STATES".†

83. [S. 430.] (1) Alien enemies residing in British India with the permission of the "Central Government"‡ and alien friends, may sue in the Courts of British India, as if they were subjects of His Majesty.

(2) No alien enemy residing in British India without such permission, or residing in a foreign country, shall sue in any of such Courts.

Explanation.—Every person residing in a foreign country the Government of which is at war with the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and carrying on business in that country without a license in that behalf under the hand of one of His Majesty's Secretaries of State or of a Secretary to the Government of India, shall, for the purpose of sub-section (2), be deemed to be an alien enemy residing in a foreign country.

Amendments in British Burma.—In sub-sections (1) and (2) for "British India" read "British Burma" and for "Central Government" in sub-section (1) read "Governor" and in the explanation to sub-section (1) omit "of India."

Scope.—An alien enemy licensed to trade in British India can sue in Indian Courts. 9 Bur. L. T. 51=31 Ind. Cas. 888; see also 8 S. L. R. 329; 39 A. 377. Where cause of action arose before or after war, an alien enemy can be sued in British Indian Courts. 40 C. 1140=20 C. W. N. 691=23 C. L. J. 493=35 Ind. Cas. 951. Under s. 83 an alien enemy residing in British India may sue in British Courts with the permission of the Governor-General in Council. 39 A. 377=39 Ind. Cas. 862. Not all contracts but only dealings of a commercial nature between hostile aliens are tainted with illegality. A contract whose tendency is to increase the enemy's resources is prohibited, but not an agreement for payment of money from funds accruing there. 31 M. L. J. 360=(1917) M. W. N. 73=37 Ind. Cas. 957. A British subject voluntarily residing or carrying on business in enemy country will be treated as an alien enemy. 55 Ind. Cas. 324=1 Lah. 276=2 Lah. L. J. 275.

84. [S. 431.] (1) A foreign State may sue in any Court of British India :

When foreign States may sue.

Provided that such State has been recognized by His Majesty or by the Governor-General in Council :

Provided, also that the object of the suit is to enforce a private right vested in the head of such State or in any officer of such State in his public capacity.

(2) Every Court shall take judicial notice of the fact that a foreign State has or has not been recognized by His Majesty or by the Governor-General in Council.

Amendment in Burma.—In Burma for the words "British India" read "British Burma."—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—Any State which has preserved any decree of sovereignty must have at least three characteristics. First allegiance to the Ruler. Secondly the law enforced must be the Ruler's laws. And thirdly those laws must be enforced by his Courts. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 1004=59 M. L. J. 548=32 M. L. W. 673=53 M. 968=128 Ind. Cas. 870. The "private rights" spoken of in this section do not mean individual rights, as opposed to those of the body politic or state; but those private rights of the State, which must be enforced in a Court of Justice, as distinguished from its political or territorial right, which must, from their very nature, be made the subject of arrangement between one State and another. They are rights, which may be enforced by a foreign State against private individuals, as distinguished from rights which one State in its political capacity may have against another State in its political capacity. 11 C. 17; see also Emperor of Austria v. Day, 2 Giff. 628; United States of America v. Wagner, L. R. 2 Ch. App. 582.

85. [S. 432.] (1) Persons specially appointed by order of the Government at the request of any Sovereign Prince or Ruling Chief, whether in subordinate alliance with the British Government or otherwise, and whether residing within or without British India, or at the request of any person competent, in the opinion of the Government, to act on behalf of such Prince or Chief, to prosecute or defend any suit on his behalf, shall be deemed to be the recognised agents by whom appearances, acts and applications under this Code may be made or done on behalf of such Prince or Chief.

"Explanation.—For the purposes of this subsection the expression 'the Government' means—

- (a) in the case of Indian State, the Crown Representative, and
- (b) in any other case, the Central Government."

(2) An appointment under this section may be made for the purpose of a specified suit or of several specified suits, or for the purpose of all such suits as it may from time to time be necessary to prosecute or defend on behalf of the Prince or Chief.

(3) A person appointed under this section may authorize or appoint persons to make appearances and applications and do acts in any such suit or suits as if he were himself a party thereto.

Amendment in British Burma.—In British Burma for "British India" read "British Burma"—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—This section does not prevent the institution by an independent Prince, of a suit in a Court in British India, in his own name, and through a recognised agent other than one appointed under the section. 10 C. 136; 23 C. W. N. 287=80 Ind. Cas. 100; A. W. N. 1886, 133; 19 A. 510=A. W. N. 1897, 135.

86. [S. 433.] (1) Any such Prince or Chief, and any ambassador or envoy of a foreign State, may, "in the case of the Ruling Chief of an Indian State with the consent of the Crown Representative, certified by the signature of the political Secretary, and in any other case with the consent of the Central Government, certified by the signature of a Secretary to that Government,"† but not without such consent, be sued in any competent Court.

(2) Such consent may be given with respect to a specified suit or to several specified suits, or with respect to all suits of any specified class or classes, and may specify, in the case of any suit or class of suits, the Court in which the Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy may be sued; but it shall not be given unless it appears to "the consenting authority"† that the Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy—

(a) has instituted a suit in the Court against the person desiring to sue him, or

(b) by himself or another trades within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

(c) is in possession of immovable property situate within those limits and is to be sued with reference to such property or for money charged thereon.

(3) No such Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy shall be arrested under this Code, and, "except with such consent as is mentioned in sub-section (1)"* certified as aforesaid, no decree shall be executed against the property of any such Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy.

*“(4) The Central Government or the Crown Representative, as the case may be, may, by notification in the Gazette of India, authorize a Provincial Government and any Secretary to that Government to exercise with respect to any Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy named in the notification the functions assigned by the foregoing sub sections to the consenting authority and a certifying officer respectively.”

(5) A person may, as a tenant of immovable property, sue, without such consent as is mentioned in this section, a Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy from whom he holds or claims to hold property

The following section is in force in BRITISH BURMA in this form :—

86. [S. 433.] (1) Any such Prince or Chief, and any ambassador or envoy of a foreign State, may, with the consent of the Governor, certified by the signature of a Secretary to the Government, but not without suit consent, be sued in any competent Court.

(2) Such consent may be given with respect to a specified suit or to several specified suits, or with respect to all suits of any specified class or classes, and may specify, in the case of any suit or class of suits, the Court in which the Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy may be sued : but it shall not be given unless it appears to the Governor that the Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy—

(a) has instituted a suit in the Court against the person desiring to sue him, or

(b) by himself or another trades within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

(c) is in possession of immovable property situate within those limits and is to be sued with reference to such property or for money charged thereon.

(3) No such Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy shall be arrested under this Code, and, except with the consent of the Governor certified as aforesaid, no decree shall be executed against the property of any such Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy.

(4) [Omitted].

(5) A person may, as a tenant of immovable property, sue, without such consent as is mentioned in this section, a Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy from whom he holds or claims to hold the property.—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—The rule of International Law that a sovereign authority cannot be personally impleaded in any Court which is based on the principle of "absolute independence of the sovereign to recognize any superior authority" cannot be applied to Princes in India for the reason that they are subordinate to the authority of the British Crown. This rule of International Law has been modified by the provision of s. 86, C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1934 All. 740=1934 A. L. J. 1093. Under this section a suit against a Ruling Chief filed without the consent of the Governor-General in Council cannot be tried by a Civil Court. But this privilege may be waived by the defendant. 60 P. L. R. 1903=40 P. R. 1903 ; 2 C. L. J. 163 ; 9 C. 535=12 C. L. R. 465 ; 1 W. N. 1907, 95=4 A. L. J. 358=29 A. 379 ; 21 B. 351 ; 21 Bom. L. N. 1426. This section does not apply to a defence put forth as set off. 62 Ind. Cas. 778. A suit against a Ruling Chief, in his capacity as a co-sharer in respect of the property in British India will be governed by this section. A. I. R. 1924 All. 422 = 46 A. 355 = 22 A. L. J. 317 = 78 Ind. Cas. 559. An agent of a foreign State is personally liable for contracts entered into on behalf of his principal where the contracts do not come under s. 86, and permission to sue need not be applied for and even if granted no suit will lie against the foreign State. A. I. R. 1928 Sind 189 = 113 Ind. Cas. 345. Section 86, Civil Procedure Code, does not apply to proceedings under s. 184, Companies Act, but it does apply to all the proceedings under ss. 186 and 187 of the Act. A. I. R. 1936 All. 826 = 1936 A. L. J. 1134 = 1936 A. W. R. 1059. Where a suit is instituted not against the Prince himself, but against a business concern run by the State or a Ruling Prince, it cannot be said that it is one against the Prince himself. A. I. R. 1934 All. 740 = 1934 A. L. J. 1093. Where he carries on a business (such as a running railway) under a particular name and style he can be sued in such name by virtue of Order 30, rule 10. Ibid.

Sub sections (3) and (5)—No consent is necessary where the Ruling Chief is a tenant of the plaintiff. The plaintiff is entitled to institute such a suit without consent under the provisions of s. 86 (5). Sub-section (5), s. 86 is entirely distinct from sub-section (3). The two sub-sections are really dealing with two quite distinct matters. In view of the plain terms of sub-section (3) the consent referred to is necessary. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 664 = 39 C. W. N. 1206.

Style of Princes and Chiefs as parties to suits.

87. [S. 434.] A Sovereign Prince or Ruling Chief may sue, and shall be sued, in the name of his State :

Provided that in giving the consent referred to in the foregoing section ["the Central Government, the Crown Representative or the Provincial Government" * as the case may be], may direct that any such Prince or Chief shall be sued in the name of an agent or in any other name.

Amendment in British Burma.—For the words "the Central Government, etc., as the case may be" given within square brackets read the words "the Governor"—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Notes.—7 B. H. C. R. 150.

INTERPLEADER.

88. [S. 470.] Where two or more persons claim adversely to one another the same debt, sum of money or other property, movable or immovable, from another person who claims no interest therein other than for charges or costs and who is ready to pay or deliver it to the rightful claimant, such other person may institute a suit of interpleader against all the claimants for the purpose of obtaining a decision as to the person to whom the payment or delivery shall be made and of obtaining indemnity for himself :

Provided that where any suit is pending in which the rights of all parties can properly be decided, no such suit of interpleader shall be instituted.

Scope.—An interpleader suit is a suit in which several claimants are to be deemed to be claiming adversely to each other. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 155 = 108 Ind. Cas. 817. This section corresponds to rules, 1 and 2 of Rules of Supreme Court, 1883. Where A is under liability for any debt, money, goods, or chattels, claimed adversely by B or C or more, for which he is being sued or expects to be sued, he desires protection against a wrong payment or delivery. The liability to some one must be admitted, and there must be no interest in the subject-matter other than for charges or costs, and no collusion. There must be conflicting claims on which he cannot decide without risk. Chitty's Yearly Practice, p. 942. An interpleader is not an action either in the strict or any conventional sense of the word. Per Lord Selborne in Hamlyn v. Bettely, (1881) 6 Q. B. D. at p. 66. In an interpleader suit in which each of the contesting defendants attacks the title of the other each is virtually in the position of a plaintiff. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 497=48 M. 1=93 Ind. Cas. 705. Where the defendants do not claim adversely to one another the property in suit from the plaintiff and the plaintiff is not also ready to pay or deliver the property to one of them, the suit is not an interpleader suit. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 138. If the plaintiff has in some way identified himself with one of the parties in the sense that it makes a difference to him which party succeeds he will be debarred from bringing such a suit although he will not be refused relief merely because he has a natural affinity for one side rather than the other. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 91=4 Rang. 465=99 Ind. Cas. 985. Where a widow who adopts a son and another person who is adopted by a co-widow are arrayed in that suit on the same side as defendants, yet they must be deemed to be claiming adversely to each other. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 155=108 Ind. Cas. 817. Where the plaintiff in an interpleader suit, paid money due by him into Court for payment to the person to whom the Court should decide that it was payable, held that was a valid discharge for him, and if the Court paid it to the wrong person, he was not responsible. 2 C. SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS.

ARBITRATION.

89. [New.] (1) Save in so far as is otherwise provided by the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899,* or by any other law for the time being in force, all references to arbitration whether by an order in a suit or otherwise, and all proceedings thereunder, shall be governed by the provisions contained in the Second Schedule.

(2) The provisions of the Second Schedule shall not affect any arbitration pending at the commencement of this Code, but shall apply to any arbitration after that date under any agreement or reference made before the commencement of this Code.

Scope of the section.—Where parties to a suit engage in arbitration without an order of the Court, the award in that arbitration can be confirmed in the terms of the decree. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 58=9 Rang. 39=131 Ind. Cas. 57. The words "any other law" in s. 89 mean any law other than the Arbitration Act and other than the provisions contained in Schedule II, C. P. Code. These words include the provisions of Order 23, rule 3 which is not one of the provisions of Schedule II. A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 127=8 O. W. N. 71=138 Ind. Cas. 443; see also A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 98=31 Bom. L. R. 1403=54 Bom. 197=124 Ind. Cas. 119; A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 565=51 B. 908=25 Bom. L. R. 1254=105 Ind. Cas. 516; A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 50=76 Ind. Cas. 502. The words "any other law" in s. 89 do not exclude the law as laid down in other parts of C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1025=51 M. 800=55 M. L. J. 429=113 Ind. Cas. 632. An award passed in suit which is pending without the intervention of the Court may be regarded as adjustment under Order XXIII, r. 3. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1126=53 M. L. J. 444=39 M. L. T. 593=26 L. W. 231=104 Ind. Cas. 674. "Any other law" in section 89 does not include Order XXII, rule 3. A. I. R. 1921 Sind 65=16 S. L. R. 174=81 Ind. Cas. 653; contra; A. I. R. 1925 All. 503=47 A. 637=23 A. L. J. 561 (F. B.). Pending suit, private arbitration without the consent of the Court award cannot be enforced either under Order XXIII, rule 3, C. P. Code or under the provisions of the Indian Arbitration Act. Arbitrations in the course of litigation should conform to the strict conditions and stipulations of the Second Schedule and should be under the supervision of the Court. The Indian Arbitration Act does not apply to arbitration in the course of litigation. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 404=49 C. 608=69 Ind. Cas. 808. The words "by any other law for the time being in force" contained in section 89 refer to some law extraneous to the Code of C. P. Code and do not cover Order XXIII, rule 3. A. I. The concluding provisions of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act will be found to be inapplicable to all arbitration agreements and awards governed by Schedule II, by reading s. 89 (1), C. P. Code with Schedule II, para. 22. 46 C. 1041 = 29 C. L. J. 399 = 23 C. W. N. 716 = 51 Ind. Cas. 80. Section 89 is intended to confer jurisdiction to link up the Schedule and the body of the Code. Change in the law is not intended unless stated in express terms or unless followed by necessary implication. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 565 = 51 B. 908 = 29 Bom. L. R. 1254 = 105 Ind. Cas. 516. Section 89 Civil Procedure Code, covers all references to arbitration whether the reference is or is not made without the intervention of the Court, and whether an award does or does not follow and it says that they shall be governed by the provisions of Schedule II, Civil Procedure Code. The words in s. 89, Civil Procedure Code, "by any other law for the time being in force" must refer to some law extraneous to the C. P. Code and cannot be legitimately held to cover Order 23, rule 3. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 374 = 160 Ind. Cas. 287 = 38 P. L. R. 102. In Bhim raj v. Munia, A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 243 = 16 Pat. L. T. 280 = 14 Pat. 799. Sir Courtney Jerrell, C. J. observed: "The words 'or by any other law for the time being in force' have been the subject of some discussion; but in my opinion, the words clearly must be read ejus dem generis with reference to a specific piece of legislature, the Arbitration Act, 1899, and it means that it contemplated that further legislature may take place or that there may be already in existence, specific legislature dealing with arbitration. It was not the intention of the legislature to override either the Arbitration Act or any other specific piece of legislature, but the intention was to state that all references to arbitration of whatever kind, if they are intended to be given a binding effect must be conducted and instituted according to the provisions of Schedule 2 of the Act." The proceedings under Order 23, rule 3 for the recording of a compromise between the parties is not an exception to s. 89 and that section does not take into contemplation that rule at all as being one of the proceedings by way of arbitration to which the section and the Schedule are not to apply. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 243.

SPECIAL CASE.

90. [New.] Where any persons agree in writing to state a case for the opinion of the Court, then the Court shall try and determine the same in the manner prescribed.

Power to state case for opinion of Court.

Scope.—A Court should not interfere by giving a partial decision which it cannot make effective to end the dispute when legislature had provided special tribunal. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 232 = 32 Bom. L. R. 416 = 54 B. 825 = 125 Ind. Cas. 897.

SUITS RELATING TO PUBLIC MATTERS.

91. [New.] (1) In the case of a public nuisance the Advocate-General, or two or more persons having obtained the consent in writing of the Advocate-General, may institute a suit, though no special damage has been caused, for a declaration and injunction or for such other relief as may be appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

Public nuisances.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any right of suit which may exist independently of its provisions.

Notes.—Vide the Public Suits Validation Act (XI of 1932).

Scope.—This section does not create a right which did not exist before nor it deprives any body of a right derived from the general law of the land. It is not a prohibitive section which prevents a person from asserting a right except in a particular way. A. I. R. 1924 All. 599 = 46 A. 470 = 22 A. L. J. 729 = 85 Ind. Cas. 304. Section 91 does not contest or restrict the provisions of Order I, rule 8 and does not take away the plaintiff's right to sue which may exist independently of its provisions. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1233 = 88 Ind. Cas. 505. Section 91, sub-section (1) authorizes two or more persons to sue with the previous consent of the Advocate-General in respect of a public nuisance but it does not compel them to do so nor is there anything in s. 91 which confers a new right. If a right exists independently of that section that right is not taken away. A. I. R. 1931 All. 941 = 151 Ind. Cas. 263. The definition of "Public Nuisance" given in s. 268 of the Penal Code applies to the Code of Civil Procedure 1935 O. W. N. 899=157 Ind. Cas. 638. A suit relating to an encroachment on a private easement is not barred by that section. 153 Ind. Cas. 704=A. I. R. 1935 All. 789. Private action not allowed for a public injury. Private nuisance is actionable by the person injured by it. The general obstruction of a public thoroughfare, unless authorized by law, custom or contract, is a public nuisance for which a private suit is not allowed but to obstruct, annoy or endanger a particular person or body of persons only in his or their use of a public thoroughfare may be a private nuisance, for which a private action may lie. Every class or community has a right to use the public streets for religious or musical processions subject to the law against nuisances and any wrongful attack on that right will give rise to a cause of action. 12 N. Plaintiff relying on special damages in suit to establish public right, special damages must be specifically alleged. The mere general allegation is not sufficient. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 549=91 Ind. Cas. 728; see also A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 367=27 Bom. L. R. 421=87 Ind. Cas. 934. Where the plea of want of sanction of the Advocate-General was not taken in the trial Court but was raised for the first time in the lower appellate Court and that Court refused to entertain it. The lower Court was perfectly within its rights in doing so. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 39=105 Ind. Cas. 113.

92. [S 539.] (1) In the case of any alleged breach of any express or

of a charitable or religious nature, or where the direction of the Court is deemed necessary for the administration of any such trust, the Advocate-General, or two or more persons having an interest in the trust and having obtained the consent in writing of the Advocate-General, may institute a suit, whether contentious or not, in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction or in any other Court empowered in that behalf by the "Provincial Government"* within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the whole or any part of the subject-matter of the trust is situate to obtain a decree—

- (a) removing any trustee;
- (b) appointing a new trustee;
- (c) vesting any property in a trustee;
- (d) directing accounts and inquiries;
- (e) declaring what proportion of the trust-property or of the interest therein, shall be allocated to any particular object of the trust;
- (f) authorizing the whole or any part of the trust-property to be let, sold, mortgaged or exchanged;
- (g) settling a scheme;
- (h) granting such further or other relief as the nature of the case may require.

(2) [Save as provided by the Religious Endowments Act, 1863,]† no suit claiming any of the reliefs specified in sub-section (1) shall be instituted in respect of any such trust as is therein referred to except in conformity with the provisions of that sub-section.

Amendments in British Burma.—In sub-section (1) for the word "Provincial Government" read "Governor" and in sub-section (2) omit the words "save as provided by the Religious Endowments Act, 1863"—vide G. B. Order of 1937.

N. B.—Vide the Public Suits Validation Act (XI of 1932); see also A. L. R. 1933 Oudh 606.

Soope of the Section.—Where defendant is neither constructive trustee nor trustee de son tort, a suit under this section is not maintainable. A. I. R. 1923 All.

* For the "Local Government" substitute the words "Provincial Government".—Vide G. I. Order, 1937.

247=21 A. L. J. 310. This section is inapplicable to trusts not yet completed. Suit for administration of trusts of a Will containing disposition for charitable purposes is maintainable though it is not brought under s. 92. 70 Ind. Cas. 903=31 M. L. T. (H. C.) 63=16 L. W. 922. Two essential conditions are necessary in order that a suit should fall under s. 92 : either there must be an alleged breach of an express or constructive trust created for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature, or the direction of the Court is deemed necessary for the administration of the trust. In the event of any of these eventualities, if the suit asks for a decree claiming any of the reliefs mentioned in s. 92 (1) clauses (a) to (h), then the suit shall be instituted in respect of any such trust in conformity with the provisions of s. 92. The section is inapplicable to a suit in which there is no allegation in the plaint of an alleged breach of an express or constructive trust. 33 Bom. L. R. 1575=135 Ind. Cas. 806=A. I. Direction of the Court.—The words "where the direction of the Court is deemed necessary for the administration of any such trust" mean that where the Court has to give direction in nature of framing a scheme or otherwise for the administration of the trust. Mere appointment of mutwali is not such a direction. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 368 = 55 Cal. 1254 = 32 C. W. N. 835 = 110 Ind. Cas. 416. Administration of trust.—The object of enquiry, in a suit under s. 92 is to devise the best method for fully and effectually carrying out the purposes for which the trust was created. In settling a scheme of management the Court has a wide discretion; the wishes of the founder regarding the management might be taken into consideration; but the primary right of the Court is to consider the general interests of the body of the public for whose benefit the trust is created and the Court might vary any rule of management which it finds to be impracticable or unsuited to the best interests of the institution. A. I. R. 1916 P. C. 132=43 C. 1085=14 A. L. J. 741=20 C. W. N. 1118=31 M. L. J. 290=24 C. L. J. 198=35 Ind. Cas. 30. True test of legal propriety of clause in a scheme is whether relief granted by that Court is such relief that if it was being sought before scheme was sanctioned, it would have to be sought by suit under s. 92. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 226=122 Ind. Cas. 455. Where the institution is controlled by scheme, the Court has no power to interfere except by some method provided by scheme even where trustee omits to comply with scheme terms. A. I. Persons having interest in the trust.—Persons who are in the habit of worshipping at a temple and of making offerings and of giving subscriptions are persons having an interest in the temple and are entitled to maintain a suit under this section with necessary sanction. Trust and Trustee.—The words "trust" and "trustee" as used in s. 92 have not been used in any technical sense of the terms as used in English law or in the technical sense in which word "wakf" is used in the Mahomedan law. The words have been used in the ordinary sense. "Trust" in the most enlarged sense in which that term is used in English jurisprudence may be defined to be one equitable right, title or interest in the property, real or personal, distinct from the legal ownership thereof; and "trustee" is a person holding the legal title of property under an express or implied agreement to apply it and the income arising from it to the use and for the benefit of another person. Under the English conception of the term, trust conveys the idea of two estates and two parties. Had the word "trust" been used in the Code in the technical sense of the English jurisprudence the section would have been inapplicable either to wakfs of the Mahomedan law or to *debutter*s of the Hindu law. But it has been held in long series of decisions that this section does apply to Mahomedan wakfs and to Hindu *debutter*s where there is no conception of two estates and two ownerships. What is required for the purposes of section 92 is to find whether or not there is property burdened with obligations for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature. It will apply in all cases, whether wakf or not, where there is a clear indication that there is an obligation annexed to the property in favour of religious or charitable objects of a public nature. 11 P. 288=12 P. L. T. 817=136 Ind. Cas. 417=A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 33=A. L. R. 1932 Pat. 373.

Parties.—In a suit under s. 92, only the trustee is a necessary party and not those who may be in possession of trust properties even adversely to the trust. 12 P. L. T. 817. In a suit under s. 92 the defendants must be alleged to be either de jure or de facto managers of the trust and not merely servants of the trust. 1931 M. W. N. 898. Where the suit property is the service Inam of the Archakas, burdened with the service to the temple the appropriation of the income by the Archakas is not misappropriation of trust income and the Archakas are not managers de son tort of the trust. 1931 M. R. 1932 Pat. 33. When a scheme of management of public religious trust provides for its modifications by the Court on application by any person interested in the institution, any person who may, from time to time, have an interest in the institution whether or not he was party to the suit in which the scheme was originally framed, can apply for modification of the terms of the scheme. A. I. R. 1937 Bom. 124.

Sanction.—Advocate-General's permission is necessary unless plaintiff has a special claim or interest. 35 Ind. Cas. 846. With due sanction any two persons can sue where object of suit is to secure certain advantage to trust. 3 L. W. 512=35 Ind. Cas. 88. Where sanction is granted to more than two persons all must join. 29 M. L. J. 231=31 Ind. Cas. 236. Sanction granted for suit under s. 92 means any suit which may be raised under the section. It is not confined to one of the species of suits that could be raised on the application. 48 C. 493=25 C. W. N. 794=30 M. L. T. 194=48 I. A. 12 (P. C.)=62 Ind. Cas. 737 (P. C.). Status and position of those who come forward as representatives of community is an important consideration in giving sanction. Before giving sanction notice should be issued to the trustees. A. I. The condition precedent to the proper institution of a suit under s. 92 is the obtaining of the sanction of the Advocate-General and no other condition for the maintainability of a suit is to be found in the Code. The amendment of the law embodied in the present s. 92 has obviated the necessity for a representative suit. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1070=1925 M. W. N. 505; see also A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 280=50 M. L. J. 42=22 L. W. 701=92 Ind. Cas. 823. Objection as to sanction cannot be waived, for the object of sanction is that trustees should not be sued unless there is prima facie case against real trustee. Suit under s. 92 cannot be referred to arbitration, as it is not a suit for determination of private rights. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 112=6 N. L. J. 7. A suit under s. 92, C. P. Code, should be brought in place where the subject-matter of the trust i. e., the trust property or trust money, or any of it is situate. 1935 M. W. N. 607=42 L. W. 505=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 981=69 M. L. J. 274.

Compromise of suit.—A judge has Jurisdiction to pass a decree on the basis of bona fide compromise in a suit brought under section 92. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 187=80 Ind. Cas. 44 ; see also 18 C. W. N. 1264. Court should not sanction compromise of suit under s. 92 under which any portion of trust properties is given to any party. 37 M. L. J. 489=47 Ind. Cas. 611. Where plaintiff approves appointment of certain persons as committee, the decree is not consent decree. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 382=100 Ind. Cas. 838. Fraudulent compromise does not bar subsequent suit. 108 Ind. Cas. 199=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 268. As regards effect of compromise by some of the plaintiffs, vide A. I. R. 1928 P. C. 16=32 C. W. Abatement of suit.—Although one of the plaintiffs obtaining sanction for instituting suit dies, neither the suit nor appeal, therefrom abates. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 244=47 M. L. J. 745=20 L. W. 882=85 Ind. Cas. 666 ; 97 P. R. 1918=73 P. W. R. 1918=47 Ind. Cas. 983. Suit under this section is prosecuted as representing general public, and so it does not abate on the death of the original plaintiff. 48 C. 493=13 L. W. 318=(1921) M. W. N. 24=17 N. L. R.: 37=484 I. A. 12=25 C. W. N. 794=30 M. L. T. 194 (P. C.)=62 Ind. Cas. 737. In a suit under s. 92, for removal of the defendant and framing a scheme, death of the defendant pending the suit does not cause the whole suit to abate. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 162=48 M. 688=49 M. L. J. 324=91 Ind. Cas. 109. But order bringing on record new trustees instead of old ones, in evasion of section 92 is without jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 281=52 C. L. J. 78=130 Ind. Cas. 866.

Addition of Parties.—Where suit is brought within sanction, subsequent amendment by addition of new parties without obtaining fresh sanction does not invalidate suit. A. I. R. 1923 Sind 35=16 S. L. R. 221=79 Ind. Cas. 539 ; see also 34 Ind. Cas. 384=40 M. 110 ; 43 M. 707=38 M. L. J. 201. Whether new sanction is necessary when new defendant is added, depends on whether scope of suit is enlarged or altered thereby. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 970=24 L. W. 419=97 Ind. Cas. 462 ; see also 58 Ind. Clause (a).—Clauses (a) and (b) are distinct. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 226=(1929) M. W. N. 744=122 Ind. Cas. 455. Section 92 applies as much to removal of a trustee de son tort as to the removal of ordinary trustee. 151 Ind. Cas. 138=A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 321. If the District Judge can remove a trustee for unfitness, it is difficult to see why he cannot do so for dishonesty or breach of trust. Section 92 does not say that a trustee being guilty of breach of trust can only be removed by a suit. A. I. R. 1937 Bom. 124. Trustees can be removed for mismanagement of endowment. In removing a trustee Court should be guided solely by considerations of the welfare of the trust. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1024=81 Ind. Cas. 850. Trustees may be removed for breach of trust. 21 A. 200. A Mahant can be removed from management of muff property, for keeping mistress and gambling. 80 Ind. Cas. 674=27 O. C. 149. To justify removal of trustee there must be some gross negligence or misconduct as to evidence a want either of capacity or of fidelity which is calculated to put the trust in jeopardy. Failure in the discharge of duty on account of mistake or misunderstanding is not a ground for removal unless such failure shows want of capacity to manage the trust. If the trustee renews a lease for his personal benefit, purchases the trust property concerns in a breach of trust, asserts a hostile title with knowledge that it was unfounded, fails to keep accounts, wrongfully alienates trust property, obstructs the management and wants only to waste the estate he may be removed. Clause (b).—Even where trust deed enjoins only one trustee Court can appoint additional trustees if interest of institution demand it. A. I. R. 1298 Mad. 955=(1927) M. W. N. 405=108 Ind. Cas. 649. Even where plaintiff has not prayed for the removal of the trustee Court can appoint Receiver pendente lite. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 224=41 M. L. J. 545=68 Ind. Cas. 565. Section 92 is mandatory and cases which before 1908 held that founder or his heirs could sue for due performance of trust and to remove them and to appoint new ones without invoking aid of s. 92 are no longer good law. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 544=4 Pat. 741=7 P. L. T. 4=88 Ind. Cas. 1035. Power of appointing new trustee and of making a scheme for administration of property is restricted to s. 92 only. A. I. Clause (g).—In a suit under s. 92 for removal of defendant and for forming a scheme, the scheme can be framed only if the trust is a public one. 148 Ind. Cas. 882=1934 A. L. J. 531=A. I. R. 1934 All. 315. In a suit brought under s. 92 of Code, the Court framed a scheme for the management of a trust and appointed trustees and made therein a provision for appointment of a successor in case any of the appointed trustees died : Held that the provision in a scheme giving authority to Court to appoint a successor in place of a deceased trustee could not be regarded as a modification of the original scheme as such was not ultra vires. A. I. R. 1937 Oudh 193. The right to have a scheme framed or accounts examined under s. 92 accrues before passing of the preliminary decree and originates from facts which constitute the foundations of the suit itself. Preliminary decree only records the findings of the Court, and the rights cannot be said to be originated from the preliminary decree. A. I. R. 1937 Cal. 150. No relief can be granted with reference

Where scheme is framed, appeal from order of the Court in the matter of its execution does not lie. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 659=91 Ind. Cas. 794. Where Court reserves to itself right to confirm elections held under scheme framed by itself and application for confirmation is filed by parties on one side and opposed by parties on other side, Court's order being decree is appealable as such. A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 168=6 Rang. 97=110 Ind. Cas. 41. Where remedy is not asked in the suit but given in the scheme, it cannot be and need not be asked in execution and as such order thereon is not appealable. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 369=47 M. 139=75 Ind. Cas. 189. Where scheme provides for application to amend scheme order on such application not being in execution cannot be appealed against. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 559=1926 M. W. N. 226=49 M. 580=95 Ind. Cas. 720. The rules framed by Court under a scheme decree to regulate the functions Dharm Kartas and to enforce office discipline are not appealable. A. L. R. 1933 Mad. 993.

93. [S. 539, last para.] The powers conferred by sections 91 and 92 on the Advocate General may, [outside the Presidency-towns], be, with the previous sanction of the "Provincial Government,"* exercised also by the Collector or by such officer as the "Provincial Government"* may appoint in this behalf.

Local Government in Burma.—The words "outside Presidency-town" within square brackets have been omitted and the words "Provincial Government" have been substituted by the word "Governor".—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—The Collector is not bound to sign every order that is issued to third persons and there is nothing wrong in the Collector delegating his power of signing the order to the Sheristadar and such an official act of his is presumed to have been done properly until contrary is proved. 27 L. W. 42=39 M. L. T. 628=107 Ind. Cas. 130=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 205. But such order cannot be signed by the Assistant Collector during Collector's absence. 35 B. 243=13 Bom. L. R. 207. Conditional order is defective. 30 Ind. Cas. 17=39 B. 580=17 Bom. L. R. 625. The effect of the section is that no suit relating to public religious or charitable trust, outside the Presidency-town may be brought without the previous sanction of the Local Government whether by the Collector or by any other officer so that the fact that the Legal Remembrancer is in the United Provinces invested as a rule with the duties elsewhere discharged by the Advocate-General is no reason why for the purpose of a particular suit the Local Government may not appoint the Collector or any other officer to prosecute it. Hence a suit by the Collector is competent. (1931) A. L. J. 369=A. I. R. (1931) P. C. 121=(1931) P. C. 229=33 Bom. L. R. 968=35 C. W. N. 6,9=53 C. L. J. 537=61 M. L. J. 402=132 Ind. Cas. 745 (P. C.). Section 93 provides for two distinct matters, the appointment of an officer to exercise the powers conferred by ss. 91 and 92 of the Code on the Advocate-General and the "previous sanction" of the Local Government to the exercise of such powers. In each case both the appointment and the previous sanction of the Local Government to the exercise of such powers are necessary before the provisions of s. 93 can be utilized. Having regard to the terms of section 93 the previous sanction of the Local Government is necessary whether the suit is instituted by a Collector or by an officer appointed by the Local Government, or whether the suit is instituted by two or more persons with the consent in writing of such Collector or officer. 59 I. A. 121=53 A. 990=62 M. L. J. 249=55 C. L. J. 54=36 C. W. N. 257=35 L. W. 224=9 O. W. N. 53=1932 A. L. J. 182=34 Bom. L. R. 494=136 Ind. Cas. 461=A. I. R. 1932 P. C. 51=1932 M. W. N. 685=A. L. R. 1932 P. C. 56 (P. C.). The result of this decision is that large number of pending suits would have been rendered subject to dismissal through no fault of plaintiffs. The Public Suits Validation Act (XI of 1932) was passed to remove this hardship. It validated all such suits then pending, and also provided retrial of all claims which might have been in the meantime dismissed whether in the Court of first instance or in the Court of appeal, on the ground of the absence of the requisite sanction. Vide ss. 2, 3, 4 of the Public Suits Validation Act of 1932; see also 9 O. W. N. 966.

PART VI.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROCEEDINGS.

94. [New.] In order to prevent the ends of justice from being defeated the Court may, if it is so prescribed,— Supplemental proceedings.

* The words "Provincial Government" have been substituted for the words "Local Government" by G. I. Order of 1937.

(a) issue a warrant to arrest the defendant and bring him before the Court to show cause why he should not give security for his appearance, and if he fails to comply with any order for security commit him to the civil prison ;

(b) direct the defendant to furnish security to produce any property belonging to him and to place the same at the disposal of the Court or order the attachment of any property ;

(c) grant a temporary injunction and in case of disobedience commit the person guilty thereof to the civil prison and order that his property be attached and sold ;

(d) appoint a receiver of any property and enforce the performance of his duties by attaching and selling his property ;

(e) make such other interlocutory orders as may appear to the Court to be just and convenient.

Scope.—A prima facie case must be established before a relief can be granted in an application for an interlocutory order. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 469=55 C. 978=32 C. W. N. 576=112 Ind. Cas. 712.

Clause (a).—Vide Order 38, rules 1 to 4.

Clause (b).—Vide Order 38, rules 5 to 12 ; see also 14 W. R. 384 ; 31 C. L. J. 179. Panchayat being a public body can be compelled by Court to produce documents in its possession. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 299=51 Mad. 1=54 M. L. J. 174=108 Ind. Cas. 760.

Clause (c).—Vide order 39. Order 39 governs s. 94. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 604=30 C. W. N. 214=94 Ind. Cas. 871. Plaintiff is not entitled to temporary injunction on the ground that interference with collection of rent and breach of peace is apprehended. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 601=30 C. W. N. 214=94 Ind. Cas. 871. Rule 2 (3) of order 39, is sufficiently wide and it applies to disobedience of all the injunctions under s. 94 also. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 574=50 M. L. J. 401=95 Ind. Cas. 196. Injunctions cannot be granted by a Civil Court to party to proceeding under s. 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act preventing him from further proceeding with application to Revenue Court under the same section. 5 P. L. J. 76=(1919) Pat. 461=53 Ind. Cas. 37. No doubt s. 94 (c) authorises the Court where injunction has not been obeyed to punish the delinquent. A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 182.

Clause (d).—Vide Order 40, rules 1 to 5. The appointment of a receiver is discretionary with the Court. 16 C. W. N. 997.

Clause (e).—Vide 17 C. W. N. 318.

95. [Ss. 491, 497] (1) Where, in any suit in which an arrest or attachment has been effected or a temporary injunction granted under the last preceding section,—

(a) it appears to the Court that such arrest attachment or injunction was applied for on insufficient grounds, or

(b) the suit of the plaintiff fails and it appears to the Court that there was no reasonable or probable ground for instituting the same, the defendant may apply to the Court and the Court may, upon such application, award against the plaintiff by its order such amount, not exceeding one thousand rupees, as it deems a reasonable compensation to the defendant for the expense or injury caused to him :

Provided that a Court shall not award, under this section, an amount exceeding the limits of its pecuniary jurisdiction.

(2) An order determining any such application shall bar any suit for compensation in respect of such arrest, attachment or injunction.

Scope.—In order to entitle the plaintiff to succeed in an action for damages under s. 95 it is necessary that process contemplated in his favour should have terminated in his favour or superseded or discharged. Section 95 applies only when the attachment is actually effected though a separate suit lies where a larger compensation than Rs. 1,000 is claimed, basis of the suit in any way differs from the basis on which the compensation is allowed excepting that in a suit the plaintiff has to show that attachment was applied for not merely on insufficient grounds but that it was done maliciously and without probable cause. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 357=49 B. 629=27 Bom. L. R. 525=87 Ind. Cas. 1026. Section 95 is not inapplicable to cases in which the plaintiff happens to be a minor, 158 Ind. Cas. 831=1935 M. W. N. 1055=42 L. W. 542=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 886. Damage to prestige and humiliation do not amount to "injury," for which compensation can be awarded under s. 95. 39 C. W. N. 915. A person whose property was attached wrongfully can claim damages from the attaching creditor though acting bona fide. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 200=112 Ind. Cas. 848. This provides for compensation as a limited and incidental relief; and in cases of wrongful attachment, it gives an alternative remedy. In a suit for damages for attachment before judgment, the plaintiff should prove that the defendant had no reasonable and probable cause for applying and also malice in fact. The rule in England is that actual malice must be proved, which this section allows a limited remedy without such proof. 35 M. 598=10 M. L. T. 365=(1911) 2 M. W. N. 414; 32 M. 170. Injury having been caused as a result of what was actually done though attachment was not completed, may entitle plaintiff to claim compensation. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 206=45 M. 527=15 M. L. W. 440=66 Ind. Cas. 760. That the defendant was actually about to dispose of his property is sufficient to justify attachment before judgment but not on his mere straightened circumstances. 25 M. L. J. 45=9 L. W. 69=49 Ind. Cas. 86. A person whose property was attached wrongfully can claim damages from the attaching creditor though acting bonafide. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 200=112 Ind. Cas. 848. A claim made in counter affidavit for compensation for wrongful attachment of property before judgment is no bar to a suit for damages. Section 95 acts as a bar only if either of the conditions mentioned therein have been fulfilled. 38 M. L. J. 324=55 Ind. Cas. 786. This section is not applicable in case of enforcement of security bond for larger amount than Rs. 1,000. A. L. R. 1933 Mad. 858=A. I. R. 1933 M. 671=145 Ind. Cas. 1011=38 L. W. 385=65 M. L. J. 342=1933 M. W. N. 985. Having regard to the express language of this section an order for compensation for attachment before judgment on sufficient grounds, must be embodied in the decree in the suit, and is not capable of being passed after the decree in the suit has been given. 17 M. L. J. 310. Amount of damages to be awarded by the Bombay High Court is not limited to Rs. 1,000 as by virtue of Rule 319 of that Court. S. 95 does not apply to suits under the ordinary original civil jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 523=28 Bom. L. R. 1077=97 Ind. Cas. 763. If no evidence as to the damages suffered is forthcoming, general damages can be claimed in an action for damages under s. 95. Where an injunction was granted after hearing both parties on sufficient grounds, and the plaintiff has not filed in his suit it is uncertain if damages can be awarded. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 352=17 L. W. 150=71 Ind. Cas. 450. Where on plaintiff's application a conditional order of attachment of certain movable was made under Order 38, rule 5 and the attachment was subsequently withdrawn on defendant's furnishing security compensation under s. 95 can be awarded as there is nothing in the section to exclude conditional attachment from its operation. 35 C. W. N. 546; see also (1931) M. W. N. 956; 25 M. L. T. 46. General damages such as damages for defamation or humiliation are also included in expense or injury in s. 95 for wrongful arrest. 32 Ind. Cas. 592=3 L. W. 30=(1916) M. W. N. 76. The question to be decided under s. 95 is whether there are no sufficient grounds for applying for attachment and not whether there are no reasonable grounds stated in the creditor's application for attachment. A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 126.

Whether this section bars a regular suit.—An order determining any application of the injured party for compensation under section 95 shall bar a suit for compensation in respect of such arrest, attachment or injunction. Therefore the injured defendant is at liberty to file an independent suit, instead of making an application under this section. 35 M. 598. The suit barred under s. 95 (2) and the application must be ejus dem generis with the same cause of action. 1932 M. W. N. 536=A. L. R. 1932 Mad. 973. It is doubtful whether, independently of section 95, upon proof that a person maliciously and without probable cause asked for an attachment before judgment and obtained it by making untrue statements to the Court, a cause of action in the nature of malicious prosecution would arise. 59 C. 1073=36 C. W. N. 447=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 821. Except for malice or want of probable cause, damage cannot be awarded in an independent suit merely on the ground that an injunction was issued preventing him from doing what was subsequently held to be within his right. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 1=46 C. L. J. 455. Suit for damages can lie for having wrongfully obtained temporary injunction on insufficient grounds. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 247=53 C. 1008=100 Ind. Cas. 318; 16 C. W. N. 540; 18 C. W. N. 1189; 30 C. W. N. 465. Tortious temporary injunction is a sufficient ground for a separate suit for compensation. In absence of sufficient grounds in an action under s. 95 (2) malice can be inferred if the plaintiff has suffered injury. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 303=45 P. L. R. 1922=69 Ind. Cas. 523. In an independent suit for damages where plaintiff was not a party to the suit, it is not necessary to prove that the prosecution was taken out maliciously and without probable cause. In such a cause a suit will lie in case of wrongful attachment though made in good faith. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 302=83 Ind. Cas. 433.

Appeal.—An appeal lies from an order under this section. 49 Ind. Cas. 86=25 M. L. J. 45=9 L. W. 69; 11 Ind. Cas. 917=4 Bur. L. T. 204. But no second appeal lies. 21 Ind. Cas. 756; 4 Bur. L. T. 204=11 Ind. Cas. 917. An appeal does not lie when an order under this section is passed by a Small Causes Court. 50 Ind. Cas. 886=36 M. L. J. 435=(1919) M. W. N. 490; 26 Ind. Cas. 359.

APPEALS.

APPEALS FROM ORIGINAL DECREES.

96. [S. 540, Jud. Act, 1873, S. 43.] (1) Save where otherwise Appeal from original decree. expressly provided in the body of this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie from every decree passed by any Court exercising original jurisdiction to the Court authorised to hear appeals from the decisions of such Court.

(2) An appeal may lie from an original decree passed ex parte.

(3) No appeal shall lie from a decree passed by the Court with the consent of parties.

Appeal, meaning of.—There is no definition of appeal in the C. P. Code, but any application by a party to an appellate Court asking to set aside or reverse a decision of a subordinate Court is an appeal within the ordinary acceptance of the term, and it is no less an appeal because it is irregular or incompetent. 59 I. A. 283=63 M. L. J. 389=36 C. W. N. 803=34 Bom. L. R. 1065=1932 A. L. J. 643=9 O. W. N. 681=55 C. L. J. 528=137 Ind. Cas. 529=33 P. L. R. 621=A. I. R. 1932 P. C. 165=A. L. R. 1932 P. C. 435 (P. C.). The distinction between an appeal and an application for revision is that in the former case when the appeal is dismissed, the appellate Court exercises its jurisdiction while in the latter it is entirely discretionary with the High Court to exercise it or not. A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 17=130 Ind. Cas. 145. The word an "appeal" in this section includes the filing of a fresh appeal unless the dismissal of the first appeal bars a fresh one. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 514=4 P. L. T. 405=75 Ind. Cas. 284.

Appeal shall lie from every decree.—In order that a decision may amount to a "decree" it a decision must be a final disposal whichever way it has been or may be decided. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 404=122 Ind. Cas. 519. The right of appeal is a creature of statute and it can be exercised only by those in whom the power is vested expressly or impliedly by the statutes. 57 M. 670=150 Ind. Cas. 538=1934 M. W. N. 697=A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 360=39 L. W. 824=66 M. L. J. 532. This section gives right of appeal from every decree passed by a Court of original jurisdiction. 151 Ind. Cas. 25=A. I. R. 1934 All. 677; see also A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 307=11 O. W. N. 606; A. I. R. 1934 All. 531. Appeal does not lie from a prayer by person who sought the relief granted. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 190=124 Ind. Cas. 673. Suit dismissed against minor defendant does not amount to a decree and as such no cross-appeal lies. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 669=33 C. W. N. 742=24 Ind. Cas. 75. Because an appeal lies under the Letters Patent, does not necessarily mean that a similar appeal lies in every other case governed by the provisions of C. P. Code unless it is so allowed by the Code itself. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 198=120 Ind. Cas. 693. Where two suits are in respect of the same transaction and a party is plaintiff in one and defendant in the other and vice versa, it is to be taken that they are consolidated. One appeal is enough unless the party against whom the appeal is made is impleaded as respondent, pro forma or otherwise. A. I. R. 1930 All. 706=(1930) A. L. J. 842=52 A. 886=128 Ind. Cas. 390. Subsequent enactment during the pendency of a suit cannot take away the right of appeal which is a substantive one. A. I. R. 1930 All. 706=(1930) A. L. J. 842=52 A. 886=128 Ind. Cas. 390. An appeal lies under s. 96 from a decision in reference under s. 30 of the Land Acquisition Act, though not under s. 54. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 223=29 L. W. 237=57 M. L. J. 387=115 Ind. Cas. 345. Right of appeal exists in all civil proceedings though not called suits, unless it is expressly barred by the Code. Ibid. Plaintiff can be said to have sustained an injury if joint possession instead of an exclusive one is awarded by a decree. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 850=28 C. W. N. 865=40 C. L. J. 90=82 Ind. Cas. 386. Where the order in a decree was that certain defendants are not liable for mesne profits, appeal lies from a decree and not against judgment. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 1006=39 C. L. J. 251=81 Ind. Cas. 527. No appeal lies from an order as to costs unless a question of principle is involved. A. I. R. 1921 All. 794=80 Ind. Cas. 39. Appeal does not lie from an order rejecting the claim of a person as a legal representative of deceased plaintiff, and not conclusively determining the rights of the parties. Hence remedy by way of revision lies. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 813=47 M. L. J. 370=(1924) M. W. N. 763=80 Ind. Cas. 242. A preliminary decree cannot be appealed against after the passing of the final decree. But appeal may be allowed to be so amended as to convert into one against the final decree. 33 C. L. J. 414=25 C. W. N. 776=48 C. 1036=61 Ind. Cas. 928; see also A. I. R. 1925 Sind 178=18 S. L. R. 133=78 Ind. Cas. 978. Appeal must be dismissed if the decree appealed from has been set aside on review during the pending of an appeal. 140 P. R. 1919=54 Ind. Cas. 966. Appeal lies against decree making defendants liable for their own costs on withdrawal of claim against some of them. 18 M. L. T. 460=31 Ind. Cas. 312.

An appellate Court can dismiss an appeal though originally remanded for taking additional evidence, if it afterwards find that it can stand. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 353=34 C. W. N. 839=131 Ind. Cas. 562. If a review is successful to any extent whatever and appeal is pending, the proper course is to draw a fresh decree as it appears in a final shape. 34 C. W. N. 1002=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 323=130 Ind. Cas. 145; see also A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 174=89 Ind. Cas. 195=26 P. L. R. 526.

Where there is a difference of opinion between the two Judges of the High Court hearing the appeal from the mofussil, the opinion of the confirming Judge to prevail. A. I. R. 1925 Mad 1032=21 L. W. 721=86 Ind. Cas. 857. Interference with the finding of fact when the question depends on credibility or otherwise of witness of the trial Judge should so far as possible be avoided but it is otherwise when the question in issue depends upon circumstantial evidence and the evidence has not been shifted by the trial Court with reference thereto. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 260=34 C. L. J. 384=25 C. W. N. 779=49 C. 132=66 Ind. Cas. 782; A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 242=10 O. W. N. 412; A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 142=10 O. W. N. 201. Decree in suit transferred from Small Cause Court to the Original Side under s. 23, Pro. S. C. C. Act is appealable. 45 Ind. Cas. 645. Order declaring the suit to have abated amounts to dismissal of suit though not expressly provided so by rr. 3 and 4, Order XXII, C. P. Code and hence is appealable. 34 Ind. Cas. 372=19 M. L. T. 364=30 M. L. J. 486=(1916) 1 M. W. N. 301. An order of remand under s. 151, C. P. Code is not appealable. It is however open to revision. 32 P. L. R. 169=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 302. It is not necessary for the party aggrieved by an order under Order 23, rule 3 to appeal both from the order and the decree, in order to maintain his appeal against the order under Order 23, rule 3. 36 C. W. N. 1013.

Appeal is continuation of suit.—An appeal is continuation of original suit and appellate Court's decree is decree in suit. (1916) 1 M. W. N. 223=30 M. L. J. 379=33 Ind. Cas. 9=19 M. L. T. 268; see also 18 W. R. 261; 19 C. W. N. 359; 3 C. W. N. 62 (n); 4 C. W. N. 44; 30 Ind. Cas. 753=(1915) M. W. N. 844; 24 M. L. J. 112 (F. B.)=18 Ind. Cas. 55.

Who can appeal.—An appeal does not lie by a decree-holder from a decree with adverse finding. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 586=8 Pat. 617=10 P. L. T. 643=119 Ind. Cas. 554. Appeal lies from a decree though formally in favour of a mortgagor but with adverse findings on their contentions on the strength of which the Court dismissed the plaintiff's suit. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 974=51 M. L. J. 211=97 Ind. Cas. 346. Persons wrongly joined as defendant cannot appeal. Similarly no person has a right of appeal unless he is prejudicially affected by a decision. 2 P. L. W. 108=41 Ind. Cas. 468. Where adverse finding necessarily arising in a case operates as res judicata and decree, one aggrieved by it has a right of appeal. 40 Ind. Cas. 771. Defendant has no right of appeal in finding of certain facts when a suit was dismissed for want of cause of action. 20 C. W. N. 1354=35 Ind. Cas. 837. Right of appeal exists by express rules of statute and when the competency of appeal is in question, it is for the appellant to establish his right. 43 C. 857=20 C. W. N. 594=23 C. L. J. 443=34 Ind. Cas. 934. Findings in judgments as between co-defendants in a suit dismissed and not embodied nor implied in a decree do not operate as res judicata nor does an appeal lie therefrom. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 858=47 M. L. J. 612=(1924) M. W. N. 867=85 Ind. Cas. 868. Mere adverse finding in a particular matter against an appellant though suit against him was dismissed is not a sufficient ground for the maintenance of an appeal. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 264=47 M. L. J. 743=20 L. W. 734=84 Ind. Cas. 945. Decree holder can appeal against adverse finding if it substantially be in issue and if the decree was passed in his favour merely on some other ground. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 689=29 L. W. 63=83 Ind. Cas. 960=47 M. 633=(1924) M. W. N. 491. Where an appeal is dismissed respondent is not an aggrieved party, and therefore, he cannot appeal. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 504=77 Ind. Cas. 477. Appeal lies against decision whether such decision was in favour of the plaintiff or not in a suit for rent where the plaintiff's title was proved but relation of the tenancy disproved. 43 C. L. J. 384=63 Ind. Cas. 520. Opinions on adverse finding made in the judgment by appellate Court cannot operate as res judicata when in point of law no appeal lay and when the Court was incompetent to adjudicate on the rights of the parties. 44 Ind. Where an ex parte decree was passed in a suit after hearing the plaintiff's application for re-hearing was rejected but no appeal therefrom preferred and appeal against decree was dismissed, it was held that no interference could be made in second appeal, the appeal having been dismissed on merits. The proper remedy was to appeal against the order to the District Judge. 39 A. 143=14 A. L. J. 1226=36 Ind. Cas. 277. Wrongly excluded evidence can be directed to be produced by the appellate Court even in case of ex parte decree. 34 Ind. Cas. 493=9 S. L. R. 191. In a suit for foreclosure, the Court made a compromise decree in which the present plaintiff was ex parte. No steps were taken to set aside ex parte decree and the present suit was brought for a declaration that the ex parte decree was a nullity: Held though the decree might be wrong it was not without jurisdiction. Not having questioned by way of appeal plaintiff is bound by it. (1931) A. L. J. 301=A. I. R. 1931 All. 425.

No appeal from consent decree.—Where the parties agree to abide by the finding on a particular matter the decision in such cases is in the nature of an arbitrator's award and as such is not appealable. 113 Ind. Scope—“This section with certain variations reproduces section 575 of the former Code. But there is difference between the two Codes which make a very important difference for the purposes of a reference such as that now before me. Under the old Code the appeal was referred to one or more of the other Judges. Under the present Code it is a point of law that is to be heard by one or more of the other Judges. The result is that whereas under the old Code I could have disposed of this appeal on a reference, under the present Code I cannot. The intention of section 98 is that the Judges hearing the appeal should come to a complete decision with the reservation on the point of law on which they differ, and they should by their judgments make it clear that if the point of law is decided in one way it will have a certain final result, and if it decided in another way it will have another and a different final result.” *Per Jenkins C. Code and cl. 36 Letters Patent, contain rules of procedure whereas cl. 15, Letters Patent, gives a right of appeal in certain cases. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 641=52 M. 563=57 M. L. J. 264=116 Ind. Cas. 343; see also A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 641=29 L. W. 823=53 M. 563=57 M. L. J. 264=116 Ind. Cas. 343. Where there is a difference between the Judges as regards points of law, a third Judge is competent to decide. 17 C. W. N. 1165=35A 487 (P. C.); see also 23 C. L. J. 592. Where in a suit there are several items for adjudication and where Judges composing the Bench differ in their view as to some of the items, the decree appealed from should be varied so far as the Judges composing the Bench agree to vary it and should be confirmed as regards the rest. The word “decree” in section 98 does not mean the document described by that name, but the formal expression of an adjudication as regards all or any of the matters in controversy in a suit. If there are several matters in controversy the formal repression of adjudication as regards each of these matters in a "decree" so that, in that sense, adjudication as regards every item in dispute between the parties is a decree. Where the Judges composing the Bench do not agree in confirming the adjudication made by the lower Court in respect of one item, such decree or adjudication relating to that item should be confirmed. At the same time, if they agree in reversing the decree or adjudication by the latter as regards another item in dispute, the decree in respect of such item shall be varied. The provisions of s. 98 of C. P. Code should be applied with reference to the adjudication of each item. A. L. R. 1934 All. 55.

Sub-section (3).—The amendments state in precise terms the fact implicit in s. 4 of the C. P. Code, that the Letters Patent of the High Courts override the provisions of s. 98. Statement of Objects and Reasons of Act 18 of 1928. With the addition of sub-section 8, s. 98, C. P. Code made by the Repealing and Amending Act 18 of 1928, that section has no application to cases heard by Division Bench of a Chartered High Court, whether such appeals from decrees of subordinate Courts or from decrees passed by a Judge of the High Court on the original side. All cases of difference of opinion among the Judges composing the Division Bench are governed by cl. 26, Letters Patent, and the Division Bench should state expressly the points of difference. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 371 = 15 Lah. 425 = 149 Ind. Cas. 575 = 35 P. L. R. 760 (F. B.). Sub-section (3) excludes chartered High Courts from the operation of s. 98. 11 P. 772. Section 98 cannot control or override the provisions of cls. 10 and 27 of the Letters Patent. 135 Ind. Cas. 58 = 1931 A. L. J. 1157 = A. I. R. 1932 All. 195 ; (1931) A. L. J. 1157.

The words of sub-section (3) of s. 98 cannot be construed to mean that s. 98 (1) and (2) is superseded by reason of certain provisions of the Letters Patent. Cl. 27, Letters Patent, Allahabad and s. 98 of the Code are not incongruous. Cl. 27 of the Letters Patent and s. 98 do not overlap and are applicable to different sets of circumstances. Where there is an appeal under the Letters Patent and two Judges hearing the appeal differ in their opinion, the procedure is governed by cl. 27, Letters Patent, but where the appeal is under the C. P. Code the procedure is governed by s. 98. Under cl. 27 of the Letters Patent the reference is imperative and obligatory and not discretionary as in s. 98, and under cl. 27 the subject of the reference is wider in scope as it may relate to both questions of fact and of law and is not restricted to points of law only as in s. 98. Ibid. Section 98 would apply only when there is no similar provision in the Letters Patent ; but if there is specific provision, s. 98 would not apply to a chartered High Court. A. I. R. 1933 All. 861 (F. B.) = 1933 A. L. J. 1127 = 146 Ind. Cas. 84 ; but see A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 648 = 34 P. L. R. 584 = 142 Ind. Cas. 427.

99. [S. 578.] No decree shall be reversed or substantially varied, nor shall any case be remanded, in appeal on account of any misjoinder of parties or causes of action or any error, defect or irregularity in any proceedings in the suit, not affecting the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court.

Scope.—Provision of s. 99 and s. 105 do not conflict. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 150 = 5 Rang. 80 = 102 Ind. Cas. 379. Section 99 applies when the appellate Court admits additional evidence i.o. affecting merits. A. I. R. 1921 Sind 155 = 16 S. L. R. 17 = 66 Ind. Cas. 833. A Judgment which offends Order 20, rules 1 and 2 cannot be reversed except upon proof either that the jurisdiction was affected on the merits of the case. 52 C. L. J. 566 = A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 164 ; see also 32 Bom. L. R. 300 = A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 225. The question of jurisdiction is not one contemplated by s. 99. A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 151 = 158 Ind. Cas. 971.

Misjoinder of parties.—Necessary parties must be added ; if not the suit should be dismissed. Proper party may be added. Objection as to non-joinder must however be taken at the earliest stage. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 439 = 70 Ind. Cas. 572 = (1922) M. W. N. 717. It is doubtful whether misjoinder includes non-joinder. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 337 = 17 L. W. 241 = 44 M. L. J. 249 = 72 Ind. Cas. 63. Joinder of unnecessary party is a mere irregularity. 52 Ind. Cas. 105 ; 54 Ind. Cas. 850. If no prejudice is caused, objection to misjoinder of parties and causes of action cannot be entertained in appeal. 43 Ind. Cas. 960 ; 108 Ind. Cas.

545=(1928) M. W. N. 82. Misjoinder of parties affecting merits or jurisdiction affords no ground for second appeal. 18 P. L. R. 1916=37 Ind. Cas. 197. Non-joinder is a mistake and is covered by s. 99. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 592=92 Ind. Cas. 899. When the merits of the case have been satisfactorily disposed of in spite of the complication of the proceedings, no effect can be given to the objection of misjoinder. 41 C. W. N. 418 (P. C.) ; A. I. R. 1937 P. C. 42 ; Thomas v. Moore, (1918) 1 K. B. 555

Misjoinder of causes of action.—In partition suit objection as to misjoinder of causes of action must be taken in lower Court. 33 C. L. J. 317=63 Ind. Cas. 161. Multifariousness if not affecting merits is no ground for interference. A. I. R. 1929 All. 148=(1929) A. L. J. 204=114 Ind. Cas. 881. Non-joinder or misjoinder if affecting jurisdiction cannot be protected by s. 99. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 714=58 M. L. J. 613=31 L. W. 757=130 Ind. Cas. 453. This section does not apply where there is misjoinder both of parties and cause of action. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 645=89 Ind. Cas. 333. Section 99 does not cover case where non-joinder affects merits. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 419=89 Ind. Cas. 121.

Error, defect or irregularity in any proceeding.—The irregularity of not delivering the judgment in person owing to illness of the Judge cannot be cured by s. 99. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 164=52 C. L. J. 566=130 Ind. Cas. 573. Where parties' remedy is lost by Court's action this section applies. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 337=27 O. C. 35=83 Ind. Cas. 850. Section 99 applies where there was no fraud but only a formal defect in presenting the case to Court. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 114=74 Ind. Cas. 1033 ; see also A. I. R. 1937 Pat. 147. Omission to sign or to verify plaint is no ground for interference in appeal. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 735=128 Ind. Cas. 303 ; see also A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 51=8 P. L. T. 820=104 Ind. Cas. 747. But plaint signed and verified by next friend of a plaintiff who was major before institution of the suit is not valid as it is a material irregularity. A. I. R. 1924 All. 54=45 A. 701=21 A. L. J. 626=77 Ind. Cas. 30. Absence of general power of attorney in a suit is a mere irregularity and can be no ground to disturb the decree appealed from. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 44=24 Bom. L. R. 1302=47 B. 227=76 Ind. Cas. 34 ; see also A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 206=74 Ind. Cas. 100. Court's mistake in procedure must not make the party suffer. A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 22=126 Ind. Cas. 385. Questions about constitution of a right to maintain suit do not arise in proceedings in suit and so it is doubtful if s. 99 applies. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 445=49 C. L. J. 357=125 Ind. Cas. 299. After appellate decree is passed, an application simply for revival of the execution proceedings by the party executing the decree, though had in form is merely an error of procedure which is curable under s. 99 of the Code. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 225=32 Bom. L. R. 300=127 Ind. Cas. 199. Defect of signature on pleading is curable by s. 99. 1 P. L. T. 647=59 Ind. Cas. 282. Order under wrong section but in substance right was not set aside. 41 Ind. Cas. 89. Where plaint states all facts freely, the defendant cannot object to the frame of the plaint in appeal. 12 N. L. Where a plaintiff has been allowed to withdraw a suit under Order 23, rule 1, with liberty to bring a fresh suit on condition that he pays the defendant's costs but the Order fixes no date for payment of costs to the defendant, it is an irregularity not affecting the merits and not resulting in prejudice or injustice and as such curable under s. 99, C. P. Code or in principles underlying it. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 56. Omission to appoint guardian of a minor is fatal to the suit. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 534=25 C. W. N. 525=62 Ind. Cas. 464. But mere absence of a formal order of appointing guardian ad litem is a mere irregularity when the Court by its action is supposed to have sanctioned the appointment. If there be no fraud or collusion even failure to give notice to the minor concerned is not fatal. A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 206=26 O. C. 113=74 Ind. Cas. 409 ; see also A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 287=1935 O. W. N. 333. When minor appears through different guardians and no objection was taken the defect is curable under this section. 61 Ind. Cas. 605.

There can be sale without attachment and no objection to attachment can be taken after confirmation of sale. (1917) M. W. N. 89=37 Ind. Cas. 564. Omission to prove loss of document before giving secondary evidence is not fatal. 59 Ind. Cas. 461 ; see also A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 459=49 C. L. J. 546=122 Ind. Cas. 552. Court having wrong view as to onus not affecting merits is not fatal. Appellate Court will not interfere. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 62=69 Ind. Cas. 541. But Court's refusal to summon witnesses or examine them affects the merits of the case. A. I. R. 1923

Nag. 58. Judgment though based on inadmissible evidence is curable by s. 99 if it is based on positive evidence for plaintiff and absence of evidence for the defendant. The case need not be remanded. A. I. R. 1924 Cal 370=71 Ind. Cas. 300. Even where after the Court's finding that the defendant is major the suit is not amended, and the major defends the suit with a pleader the irregularity is cured by the conduct of the parties. A. I. APPEALS FROM APPELLATE DECREES.

100. [S. 584.] (1) Save where otherwise expressly provided in the body of this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from every decree passed in appeal by any Court subordinate to a High Court, on any of the following grounds, namely:—

(a) the decision being contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law;

(b) the decision having failed to determine some material issue of law or usage having the force of law;

(c) a substantial error or defect in the procedure provided by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision of the case upon the merits.

(2) An appeal may lie under this section from an appellate decree passed ex parte.

Scope of the section.—A second appeal lies to the High Court. In the first appeal the appellate Court can interfere with the erroneous finding of fact by the lower Court. Second appeal cannot change finding of fact. A. I. R. 1929 All. 885= (1930) A. L. J. 340=118 Ind. Cas. 715. Lower Court should carefully consider the entire material on record for giving finding of fact. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 12=123 Ind. Cas. 573. Finding of fact must be supported by evidence and not based on surmise. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 50=2 P. L. T. 225=60 Ind. Cas. 308. When second appeal decided only on question of fact, that decision should be set aside. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 341=4 Lah. L. J. 464; see also 43 A. B. 515=19 A. L. J. 499=63 Ind. Cas. 221. A second appeal is only competent on the grounds mentioned in this section. 16 C. 753=16 I. A. 125. A fresh legal point can be raised. A. I. R. 1925 All. 783=47 A. 932=23 A. L. J. 856=88 Ind. Cas. 1013. A plea of res judicata not raised in Memorandum of Appeal was allowed in second appeal. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 560=5 Lah. L. J. 163=74 Ind. Cas. 577. New facts indicating prima facie ground of claim can be made a ground of appeal. A. I. R. 1923 All. 176=45 A. 59. This section appears to supply a reasonable interpretation of the expression "illegality" and "with material irregularity" occurring in s. 115. Clauses (a) and (b) embody what s. 115 refers to in the illegality; that is to say, to cases where the Court below has in the exercise of its jurisdiction, come to a decision which is contrary to some specified law or usage having the force of law or failed to determine some material issue of law or usage. The clause (c) indicates the meaning of "material irregularity" which means some material irregularity in procedure which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision on the merits. 8 A. 111 (F. B.)=A. W. N. 1886, 28. The question as to the competency of an inferior Court can be allowed to be raised before the High Court, even though it has not taken before the inferior Court. 25 C. 146=2 C. W. N. 137. Finding of fact based on that of law can be disturbed on second appeal. A. I. R. 1930 All. 510=(1930) A. L. J. 1119=127 Ind. Cas. 591. Court will decide in second appeal only admissibility of the documentary evidence and not their evidentiary value. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 727=92 Ind. Cas. 104. Court in second appeal cannot reverse finding of lower appellate Court on authority not quoted before it. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 737=126 Ind. Cas. 433. Where the decision is arbitrary the appellate Court can come to independent decision. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 127=65 Ind. Cas. 464. But the fact that upon the evidence, the High Court would have come to a different conclusion is no ground for second appeal. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 192=50 Ind. Cas. 209; see also 31 C. W. N. 32=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 1=99 Ind. Cas. 189; 101 Ind. Cas. 695=A. I. R. 1927 All. 524; 57 Ind. Cas. 561=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 61=5 Pat. L. J. 410=1 P. L. T. 702.

Appeal to the High Court under s. 142 (3) Ca'cutta Municipal Act, is not a second appeal under s. 100, C. P. Code and hence is not restricted to only question of law. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 450=47 C. L. J. 315=32 C. W. N. 378=109 Ind. Cas. 618; see also A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 802=46 C. L. J. 760=31 C. W. N. 1040=55 C. 228=103 Ind. Cas. 533. Trial Court's finding cannot be set aside without considering all important material. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 993=85 Ind. Cas. 540. Finding of trial Court accepted on grounds of appeal cannot be examined in appeal though counsel was careless in drafting the grounds. 21 P. W. R. 1921=59 Ind. Cas. 689. In an appeal against an order of remand the appellant's only grounds to attack the judgment are those which would be available to him in second appeal. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 475=91 Ind. Cas. 462. In setting aside lower Court's judgment of appeal must state grounds of disbelief in evidence and for not agreeing with finding. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 408=79 Ind. Cas. 412. A decision of the lower appellate Court which was right according to the need of the law then prevailing is liable to be set aside in second appeal if the subsequent ruling of the Privy Council takes a contrary view. Urging of an alternative argument is allowable in second appeal under certain circumstances. A. I. R. 1932 All. 289. No second appeal lies against a decision under s. 53 of the Provincial Insolvency Act. A. L. R. 1934 Lah. 78.

Second appeal when decision is contrary to law.—"It is true as laid down by their Lordships of the Privy Council in the Secretary of State v Rameshwaram, 1934 P. C. 112=148 Ind. Cas. 778=61 I. Where it is never suggested in lower Court that a deed of gift was invalid for non-acceptance, the invalidity of the gift cannot be urged on that ground in second appeal. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 148. The principle that a point of law can always be taken in second appeal is limited to cases where the point of law does not require a finding of fact to support it. A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 109=8 P. L. T. 850=105 Ind. Cas. 33. Meaning of a word is a question of law. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 416=24 Bom. L. R. 416=47 B. 18=67 Ind. Cas. 852; but see 46 Ind. Cas. 794. It is not always an easy matter to separate a finding of fact from a question of law. A question of what constitutes exclusion from a joint estate may well in many cases be a question of law. 21 C. W. N. 1142=(1917) M. W. N. 642 (P. C.)=42 Ind. Cas. 258. Question of waiver is a mixed question of fact and law. 5 L. W. 514=38 Ind. Cas. 302. Question whether a sub-sequent suit can rectify a previous decree is a substantial question of law. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 387=71 Ind. Cas. 371. Question, if stipulation within s. 74 of Contract Act is by way of penalty, is one of law. A. I. R. 1925 Maj. 84=47 M. L. J. 605=(1924) M. W. N. 861=82 Ind. Cas. 751. The question whether Hindu law or Succession Act governs a certain person is a question of pure law. 138 Ind. Cas. 335=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 328. The question whether the admitted facts and circumstances constitute sufficient and reasonable cause under s. 5 of the Limitation Act is one of law and not of fact. 135 Ind. Cas. 221=32 P. L. R. 907=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 183.

Usage having the force of law.—The expression "usage having the force of law" means "a local or family usage as distinguished from the general law." 20 C. 93=19 I. A. 228; 34 C. 941=11 C. W. N. 959. The expression "usage having the force of law" should ordinarily be confined to the usages of the country or of the community, the law merchant and usages referred to in s. 11 of Act (VIII of 1865). 40 M. 1108=5 L. W. 346=32 M. L. J. 237=40 Ind. Cas. 516. Questions as to the existence of an ancient custom are questions of mixed law and fact. Decision that custom is not established by evidence on record is a decision on question of fact. 25 C. L. J. 613=21 C. W. N. 972=45 C. 285=41 C. L. J. 959.

Finding of custom cannot be challenged in second appeal for insufficiency of evidence. 35 Ind. Cas. 630. The finding of the lower Courts that certain documents are sufficient proof of the custom binds the second appellate Court. 2 O. L. J. 607=32 Ind. Cas. 748. The words "usage having the force of law" do not give the Court any large powers of interference with findings as to custom in so far as they are findings of fact. If inspite of uncontradicted instances ranging over a long period and recognized judicially in several cases, the lower appellate Court finds against the existence of a custom on the ground that in its opinion the instances are not sufficient in number, the High Court has power to hold on the facts found that the custom is legally established. 41 M. 371=34 M. Question of special custom cannot be raised in absence of a certificate in second appeal. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 53=70 Ind. Cas. 838; 66 Ind. Cas. 492=2 Lah. 53; A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 426=69 Ind. Cas. 507. High Court will interfere if finding is erroneous in law or misrepresents a document. L. R. 3A. 504. The existence of a custom or usage having the force of law is a mixed question of fact and law. S. 100 of C. P. Code precludes the High Court from interfering in second appeal within the findings arrived at by the lower appellate Court of actual facts from which the existence of custom has been inferred. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 390=142 Ind. Cas. 228=1933 M. W. N. 743. A finding to the existence or non-existence of a custom, in so far as it is a finding that a certain practice does or does not prevail is a finding of fact. The question whether a prevailing practice has the essential attributes of a legally binding custom is a question of law. A. I. R. 1933 All. 478=A. I. R. 1933 All. 306=141 Ind. Question of law.—Where the lower Court Judge states the law correctly and does not misdirect himself and comes to a particular conclusion, he decides the point as a question of law and not as a question of fact. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 136=17 Pat. L. T. 366. Failure to appreciate the legal effect of proved or admitted facts gives rise to question of law. A provisional finding upsetting a very closely reasoned and elaborate judgment of the trial Court without any discussion of evidence whatever or without giving any reason except the general reason that the evidence is not satisfactory is contrary to law. A. I. R. 1937 Mad. 282. Although second appellate Court cannot entertain an appeal upon any question as to the soundness of findings of fact upon a Second Court, it can nevertheless, adjudicate as matter of law upon the soundness of the conclusions which have been decided from those findings. A. I. R. 1937 Oudh. 47.

Substantial error and defect in procedure.—For a second appeal it is not enough to show that there was a defect in procedure of the trial Court. It is necessary to show that the alleged defect in procedure may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision upon the merits by the lower appellate Court. A. I. R. 1937 All. 105. No second appeal lies where there is no error of procedure. A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 35=142 Ind. Cas. 829. In second appeal the High Court has the power of considering whether the procedure adopted by the lower appellate Court in dealing with the facts is proper or not; and whether the inferences of fact or law derived by that Court from facts established to its satisfaction are well founded or not. 6 C. W. N. 185. Where the lower appellate Court, has not apparently considered all the material facts and circumstances of the case the procedure adopted by it in the trial of the case is not one in accordance with law and is a substantial defect which may lead to an error in the decision of the case on the merits. 6 C. W. N. 357. Where the lower Court disposed of a suit upon a case not raised by the parties and to which evidence had not been directed, held that there was a substantial error or defect of procedure within the meaning of this section. 29 B. 1=6 Bom. L. R. 770=1 A. L. J. 637 (P. C.)=8 C. W. N. 865. Omission to try material issue is a substantial error in procedure. A. W. N. 1896, 101. Question of fact decided by Court holding itself bound by a previous decision of the High Court: Held that the Court committed a substantial error or defect in procedure which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision of the case upon the merits and therefore a second appeal lay. Omission to determine critical question between parties and to consider oral evidence adduced is a substantial error of procedure. 56 Ind. Cas. 40. The rejection of a Commissioner's report without directing further enquiry in a case which Court ought not to be decided without any investigation is a substantial error or defect in procedure which may possibly have produced an error or defect in the decision upon the merits. 23 C. L. J. 600=34 Ind. Cas. 30. Where a Judge disposes of a suit on a point taken by himself on appeal without affording the parties an opportunity of proving what is necessary to meet the point, he commits an error of law. 11 Bur. L. T. 1=43 Ind. Cas. 488. Where both parties have agreed to proceed on evidence both before Munsiff and before Commissioner, there is defect of procedure affecting merits in trial of appeal if lower appellate Court tells party that case should proceed after discarding evidence before Commissioner. In such a case interference in second appeal is proper. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 136=46 C. L. J. 558=106 Ind. Cas. 841. Where in a case of boundary dispute the Court of first instance accepted the relaying of the Commissioner's map, but the lower appellate Court, by taking comparative measurements with a pair of dividers of some plots of the Commissioner's map and the settlement map, held that the Commissioner's plotting was incorrect and rejected the Commissioner's map: Held, that the lower appellate Court in adopting this procedure acted illegally in discarding the evidence on the point and proceeding either on surmise or substituting his evidence in place of the evidence on the record. 39 C. W. N. 1233.

Question of Acquiescence.—The question of waiver, acquiescence or estoppel is a question of legal inference from facts found, which can be examined by High Court in second appeal. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 437=56 C. 201=116 Ind. Cas. 733 ; see also A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 87=23 N. L. R. 192=107 Ind. Cas. 522 ; A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 220=44 C. L. J. 434=100 Ind. Cas. 302 ; A. I. R. 1921 Nag. 167. Whether there is waiver in the case is a question of fact and finding thereon is not challengeable in second appeal. 14 S. L. R. 128=59 Ind. Cas. 607.

Ancestral nature of property.—Finding by lower Court of property as with ancestral or otherwise is a finding of fact and the High Court will not interfere such finding in second appeal. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 138=3 Lah. L. J. 414=67 Ind. Cas. 439 ; A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 263=5 Lah. L. J. 449=76 Ind. Cas. 147 ; A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 380=20 P. L. R. 1922 ; 42 P. L. R. 1919 ; A. I. Cas. 241. Whether the self-acquired property of a member of a joint Hindu family has been thrown into the common stock or not is a question of fact. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 963=51 M. L. J. 167=96 Ind. Cas. 1051. The question whether it is the intention of the family that the brother who takes up residence elsewhere should sever all connection with their ancestral land or whether it is the intention of the family that the member who remains a resident in the village should continue in charge of the ancestral land on behalf of the whole family is a finding of fact. 16 R. D. 105=13 U. D. 68. The question whether the suit land is ancestral is one of fact. 34 P. L. R. 739=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 350 ; A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 765=34 P. L. R. 567=145 Ind. Cas. 628 ; A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 351.

Birth, date of.—Finding as regards date of birth is a finding of fact. 28 N.L.R. 127=140 Ind. Cas. 66=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 117=A. L. R. 1932 Nag. 227.

Attestation of a document.—Whether a scribe is an attesting witness or not is a question of fact. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 150=90 Ind. Cas. 774. So also whether from the attestation of a document, assent to its terms may be implied is a question of fact. 51 Ind. Cas. 621. But the High Court is competent to come to a finding that the execution was witnessed by the attesting witnesses. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 36=46 M. 64=43 M. L. J. 745=(1922) M. W. N. 708=71 Ind. Cas. 153.

Bonafides.—Question of good faith or bona fides of a party is always a question of fact. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 507=7 Lah. L. J. 358=26 P. L. R. 641=92 Ind. Cas. 602 ; 138 Ind. Cas. 646=33 P. L. Finding by the lower appellate Court that a suit is not collusive cannot be questioned in second appeal. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 45=3 Lah. L. J. 86=59 Ind. Cas. 585. Question regarding plaintiff's bona fide mistake is one of law. 29 C. W. N. 51=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 152=82 Ind. Cas. 638. Where there are no facts and no evidence from which to make an inference of bona fide conduct, the finding is not binding in second appeal. 33 P. L. R. 263=136 Ind. Cas. 710=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 322=A. L. R. 1932 Lah. 456. Whether a purchaser has acted in good faith so as to have the benefit of s. 41 of T. P. Act is a question of fact. 34 P. L. R. 642=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 738.

Benami, question of.—A question of benami or fraud is not a question of pure facts. It is a mixed question of fact and law. If improper inference is drawn, the error is one of law and can be interfered with in second appeal. 3 P. L. W. 399=43 Ind. Cas. 49 ; but see A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 83=5 O. W. N. 1122=4 Luck. 265=115 Ind. Cas. 99. Where it has been held that the question of benami being a purely finding of fact, cannot be raised in second appeal ; see also A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 178=63 C. 846=62 C. L. J. 846. The finding that a person is a benamidar is a finding of fact and cannot be disturbed in second appeal. 32 P. L. R. 295 ; 32 P. L. R. 289 ; 34 P. L. R. 642=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 738.

Consideration.—Finding that a pro-note is for a consideration or not is one of fact. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 39=5 Lah. L. J. 198=71 Ind. Cas. 783. Nature of consideration is also a question of fact. 103 Ind. Cas. 444=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 530=28 P. L. R. 388=9 Lah. L. J. 319.

Contract.—Questions of existence of contract and consideration for it are questions of facts. 40 B. 646=18 Bom. L. R. 700=35 Ind. Cas. 794 ; 110 Ind. Cas. 408 ; A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 95=160 Ind. Cas. 1079. A finding of the lower Court that a contract was not acted upon by the parties is a finding of fact. 38 P. L. R. 590. Whether time is an essence of a contract or not is also a question of fact. 67 Ind. Cas. 157. Finding as regards breach of contract also cannot be interfered with in second appeal. 4 Lah. L. J. 317. In absence of written contract, the finding as regards payment of earnest money is also a question of fact. A. I. R. 1922 All. 478=20 A. L. J. 742=68 Ind. Cas. 761. Questions as to contract for sale of goods and reasonable time for examining goods are questions of facts. 135 Ind. Cas. 498=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 52.

Construction of documents.—Construction of documents is a question of law and can properly be gone into in second appeal. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 317=128 Ind. Cas. 19=32 Bom. L. R. 610 ; see also A. I. R. 1929 Lah 833=120 Ind. Cas. 420 ;

Concurrent findings of Indian Courts that certain persons were managers of certain properties under power of attorney were not disturbed by the Judicial Committee when justified by ample evidence. A. Where two Courts have come to the same conclusion on a question of fact, which goes to the foundation of the case it is not open to the High Court, on second appeal, to interfere. 17 C. 726 (F. B.). Findings supported by no evidence though concurrent, can be challenged in second appeal. A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 136=7 O. W. N. 1079=129 Ind. Cas. 331.

Costs, question of.—Second appeal is competent on a question of cost. 2 Lah. 310. But a question of costs cannot be taken up in second appeal against the concurrent finding of the two Courts. A. I. R. 1926 All. 419=93 Ind. Cas. 1008. If it involves principles an appeal is competent. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 604=35 C. L. J. 156=68 Ind. Cas. 600 ; A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 455=10 O. W. N. 981 ; A. I. W. N. 35=107 Ind. Cas. 881 ; A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 259.

Court-fee.—In the absence of defect of jurisdiction, the question of Court-fee cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 321=103 Ind. Cas. 337. In case of error in the calculation of Court-fee a second appeal lies, where Memorandum of Appeal was rejected for non-payment of deficit Court-fees. 51 Ind. Cas. 114; see also A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 100=98 Ind. Cas. 663; 7 A. 528.

Dedication—The question whether a dedication is real or nominal is a question of fact. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 170=131 Ind. Cas. 283=32 P. L. R. 304; see also 33 P. L. R. 288=138 Ind. Cas. 215.

Questions of Onus of proof.—Question of onus of proof is one of law. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 195=73 Ind. Cas. 216; see also 77 Ind. Cas. 246 =A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 199=4 Lah. L. Where party is not prejudiced by wrong placing of burden of proof, there is no reason for interference by High Court. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 335=69 Ind. Cas. 521; A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 162=3 Lah. L. J. 445. Finding of fact arrived at by appellate Court on correct appreciation of direction of lower Court as to burden of proof cannot be disturbed in second appeal. 12 L. W. 170=59 Ind. Cas. 973. Where a question of burden of proof clearly involves a question of custom, an appellant is not entitled to argue it on second appeal without a certificate. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 77=2 Lah. 348=66 Ind. Cas. 492. Where evidence is given by both sides and one side is preferred by the lower Court, objection as to wrong shifting of burden of proof is groundless in second appeal. 1 P. L. W. 194=38 Ind. Cas. 817; see also 121 Ind. Cas. 377=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 677. A finding of fact based not on positive evidence, but on the failure of a party to discharge the onus of proof is not such a finding as is final under section 100 of the C. P. Code when the onus is wrongly placed. 36 C. W. N. 221 P. C.=59 I. A. 29=59 C. 1012=136 Ind. Cas. 398=55 L. W. 112=55 C. L. J. 72=34 Bom. L. R. 481=A. I. R. 1932 P. C. 28=62 M. L. J. 356 (P. C.) It cannot be laid down as a proposition of universal application that an erroneous view of the burden of proof necessarily renders a Court incapable of weighing the evidence properly. When the lower appellate Court, notwithstanding its erroneous view as to the burden of proof weighed the evidence in the case pro and con and came to a determinate conclusion that the case set up by the plaintiff was true and that the defence was not, where it did not consider that the evidence was evenly balanced or find that the onus determined the matter, and where there was not the slightest ground for supposing that its conclusion was in no way influenced by its view of the incidence of burden of proof, held that its finding of facts was binding in the second appeal. 35 L. W. 511=1932 M. W. N. 345=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 415; see also A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 351.

Damages, question of.—Finding that damage has been done is one of fact and no second appeal is maintainable against such finding. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 240=1 Pat. L. R. 398=79 Ind. Cas. 183. Where the amount of damages has not been fixed arbitrarily it cannot be agitated in second appeal. 80 Ind. Cas. 297=A. I. R. 1923 All. 199; A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 70. Where the principle of assessment of damages is involved, the matter is open to question in second appeal. 28 N. L. R. 320; see also A. I. R. 1934 All. 749=A. I. R. 1934 All. 392. The finding as to the amount of damages is a question of fact. 28 N. L. R. 142=140 Ind. Cas. 68=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 118.

Discretion of lower court.—The question as to the exercise of discretion is ordinarily one of fact. But such discretion must not be exercised arbitrarily but upon sound legal principles governing the exercise of such discretion. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 677=92 Ind. Cas. 1031. In cases of instalment decree High Court would not interfere in the absence of very strong grounds. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 355=27 P. W. R. 1922=5 Lah. L. J. 135=66 Ind. Cas. 147. Discretion exercised by two Courts fully acquainted with case before which evidence could be but was not given cannot be interfered with in second appeal. 54 Ind. Cas. 731; see also A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 303=18 P. W. R. 1923=71 Ind. Cas. 568. The High Court should not interfere with the rate of interest fixed by the lower Court, if it is not arbitrary. 69 Ind. Cas. 758=A. I. R. 1922 All. 335; see also A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 513=77 Ind. Cas. 460. Where a decision of Court is found upon conclusion of fact which does not support it and in exercise of such discretion extension of time is granted for filing appeal, the High Court can interfere. 4 P. L. R. 381=52 Ind. Cas. 225. Relief for declaration in a declaratory suit being discretionary there can be no interference in second appeal. A. I. R. 1930 All. 620=129 Ind. Cas. 446. Where the lower appellate Court's reasons for declining to extend time under s. 5, Limitation Act, are untenable, the High Court can interfere in second appeal. 122 Ind. Cas. 575. Interference on the question of jurisdiction is discretionary with the High Court. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 164=100 Ind. Cas. 37. Where the discretion under s. 5 of the Limitation Act is not exercised after appreciation and consideration of such facts as are relevant and after application of the right principles to those facts, the High Court can interfere in second appeal. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 442=94 Ind. Cas. 396. Decision rejecting document beyond suspicion on ground of late production can be interfered with in second appeal. A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 537=110 Ind. Cas. 821. Where the lower appellate Court has not proceeded on the right principles in coming to conclusion the High Court can interfere. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 57=49 M. L. J. 516=91 Ind. Cas. 525. The appellate Court is always reluctant to interfere with the decision in a matter of discretion. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 221=121 Ind. Cas. 815; 34 Ind. Cas. 547; 101 Ind. Cas. 257=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 424. Where in the exercise of discretion the lower appellate Court refused to allow a point not included in the Memorandum of Appeal, to be raised at hearing it cannot be challenged in second appeal unless improperly exercised. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 536=107 Ind. Cas. 283. The lower appellate Court's refusal to exercise of discretionary powers under Order XLI, r. 33, is not an error of law. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 709=123 Ind. Cas. 39.

Where the lower appellate Court in the exercise of proper discretion refuses to allow an amendment of pleading, the High Court should not interfere. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 867. The discretion of the lower Court is not to be interfered with unless it has been exercised capriciously in an arbitrary manner and contrary to well-recognised judicial principles. 146 Ind. Cas. 613=34 P. L. R. 736=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 892; see also 144 Ind. Cas. 133=1933 A. L. J. 561=A. I. R. 1933 All. 294. Second appeal lies where exercise of discretion is based on misapprehension of facts. A. L. R. 1933 All. 265. Wrong exercise of discretion in issuing commission cannot be questioned in second appeal. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 542.

Fraud—Whether particular transaction is fraudulent or not is a question of fact. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 501=94 Ind. Cas. 927; 107 Ind. Cas. 490. But where in determining whether there has or has not been any fraud, the lower Courts have gone outside the proper foundation for determination of such a question, the High Court will interfere in second appeal. A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 33=27 Bom. L. R. 1318=91 Ind. Cas. 426. Inference of fraud from facts found is a question of law. 17 C. L. J. 209; A. I. R. 1929 All. 861; 5 Ind. Cas. 398. Where inference of fraud drawn is based upon the facts so found and the first appellate Court refused to draw an inference of fraud upon the facts so found, the decision cannot be questioned in second appeal unless the facts found necessarily amounts to fraud. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 507=3 P. L. T. 501=77 Ind. Cas. 957. Whether a debt is fictitious is a question of fact and finding cannot be questioned in second appeal. 110 Ind. Cas. 432. Question whether intention of transfer was to defeat or delay creditors is one of fact. 60 Ind. Cas. 527 (Lah); see also 63 Ind. Cas. 169. The finding that a decree was obtained by fraud is a finding of fact against which no second appeal lies. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 50. A finding that a transaction is collusive and is intended to defeat and delay the creditors is a finding of fact and as such is conclusive in second appeal. 38 P. L. R. 577.

Malice.—Finding of malice in a suit for malicious prosecution is a question of fact. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 185=17 Pat. L. T. 405; see also 37 Bom. L. R. 468=A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 355=158 Ind. Cas. 31.

Consideration of evidence and second appeal.—Finding of fact arrived at without considering the whole evidence or very important piece of evidence is not binding in second appeal. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 503=70 Ind. Cas. 853; see also 68 Ind. Cas. 332; 65 Ind. Cas. 504; 65 Ind. Cas. 497; A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 562=3 P. L. T. 483; 79 Ind. Cas. 107=A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 87; 71 Ind. Cas. 992=A. I. Failure of lower Court to appreciate document put in evidence affords no ground for second appeal. 38 Ind. Cas. 158. The lower appellate Court has power to attach such proper value to each piece of evidence documentary or otherwise and the High Court in second appeal cannot go into the weight to be attached to each. 19 C. W. N. 1015=31 Ind. Cas. 695; see also 32 Ind. Cas. 862; 46 C. 152=22 C. W. N. 822=46 Ind. Cas. 237; 47 Ind. Cas. 780; 53 Ind. Cas. 137; 52 Ind. Cas. 739; 1 P. L. T. 224=55 Ind. Cas. 922; A. I. But the ignoring of an important piece of evidence by the lower appellate Court, affords a good ground for second appeal. 18 P. W. R. 1917=42 Ind. Cas. 76. The High Court has to accept the finding as to the importance of evidence as a question of fact, except where a special question e. g. credibility of witnesses apart from demeanour arises. 39 A. 426=15 A. L. J. 349=39 Ind. Cas. 666. Error of Judge in criticising evidence of one witness on a wrong idea that other two had not been examined, vitiates his finding. 41 Ind. Cas. 456.

Importance given to Thak and Revenue Survey Map is one of fact and decision on it cannot be questioned in second appeal. 79 Ind. Cas. 1033=A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 977. Finding of trial Court regarding untrustworthiness of witness cannot be interfered unless strong ground exists for it. A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 117=116 Ind. Cas. 432. But reverse finding of lower appellate Court due to misapprehension of evidence is not binding on High Court. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 129=89 Ind. Cas. 663; A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 206=73 Ind. Cas. 756. Question of the weight to be attached to documentary evidence is one of fact. Question whether a given document refers to a particular law is one of fact. A. I. R. 1923 All. 492=71 Ind. Cas. 762. Misconstruction of a document alleged to contain admission is not a question of law which can be raised in second appeal. 68 Ind. Cas. 1003=A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 185=36 C. L. J. 182.

R. 1936 Pat. 275. Where lower appellate Court decided the question as to the existence of legal necessity on entirely wrong principles, the High Court is competent to go into the question. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 600=75 Ind. Cas. 919 ; see also 47 Ind. Cas. 39=38 P. L. R. 1918=92 P. W. R. 1918. Failure to prove legal necessity for rate of interest cannot be raised for the first time in second appeal. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 356=1 Pat. 612=3 Pat. L. T. 367=67 Ind. Cas. 790. Legal necessity for alienation is a finding of fact and is binding in second appeal. 33 P. L. R. 564=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 473=33 P. L. R. 564.

Question of Limitation.—The question as regards limitation is a mixed question of law and fact. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 30=79 Ind. Cas. 635. Where the facts are admitted, plea of limitation can be allowed for the first time in the second appeal. (1929) A. L. J. 229=A. I. R. 1928 All. 689=114 Ind. Cas. 734 ; see also 65 Ind. Cas. 580=A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 240. Plea of limitation, though one of law, cannot be argued on second appeal, if it involves investigation of facts and was not taken below or in Memorandum of second appeal. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 385=57 C. 114=125 Ind. Cas. 607 ; 115 Ind. Cas. 680=10 P. L. T. 53 ; A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 432=11 Lah. L. J. 91=30 P. L. R. 296=115 Ind. Cas. 71 ; 72 Ind. Cas. 326=A. I. It is only when the lower appellate Court exercises a judicial discretion that the High Court will not interfere in second appeal on a plea that the lower appellate Court was wrong in applying the provisions of s. 5. But such interference is justified where the Court decided the point wholly upon an erroneous view of law. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 742.

Question of marriage.—Sufficiency of evidence to prove marriage is a question of fact. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 201=5 Lah. L. J. 117=84 Ind. Cas. 1039; 111 Ind. Cas. 712; A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 188=5 Lah. L. J. 505=73 Ind. Cas. 896. But the question as to the form of marriage is a question of law. 90 Ind. Cas. 358=A. I. R. 1926 All. 1=48 A. 126=23 A. L. J. 281.

Question of adoption.—The question of adoption is one of fact and as such cannot be interfered with in second appeal. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 968.

Question of minority.—The finding that a person is a minor cannot be questioned in second appeal. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 367=3 Pat. L. R. 16=86 Ind. Cas. 856.

Question of misjoinder.—A finding of misjoinder of parties cannot be questioned in the second appeal for the first time. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 635=110 Ind. Cas. 548. A finding on misjoinder arrived at on evidence being one of fact cannot be gone into in second appeal. 33 Ind. Cas. 188=(1916) 1 M. W. N. 9.

Misapprehension of evidence.—Where a finding of fact is arrived at as a result of misreading of a document a second appeal is competent. 73 P. L. R. 1917=42 Ind. Cas. 218; see also 4 Lah. L. J. 307; 80 Ind. Cas. 25=A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 848=46A. 773=22 A. L. J. 739=L. R. 5 A. 533 Civ; 88 Ind. Cas. 820=A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 49; 88 Ind. Cas. 924=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1226; A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 71=10 P. L. T. 630; A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1167=39 M. L. T. 633. High Court will interfere in cases where the lower Courts have misread evidence or overlooked important evidence or relied for their conclusion upon inadmissible evidence, or where they misdirected themselves as to any question of importance or where they relied upon personal knowledge or where they took a wrong view as to the onus of proof, or where they decided points not raised by the parties, or where they misconstrued important documents. Where a Court misconstrued a document it relies upon a construction which is not capable of bearing and such misconstruction leads not merely to a wrong view of the evidence but to relying upon what it considers to be an inference from the evidence which the evidence is not capable of bearing. The misconstruction of an important document, therefore, is a ground for interference. 93 Ind. Cas. 307=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 652=24 L. W. 88; see also 42 Ind. Cas. 272=92 P. L. R. 1917; 76 Ind. Cas. 623; but see 113 Ind. Cas. 575. Finding based on wrong view of pleading can be questioned in second appeal. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 353=13 O. L. J. 536=3 O. W. N. 460=94 Ind. Cas. 779. Finding as to the amount of rent based on plaintiff's supposed admission where there was none can be questioned in second appeal as the Court is deemed to have made a mistake in law. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 333=108 Ind. Cas. 102. Where that finding of the lower appellate Court is based on misreading of trial Court's judgment, that finding can be questioned in second appeal. 77 Ind. Cas. 475=A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 502. Where finding of fact is based upon inadmissible evidence a second appeal is competent. A. I. R. 1935 All. 662=1935 A. L. J. 664=155 Ind. Cas. 634; 1935 O. W. N. 894; A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 41=11 O. W. N. 1589=152 Ind. Cas. 1042; 39 C. W. N. 277; 69 M. L. J. 707=42 L. W. 658=1935 M. W. N. 1255; 150 Ind. Cas. 841=A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 55. A finding of fact arrived at by erroneous rejection of evidence is not binding in second appeal. 149 Ind. Cas. 660=A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 44; A. I. R. 1934 All. 103=149 Ind. Cas. 517. Finding opposed to weight of evidence can be interfered in second appeal. 1936 R. D. 119; A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 488. Finding based on wrong assumption can also be interfered. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 1005. But mere omission to consider a piece of evidence will not alter the character of the finding. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 243=162 Ind. Cas. 21.

A finding based on no evidence is not binding. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 648=158 Ind. Cas. 512; see also A. I. R. 1935. Mere admission of inadmissible evidence does not vitiate a finding of fact where there are other evidence to support it. 39 C. W. N. 311. Interference in second appeal is proper in case of omission to consider important evidence. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 86=1935 O. W. N. 11. Second appeal lies against finding wholly based upon surmise. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 190=68 M. L. J. 648=

1935 M. W. N. 193=41 L. W. 318 ; 39 C. W. N. 1233 ; 159 Ind. Cas. 96=18 N. L. J. 104. Where the lower appellate Court rejects the oral evidence of possession adduced by one of the parties by applying an erroneous presumption of law, its finding on the question of possession is vitiated by an error of law and as such its finding can be reversed by the High Court. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 394=1935 O. W. N. 674=155 Ind. Cas. 1087.

Mixed question of law and fact.—Whether a custom exists or not is a mixed question of law and fact and as such a second appeal is competent. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 167=32 Bom. L. R. 1679=129 Ind. Cas. 881. The question of agency is a mixed question of law and fact. 128 Ind. Cas. 455=(1930) M. W. N. 729=32 L. W. 615 ; A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 768=48 M. L. J. 518=21 L. W. 541=87 Ind. Cas. 663. Whether a Hindu family is joint or not is both a question of fact as well as of law. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 284=86 Ind. Cas. 505 ; 95 Ind. Cas. 183=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 389. Where the communal character of land was arrived at by applying wrong principles it can be interfered in second appeal as it is a question of fact as well as of law, 129 Ind. Cas. 630=59 M. L. Second appeal on no other grounds. 101. [S. 585.] No second appeal shall lie except on the grounds mentioned in section 100.

102. [S. 586.] No second appeal shall lie in any suit of the nature cognizable by Courts of Small Causes, when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the original suit does not exceed five hundred rupees.

Scope.—The test in deciding whether second appeal lies or not is to be found in the nature of the suit and not in the powers of the Court which tried the suit. Thus where the Munsiff having Small Cause Court powers to try suits up to Rs. 250 tries the suit for Rs. 500 which was cognizable by a Court of Small Causes as Munsiff, still no second appeal lies. A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 49=7 O. W. N. 1112=129 Ind. Cas. 174; see also A. I. R. 1935 All. 574=1935 P. L. J. 426=155 Ind. Cas. 95. relates to appeals from appellate decrees, not to appeals from orders. The terms of this section do not refer to the amount in dispute at the time the appeal is preferred, but the amount or value of the subject-matter of the original suit. 11 C. 169. The applicability of this section depends on the nature of the suit and not on the Court in which it is instituted. The section will apply to a case in which the Court which entertains the suit had no jurisdiction to take cognizance of it. 26 A. 358. An extra prayer in the plaint does not prevent the suit from being in the nature of a suit cognizable in the Small Cause Court. 1 M. L. T. 314 (F. B.)=16 M. L. J. 477=30 M. 101. This section contemplates rather the original character of the suit than the character it may subsequently assume by operation of findings of Court. 6 Bom. L. R. 731. No revision or second appeal lies in small cause nature suit tried on regular side. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 352=42 M. L. J. 118=14 L. W. 349=66 Ind. Cas. 207. S. 102 must be construed to apply to all suits of a civil nature of which the value does not exceed Rs. 500 except those which are contained in Sch. II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. 129 Ind. Cas. 174=7 O. W. N. 1112=A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 49. Though Court executing the decree would be supposed to have passed the decree second appeal would not lie on order in execution in case where Small Cause Court decree is transferred to regular Court for execution. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 534=53 B. 646=30 Bom. L. R. 1447=114 Ind. Cas. 861; see also A. I. R. 1927 All. 740=103 Ind. Cas. 349; 34 C. L. J. 477=67 Ind. Cas. 6. Nature of the suit has nothing to do with the pecuniary small cause jurisdiction of the Court which tried it. 41 B. 367=19 Bom. L. R. 83=38 Ind. Cas. 881. Order of remand passed by appellate Court in a suit for small cause nature is not appealable. 36 Ind. Cas. 396. Small Cause Court decree passed in review is appealable only on point of granting review and not on merits. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 124=3 Lah. L. J. 166=60 Ind. Cas. 259. Amount claimed in plaint and character disclosed in plaint determines whether suit is of the nature of Small Cause Court. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 405=51 C. 62=28 C. W. N. 6=80 Ind. Cas. 317.

To determine the nature of the suit the plaint should be looked at and not the defence. 12 N. L. R. 47=32 Ind. Cas. 998. Nature of the order in execution proceedings depends upon nature of the original suit. 54 Ind. Cas. 429; see also 46 Ind. Cas. 82=5 O. L. J. 187; 22 Ind. Cas. 712. The nature of a suit for s. 102 is not affected by the findings or by a question of title arising therein. 50 Ind. Cas. 629. Where a suit cognizable by a Small Cause Court has been tried against the provisions of s. 16 as an ordinary suit by a Judge who is not invested with Small Cause Court powers, the parties to the suit having raised no objection to the trial, it should not be considered as a Small Cause Court suit, and an appeal would lie from the decision. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 121=30 N. L. R. 252=149 Ind. Cas. 886. Section 102 contemplates a suit of the nature cognizable by Courts of Small Causes irrespective of what defence is put up in the case. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 413=155 Ind. Cas. 240=1935 O. W. N. 503. The words 'any suit of the nature, cognizable by Courts of Small Causes' in s. 102 indicate and mean 'any suit in which the claim is cognizable by Courts of Small Cause as such'. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 386=13 Rang. 633 (F. B.)=158 Ind. Cas. 804. A suit to recover the rate of agricultural land is not a suit of the nature cognizable by Courts of Small Causes and a second appeal lies even if the amount is less than Rs. 500. Ibid.

Original nature of the suit is the criterion.—Suit does not cease to be a Small Cause Suit and no second appeal lies though incidentally a question of title was raised by the defendant and thence suit tried on the original side. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 389=30 L. W. 365=116 Ind. Cas. 114; see also 13 Ind. Cas. 493; 24 M. 508; 32 B. 356. The course of appeal is determined by the character of the plaint as originally made and is not affected by the plaintiff subsequently dropping or being unable to seek relief with regard to a part of his claim. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 764=115 Ind. Cas. 858; 89 Ind. Cas. 59=A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 440=49 B. 596=27 Bom. L. R. 637. Cognizable in s. 102 refers to the nature of proceedings prior to the decree and not at the stage of filing the second appeal 45 Ind. Cas. 11=35 M. L. J. 377=23 M. L. T. 255. Amount claimed in plaint and character disclosed in it determines whether a suit is of the nature of Small Cause Court. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 405=51 C. 62=28 C. W. N. 6=80 Ind. Cas. 317; see also A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 136=107 Ind. Cas. 193. The transfer of a suit under s. 23 does not and cannot change its nature which is the test under this section and a second appeal is barred. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 622=23 L. W. 518=94 Ind. Cas. 77; see also 15 M. 98; 24 C. 557; 65

Value of the suit does not exceed Rs. 500.—Second appeal is barred in suit where value is Rs. 500 and plaint discloses Small Causes Court nature. 5 O. W. N. 240=108 Ind. Cas. 898. No second appeal lies from execution proceedings of Small Cause decree for less than Rs. 500. A. I. R. 1926 All. 345=95 Ind. Cas. 292. A suit to recover less than five hundred rupees as grazing fee is not one for rent and no second appeal lies in it. 32 C. L. J. 93=59 Ind. Cas. 595 ; see also A. I. R. 1921 Bom. 229=45 B. 223=22 Bom. L. R. 1193=59 Ind. Cas. 192 ; 51 Ind. Cas. 435. In the case of execution proceedings the test of maintainability of second appeal is the value of the suit and not the amount sought to be recovered. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 290=3 Lah. 141=28 P. W. R. 1922=67 Ind. Cas. 718.

Accounts.—Suit for produce or value wrongfully raised by defendant is not for accounts and therefore is of a Small Cause nature. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 262=5 Rang. 388=104 Ind. Cas. 818. Suit for recovery of account papers where in a prayer for damages is made in the alternative is not one cognizable by a Small Cause Court. 59 C. 352=138 Ind. Cas. 640=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 481.

Award.—A suit for a declaration that an award made by arbitrators for re-payment of certain amount is void and for recovery of the amount is not a suit of a Small Cause nature. 6 Rang. 238=111 Ind. Cas. 21=A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 173. A Suit to enforce an award is not of a Small Cause nature. A. L. R. 1924 Rang. 192=1 Rang. 700=79 Ind. Cas. 718.

Contribution.—Second appeal lies in an alternative suit for contribution to recover the whole or proportionate part of the amount under Art. 41, Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. 23 C. L. J. 125=32 Ind. Cas. 200 ; see also 20 C. L. J. 200 ; 23 C. 189 ; 16 C. W. N. 975 ; 94 Ind. Cas. 949=A. I. R. 1926 All. 456 ; 36 C. W. N. 589.

Damages.—In a suit for damages between two sets of *raiya*s, the plaintiff alleging that the defendant had wrongfully come and cut away the crop on his land, the Courts below found that the defendant had no possession or title in the land and was, therefore, liable to damages : Held that although a question of title to land has been tried, it was tried incidentally, and, therefore, the second appeal was incompetent. 6 Ind. Cas. 415 ; see also 10 Bom. L. R. 733=32 B. 560 ; 3 Bom. L. R. 239=25 B. 625. Where in a suit for damages for trespass, the damages claimed were less than Rs. 500, no second appeal lay from the decree in the suit in as much as the suit was not exempted from the cognizance of a Court of Small Causes. 12 M. L. J. 349 ; see also 24 C. 557 ; 6 A. 10 ; 18 W. R. 283 ; 10 C. L. J. 198 ; 24 C. 557. A suit for damages for wrongfully cutting and carrying off trees, is involving a question of title and tried on the regular side remains a Small Cause suit for s. 102. 22 M. L. T. 381=(1916) 2 M. W. N. 215=4 L. W. 245=36 Ind. Cas. 202. Suit for damages for cutting fruit trees and for removing fruits is a Small Cause suit. 130 Ind. Cas. 481=(1930) A. L. J. 1247 ; see also A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 276. Suit for rent for damages for use and occupation even if tried in original side as question of title was raised, is one of a Small Cause nature. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 525=119 Ind. Cas. 386 ; see also A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 136=107 Ind. Cas. 193. A suit by a landlord for damages for use and occupation against tenants holding over is cognizance by a Small Cause Court, and a second appeal does not lie. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 890=48 M. L. J. 701=22 L. W. 528=90 Ind. Cas. 401. No second appeal lies in suit against President of District Board for damages. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 689=46 M. 808=45 M. L. J. 125=18 L. W. 82=32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 378=74 Ind. Cas. 223. No second appeal lies in suit for damages for infringement of monopoly. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 244=69 Ind. Cas. 431. A suit for declaration of title to fish and for damages is a Small Cause Suit. 68 Ind. Cas. 626=A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 321. If in an ejectment suit against a trespasser, the Court awards damages only, a second appeal will not be barred, simply because the decree was for money. 13 Ind. Cas. 493. A suit for damages for trespass is a suit cognizable by a Small Cause Court, even though questions of title are often raised in such suits. (1912) M. W. N. 810=23 M. L. J. 193=16 Ind. Cas. 201. A suit for damages for cutting fruit trees is a suit of a Small Cause nature. 130 Ind. Cas. 481=1930 A. L. J. 1247 ; see also A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 411=8 O. W. N. 1019. In all cases where it is suggested that the suit is one for damages or loss due to an offence, the decision must vary according to the particular circumstance, set out in the plaint and if it is decided that the suit is of a Small Cause nature and the value is less than Rs. 500 no second appeal lies. A. I. R. 1931 All. 595=132 Ind. Cas. 564. A Small Cause Court has no jurisdiction to try a suit for damages for wrongful attachment and negligence and as such a second appeal in such a case is not barred. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 257. A suit for recovery of money value of bhoali produce of some moheua trees standing on a plot of land, is a suit for money. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 102=17 Pat. L. T. 88=160 Ind. Cas. 186.

In the case of a suit for cancellation of a document as well as damages if the case regarding cancellation is withdrawn in second appeal, no second appeal lies. 34 Ind. Cas. 909. A suit based on a registered lease deed by the lessee for damages below Rs. 500 for his ejection through Revenue Court is, if treated as one for damages, cognizable by Small Cause Court, but not so if the contract amounted to mortgage. In the latter case second appeal lies but not in the former. 15 A. L. J. 534=40 Ind. Cas. 578.

Suit for immovable property.—A hut is immovable property and a suit for a declaration in respect of a hut is not cognizable by the Small Cause Court. 9 Ind. Cas. 1. Standing trees are movable property for the purposes of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. 9 Ind. Cas. 133. Absurd and fictitious prayer for injunction to restrain transfer of immovable property does not oust Small Cause Court's jurisdiction in suit on simple money-bond. A. I. R. 1930 All. 702=(1930) A. L. J. 1043=132 Ind. Cas. 33. But prayer of mandatory injunction changes the nature of the Small Cause suit. A. I. R. 1922 All. 241=66 Ind. Cas. 613. Allegation in plaint that the defendant was wrongfully receiving profits of immovable property ousts the Small Cause nature of the suit but that of wrongful appropriation of share due to plaintiff does not. 31 Ind. Cas. 797.

Marriage Contract—Where the basis of the claim is a breach of promise of marriage, the suit is excluded from the cognizance of a Small Cause Court, 14 Ind. Cas. 837.

Maintenance.—A suit to recover arrears of maintenance under an agreement is excepted from the cognizance of the Small Cause Court, and a second appeal will lie in such a suit even where the value is less than Rs. 500. 33 Bom. APPEALS FROM ORDERS.

104. [S. 588] (1) An appeal shall lie from the following orders, and save as otherwise expressly provided in the Order from which appeal lies, body of this Code or by any law for the time being in force from no other orders—

(a) an order superseding an arbitration where the award has not been completed within the period allowed by the Court;

(b) an order on an award stated in the form of a special case;

(c) an order modifying or correcting an award;

(d) an order filing or refusing to file an agreement to refer to arbitration;

(e) an order staying or refusing to stay a suit where there is an agreement to refer to arbitration;

(f) an order filing or refusing to file an award in an arbitration without the intervention of the Court;

*[(g) and order under section 35 A;]

(g) an order under section 95;

(h) an order under any of the provisions of this Code imposing a fine or directing the arrest or detention in the civil prison of any person except where such arrest or detention is in execution of a decree;

(i) any order made under rules from which an appeal is expressly allowed by rules:

* [Provided that no appeal shall lie against any order specified in clause (f) save on the ground that no order, or an order for the payment of a less amount, ought to have been made].

(2) No appeal shall lie from any order passed in appeal under this section.

Save as otherwise expressly provided.—The effect of s. 104 of the Civil Procedure Code which is materially different from s. 588 of the Code of 1882 is not to take away a right of appeal given by cl. 15 of the Letters Patent but to create a right of appeal in cases even where cl. 15 of the Letters Patent is not applicable. 20 C. W. N. 594=23 C. L. J. 443=43 C. 857=34 Ind. Cas. 634. The Civil Procedure Code does not control the provisions of the Letters Patent. The judgment of a single

* Clause (g) and proviso to clause (i) were inserted by s. 3 of the Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (9 of 1923), which under section 1 (2) thereof may with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council be brought into force in any Province by the Local Government on any specified date.

Judge of the High Court in an appeal under O 43, rule 1 is appealable under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent. 56 M. 915=145 Ind. Cas. 449=1933 M. W. N. 850=65 M. L. J. 222 (F.B.); see also 22 M. 68; 13 M. L. J. 497 (F.B.).

Scope.—A non-appealable order does not become appealable decree because the order is drawn up in the form of a decree. 151 Ind. Cas. 947=A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 13.

Or by any law for the time being in force.—An appeal from the judgment of a single Judge of the High Court given by cl. 15 of the Letters Patent of Calcutta High Court is expressly saved by the language of s. 104 of the C. P. Code. 25 C. W. N. 557=48 I. A. 76=48 C. 481=23 Bom. L. R. 681=60 Ind. Cas. 274 (P. C.); see also 25 M. 555; 26 C. 361.

Clause (a).—Under s. 104 (1) (a) no appeal lies when the arbitration is not superseded under Schedule II, cl. 8 of the Code. Where the lower Court in superseding an arbitration, has adopted procedure not prescribed by the law and there is no other available remedy, the Chief Court is competent to interfere in exercise of its revisional powers 251 P. W. R. 1912=125 P. R. 1912. An order refusing to file an award on the ground that there was no award to file under para 15 of Sch. 2 is not appealable. A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 78; see also A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 240=163 Ind. Cas. 590.

Clause (b).—The parties to a suit agree to refer their disputes relating to the properties in suit to the arbitration of two persons; and a consent of Judge's order was obtained. The two arbitrators differed on a question of law arising in the arbitration. The two arbitrators each expressed his opinion on the question and referred it for opinion to the High Court in the form of a special case under C. P. Code, Schedule II, rule 11, and the Indian Arbitration Act, s. 10. It was decided by the Chamber Judge: Held that no appeal lay, since the special case was in no sense an award. 12 Bom. L. R. 852=8 Ind. Cas. 171.

Clause (c).—The provision in cl. (c) of sub-section (1) of section 104 of the Code that an appeal shall lie from an order modifying or correcting an award, does not confer an unrestricted right of appeal; and when order has been made modifying an award, the validity of the whole award cannot be called in question in an appeal preferred against that order, but the appeal is allowed against the order only in so far as it modified the award. 15 Ind. Cas. 519. Appeal lies from a decree passed in terms of an award, only in so far as it relates to modifications and correctness made in the award and on no other ground. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 26=31 P. L. R. 668=11 Lah. 342=124 Ind. Cas. 339; see also 10 Lah. 688=122 Ind. Cas. 90=30 P. L. R. 322=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 102; 93 Ind. Cas. 272=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 370=13 O. L. J. 144; A. I. Cas. 336. Appeal from decree based on modified award can be converted into appeal from the order modifying the award, where party was misled by the only decision on the point. 36 C. W. N. 1069=138 Ind. Cas. 848=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 713. Under s. 104 (c) of the Code a party is entitled to appeal from an order modifying the award. If the appeal has been expressly from the order modifying the award, no second appeal would be admissible; but if the appeal is regularly prepared from the decree and not from the order, the form of the appeal might justify the admission of a second appeal. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 109=153 Ind. Cas. 764.

Clause (d)—Where under para 17, Schedule II, C. P. Code an order for filling an agreement is made but on unwillingness of arbitrators to act the order of reference is revoked and the suit is dismissed, the order is not appealable. A. I. R. 1926 All. 55=48 A. 27=23 A. L. J. 891=89 Ind. Cas. 404; see also 107 P. W. R. 1916=117 P. R. 1916=34 Ind. Cas. 192. The provisions of s. 104 (d), C. P. Code are general and are not restricted to refusal to file an agreement on any particular grounds. An order refusing to file an agreement to refer certain disputes between parties to arbitration on the preliminary ground that the Court has no jurisdiction is appealable. 132 Ind. Cas. 218=32 P. L. R. 464=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 673. The Court is competent to arrive at a decision that there was no agreement to refer to arbitration and as such an appeal lies therefrom. 65 P. W. R. 1917=62 P. W. R. 1917=39 Ind. Cas. 508.

Clause (e).—Order staying a suit under s. 19 of the Arbitration Act is not appealable. A. I. R. 1923 Sind 25=82 Ind. Cas. 81; see also 81 Ind. Cas. 759=17 S. L.

R. 195=A. I. R. 1923 Sind 38. An appeal lies against an order granting stay of suit pending arbitration. A. I. R. 1925 All. 154=47 A. 179=22 A. L. J. 1031=85 Ind. Cas. 341. Where parties agree to refer to arbitration under the C. P. Code or Arbitration Act, appeal lies from order granting or refusing stay of suit under s. 104 (e). 12 S. L. R. 34=48 Ind. Cas. 434 ; see also A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 644=132 Ind. Cas. 850.

Clause (f).—There is no appeal against the appellate order of the District Judge, dismissing an application to file an award. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 507=120 Ind. Cas. 277. Order refusing application to set aside award where the reference is in a suit pending before the Court is not appealable. 111 Ind. Cas. 145=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 369. Where an order allowing application for filing an award is reversed in appeal, a revision lies. 110 Ind. Cas. 302=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 367. Order filing or refusing to file an award on arbitration without the intervention of Court cannot be regarded as a decree. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 137=9 Lah. 380=107 Ind. Cas. 756. Under cl. (f) only final orders are contemplated and order remitting award to the arbitrators directing them to make fresh award in compliance with the agreement of reference does not amount to refusal to file award and is not appealable. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 658=96 Ind. Cas. 779. Where at the hearing of an application for filing an award a decree is passed in accordance with the award, the decision of the Court dismissing the objection of the opposite party amounts to an order filing an award though there is no express order to that effect. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 321=7 Lah. L. J. 91=26 P. L. R. 466=88 Ind. Cas. 533. Order refusing or allowing the award to be filed is appealable under s. 104 (1) (f). 76 Ind. Cas. 504. Appeal lies from an order filing the award passed after the objections have been disposed of even if the decree is thereby reversed. 73 Ind. Cas. 820=A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 231. Whereby a single order an award directed to be filed and decree in accordance with the award is passed an appeal therefrom is in substance an appeal from an order directing award to be filed, and can, therefore, be maintained. A. I. R. 1925 All. 409=47 A. 743=23 A. L. J. 440=88 Ind. Cas. 76. Order refusing to file an award is appealable and in absence of any rules made by the High Court under s. 20, C. P. Code is to be followed. A. I. R. 1921 All. 273=19 A. L. J. 132=43 A. 348=61 Ind. Cas. 269. But an order filing an award in reference by Court and under para 19, Schedule II is not appealable. 60 Ind. Cas. 590. Section 104 (f) refers to cases referred to arbitration privately. 47 Ind. Cas. 171=154 P. W. R. 1918. Under the Letters Patent, cl. 15, order refusing to set aside award is appealable, but not so under s. 104 (f). 45 C. 502=46 Ind. Cas. 687. Appeal lies from an order refusing to set aside of ex parte decree passed in accordance with award. 38 A. 297=14 A. L. J. 332=33 Ind. Cas. 80. Where part of a private award is outside the scope of arbitration the decision of Court on application to file is an order and is appealable. No second appeal can lie from decision in appeal. 65 P. R. 1915=146 P. W. R. 1915=31 Ind. Cas. 80. Section 104 (f) of the Code empowers the appellate Court not only to go into the question of the existence of the reference and of the award, but also to go into questions such as are indicated by para 14 or para 15 and this interpretation does not lead to any inconsistency. A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 69.

Ex parte decree.—Ex parte decree passed in an application filed under para 20, Schedule II of the Code is appealable A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 969=55 M. L. J. 262=29 L. W. 490=112 Ind. Cas. 691. Appeal from order under s. 104 (f) is governed by Art. 11, Schedule II, Court-fees Act, for Court fees. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 137=9 Lah. 380=107 Ind. Cas. 756 ; see also 6 Luck. 703. For appeal against order filing an award without the intervention of the Court, the Court-fee stamp is of eight annas. A. I. R. 1927 All. 771=25 A. L. J. 741=103 Ind. Cas. 315.

Appeal lies against order refusing to execute an award under the Co-operative Societies Act, holding it to be a mere nullity. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 547=8 Lah. L. J. 310=27 P. L. R. 706=97 Ind. Cas. 288. The right of appeal to file an award is not barred by the pronouncement of judgment and drawing up of decree. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 810=4 Pat. 670=7 P. L. T. 644=93 Ind. Cas. 261. Where the decree is not in excess of the award or where the award is made through intervention of Court, the order is not appealable. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 324=26 Bom. L. R. 171=79 Ind. Cas. 723 ; see also 83 Ind. Cas. 26=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 603=3 Pat. 839=6 P. L. T. 212. If an application is made to have an award made a rule of Court and the Court disallows the objection raised against the award and makes an order under Rule 21 of Schedule II directing the award to be filed and pronounces judgment according to the award, the order directing the award to be filed is appealable. 134 Ind. Cas. 474=14 O. L. J. 481=8 O. W. N. 789=A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 345.

Where the decree is not in excess of the award and where the award is made through intervention of Court, it cannot be treated either as a compromise under r. 3 Order 43, or an order appealable under s. 104 (1) (f). A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 324=26 Bom. L. R. 171=79 Ind. Cas. 723.

Clause (ff).—An order refusing costs under s. 35A is not appealable. 18 N. L. J. 309.

Clause (g).—Order refusing or allowing relief under s. 95 is appealable. 49 Ind. Cas. 86=25 M. L. T. 46=9 L. W. 69. But order made by s. 95 by a Small Cause Court is not appealable. 36 M. L. J. 435=(1919) M. W. N. 490=50 Ind. Cas. 886; but see 26 Ind. Cas. 359.

Clause (h).—Both an order of arrest and of attachment before judgment are appealable. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 361=2 Rang. 362=3 Bur. L. J. 159=84 Ind. Cas. 270. Appeal from order of arrest or detention in civil prison of a person otherwise than in execution of decree is competent. 136 Ind. Cas. 367=1932 A. L. J. 221=A. I. R. 1932 All. 524=A. L. R. 1932 All. 508. Appeal lies under s. 96 though not under s. 104 (h) from an order issuing arrest warrant against judgment-debtor. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 360=73 Ind. Cas. 766. Order in execution of decree under s. 9, Specific Relief Act, is not appealable, therefore no appeal lies from an order for arrest warrant of judgment-debtor. 5 P. W. R. 1917=18 P. L. R. 1917=39 Ind. Cas. 379; see also 39 Ind. Cas. 375. Both an order of arrest and of attachment before judgment are appealable, an order of arrest is not enumerated in Order 43 rule 1 the right is specifically given by s. 104, and being a statutory right given in the body of the Code is not a matter of procedure and cannot be taken away by rules contained in the Schedule. Its omission from Order 43 does not mean that it does not exist. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 361=2 Rang. 362=3 Bur. L. J. 159=84 Ind. Cas. 210.

Clause (i).—Appeal lies from an order in a matter under a particular rule if appeal therefrom is permitted by that rule. 45 B. 99=22 Bom. L. R. 1126=59 Ind. Cas. 421. Appeal does not lie from order under Order XXI, r. 66. 8 L. B. R. 350=10 Bur. L. T. 115=36 Ind. Cas. 402. Order refusing to take action under Order 39, rule 2 (3) is appealable. 39 M. 907=3 L. Appeal does not lie from an order in terms of compromise passed in appeal by the District Court. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 309=3 Lah. 175=66 Ind. Cas. 258. Order permitting withdrawal of a suit under Order 23, rule 1, does not amount to a decree and hence is not appealable. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 267=65 Ind. Cas. 719. Order refusing withdrawal of execution case is appealable. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 525=1 Pat. 232=3 P. L. T. 445=65 Ind. Cas. 122. Order made after preliminary decree directing Commissioners to ascertain value of the property and take possession, is merely an interlocutory order and as such not appealable. A. I. R. 1921 Oudh 224=24 O. C. 366=65 Ind. Cas. 983. No appeal lies from an order which is either conditional or provisional and does not result in a final decree. A. I. R. 1924 All. 376=46 A. 372=22 A. L. J. 345=79 Ind. Cas. 363. No appeal lies against an order, under the Arbitration Act. A. I. R. 1923 Sind 81. see also 81 Ind. Cas. 759=17 S. L. R. 195=A. I. R. 1923 Sind 38. An order allowing a suit to be withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit is not appealable. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 184=88 Ind. Cas. 1029. Appeal lies from Order under the Succession Act passed by the District Judge to High Court and is governed in procedure by the provisions of C. P. Code relating to appeals. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 109=118 Ind. Cas. 401.

Order granting interest on mortgage money for period during which sale-proceeds of mortgaged property are lying in Court is not appealable but is open to revision. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 127=118 Ind. Cas. 416. An appeal from an order granting an amendment as such cannot lie unless it be considered as a question of review. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 676=50 C. L. J. 12=33 C. W. N. 958=57 C. 549=122 Ind. Cas. 634. No appeal lies from an order giving or refusing leave to bid at an execution sale. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 903=122 Ind. Cas. 161. The Code does not provide for an appeal from an order passed under s. 151, and cannot therefore be maintained. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 789=31 P. L. R. 477=12 Lah. L. J. 71=122 Ind. Cas. 102. No second appeal lies from order confirming the auction-sale. Non-adherence to the compromise by which the judgment-debtor withdrew his objection to the sale, cannot affect the competency of the second appeal. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 326. This section read with Order 43, shows that no appeal lies against an order under rule 101 of Order 21. Such an order may however be made subject of revision. 16 R. D. 160. An order removing a receiver is appealable at the instance of the parties to the litigation but the receiver himself has no right of appeal. 36 C. W. N. 903. A non-appealable order does not become an appealable decree because the order is drawn up in the form of a decree. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 13.

Sub section (2).—section 104 (2) refers to appeals to High Courts in British India and does not forbid appeals to His Majesty in Council when they comply with the conditions laid down in ss. 109 and 110 of the Code. Second appeal does not lie from the result of appeal under Order 43, rule 1 (a) The Court cannot, by framing order as one, passed under Order 41, rule 23, allow an appeal which would not otherwise lie. A. I. R. 1930 All. 122=(1930) A. L. J. 454=121 Ind. Cas. 545. Second appeal cannot lie from result of appeal under provisions of Order 43, rule 1 (j). A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 208=11 Lah. L. J. 546=31 P. L. R. 57=120 Ind. Cas. 684. An appeal lies from an order recording compromise, forming basis of consent decree, and is the proper procedure for a party challenging validity of compromise on ground of want of consent. A second appeal in such cases cannot however lie. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 472=119 Ind. Cas. 422. Where a decree-holder purchaser objected to the sale on the ground that he had agreed to purchase at the estimated value put down by him and accepted by Court, and, therefore, if the sale be said to have taken place as recorded by the amin for a greater amount, great loss would result to him, and the Court of first instance dismissed the objection, no second appeal lies to the High Court as order dismissing the objection was under Order XXI, r. 92 and the appeal was under Order 43. A. I. R. 1929 All. 553=115 Ind. Cas. 636. Where the Memorandum of Appeal purports to be one under s. 96, Order 21, r. 92 and Order 43, rule 1 (j), C. P. Code, but in reality the appeal lies only under the last provision, second appeal cannot lie. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 414=10 Lah. L. J. 161=108 Ind. Cas. 391. Second appeal against order of appellate Court confirming or refusing to set aside a sale under Order 21, rule 92 is not maintainable. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 204=91 Ind. Cas. 213. A second appeal from order returning plaint cannot lie. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 141=89 Ind. Cas. 384. A second appeal against an order reversing order of lower Court and setting aside sale under Order 21, r. 90 is not competent. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 803=5 P. L. T. 443=78 Ind. Cas. 315.

No second appeal lies from an appellate order under Order 43, rule 1 (a) and remanding the case for trial on merits. 2 Lah. 587=68 Ind. Cas. 304; see also 62 Ind. Cas. 986=3 Lah. L. J. 463=A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 156. Under section 104 (2) no second appeal lies from the order specified in sub section (1) but it cannot take away the right of appeal conferred by special provisions in the Letters Patent. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 380=3 Lah. 188=67 Ind. Cas. 388. Interlocutory order is not appealable but if it has been admitted no second appeal lies. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 265=82 P. L. R. 1922=67 Ind. Cas. 278. Appeal does not lie from an order in terms of compromise passed in appeal by the District Court. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 309=3 Lah. 175=66 Ind. Cas. 258. Second appeal does not lie where first appeal is not permitted. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 156=3 Lah. L. J. 463. No second appeal lies against appellate order upon petition by auction-purchasers to set aside sale on ground that judgment-debtor has no saleable interest. 45 Ind. Cas. 701. So also no second appeal is competent from an appellate order under Order 43, rule 1 (a) nor does the remedy by way of revision lie. 43 A. 334=19 A. L. J. 110=61 Ind. Cas. 36; see also 59 Ind. Cas. 2=7 P. W. R. 1921. No second appeal lies against appellate order upon petition by auction-purchasers to set aside on the ground that judgment-debtor has no saleable interest. 45 Ind. Cas. 701. Order passed under Order 21, r. 92 is not open to second appeal. 41 Ind. Cas. 121. An order recording a compromise or adjustment under Or. 23, rule 3, C. P. Code is not open to second appeal. 60 C. L. J. 173. So also no second appeal lies from order confirming the auction-sale. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 13=151 Ind. Cas. 947. Alleged fraud in sale proclamation is no ground by itself for second appeal. 25 C. L. J. 399=40 Ind. Cas. 426. Second appeal does not lie under s. 10 of Letters Patent from an appellate order dismissing application under Order 21, rule 90. 39 A. 191=15 A. L. J. 46=39 Ind. Cas. 460. Order passed under Order 21, rule 90, can be interfered with by the High Court where the application is a combined application under Order 21, rule 90 and Order 21, rule 22, if appeal lies from the decision under Order 21, r. 22. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 145=2 P. L. T. 401=6 P. L. J. 319=61 Ind. Cas. 823. Sub-section 2 deals with internal appeals within the limits of British India. Section 104 does not take away the general right of appealing to the Crown given by section 109. A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 495=34 M. L. T. 62=51 C. 361=51 I. A. 72=22 A. L. J. 386=46 M. L. J. 628=26 Bom. 105. [S. 591.] (1) Save as otherwise expressly provided, no appeal shall lie from any order made by a Court in the exercise of its original or appellate jurisdiction ;

Other orders. but, where a decree is appealed from, any error, defect or irregularity in any order, affecting the decision of the case, may be set forth as a ground of objection in the Memorandum of Appeal.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub section (1), where any party aggrieved by an order of remand made after the commencement of this Code from which an appeal lies does not appeal therefrom, he shall thereafter be precluded from disputing its correctness.

Scope.—Though s. 105 refers only to decrees, the provisions of that section also apply to appeals against orders as well. A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 936. There is no law in India which compels a party to appeal from every interlocutory order under the penalty, if he does not do so, of forfeiting the benefit of the consideration of the appellate Court and whether the order is subject to appeal or not, the party aggrieved can impugn it in an appeal from the decree. 7 C. 148 ; 9 A. 477 ; 10 A. 97 ; 14 B. 232 ; 12 M. I. A. 185 ; 14 B. 232 ; 10 M. I. A. 359 ; 7 M. I. A. 283. An appeal lies against the final decree of a Court within the meaning of this section, though the only ground of appeal is the erroneous decision of Court in regard to an interlocutory order. It is not necessary for a suitor to appeal from every interlocutory order by which he may feel himself aggrieved. Any erroneous interlocutory order may be set aside in the appeal from the final decree. 6 Ind. Cas. 239=8 M. L. T. 72=20 M. L. J. 805=M. W. N. 1910, 226 ; see also 7 N. L. R. 162 ; 2 Bom. L. R. 649=24 B. 302. Though interlocutory order cannot be appealed against, it can be objected to in an appeal from final decree. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 988=33 L. W. 391=60 M. L. J. 79=129 Ind. Cas. 63. This section applies to all interlocutory orders, orders and decrees leading to final decree. 4 L. W. 411=35 Ind. Cas. 74. An aggrieved party can challenge in appeal from decree any findings on preliminary issues regarding jurisdiction or limitations. A. I. R. 1921 Bom. 220=23 Bom. L. R. 92=45 B. 627=60 Ind. Cas. 885. An order allowing substitution of heirs or setting aside an abatement passed by a trial Court cannot be questioned in an appeal from a decree in view of this section. 145 Ind. Cas. 170=37 C. W. N. 138=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 498. An order remitting the award to arbitrators for reconsideration the subsequent order superseding arbitration are not open to challenge in appeal in as much as these orders do not affect the final decision on merits. A. L. R. 1933 Lah. 1194=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 530=146 Ind. Cas. 334. But an order setting aside an award is an "order affecting the decision of the case" within the meaning of this section, and even if no appeal is preferred therefrom, it can be challenged in the appeal from the decree. A. L. R. 1934 Oudh 19=10 O. W. N. 1177. An order setting aside an abatement cannot be questioned in appeal as it does not affect the decision on the merits. 34 P. L. R. 221=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 152=14 Lah. 361=141 Ind. Cas. 337. It may however be questioned in second appeal "if it affects the decision of the case". 144 Ind. Cas. 133=A. I. R. 1933 All. 294=1933 A. L. J. 561. An order setting aside abatement is non-appealable. 14 A. L. J. 610=35 Ind. Cas. 209. Where a conditional order granting leave is passed and the failure of the defendant to fulfil the conditions, the Court decrees the suit according to the terms of order passed, it is open to the appellant to convey the validity of the conditional order granting leave. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 245=13 Rang. 239.

In an appeal from a decree the appellant is entitled to challenge it on the ground of any error, defect or irregularity in any order affecting the decision of the case, and it is for the Court to which appeal is referred to consider what points the appellant is entitled to urge in such an appeal. The same principle applies to appeal to the Privy Council. 35 Bom. L. R. 415=A. I. R. 1933 Bom. 51=145 Ind. Cas. 258. Sub-section (1) does not apply to an order passed after decree as the order is not interlocutory order. A. I. R. 1928 All. 194=26 A. L. J. 166=114 Ind.

Cas. 41. Sections 105 and 99 are not mutually destructive. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 150=5 Rang. 80=102 Ind. Cas. 379. This section enables an order superseding an award to be a ground of attack in appeal from a final decree. A. I. R. 1925 All. 556=47A. 916=23 A. L. J. 656=89 Ind. Cas. 713. In an appeal from the final decree of a partition suit, where there is no appeal from preliminary decree, the duty of appellate Court is to see whether preliminary decree was capable of enforcement. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 80=38 C. L. J. 111=75 Ind. Cas. 319. This section does not apply to order refusing permission to withdraw with liberty to bring fresh suit as the order is such as does not affect merits. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 711=41 C. L. J. 186=86 Ind. Cas. 1029. Question of custom can be agitated in second appeal from final decree if certificate is obtained. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 535=5 L. L. J. 392=73 Ind. Cas. 650.

Save as otherwise expressly provided.—"Save as otherwise expressly provided" means except as provided in Acts other than the Civil Procedure Code. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 237=2 Rang. 117=80 Ind. Cas. 746.

Decree—The word "decree" should be construed as meaning a decree passed by the Court which made the order which is alleged to be erroneous, defective or irregular. It is open to a Court of appeal after remand by the appellate Court and the subsequent decision by the original Court. 5 M. L. T. 75=32 M. 318=2 Ind. Cas. 525.

Requirements under this section.—This section contemplates two things, there being a regular appeal about something else, and in that appeal the insertion of a ground of objection. 22 A. 366=A. W. N. 1900, 109.

Error, defect or irregularity.—These words mean an error, defect or irregularity in procedure of law and not in matters of fact. And even then, i. e., where there is any defect, etc., in procedure or in law, it should be such as to affect the decision of the case. 12 A. 200; A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 8=31 N. L. R. (Sup.) 72. An error, defect or irregularity in any non-appealable interlocutory order, affecting the decision of the case may be set forth as a ground of objection in the Memorandum of Appeal. A. I. R. 1922 All. 118=44 A. 524=20 A. L. J. 349=66 Ind. Cas. 920; see also A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 147=46 M. 47=43 M. L. J. 406=74 Ind. Cas. 804=16 L. W. 29. Error, defect or irregularity in order making a person party in appeal though non-appealable can be made a ground of attack in appeal under this section. A. I. R. 1925 All. 768=47 A. 853=23 A. L. J. 757=88 Ind. Cas. 493. Error, defect or irregularity in preliminary order affecting merits can form ground of objection in appeal against final order. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 199=48 M. 267=47 M. L. J. 710=21 L. W. 136=85 Ind. Cas. 333. Error, defect or irregularity in an interlocutory order though partly in favour of an unsuccessful party, can be made a ground of objection in appeal if it affects merits. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 733=46 C. L. J. 51=104 Ind. Cas. 151. Error, defect or irregularity mentioned in this section must be of law or procedure and not of fact. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 266=9 Pat. 102=125 Ind. Cas. 136; 32 C. W. N. 1020=115 Ind. Cas. 184=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 26. An appeal against an order is not the same thing as advancing a ground of appeal about error, defect or irregularity in the said order. 133 Ind. Cas. 129=1931 A. L. J. 377=A. I. R. 1931 All. 294 (F. B.). Though interlocutory order is not appealable it can be objected to in an appeal for error, defect or irregularity in the final order. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 626=9 Pat. 102=125 Ind. Cas. 136. Appeal from an order is different from ground of appeal about error, irregularity or defect therein. A. I. R. 1931 All. 294. An appellate Court is not bound in appeal to interfere with an order passed by the Subordinate Court under s. 151 although the order may be technically wrong. Such an order can only be challenged in appeal if it affects the decision of the case on merits. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 312=35 P. L. R. 266=147 Ind. Cas. 1013.

Affecting the Decision of the case.—Affecting the decision of the case means an unjust result has been arrived at in the decision of the case on merits. A. I. R. 1931 All. 294; see also 32 C. W. N. 1020; 115 Ind. Cas. 183; A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 26; 48 A. 175=90 Ind. Cas. 180 (F. B.); see also A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 8=31 N. L. R. Supp. 72=160 Ind. Cas. 202. Order setting aside an award is one affecting the decision of the case, therefore, an appeal from the final decree such an order can be questioned. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 322=56 C. 21=121 Ind. Cas. 675. Defect in procedure affecting the decision of the case is a good ground of appeal. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 609=10 P. L. T. 589=120 Ind. Cas. 304. Decision of a case cannot be affected by an order superseding arbitration and it cannot be set forth as a ground of objection in appeal from final decree. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 145=3 Lah.

L. J. 59=38 P. L. R. 1921 ; see also 38 Ind. Cas. 206 ; 37 Ind. Cas. 844. Order of lower appellate Court setting aside abatement is such as affects the merits and can be made ground of appeal as per s. 105 (1). A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 230=71 Ind. Cas. 587 ; see also A. I. R. 1925 All. 426=47 A. 555=23 A. L. J. 449=87 Ind. Cas. 211 ; 85 Ind. Cas. 100=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 473=40 C. L. J. 588 ; A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 766=52 C. 472=29 C. W. N. 675=85 Ind. Cas. 100 ; A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 230=71 Ind. Cas. 587. Order setting aside an award is non-appealable but can form ground of objection in appeal if it affects merits. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 753=110 Ind. Cas. 748. The word "affect" predicates that the error, defect or irregularity in the order has influenced the conclusion in such a way that an unjust result has been arrived at in the decision of the case on the merits. 1931 A. L. J. 377=A. I. R. 1931 All. 294 (F. B.). It is not necessary to read into s. 195 additional words "on merits". A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 150=5 Rang. 80=102 Ind. Cas. 379. An order refusing to set aside the abatement of a suit is one which "affects the decision of the case" within the meaning of s. 105, C. P. Code, and can therefore be challenged in appeal and second appeal : 39 C. W. N. 1173. An order refusing to record an adjustment is not an order affecting the decision of a case, but is merely an order ensuing that the merits of the case should be determined. It is therefore open for an appellant to challenge such order in appeal under s. 105 when it has not been appealed against. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 8=31 N. L. R. (Supp.) 172.

Order setting aside an ex parte decree.—"Affecting the decision of the case" means affecting the decision on the merits. Where an ex parte decree was passed and was set aside on an application for review, held that the propriety of setting aside the ex parte decree could not be questioned in an appeal which was passed ultimately after review. A. I. R. 1931 All. 329=131 Ind. Cas. 518 ; see also A. I. R. 1931 All. 294 (F. B.)=1931 A. L. J. 377=133 Ind. Cas. 129. This section does not apply to order setting aside ex parte decree where such order does not affect merits. A. I. R. 1927 B. 455=51 B. 495=29 Bom. L. R. 925=103 Ind. Cas. 262 ; A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 425=72 Ind. Cas. 40 ; 79 Ind. Cas. 69=A. I. R. 1924 All. 929 ; see also 3 O. L. J. 231=34 Ind. Cas. 713 ; 31 Ind. Cas. 914=40 F. R. 1916=133 P. W. R. 1916. But this section applies when that order affects merits. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 890=47 M. L. J. 641=20 L. W. 954=85 Ind. Cas. 808 ; A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 150=5 Rang. 80=102 Ind. Cas. 379 ; A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 174=118 Ind. Cas. 434 ; A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 322=56 C. 21=121 Ind. Cas. 675.

Where Court improperly refused adjournment and passed ex parte decree and an application to set aside ex parte decree was dismissed, the order refusing adjournment can be set forth as a ground in appeal from ex parte decree according to s. 105. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 534=7 P. L. T. 381=1925 Pat. 199=91 Ind. Cas. 167.

Sub-section (2).—Nullifies effect of decision of Full Bench case in 29 C. 758. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 385=72 Ind. Cas. 588. Judges of High Court before whom case comes for final hearing with findings after remand, can disregard remand order and dispose appeal on original findings. 2 Pat. L. J. 669=2 Pat. L. W. 71=41 Ind. P. L. R. (Lah) 120 ; 47 Ind. Cas. 886 ; 86 Ind. Cas. 608=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 916. The prohibition contained in s. 105 (2), C. P. Code exists only if an appeal lies from the order of remand. 157 Ind. Cas. 1119=1935 A. L. J. 517=A. I. R. 1935 All. 553.

Order of remand as to existence or non-existence of a custom is not appealable. 76 P. W. R. 1917=109 P. L. R. 1917=39 Ind. Cas. 775. Where the defendants have failed to raise the objection as to attestation before the High Court where the case was remanded, s. 105 precludes them from raising it at the subsequent stage of the same litigation. 35 Ind. Cas. 571.

Where in remand order, one point is raised, decision on other point also must be thought to be confirmed by remand order. A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 57=26 C. W. N. 739=16 L. W. 447=74 Ind. Cas. 597. Pending suit Court remands case for finding on undecided issues. The Court can disregard, when finally deciding case reasons for remanding case. But decision on law points by Court of co-ordinate jurisdiction is final regarding setting aside decision of lower Court and laying down law on remand. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 226=4 P. L. T. 35=76 Ind. Cas. 136. Remand order is conclusive only regarding points decided by it. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 527=85 Ind. Cas. 468. Remand order is proper where decision is affected on merits. A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177=26 O. C. 10=10 O. L. J. 36=73 Ind. Cas. 591. Section 105 does not control Art. 15, Letters Patent. Hence order of remand can be attacked in an appeal under Art. 15 against the final decree. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 349=30 L. W. 787=118 Ind. Cas. 291. Section 105 (2) precludes a person from disputing afterwards correctness of remand order which is appealable but against which no appeal is preferred. But the section, however, does not preclude a person from raising any other legitimately open objection if the case comes to the High Court. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 430=27 M. L. W. 483=109 Ind. Cas. 130. Section 15 (2) does not apply to Privy Council appeals. A remand order of High Court which is not final cannot be appealed against in Privy Council. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 349=22 N. L. R. 132=88 Ind. Cas. 69; see also A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 147=3 Bur. L. J. 248=84 Ind. Cas. 519; A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 701=46 M. L. J. 357=19 L. W. 458=78 Ind. Cas. 938. A person who is aggrieved by an order of remand is precluded under s. 105 (2), C. P. Code from disputing its correctness only if an appeal lies to the Privy Council against the order. Where no appeal lies to the Privy Council under s. 109 (a) on the ground that the decision of the High Court is not a "final order" or "a decree" passed on appeal by the High Court, s. 105 (2) would have no application. A. I. R. 1933 B. 352=35 Bom. L. R. 458=144 Ind. Cas. 916=A. I. R. 1933 B. 260.

An aggrieved party can dispute correctness of remand order in second appeal if he be otherwise entitled to do so. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 900=51 M. L. J. 119=24 L. W. 630=97 Ind. Cas. 790=1926 M. W. GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO APPEALS.

107. [S. 582.] (1) Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, an Appellate Court shall have power—

- (a) to determine a case finally;
- (b) to remand a case;
- (c) to frame issues and refer them for trial;
- (d) to take additional evidence or to require such evidence to be taken.

(2) Subject as aforesaid,, the Appellate Court shall have the same powers and shall perform as nearly as may be the same duties as are conferred and imposed by this Code on Courts of original jurisdiction in respect of suits instituted therein.

Object of the Section.—The provision of this section as elucidated by Order 41, rule 27 is clearly not intended to allow a litigant who has been unsuccessful in the lower Court to patch up the weak part of his case and fill up omissions in the Court of appeal. 58 I. Power of the appellate Court, of remanding cases for trial by original Power of Court to allow withdrawal.—As regards proper procedure for withdrawal, vide 39 C. W. N. 586.

Sub-section (2).—Under s. 107 (2) an appellate Court is invested with all the powers of original Court and has accordingly, the same powers as are conferred upon the original Court under Order 7, rule 13, which says that the rejection of a plaint shall not preclude the plaintiff from presenting a fresh plaint in respect of the same cause of action. Applying this provision mutatis mutandis to the case of appeals the rejection of a Memorandum of Appeal by the appellate Court shall not, of its own force, preclude the appellant from presenting a fresh Memorandum on proper Court-fee. 59 C. 388=138 Ind. Cas. 643=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 482. Under this section an appellate Court has power to issue a commission for local investigation. 135 Ind. Cas. 243=A. I. R. 1932 All. 270. Order 7, rule 11 read with s. 10 (2) would seem to make it clear that in case of deficit stamp the Memorandum of Appeal should first be returned for correct stamping. 1932 M. W. N. 104. An appellant, has the right to withdraw his appeal unconditionally, his only liability being as to costs, wherein cross objections have been filed. (1931) A.L.J. 232. An amendment of a Memorandum of Appeal can be made by an appellate Court by virtue of the powers conferred in it under s. 107 (2), C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1937 All. 243.

108. [Ss. 587, 590.] The provisions of this Part relating to appeals

Procedure in appeals from original decrees shall, so far as may be, apply to appeals—

(a) from appellate decrees, and

(b) from orders made under the Code or under any special or local law in which a different procedure is not provided.

Scope.—The words “so far as may be” are not equivalent to so far as possible but mean so far as is consistent with the principles on which appeals from appellate decrees are admitted and determined. 7 M. 52. Where a compromise has been recorded and it has not been challenged in any way in the lower Court the recording of the compromise must be held to have been done by consent and s. 96 (3) read with s. 108 would bar and appeal against the order. 57 Bcm. 206=144 Ind. Cas. 448=35 Bom. L. R. 127=A. I. R. 1933 Bom. 205.

APPEALS TO THE KING IN COUNCIL.

109. [S. 595.] Subject to such rules as may, from time to time, be made by His Majesty in Council regarding appeals from the Courts of British India, and to the provisions hereinafter contained, an appeal shall lie to His Majesty in Council—

(a) from any decree or final order passed on appeal by a High Court or by any other Court of final appellate jurisdiction ;

(b) from any decree or final order passed by a High Court in the exercise of original civil jurisdiction ;

(c) from any decree or order, when the case, as hereinafter provided, is certified to be a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council.

Amendments in Burma.—For “British India” read “British Burma” and for “a High Court” read “the High Court.”

Scope.—There is nothing in s. 104 to take away the general right of appealing to the Crown given by s. 109. A. I. R. 1924 P. C. 95=(1924) M. W. N. 79=7 N. L. J. 62=34 M. L. T. 62=22 A. L. R. 1933 Oudh 394=10 O. W. N. 394.

Decree.—No appeal lies to Privy Council from order dismissing application for restoration of the appeal dismissed for default, it not being decree or final order passed in appeal nor an order passed in the exercise of the original civil jurisdiction of the High Court. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 208=2 Bur. L. J. 294=79 Ind. Cas. 504. A consent decree is not appealable to His Majesty in Council. 5 P. L. J. 383=1 P. L. T. 599=57 Ind. Final order.—There is a vast difference between an order made or a judgment passed on the appellate side of a Court and the final order passed on appeal. The latter may be included in the former but the former is necessarily not the same as the latter. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 465=17 Pat. L. T. 760=15 Pat. 659. An order is final if it disposes of the rights of the parties' finding. 47 I. A. 124=47 C. 918 (P. C.); see also A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 465=17 Pat. L. T. 760; (1891) 1 Q. B. 734; (1903) 1 K. B. 547; (1916) 2 K. B. 139; A. I. R. 1936 Oudh 205=1936 O. W. N. 218. The final order within the meaning of s. 109 is not confined to a final order passed in the suit itself but may be a final order in any other proceeding or case arising subsequent to the suit. If that order finally terminates that proceeding and determines the rights of the parties so far as the question of controversy between the parties in that proceeding arose, it is a final order within the meaning of that section. 1932 A. L. J. 838. An order is a final order when it comprises the decision of the High Court upon the cardinal issue in the suit, that issue being one which goes to the foundation of the suit and one which can never while this decision stands be disputed again. Ibid. An order is final if it determines the rights of the parties and interlocutory if it relates to a matter of procedure. An order of remand which determined a cardinal issue in the case is a final order. 27 N. L. R. 172=A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 24=130 Ind. Cas. 102; see also A. I. R. 1930 Sind 254=123 Ind. Cas. 231. J. 19=47 A. 335=86 Ind. Cas. 161. Ordinarily order of remand is merely interlocutory. If the order in question finally decides cardinal point in the suit, it is a final order from which leave to appeal should be granted. A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 147=3 Bur. L. J. 248=84 Ind. Cas. 519. Where order of subordinate Court dismissing a partition suit is set aside by the High Court, it is a final order. 2 P. L. T. 155=6 P. L. J. 116=60 Ind. Cas. 479. The term 'final order' in section 109 denotes an order which finally decides any matter which is directly at issue in the case in respect of the rights of the parties. If the order in effect finally decides the cardinal point in the suit, if it decides an issue which goes to the foundation of the suit and therefore is an order which could never, while the decision stood, be questioned again in the suit, it is final within the section, notwithstanding that there may be subordinate enquiries to be made. The question has to be decided with reference to the precise relation in which the order stands to the proceeding before the Court. 15 C. W. N. 879=13 C. L. J. 688. Passed on Appeal.—Orders passed by High Court in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction under s. 115 of the C. P. Code or of its power of superintendence under section of the Charter Act, are orders made or passed on appeal within the meaning of section 39 of the Letters Patent. 15 C. W. N. 848=13 C. L. J. 50. In the above case Mookerjee J. said: "In other words, as put by Lord Westbury in Att. Gen. v. Gillen, 10 H. L. C. 704, the right of appeal is the right of entering a superior Court and invoking its aid and interposition to redress the error of the Court below; or as Mr. Justice Subramania Ayyar observes in Chappan v. Moidin, 22 M. 68 (80) the two things which are required to constitute appellate jurisdiction, are the existence of the relation of superior and inferior Court, and the power on the part of the former, to review decisions of the latter. Both these elements are obviously essential." See also 15 C. W. N. 879=13 C. L. J. 688. "There is no definition of appeal in the Code of Civil Procedure, but their Lordships have no doubt that any application by a party to an appellate Court, asking it to set aside or revise a decision of a subordinate Court, is an appeal within the ordinary acceptation of the term, and that it is no less an appeal because it is irregular or incompetent." Per Sir. Dinshaw Mulla in 36 C. W. N. 803 (P. C.) at p. 806=59 I. A. 283=137 Ind. Cas. 529=34 Bom. L. R. 1065=1932 A. L. J. 643=55 C. L. J. 528=33 P. L. R. 621=36 L. W. 7=1932 M. W. N. 817=A. I. R. 1932 P. But the applicant is not entitled as a matter of right to appeal from an order passed on the revisional side of the High Court. A. I. R. 1934 All. 198=1934 A. L. J. 1166=147 Ind. Cas. 1067.

Sections 109 and 110 cover decrees or orders passed on appeal. There is a distinction between a final judgment, decree or order and one made on appeal. A judgment, decree or order passed by the High Court in its appellate jurisdiction is not necessarily a judgment, decree or order passed on appeal. 136 Ind. Cas. 183=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 90=A. L. R. 1932 Bom. 125. An order refusing to admit an appeal as time-barred is an order on appeal. 127 P. W. R. 1917=131 P. L. R. 1917=42 Ind. Cas. 893. Order dismissing an appeal as barred by time and refusing to extend time under s. 5 of the Limitation Act is one passed on appeal. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 415=33 C. L. J. 128=62 Ind. Cas. 216. Where a first appeal has been dismissed, for default and an application for restoration was also dismissed, the latter order though a final order is not one passed on appeal and as such no appeal lies to the Privy Council. 1933 A. L. J. 255=A. I. R. 1933 All. 453 (1)=145 Ind. Cas. 534.

Order when not final.—Order that an alleged compromise should not be recorded and that the suit should proceed in usual way is not a final order. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 857=29 C. W. N. 832=89 Ind. Cas. 94. Order that rejects application to appeal as pauper is not a final order. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 518=2 O. W. N. 393=88 Ind. Cas. 575. Order directing final decree to be passed in accordance with the preliminary decree passed by the Privy Council is not a final decree. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 187=20 L. W. 753. An order of High Court refusing to set aside an order of the lower Court restoring to file a suit is not a final order. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 701=19 L. W. 458=46 M. L. J. 357=34 M. L. T. 112=78 Ind. Cas. 938. Where a suit is dismissed due to plaintiff's want of locus standi and on appeal a prima facie case is held as made and case is remanded for further hearing the order is not final. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 574=78 Ind. Cas. 117. An order granting a review is not a final order. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 57=43 M. L. J. 559=(1922) M. W. N. 731=32 M. L. T. 98=69 Ind. Cas. 977. Order refusing to extend time for deposit of Court-fees in an appeal is not a final order under s. 109. 17 A. L. J. 443=50 Ind. Cas. 79. An order of the High Court, deciding the Court below had jurisdiction to execute a decree is not a final order nor is the order a decree under ss. 47 and 2 of C. P. Code. 4 P. L. J. 461=52 Ind. Cas. 461. When order was passed on Civil Extraordinary application but it did not finally dispose of the rights of the parties, it was not a final order within the meaning of s. 109 (a). A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 39=79 Ind. Cas. 210. A refusal to appoint a receiver is not a final order. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 173=6 P. L. T. 119=82 Ind. Cas. 178.

An order refusing to appoint a receiver is not a final order. 12 Pat. L. T. 723=144 Ind. Cas. 457=14 P. L. T. 302=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 293. Where the High Court by an order only purported to send down an issue for a finding under Order 41, rule 25, and although by an interlocutory judgment says "we allow the appeal" and mentions that costs were to abide the final decree, it does not in terms set aside the decree of the lower Court; that order cannot be a "final order" within the meaning of s. 109, C. P. Code. A. L. R. 1933 B. 336=35 Bom. L. R. 415=A. I. R. 1933 Bom. 251=145 Ind. Cas. 258. An order refusing leave in forma pauperis is not a final order as it does not purport to affect the merits of the suit in any sense or to determine the rights of the parties. 10 Rang. 504=A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 192 (1)=A. L. R. 1932 Rang. 349. An order granting a review is not a final order, in as much as such an order does not finally dispose of any case, but merely reopens the decree that was originally passed by the Court. 54A. 401=1932 A. L. J. 235=140 Ind. Cas. 110=A. I. R. 1932 All. 318=A. L. R. 1932 All. 551.

A decree passed by the High Court after taking accounts according to the directions of the Privy Council is not a judgment, decree or order passed on appeal. 33 Bom. L. R. 1476=55 B. 785.

Order of remand.—Order of remand deciding only one issue out of several, raised in first Court is not a final order. 14 A. L. J. 50=38 A. 150=32 Ind. Cas. 360; see also 48 Ind. Cas. 132=(1918) M. W. N. 844. Order of remand by High Court directing disposal or merits of suit dismissed by lower Court on preliminary issue without evidence is not final under s. 109. 19 O. C. 36=33 Ind. Cas. 756=43 Ind. Cas. 290; see also (1918) Pat. 1=14 P. L. W. 342. Order of remand with the direction that a person should be sued as a residuary legatee, is not a final decree or order. 22 C. W. N. 610=46 Ind. Cas. 681. But an appeal against an order of remand is competent when it decides cardinal point in the case. 3 P. L. J. 339=5 P. L. W. 45=45 Ind. Cas. 192; 49 Ind. Cas. 520=21 O. C. 336. An order of remand under Order 41, r. 23, is not a final order. 46 Ind. Cas. 922. The order of remand is not a decree, and an appeal, would lie only if it amounts to a final order. The main test as to the finality of the orders of remand is whether it finally decides the rights of parties, and the decision can never be challenged again. In order to have finality it is not sufficient that a question of jurisdiction of the Court to entertain the suit has been decided. The finality must be a finality in relation to the suit itself, and if the suit is still a live suit in which the rights of the parties have still to be determined, there is yet no final order. An order of remand under which an order of Revenue Court returning the plaint for presentation to the Civil Court is set aside does not dispose of the rights of the parties, and therefore is not final. A. I. R. 1934 All. 58=1934 P. L. J. 219=56 A. 277=147 Ind. Cas. 376.

Order of remand necessitating further trial, final determination of rights of parties not being made, is not a final order. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 81=10 O. L. J. 289=71 Ind. Cas. 339; see also (1918) Pat. 1=4 P. L. W. 342=45 Ind. Cas. 290. Where a suit is dismissed by the Subordinate Judge as barred by res judicata but the decision is reversed by the High Court which remanded the case, leave to appeal to Privy Council should not be given. 1 U. P. L. R. (All) 168=18 A. L. J. 83=54 Ind. Cas. 504. A case having been remanded by the High Court on 14-4-30, an application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council was made and dismissed on 2-3-31 on the ground that as the case was only remanded for fresh decision on certain important issue, there was no final order as contemplated by s. 109 (a). A. L. R. 1933 Lah. 23=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 82=145 Ind. Cas. 131. Where the High Court decided the point on limitation but remanded the case for decision of the lower Court on the other essential or cardinal points on the case, the order of the High Court is not a final order. 144 Ind. Cas. 916=35 Bom. L. R. 458=A. I. R. 1933 Bom. 269. An order though it decided an important and vital issue in the case but did not finally dispose of the rights of the parties is not a final order. 60 I. A. 76=11 Rang. 58=1933 A. L. J. 244=37 L. W. 331=142 Ind. Cas. 328=33 Bom. L. R. 331=57 C. L. J. 136=1903 M. W. N. 166=37 C. W. N. 405=A. I. R. 1933 P. C. 58=64 M. L. J. 307. (P. C.). On the face of it when order which remands a case for further consideration prima facie does not purport finally to dispose of the rights of the parties. But of the effect of the order is that the Court has finally determined the cardinal issue in the suit and only subsidiary and subordinate issues remain to be decided, the remand order is a final order. 10 Rang. 499=A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 189; see also 10 Rang. 335=A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 137=140 Ind. Cas. 420; A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 556=132 Ind. Cas. 211.

Clause (b).—The words "original jurisdiction" in cl. 39 of Letters Patent Bombay, are used in contradistinction to the words "made on appeal". A. I. R. 1923 P. C.

148=74 Ind. Cas. 469=28 C. W. N. 307=50 J. A. 212=25 Bom. L. R. 908=21 A. L. J. 675. The provision of this clause should be read subject to the special jurisdiction conferred under s. 12 (1) of the Oudh Courts Act. 134 Ind. Cas. 1017=8 O. W. N. 1207; see also A. I. R. 1932 Oudh 163. The Judicial Committee refused special leave to appeal against a decision of the Bombay High Court passed on appeal from an award of compensation made by the Court to which a reference had been made under s. 18 of the Land Acquisition Act. 17 C. W. N. 421 (P. C.); see also 28 Ind. Cas. 260; 16 C. W. N. 961 (P. C.). The Oudh Chief Court is a High Court, within the meaning of this clause in as much as it falls within the definition of a High Court in s. 3 (24) of the General Clauses Act. A. I. R. 1932 Oudh 163. An order of a single Judge of the High Court refusing a mandamus under s. 66 (3) of the Indian Income-tax Act on the ground that there is no question of law is a final judgment of the High Court passed in the exercise of its original jurisdiction, and where the subject-matter involved is Rs. 10,000 or more in value, gives the applicant an appeal to the Privy Council as of right. 32 P. L. R. 234=A. I. R. (1931) Lah. 138 (F. B.).

Clause (c)—Clause (c) is only intended to meet special cases, such as those in which the point in dispute is not measurable by money, though it may be of great public importance. It requires that the case must be certified to be a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council. 35 Bom. L. R. 458=144 Ind. Cas. 916=A. I. R. 1933 Bom. 260; see also A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 91=12 N. L. R. 546; A. I. R. 1934 All. 58=56A. 277=1934 A. L. J. 219. The special power of certifying a case to be a fit one for appeal has been conferred on the High Court to meet particularly new cases and that on such a special certificate having been given the appeal to His Majesty in Council becomes competent. A.I.R. 1934 All. 198=1934 P. L. J. 1166. High Court is competent to grant leave against an order by a Bench, suspending an advocate from practice under the Bar Councils Act and clause of the Letters Patent. 150 Ind. Cas. 699=1934 A. L. J. 722.

The powers under this clause should be exercised only in exceptional cases of great public and private importance. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 481=31 C. W. N. 540=103 Ind. Cas. 561; see also A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 363=6 Pat. 282=8 P. L. T. 615. The power of granting leave to appeal to the Privy Council under clause (c), should be sparingly used and in order to entitle a party to the benefit of this section the case should involve not only a question of law but also involve matters of principle which not only affect the parties to the litigation but are likely to concern a large class of persons who are or may be in the same situation as the parties to the appeal in question, and in whose case the decision of the Privy Council is sure to be a guiding precedent. If the above conditions are satisfied, it will undoubtedly be a fit case for appeal to His Majesty in Council. A. L. R. 1933 A. 502=54 A. 459=A. I. R. 1933 All. 4=143 Ind. Cas. 312; see also A. L. The effect of s. 109 (c) is to restore an unlimited right of appeal to the Privy Council, when the case is certified to be a fit one for appeal to the Privy Council. Neither the limitations imposed by clauses (a) and (b) nor any other limitations affect the unrestricted right of appeal to Privy Council that is thus created. Nor is this right of appeal subjected to any further proviso by s. 110. That section affects only the provisions of clauses (a) and (b). 34 Bom. L. R. 398=138 Ind. Cas. 454=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 218=A. L. R. 1932 Bom. 901.

No real mischief can arise if s. 110 is not liberally construed because such cases, if worthy of being tried by a higher tribunal, can always be dealt with under sub-section (c) of s. 109. A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 159=22 L. W. 255=30 C. W. N. 98=27 Bom. L. R. 867=49 M. L. J. 20=52 C. 650=52 I. A. 207=41 C. L. J. 823=88 Ind. Cas. 445.

Where two Judges have arrived at diametrically opposite conclusions on the vital question on which the suit should be decided, the case is a fit one for appeal. 6 O. L. J. 664=54 Ind. Cas. 828. The question whether fraud of the mortgagor would vitiate registration and disentitle the mortgagee to enforce his mortgage is a substantial question of law and hence an appeal would lie to the Privy Council. 2 U. P. L. R. (All) 99=18 A. L. J. 137=54 Ind. Cas. 528. Where there is involved a matter of real importance namely, as to whether the Court has jurisdiction to make an order, the case is a fit one for appeal to the Privy Council. 70 Ind. Cas. 519=A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 130=26 C. W. N. 819.

Special leave cannot be granted where a decision upon the construction of a section of Tenancy Act only incidentally affects the rights of the tenure-holders. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 33=6 P. L. J. 125=2 P. L. T. 657=61 Ind. C.s. 563. Certificate under Order 45 should show on its face on what grounds it has been granted or that discretion under s. 109 was exercised. 44 M. 293=48 I. Where a question of procedure with some unusual character is involved and it is possible that a higher tribunal might take a different view in respect thereto, the High Court ought to certify the case as fit one for appeal. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 468=5 P. L. T. 17=75 Ind. Cas. 58.

Where the High Court in its judgment on a reference under s. 66 (2) of the Indian Income-tax Act answered the first question in the negative as it considered that the matter admitted of no doubt and in fact the Counsel for the Commissioner had practically conceded that the contention of the assessee was correct, the second question in favour of the assessee having regard to the terms of the award and the third also in his favour in view of the certain decisions of the Privy Council: Held in an application by the Commissioner under s. 66 (a) of the Act for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council that the case was not a fit one for appeal to the Privy Council. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 637. S. 109 (c) has a very limited scope and must be applied with considerable discrimination and caution. A. I. R. 1933 A. 502=54 A. 459=A. I. R. 1934 A. 4=143 Ind. Cas. 312.

An order directing prosecution for a criminal offence under s. 237, Companies Act is more of a criminal nature and it is doubtful whether s. 109 (c) and Order 45, rule 2, applies to such a case. A. I. R. 1931 Sind 120=132 Ind. Cas. 474. Whether a contingent reversioner is entitled to continue a suit filed by a Collector, even though he applies to be made a party after the expiry of the period of limitation is a question of importance. A. I. R. 1934 All. 198=1934 P. L. J. 1166. The question whether a suit brought for recovery of possession by Hindu widows, or by Court of Wards on their behalf is a suit of a representative character brought in the interest of the whole body of reversioners, is a question of importance so that the contingent reversioner not only can be impleaded but must be impleaded; and if he asks for such a prayer the Court would be acting with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction if it refuses. Ibid. Where the defendant applies for leave to appeal to Privy Council, the Court is not concerned with the different considerations that might arise in a case where the applicant for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council is the plaintiff in the suit. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 65=12 Rang. 164=149 Ind. Cas. 1033. Where there is no inconsistency in certain ruling of a Court, but different High Courts in India have held divergent views in respect of matters similar to those before the High Court, this in itself is no reason for certifying the case as one fit for appeal to His Majesty in Council. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 194. Where two separate appeals are filed in the High Court from the same suit, by two sets of defendants and are disposed of by the High Court by practically one judgment and on ground common to all the defendants but the valuation of one appeal is above Rs. 10,000 while that of the other is less than Rs. 10,000, the High Court can certify under s. 109 (c) that the latter case is a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council, although the requirements of s. 110 are not fulfilled. A. I. R. 1936 All. 832=1936 A. L. J. 1025=1936 A. W. R. 883.

Certified to be fit one.—Under section 109 (c) the High Court must be satisfied that the case is a fit one for appeal. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 696=119 Ind. Cas. 595.

Where as regards question of limitation, there is no serious divergence of judicial opinion on the points, it is not a fit case for appeal to the Privy Council. 31 P. L. R. 17=121 Ind. Cas. 506; A. I. R. 1936 Sind 68=163 Ind. Cas. 275; 1936 A. L. J. 1272. Where a question of law involved has been settled definitely by the judgment of the Privy Council, the case should not be sent to Privy Council for a fresh decision on the same point. A. I. R. 1929 All. 339=(1929) A. L. J. 241=123 Ind. Cas. 333; 92 Ind. Cas. 1013. Where High Court ignored rules regarding recitals in ancient documents, petition for the certificate may be granted. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 827=123 Ind. Cas. 344. Where point of law has been settled by Full Bench so far as the Court in which leave for appeal is prayed, the fact that there is conflict between that Court and some other High Court does not render the case as fit one for appeal to Privy Council. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 448=109 Ind. Cas. 167. The words "substantial question of law" mean questions of general importance and do not include the question of the construction of a document in which the parties alone are interested. 3 O. W. N. 841=98 Ind. Cas. 164; see also A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 231=45 M. L. J. 514=18 L. W. 348=76 Ind. Cas. 811.

In an application by a pleader for leave to appeal to Privy Council from an order suspending him from practice for being punished for contempt of Court committed personally: Held that the Allahabad High Court can grant leave either under s. 109 (c), C. P. Code or s. 30, Letters Patent. A. I. R. 1933 All. 225=55 A. 246=1933 A. L. J. 273=145 Ind. Cas. 853; 1932 A. L. J. 861. Where the conditions prescribed by this section are fulfilled, it is the duty of the High Court to grant leave to appeal. The chance of success of the appellant in the proposed appeal is not material. 139 Ind. Cas. 54=35 L. W. 206=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 46. Where even respondent is not opposing, the Court in granting leave must nevertheless be satisfied about fulfilment of conditions precedent to grant of leave. 10 Rang. 499=A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 189. The question of consolidation of two appeals will come up for consideration only after the necessary certificate has been granted. A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 441=33 P. L. R. 455=140 Ind. Cas. 70.

110. [S. 596.] In each of the cases mentioned in clauses (a) and (b)

of section 109, the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance must be ten thousand rupees or upwards, and the amount or value of the subject-matter in dispute on appeal to His Majesty in Council must be the same sum or upwards, or the decree or final order must involve, directly or indirectly, some claim or question to or respecting property of like amount or value, and where the decree or final order appealed from affirms the decision of the Court immediately below the Court passing such decree or final order, the appeal must involve some substantial question of law.

Scope of the section.—"In each of the cases mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of section 109, the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance must be ten thousand rupees or upwards, and the amount or value of the subject-matter in dispute on appeal to His Majesty in Council must be the same sum or upwards." The word "and" occurring here means "and" and not "or" so that for the competency of an appeal to the Privy Council, each condition must be separately fulfilled. 35 C. W. N. 669=53 C. L. J. 390=132 Ind. Cas. 605=61 M. L. J. 273=33 Bom. L. R. 954=A. I. R. 1931 P. C. 125=1931 M. W. N. 657; see also 13 C. W. N. 1127; A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 75; 34 C. W. N. 235=57 I. A. 56=53 M. 157 (P. C.)=33 Bom. L. R. 954. The second paragraph of the section is intended to deal with property other than that forming part of the actual subject-matter in dispute and which would be affected by the final decree or order. A. I. R. 1921 L. B. 48=11 L. B. R. 152=66 Ind. Cas. 606. This para refers to some specific property and does not contemplate property which a party may be desirous of acquiring. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 131=26 P. L. R. 1922=2 Lah. 297=116 P. L. R. 1921=65 Ind. Cas. 239. Although subject-matter of a suit may be above Rs. 10,000 if the decree of the lower Court is affirmed by the High Court and there is no variation of any kind in the substantial portion of the decree except the awarding of costs in the original suit unless the suit involves a substantive question of law there is no right of appeal to the Privy Council. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 43=5 O. W. N. 1076=114 Ind. Cas. 320.

To satisfy the requirements of section 110 the subject-matter in the Court of first instance must be Rs. 10,000 and in addition the amount or value of the subject-matter on appeal must also be Rs. 10,000 or upwards or the decree must involve some claim or question to or respecting property of like amount or value. The amount for value of the subject-matter of a suit is clearly the amount the plaintiff claims together with, at most, interest that had accrued up to the date of decree. A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 71=11 L. B. R. 335=1 Bur. L. J. 62=68 Ind. Cas. 690; see also A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 229=2 P. L. T. 463=6 P. L. J. 596=62 Ind. Cas. 959. As regards the value of the property referred to in the second paragraph of s. 110 the material date is the date of the decree from which the appeal to His Majesty in Council is made. 138 Ind. Cas. 37=33 P. L. R. 647=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 526. When the appellate Court modifies that original decree upon a single point and that completely in favour of the applicant for leave to appeal to the King in Council, so that he has no further grievance in that matter, he cannot because of that modification have a right to an appeal to the Privy Council on other points on which the Courts have commenced without showing that some substantial question of law is involved. 38 C. W. N. 1174.

Valuation.—The valuation of the subject-matter of the suit in trial Court must also be 10,000 rupees or upwards. 39 M. 843=30 M. L. J. 317=18 M. L. T. 450=2 L. W. 1057=31 Ind. Cas. 296. R. 1932 Nag. 22. Under s. 110 the value of the subject-matter of the suit is the real market value. The fact that for the purpose of stamp-duty the plaintiff under the option given to him by s. 7 of the Court-fees Act valued it at less than its market value will not deprive him of his right to appeal to the Privy Council. 39 Ind. Cas. 911=5 L. W. 542=(1917) M. W. N. 422; see also 55 M. 106=61 M. L. J. 692=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 125; 1932 A. L. J. 838. For the purpose of ascertaining the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance, it is necessary to ascertain the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit at the date of the institution of the suit A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 65=12 Rang. 164=149 Ind. Cas. 1033. Plaintiff's claim which exceeded Rs. 10,000 was dismissed in the trial Court as against the applicant, but the High Court passed a decree for Rs. 9,182-6-3 with interest at 9 per cent. and the decree of the High Court exceeded Rs. 10,000 including the interest up to date of decree: Held that the applicant should be given leave to appeal to Privy Council as the conditions under s. 110 were complied with. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 65. Under s. 110 it is the extent to which the decree or order has operated to the prejudice of the applicant that determines whether the decree or order is subject to appeal or not, and whatever may be the value of the property in respect of which a claim or question is involved in the appeal no appeal lies under s. 110 unless the value of the loss or detriment which the applicant has suffered by the passing of the decree or order, and from which he seeks to be relieved by His Majesty in Council, is Rs. 10,000 or upwards. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 292=12 Rang. 355. The question whether for the purpose of s. 110 in the right to appeal to His Majesty in Council the valuation for the purpose of that section is to be taken of the entire property which it is sought to partition or whether it is the value of the share claimed by the plaintiff is one of sufficient importance for allowing leave to appeal to His Majesty. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 266=16 Pat. L. T. 279=155 Ind. Cas. 633. Where the original claim in the alternative way for refund of Rs. 10,000 and when the question whether that amount should or should not be refunded to the plaintiff would also be a question in the contemplated appeal in case the Privy Council should think fit and proper to dismiss the claim for possession, the matter involved is of requisite valuation. 61 C. L. J. 69. For the purpose of determining the value under s. 110 the decree is to be looked at and it affects the interests of the party prejudiced by it. A. I. R. 1937 Bom. 181. Where the applicant erroneously undervalued the subject-matter of the suit to be Rs. 2,100 in the Court of the Subordinate Judge and the suit was decreed and on appeal by the opposite party the High Court allowed the appeal and dismissed the suit, on application to leave to appeal to His Majesty, held that the suit having been tried by the Subordinate Judge and the first appeal also being heard by the High Court there would have been no change of forum if the real value were mentioned in the plaint and as such the opposite party had not been prejudiced. Hence the mere mistake in stating the value in plaint did not stop the applicant from showing that the real value of the subject-matter in the Court of first instance was Rs. 10,000 or upward. A. I. R. 1937 Cal. 292.

When the plaintiff in his plaint alleged the value of the subject-matter to be Rs. 3,000 but the District Judge on appeal held it to be Rs. 24,000 under s. 21, N. W. P. and Assam C. C. Act, an application for leave to appeal to Privy Council cannot be granted. (1927) Pat. 301=42 Ind. Cas. 966. Value of the subject-matter of the suit, must be taken to be the amount or value which the plaintiff either obtained or had he been successful would have obtained in his suit at the date when the decree was passed. 2 P. L. T. 340=60 Ind. Cas. 523 ; see also 22 C. W. N. 282 (P. C.)=46 Ind. Cas. 576. The plaintiff valued their suit at Rs. 7,590 but for leave to appeal to the Privy Council valued the property at Rs. 12,000 : Held that the increase in value pendente lite would not be sufficient to bring the suit within s. 110. 51 Ind. Cas. 975=(1919) Pat. 241. The Privy Council does not interfere with any question of valuation unless it is shown that some item has improperly been made the subject of valuation or excluded therefrom, or that there is some fundamental principle affecting the valuation which renders it unsound. Where cause of action against one defendant distinct and different from cause of action against other defendants, the fact that a joint suit is brought cannot make value of the subject-matter of appeal against him to Privy Council higher than what is decreed against him. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 30=16 L. W. 262=30 M. L. T. 337. The test of valuation is the detriment to the person seeking to appeal to the Privy Council. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 138=132 Ind. Cas. 280=9 Rang. 52.

Party taking advantage of a valuation cannot deny it.—Plaintiff knowingly under-valuing his claim and not paying additional Court-fee will not be allowed to change that valuation at the time of leave to appeal to Privy Council. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 737=34 C. W. N. 671=128 Ind. Cas. 108 ; see also 38 C. W. N. 751=59 C. L. J. 448. A party taking advantage of the valuation put upon the subject-matter by the other party, cannot be permitted to allege that the original valuation was incorrect. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 862=104 Ind. Cas. 605. But where the plaintiff deliberately under-valued the suit in the lower Court, he cannot, for purpose of leave to appeal to the Privy Council, be allowed to repudiate the valuation and show the real market value of the subject-matter. The plaintiff is not absolutely precluded from saying that his valuation in the plaint is wrong. The Court will treat his admission as a strong piece of evidence against him. A. I. Leave to appeal to Privy Council cannot be granted, where valuation of subject-matter in trial Court is neither challenged in appeal nor by cross-objections to reopen that question. A. I. The doctrine that a person cannot for purpose of appeal to Privy Council both approve and reprobate applies to the case where he appeals to the lower appellate Court upon a valuation not consistent with the valuation upon which he seeks a certificate enabling him to appeal to Privy Council. 58 C. 66=132 Ind. Value of the subject-matter of suit in the Court of first instance.—The words “the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit in this Court of the first instance”, mean the amount or value at the institution of the suit, and not at the date of the decree in the Court of the first instance, which is not affected by the alternative condition which follows in the section. 38 P. L. R. 767=A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 31. The amount of interest to be given by Court in its discretion but not claimable as of right, cannot be included in the value under s. 110. A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 75=124 Ind. Cas. 97. For valuation of subject-matter of a suit, involving a claim for mesne profits, the mesne profits which might be awarded by the Court, whether they had actually accrued at the date when the suit was instituted or whether they were future mesne profits should be taken into consideration. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 547=117 Ind. Cas. 189 ; 107 Ind. Cas. 828 ; but see A. I. R. 1937 All. 169. Whether a suit is a partition suit or a partnership suit does not make a difference for valuation for purpose of Privy Council appeal. Value of the appellant's share and not the value of the whole property determines the value of the subject-matter. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 137=49 B. 149=26 Bom. L. R. 126=85 Ind. Although for purposes of Court-fees the value of suits for redemption is “the principal money expressed to be secured by the instrument of mortgage”, the mortgage money is not the basis of the valuation for the purposes of jurisdiction. In such cases the value of the mortgaged property should be the basis. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 304=5 Rang. 499=105 Ind. Cas. 412. In estimating the value of an Inam wet land for purposes of Privy Council appeal, house sites in the vicinity should be excluded from consideration and only cultivable lands in the vicinity should be relied upon. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 448=109 Ind. Cas. 167. Where the real claim in suit is less than Rs. 10,000 but Court unnecessarily recorded finding relating to other property worth more than Rs. 10,000, it does not make subject-matter of suit, worth more than Rs. 10,000. A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 85=110 Ind. Cas. 855. The consideration for the contract of sale must alone determine the value of the subject-matter in dispute on appeal to His Majesty in Council. A. I. Where during the pendency of a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale, new machinery is brought on the premises in suit, and not mentioned in the pleadings or in evidence, or even at argument, its value cannot be taken into account. A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 75=124 Ind. Cas. 697. Where the applicant's interest in the property is less than Rs. 10,000 but the property in dispute is worth over Rs. 10,000, leave to appeal should be granted. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 176=25 Bom. L. When in a partition suit the decree affects the interest not only of the plaintiff's who are appealing but of some of the defendants, the value of the subject-matter is the value of the property and not that of the plaintiff's share therein. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 502=2 Pat. L. T. 386=60 Ind. Cas. 844.

Subsequent mortgages of a certain plot worth less than Rs. 10,000 denied that it was covered by the plaintiff's mortgage. High Court held on appeal that the plot has not been included in the plaintiff's mortgage. On application of the plaintiff for leave to appeal to Privy Council, held that the subject-matter in dispute was really the whole debt for purposes of valuation for Privy Council appeal. A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 391=103 Ind. Cas. 831. To determine the value prescribed by s. 110 the decree has to be looked at. If the detriment to the party seeking relief is

The subject-matter of a suit and of appeal are not necessarily identical with the subject-matter in dispute between the parties. The subject-matter in dispute may not always be capable, of being measured in terms of money, even in cases where the subject-matter of the suit or the appeal has an appreciable value. A. L. The decree or final order must involve directly or indirectly, etc.—The question whether a decree involves indirectly or claim respecting property of the value of Rs. 10,000 or upwards within paragraph (2) must be determined with reference to the actual circumstances at the time and not to be mere possibility. 128 Ind. Where the value of subject-matter in dispute on appeal to the Privy Council is admittedly below Rs. 10,000 but the petitioner alleges that there is another appeal pending on behalf of another party affected by the decree and that the value would be more than Rs. 10,000 if the value of the property in that appeal be taken into account but it is admitted that the decision in appeal, for which leave is sought, could have no effect on the other appeal whether by way of res judicata or in any other way, the order can not be held directly or indirectly involve a claim or question to or respecting property involved in the other appeal within the meaning of clause (2), s. 110 and appeal to Privy Council does not lie. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 95. If none of the conditions mentioned in para 1 is fulfilled, but the sole condition mentioned in para 2 is fulfilled, the requirements of s. 110 will be complied with, because these two sets of conditions are alternative and mutually exclusive. The conditions laid down in para 2, is independent and self sufficient and is not in any way dependent on the fulfilment of both or either of the conditions in para 1. Right of appeal therefore exists even on fulfilment of condition in para 2. A. I. R. 1937 All. 169. The phrase "directly or indirectly" in s. 110 refers to suits in existence and cannot be included to cover suits not yet brought. The indirect relation must be decided with reference to actual circumstances at the time and not to circumstances which are remote. On the other hand the possibility of future suits may be taken into consideration if such suits will be affected by the doctrine of res judicata. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 31=38 P. L. R. 767; see also A. Where the matter in dispute between the parties is solely in the nature of the tenancy of the site, buildings on site should not be taken into account involving subject-matter. R. 1927 Pat. 379=103 Ind. Cas. 703.

For purposes of appeal to Privy Council no substantial question of law need be involved if there is a small variation by the appellate Court in the lower Court's decree. A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 60=51 C. 969=51 I. A. 319 (P. C.)=86 Ind. Cas. 504. The word "decision" in s. 109 (a) means merely the decision of the suit by the Court and not judgment. Hence in order to affirm the decision of the Court below within the meaning of this section it is sufficient for the appellate Court to affirm the decree. 14 Lah. 609=144 Ind. Cas. 18=34 P. L. R. 946=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 690. Though the value of the subject-matter exceeds Rs. 10,000 no leave to appeal to Privy Council can be granted in the case of the High Court affirming the decision of the Court below, unless there is a substantial question of law involved or it is shown that the case is otherwise fit to be certified. 32 P. Where an appeal was dismissed and a cross-objection was allowed with the result that the decree was varied, held an appeal to Privy Council by a person whose appeal was dismissed will lie as a matter of right. (1931) A. L. J. 968=54 A. 146=135 Ind. Cas. 234=A. I. R. 1932 All. 65. But this rule is not applicable in case of cross appeals. A. I. R. 1935 All. 374=1935 P. L. J. 352 (F. B.). Separate appeals which are filed in the High Court are separately numbered and ordinarily separate decrees are passed and prepared. In such cases it may not be possible to show that although the appeal has been dismissed the decision of the Court below has not been affirmed by the decree passed in that decree. 54 A. 146=(1931) A. L. J. 968=135 Ind. Cas. 234=A. I. R. 1932 All. 65 (F. B.). This section merely says "affirm the decision of the Court" and does not say "affirms the decision of the decree on merits". An order rejecting an appeal for failure to furnish security for costs is an order affirming the decision of the Court below within the meaning of this section. 54 All. 390=140 Ind. Cas. 125=1932 A. L. J. 254=A. I. R. 1932 All. 312. Where in a suit for account a decree is not entirely affirmed, it is not affirming the decree. A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 46=25 L. W. 206=139 Ind. Cas. 54; see also 28 N. L. R. 142=A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 118=140 Ind. Cas. 68.

Where a decree is affirmed on different grounds, still it is an affirming judgment. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 703 (S. B.)=146 Ind. Cas. 744. Costs are matter of discretion and a variation in this matter alone does not affect the question whether the judgment of the High Court is or is not one of affirmance. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 703 (S. B.). The question whether the judgment of the High Court is a judgment of affirmance or not does not depend upon whether the appellant is the plaintiff or defendant. 144 Ind. Cas. 320=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 262.

Substantial question of law.—The words "substantial question of law" in s. 110 do not mean any alleged question of law good, bad or indifferent. 13 Rang. 744. Where the question is one of the application of the law to the facts of the case, the case does not comply with the requirements of s. 110. 33 P. L. R. 299=132 Ind. Cas. 2=A. I. When leave can be granted.—A person in contempt cannot be heard in prosecution of his own appeal until he purges his contempt, and his appeal, as it is not proper to keep the other party before the Court for an indefinite period, can be dismissed. A petition, therefore, for leave to appeal to Privy Council against such dismissal cannot be maintained. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 672=(1928) M. W. N. 462=117 Ind. Cas. 724. High Court cannot grant leave to appeal to Privy Council in forma pauperis especially when the petition for leave is on behalf of a whole community. 115 Ind. Cas. 832; see also 44 Ind. Cas. 781; 47 Ind. Cas. 646=42 M. 32. Leave cannot be granted if the appellant takes up a new position while appealing to Privy Council. 2 U. P. L. R. (A) 402=58 Ind. Cas. 179. Certificates should make plain upon their face that the discretion has in fact been exercised. A. I. R. 1921 P. C. 128=2 P. L. T. 132=29 M. L. T. 156=13 L. W. 365=62 Ind. Cas. 320. Leave cannot be granted where the applicant's appeal to the High Court is dismissed for want of prosecution. A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 111=3 Reng 656=94 Ind. Cas. 464. No leave to appeal to Privy Council can be granted against an order suspending a vakil from practice, which is disciplinary matter and not a judgment. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 440=43 M. L. J. 382=31 M. L. T. 173=69 Ind. Cas. 290. If an affidavit that the decree involves a claim respecting property exceeding ten thousand rupees in value, is filed and there is no counter affidavit the High Court may assume that the petitioner's affidavit is correct. Where there is nothing on record to sustain the contention that the value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance or of the projected appeal to the Privy Council was worth Rs. 10,000 or upwards a certificate for leave to appeal cannot be granted as a matter of right. A. I. R. 1933 All. 4=143 Ind. Cas. 312=54 A. 459. But where the decree involves property of Rs. 10,000 or upwards, leave can be properly given. A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 397=10 O. W. N. 880.

111. [S. 597.] Notwithstanding anything contained in section 109, no appeal shall lie to His Majesty in Council—
Bar of certain appeals.

(a) from the decree or order of one Judge of a High Court [constituted by His Majesty by Letters Patent]* or of one Judge of a Division Court, or of two or more Judges of such High Court, or of a Division Court constituted by two or more Judges of such High Court, where such Judges are equally divided in opinion and do not amount in number to a majority of the whole of the Judges of the High Court at the time being; or

(b) from any decree from which under section 102 no second appeal lies.

Amendments in Burma.—In Burma substitute the words "the High Court" for the words "a High Court" and for "such High Court"—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—This section is applicable to a single Judge of a High Court established under the Charter Act, 1861. 127 P. W. R. 1917=131 P. L. R. 1917=42 Ind. Cas. 893. Oudh Chief Court is not High Court within the meaning of this section. A. I. R. 1932 Oudh 163. The prohibition in s. 111 is unconditional. Where therefore the decision sought to be appealed from is a decision of a single Judge of the High Court, leave to appeal from it to the Division Bench having been rejected, an appeal to His Majesty in Council is prohibited by s. 111. 111A. Where a certificate has been given under section 205 (1) of the Government of India Act, 1935, the three last preceding sections shall apply in relation to appeals to the Federal Court as they apply in relation to appeals to His Majesty in Council, and accordingly references to His Majesty shall be construed as references to the Federal Court :

Provided that—

(a) so much of the said sections as delimits the cases in which an appeal will lie shall be construed as delimiting the cases in which an appeal will lie without the leave of the Federal Court otherwise than on the ground that a substantial question of law as to the interpretation of the said Act, or any order in Council made thereunder, has been wrongly decided ;

(b) in determining under clause (c) of section 109 whether the case is a fit one for appeal, and, under section 110, whether the appeal involves a substantial question of law, any question of law as to the interpretation of the said Act, or any order in Council made thereunder, shall be left out of account

Application in Burma.—This section which has been inserted by G. I. Order is not applicable in British Burma. *

Section 205 (1).—An appeal shall lie to the Federal Court from any judgment, decree or final order of a High Court in British India, if the High Court certifies that the case involves a substantial question of law as to the interpretation of this Act or any order in Council made thereunder, and it shall be the duty of every High Court in British India to consider in every case whether or not any such question is involved and of its own motion to give or to withhold a certificate accordingly.

112. [S. 616.] (1) Nothing contained in this Code shall be deemed—

(a) to bar the full and unqualified exercise of His Majesty's pleasure in receiving or rejecting appeals to His Majesty in Council, or otherwise howsoever, or

(b) to interfere with any rules made by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, and for the time being in force, for the presentation of appeals to His Majesty in Council, or their conduct before the said Judicial Committee. *

(2) Nothing herein contained applies to any matter of criminal or admiralty or vice-admiralty jurisdiction, or to appeals from orders and decrees of Prize Courts.

PART VIII.

REFERENCE, REVIEW AND REVISION.

113. [S. 617.] Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, any Court may state a case and refer the same for the opinion of the High Court, and the High Court may make such order thereon as it thinks fit.

* Inserted by G. I. Order.

Scope.—The High Court can entertain a reference under this section where there is a suit or appeal before the Court making the reference, in which the decree is final. 16 C. P. L. R. 17 ; see also 7 A. 815=A. W.N. 1885, 245. A Court is not competent to make a reference to the High Court under this section in a case in which the decree of the Court would not be final. 5 Ind. Cas. 584. A reference under this section must distinctly set out the legal point or points in the case, as to the decision of which the Judge entertain a reasonable doubt. 93 P. L. R. 1902. There is no analogy between a reference and an appeal. An appeal is made by an aggrieved party where as a reference is made not by a party but by a Court. The decision of the subject-matter of appeal is by the Court entertaining the appeal whereas the decision of the matter about which a reference is made is not necessarily by the Court deciding the reference. 1932 A. L. J. 816=140 Ind. Cas. 123=A. I. R. 1932 All. 651=A. L. R. 1932 All. 1083. Reference made by a Deputy Commissioner as to the legality of actions of Subordinate Judge in issuing a temporary injunction is not a "reference made by a Court" within the meaning of the Code. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 485=5 O. W. N. 891=113 Ind. Cas. 800. A reference can be allowed where it is doubtful, if Court had any reasonable doubt, but where the parties do not object to the reference being made. 76 Ind. Cas. 519=A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 193=76 Ind. Cas. 519 ; see also 61 P. R. 1913=123 P. L. R. 1913 ; 8 P. R. 1914. The Collector while hearing an application under s. 23 of the Bombay Mamlatdar Courts Act is not competent to make a reference under this section because he cannot be called a Court trying a suit or appeal or executing a decree. 14 Ind. Cas. 782. The High Court of Allahabad is not competent to entertain an application of reference from the State Court of Benares. 47 A. 322=86 Ind. Cas. 23.

Review.

114. [S. 622.] Subject as aforesaid, any person considering himself aggrieved—

- (a) by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed by this Code, but from which no appeal has been preferred,
 - (b) by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed by this Code, or
 - (c) by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes,
- may apply for a review of judgment to the Court which passed the decree or made the order, and the Court may make such order thereon as it thinks fit.

Scope.—This section has to be read with Order 47, rule 1, Sch. I of the Code, in as much as the Code provides that the rules in Sch. I shall have effect as if enacted in the body of the Code until annulled or altered in accordance with the provisions of the Code. A. I. R. 1934 P. C. 213=151 Ind. Cas. 41=11 O. W. N. 1084=40 L. An application for review of judgment passed by a Bench hearing an appeal from the decision of a single Judge would not lie. A. I. R. 1931 All. 244=1931 A. L. J. 187 (F. B.)=132 Ind. Cas. 24. A lower Court should not review its former order merely on the ground that a ruling of the High Court has not been brought to its notice on the previous occasion. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 91. The decree, in review, is a new decree superseding the original one and, therefore no appeal lies from the decree originally passed. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 418=107 Ind. Cas. 751. Section 114 and order 47 apply to an application for review of a decree in any appeal under Letters Patent. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 232=29 Bom. L. R. 371=101 Ind. Cas. 766. High Court cannot disregard the express provisions of the Code and entertain an application for review to His Majesty in Council but is dismissed for want of prosecution. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 232=29 Bom. L. R. 371=101 Ind. Cas. 766. The powers of review can be exercised by a Court dealing with a continuous matter in proceedings for the grant of Letters of Administration. A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 314=3 Rang. 261=91 Ind. Cas. 509. Generally an order rejecting an application for review is not open to revision. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 400=71 Ind. Cas. 160. Where the Privy Council reversed the decree of the High Court, it is no ground for review of the judgment passed prior to the decision of the Privy Council. This section does not authorise the review of a decree which was right when it was made on the ground of happening of some subsequent event. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 227=(1922) M. W. N. 304=15 L. W. 593=43 M. L. J. 33=31 M. L. J. 473=70 Ind. Cas. 741.

There is no provision in the Letters Patent appeal from review which must be expressly conferred. (1931) A. L. J. 187=A. I. R. 1931 A. 244=132 Ind. Cas. 24 (F. B.) ; see also A. I. R. (1931) Pat. 409=12 P. L. T. 652=134 Ind. Cas. 630. It is a wrong procedure for a lower Court to review its former order merely on the ground that a ruling of the High Court had not been brought to its notice on the previous occasion. 132 Ind. Cas. 815=1931 A. L. J. 889=A. I. R. 1931 All. 91. The Revenue Court has no power to review a judgment. 138 Ind. Cas. 465=A. I. R. 1932 All. 293=1932 A. L. J. 437 (F. B.).

A review proceeding commences ordinarily with an ex parte application. The Court then may either reject the application at once or may grant a rule calling on the other side to show cause why the review should not be granted. In the second stage the rule may either be admitted or discharged, and the hearing of this rule may involve to some extent an investigation into the merits. If the rule is discharged then the case ends. If on the other hand, the rule is made absolute, then the third stage is reached ; the case is reheard on the merits and may result in a repetition of the former decree or in some variation of it. Though in one aspect, the result is the same whether the rule is discharged or on the re-hearing the original decree be repeated in law, there is a material difference ; for in the latter case, the whole matter having been re-opened, there is a fresh decree ; in the former case, the parties are relegated to and still rest on the old decree. 55 M. 871=139 Ind. Cas. 436=1932 M. W. N. 1124=36 L. W. 242=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 669=63 M. L. J. 357. An obvious and patent error of law might be a good ground for a review, but where there is no such blunder no review lies. 146 Ind. Cas. 946=A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 85.

115. [S. 622.] The High Court may call for the record of any case which has been decided by any Court subordinate to such High Court and in which no appeal lies thereto, and if such subordinate Court appears—

- (a) to have exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or
- (b) to have failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested, or
- (c) to have acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity, the High Court may make such order in the case as it thinks fit.

Amendment in Burma.—For “such High Court” substitute “the High Court”—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—“The 115th section of the Civil Procedure Code enables the High Court, in a case in which no appeal lies, to call for the record of any case if the Court by which the case was decided appears to have acted in the exercise of a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or to have failed to have exercised a jurisdiction vested in it, or to have exercised its jurisdiction illegally or material irregularity, and further enables to pass such order in the case as the Court may think fit. It will be observed that the section applies to jurisdiction alone, the irregular exercise, or non-exercise of it or the illegal assumption of it. The section is not directed against conclusions of law or fact in which the question of jurisdiction is not “involved”. Per Lord Atkins in Balkishna v. Vasudeva, 40 Ind. Cas. 650=15 A. L. In the exercise of the powers of superintendence, the High Court may order the District Judge to do which he was bound to do, e. g., direct him to hear a petition which he has thrown out on the erroneous view that the petition had no locus standi under the law to make it. 39 C. W. N. 971. The High Court cannot under s. 115, Civil Procedure Code, interfere with the orders of the Courts below on the ground that the findings of facts are perverse or the view of law is erroneous. A. I. R. 1937 Pat. 357. Even if it be held that upon a strict construction of s. 115, C. P. Code, the High Court is precluded from interfering in revision with an order refusing to amend a decree, it is still open to it to interfere under s. 151. A. I. R. 1937 Oudh 246. The High Court has power, under section 115, C. P. Code to interfere with an order by which the lower Court has given a person the benefit of a contract to which it has found that person not to have been a party e.g., a decree for rent in favour of the landlord against a person who is found not to be his tenant but to have been inducted by the tenant under an agreement to pay the rent to the landlord. There must be some limit to the principle that the Court has jurisdiction to decide wrongly as well as rightly. 41 C. W. N. 601. I. R. 1930 All. 604=(1930) A. L. J. 924=126 Ind. Cas. 832. An appeal and an application for revision are quite different. Right of appeal is a substantive right created by statute and the powers of the Court of appeal are contemporaneous with those exercised by the Court of original jurisdiction. Even when the appeal is dismissed, the appellate Court exercises its jurisdiction. Not so with revisional jurisdiction as of right. Where a High Court dismisses an application for revision it merely abstains from exercising the jurisdiction and allows the subordinate Courts' order to stand. A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 17=130 Ind. Unappealable order under s. 60 or rule 61 of Order 21 is revisable. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 286=10 N. L. J. 155=103 Ind. Cas. 12. A Court cannot refuse to exercise its jurisdiction and act at the same moment in the exercise of it with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 773=53C. 679=30 C. W. N. 570=96 Ind. Cas. 705. High Court can interfere and correct gross and palpable errors of subordinate Courts. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 530=91 Ind. Cas. 839. Where the decision of the Court is the very basis and foundation of the jurisdiction in its limited sense as distinguished from the powers it has got, held that the case comes within the scope of s. 115. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 506=75 Ind. Cas. 856=5 P. L. T. 107=83 Ind. Cas. 599. An order purporting to be passed under Order XXIII, rule 1, but made in disregard of the procedure presented therein is irregular exercise of jurisdiction and deserves revision. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 291=27 O. C. 231=11 O. L. J. 613=79 Ind. Cas. 1033.

The Court is reluctant to exercise its extraordinary powers of revision unless it is satisfied that either grave injustice or great inconvenience would otherwise be the result. The section is not directed against conclusion of law or fact in which jurisdiction is not involved. It applies to jurisdiction alone the regular exercise or non-exercise of it or the illegal assumption of it. 134 Ind. Cas. 454=1931 A. L. J. 13=A. I. R. 1931 All. 72; see also 8 O. W. N. 999=A. I. R. (1931) Oudh 408; 27 S. L. R. 190=A. I. R. 1933 Sind 329. It is an extraordinary jurisdiction and should be used only in appropriate occasions. Jurisdiction under this section is not to be lightly exercised. 30 S. L. R. 271=A. I. R. 1936 Sind 172; A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 41=146 Ind. Cas. 933; A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 33=36 P. L. R. 69. A Court, setting aside a sale under section 174 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act in the absence of a deposit as contemplated by that provision, without being satisfied that such deposit is unnecessary and without recording reasons therefor, exercises its jurisdiction with material irregularity such as attracts section 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. 39 C. W. N. 913=62 C. L. J. 308. Where an order withdrawing the complaint is made by the District Judge, the application in revision against that order is governed by s. 115. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 55=147 Ind. Cas. 535. Where substantial justice has been done the High Court may refuse to interfere. 33 P. L. R. 116=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 305=138 Ind. Cas. 277; 1932 M. W. N. 72=138 Ind. Cas. 121=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 223. The interference by the High Court is justified when the view of the lower Court if allowed to prevail would result in confusion and subvert the result of past litigation or would allow the parties to embark on long and expensive litigation. 137 Ind. Cas. 603=34 Bom L. R. 206=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 210; 54 A. 516=1932 A. L. J. 359=A. I. R. 1932 All. 441. Where the execution application was time-barred but the executing Court entertained it all the same but the same was thrown out in appeal : Held that assuming there was no right of appeal it was not a fit case for interference in revision. 35 C. An order passed under Order 9, rule 9, even though made without jurisdiction is not subject to interference by the High Court in revision. 143 Ind. Cas. 222=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 331. An erroneous decision as regards res judicata can not be interfered in revision. 32 P. L. R. 130. The mere fact that the decision of the lower Court is erroneous is no ground for a revision. 8 O. W. N. 1235=12 L. R. 380 (Rev.) ; see also A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 111=132 Ind. Cas. 832.

Power of High Court to revise.—The powers of the High Court under s. 115 are strictly limited to those matters mentioned therein. 35 C. W. N. 775=134 Ind. Cas. 1063=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 604. Where no appeal is possible to High Court it has jurisdiction in a fit case to deal with the matter under s. 115 even without an application on that behalf. 23 C. L. J. 235=31 Ind. Cas. 812 ; A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 525=1 Pat. 232=3 P. L. T. 445=65 Ind. Cas. 122. In exercising its powers under s. 115 of the Code the High Court has power to make such order as the justice of the case requires. 42 A. 18=17 A. L. J. 868=52 Ind. Cas. 263. The civil revisional jurisdiction is in reality an aspect of the civil appellate jurisdiction. 20 C. W. N. 1071=17 C. L. J. 339=43 C. 1143=35 Ind. Cas. 515. Powers of revision should be exercised in cases where there would be multiplicity of proceedings unnecessarily but for High Court's interference. 60 M. L. J. 713=132 Ind. Cas. 311. Where an appeal does not lie the High Court can set aside the order of the appellate Court in revision. 55 Ind. Cas. 653. High Court has no power in its revisional jurisdiction to treat an application under Order IX as an application for review under Order XLVII. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 735=43 C. L. J. 285=94 Ind. Cas. 172. The Chief Court may interfere by revision in appealable cases to avoid irreparable damage or for some other pressing cause. 50 Ind. Cas. 797. Mere technical defect will not justify interference in revision unless some injustice is caused. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 28=12 O. L. J. 626=2 O. W. N. 543=89 Ind. Cas. 225. High Court will interfere in proper cases in matters of amendments and Court-fees. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 212=38 M. L. T. 33=98 Ind. Cas. 458. Where the lower Court has decided the case on a totally incorrect and inequitable view and injustice has resulted and a further remand appears to be undesirable it is open to the High Court in revision to go through the record and decide the case on the merits. 32 P. L. R. 710=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 748. Though the High Court does not interfere in revision except at the request of one of the parties to a suit the powers conferred upon it by s. 115, Civil Procedure Code, are very wide and in fit cases it is open to High Court to interfere even suo motu in order to remedy injustice. A. I. R. 1936 Sind 1=160 Ind. Cas. 361 ; see also 15 Pat. 738=A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 591. But the powers of the High Court are limited by s. 115 and all it can do is to determine whether the lower Court examined its jurisdiction with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 140.

No revision lies on any matter decided under Agra Tenancy Act. A. I. R. 1925 All. 800=87 Ind. Cas. 351 ; but see A. I. R. 1926 All. 113=48 A. 104=23 A. L. J. 965=92 Ind. Cas. 288. Power of decision should not be exercised except in aid of justice. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 123=80 Ind. Cas. 575. Refusal to hear a party on the merits without just grounds is a ground for interference in revision. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 207=24 Bom. L. R. 744=47 B. 11=69 Ind. Cas. 169. The High Court cannot in its revisional jurisdiction interfere under s. 115 with an order under s. 36, Legal Practitioners Act. 21 Cr. L. J. 449=13 S. L. R. 212=56 Ind. Cas. 433 ; see also A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 188=16 L. W. 795=23 Cr. L. J. 705=44 M. L. J. 437=69 Ind. Cas. 433. Where the lower Court acts in a way amounting to a denial of justice, High Court can interfere in revision. A. I. R. 1930 Rang. 142=126 Ind. Cas. 655. Revision is not competent from order refusing to make reference. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 290=47 B. 699=25 Bom. L. R. 392. Orders disallowing or allowing claims to rateable distribution are not revisable except in very exceptional circumstances. 60 Ind. Cas. 371 (Lah). The High Court can interfere in revision where the lower Court refuses party leave to adduce evidence in guardianship proceedings. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 59=130 Ind. Cas. 449. The High Court will interfere in revision to prevent multiplicity of proceedings. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 511=34 L. W. 531=131 Ind. Cas. 14. Where the lower Court has found a different case for the petitioner from that set up by them in their petitions, and allowed their claim, it is an irregularity which justifies interference in revision. 132 Ind. Cas. 301=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 534. The question whether a Government pleader or a public prosecutor in the mofussil is a salaried officer under Government within the meaning of s. 13 of the Madras Local Board Act of 1900 is a mixed question of fact and law with which the High Court cannot interfere in revision. 54 Mad. 627=130 Ind. Cas. 177=33 L. W. 168=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 83=63 M. L. J. 191.

Wrong allocation of burden of proof as to certain issues is not revisable. 35 P. L. R. 334. When an order for restitution is based upon inherent powers of Court rather than on terms of s. 144, the section is inapplicable and no appeal lies from such an order. But when the order is one refusing restitution, a revision will lie against the order. A. L. R. 1934 Mad. 330=A. I. R. 1934 M. 320=39 L. W. 574. Omission to give finding on necessary issues is failure to exercise jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 33. Decisions that plaintiff was in constructive possession and defendant's refusal to restore possession amounted to trespass are not questions of jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1934 All. 541. The High Court is not bound to exercise jurisdiction under s. 115 except in cases where not doing so will cause grave injustice. 147 Ind. Cas. 226=1932 M. W. N. 1262=36 L. W. 586. A wrong decision on a question of res judicata is not a subject for the interference of the High Court. 135 Ind. Cas. 85=33 Bom. L. R. 1596=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 81.

An application to restore a suit dismissed for default under Order 9, rule 3 would lie. A. L. R. 1934 Pesh. 13=A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 13. It is so manifestly improper that one party to a suit should be given a commission and the advantage of a report by the Commissioner without knowledge of the opposite party that this alone would be sufficient to justify the interference of a revision Court. 1934 M. W. N. 155. If the trial Court applies its mind to the matter before it with due reference to the provisions of order 23 and gives its decision because it considers that the circumstances of the case do fulfil the requirements of the rule, then it becomes a matter of exercise of the discretion vested in the Court and the High Court will interfere in revision. A. I. R. 1934 All. 137. Where the Court in which a suit was instituted returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court, held that no revision lay to the High Court against the order of the appellate Court. A. L. R. 1934 Lah. 161. Where there is no question of jurisdiction involved in the case, no revision lies against an order of remand not covered by Order 41, rule 22. A. L. R. 1934 P. 46. Where an order is made without jurisdiction by the first appellate Court, though no second appeal will lie this order will be liable to be set aside by the High Court in revision. A. L. R. 1934 Lah. 55=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 79. Though s. 115 is inapplicable High Court can interfere if great deal of money can be saved to parties. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 503. Question of construction of letters cannot be examined in revision. A. I. R. 1934 All. 503. Interlocutory order can be revised by High Court. 50 Ind. Cas. 470. But the High Court cannot in exercising the special powers given by s. 115 enter into the question whether upon the facts a particular order is right or wrong and it is doubtful if it can extend to time fixed by the lower Court for the doing of a particular act. 30 C. L. J. 64=52 Ind. Cas. 4. The powers of High Court under s. 25 of the Small Cause Courts Act are wider than under s. 115. A. I. R. 1921 All. 325=19 A. L. J. 555=63 Ind. Cas. 435. Where the Small Cause Court Judge returned a plaint which had been first presented to, and returned by the Munsiff to be presented before the former, High Court can make such an order as would enable the plaintiff to have his action tried. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 368=2 P. L. T. 739=64 Ind. Cas. 891. No revision lies to the High Court from an order of remand passed by District Judge as a Court of appeal from the order of Assistant Collector under the Agra Tenancy Act. A. I. R. 1921 All. 236=19 A. L. J. 596=63 Ind. Cas. 891; see also 72 Ind. Cas. 1023=A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 16=10 O. L. J. 191. An improper order of the District Court refusing payment of money to the guardian of the person of a minor can be set aside in revision. 41 Ind. Cas. 240.* So long as a subordinate Court has arrived at a finding based on evidence before it, the High Court will not interfere in revision under s. 115. 34 Ind. Cas. 521. It is the privilege and prerogative of the High Court when once a record is brought before it which is so erroneous as manifestly to amount to an injustice, to exercise its powers of superintendence to revise such order or set it aside and direct such further proceedings to be taken as justice may require. A. I. R. 1920 Pat. 56=1 P. L. T. 467=56 Ind. Cas. 155. Putting the plaintiff to election regarding two causes of action joined in his plaint can be revised. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 436=16 L. W. 175=(1922) M. W. N. 453=43 M. L. J. 218=69 Ind. Cas. 966.

Wrong procedure is no ground for revision where substantial justice has been done. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 245=86 Ind. Cas. 756; A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1223=85 Ind. Cas. 750; A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 234=107 Ind. Cas. 815; 120 Ind. Cas. 174 (Lab.).

Where as case is transferred, the High Court in revision has authority to re-transfer it to the original Court even before the plaint is filed in the Court to which it was transferred. A. I. R. 1923 All. 249=21 A. L. J. 86=75 Ind. Cas. 495. Where a subordinate Court in spite of an express jurisdiction to pass an appealable order invents a novel form of procedure and makes a non-appealable order the High Court can revise the order. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh. 11=10 O. L. J. 209=74 Ind. Cas. 335. The enquiry by the High Court as to the jurisdiction is not confined to the lower appellate Court alone, it can also enquire whether the Court of first instance has failed to exercise its jurisdiction or not. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 163=80 Ind. Cas. 694. The High Court has jurisdiction to revise an order of the lower Court restoring a suit dismissed for default. A. I. R. 1929 All. 599=51 A. 908=117 Ind. Cas. 111. High Court cannot in revision correct an error of judgment. A. I. R. 1929 All. 581=(1929) A. L. J. 911=51 A. 957=121 Ind. Cas. 267; A. I. R. 1929 All. 683=1929 A. L. J. 961=119 Ind. Cas. 859.

The acts of a District Judge under Act XIV of 1920 are open to correction by the High Court under its revisional jurisdiction exercisable under s. 115. A. I. R. 1929 All. 581=1929 A. L. J. 911=51 A. 987=121 Ind. Cas. 267. Whether a party's pleader was authorized to state that his client would abide by the decision of the High Court in another suit, is one of fact on which no revision lies. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 416=120 Ind. Cas. 742. Order on election application if absolutely unjust is open to revision. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 935=103 Ind. Cas. 821; see also A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 282=12 N. L. J. 82=119 Ind. Cas. 682; but see A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 225=126 Ind. Cas. 97.

Where the execution application is time-barred but the executing Court entertains it but the same is thrown out in appeal, assuming there is right of appeal, it is a fit case for interference in revision. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 425=131 Ind. Cas. 561. An order directing an enquiry for mesne profits in a partition suit without specific notice to the opposite party is open to revision. 43 Ind. Cas. 458. Where facts and law applicable have been considered, decision though erroneous is not open to revision. 38 Ind. Cas. 129. Refusal to issue a sale certificate to an auction purchaser when he is otherwise entitled to it is an illegality and order can be revised. 1 P. L. T. 446=3 P. L. W. 78=38 Ind. Cas. 576. Where the High Court is satisfied that the subordinate Court has failed to exercise its inherent power to restore a suit for default, in a proper case it may interfere in revision. 122 Ind. Cas. 585. Revision lies against an improper order of remand. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 113=30 M. L. T. 314=16 L. W. 593=70 Ind. Cas. 665. In cases where no suit lies it is the practice of the High Court to interfere in revision. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 19=26 C. W. N. 169=70 Ind. Cas. 539. A revision lies where the finding is vitiated by an obvious error. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 111=5 N. L. J. 1. Misconstruction of a material document and omission to consider other evidence on record are sufficient grounds for interference in revision. L. R. 4 A. 248 Rev. A revision lies where the lower Court held a suit bad for misjoinder of cause of action and directed the plaintiff to elect which cause of action he would proceed with, in the suit. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 436=43 M. L. J. 318=(1922) M. W. N. 453=16 L. W. 175=69 Ind. Cas. 966. A decision omitting to take into consideration a material point which arises in the case is revisable. 10 L. B. R. 332=64 Ind. Cas. 361. An order refusing to set aside an execution sale after refusing to go into evidence adduced by the applicant on the ground that it was unnecessary can be revised. (1919) Pat. 60=49 Ind. Cas. 389. Suppression of an issue of limitation and refusal on the part of the Court to follow a statute of Legislature justify revision under s. 115. 27 P. W. R. 1920=116 P. L. R. 1920=55 Ind. Cas. 55. Where substantial justice has been done no revision will lie even though the decision be erroneous. 49 Ind. Cas. 311 ; see also 67 Ind. Cas. 742. Where a Court finds the loss of a document not proved and refuses to admit secondary evidence it cannot be said that it has refused to exercise jurisdiction or has exercised jurisdiction with material irregularity, nor is there any gross or palpable error to justify interference in revision. A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 288=121 Ind. Cas. 33. Revision lies where the lower Court's finding is obviously incorrect. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 104=19 N. L. J. 131=5 N. L. J. 1=67 Ind. Cas. 806.

Where a Lower Court decides a case on a question not arising in the case, a revision lies on that ground alone. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 80=129 Ind. Cas. 689. Interference in revision is discretionary and when likely to work against the interest of justice such a course should not be taken. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 417=127 Ind. Cas. 215. An erroneous decision on an issue is no ground for revision when the suit is pending. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 270=126 Ind. Cas. 538. Error of law or error of fact is no ground for interfering in revision. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 831=125 Ind. Cas. 274. Failure to mention importance of fresh evidence in review is no ground for revision. R. 1928 Lah. 550=110 Ind. Cas. 833. Where finding of fact is not based on due consideration of law it is open to revision. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 484=109 Ind. Cas. 696. An order for transfer made without notice to the other party can be set aside in revision. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 189=79 Ind. Cas. 614. Failure to examine to ascertain real points in dispute justifies interference in revision. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 191. Where the lower Court disregards the admissions in the pleadings and decides the case against the pleadings, High Court can interfere in revision. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 101=7 N. L. J. 13=21 N. L. R. 6=76 Ind. Cas. 46. Where High Court would not interfere even in second appeal it will not do so in revision. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 259=116 Ind. Cas. 133.

An application in revision is matter of discretion for the High Court and it will not interfere with an order though made without jurisdiction when interference with such order amounts to doing grave injustice. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 279=12 P. L. T. 249=126 Ind. Cas. 910. The High Court can interfere in revision if an application under Order XXI, rule 89, has been wrongly admitted. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 659=17 L. W. 680=76 Ind. Cas. 853. No revision lies where suit of Small Cause nature is tried on regular side and decree confirmed in appeal. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 352=47 M. L. J. 118=14 L. W. 349=66 Ind. Cas. 207. No revision lies where there is no prejudice and the order complained against does not affect applicant's interests. 66 Ind. Cas. 127 (Cal). A revision can lie where a decree-holder is deprived of his just remedy by an erroneous view of the Court. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 512=31 P. L. R. 105. Where the lower Court finds that the defendants evade service and refuse postal notices, and at the same time gives a finding that there is no due service the High Court can direct the lower Court to reconsider and come to a consistent conclusion. (1930) M. W. N. 1227. If the lower Court's method of arriving at the conclusion is irregular and the point at issue is misconceived there is sufficient ground for High Court's interference in revision. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 244=7 Rang. 300=119 Ind. Cas. 740 ; see also A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 347=120 Ind. Cas. 404 ; A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 884=48 M. L. J. 685 ; A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 518=4 P. L. T. 401=1 Pat. L. R. 89=72 Ind. Cas. 148.

A finding based upon no evidence can be interfered in revision. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 278=6 Lah. L. J. 593=86 Ind. Cas. 383. If a suit not maintainable at all, it might in some cases be advisable for the High Court to interfere and thus to prevent further waste of time and money. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 820=48 M. L. J. 534=87 Ind. Cas. 194 ; see also 48 M. L. J. 451=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 707=87 Ind. Cas. 113. Revisional powers are discretionary. A. I. R. 1925 All. 264=85 Ind. Cas. 660. Revision lies against order reducing interest without discretion. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 798=100 Ind. Cas. 75. No revision lies where there is no prejudice and the order complained against does not affect applicant's interests. 66 Ind. Cas. 127. A revision does not lie only on technical grounds. 63 Ind. Cas. 140. No revision lies when suit partly not triable by Small Cause Court but tried on merits without objection. A. I. R. 1925 All. 51=81 Ind. Cas. 870. Failure to treat a suit as an application for execution can be rectified in revision. A. I. R. 1921 Nag. 130. Where property attached before judgment is in Court, and decree is passed in the suit but the decree-holder does not apply for execution of his decree, and the holder of another decree applies for attachment of the property, the Court is entitled to order the attachment and failure to give notice to the other decree-holder does not merit revision under s. 115. A. I. R. 1921 Bom. 219=45 B. 360. Where the words are clearly susceptible of more than one interpretation the High Court will not interfere in revision on a mere question of interpretation of words in a document. A. I. R. 1923 All. 269=80 Ind. Cas. 313.

An order of remand can not be revised. A. I. R. 1913 All. 464=76 Ind. Cas. 525. In revision from decision of Small Cause Court, High Court can question decision on facts, if such decision is not justified by evidence. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 292=9 N. L. R. 72. Revision does not necessarily lie on score of exercise of jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 161=100 Ind. Cas. 37. Order of insufficiency of security furnished is not revisable. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 160=90 Ind. Cas. 1051. Decision of the Rangoon Small Cause Court under the Rangoon Municipal Act, 1922, are revisable. A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 367=4 Bur. L. J. 161=92 Ind. Cas. 780. Dismissal of suit for pleader's default is not open to revision. A. I. R. 1927 Ldh. 791=28 P. L. R. 204=9 Ldh. 80=101 Ind. Cas. 444. Application against appellate order sought to be revised can be regarded as application against order of trial Court. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 687=38 M. L. T. 358=26 L. W. 899=102 Ind. Cas. 700. Order granting extension of time if benefit of order has been already availed of, need not be set aside for legal point in upsetting order would be of use for further proceedings only. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 598=52 M. L. J. 595=101 Ind. Cas. 646. Whether the Court will interfere or not in revision is entirely for the Court, which hears the application, to decide on the particular circumstances of the case before it. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 341=49 B. 535=27 Bom. L. R. 423=87 Ind. Cas. 910. Order rejecting review is not revisable. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 594=12 O. L. J. 443=2 O. W. N. 419=88 Ind. Cas. 582. Order granting application made to set aside abatement is order that suit has not abated and is not meant to give or take away the right to continue suit and is therefore subject to revision. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 914=51 M. 701=28 L. W. 164=(1928) M. W. N. 434=55 M. L. J. 253 (F. B.)=112 Ind. Cas. 116.

Revision will lie in a case of mistake by the lower Court upon the fact or law on its merits, occasioned by not directing proper attention to Order XXI, r. 60, to find out whether the attached property was in the judgment-debtor's possession and whether objector was entitled to resist the claim of the decree-holder. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 225=49 C. L. J. 51=115 Ind. Cas. 362. Order refusing to correct arithmetical error is subject to revision. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 421=114 Ind. Cas. 635. Granting instalment is matter of discretion. Omission to give reasons is irregularity but no revision lies on that ground. A. I. R. 1925 All. 218=83 Ind. Cas. 133. The Court can extend the time for payment fixed by compromise decree if in its discretion it thinks that time is not of the essence of the contract and such an order is not subject to revision. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 387=7 Pat. 906=82 Ind. Cas. 505.

Case.—The word "case" in s. 115 has a wider connotation and includes more than a suit. A. I. R. 1936 Sind 205. In the case of a suit, it is the suit itself and not any branch of it which can be regarded as a "case" within the meaning of s. 115. 1935 O. W. N. 1158 (F. B.)=158 Ind. Cas. 949.

Record of any case which has been decided, etc.—"No definition is to be found in the Code of the word 'case.' It cannot, in their Lordships' view, be confined to a litigation in which there is a plaintiff who seeks to obtain particular relief in damages or otherwise against a defendant who is before the Court. It must, they think, include an ex parte application, such as that made in this case praying that persons in the position of trustees or officials should perform their trust or discharge their official duties." Per Lord Atkin's in Balakrishna v. Vasudeva, 40 Ind. Cas. 650=15 A. L. J. 545=2 P. L. W. 101=33 M. L. J. 69=26 C. L. J. 143=19 Bom. L. R. 715=40 M. 793 (P. C.)=22 C. W. N. 50. It includes proceedings under s. 10 of Act XX of 1863. Ibid. The word "case" in this section covers an interlocutory order. A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 17=130 Ind. Cas. 145 ; 14 C. 768 ; 72 P. W. R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 939. The word "case" is wider than "suit" or "appeal." 40 B. 86=17 Bom. L. R. 1097=33 Ind. Cas. 358. The use of the word "case" instead of "suit" in s. 115 indicates that the section contemplates legal proceedings which are not suits in the strict sense but which are governed by the provisions of the C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 744=34 C. W. N. 730=129 Ind. Cas. 367. "Case" is more comprehensive than "suit." Whereas all cases are not suits, every suit is at least a case. Case in section 115 is a case which has been decided. A. I. R. 1930 All. 750=1930 A. L. J. 901=52 A. 927=126 Ind. Cas. 1 ; see also 9 O. W. N. 339 ; A. I. R.

1931 Lah. 644=132 I. C. 850. "Case" can mean a proceeding. If any proceeding in a suit has terminated, it is a case decided. A. I. R. 1929 All. 743=1929 A. L. J. 918=51 A. 1010=122 Ind. Cas. 685.

"Case decided by a Court" means a matter disposed of effectually by the Court and not merely for the time being. A purely ad interim order that does not effectually dispose of the matter before the Court would not be "case decided". A. I. R. 1929 All. 531=51 A. 957=(1929) A. L. J. 911=121 Ind. Cas. 267. Where the Court below decides that it should proceed with a suit, it does not decide a case within the meaning of s. 115 and no revision lies. The question whether that a trial of a particular suit or issue should go on or should be stayed, is no question on the merits of the case but relates to a matter of procedure. A. I. R. 1929 All. 957=(1930) A. L. J. 235=121 Ind. Cas. 97. Refusal to issue a commission is not a case decided within the meaning of this section. A. I. R. 1929 Sind 92=23 S. L. R. 403=116 Ind. Cas. 97. The word "decided" in s. 622 of the old Code, is similar in its purport to the word "decided" in section 115. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 58=70 Ind. Cas. 484. The High Court will not generally interfere with interlocutory order unless an irreparable injury will be done and a miscarriage of justice will inevitably ensue. 38 C. W. N. 1945=60 C. L. J. 91; 1935 O. W. N. 1158 (F. B.)=158 Ind. Cas. 949. An order setting aside an ex parte decree is a case and is not an interlocutory order during the pendency of the suit. A. I. R. 1921 All. 294=(1931) A. L. J. 377; see also A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 379=7 Lah. 161=8 Lah. L. J. 267=27 P. L. R. 321=95 Ind. Cas. 124; A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 344=8 Lah. L. J. 870=27 P. L. R. 710=94 Ind. Cas. 117. Where in a suit against a firm an order refusing permission to a partner to file a written statement to resist the claim was passed: Held that as the order passed was not appealable and the partner would have no right of appeal from decree passed against the firm in his absence, the case is "case decided" within this section. A. I. R. 1930 All. 701=(1930) A. L. J. 1212=52 A. 951=132 Ind. Cas. 38. Where the original Court having no jurisdiction sends the suit to District Judge for transfer, and the District Judge passes an illegal order for transfer there is a case decided and revision lies. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 195=31 P. L. R. 302=125 Ind. Cas. 334. But the order of Court overruling the contention that according to the law governing the parties on oral will is not valid and directing further evidence to be produced with respect to the oral will is not tantamount to the decision of a 'case' and cannot be revised. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 418=127 Ind. Cas. 215. No revision is competent from an order refusing to take up and decide an issue of law before evidence is commenced. A. I. R. 1934 All. 986=1934 A. L. J. 1024. But an order of Court refusing to allow an amendment of the plaint amounts to a "case decided" under this section. 1935 A. L. J. 989; 1935 A. L. J. 309; 1935 M. L. J. 100; A. I. R. 1936 All. 686 (F. B.)=1936 A. L. J. 923. High Court interferes with great reluctance orders allowing application under Order 9, rule 9, C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 497=11 O. W. N. 1373. Where a Court grants an application for a certain amendment it can not be said that the case has been decided within the meaning of s. 115. A. I. R. 1934 All. 785=1934 A. L. J. 757. An order rejecting an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is a complete decision. 11 O. W. N. 1356=152 Ind. Cas. 417. A mere decision as to the amount of Court-fees payable does not amount to a case decided. A. I. R. 1934 All. 620 (F. B.)=1934 P. L. J. 381=149 Ind. Cas. 1183. An interlocutory order rejecting the application for examination of witnesses on commission cannot be said to amount to a 'decision' of the case. A. I. R. 1934 All. 37. The Court in framing issues or refusing to frame issues is in the language of s. 115 deciding a case, if the onus of proof is involved in the form of issues. A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 526. An order relating to an application for restoration of proceedings dismissed in default constitute a "case" within the meaning of s. 115. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 618. An order remitting issues for decision under Order 41, r. 25, C. P. Code, is not a "case decided". A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 333=1935 O. W. N. 352. A case cannot be said to be decided when an order disallowed questions to be put to witness. A. I. R. 1935 All. 599=1935 P. L. J. 549=156 Ind. Cas. 805 (F. B.).

An order for transfer of a case is revisable. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 189=78 Ind. Cas. 614. The proceeding to set aside an ex parte decree and the Court deciding it is a case within the section. (1931) A. L. J. 377=A. I. R. 1931 All. 293=133 Ind. Cas. 129 (F. B.). A finding on an issue whether a suit is barred by res judicata is not a case decided within the meaning of this section. 33 Bom. L. R. 1596. [18 B. 35; 22 Bom. L. R. 801; 26 B. 550; 47 A. 721; 5 Lah. 288 (F. B.); 11 I. A. 237; 44 I. A. 261; 47-A. 916; 43 A. 564 (F. B.) Foll; 40 B. 86; 5 R. 742; 48 B. 43; 25 A. 509; 29 Bom. L. R. 1551 Dist.]. Refusal of a Court to try the plea of res judicata as a preliminary issue cannot be revised. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 129=80 Ind. Cas. 628. An order granting or refusing leave to sue in forma pauperis is capable of revision. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 44=19 N. L. R. 165=75 Ind. Cas. 993 ; A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 318 ; but see A. I. R. 1931 All. 659=1931 A. L. J. 659.

An order staying a suit under s. 10 of the C. P. Code is not a decision of a case. 73 Ind. Cas. 247=A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 615. But proceedings relating to question of stay can be treated as a case. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 503=132 Ind. Cas. 222.

Finding on an interlocutory matter followed by an order is not a case decided. 33 Bom. L. R. 1596=135 Ind. Cas. 815=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 81=A. L. R. 1932 B. 155. An order setting aside an arbitration award disposes of a proceeding during the pendency of the suit, and the decision of the question whether the award is valid or not does not amount to the decision of a case within the meaning of this section. 53 A. 1006=136 Ind. Cas. 568=A. I. R. 1932 All. 452.

An order under s. 104, cl. (1), is a case decided in which no appeal lies within this section and is revisable. 17 Bom. L. R. 1097=40 B. 86=33 Ind. Cas. 358. Order resuming proceedings is "case decided" under this section. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 355=5 O. W. N. 604=3 Luck. 650 (F. B.)=111 Ind. Cas. 161. Proceedings under Order IX, r. 13, C. P. Code, is a case and revision lies. A. I. R. 1925 All. 610=48 A. 175=24 A. L. J. 56=90 Ind. Cas. 180. Interlocutory orders of deciding case on preliminary issue or admission of evidence are not revisable. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 185=89 Ind. Cas. 772. No application under s. 10 (Act XX of 1863) and Court's adjudication thereon constitutes a case. 40 Ind. Cas. 650 ; see also 40 M. 793=44 I. A. 261=15 A. L. J. 615=2 Pat. L. W. 108=33 M. L. N. 84=20 C. L. J. 213. Mr. Mukherjee J. said: "We may in this connection observe that it is competent to the Court to investigate the facts in revision, if the Court is satisfied that such step is needed in the ends of justice, as was done in the case of Kailash Chandra Halder v. Biswanath Paramanick, 1 C. W. N. 67. But we must guard against the possible assumption that the Court may, in a matter like this, in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction assume appellate powers. One aspect of the fundamental distinction between the exercise of appellate and revisional powers was explained in the case of Shivanath v. Jooma Kashinath, 7 B. 341. A Court in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction investigates the facts and if necessary substitute its own appreciation of the evidence for that of the primary Court. But when the Court as a Court of revision looks into the evidence, it does so with a view to determine whether the subordinate Court has assumed jurisdiction which it did not possess, or declined a jurisdiction which it did possess or has in the exercise of its jurisdiction acted illegally or with material irregularity. If this distinction were overlooked, the superior Court might, in the name of revisional jurisdiction, exercise appellate powers."

Clause (a)—Exercise of jurisdiction not vested.—"The particular events which justify interference are, first, where the Court has exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law ; secondly, where the Court has failed to exercise a jurisdiction which is vested in it by law ; and thirdly, where the Court has acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity." Per Jenkins C. J. in Shew Prosad v. Ramchundur, 41 C. 323=23 Ind. Cas. 977 (79). "There is no doubt that there is some variance of opinion as to the meaning of the term 'jurisdiction' in s. 115. According to one view the term 'jurisdiction' is here used in ordinary sense, that is a jurisdiction local, pecuniary, personal or with reference to the subject-matter of the suit. According to another view, the term may mean the legal authority of a Court to do certain things namely, to make a particular order in a case over which it has jurisdiction in the sense stated. According to my own view the former construction is the preferable one." Per Woodroff J. in ibid. But in Hur Prosad v. Jufor Ali, 7 A. 345, Mahmood J. observed : "The term jurisdiction as used by their Lordships of the Privy Council in Amir Husain Khan v. Shew Baksh Singh, 11 C. 6=11 I. A. 237, in its broad legal sense may be taken to mean the power of administering justice according to the means which the law has provided, and subject to the limitations imposed by that law upon the judicial authority." The High Court can set aside the order of the lower appellate Court for erroneously entertaining an appeal where none is competent. 5 Pat. L. J. 97=55 Ind. Cas. 15. The High Court can also interfere in revision when a Civil Court wrongly assumes jurisdiction to try a suit cognizable by a Revenue Court. 23 O. C. 281=56 Ind. Cas. 946. Where a Court entertains and decides an appeal which in law does not lie and is incompetent, the High Court will interfere in revision. 62 C. L. J. 530 ; see also A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 176=164 Ind. Section 115 of the Code clearly refers the clauses (a) and (b) to jurisdiction, which means the jurisdiction of the Court and not the competence of any party to sue. A finding that a party is not competent to sue is not therefore a finding affecting the Court's jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 783=165 Ind. Cas. 228. Allowing an application which is on its face time-barred ignoring s. 3 of the Limitation Act amounts to acting without jurisdiction so as to call for plaintiff the revisional powers of the High Court. 9 L. When after passing of a preliminary decree for accounts the case is transferred to another Court to deal with further proceedings of the case, the former Court having no jurisdiction to pass a decree for the amount founded due, the latter Court can by its discretion consider the question of a de novo trial, but the preliminary decree that has been passed must be taken into consideration as it cannot be set aside except in due course of law (i.e., by an appellate Court) and the latter Court can exercise its discretion to hold a de novo trial only from the stage after the passing of the preliminary decree, but cannot go behind it. Order holding trial de novo from the commencement is revisable. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 109=118 Ind. Cas. 537.

Where security has been filed but there is a clerical error as to the description of the property and the appellant has applied for its correction, the Court cannot by rejecting the application, reject the appeal. Clause (c)—Exercise of jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity.—Exercise of jurisdiction in a proper manner bars a revision. 19 A. L. J. 47=60 Ind. Cas. 899; see also A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 984=112 Ind. Cas. 710; A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 38. This clause cannot be invoked "when the question of jurisdiction is not involved" or at least a question of procedure, for example, proceeding in the absence of a necessary party to the suit. It must be something independent of the decision itself an irregularity or illegality in the manner of arriving at it, not in the conclusion reached. A good working test is whether if the decision had been the other way, would the illegality still be there? If not, the flaw must lie in the decision, and not in the manner in which it is reached. Consequently, if it would not be revisable, the test would not work in every case. But where it does, it could be decisive. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 157=164 Ind. Cas. 848. The High Court can interfere in revision under section 115, C. P. Code, where the Court by misinterpretation of a statute assumed jurisdiction in respect of a matter over which it would not have had jurisdiction if the statute had been rightly interpreted. 39 C. W. N. 915. Clause (c) has a distinct meaning from that of the other two clauses; it does not relate merely to irregularities in procedure; it has been advisedly left in indefinite language in order to empower the High Court to interfere and correct gross and palpable errors of subordinate Courts in the ends of justice. 38 C. W. N. 1146. This section applies to jurisdiction alone and High Court will not interfere in revision unless a grave injustice will otherwise be the result. A. I. R. 1931 All. 72=(1931) A. L. J. 13. Where the Courts below have wholly disregarded a High Court decree through an accident, the act though involuntary is an illegal exercise of jurisdiction within the meaning of this section. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 27=58 C. 111=34 C. W. N. 515=129 Ind. Cas. 308. Where the appellate Court has not been informed that the suit was stayed under s. 10 and it orders to take it up forthwith, thinking it to be pending without adequate cause the Court below if it proceeds with the suit acts improperly. A party aggrieved can ask the Court below to reconsider its order, although no revision is maintainable. A. I. R. 1929 All. 957=1930 A. L. J. 235=121 Ind. Cas. 97.

Judgment not properly expressed due to inexperience is no ground for revision. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 183=88 Ind. Cas. 577. In considering cl. (c) all that the legislature requires is, that the Court should consider whether the Court below having jurisdiction in the matter, did in the exercise of its jurisdiction acted illegally or with material irregularity. Any illegality or material irregularity may be a basis for revising the order of the lower Court, and it is left entirely to the Revision Court to determine whether there has been such illegality or material irregularity as will dispose it to interfere. If a question of jurisdiction is involved, the Court may act under clause (a) or (b). 1932 A. L. J. 801 (805, 807), Per Boys J. A mere error of law in deciding a case cannot be said to be an illegal or irregular exercise of jurisdiction. If the Court is competent to determine the question of law and determines it, the High Court cannot interfere in revision because it considers that decision to be erroneous in point of law. Per Niamatulla J. in Ibid; see also A. The Court commits a material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction if either (a) it appears that it did not apply its mind judicially to the question before it, or (b) if the materials before it, were not such as could reasonably be held to be materials on which the Court might, rightly or wrongly, hold that there was a formal defect or other sufficient reason ejusdem generis with formal defects under Order XXIII, rule 2. A. I. R. 1929 All. 683=(1929) A. L. J. 961=119 Ind. Cas. 859. Where a Court imports into a case its alleged knowledge of witnesses as habitual givers of false evidence, etc., Court acts improperly and with material irregularity. 39 Ind. Cas. 424.

The rejection of application for adjournment under Order XXII, rule 1, without giving reasons is material irregularity justifying a revision. 14 A. L. J. 425=33 Ind. Cas. 30. Omission to consider the question of estoppel is a material irregularity justifying a revision. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 60=3 Lah. L. J. 181=60 Ind. Cas. 716. A premature order discharging a surety can be revised under this section. 41 B. 402=19 Bom. L. R. 112=39 Ind. Cas. 88.

Misapprehension as to the nature of the contract entered into by the plaintiff is a material irregularity and a revision will lie. 56 Ind. Cas. 489. Arriving at a conclusion of law of fact without having considered the law or a material part of the evidence, or by misunderstanding or erroneously reconsidering the statement, and depositions of witness is a ground for revision, provided petitioner has suffered injustice thereby. 9 L. B. R. 263=12 Bur. L. T. 5=47 Ind. Cas. 781; see also 56 Ind. Cas. 982; A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 456=21 L. W. 21=86 Ind. Cas. 178. Where appellate Court sets up a new case, a revision lies from its decision. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 73=98 Ind. Cas. 866. Where decree has once been made in a suit, a suit cannot be dismissed unless reversed in appeal. And if a trial Court, having fixed a date for further proceedings under directions of appellate Court modifying the preliminary decree, dismisses the suit on that date under Order IX, rule 9, such a dismissal is wrong and a revision will lie over it. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 158=30 L. W. 979=53 M. 395=57 M. L. J. 781=124 Ind. Cas. 605. Court cannot set aside election on mere ground of non-compliance with provisions of Act or Rules. It must further find that its result would have been different, had that irregularity not occurred. Failure of the Court to come to this finding is material irregularity and therefore revisable. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 257=119 Ind. Cas. 145.

Decision of suit on grounds not raised by parties and to which no evidence is directed amounts to substantial error or defect of procedure and revision lies. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 341=73 Ind. Cas. 41. A decision based not merely on a forced and impossible construction of the facts but on importation of facts admitted by both parties not to exist falls under this section. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 108=65 Ind. Cas. 881. Amendment of sale-certificate at the instance of auction-purchaser without notice to judgment-debtor amounts to acting with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 63=63 L. W. 760=65 Ind. Cas. 732=(1922) M. W. N. 130. Remand of the whole case by an appellate Court after a finding on one issue only amounts to material irregularity. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 113=16 L. W. 593=30 M. L. T. 314=70 Ind. Cas. 655. Where the lower Court does not pay heed to the provisions of s. 99, it acts with irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 402=93 Ind. Cas. 938. Where lower Appellate Court has misread a ruling of the Court and refused to entertain an application of a party which is really maintainable, material irregularity is committed. A. I. R. 1926 All. 305=48 A. 286=24 A. L. J. 286=92 Ind. Cas. 567. An order refusing to set aside an order of dismissal of suit for default without considering the existence of sufficient cause for non-appearance of the plaintiff is open to revision. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 177=(1922) M. W. N. 822=18 L. W. 837=70 Ind. Cas. 38. Where defendant is alleged to be of unsound mind but the plaintiff denies the fact, appointment of a guardian ad litem of the defendant only after an interview by him by the Court, amounts to a material irregularity and the order is revisable. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 86=70 Ind. Cas. 307.

Reversing judgment of a lower Court on a new question not raised by the parties and without sufficient material for so doing amounts to acting with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 357=80 Ind. Cas. 724. Order of dismissal of suit for absence of plaintiff at defendant's evidence is not material irregularity. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 933=2 O. W. N. 432=89 Ind. Cas. 418. Ordinarily when a Court acts on evidence which has not been proved or which is inadmissible in evidence, it does not act without jurisdiction but acts with material irregularity or illegality in exercising its jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1926 All. 161=23 A. L. J. 961=89 Ind. Cas. 22. Where the lower appellate Court has misread entirely the findings submitted to it by remand, Court acts with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 933=2 O. W. N. 432=89 Ind. Cas. 418. Where the defendant objects to the valuation of the plaint it is a material irregularity for the Court to refuse to frame an issue and decide it. The High Court can set aside the order in revision. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 134=(1922) M. W. N. 692=69 Ind. Cas. 542. In a pre-emption suit assuming, as the value for purposes of jurisdiction, the market value at the time of the suit instead of that at the time of the sale is a material irregularity and revision lies. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 380=69 Ind. Cas. 650. Non-joinder of Receiver in execution proceedings for sale amounts to material irregularity and justifies revision. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 144=43 M. L. J. 211=(1922) M. W. N. 745=16 L. W. 322=31 M. L. T. 290=47 M. 47=71 Ind. Cas. 293. Coming to certain conclusion without evidence and omitting to consider point of law required by law to decide, amounts to material irregularity. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 503=(1923) M. W. N. 159=32 M. L. T. 293=44 M. L. J. 409=72 Ind. Cas. 137. An order granting sanction to prosecute based on evidence which is legally inadmissible is open to revision. A. I. R. 1923 All. 601=21 A. L. J. 399=24 Cr. L. J. 900=75 Ind. Cas. 148. An order to furnish security for mesne profits is not without jurisdiction but passing such an order amounts to material irregularity within s. 115. A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 11=10 O. L. J. 209=74 Ind. Cas. 335.

Where a Court does not purport to act under s. 151 an order for sale without a prayer can be revised. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 911=20 L. W. 488=1924 M. W. N. 547. An improper order passed after investigation or failure to investigate a claim under Order 21, rule 63 amounts to material irregularity and revision lies. A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 195=2 Bur. L. J. 134=76 Ind. Cas. 677. Transfer by a District Judge of cross suits pending in two different Courts, on application of one party, and without notice to the other amounts to material irregularity. 2 U. P. L. R. 162=23 O. C. 216=7 O. L. J. 523. Where there is an application for entering up satisfaction put in by the decree-holder the Court in allowing the application to be withdrawn acts with material irregularity especially when the judgment-debtor pleads discharge. 35 M. L. J. 252=51 Ind. Cas. 411. Reversing order of reference after the submission of award and setting aside the award on the ground of some supposed defect in the order amounts to material irregularity and revision lies. 43 A. 305=19 A. L. J. 33=60 Ind. Cas. 857. If on erroneous view of law as to limitation Court shuts out evidence offered, it acts with material irregularity justifying revision. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 251=48 C. 119=60 Ind. Cas. 801. A Court deciding objection to an award without notice to the objector of the date of hearing acts with material irregularity and its order is liable to be revised. 64 Ind. Cas. 394. But where instead of allowing additional evidence under Order XLI, rule 27, C. P. Code an appellate Court remands the case for re-trial, the irregularity in procedure is not such as to justify interference in revision. 31 M. L. T. 182 (H. C.)=16 L. W. 515=69 Ind. Cas. 826. An order directing further evidence to be taken by trial Court in an appeal against dismissal of suit under Order XVII, rule 3, without expressly setting aside the decree passed by lower Court amounts to acting with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 117=1 Rang. 656=79 Ind. Cas. 482; see also A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 515=78 Ind. Cas. 149. Where both the plaintiff and defendant are residents of one place outside the jurisdiction and the plaintiff is examined on commission but defendant was not so examined, though he is served with summons at that place, omission to examine him amounts to material irregularity. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 541=46 M. L. J. 131=34 M. L. T. 314=(1924) M. W. N. 191=78 Ind. Cas. 407.

Where in disposing of an objection under Order 21, rule 58, the Court failed to decide the question of possession it acts with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 666=132 Ind. Cas. 666. The judge is not obliged to refer to the evidence under Order 20, rule 4, but if he does so and his reference indicates that he did not consider a material portion of the evidence, the High Court is entitled to interfere in revision. 35 C. W. N. 1242. In a pre-emption suit, order of the Court to distribute shares among pre-emptors on a wrong basis can be interfered in revision on the ground of irregularity. 35 C. W. N. 1058. Order in a redemption suit, illegally discharging the mortgagor defendant can be interfered in revision. 8 O. W. N. 1143=A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 410. Where a Court sets aside an order of dismissal without taking into consideration the evidence produced by the parties and without any reference to the pleadings involved in the case, the order in question is vitiated by a material irregularity and can be set aside in revision. 132 Ind. Cas. 431=1931 A. L. J. 962=A. I. R. 1931 All. 452. Where the application for leave to sue in forma pauperis was rejected by the lower Court on mere conjecture that the applicant is not a pauper, the order can be revised. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 318. If the result of the amendment allowed by the lower Court to convert the suit into one of another and different character by the addition of the prayer for a relief barred by limitation at the date of the plaint, it is a case of material irregularity which should be put right by revision. 133 Ind. Cas. 497=33 L. W. 648=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 542=61 M. L. J. 316. Where lower Court rejected an application for amendment of decree under s. 152, but the decree was not in accordance with the intention of the Judge who passed it, a revision lay against such an order. 8 O. W. N. 1121=A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 422. Where in a petition under Order 21, rule 100, the lower Court asked the decree-holder to begin his case and examine his witnesses before the examination of the claimant's witnesses, is a serious irregularity. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 534=132 Ind. Cas. 301. Where the appeal is out of time and the lower Court dismissed it without considering extension of time, it acts with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 260=145 Ind. Cas. 153. Where the Court confirms the sale before adjudicating upon applications under Order 21, rule 90, it acts with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1933 All. 137=145 Ind. Cas. 732. If the Court refuses a party a right to lead evidence on a matter on which the parties are at issue, it exercises its jurisdiction with such material irregularity as to vitiate its order. 144 Ind. Cas. 461=14 Pat. L. T. 300=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 278. There is a material irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction, if there is no proper consideration of pleadings and the evidence. 144 Ind. Cas. 834=29 N. L. R. 164=A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 188 ; see also 14 P. L. T. 338=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 284. The conclusion of the Court that there has been an unnecessary delay for the claim would not, of course, be open to revision by the High Court. But the Court cannot come to the conclusion whether there has been an unnecessary delay without considering any explanation that might be offered on behalf of the objector. 145 Ind. Cas. 444=1933 A. L. J. 1177=A. I. R. 1933 All. 751. The refusal of the Court to allow an amendment in order to enable the controversial matter between the parties to be settled once for all amounts to failure to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law. 55 A. 256=145 Ind. Cas. 859=1933 A. L. J. 268=A. I. R. 1933 All. 374.

Revision from interlocutory orders.—It is not the practice of High Courts to allow revision of interlocutory orders which can not be questioned in appeal and revision will lie in such cases only when great inconvenience or injustice would otherwise result. A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 51 ; 121 Ind. Cas. 672 ; A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 569=165 Ind. Cas. 131 ; 1936 A. M. L. J. 4 ; A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 90=154 Ind. Cas. 615 ; A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 466=13 Rang. 595 ; A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 479=149 Ind. Cas. 126. No revision lies from an order under s. 10, C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 662 ; 113 Ind. Cas. 116 (Sind). Judicial Commissioner's Court cannot interfere in revision with interlocutory orders even in exceptional circumstances. A. I. R. 1930 Sind 265=24 S. L. R. 277=127 Ind. Cas. 673 (F. B.). According to Madras High Court, High Court is competent to revise interlocutory orders or proceedings. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 121=113 Ind. Cas. 646. But High Court will interfere with an interlocutory order only when it is perverse or will result in irreparable injury to party. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 524 ; (1927) M. W. N. 218 ; see also A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1047 (F. B.)=51 M. L. J. 500=97 Ind. Cas. 921 ; A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 846=47 M. 934=47 M. L. J. 460=20 L. W. 533 ; (1924) M. W. N. 863=80 Ind. Cas. 604. An interlocutory order rejecting the claim of a person to be a legal representative of a deceased plaintiff is revisable. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 813=47 M. L. J. 370=35 M. L. T. 82=(1924) M. W. N. 763=80 Ind. Cas. 942. The Court will also interfere in revision with an interlocutory order, only in such cases as where the Court below has acted perversely or in a manner as to cause irreparable loss to plaintiff. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 690=45 M. L. J. 703=18 L. W. 198=(1923) M. W. N. 403=76 Ind. Cas. 207. Where there is no direction as to mesne profits in the preliminary decree an order of the Court directing Commissioner to ascertain mesne profits before final decree cannot be revised. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 43=16 L. W. 312=(1922) M. W. N. 562=31 M. L. T. 180=74 Ind. Cas. 591. In the case of a witness not under the control of the party asking for the commission, who resides beyond the jurisdiction fixed under Order XVI, rule 19(b), a commission should issue as a matter of right, unless the Court is satisfied that a party is merely abusing its authority to issue process; and any order refusing issue of commission as above, is liable to be set aside in revision. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 321=46 M. 574=(1923) M. W. N. 157=17 L. W. 251=44 M. L. J. 202=71 Ind. Cas. 530. But there is no revision against an order granting temporary injunction. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 172=(1922) M. W. N. 303=16 L. W. 238=70 Ind. Cas. 713.

The use of the revisional power would be justified where the lower Court has decided that the suit is not bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 174=43 M. L. J. 277=(1922) M. W. N. 316=16 L. W. 186=70 Ind. Cas. 684. An order refusing to stay a suit where the same question is in issue between the parties in two different suits is revisable. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 88=16 L. W. 607. So also an order refusing to stay the suit where the same question is in issue between the parties in two different suits is revisable. Ibid. But the High Court has the power in revision to interfere with an interlocutory order only in extreme cases. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 321=15 L. W. 667=(1922) M. W. N. 521=68 Ind. Cas. 167.

High Court will not interfere in revision with interlocutory orders except in special circumstances. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 831=125 Ind. Cas. 112. Where the lower Court decided wrongly the question of jurisdiction and on such wrong decision gave itself jurisdiction, the High Court will interfere. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 159=116 Ind. Cas. 172. High Court will interfere in revision only when irreparable injury would be caused if revision is refused. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 1149=53 C. 767=30 C. W. N. 907=98 Ind. Cas. 615; A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1118=85 Ind. Cas. 619; 82 Ind. Cas. 1008=40 C. L. J. 191=28 C. W. N. 991=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 204. An order wrongly refusing to grant commission for examination of witnesses, is revisable. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 42=35 C. L. J. 78=68 Ind. Cas. 9.

Interlocutory order according to Allahabad High Court is not subject to appeal. A. I. R. 1928 All. 97=50 A. 276=25 A. L. J. 991=108 Ind. Cas. 735; 39 A. 254=15 A. L. J. 227=38 Ind. Cas. 828; but see 18 A. L. J. 486=58 Ind. Cas. 729. An order of a Subordinate Judge allowing a plaintiff to put in an application conditional on the payment of a certain amount of costs is not revisable. 24 O. C. 215=64 Ind. Cas. 211. Interlocutory orders are open to attack in an appeal from final orders under s. 105 and therefore not revisable. 24 O. C. 215=64 Ind. Cas. 211. An order deciding preliminary issues in a suit is not open to revision where such order would be appealable after the final decision of the suit. 2 U. P. L. R. (All) 157=56 Ind. Cas. 248. Where a case is still pending interlocutory orders passed during the course of hearing cannot be made the subject of revision, unless they determine the case, so far as the party applying for revision is concerned, or concluded the claim otherwise in a manner not open to appeal. 5 O. L. J. 430=47 Ind. Cas. 676. An order of remand is not an interlocutory order for the purposes of revision. A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 177=26 O. C. 10=10 O. L. J. 36=73 Ind. Cas. 591. An interlocutory order made with the object of collecting materials upon which the case is to be determined thereafter is not revisable. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 189=11 O. L. J. 692=28 O. C. 78=80 Ind. Cas. 612.

The Chief Court of Lahore will interfere with interlocutory orders only in exceptional cases. 26 P. L. R. 1917=40 Ind. Cas. 65; 64 Ind. Cas. 387; 42 Ind. Cas. 221=164 P. W. R. 1917; but see 149 P. W. No revision lies against an interlocutory order save where irreparable loss would otherwise occur. 20 P. W. R. 1919=49 Ind. Cas. 470. No revision lies against an interlocutory order when the applicant has another remedy open to him. 120 P. W. R. 1918=46 Ind. Cas. 189; 95 Ind. Cas. 173 (Lah.). No revision lies to the Chief Court from an interlocutory order, where the final decree to be passed would be appealable. 76 P. L. R. 1916=36 Ind. Cas. 57. The power of revision in the case of interlocutory order should be exercised in a case where inter alia, the waste of time, money and trouble involved by the re-opening of the proceedings could never be repaired. 77 P. R. 1919=52 Ind. Cas. 859. An order allowing a party to produce fresh evidence on an issue after closing the case was held as not open to revision. 17 P. W. R. 1931=59 Ind. Cas. 450. Revision lies in the case of interlocutory orders where otherwise irreparable damage would result to the parties. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 100=4 Lah. L. J. 176=29 P. L. R. 1922=65 Ind. Cas. 282. Entertaining an appeal from an interlocutory order amounts to assumption of jurisdiction not vested in the Court. 2 Lah. L. J. 673=67 Ind. Cas. 278. Even when the order is not of an interlocutory nature the High Court should not interfere except in cases where the order is not a final order such as one under Order 41, rule 25. 2 Lah. L. J. 662=67 Ind. Cas. 269. Interlocutory order deciding a question as to place of trial can be interfered in revision. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 72=86 Ind. Cas. 395. Where suits for declaration that certain documents are void and for injunction to restrain opposite party from proceeding to arbitration under arbitration clause are filed the order of Court staying suit and asking parties to proceed with arbitration is final and revision lies from it. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 66=130 Ind. Cas. 769. Orders refusing amendment of plaint or refusing permission to withdraw suit on the ground that it is defective in form are not open to revision being interlocutory orders. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 589=31 P. L. R. 456=122 Ind. Cas. 105.

An interlocutory order is not capable of revision except where the order complained against is such as is calculated to cause irreparable loss to the injured party and there is no right of appeal and no remedy available to the party. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 673=5 P. L. T. 425=3 Pat. 930=80 Ind. Cas. 667; see also A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 575=97 Ind. Cas. 353; 72 Ind. Cas. 148=A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 518=4 P. L. T. 401; A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 598=3 P. L. T. 638. Where the record of a case has been sent for by the High Court, it would not be exercising a wise discretion to refuse to interfere on the mere ground that the order is an interlocutory one. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 359=4 Pat. L. J. 195=(1922) Pat. 79=50 Ind. Cas. 470. The High Court will interfere with an interlocutory order directing the trial of certain issues in a case before trying others. 2 P. L. T. 154=60 Ind. Cas. 528. Revision from erroneous preliminary decision is bad and should be permitted in special circumstances only. 110 Ind. Cas. 78.

Court in appeal is not to revise an order which though not appealable can be called into question in appeal. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 599=29 Bom. L. R. 1355=107 Ind. Cas. 50. Rejection of evidence as inadmissible is no ground of revision. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 664=29 Bom. L. R. 304=101 Ind. Cas. 385. The High Court has the power to call for the record of a case in which the question of jurisdiction is involved, even if it be in an interlocutory stage. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 67=48 B. 43=25 Bom. L. R. 992=77 Ind. Cas. 241. The High Court will not interfere with interlocutory orders passed by a Court while a suit is pending. 22 Bom. L. R. 801=44 B. 619=57 Ind. Cas. 556. Interlocutory orders will not be interfered with in revision unless for most cogent reasons and to prevent immediate injuries. 43 Ind. Cas. 684. An interlocutory order passed in an appealable case cannot be revised. 41 Ind. Cas. 942.

An interlocutory order is open to revision if it goes to the root of the case and allows the continuance of a litigation which the lower Court has no jurisdiction to allow. 15 N. L. R. 21=49 Ind. Cas. 34; see also 55 Ind. Cas. 739; 60 Ind. Cas. 481. The High Court can interfere with order on interlocutory application by way of setting it aside when no appeal lies directly from an order and when sufficient grounds exist preemptorily calling for its interference even though the substance of the order may be one that could be brought up on appeal from the final decree in the suit. A. I. R. 1921 L. B. 6=11 L. B. R. 65=64 Ind. Cas. 821. Where the interests of justice requires the amendment which was refused, the High Court may interfere in revision. 67 Ind. Cas. 335. A wrongly passed order staying a suit in contravention of s. 10 though interlocutory is open to revision. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 69=33 P. W. R. 1922=69 Ind. Cas. 111. Order of refusal to stay suit under s. 10, C. P. Code, is also revisable. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 144=82 Ind. Cas. 234. But no revision lies against an interlocutory order if the decree that might be passed in suit is appealable. 71 Ind. Cas. 911. The determination of one of the issues in the case does not afford a ground for revision unless the decision goes to the root of the jurisdiction of the trial Court to determine the remaining issues. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 673=5 P. L. T. 425=(1924) Pat. 254=3 Pat. 930=80 Ind. Cas. 667.

It is not usual to interfere in revision in the case of interlocutory order. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 62=79 Ind. Cas. 911. Interlocutory orders against which no appeal can lie but the correctness of which can be challenged in an appeal against the final decree on the suit can be revised. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 108=80 Ind. Cas. 375. Where the only interlocutory order passed is to adjourn the matter to give the defendant time to reply, even if the order was inexpedient, the Court cannot interfere. A. I. R. 1924= Nag. 417=7 N. L. J. 183=78 Ind. Cas. 969. Orders not passed in the course of proceedings in the suit or orders passed in separate proceedings after the suit has terminated one way or the other are revisable. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 642=96 Ind. Cas. 830. Interlocutory order which involves principle and question of jurisdiction is open to revision. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 131=106 Ind. Cas. 57. Order of restoration of suit dismissed for default not being interlocutory order is subject to revision. 107 Ind. Cas. 395. Refusal to grant temporary injunction is no ground for revision. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 222=107 Ind. Cas. 908. No revision lies against an order staying the trial of suit. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 69=33 P. W. R. 1922=69 Ind. Cas. 111. Declining to entertain objection of defendant, before passing a decree absolute under Order XXXIV, r. 5 (2) does not call for a revision. 5 P. L. J. 342. No revision lies against an order issuing a warrant of attachment against the properties of witness. 4 O. L. J. 450=42 Ind. Cas. 42.

An order refusing to extend time for setting aside an abatement under Order XXII, rule 9, or for an application for review is not open to revision. 25 M. L. T. 116=(1918) M. W. N. 883=9 L. W. 166=49 Ind. Cas. 268. Declining to entertain objection of defendant, before passing a decree absolute under Order 34, rule 5 (2), does not call for revision. 5 P. L. J. 342. Where an objection to the place of suing is overruled and embodied in a formal order the High Court has power to revise the order. 41 A. 602=17 A. L. J. 718=1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 120=51 Ind. Cas. 331. An order refusing a claim under Order 21, rule 58, to property, which has been ordered to be sold under a mortgage decree is not revisable. 26 C. W. N. 50=68 Ind. Cas. 271. Where a Court dismisses a suit under Order IX, r. 8, C. P. Code before the receipt of the report of a Commissioner appointed in the suit, the order of dismissal can be set aside in revision under s. 115. 54 Ind. Cas. 568. Where a judgment-debtor deposits money under Order XXI, r. 89, without an application to set aside the sale and the sale is confirmed and the Court gives notice to the judgment-debtor to take away the money, High Court cannot entertain an application in revision to set aside that order. 43 B. 735=21 Bom. L. R. 835=53 Ind. Cas. 135. An order by a trial Court, enforcing on application the order made by a liquidator under s. 47 (2) (b) cannot be revised. A. I. R. 1929 Rang 113=118 Ind. Cas. 403. An order setting aside an abatement cannot be interfered in revision on the ground of want of sufficient cause to pass the order. 63 Ind. Cas. 230 (All). An order of a Court deciding that it has jurisdiction to entertain a suit is not revisable. 40 P. W. R. 1926=59 Ind. Cas. 680. An order setting aside an order rejecting an appeal for failure of the appellant to give security for costs, is not open to revision when it is made in the interest of the justice. 18 A. L. J. 838=2 U. P. L. R. 283 (All)=42 A. 626=60 Ind. Cas. 81. Where the lower Court dismissed for default an application for setting aside an ex parte decree without considering whether there was sufficient cause for the non-appearance of the petitioner, High Court set aside the order and directed restoration of the application. 49 Ind. Cas. 745; see also A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 14. An application for probate of a Will was opposed by the daughter's son's son of the grand-father of the testator and the propounder was a perfect stranger to the family. The High Court held, that the order of the District Judge could be revised under s. 115. 24 C. W. N. 316=31 C. L. J. 81=56 Ind. Cas. 122. The High Court has jurisdiction under this section to revise an interlocutory order passed by a subordinate Court from which no appeal lies to the High Court. But it is only when irremediable injury will be done and a miscarriage of justice inevitably will ensue that the Court will intervene. 11 Rang. 36=143 Ind. Cas. 525=A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 49; 134 Ind. Cas. 118; A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 193=131 Ind. Cas. 503. The word 'case' is wide enough to include an interlocutory order and even though there may be an appeal from the final decree, that consideration will not prevent interference in revision. 134 Ind. Cas. 744=9 Rang. 71=A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 136.

New plea.—A plea of estoppel cannot be entertained for the first time in revision. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 77=22 N. L. R. 118=80 Ind. Cas. 946. Point as to res judicata cannot be raised for the first time in revision. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 532=13 L. W. 289=62 Ind. Cas. 480. Objection as to non-joinder cannot be raised in the first instance in a revision where right to objection accrued during the suit. 46 Ind. Cas. 648. So also fresh question of limitation cannot be raised. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 381=45 C. L. J. 555=103 Ind. Cas. 69. Fresh question of jurisdiction cannot also be raised. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 381=45 C. L. J. 229=102 Ind. Cas. 125 ; but see 162 Ind. Cas. 416=A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 97. The general rule is that in revision fresh point cannot be considered, whether it be of law or of fact. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 461=6 P. L. T. 295=87 Ind. Cas. 381 ; 40 C. L. J. 197=A. I. From what order revision is competent.—Order refusing to restore an application for review dismissed in default is revisable. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 430=81 Ind. Cas. 1017. Order refusing to restore a case dismissed for default is revisable. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 409=2 N. L. J. 145=95 Ind. Cas. 260. An order under s. 34 (d) is also open to revision by the High Court. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 89=4 Lah. L. J. 272=79 Ind. Cas. 178. Order, bringing non-contesting defendants on record at the instance of contesting defendants on application to restore suit being wrong can be revised. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 814=39 C. L. J. 367=83 Ind. Cas. 958. Order under s. 73, is not ordinarily revisable. 74 Ind. Cas. 140. The High Court will not interfere in revision ordinarily with order of lower Court determining that in its view there was no good ground for a review of its order rejecting an appeal under Order XLI, r. 10 (2). 32 Ind. Cas. 86. An error in the appointment of a guardian ad litem is not ordinarily revisable. 3 P. L. W. 92=46 Ind. Cas. 316. Order under s. 34 of the Guardians and Wards Act are open to revision. 55 Ind. Cas. 587. The order of the Court rejecting an application for restoration of suit dismissed under Order IX, rr. 2 and 3, is not open to revision. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 440=129 Ind. Cas. 755.

An order setting aside an ex parte decree is not like a finding of the Court in a pending suit that it has jurisdiction to try the suit and cannot be set aside by High Court in revision. A. I. R. 1931 All. 294=(1931) A. L. J. 377 ; see also 96 Ind. Cas. 782=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 637 ; 64 Ind. Cas. 527=A. I. R. 1922 All. 441=19 A. L. J. 907 ; but see A. I. R. 1921 Oudh 142=24 O. C. 282=64 Ind. Cas. 303.

Not an appeal but a revision lies on an order granting mortgagee interest on mortgage money for the time during which sale proceeds of mortgaged property are lying in Court. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 127=118 Ind. Cas. 416. Order granting adjournment without fixing time for payment of process-fee followed by an order of dismissal for want of prosecution is a wrong order and can be set aside in revision. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 298=79 Ind. Cas. 123. Where the lower Court has postponed the consideration of an application for review, there can be no appeal in as much as the order can not be construed as a final order. The only remedy is revision under s. 115. A. I. R. 1929 All. 375=119 Ind. Cas. 561. Order that application could be filed being no order at all can be revised. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 215=51 M. 244=27 L. W. 320=54 M. L. J. 154=106 Ind. Cas. 660.

Orders as to (1) misjoinder of parties (2) non-joinder of parties and (3) misjoinder of parties and cause of action can be revised. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 174=(1922) M. W. N. 316=16 L. W. 186=43 M. L. J. 277=70 Ind. Cas. 684. Ordinarily orders in rateable distribution cases are not revisable unless they involve any question of jurisdiction. 14 L. W. 582=(1921) M. W. N. 817=70 Ind. Cas. 20. An order refusing to restore a suit dismissed for default merely on the ground that it would fail on merits, is revisable under s. 115. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 177=18 L. W. 837=(1922) M. W. N. 822=70 Ind. Cas. 38. Revision does not lie against an order rejecting an application for review except where an obvious injustice has to be denied. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 400=71 Ind. Cas. 160. Where a suit was dismissed by the trial Court for want of jurisdiction and the lower appellate Court remanded the case for action under Order VII, r. 8, the order of remand is revisable. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 524=73 Ind. Cas. 755.

Where decree-holder is prevented from reaping benefit of decree, revision is competent for the ends of justice. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 534=132 Ind. Cas. 301. Where the trial Court extended time for paying deficit Court-fee after passing of the decree, the order can be set aside in revision. 129 Ind. Cas. 732=A. I. R. 1931 All. 318. The practice of the Lahore High Court is not to revise an order passed under s. 73, C. P. Code. 134 Ind. Cas. 195.

Arbitration.—No revision is maintainable from an order setting aside an award. A. I. R. 1925 All. 458=47 A. 121=85 Ind. Cas. 502. Filing award by Court having no jurisdiction is revisable. A. I. Where an award grants a joint decree against defendants as heirs of the deceased but the award is set aside, one defendant not being party to reference the High Court will not interfere. A. I. R. 1931 All. 242=(1931) A. L. J. 100=130 Ind. Cas. 291. Where an award is tainted with misconduct but has done substantial justice and a decree is passed in terms of the award the High Court will not interfere in revision. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 53=129 Ind. Cas. 428=34 C. W. N. 689=58 C. 289; 157 Ind. Cas. 1017=A. I. R. 1935 All. 456. The High Court has power to interfere in revision and set aside an award, though it has been filed and confirmed as a decree of Court, of the arbitrators or the Court have exceeded their jurisdiction or acted with material irregularity in the conduct of proceedings. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 184=1935 M. W. N. 263=41 L. W. 51. No revision lies against decree in accordance with award, after disallowing objection but declining that the arbitrator had excluded the terms of reference. 1935 O. W. N. 1036=158 Ind. Cas. 11; 1935 O. W. N. 920=157 Ind. Cas. 649; 38 P. L. R. 788. Where the order of the Court passed on an award of the arbitrator is an interlocutory order, no revision lies against it. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 466=38 P. L. R. 725. Ordinarily an application under this section does not lie for setting aside an award but such an application is maintainable on question of jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1936 Sind 172=30 S. L. R. 271. A mistaken view as to what amounted to misconduct of arbitrators is no ground for revision. 117 P. R. 1916=107 P. W. R. 1916=70 P. L. R. 1917=34 Ind. Cas. 192. No revision lies against an order superseding an award on misconstruction of terms of reference. A. I. R. 1922 All. 64=20 A. L. J. 117=65 Ind. Cas. 779. Where case is referred to arbitration without party's consent and without permitting him to file objection, the decree can be set aside in revision for want of jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 171=114 Ind. Cas. 712. Wrongful staying of suit for being referred to arbitration is open to revision. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 275=52 B. 420=30 Bom. L. R. 661=111 Ind. Cas. 641. The High Court has power to interfere in revision in cases where reference to arbitration has been made contrary to the provisions of C. P. Code, Sch. II. A. I. R. 1930 Sind 256=24 S. L. R. 470=124 Ind. Cas. 374. Where the procedure or jurisdiction of the Judge is not attacked but only his findings as to misconduct of the arbitrator, no revision lies. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 688=11 Lah. L. J. 275=119 Ind. Cas. 721. Superseding award on the ground of misconduct of the arbitrator because he had made 'private inquiries about subject-matter in dispute behind the back of the parties' notwithstanding that such power was conferred on arbitrator under reference, amounts to acting illegally and with material irregularity so as to attract revisional powers of High Court. A. I. R. 1922 All. 69=20 A. L. J. 125=64 Ind. Cas. 934. Where jurisdiction of the Court to make order of reference is attacked, High Court has power to revise. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 52=44 C. L. J. 224=98 Ind. Cas. 803. Where the question whether the arbitration should be superseded or should be continued is settled by the Court directing that the arbitration should continue and another person is appointed to act as arbitrator the order is one deciding a case within the meaning of s. 115. A. I. R. 1929 All. 144=51 A. 501=(1929) A. L. J. 182=115 Ind. Cas. 611. An order under the last portion of rule 17 (4), Sch. In cases of awards a Court should not interfere unless it finds out not only an illegality committed but some substantial harm resulting from that illegality. 1931 M. W. N. 961=34 L. W. 725=61 M. L. J. 761. Where a Court accepts an award filed by the arbitrator without giving the parties time to file exceptions to the award, there is material irregularity in the exercise of discretion, and the order accepting the award can be set aside. A. I. R. 1933 All. 313=1933 A. L. J. 149=145 Ind. Cas. 403. Where only some of the arbitrators take part in the hearing, but no objection is then taken and the merits of the award are affected thereby, an order confirming such award is not open to revision on the ground. 65 M. L. J. 755=38 L. W. 927=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 862. Where there has been long delay by the defendants in referring the matter to arbitration the Court was justified in refusing to enforce the clause as the matter was one of discretion and no sufficient reason was made out for the High Court to interfere. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 1007. High Court would not interfere in revision with a decree based upon an award, when that decree does not disclose any excess or defect of jurisdiction or irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction by the lower Court. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 697=38 L. W. 330=65 M. L. J. 376=(1933) M. W. N. 831; see also

A. L. R. 1933 Mad. 1189. Where the party takes objection to the modification of the award by the Court in expunging the payment of compensation, which is inseparable from the other part of the award, held that the objection was valid and the Court committed an illegality or acted with material irregularity and the High Court could interfere in revision. 34 P. L. R. 34=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 139=141 Ind. Cas. 72=A. L. R. 1933 Lah. 572. Where reference to arbitration is illegal and application to have award taken off the file was rejected, revision is competent. A. I. R. 1933 Sind 128=26 S. L. R. 368. Where objection to award is filed in time, refusal to consider objections as time-barred, amounts to failure to exercise of jurisdiction vested in Court. A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 38=142 Ind. Cas. 835. Where the award is just and proper, High Court will not interfere, even where minor son represented by his mother is no party to the reference. A. L. R. 1934 All. 87; see also A. I. R. 1933 All. 924. Where the validity of an award is impugned on the ground that the arbitrator held his enquiry in the absence of the objector and the latter applies to the Court to summon the arbitrator as a witness to substantiate his allegation, the refusal of the Court so to do is not only a material irregularity but is an illegality and the order passed by the Court filing an award and passing a decree on its basis is improper. 34 P. L. R. 397=145 Ind. Cas. 329=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 538.

No revision lies, against an order passed under Sch. II, para 15, setting aside an award made on a reference to arbitration in the course of a suit and directing suit to proceed. 34 Bom. L. R. 376=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 232=138 Ind. Cas. 215. An order setting aside an arbitration award disposes of a proceeding during the pendency of the suit, and the decision of the question whether the award is valid or invalid does not amount to a decision of a case within the meaning of s. 115. 53 A. 1006=1931 A. L. J. 842=136 Ind. Cas. 568=A. I. R. 1932 A. 452. Revision against a decree in accordance with award is not competent even when the validity of award is challenged on account of the invalidity of the reference. 136 Ind. Cas. 11=33 P. L. R. 163=A. I. Where the ground of attack of an award has failed and the Court has refused to set aside the award under para 16 (1) of the second Schedule a decree must be passed in accordance with the award and a finality attaches to such a decree and the matter can not be allowed to be challenged in revision. 134 Ind. Cas. 30=1931 A. L. J. 906.

Amendment of plaint.—An order refusing leave to amend the plaint under Order VI, rule 17, is open to revision. 26 P. R. 1919=40 Ind. Cas. 65; 1 P. L. T. 188=2 U. P. L. R. (Pat) 29=55 Ind. R. 1925 Mad. 188=88 Ind. Cas. 278; A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1124=24 L. W. 400=(1927) M. W. N. 256; but see A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 112=30 C. W. N. 928=98 Ind. Cas. 751; A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 847=9 Lah. L. J. 357=103 Ind. Cas. 701; 37 C. W. N. 1093. An order directing that a plaint should be amended as being bad for misjoinder is revisable. 4 N. L. J. 58=63 Ind. Cas. 419. But where amendment of a plaint does not damage the character of the suit or involve any material injustice to the defendant an order allowing amendment is not revisable. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 321=15 L. W. 667=(1922) M. W. N. 521=68 Ind. Cas. 167. Allowing amendment of plaint to include consequential relief is no ground for interference. A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 199=4 Bur. L. J. 1=86 Ind. Cas. 509. Revision lies in matter of procedure where the Court acted with material irregularity by granting leave to amend a plaint, where such leave should not have been granted. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 322=30 L. W. 557=120 Ind. Cas. 887. The Court has power to grant leave to amend the plaint based on a hundi into one based on the original cause of action and an order allowing such amendment is not liable to be set aside in revision. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 559=125 Ind. Cas. 329. Where amendment of a plaint was ordered subject to the payment of costs and the defendant after having drawn out the cost objected to the amendment in revision: Held the revision was unsustainable. 1932 M. W. N. 1118. Though an order refusing amendment of the plaint is an order made in the exercise of discretion by the lower Court and will not ordinarily be reviewed in revision, yet there is no hard and fast rule that in no circumstances will the discretion be exercised by a judicial officer be revised. A. L. R. 1934 Cal. 104=A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 102.

76 Ind. Cas. 1933 ; see also 34 P. L. R. 802 ; A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 400. Refusal to order the amendment of a decree as being "uncalled for" is tantamount to a refusal to exercise the jurisdiction so as to justify revision. 16 A. L. J. 749=47 Ind. Cas. 830. Refusal of amendment of decree under s. 151, C. P. Code on the ground of latches is not to be interfered with, in revision. A. I. R. 1915 All. 187=47 A. 44=82 Ind. Cas. 1030. Order correcting mistake under s. 152 cannot be revised. A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 104=74 Ind. Cas. 1020. Allowing amendment on erroneous supposition that the Court cannot refuse is a ground for revision. A. I. R. 1925 All. 556=23 A. L. J. 518=88 Ind. Cas. 396. Where amended decree is appealable, order amending the decree is not revisable. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 114=45 C. L. J. 213=31 C. W. N. 615=98 Ind. Cas. 89. Where in a mortgage suit, judgment contains two contradictory directions as regards decree and decree is drawn in accordance with earlier and operative part of the judgment, no application under s. 152 for the amendment of the decree lies. There is also no revision against an order rejecting such an application. The proper course for the decree-holder is to renew that application under Order XXXIV, rule 6. A.I.R. 1930 Lah. 589=125 Ind. Cas. 374. Where a Court grants an application for a certain amendment it cannot be said that the case has been decided within the meaning of s. 115. 3 A. W. R. 474.

Addition of parties.—Although High Court in revision should not interfere with trial Court's order refusing to add a defendant, still if such person is necessary to avoid likelihood of conflicting findings, High Court should set aside trial Court's order and add that person as defendant. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 403=115 Ind. Cas. 812 ; see also A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 148=6 O. W. N. 418=116 Ind. Cas. 58 ; A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 592=11 P. L. T. 628=128 Ind. Cas. 790 ; A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 414=10 Lah. Order refusing application to implead party as co-respondent under Indian Divorce Act is not open to revision. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 114=54 C. 1038=107 Ind. Cas. 475. Where the lower Court refused in the exercise of its jurisdiction, to add a party as plaintiff, this section does not apply. 93 Ind. Cas. 932=4 Pat. 723=7 P. L. T. 499. An order rejecting an application under Order 1, rule 10, on the ground that it was too late cannot be revised. 64 Ind. Cas. 563. But an order under Order 1, rule 10, can be revised under s. 115, C. P. Code, when the Court fails to exercise a discretion vested in it and when its failure is due to error. A. I. R. 1937 Mad. 338. In a suit for partition among co-sharer landlords, if tenants are not made parties, the order is not open to revision. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 690=18 L. W. 198=(1923) M. W. N. 403=45 M. L. J. 703=76 Ind. Cas. 207. But finding that heirs of ex parte decree-holder are not necessary parties to proceedings for setting aside decree cannot be interfered with. A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 20=90 Ind. Cas. 329. An order refusing to make a transposition of the parties is open to revision only when such refusal is expressly based on a supposed jurisdiction in the Court. 20 C. W. N. 752=34 Ind. Cas. 185 ; see also 39 Ind. Cas. 160=5 L. W. 207. An application under Order 1, rule 10, where it appears that the Court has exercised wrong discretion in rejecting application under Order 1, rule 10, the High Court can interfere, in revision. 47 Ind. Cas. 725. In a suit by a widow as the administratrix a person claiming as adopted son of her husband applied to be made a co-plaintiff on the ground that the widow was guilty of latches and collusion, and widow admits the fact of adoption but denies authority, refusal to join the person as a plaintiff entitles the person to revision under s. 115. 44 Ind. Cas. 564.

Order as regards Court-fee.—Lower Court's order that the Court-fee paid is correct cannot be revised. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 8=32 L. W. 694=59 M. L. J. 953=129 Ind. Cas. 254. Decision regarding Court-fees in plaintiff's favour is not open to revision. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 191=29 L. W. 42=56 M. L. J. 302=114 Ind. Cas. 842 ; see also A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 396=56 M. L. In a proper case, the High Court will interfere in revision against an order of a petition of an application for leave to sue as a pauper. 34 Bom. L. R. 1273=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 584; but see A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 401.

Decree under s. 9 of the specific Relief Act.—A revision is competent from a decree passed in a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. 53 A. 414=129 Ind. Cas. 559=A. I. R. 1931 All. 205; but see 8 O. W. N. 1341; A. I. R. 1934 All. 541.

Insolvency proceeding.—Where the lower appellate Court modified an order of conditional discharge in the absence of the official Receiver who had not been impleaded and the matter was taken up to the High Court but the official Receiver did not appear: Held that though the official Receiver was a necessary party to the appeal, the High Court need not interfere in revision in his absence and at the instance of the creditor who was given full opportunity to be heard. 132 Ind. Cas. 526=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 647. In proceedings under s. 53, Provincial Insolvency Act, the fact that the wrong party was called upon to begin, taken alone, might not be sufficient ground for a new trial. But where the trial Judge has taken an erroneous view as to the law in regard to onus and where his mind is coloured by that view, and he is thereby disabled from weighing evenly the evidence and thus the said party is placed at a disadvantage as the direct result of the trial Judge's error, the High Court can interfere. 36 L. W. 216 = A. I. R. 1932. Mad. 513. Order under s. 41 of the Provincial Insolvency Act is not open to revision. A.I.R. 1931 Lah. 672 = 31 P. L. R. 476 = 132 Ind. Cas. 525.

Discretion, use of, by lower Court.—An improper exercise of discretion by the lower Court cannot be a ground for revision 29 C. L. J. 362 = 51 Ind. Cas. 233. The discretion of a Judge granting or refusing review of his judgment cannot be revised. 40 Ind. Cas. 463 ; 9 O. L. J. 153 = 74 Ind. Cas. 351 = A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 153. It is not open to the High Court in revision to question the discretion exercised by the lower Court, unless it is apparent on the face of the record that the discretion has been arbitrarily and erroneously exercised. Where the trial Court makes an order under Order 23, rule 1, allowing the plaintiff to withdraw the suit without exercising its discretion judicially, that is without applying its mind to the matter before it with due reference to the provisions of the order, then it is open to the High Court to interfere in revision. A. I. R. 1935 All. 381 = 1935 A. L. J. 330 = 159 Ind. Cas. 147 ; see also A. I. R. 1935 All. 284 = 1935 A. L. J. 277 = 153 Ind. Cas. 684. Proper exercise of discretion under s. 5 of the Limitation Act cannot be interfered with. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 197 = 162 Ind. Cas. 416. Nor the High Court will interfere in revision with the discretionary power of the lower Court in permitting additional evidence under Order 41, rule 27. 33 P. L. R. 330 = 137 Ind. Cas. 513. No revision lies against discretionary power of the lower appellate Court under Order 23, rule 1. 13 Lah. 547 = 136 Ind. Cas. 1 = 33 P. L. R. 275 = A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 360. Exercise of discretion by Court in awarding compensation in breaches of contracts of service should not be questioned in revision. 39 Ind. Cas. 121. An error in the exercise of judicial discretion does not bring a case under s. 115. 25 C. W. N. 555 = 55 Ind. Cas. 228. No revision lies against an order granting adjournment on condition that plaintiff paid certain damages and that the case was not to be taken up unless amount was paid. A. I. R. 1921 Oudh 23 = 24 O. C. 215 = 64 Ind. Cas. 211. Order for payment of adjournment costs in contravention of provision of law is not open to revision except when the amount awarded is excessive or unreasonable. 57 Ind. Cas. 506. An order refusing to admit additional evidence offered three days after the argument was closed under Order 41, rule 27, is not revisable. 67 Ind. Cas. 252. Order extending time for payment of Court-fees and costs to defendant, on allowing amendment of plaint is not open to revision. 36 C. W. N. 869 = 140 Ind. Cas. 373. Order refusing to strike out plaint on satisfaction of the decree can not be revised. 56 C. L. J. 1 = A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 831. The High Court will not interfere unless the lower Court has exercised its discretion in such a manner that it was obviously wrong and unjust for it to make the order he did. The lower Court has a discretion to amend the decree under s. 152 or not, 10 O.W.N. 958 = A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 425. Where order under Order 23, rule 1, is passed in exercising discretion, the order cannot be revised. A. I. R. 1926 All. 548 = 24 A. L. J. 721 = 96 Ind. Cas. 480. A long delay by the defendants in referring the matter to arbitration justifies the Court in refusing to enforce the clauses of arbitration. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 1007. It is for the trial Court to decide in what order it will decide the issues and the High Court will not interfere in revision. A. I. R. 1933 All. 749. Where the lower Court has passed an order upon a careful consideration by exercising discretion vested in it and upon judicial principles the order cannot be interfered with in revision. 14 P. L. T. 252 = A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 239. Where in the exercise of its discretion, the lower Court has admitted certain documents though at a late stage of the suit, the High Court cannot interfere. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 603 = 129 Ind. Cas. 82. Where discretion is given to a Court, it has to exercise judicially and not arbitrarily and it is open to the High Court to interfere in revision where such Court appears to have exercised this discretion without applying its mind to the case. A. I. R. 1933 All. 957.

Cost.—The question of costs is principally within the discretion of the Court below and unless the High Court is satisfied that this discretion has been exercised arbitrarily it will not interfere in revision with that discretion. 144 Ind. Cas. 76 C.; A. I. R. 1933 All. 311; A. I. R. 1937 Oudh 282. Mistake regarding costs is no ground for revision. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 800=10 Lah. L. J. 401=109 Ind. Cas. 476.

Ex parte decree.—In a case where the order setting aside a decree has been passed by a Court in defiance of the provisions of Order 9, rule 13, the matter is a case decided under s. 115, C. P. Code, and the High Court is entitled to interfere in revision. 1931 A. L. J. 377=133 Ind. Cas. 129=A. I. R. 1931 All. 224 (F. B.); 107 Ind. Cas. 395. If material exists in the record and in the lower Court's order setting aside an ex parte decree of its own for drawing the conclusion that sufficient cause did exist for the defendants not appearing there will be no interference in revision although it may have been passed on incorrect grounds. 39 L. W. 653.

Appeal.—In all cases where the records have been called for suo motu or on the application of one of the parties, no appeal lies to a Division Court under cl. 10 from a decision of a Judge passed in the exercise of revisional jurisdiction irrespective of whether the assumption of jurisdiction is justified or not and whether the order is right or not on its merits. 12 P. Article 181 does not apply to an application made to the High Court in revision of an order of a Criminal Court of inferior jurisdiction. These powers of revision are exercised by the High Court quite irrespective of any right on the part of the aggrieved party to move the Court and no time limit is placed on the High Court's power of revision in either criminal or civil cases. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 401=7 O. W. N. 663=126 Ind. Cas. 395.

It is not the usual practice of the High Court to interfere in revision after great delay e.g., when the Court is moved more than one year after the date of the order in question. 142 Ind. Cas. 687=33 P. L. R. 1070=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 175. Legally a revision is not governed by the laws of limitation. 144 Ind. Cas. 482=A. I. R. 1933 Pesh. 51. But it is a matter of uniform practice that civil revisions are entertained only if they are filed within three months of the date of the order sought to be revised. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 582.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO [THE CHARTERED HIGH COURTS.]

116. [S. 631.] This Part applies only to High Courts which are or may Part to apply only to certain hereafter be "constituted by His Majesty by High Courts. Letters Patent."*

Amendment in Burma.—In the heading to Pat. IX for "the Chatered High Courts" substitute "the High Court" and section 116 has been omitted in British Burma.—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937.

Application of Code to High Courts.

117. [S. 632.] Save as provided in this Part or in Part X or in rules, the provisions of this Code shall apply to such High Courts.

Amendment in Burma.—For “such High Courts” substitute “the High Court” —Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—Unless specifically excluded or superseded by rules provisions of Code apply to original jurisdiction of Chartered High Courts. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 385=54 M. L. J. 263=27 L. W. 760=109 Ind. 118. [S. 634.] Where any such High Court considers it necessary that a decree passed in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction should be executed before the amount of the costs incurred in the suit can be ascertained by taxation, the Court may order that the decree shall be executed forthwith, except as to so much thereof as relates to the costs ; and, as to so much thereof as relates to the costs, that the decree may be executed as soon as the amount of the costs shall be ascertained by taxation.

Amendment in Burma.—For “any such High Court” substitute “the High Court”.—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

119. [S. 635] Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to authorise any person on behalf of another to address the Court in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction, or to examine witnesses, except where the Court shall have in the exercise of the power conferred by its charter authorized him so to do, or to interfere with the power of the High Court to make rules concerning advocates, vakils and attorneys.

Amendment in Burma.—In section 119 omit “vakils and attorneys”.—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—Section 119 is not restricted to admission on professional conduct. A.I.R. 1128 Mad. 472=109 I. C. 206. In the original side of the Calcutta High Court, advocate can appear instructed by attorney. The same rule is applicable so far as the original side of the Bombay High Court is concerned. In Madras, advocate can appear and plead on all sides of the High Court. In Allahabad High Court, an advocate can perform all the duties that may be performed by a pleader. 9A. 617. A vakil is not entitled to be heard on the original side of the Calcutta High Court. 30 C. 986 ; see also 37 C. 853. In Madras, a vakil can appear on the original side. 1 M. 24 ; 37 Ind. Cas. 699. In the Presidency Small Cause Courts of Bombay, only the barristers and attorneys are entitled to practise. 8 B. 105 (F.B.) But in Calcutta and Madras, pleaders and vakils are entitled to practise in the Presidency Small Cause Courts. 7 W. R. 228.

120. [Ss. 638, 639.] (1) The following provisions shall not apply to the High Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction, namely, sections 16, 17 and 20.*

Scope.—Section 20 is not applicable to High Court on original side. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 272=(1922) M. W. N. 811=72 Ind. Cas. 982 ; see also 13 B. 520=16 I. A. 156.

* Sub-section (2) of section 120 was repealed by the Presidency-towns Insolvency Act, 1909 (3 of 1909), s. 127 and Sch. III.

RULES.

121. [New.] The rules in the First Schedule shall have effect as if Effect of rules in First Schedule. enacted in the body of this Code until annulled or altered in accordance with the provisions of this Part.

122. [New.] High Courts† constituted by His Majesty by Letters Patent and the Chief Courts of Oudh and Sind,* may, Power of certain High Courts to make rules. from time to time after previous publication, make rules regulating their own procedure and the procedure of the Civil Courts subject to their superintendence, and may by such rules annul, alter or add to all or any of the rules in the First Schedule.

This section has been substituted in Burma by the following section 122 by G. B. Order of 1937 :—

122. The High Court may, from time to time, after previous publication, make rules regulating its procedure and the procedure of the Civil Courts subject to its superintendence, and may by such rules annul, alter or add to all or any of the rules in the First Schedule.

Scope.—Rules made by the High Court under the powers conferred by C. P. Code and published in the local official Gazette, have the force of law. 5 Bom. L. R. 394 ; see also 6 A. L. J. 45=1 Ind. (3) The members of each such Committee shall be appointed by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge, who shall also nominate one of their number to be president :

Provided that, if the Chief Justice or Chief Judge elects to be himself a member of a Committee, the number of other Judges appointed to be members shall be two, and the Chief Justice or Chief Judge shall be the president of the Committee.

(4) Each member of any such Committee shall hold office for such period as may be prescribed by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge in this behalf ; and whenever any member retires, resigns, dies or ceases to reside in the Province in which the Committee was constituted, or becomes incapable of acting as a member of the committee, the said Chief Justice or Chief Judge may appoint another person to be a member in his stead.

(5) There shall be a Secretary to each such Committee who shall be appointed by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge and shall receive such remuneration as may be provided in this behalf "by the Provincial Government." ‡

Section 123 is in the following form in British Burma :—

" (1) A Committee, to be called the Rule Committee, shall be constituted at Rangoon and shall consist of the following persons namely—

(a) three Judges of the High Court, one of whom at least has served for three years as a District Judge or a Judge of the High Court,

(b) a barrister practising in the High Court,

(c) an advocate of the High Court not being a barrister, and

(3) The members of a Committee shall be appointed by the Chief Justice, who shall also nominate one of their members to be president :

* The words "the town which is the usual place of sitting of each of the High Courts.....section 122," were substituted for "each of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, Lahore and Rangoon" by Act 13 of 1916 and the words "of the Chief Court" which were substituted for "Chief Court" by Act 18 of 1919 were repealed by Act XI of 1923. The words "and Chief Courts" were inserted by Act 32 of 1925 and 34 of 1926.

† The words "(in Burma)" were substituted for the original words "(in the Punjab or Burma)" by s. 2 and Sch. I of the Repealing and Amending Act, 1919 (XVIII of 1919), and the words "(in Burma)" were subsequently repealed by s. 3 and Sch. II of the Repealing and Amending Act, 1923 (XI of 1923).

‡ The words "by the Governor-General in Council or by the Local Government, as the case may be" have been substituted by the words within quotations by G. I. Order of 1937.

Provided that, if the Chief Justice elects to be himself a member of the Committee, the number of other Judges appointed to be members shall be two, and the Chief Justice shall be the president of the Committee.

(4) Each member of the Committee shall hold office for such period as may be prescribed by the Chief Justice in this behalf; and whenever any member retires, resigns, dies or ceases to reside in British Burma or becomes incapable of acting as a member of the Committee, the said Chief Justice may appoint another person to be a member in his stead.

(5) There shall be a Secretary to the Committee who shall be appointed by the Chief Justice and shall receive such remuneration as may be provided in this behalf by the Governor.*

124. [New.] Every Rule Committee shall make a report to the High Court established at the town at which it is constituted on any proposal to annul, alter or add to the rules in the first Schedule or to make new rules, and before making any rules under section 122 the High Court shall take such report into consideration.

Amendment in Burma.—For “every” substitute “the” and omit “established at the town at which it is constituted”.—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

125. [New.] High Courts other than the Courts specified in section 122, may exercise the powers conferred by that section in such manner and subject to such conditions as “the Provincial Government”^{*} may determine :

Provided that any such High Court may, after previous publication, make a rule extending within the local limits of its jurisdiction any rules which have been made by any other High Court.

Amendment in Burma.—This section has been omitted in Burma.

Scope.—Where the fact of Patna High Court rules adopting the Calcutta High Court rules is published, there is no necessity of publishing the rules in their entirety. 61 Ind. Cas. 666=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 428=2 P. L. T. 45.

Amendment in Burma.—For "Gazette of India or in the official Gazette as the case may be," substitute "Gazette" and omit "within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the High Court which made them".—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

128. [New.] (1) Such rules shall be not inconsistent with the provisions in the body of this Code, but, subject thereto, Matters for which rules may provide. may provide for any matters relating to the Procedure of Civil Courts.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

(a) the service of summonses, notices and other processes by post or in any other manner either generally or in any specified areas, and the proof of such service ;

(b) the maintenance and custody, while under attachment, of live-stock and other movable property, the fees payable for such maintenance and custody, the sale of such live-stock and property, and the proceeds of such sale ;

(c) procedure in suits by way of counter-claim, and the valuation of such suits for the purposes of jurisdiction ;

(d) procedure in garnishee and charging orders either in addition to, or in substitution for, the attachment and sale of debts ;

(e) procedure where the defendant claims to be entitled to contribution or indemnity over against any person whether a party to the suit or not ;

(f) summary procedure—

(i) in suits in which the plaintiff seeks only to recover a debt or liquidated demand in money payable by the defendant with or without interest, arising—on a contract express or implied ; or on an enactment where the sum sought to be recovered is a fixed sum of money or in the nature of a debt other than a penalty ; or on a guarantee, where the claim against the principal is in respect of a debt or a liquidated demand only ; or on a trust ; or

(ii) in suits for the recovery of immovable property, with or without a claim for rent or mesne profits by a landlord against a tenant whose term has expired or has been duly determined by notice to quit, or has become liable to forfeiture for non-payment of rent, or against persons claiming under such tenant ;

(g) procedure by way of originating summons ;

(h) consolidation of suits, appeals and other proceedings ;

(i) delegation to any Registrar, Prothonotary or master or other official of the Court of any judicial, quasi judicial and non-judicial duties ; and

(j) all forms, registers, books, entries and accounts which may be necessary or desirable for the transaction of the business of Civil Courts.

PART XI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

132. [S. 640] (1) Women who, according to the customs and manners of the country ought not to be compelled to appear in public shall be exempt from personal appearance in Court.

Exemption of certain women from personal appearance.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to exempt such women from arrest in execution of civil process in any case in which the arrest of women is not prohibited by this Code.

Scope.—The provisions of this section are not restricted to the examination of witnesses. They apply also to parties to suits or proceedings before the Court. 11

* Substituted for the words "established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, or the Government of India Act, 1915" by G. I. Order of 1937.

† This section has been substituted for the old s. 130 by G. I. Order of 1937.

‡ Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937.

Ind. Cas. 668. The words "personal appearance" used in s. 132, clause (1) includes "personal attendance". If a pardanashin lady observing strict pardah is ordered to attend Court, it means that she is "compelled to appear in public." Her face may be covered or she may be wearing a burka, but all the same she is compelled to appear in public if she is ordered to attend the Court. This is the spirit of s. 132. The words of s. 132 are pre-emptory and there is no discretion vested in the Court that in a suitable case it can order a pardanashin lady to attend in Court to be examined in camera. It is her right to refuse to attend the Court and to say that if she is to be examined her evidence should be taken on commission. The Court has no option in this matter. A. I. R. 1935 Sind 205=159 Ind. Cas. 153. But the Calcutta High Court in A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 528=33 C. W. N. 681, has held that such a person is exempt not from attendance in Court but from appearance in Court. "Appearance" means that she shall not be compelled to come forth into view or to have visible to the public gaze. Section 132(1), Civil Procedure Code, does not apply to examination under s. 36(1), Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, and the Court in a suitable case may summon before it a pardanashin lady who is known or suspected to have in her possession any property belonging to the insolvent. 33 C. W. N. 681=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 528. Unmarried girl of 12 years is a woman. 24 W. R. 375. This section is extended to native women only and not to all women of rank. 8 W. R. 29; see also 19 P. R. 1899. A lady is not a pardanashin lady who does not object to communicate in matters of business with persons who are outside his family and who attends Court and Registration office. 8 Bom. L. R. 379=10 C. W. N. 570=33 C. 773=3 C. L. J. 484=16 M. L. J. 166=33 I. A. 86 P. C. The fact that a pardanashin lady appeared in public does not take away her right under this section. 45 C. 492=22 C. W. N. 147=44 Ind. Cas. 157; see also 26 C. 650=3 C. W. N. 751; 3 C. W. N. 753; 45 C. 697=26 C. L. J. 319=41 Ind. Cas. 610=22 C. W. N. 197; 2 Hyde 88; 5 C. W. N. 232 (notes); 2 Hyde 88; 3 C. W. N. 750; 24 W. R. 375; 14 B. 584; 15 W. R. 129; 8 Ind. Cas. 418; 15 C. 675; 4 C. 20=3 C. L. R. 93. But commission need not be issued when she can be examined in a palki on proper identification. 18 W. R. 230. But a pardanashin woman can not refuse to be examined on commission at any place other than place of her choice. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 229=64 Ind. Cas. 228. Right of pardanashin lady to be examined on commission is absolute. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 814=114 Ind. Cas. 95. If a woman is in fact a pardanashin lady she is not deprived of the statutory protection merely because she may have previously appeared in public. 45 C. 697=26 C. L. J. 319=22 C. W. N. 97=41 Ind. Cas. 610. Section 132 is not confined to pardanashin woman strictly so-called and an old Hindu lady of high family must be examined on commission. 45 C. 492=22 C. W. N. 147=44 Ind. Cas. 157. The word "personal appearance" in s. 132, C. P. Code means "a personal attendance." Courts have no power to insist on the attendance of pardanashin women in Court whether under provisions of s. 132, or Order 5, rule 3 or Order 10, rule 4. The exemption from personal appearance is a right which no Court has power to refuse and applies to parties as well as to witnesses. The words "personal appearance" in s. 132 cannot be interpreted so as to compel pardanashins to attend Court by wearing a veil or burka with their faces covered so as not to be visible to public gaze. If the Court has reason to believe that a pardanashin, while being examined on commission was guilty of malpractices, such as being tutored by a person behind the pardah, the Court may exclude her evidence, but cannot make that a ground for calling on her to attend the Court. A. L. R. 1934 All. 66=55 A. 666=1933 A. L. J. 1384

133. [S. 641.] (1) The "Provincial Government"* may, by notification in the "official Gazette"* exempt from personal appearance in Court any person whose rank, in the opinion of such Government, entitles him to the privilege of exemption.

(2) The names and residences of the persons so exempted shall, from time to time, be forwarded to the High Court by the "Provincial Government"* and a list of such persons shall be kept in such Court, and a list of such persons as reside within the local limits of the jurisdiction of each Court subordinate to the High Court shall be kept in such subordinate Court.

(3) Where any person so exempted claims the privilege of such exemption, and it is consequently necessary to examine him by commission, he shall pay the costs of that commission, unless the party requiring his evidence pays such costs.

Local Amendments in Burma.—In Burma for the words "Provincial Government" wherever they occur substitute "Governor" as well as for the words "such Government" substitute "Governor" ; for "official Gazette" substitute "Gazette."

Scope.—Every person what his position may be who seeks the aid of the Court must confirm to the rules of the Court, 43 Ind. Cas. 729=42 B. 135=20 Bom. L. R. 1. A person can be exempted under this section only by a special notification. 28 M. L. J. 410 (421). The exemption conferred by this section is absolute and is not confined to cases in which he is summoned by the opposite party. Marsh. 627.

Arrest other than in execution of decree. 184. [New.] The provisions of sections 55, 57 and 59 shall apply, so far as may be, to all persons arrested under this Code.

185. [S. 642.] (1) No Judge, Magistrate or other judicial officer shall be liable to arrest under civil process while going to, presiding in, or returning from, his Court.

(2) Where any matter is pending before a tribunal having jurisdiction therein, or believing in good faith that it has such jurisdiction, the parties thereto, their pleaders, mukhtars, revenue-agents and recognized agents, and their witnesses acting in obedience to a summons, shall be exempt from arrest under civil process other than process issued by such tribunal for contempt of Court while going to or attending such tribunal for the purpose of such matter, and while returning from such tribunal.

(3) Nothing in sub-section (2) shall enable a judgment-debtor to claim exemption from arrest under an order for immediate execution or where such judgment-debtor attends to show cause why he should not be committed to prison in execution of a decree.

Amendment in Burma.—In Burma, in sub-section (2) omit "mukhtars, revenue-agents."—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—The protection from arrest afforded to s. 642 extends only to arrest under the Civil Procedure Code. Therefore an accused person attending a Criminal Court could not claim immunity from arrest under the Rent Act. 4 A. 27. The wordings of this section is defective. 32 A. 3=6 A. L. J. 912. Defendant appearing to defend suit is exempt from arrest, and his appearance does not amount to "voluntary surrender" so as to entitle him to discharge under Order XXXVIII. 37 M. L. J. 435=10 L. Each case of exemption from arrest under civil process depends on its own facts and circumstances. What period is reasonable is a question of fact and further exemption is forfeited if party indulge in unnecessary deviation. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 175=33 Bom. L. R. 44=131 Ind. Cas. 467 ; see also A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 216. Person coming to appear as accused cannot be arrested and he is entitled to refund of money paid to secure his release from arrest. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 426=6 O. W. N. 809=119 Ind. Protection is forfeited if person adopts circuitous route or deviates from straight route. A. I. R. 1924 All. 676=46 A. 663=22 A. L. J. 638=84 Ind. Cas. 64. Cas. 493 ; see also 39 C. W. N. 318.

In order to obtain exemption under this section the party must satisfy the Court ordinarily, by statements made on affidavit that his attendance in the Court or tribunal is bona fide in relation to the matter pending before that Court or tribunal ; secondly, that the Court or tribunal which he attends has jurisdiction in the matter pending before it or the party believes in good faith that it has such jurisdiction ; and thirdly, that he should be exempt from arrest during such period as is reasonably required in going to the tribunal from his ordinary place of residence, in attending that tribunal and in returning from it to the ordinary place of residence whence he came. Such place of residence may be within the jurisdiction of the Court before which the matter is pending, or outside its jurisdiction. What period is reasonable is a question of fact to be determined by the Court in each case and no hard and fast rule can be laid down as to the extent or duration of the privilege. Further the exemption is forfeited if in going to or in returning from the Court there is unnecessary or excessive deviation sufficient in the opinion of the Court to forfeit the privilege. No party or witness can claim to return to his ordinary place of residence by any route he likes. 33 Bom. L. R. 44=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 175=131 Ind. Cas. 467=55 B. 612; see also 36 C. W. N. 1071=A. L. 136. [S. 643.] (1) Where an application is made that any person shall be arrested or that any property shall be

Procedure where person to be arrested or property to be attached is outside district. attached under any provision of this Code not relating to the execution of decrees, and such person resides or such property is situate outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court to which the application is made, the Court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant of arrest or make an order of attachment, and send to the District Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such person or property resides or is situate a copy of the warrant or order, together with the probable amount of the costs of the arrest or attachment.

(2) The District Court shall, on receipt of such copy and amount, cause the arrest or attachment to be made by its own officers, or by a Court subordinate to itself, and shall inform the Court which issued or made such warrant or order of the arrest or attachment.

(3) The Court making an arrest under this section shall send the person arrested to the Court by which the warrant of arrest was issued, unless he shows cause to the satisfaction of the former Court why he should not be sent to the latter Court, or unless he furnishes sufficient security for his appearance before the latter Court or for satisfying any decree that may be passed against him by that Court in either of which cases the Court making the arrest shall release him.

(4) Where a person to be arrested or movable property to be attached under this section is within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal or at Madras or at Bombay* the copy of the warrant of arrest or of the order of attachment, and the probable amount of the costs of the arrest or attachment, shall be sent to the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta, Madras, or "Bombay"*, as the case may be, and that Court, on receipt of the copy and amount, shall proceed as if it were the District Court.

Amendment in Burma.—In sub-section (4) for "the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal or at Madras or at Bomay" substitute "the High Court" and for "Calcutta, Madras or Bombay" substitute "Rangoon" and omit "as the case may be".—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—This section does not authorise the Court to attach any property, which is not authorised to attach by any other sections of the Code where such an order may be made, for execution beyond the local limits of its jurisdiction. 8 M. 20. This section merely prescribes the procedure to be adopted when property outside the jurisdiction of the Court is to be attached under any provision of the Code. It does not prescribe the circumstances under which attachment before judgment may be ordered if property situate outside the jurisdiction of the Court. 1 L. B. R. 310; see also 4 C. 823. This section authorises the Court to attach property before judgment, where the property is situate outside the jurisdiction. 7 C. W. N. 216. Whether High Court Judge on original side can direct District Judge within appellate jurisdiction to execute warrant of arrest for contempt is doubtful. Proper course is to direct to issue injunction and arrest might be ordered for breach of same bringing case within pale of section 136. A.I.R. 1938 Cal. 462=55 C. 777=32 C. W. N. 114=1007 Ind. Cas. 65; see also A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 574=50 M. L. J. 401=95 Ind. Cas. 197. The Court can order attachment before judgement of property outside the local limits of its jurisdiction and further it is also competent to entertain an application for removal of such attachment and to remove the attachment. 9 Rang. 561=A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 279. Under s. 136, C. P. 137. [S. 645.] (1) The language which, on the commencement of this Code, is the language of any Court subordinate to a High Court shall continue to be the language of such subordinate Court until the "Provincial Government" * otherwise directs.

(2) The "Provincial Government"* may declare what shall be the language of any such Court and in what character applications to and proceedings in such Courts shall be written.

(3) Where this Code requires or allows anything other than the recording of evidence to be done in writing in any such Court, such writing may be in English; but if any party or his pleader is unacquainted with English a translation into the language of the Court shall, at his request, be supplied to him; and the Court shall make such order as it thinks fit in respect of the payment of the costs of such translation.

Amendment in Burma.—For "a High Court" read "the High Court" and for "Provincial Government" read "Governor".—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

138. [S. 185 A.] (1) The [High Court] may by notification in the "official Gazette" * direct with respect, to any Judge specified in the notification, or falling under a description set forth therein, that evidence in cases in which an appeal is allowed shall be taken down by him in the English language and in manner prescribed.

(2) Where a Judge is prevented by any sufficient reason from complying with a direction under sub-section (1), he shall record the reason and cause the evidence to be taken down in writing from his dictation in open Court.

139. [S. 197.] In the case of any affidavit Oath on affidavit by whom to be administered. under this Code—

(a) any Court or Magistrate, or

(b) any officer or other person whom a High Court may appoint in this behalf, or

(c) any officer appointed by any other Court which the "Provincial Government"* has generally or specially empowered in this behalf, may administer the oath to the deponent.

Amendment in Burma.—For "Provincial Government" read "Governor".—Vide G. I. Order of 1937.

Notes.—Order IX, rule 5, C. P. Code, is only an enabling provision enacted for a special purpose only. A plaintiff filed in support of proof of a service of process on the defendant an affidavit was sworn on the Bar Library by the identifier before a pleader who is also an Honorary Magistrate. The Munsiff refused to accept the affidavit, and directed the plaintiff to have an affidavit sworn before the officer of the Court appointed for that purpose: Held, that the Munsiff was right in refusing to accept the affidavit; nor section 139 of the Code contemplates that at the time when an Honorary Magistrate administers the oath, he shall be acting in his official capacity as a Magistrate, and that the provisions of s. 57, clause (7) of the Evidence Act, as to the Court's taking judicial notice of that signature of an Honorary Magistrate, should be interpreted in the same way. 5 Ind. Cas. 537. As regards affidavit made before foreign Court, vide 8 Ind. Cas.

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937.

† These words were substituted for the words "Local Government" by s. 2 and Sch. Pt. I of the Decentralisation Act, 1914 (4 of 1914).

897. The District Judge has power to appoint Commissioners to administer oath in affidavit generally without reference to a particular area or class. Affidavit sworn to before Sharistadar of the Munsiff of Hajpur can be the foundation of a complaint under s. 476. Cr. P. Code, by the District Judge of Mazaffarpur. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 548=14 P. L. 140. [S. 645A.] (1) In any Admiralty or Vice-Admiralty cause of salvage towage or collision, the Court, whether it be exercising its original or its appellate jurisdiction, may, if it thinks fit, and shall, upon request of either party to such cause, summon to its assistance, in such manner as it may direct or as may be prescribed, two competent assessors; and such assessors shall attend and assist accordingly.

(2) Every such assessor shall receive such fees for his attendance, to be paid by such of the parties as the Court may direct or as may be prescribed.

141. [S. 647.] The procedure provided in this Code in regard to suits shall be followed, as far as it can be made applicable, in all proceedings in any Court of civil jurisdiction.

Scope.—This section is intended to apply to miscellaneous matters other than suits or appeals. 9 A. 36. Suit includes appeals. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 488=110 Ind. Cas. 374. Section 141 deals with procedure alone not substantive law of arbitration. A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 137=6 Rang. 563=112 Ind. Cas. 45. This section cannot operate to give appeal from order under Order IX, r. 9, not otherwise appealable. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 572=36 C. L. J. 184=69 Ind. Cas. 1003. An issue referred to a Civil Court for decision by a Revenue Court is an original matter in the nature of the suit. The Civil Court has jurisdiction under the provisions of s. 141 and order 9 to entertain an application for the setting aside of the ex parte decision and to decide the issue on the merits. A. I. R. 1934 All. 86.

Execution proceedings.—Under the old Code there was some divergence of opinion as regards the questions whether this section applies to execution proceedings. While the High Courts of Allahabad (vide 7 A. 359; 10 A. 71; 12 A. 179; 12 A. 392; 15 A. 84) and Bombay (vide 6 B. 681; 10 B. 62), held that it did, the Calcutta High Court on the other hand held that it did not. 18 C. 635; 18 C. 462; 22 W. R. 512. Their Lordships of the Privy Council, by affirming the view of the Calcutta High Court in 17 A. 106=22 I. A. 44=5 M. L. J. 3 has set at rest the conflict. So the previous Allahabad and Bombay decisions to the contrary are no longer good law. So now this section does not apply to proceedings in execution. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 109=89 Ind. Cas. 360; A. I. 142. [S. 94.] All orders and notices served on or given to any person under the provisions of this Code shall be in writing.

143. [S. 95.] Postage, where chargeable on a notice, summons or letter issued under this Code and forwarded by post, and the fee for registering the same, shall be paid within a time to be fixed before the communication is made :

Provided that the "Provincial Government"* may remit such postage, or fee or both, or may prescribe a scale of Court-fees to be levied in lieu thereof.

144. [S. 583.] (1) Where and in so far as a decree is varied or reversed, the Court of first instance shall, on the application of any party entitled to any benefit by way of restitution or otherwise, cause such restitution to be made as will, so far as may be, place the parties in the position which they would have occupied but for such decree or such part thereof as has been varied or reversed ; and, for this purpose, the Court may make any orders, including orders for the refund of costs and for the payment of interest, damages, compensation and mesne profits, which are properly consequential on such variation or reversal.

(2) No suit shall be instituted for the purpose of obtaining any restitution or other relief which could be obtained by application under sub-section (1).

Principle.—A claim under s. 144 is governed by the same principles that apply to a claim for money had and received. Where pursuant to a decree or order of the Court one party has been compelled to pay money or transfer property in invitum to another party it would be unconscionable upon the reversal of the decree or order that the party who had received the money or property through the wrongful act of the Court should be held entitled to retain such money or property as against the party who had wrongfully been ordered to pay it and who was claiming restitution. 10 Rang. 480=A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 148=A. L. R. 1932 Rang. 356. The obvious intention of s. 144 of the Code of Civil Procedure, is to place the successful litigant so far as possible in the position in which he would have been had the original decree not been passed against him and the unsuccessful party is also liable for the delays of the Court. 16 R. D. 503=13 L. R. 293=13 U. P. 145. It is a duty cast upon Court to enforce the obligation. 33 C. 927 ; see also 32 A. 79 affirmed in 48 I. A. 43=38 A. 163 P. C ; 23 M. 306 ; 13 C. L. J. 243 ; 15 C. L. J. 187 ; A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 787=59 M. L. J. 225 ; A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 138=117 Ind. Cas. 288.

Scope of the section—The party seeking restitution under s. 144 must show that there was a decree in consequence of which some party to the record had obtained a benefit to the detriment of the applicant and secondly, that the decree having been reversed or varied, the applicant is entitled to be restored to the position in which he would have been, but for the decree which ultimately has been declared erroneous. A. I. R. 1937 Bom. 173. The principle underlying s. 144 is to give to litigants the fullest benefit of a final decree in a litigation and restore to a party on the final determination of his rights what, if any, has in the meanwhile been lost to him or taken away from him by his opponent on the strength of a decree or order which has been subsequently varied or reversed by the superior Court. Before restitution can be made under this section, however, the following conditions must be satisfied : (1) that the applicant must be a party to the litigation which terminated according to law : (2) that he has either lost something or been deprived of something by reason of the decree or order which has been subsequently varied or reversed : (3) that on the final pronouncement of his rights he is entitled to the benefit of restitution. The section does not in terms say that the applicant for restitution must be a party to the proceeding which has resulted in the original decree being reversed or varied ; nor does it state that the final decree should provide for a right in him to apply for restitution. All that is necessary is that the final decree should provide for a right in him to apply for restitution. All that is necessary is that the final decree must be of such a nature that it would be inequitable to allow his opponent to retain what he has obtained from the former on the strength of a decree which ultimately is held to be erroneous or wrong. The only question is whether the applicant was a party to the litigation in the first instance, and, if so, whether the final decision can be said to be in his favour as accepting his contention made in the suit and declaring his rights. A. I. R. 1937 Bom. 101 ; see also A. I. R. 1934 All. 13 ; A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 150=14 P. L. T. 753. This section is applicable not only to restitution brought about in consequence of a decree passed after contest but also to compromise decree passed on appeal. 68 M. L. J. 332=A. I. The word "restitution" implies that a party who applies under s. 144 should prove that he was in possession of something, the restitution or restoration of which he seeks. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 81=60 M. L. J. 719=33 L. W. 259=(1930) M. W. N. 1245=130 Ind. Cas. 451. "Or otherwise" immediately following "restitution" provide for cases where it is not possible to make restitution in the sense of restoring the very property lost to the petitioner. A. I. Decree varied or reversed.—Section 144 applies where the decree is varied or reversed and not to a case where, as the result of a different suit the title of a person derived by purchase under quite a different proceeding in execution of a decree which stands unreversed is questioned. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 814=33 C. W.

Restitution should be ordered only when applicant discharge his obligation under the reversed decree. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 156=7 Rang. 107=117 Ind. Cas. 252. Where a decree is reversed costs realised under the same must be refunded irrespective of the fact that the suit property was given to charity or any other purpose. 54 Ind. Cas. 816. In order to obtain restitution under s. 144, the applicant must establish that the decree under which he was compelled to part with his property was varied or reversed by a Court which had jurisdiction to vary or reverse the decree. The use of the phrase "Court of first instance" contemplates that the variation or reversal of the decree is made by a superior Court. The section clearly applies where a decree has been reversed or varied upon appeal, revision or review. A. I. R. 1937 All. 232; A. I. R. 1937 Bom. 173; A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 151. W. 439=91 Ind. Cas. 16. Where decree-holder obtained possession of the property decreed otherwise than by executing the decree but under colour thereof, the opposite party is entitled to be replaced possession, if the decree be set aside on appeal. A. I. R. 1927 All. 37=8 Lah. 41=8 Lah. L. J. 551=28 P. L. R. 62=99 Ind. Cas. 952. Under this section a Court by virtue of equitable jurisdiction sets right injustice caused by lower Courts passing erroneous decrees. Creditor of the decree-holder attaching the decree, is a representative of the decree-holder and restitution can be had against him. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 727=32 L. W. 148=53 M. 796=39 M. L. J. 225=127 Ind. Cas. 643. A decree need not necessarily be put in execution for s. 144 (2) to apply. Where an application for restitution is erroneously rejected suit for possession and declaration is barred. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 14=34 C. W. N. 707=129 Ind. Cas. 403. Section 144 applies where a decree is varied or reversed. A decree is only varied or reversed by a superior Court on appeal or on revision or on reference. But if a decree is set aside either by a proceeding to the suit itself or by a decree in another suit altogether or if, without being set aside by such a decree, it is superseded, these are matters which are not within the words of the section. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 14=34 C. W. N. 707=129 Ind. Cas. 403. Where the preliminary decree is varied or upset by the appellate Court, the final decree passed thereon and all execution proceedings taken in pursuance of the final decree fell through even though no appeal is filed from the final decree. Application under s. 144 is not barred on the ground that there was no reversal of final decree in appeal. 1931 A. L. J. 661=A. I. R. 1931 All. 655=133 Ind. Cas. 622. This section prescribes a remedy which is separate from and independent of the remedy under Order 21, rule 9. Ibid. This section is not confined to cases where restitution is claimed on the reversal of the decree in first and second appeal but applies also to case of variance of decree effected by compromise. 1933 M. W. N. 641; see also 144 Ind. Cas. 695=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 791. The right to apply for restitution really on the date when for the first time a decision is given which entitles a party asking for restitution to have restitution. 144 Ind. Cas. 150=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 422.

Restitution.—Restitution means restoration of parties to their former position before passing of erroneous decree that is reversed. A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 138=117 Ind. Cas. 288; see also A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 625=8 Lah. 356=9 Lah. L. J. 359=28 P. L. R. 695=104 Ind. Cas. 817. Where a decree is reversed in an appeal filed by one of the defendants the other defendants are also entitled to apply for restitution. A. I. R. 1927 All. 182=98 Ind. Cas. 1042. It cannot be said that the Court granting restitution is executing a decree. An application for restitution under s. 144, Civil Procedure Code, cannot therefore be an application for execution under s. 47, C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1937 Cal. 752. Restitution under s. 144 can be claimed not only against the opposite party, but also his representatives or persons deriving title from him. 152 Ind. Cas. 663. Where a decree is passed with a reservation as to the question of restitution the party taking benefit of the decree cannot object to the application for restitution. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 42=52 C. L. J. 505=130 Ind. Cas. 236. No restitution can be obtained against bona fide auction purchaser, through Court competent to hold the sale. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 176=79 Ind. Cas. 57. Where an ex parte decree is passed the judgment-debtor is entitled to restitution of property lost to him in execution on the decree being set aside. Question whether s. 47 or s. 144 applies need not be considered. 22 Bom. L. R. 403=44 B. 702=57 Ind. Cas. 125. There can be no restitution against a bona fide purchaser for value at any auction sale held by a Court competent therefor even if the decree is set aside on appeal. 38A. 240=14 A. L. J. 302=34 Ind. Cas. 308. Where disputed property is in the hands of a Receiver such custody is for the benefit of the true owner and restitution can be ordered in favour of the true owner. A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 260=7 Pat. 319=108 Ind. Cas. 89. Where a decree-holder gets possession of the property in dispute without executing the decree the owner of the property can claim restitution on the decree being set aside. 18 A. L. J. 729=2 U. P. L. R. (A) 238=41 A. 568. This section does not justify restitution when the rights of third parties intervene. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 169.

It is the party who is entitled to restitution who can apply to the Court and claim the help of the Court in the matter, it is for his benefit that the provision has been introduced. The restitution must be such as will put the parties in the position which they would have occupied but for the wrong decree. The party who is to be assisted by Court must be put into the position which he could have occupied but for the wrong decree. It is no answer to that provision to say that it cannot be given effect to because the other party happened to gain no benefit by the wrong decree or order which has been made. 55 M. 1025=63 M. L. J. 383=36 L. W. 504=1932 M. W. N. 1044=139 Ind. Cas. 348=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 33. Section 144 is meant to apply ordinarily to the class of cases where a person having obtained a decree executes it and recovers money or property from the judgment-debtor and then the decree is reversed which necessitates restitution of the property or money which the judgment-debtor had to part with at the instance of the Court on the ground that this is no longer in force. 11 P. 553=140 Ind. Cas. 482=A. L. R. 1932 P. 619=A. I. R. 1932 P. 317. An order for restitution against the respondent who has never received the money or obtained any benefit from it in favour of the applicants who never possessed the money nor lost it would offend as well against the dictates of conscience and reason as against the express provisions of s. 144. 10 Rang. 480=A. No restitution can be obtained against bona fide auction purchaser, through Court competent to hold the sale. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 176=79 Ind. Cas. 57. Restitution should be made as nearly as possible with reference to positions of parties before the erroneous order and not to the subsequent position taken by them as a consequence of the order as it is not authorised by s. 144 to restore parties to latter positions taken up by them of their own accord, as remotely resulting from that order. 37 Ind. A claimant for restitution under this section need not be a party to the suit. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 657=118 Ind. Cas. 389. Restitution can be claimed where a decree is varied. 95 Ind. Cas. 877=A. I. Applications for restitution are in substance execution proceedings and as such cognizable by the executing Court. 67 Ind. Cas. 319=A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 198. Where a decree-holder is the auction purchaser in execution of ex parte decree, the sale will fall through if decree is set aside, but not in the case of an innocent purchaser in good faith where his right is injuriously affected by conduct of the parties to suit. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1074=86 Ind. Cas. 376 ; but see A. I. R. 1924 Sind 101=17 S. L. R. 73=80 Ind. Cas. 1002.

Where a preliminary decree for partition is reversed on appeal, the final decree passed pending the appeal becomes ineffective and a party from whom any money is recovered under the final decree is entitled to restitution of the amount from the party who received it. 27 C. L. J. 451=43 Ind. Cas. 775. A purchaser at execution sale in a mortgage decree paying Government revenue on the property for 4 years after which period the sale is set aside is entitled to restitution of amount against the Receiver of the mortgaged property. 51 Ind. Cas. 706. A decree for cost for Rs. 49 was executed by sale of 2 times, 1st. fetched Rs. 35, and second Rs. 15. In appeal the costs were reduced to Rs. 36. On a question arising whether defendant is entitled to get restitution of properties on payment of costs decreed by the appellant Court held, not entitled unless they show that if the decree originally passed was for the correct amount, the properties would not have been sold. 35 C. W. N. 1298=54 C. L. J. 293. Where the Court passes a joint decree for costs against several defendants and one of them deposits the decree amount for himself and on behalf of others, the depositor is entitled to a refund of the amount when the decree is reversed in appeal and no question of proportionate refund can arise under those circumstances. 35 C. W. N. 1305. The same principles as are applicable to restitution proceedings under s. 144 apply to those under the inherent powers of the Court. 35 C. W. N. 483=58 C. 1070=134 Ind. Cas. 906. Restitution can be had only in respect of matters, done under the decree or as an immediate consequence of it. It cannot be ordered against persons whose claims have not arisen under the decree or as a direct or immediate consequence thereof, and who are in no sense the legal representatives of one of the parties. Ibid.

Court of first instance.—Where on appeal the decree of a temporary subordinate Court was reversed and that Court ceased to exist and a new temporary subordinate Court was established : Held that the latter Court was the Court of first instance within the meaning of s. 144 and could order restitution. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 103=13 L. W. 67=61 Ind. Cas. 962. For the purpose of this section "Court of first instance" when it has lost territorial jurisdiction should be interpreted according to the general principle as laid down in s. 37 (b) as it would apply even to cases where the Court of first instance has been abolished and also to cases where the Court of first instance has ceased to have a jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 813=51 M. L. J. 161=95 Ind. Cas. 587. "Court of first instance" confines the applicability to the cases where the variation or reversal has been made or is in consequence of an order made by a superior Court. If the case comes within the purview of the section no matter whether the question is simple or complicated, it will have to be determined on an application made under it and a separate suit would be barred. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 42=52 C. L. J. 505=34 C. W. N. 746=130 Ind. Cas. 236. The words "Court of first instance" must mean that the application for restitution must be made to the Court which did the act which turned out to be wrong and not to the appellate Court. A. I. The duty of the Court when awarding restitution under s. 144 of the Code is imperative. It shall place the applicant in the position in which he would have been if the order had not been made; and for this purpose the Court is armed with powers (the 'may' is empowering not discretionary) as to mesne profits, interest and so forth. Hence restitution ordinarily involves interest also and Court can grant same. A. I. R. 1935 P. C. 12=1935 A. L. J. 251=1935 O. W. N. 147=153 Ind. Cas. 654=37 Bom. L. R. 162=39 C. W. N. 377=60 C. L. Surety is a party.—The effect of the words "for the purposes of appeal" as used in s. 145 is that the surety is given the right of appeal against an order made against him in execution proceedings as a party to the suit possesses but is not for any other purpose to be regarded as a party to the suit or representative of such within s. 47. A surety is not therefore entitled to file any application which falls under s. 47 unless such application is permitted under some express provision in the Code. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 206=9 Rang. 451. Surety is a party to the suit within section 47, Civil Procedure Code. 10 Bur. L. T. 15=34 Ind. Cas. 247. A third party who has given security on behalf of a judgment-debtor for the performance of a decree cannot apply to the executing Court to cancel the surety bond on the ground that it was obtained by fraud. 149. [New.] Where the whole or any part of any fee prescribed for Power to make up deficiency any document by the law for the time being in force relating to Court-fees has not been paid, the Court may, in its discretion, at any stage, allow the person, by whom such fee is payable, to pay the whole or part, as the case may be, of such Court-fee ; and upon such payment the document, in respect of which such fee is payable, shall have the same force and effect as if such fee had been paid in the first instance.

Scope.—Time can be granted at any stage for payment of deficit Court-fee. Court may therefore grant time before or after registration of the plaint and even after the expiry of the period of limitation. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 156=89 Ind. Cas. 419. The discretion to give time for payment of Court-fee at any stage means a stage of judicial proceedings and not after a final decree has been passed and the Court is divested itself of jurisdiction. J. 1127=159 Ind. Cas. 630. The power to allow deficiency of Court-fee to be made up is not confined to the Court receiving the insufficiently stamped document. 13 Lah. L. T. 31. Where the Court-fee payable on a memorandum of objections to an award has not been paid through inadvertence, owing to the bona fide mistake of the objector's counsel but the requisite Court-fee is paid at the earliest opportunity, the Court should, under s. 149, Civil Procedure Code accept the Court-fee and should not dismiss the objections as not properly stamped. A.I.R. 1937 Lah. 276. For granting permission to pay Court-fees under s. 149, it is essential that there should be a pending proceeding before the Court. A.I.R. 1937 Lah. 151. Where the plaintiff has obtained to pay deficient Court-fees after period of limitation on a false pretence, the Court has power to review its order granting time under s. 149 and reject the plaint as barred by limitation. A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 87. Payment of deficient Court-fees at the instance of a Court not authorized to pass such order under s. 149, also save limitation. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 392. Section 8 of the Court-fees Act. relating to appeals in respect of compensation money being quite clear, any mistake in not paying Court-fee could not be regarded as bona fide and therefore time could not be granted for making up the deficiency. 32 P.L.R. 251=A.I.R. Section 149 does not speak of rejection but only of admission and it is not easy to see how read with order 7, rule 11 it can be said to confer unlimited power of rejection. 1932 M. W. N. 104.

Unless there is satisfactory explanation of the mistake, any extension will not be granted for making up deficiency on Memorandum of Appeal. 3 Lah. L. J. 156=67 Ind. Cas. 130. Before granting permission to deposit deficit Court-fee reason for not filing the entire Court-fee in the first instance must be considered. 66 Ind. Cas. 493.

Where an insufficiently stamped plaint is filed within limitation the suit is deemed to have been instituted on the date of filing of plaint though the deficiency is made good after limitation. 1 P. Inability of a party to raise funds is not ordinarily a sufficient ground which would entitle the Court to exercise its discretion under s. 149 and to permit payment of the deficit Court-fees. But such inability may be a ground under special conditions. 40 C. W. N. 1294; A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 336=13 Rang. 50=159 Ind. Cas. 468; see also 38 C. W. N. 650=6 I. C. 663=A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 559.

Ignorance of law or poverty is not an adequate legal ground for extension and no extension should be granted when insufficiently stamped Memorandum of Appeal is re-filed. 3 Lah. L. J. 237=67 Ind. Where Court-fee is paid within time allowed, the Memorandum of Appeal has the same force and effect as if the Court-fee had been paid in the first instance and its validity cannot be challenged on the ground of limitation. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 225=3 Lah. 35=26 P. W. R. 1922=65 Ind. Cas. 741. The same rule is applicable in the case of plaint as well. 5 P. L. J. 554=1 P. L. T. 544=58 Ind. Cas. 216. But to avail the terms of s. 149, the permission to deposit deficit Court-fee must be given after considering the circumstances and reasons for not filing the entire Court-fee in the first instance. 60 Ind. Under Order VII, rule II, clause (c) read with section 149 empowers a Court to allow plaintiff further time to make up the deficiency and if such deficiency is made good within the prescribed time the fact of limitation expressing in meantime could not affect the suit. Deficiency cannot be allowed to be made up on the day of hearing in the absence of some reason for exercise of discretion and a bona fide mistake. 44 Ind. Cas. 398. Where deficiency in appeal filed within time, is due to a bona fide mistake of pleader, who on discovering his mistake makes it good after expiry of the period allowed for appeal, discretion under s. 149 might be exercised. 10 P. Where an error of the Court misleads party and the deficiency in the Court fee is due to a bona fide mistake on his part he is entitled to benefit of s. 149. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 509=92 Ind. Cas. 319. Where plaint is in time and the deficiency is made up within time allowed by the Court, but after the expiry of the period of limitation, the suit is not time-barred. A. I. have the same powers and shall perform the same duties as those respectively conferred and imposed by or under this Code upon the Court from which the business was so transferred.

Scope.—This section applies only to cases when certain specified business has been actually transferred by order of a competent Court. A. I. R. 1928 Mad 746=28 L. W. 885=114 Ind. Saving of inherent powers of Court.	affect the inherent power of the Court to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court.

Scope of the section.—Section 151, C. P. Code, does not confer new power on the Court. It simply saves the inherent power of the Court to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice. 62 C. L. J. 298=A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 707; A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 151=158 Ind. Cas. 971; A. The Court is bound to exercise its inherent powers cautiously and with circumspection, and it is not at liberty to do so where the order proposed would contravene any principle of common law or equity, or would affect a matter in respect of which provision has been made by statute either expressly according to the true indictment thereof. A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 208=163 Ind. Cas. 340=14 Rang. 173. In order to get equitable relief provided in this section the applicant must come with clean hands. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 567. As no Code can be exhaustive of procedure for exercising every power, which a Court of justice is competent to exercise, s. 151 has been enacted and should be availed of only where power which has been exercised has not been provided for in the Code. The exercise of the inherent power under this section is subject to the rule that it must not be invoked where the Code contains specific provisions which would meet the necessities of the case. This section does not become applicable in every case in which there is no other remedy. It is usually applied at the instance of the party who has a specific remedy under the Code but has neglected to avail himself of it ; nor can the law of limitation be ignored by taking recourse to the section. I. R. 1924 Nag. 196=75 Ind. Cas. 917; 40 Ind. Cas. 182. Consolidation of appeals can also be made under s. 151 apart from Order XLV, rule 4. 3 Pat. L. J. 446=(1918) Pat. 259=45 Ind. Cas. 551; A. I. R. 1923 All. 490 (F. B.)=21 A. L. J. 465=45 A. 506=74 Ind. Cas. 411; 34 M. L. J. 279=45 Ind. Cas. 468. Appeals once consolidated for whatever reason, form in fact one appeal and parties in suit must be regarded as parties in one suit. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 215=70 Ind. Cas. 782. Effect of order declaring appeals to be analogous is not that of consolidation but merely that they shall be heard together and order in one does not unless so stated govern the other. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 765=7 P. L. T. 431=4 Pat. 448=1925 Pat. 345=93 Ind. Cas. 129.

Costs.—Court can under inherent power enforce in such manner as it thought proper, payment of costs, in favour of Commissioner in connection with execution of commission recoverable from parties, and proceeding taken if not proceeding between parties within s. 47, the order is not appealable. A. I. R. 1924 All. 192=74 Ind. Cas. 186. Order to pauper to pay costs of amendment in cash and order dismissing a suit in failure of the same is bad. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 385=24 Bom. L. R. 924=47 B. 104=69 Ind. Cas. 207. Where third party conducts proceedings costs in insolvency can be ordered to be paid if facts show that there has been abuse of the process of Court. 21 C. W. N. 826=26 C. L. J. 44=40 Ind. Cas. 999. Order as to costs cannot be altered by the successor in office except in review or under s. 152. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 47=3 Pat. 654=82 Ind. Cas. 813.

Dismissal for default.—If an application under Order 9, rule 9 is made when the period for it has expired, s. 151 cannot be invoked to set aside a dismissal for default. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 319=52 C. L. J. 23=129 Ind. Cas. 778 ; 23 N. L. R. 183=107 Ind. Cas. 193=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 91. Where in an application really purporting to be for restoration of a suit, the word "review" is used, the suit should be restored despite the technical objection. 58 Ind. Cas. 748. An appeal dismissed for default can be restored by Court under its inherent power. 45 B. 648=23 Bom. L. R. 110=60 Ind. Cas. 919. Order under s. 151 restraining execution application dismissed for default without due notice to the judgment-debtor is not maintainable. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 59=87 Ind. Cas. 438. Mistaken order of dismissal for default can be set aside under s. 151. A. I. R. 1928 All. 301=26 A. L. J. 382=108 Ind. Cas. 576. Where plaintiff is absent as having been adjudged insolvent and the Official Assignee is not served, dismissal of suit for default is bad and can be set aside in appeal. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 76=31 C. W. N. 22=53 C. 844=98 Ind. Cas. 281. Inherent power cannot be exercised in favour of party remaining absent when he ought to be present and unable to give satisfactory reason therefor, so as to interfere with rights of third parties. A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 377=28 Bom. L. R. 626=50 B. 457=96 Ind. Cas. 411. The Court cannot under s. 151 set aside the order of dismissal for default or an order passed ex parte in applications under Order XXI, rr. 97 and 100 on sufficient cause being shown, since there is no justification in taking resort to s. 151 when other remedies already exist. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 757=52 M. 899=57 M. L. J. 387=30 L. W. 424=120 Ind. Cas. 567.

Execution.—Inherent powers should be invoked for execution of Court procedure whereof is not clearly provided in the Act under which it is passed. A. I. R. 1929 All. 211=114 Ind. Cas. 890 ; A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 115 ; but see A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 176=161 Ind. Cas. 933. Section 151 can be invoked to refuse to confirm auction sale only when it is shown that the Court is misled by misstatement or non-disclosure of relevant facts. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 17=88 Ind. But the Court should not except in very substantial circumstances set aside a rule suo motu without proof of any substantial injury under s. 151. A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 253=18 S. L. R. 39=86 Ind. Cas. 1045. In considering validity of execution sale, appellate Court need not confine itself only to order 21, rule 90, but it may act even under s. 151. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 778=47 M. L. J. 549=(1924) M. W. N. 842=84 Ind. Cas. 975 ; see also A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 128=80 Ind. Cas. 444 ; A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 100=(1923) M. W. N. 672=45 M. L. J. 312=77 Ind. Cas. 12. Court has inherent power to transmit certified copies of necessary documents to Court in Native State to enable it to execute decree though the decree itself cannot be transferred. 13 Bnr. L. T. 145=61 Ind. Cas. 704. The Court cannot invoke s. 151 when the applicant has his remand under Order 21, rule 89, but did not avail himself of it. 136 Ind. Cas. 735=33 P. L. R. 146=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 238. The order dismissing the application for execution is appealable, and where no appeal has been preferred from that order the application cannot be restored under s. 151. A. I. R. 1932 Oudh 220=9 O. W. N. 430=138 Ind. Cas. 149=A. I. R. 1932 Oudh 445. Where an objection petition by judgment-debtor was dismissed and another petition containing the same and some fresh objections was put in by the judgment-debtor under s. 47 and Order 21, rule 66, held that the proper order would be to treat the application as one under s. 151 and revive both the applications on terms as to cost. 36 C. W. N. 367=55 C. L. J. 184=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 569. Where after the Court sale and before its confirmation the judgment-debtor was shown to have leased the property and realised a portion of the rent and thereupon the purchaser applied for a prohibitory order against the judgment-debtor and tenant as regards the paying and receiving of rent : Held that although the prohibitory order could not be issued under s. 47 or Order 21, rule 46, it could be passed under s. 151 as the ends of justice required the same. 136 Ind. Cas. 4=33 P. L. R. 435=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 295. Where same property has been sold twice in execution of decrees of different decree-holders an application for rateable distribution is put in long before the confirmation of the first sale, but the Court, in ignorance of these facts, confirms the second sale, it has inherent power to avoid abuse of process of Court and to set aside its order of confirmation of second sale on being appraised of the true facts. 11 P. 250=12 P. L. T. 639=134 Ind. Cas. 616. There is no inherent jurisdiction in a Court to set aside a sale outside the provisions of Order 21. 1932 A. L. J. 392=A. I. R. 1932 All. 403; see also 136 Ind. Cas. 755=33 P. L. R. 146=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 238.

Attachment like any other order can also be revived by the Court under s. 151 if it is necessary in the interest of justice. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 267=4 N. L. J. 118=18 N. L. R. 152=64 Ind. Cas. 400. There is inherent power in Court to release property from illegal attachment apart from Order 21, rule 56, the Code not being exhaustive in that respect. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 409=2 P. L. T. 240=(1921) Pat. 205=61 Ind. Cas. 922. To restore execution application under s. 151 strong grounds are necessary as would be required for application for review. A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 201=73 Ind. Only course for appellate Court thinking addition of other parties as defendants and inclusion of other properties in suit necessary is to remand suit under its inherent power for fresh trial from beginning. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1076=43 C. L. J. 601=97 Ind. Cas. 188. Where the case is remanded by the lower appellate Court for trial upon issues framed by it, the remand order is one under s. 151 and not under Order XXI, r. 23. A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 296=6 Pat. 380=103 Ind. Cas. 722. Remand given under s. 151 is not without jurisdiction and hence no appeal lies from such an order. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 335=52 M. L. J. 90=25 L. W. 198=100 Ind. Cas. 135. Single Judge of High Court has inherent power to make order of remand; it is not appealable under the Letters Patent but can be questioned in appeal from the judgment after remand. Judgment after remand is also invalid if order of remand is held invalid. 58 Ind. Cas. 538. Where adjournment is wrongly refused, appellate Court has power to set aside decree and orders retrial. 23 Bom. L. R. 769=63 Ind. Cas. 478. The correctness of a remand order can be investigated even though appeal has been preferred against it. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 336=78 Ind. Cas. 466.

Remand under s. 151 can be allowed in cases not covered by Order XXIII or XLI. But it shall not be so allowed where it is specifically disallowed by other provisions of the Code. Hence order of remand is not irregular or invalid where it does nothing which is prohibited by the Court. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 224=31 P. L. R. 50=11 Lah. L. J. 507=122 Ind. Cas. 473; 32 C. W. But under special circumstances Memorandum of Appeal may be taken as a petition for revision. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 564; 34 P. L. R. 51=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 73. An order of remand under s. 151, C. P. Code, is appealable only when it amounts to a decree. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 49=154 Ind. Cas. 859. The propriety of an order under s. 151, C. P. Code, cannot be questioned under s. 115, C. P. Code. 59 C. L. J. 389=A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 780.

Appellate Court—power of.—Appellate Court has an inherent power to grant special leave to appeal, and here it where it has been refused under s. 106 (a), Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, if a question of principle is involved. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 245=25 Bom. L. R. 161=72 Ind. Cas. 261. Decision not appealed against is not generally reversed but when justice so demand, appellate Court can set aside a decision on point not appealed against. A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 455=4 O. W. N. 862=104 Ind. Cas. 824. Jurisdiction to allow appellant to continue appeal in forma pauperis can be exercised only if Court is of opinion on passing decree and judgment that the decree is contrary to law. (1920) M. W. N. 277=38 M. L. J. 146=10 L. W. 659=54 Ind. Cas. 761.

Limitation.—An application for restitution either under s. 144 or under s. 151 is subject to the rule of limitation as mentioned in Art. 181 of the Limitation Act. 3 P. 371=78 Ind. Cas. 200=A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 1 (F. B.).

152. [New.] Clerical or arithmetical mistakes in judgments, decrees or orders or errors arising therein from any accidental slip or omission may at any time be corrected by the Court either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties.

Scope.—This section applies both to judgments and decrees. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 400. Decree in conformity with judgment cannot be amended. A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 405=9 P. L. T. 15=103 Ind. Cas. 298. Where in a mortgage suit a judgment contains two contradictory directions as regards the decree in a mortgage suit and the decree is technically in accordance with the earlier operative part of the judgment, no application for amendment of decree lies. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 589=125 Ind. Cas. 374. Application for amendment filed in appellate Court should not be dismissed merely because mistake was not brought to the notice when appeal was heard. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 830=123 Ind. Cas. 355. Ordinarily where there is a discrepancy between the decree and the judgment and the decree-holder accepts payment of the amount due under the decree, he is not by that circumstance alone, debarred from taking proper steps to have the decree brought in accordance with the judgment. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 830=(1929) M. W. N. 729=123 Ind. Cas. 355. Where final decree omitted clause regarding interest in the preliminary decree for sale, omission can be rectified at any time by Court. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 223=91 Ind. Cas. 29. Court can add a necessary direction in its judgment accidentally omitted after the judgment is signed. A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 25=8 P. L. T. 81=97 Ind. Cas. 386. Correction involving payment of larger amount should not be allowed long after satisfaction was recorded. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 516=(1926) M. W. N. 180=50 M. L. J. 655=94 Ind. Cas. 453. Where a decree is drawn up in pursuance of a judgment, successor of the Judge cannot amend the decree so as to bring it in conformity with it. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1100=96 Ind. Cas. 195. Under certain circumstances a decree in conformity with judgment can be amended. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 435=1927 M. W. N. 38=99 Ind. Cas. 655. Where property is sold at a Court sale and made over to the auction-purchaser, the Court which has ordered the sale, cannot set it aside under its inherent powers on the ground that the sale was ordered by a mistake for a sum larger than what was due under the decree. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 389=27 Bom. L. R. 657=89 Ind. Cas. 589. Dower decree making all defendants liable jointly and severally for the whole dower debt can be amended. A. I. R. 1924 All. 690=82 Ind. Cas. 627 ; see also A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 414=80 Ind. Cas. 180 ; 76 Ind. Cas. 198=A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 621. Court can correct mistake in final form in order due to original mistake in party's application. A. I. R. 1924 All. 520=22 A. L. J. 215=78 Ind. Cas. 166. Mistake in description of property in plaint and decree can be amended. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 92=1935 O. W. N. 31. Revisional Court has no power to amend a decree of the first Court, where the petition for revision is dismissed. 156 Ind. Cas. 585=A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 91.

Court cannot amend a decree when it is in conformity with the judgment, even if there is an error apparent on the face of the judgment. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 225=18 L. W. 876=33 M. L. T. 221=76 Ind. Cas. 786. Section 152 is the widest possible law justifying the amendment of misdescription of lands in the plaint. A. I. R. 1923 All. 349=21 A. L. J. 328=72 Ind. Cas. 483. Where the District Munsiff when shorthand transcription reached him entirely changed the effect of what he dictated in open Court, the revision was held incompetent. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 663=18 L. W. 105=72 Ind. Cas. 688. It was wrong for Court to pass order describing person as appellant who was never an appellant before it. A. I. R. 1923 All. 119=20 A. L. J. 980=71 Ind. Cas. 424. Where the whole system of calculation adopted by the Court was challenged in plaintiffs' application and there was no more allegation of an arithmetical or clerical mistake, held that although Court purported to act under s. 152, it must be considered legally to have acted under Order XLVII. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 250=3 Lah. L. J. 341=66 Ind. Cas. 992. Application to correct decree as to costs can be made under s. 152. 54 Ind. Cas. 821 ; see also 57 Ind. Cas. 739. Decree passed on award, embodying terms as to costs not contained in award can not be amended, the only way to cure the defect being an appeal or application for review. 3 L. W. 499=34 Ind. Cas. 787. An error in its final decree copied from High Court's preliminary decree cannot be amended by District Court. 31 Ind. Cas. 320. The remedy where decree does not accord with the judgment is amendment of decree and not a suit to set aside. 43 C. 217=19 C. W. N. 1228=31 C. 13. A decree against a person cannot be amended so as to add another as judgment-debtor against whom a decree is not passed. 40 Ind. Cas. 47. Parties are not to be driven to subsequent suit where delivery of properties not covered by decree is ordered. Court should correct its mistake. 49 Ind. Cas. 1948. This section is available not only in cases where the mistake or error arose for the first time in the plaint or after the institution of the suit but is also available where the mistake originates in a document which has been copied into the plaint or at some time anterior to the plaint. There is nothing which limits the power of the Court under s. 152 to correcting errors, mistakes or omissions which arise in the suit. 131 Ind. Cas. 6=34 L. W. 955=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 260=61 M. L. J. 805. An order setting aside an ex parte decree is a judgment within the meaning of s. 2 (9) and cannot be lightly set aside save as provided by s. 152 or on review. 145 Ind. Cas. 302=10 O. W. N. 794=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 385.

Clerical or Arithmetical Errors—Section 152 deals with amendments of clerical errors in order or decrees of Court itself which are drawn up and which do not properly represent what the Court decides. A. I. R. 1927 All. 585=102 Ind. Cas. 124 ; A. I. R. 1928 All. 458=26 A. L. J. 1323=111 Ind. Cas. 245 ; 24 Ind. Cas. 283 ; 12 A. L. J. 185=23 Ind. Cas. 344 ; 29 Ind. Cas. 144, 22 Ind. Cas. 774=15 M. Where the applicant is guilty of laches, an application to correct a clerical error will be refused. 37 P. L. R. 623.

Accidental slip or omission.—Where omission is not a deliberate one but is merely due to inadvertence, the judgment and the decree based on it can be amended even where the right of appeal was not availed of. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 210=125 Ind. Cas. 355; see also A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 260=131 Ind. Cas. 6. The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has also jurisdiction to recommend alteration of a former order in Council on the ground that by inadvertence it does not give effect to the intention of the Board as expressed in their judgment. A. I. R. 1931 P. C. 1042=35 C. W. N. 583=(1931) M. W. N. 620=131 Ind. Cas. 309. After confirmation of lower Court's decree in appeal, jurisdiction of that Court to amend decree ceases. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 830=(1929) M. W. N. 729=123 Ind. Cas. 355; see also A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 138=120 Ind. Cas. 735. Amendment of decree prejudicing rights of third parties should not be allowed. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 399=54 M. 184=32 L. W. 919=124 Ind. Cas. 818=(1930) M. W. N. 1152. This section empowers Court not only to correct clerical or arithmetical mistakes but also errors arising therein from any accidental slip or omission, which may be done at any time and even without application from any parties. May at any time corrected.—Although there is no limitation for a case under s. 152, no amendment should be allowed where laches may disentitle a party to relief. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 149=109 Ind. Cas. 727; but see A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 408=78 Ind. Cas. 96=11 O. L. J. 227=80 Ind. Cas. 833 (where amendment was granted after 20 years); A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 895=28 C. W. N. 873=80 Ind. Cas. 55. Court is not bound to grant application for amendment in every case. Court can dismiss application filed 3 years after full satisfaction of mortgage decree. A. I. R. 1925 All. 556=23 A. L. J. 518=88 Ind. Cas. 396. Application for amendment under s. 152 is not maintainable after discharge and satisfaction of a decree. A. I. R. 1925 All. 556=23 A. L. J. 518=88 Ind. Cas. 396. Exercise of power to amend under s. 152 is discretionary and necessarily so when no period of limitation is provided for application for its exercise. An application for amendment should therefore be rejected as too late if the rights of third parties acting in good faith have intervened. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 57=16 L. W. 623=43 M. L. J. 559=69 Ind. Cas. 977; A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 408=78 Ind. Cas. 96=11 O. L. J. 227=80 Ind. Cas. 833. A decree can be brought into conformity with judgment even after the lapse of years. 60 Cal. 753=146 Ind. The power under this section is discretionary and the High Court will not interfere unless the lower Court has exercised the discretion in such a manner that it is obviously wrong and unjust to make the order it did. A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 425=10 O. W. N. 958; see also 10 O. W. N. 1087=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 529; 146 Ind. Cas. 310=10 O. W. N. 884=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 466; 15 N. L. R. 124=142 Ind. Cas. 880.

Consent decree.—Consent decree cannot be amended without consent. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 51=130 Ind. Cas. 907=57 C. 1143; A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 104. Application to amend consent decree on the ground of fraud is outside s. 152. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 470=33 C. W. N. 883=124 Ind. Cas. 525. Where suit is compromised in appeal but the judgment omitted certain terms of compromise, Court would pass an order correcting the omission under s. 152. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 352=9 Lah. 176=30 P. L. R. 135=119 Ind. Cas. 257. In an application by judgment-debtor for amendment of compromise decree, decree-holder cannot plead that compromise was obtained by fraud. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 400. Even in compromise decree accidental slip can be corrected. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 254=116 Ind. Cas. 706. The test for determination of an application for amendment under s. 152 is whether the decree is or is not in accordance with the intention of the Judge who decided the case. Where the intention of the Judge apparently was to pass a decree in terms of compromise, but the decree was passed contrary to the judgment and the terms of the compromise, an application for amendment should be allowed. 8 O. An application for amendment of a decree is maintainable under s. 152 where the question of award of costs is not in dispute but only the method of assessments or any item awarded is in controversy. 165 Ind. Cas. 904=A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 196. Application by the plaintiff to amend the decree so as to bring its terms in conformity with judgment must be made to the Court which passed it and not to the appellate Court. 57 Ind. Cas. 710. When decree is confirmed on appeal, appellate Court alone can amend the decree even when appeal is dismissed under Order XLI, r. 11. 55 Ind. Cas. 305 ; see also 43 Ind. Cas. 360. When High Court refuses to revise decree of Small Cause Court it must remain as the decree of the original Court and an application for the amendment of it must be made to the original and not to the High Court. 1 Lah. 342=56 P. The mere fact of an appeal being filed does not oust the jurisdiction of original Court to amend plaint or decree on account of clerical error. When the trial Court's decree is merged into appellate decree then only the jurisdiction of the original Court is ousted. 1931 A. L. J. 536=A. I. R. 1931 All. 736 ; see also 36 C. W. N. 665. Where an appeal has been summarily dismissed under Order 41, rule 11, by the High Court, the application for amendment of the decree should be made to the lower Court. 11 Pat. 409=138 Ind. A clerical error in the plaint about description of property can be corrected by the High Court even after decree is passed in whatever subsequent record it is repeated by mistake. 14 L. W. 445=62 Ind. Cas. 652. This section has no application where an order is passed dismissing an application under Order IX, r. 13, for default as the dismissal order is not an error or defect in the proceedings, though it may be an erroneous order as made on merits. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 121=1922 Pat. 5=60 Ind. Cas. 152. Where judgment and decree granted possession but omitted to make any mention of mesne profits, such accidental omission is covered by s. 152. A. I. R. 1937 Oudh 191. Under the provisions of s. 153 a Court may, subject to the provisions of s. 5, Limitation Act, allow the amendment of an appeal against the person who had died before the date of the presentation of the memorandum, although it is found that no appeal in law exists. A. I. R. 1934 Nag 274. Where a vakil's name is not included in the body of the vakalatnama but the vakalatnama is executed with the intention of appointing the vakil and the vakil accepts the vakalatnama and presents the plaint, the Court can correct the vakalatnama on a subsequent application praying for the same and the presentation of the plaint is valid. A. I. R. 1934 All. 810. The fact that the dead man had been made a party by mistake does not deprive the Court of the power to implead his legal representatives and proceed with the hearing of the appeal. Section 153, C. P. Code, allows the Court a discretion to do so in a fit case. e. g., where the mistake is a bona fide one. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 192.

A party should not be punished for inapt procedure when its right is clear, and there can be no misunderstanding, surprise or prejudice to other side. Where parties, and the Court have understood real meaning of application it ought to be amended in suitable form. A. I. R. 1921 All. 321=19 A. L. J. 549=63 Ind. Cas. 184. It is an abuse of the process of the Court to overvalue a suit and the plaint should be returned for presentation to proper Court. A. I. R. 1925 All. 142=83 Ind. Cas. 1. Where an appeal is presented against a person who was dead at the date of presentation the cause title may be amended or the appeal memo may be returned for amendment and re-presentation. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1210=49 M. L. J. 590=49 M. 18=23 L. W. 418; see also 75 Ind. Cas. 739=43 M. L. J. 231. An amendment asked for, before any prejudice could have arisen and which would raise no question of limitation should be allowed. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 417=43 M. L. J. 184=16 L. W. 178=(1922) M. W. N. 514=70 Ind. Cas. 743.

Notice by Court should be given by Court to judgment-debtor in case of application for amendment of sale certificate by the auction purchaser. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 63=(1922) M. W. N. 130=16 L. W. 760=65 Ind. Cas. 732. Rules of Courts are only provisions intended to secure the proper administration of justice and they should therefore be subordinate to that purpose so that full powers of amendment must be enjoyed and should always be exercised liberally but nonetheless one distinct cause of action cannot be substituted for another, nor can the subject-matter of the suit be changed by amendment. A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 249=24 Bom. L. R. 682=30 M. L. T. 28=48 I. A. 214=48 C. 832=(1921) M. W. N. 396 (P. C.)=63 Ind. Cas. 914. Ss. 151, 152 and 153 are very salutary provisions of law and are meant to invest the Court with authority to see that the object for which the Court exists is carried out and that the merest technicality may not be allowed to stand in the way of substantial justice. 55 A. 216=A. I. R. 1933 All. 295=145 Ind. Cas. 437=1933 A. L. J. 110. Where the verification in an application for leave to appeal lies forma pauperis not being in the manner prescribed by the Code, the Court should allow the applicant a chance to correct the defect of the verification before rejecting the application itself. A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 108.

154. [S. 3, third para.] Nothing in this Code shall affect any present right of appeal which shall have accrued to any party at its commencement.

Scope.—The right of appeal is substantive right and as such this section does not touch the right existing at the passing of the statute. Colonial Sugar Refining Co. v. Irving, (1905) A. C. 369=74 L. J. P. C. 77=21 T. L. R. 513=92 L. T. 738; see also 54 L. A. 421=47 C. L. J. 1=A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 242. Express saving of pending rights of appeal do not imply repeal of other vested rights. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 126=13 L. W. 37=(1921) M. W. N. 181=61 Ind. Cas. 979. The fact that the execution sale took place and the application is set aside on the ground of fraud was made before the new Code of Civil Procedure came into operation does not make the order passed on the application after the new Code came into force subject to a second appeal under the provisions of the old Code. 17 C. W. N. 524; 17 C. W. N. 525n. Section 154 of the Code shows that the legislature in enacting it considered that it might and would interfere with rights and the argument that such a view would cause hardship, as previously existing rights would be imperilled, overlooks the provision which prescribed that the Code, although passed in March, 1908, should not come into force until January, 1909, and thus afforded opportunity to all persons having rights under the old Code to enforce them before the new Code came into operation. 17 C. W. N. 622. Section 154 means that nothing shall prejudicially affect any present right of appeal. It can have no bearing on the powers of an appellate Court in dealing with appeals before it. 9 Ind. Cas. 815; see also 9 M. L. T. 259=21 M. L. J. 631=9 Ind. Cas. 937; 8 Ind. Cas. 8=7 A. L. J. 1070; 15 Ind. Cas. 725=84 P. W. R. 1912; 16 C. W. N. 1015.

155. [New.] The enactments mentioned in the Fourth Schedule are hereby amended to the extent specified in the fourth column thereof.

156. [Repeals.] Repealed by s. 3 and Schedule II of the Second Repealing and Amending Act, 1914 (XVII of 1914.)

157. [S. 3, second sentence.] Notifications published, declarations and rules made, places appointed, agreements filed, scales prescribed, forms framed, appointments made and powers conferred under Act VIII of 1859 or under any Code of Civil Procedure or any Act amending the same or under any other enactment hereby repealed shall, so far as they are consistent with this Code, have the same force and effect as if they had been respectively published, made, appointed, filed, prescribed, framed and conferred under this Code and by the authority empowered thereby in such behalf.

Scope.—Section 157, C. P. Code, is an enabling and not a repealing section. The words "so far as they are inconsistent with this Code" which occur in this section do not impliedly repeal rules framed under s. 269, C. P. Code of 1882. 24 M. L. J. 637=20 Ind. Cas. 775 (F. B.). The term "rules made" means rules made by the proper authority having jurisdiction. Rules under the old Code which were then ultra vires are not valid because they could be made under the new Code. 29 M. L. J. 663=31 Ind. Cas. 924.

158. [S. 3, second para.] In every enactment or notification passed or issued before the commencement of this Code in which reference is made to or to any Chapter or section of Act VIII of 1859 or any Code of Civil Procedure or any Act amending the same or any other enactment hereby repealed, such reference shall, so far as may be practicable, be taken to be made to this Code or to its corresponding Part, Order, section or rule.

Scope.—Alterations in procedure are always retrospective unless there lie some good reasons against it. 7 Ind. Cas. 11. In the absence of provisions to the contrary the expired or the repealed Act is considered to have never been in existence except as to matters and transactions past and closed. Sustees v. Ellison, 9 B. & C. 752. Churchill v. Crease, 5 Bing. 177. But a repeal does not affect any right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired, accrued or incurred under any enactment so repealed. Lewis v. Hughes (1916). 1 K. B. 813 C. A.

THE FIRST SCHEDULE.

Parties to Suits.

1. [S. 26, R. S. C. O. 16. r. 1.] All persons may be joined in one suit as plaintiffs in whom any right to relief in respect of or arising out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions is alleged to exist, whether jointly, severally or in the alternative, where, if such persons brought separate suits, any common question of law or fact would arise.

Scope.—This rule in the main is based upon Order XVI, rule 1 of the Supreme Court Practice and s. 26 of the old Code. According to Lord Justice Bowen it is not the intention of the rule to allow writs to be issued under which any number of plaintiffs might join any number of causes of action, or that a writ should be like an omnibus travelling on a certain route into which any number of persons may get as passengers for the journey. (1893) 2 Q. B. 422. This rule relates only to joinder of parties on the same causes of action. (1894) A. C. 494; (1899) 1 Q. B. 840; but see (1907) 1 K. B. 264, 274, per Cosens Hardy L. J. "Rule 1, order 1 of Act V of 1908, which brings the Indian practice into line with English rule, provides as follows.....It seems to their Lordships that under this rule the contingent reversioners may be joined as plaintiffs in the presumptive reversioner's suit." Per Amir Ali J. in 19 C. W. N. 641 P. C.=38 M. 405=17 Bom. L. R. 468. According to recent decision in England this rule relates to joinder of causes of action as well. (1907) 1 K. B. 264 (274); (1910) 2 K. B. 354 (365). So the joinder of plaintiffs is allowed in cases where (1) the right to relief claimed by them arises in each of their cases out of the same transaction or series of transactions, and where (2) some common question of law or fact arises. In order to bring a case within the rule both these conditions must be complied with, and if they are not the rule does not justify the joinder of several plaintiffs. Per Chitty J. in Stroud v. Lawson, (1898) 2 Q. B. 44 (52); Oxford and Cambridge Universities v. Gill, (1899) 1 Ch. 55 (59); Yearly Practice, 1921, p. 155. In a recent case the Calcutta High Court has held that rule, applies not only to the joinder of plaintiffs, but also to the joinder of causes of action in one suit. So under this rule several causes of action can be joined in one suit if some common question of law or fact would arise. 41 C.W.N. 27=A.I.R. 1936 Cal. 650. It is not, however, it seems, necessary that the whole of a transaction should be involved in each of the cause of action joined. (1898) 2 Q. B. at p. 54. Where a suit for arrears of maintenance by two widows is based on the same award in the partition suit and as such each relief arises out of the same transaction and in each case a common question of fact or law is involved, the two widows can be joined as plaintiffs and separate suits are not necessary. A. L. R. 1933 Pat. 128=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 644. Where each of the plaintiffs received hurts from a body of persons and each of them could have brought a suit for damages against all those persons they should be deemed to be acting strictly in accordance with the law in bringing a joint suit against all the defendants. 1932 A. L. J. 497=A. I. R. 1932 All. 401=138 Ind. Cas. 77. Joinder of the two plaintiffs and the causes of actions are not allowed in a suit, unless the reliefs claimed therein arise out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 411=73 Ind. Cas. 71. Co-plaintiffs claiming alternatively can be joined provided common question of law is raised. 10 P. R. 1916=69 P.L.R. 1917=204 P.W.R. 1915=32 Ind. Cas. 526; see also A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 174=(1922) M.W.N. 316=16 L.W. 185=43 M.L.J. 277=70 Ind. Cas. 684.

Joint interest.—This rule is permissive and not mandatory. 24 C. 388; 9 A. 491. Where two different sets of persons join together to eject a trespasser there is no misjoinder. A. I. R. 1929 All. 790. The karta of a joint Hindu family can effectively represent all other members of the family. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 741=8 Pat. 788=11 P. L. T. 237=121 Ind. Cas. 330. Co-sharers can also join. A. I. The fact that the benamidar is a party to suit does not make the real owner party to the suit. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 263=33 C. W. N. 997=125 Ind. Cas. 861. Dormant partner is not a necessary party in a suit by firm on contract. (1915) M. W. N. 864=31 Ind. Cas. 913.

2. [R. S. C. O. 16 r. 1.] Where it appears to the Court that any joinder of plaintiffs may embarrass or delay the trial of the suit, the Court may put the plaintiffs to their election or order separate trials or make such other order as may be expedient.

Notes.—Where 59 plaintiffs sued as reversioners and nearly 20 other parties in addition to the parties in possession were added as pro forma defendants the procedure is condemnable. 1 P. W. 3. [S. 28.] All persons may be joined as defendants against whom any right to relief in respect of or arising out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions is alleged to exist, whether jointly, severally or in the alternative, where, if separate suits were brought against such persons, any common question of law or fact would arise.

Scope.—This rule applies to joinder of causes as well as to joinder of parties. 136 Ind. Cas. 497=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 1 ; A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 367 ; A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 911=49 M. 836 (F. B.) ; 45 C. 111=41 Ind. Cas. 944. Language of this rule is much more favourable to plaintiffs in this country than the corresponding English rule. Ibid. Order 1, rule 3, is the provision governing the question of multifariousness, it applies to joinder of parties as well as joinder of causes of action. 57 M. 1031=150 Ind. Cas. 601=30 L. W. 404=1934 M. W. N. 347=A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 367=66 M. L. J. 451. Before a plaintiff can join several defendants in the same suit, both the conditions laid down in the rule must be fulfilled. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 176 ; see also A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 405=60 C. L. J. 159=151 Ind. Cas. 257. This rule not only refers to parties to actions but also to causes of action. The mere fact that there are several defendants in the suit, is not decisive. A person can sue for partition and join as defendants several alienees or mortgagees from different members of the family. So also, a reversioner or an adopted son can bring a suit to recover property to which he is entitled notwithstanding the alienation made by the widow in favour of different persons. The defendants may be claiming under different titles, but if the plaintiff is entitled to a relief in respect of an act, or transaction or series of acts or transactions against the defendants jointly, severally, or in the alternative, and if common questions of law or fact are likely to arise, the suit would not be liable to be dismissed on the ground of misjoinder of causes of action. In a suit for possession all persons claiming by derivative titles from a trespasser as a common source may be joined as defendants. 33 Bom. L. R. 624 = A. I. R. (1931) Bom. 330. Unless the right to relief against all the defendants arises out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions, they cannot be joined in the same suit, even though the question of law or fact which arising between the plaintiff and the two sets of defendants are identical. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 65; see also A. I. R. 1933 All. 957; A. I. R. 1933 All. 147; A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 901; A. L. R. 1933 Mad. 303 = 144 Ind. Cas. 202 = 37 L. W. 681; A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 1 = 136 Ind. Cas. 497. A question of paramount title ought not to be agitated in a mortgage suit since it introduces a different cause of action, in which only some of the several defendants are likely to be substantially interested. 59 C. 548 = A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 512 = 138 Ind. Cas. 671. The strangers to a trust are not proper or necessary parties to a suit under s. 92 for the administration of trust. 10 Rang. 342 = 140 Ind. Cas. 317 = A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 132. To make parties defendants common interest in cause of action and involving same question of law and facts are essential. If by joinder of party misjoinder of causes of action results it is material irregularity. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 135 = 90 Ind. Cas. 721; see also A. I. R. 1926 Sind 66 = 19 S. L. R. 395 = 90 Ind. Cas. 97; A. I. R. 1930 All. 180 = 1930 A. L. J. 90 = 123 Ind. Cas. 324. A plaintiff may not only join different causes of action against the same defendants when such defendants are jointly interested, but he may also join different causes of action against different defendants if covered by the purview of Order 1, rule 3. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 66 = 19 S. L. R. 395 = 90 Ind. Cas. 970; see also A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 331 = 7 L. W. 25 = 69 Ind. Cas. 402. Misjoinder of parties and causes of action depends on the allegation in the plaint. 45 C. 111 = 21 C. W. N. 794 = 27 C. L. J. 158 = 41 Ind. Cas. 944. Under this rule the test is not whether the decree awarded is joint but whether it is alleged in the plaint that there is against the said defendants any right to relief in respect of the same act or transaction. 13 S. L. R. 183 = 53 Ind. Cas. 32. Causes of action can be joined in suit for share of rent by co-sharer landlord against tenant and other co-sharers alternatively. 48 Ind. Cas. 726. Liability joint or several for one cause of action and involving some question of law or fact are conditions of joining parties. A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 75 = 77 Ind. Cas. 1028. Whether joinder of cause of action is proper is to be determined with reference to facts of each case. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 367. There was no misjoinder where in a suit against a fraudulent trustee for embezzlement of money, his several agents who had connived at breach of trust were also impleaded. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 361.

Necessary parties.—In a suit for specific performance of contract of sale and not for delivery of possession persons claiming adverse possession is not a necessary or proper parties. (1916) 2 M. W. Unobstructing servient owners are not necessary parties in easement suit. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 65=4 P. L. T. 81=2 Pat. 110=69 Ind. Cas. 947. In a suit for declaration of rights in a shamilat, all proprietors are necessary parties. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 366. In a suit for declaration that Collector's appointment of defendant as Karnam is wrongful, the Collector is a proper party and in his absence dismissal of suit is proper. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 293. Where in a suit against a pleader for wrongful act of substitution of defendant, pleader pleads authority of plaintiff's Naib and Patwari, Naib and Patwari should also be impleaded as defendants in as much as common question would arise if separate suits be brought against them. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 405.

Court may give judgment for or against one or more of joint parties.

4. [Ss. 26, 28.] Judgment may be given without any amendment—

(a) for such one or more of the plaintiffs as may be found to be entitled to relief, for such relief as he or they may be entitled to ;

(b) against such one or more of the defendants as may be found to be liable, according to their respective liabilities.

Defendant need not be interested in all the relief claimed.

5. [R. S. C. O. 16. r. 5.] It shall not be necessary that every defendant shall be interested as to all the relief claimed in any suit against him.

Scope.—Defendants liable in the alternative may be joined. (1896) 2 Q. B. 464 ; (1903) 2 K. B. 533 ; (1867) 2 Ex. D. P. 305 ; (1918) 87 L. J. Ch. 335.

6. [S. 29.] The plaintiff may, at his option, join as parties to the same suit all or any of the persons severally, or jointly and severally, liable on any one contract, including parties to bills of exchange, hundis and promissory-notes.

Scope.—This rule is confined to suits on contracts. 18 Ind. Cas. 181. Contractual liability may be several, joint or joint and several. In a suit for negotiable instrument the holder is not bound to sue all the parties liable to him. 1 A. 392; 3 C. 541. In a suit for compensation for shortage of delivery against different carriers for some goods for same journey, all the carriers are necessary parties. 108 Ind. Cas. 591 = A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 490. Where several persons are jointly and severally liable for a single liability, all of them are not necessary parties to a suit against some of them only and they may not be added even as "proper" parties when suit can be decided without them and no multiplicity of suit would arise. A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 94.

7. [R. S. C. O. 16 r. 7.] Where the plaintiff is in doubt as to the person from whom he is entitled to obtain redress, he may join two or more defendants in order that the question as to which of the defendants is liable, and to what extent, may be determined as between all parties.

Scope.—Defendants who are liable in the alternative may in some cases be joined. In this respect there is no distinction between actions arising from breach of contract or torts. Bullock v. London (1907), 1 K. B. 271. This rule applies where the plaintiff is in doubt as to the liability of the person to be sued. Claims in contract against two defendants jointly or in the alternative separately can be joined. Bullock v. London General Omnibus Co., (1907) 1 K. B. 271. In a suit for possession all persons in possession are proper parties. A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 273 = 46 B. 526 = 23 Bom. L. R. 1251 = 64 Ind. Cas. 692.

8. [S. 30, S. 32, fourth para.] (1) Where there are numerous persons having the same interest in one suit, one or more of such persons may, with the permission of the Court, sue or be sued, or may defend, in such suit, on behalf of or for the benefit of all persons so interested. But the Court shall in such case give, at the plaintiff's expense, notice of the institution of the suit to all such persons, either by personal service or, where from the number of persons or any other cause such service is not reasonably practicable, by public advertisement, as the Court in each case may direct.

(2) Any person on whose behalf or for whose benefit a suit is instituted or defended under sub-rule (1) may apply to the Court to be made a party to such suit.

Scope.—This rule is enacted to avoid multiplicity of suits. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 44 = 27 L. W. 212 = 107 Ind. Cas. 789. This rule is a rule of convenience founded on the old chancery practice to prevent delay, expense and multiplication of suit to establish the same right. 39 C. W. N. 303 = 60 C. L. J. 556 = A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 413. This is an exception to the general rule that all persons interested in a suit must be made parties. 28 B. 214. This section is an enabling rule of convenience prescribing the conditions upon which persons when not made parties to a suit may still be bound by the proceedings. For the section to apply the absent persons must be (1) numerous; (2) they must have the same interest in the suit, which so far as its representative, must be brought or prosecuted with; (3) the permission of the Court. On such permission being given it becomes the imperative duty of the Court to direct notice to be given to the absent parties in such of the ways prescribed as the Court in each case may require, while liberty is reserved to any represented person to apply to be made a party to the suit. The obtaining of the judicial permission and compliance with the succeeding orders as to notice are the condition on which the further proceedings in the suit become binding on persons other than those actually parties thereto and their privies. 60 I. A. 278=56 M. 657=57 C. L. J. 528=35 Bom. L. R. 827=1933 A. L. J. 762=1933 M. W. N. 758=37 C. W. N. 853=A. I. R. 1933 P. C. 183=65 M. L. Numerous.—There is nothing in this rule which justifies that numerous persons mean person capable of being ascertained. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 749=143 Ind. Cas. 742=34 P. L. R. 608. This rule applies if there are about 100 persons interested in the suit. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 44=27 L. W. 212=107 Ind. Cas. 789. Representative suit is not maintainable for damages suffered by an un-incorporated association by publication of libel. A. I. R. 1930 Rang. 177=8 Rang. 250=132 Ind. Cas. 277. Suit on behalf of a community is competent. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 741=48 C. L. J. 276=114 Ind. Cas. 411; 24 C. W. N. 296=54 Ind. Cas. 742; see also 21 C. 180; 31 C. 839; 23 M. 28; 22 A. 269; 72 Ind. This rule is an enabling rule for the purpose of making it practicable to bring to trial, a suit in which numerous persons would otherwise have to be made parties, whose number might make the trial embarrassing. 33 B. L. R. 1575.

Same interest.—Substance of the suit and not the form of the pleading decides the nature of the suit. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 445=54 M. L. J. 587=27 L. W. 769=109 Ind. Cas. 199. Representatives must have the same interest as those whom he represents. A. I. R. 1927 All. 96=98 Ind. Cas. 553; A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 321=5 Pat. 539=7 P. L. T. 679=94 Ind. Cas. 433. Common interest is absolutely necessary. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 883=47 M. L. J. 449=(1924) M. W. N. 522=82 Ind. Cas. 492. Any of the persons having a common interest may bring a representative suit and the decree if obtained shall be equally shared. 37 Ind. Cas. 384; see also 22 B. 646. Consultation with the community need not be proved. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 44=27 L. W. 212=107 Ind. Cas. 789.

Permission of Court.—Representative suit is not maintainable unless Court's permission is obtained. This provision is imperative. A. I. R. 1929 All. 806=(1930) A. L. J. 197=122 Ind. Cas. 750. 35 P. Where suit was entertained without permission, permission obtained afterwards gives the Court jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 134=6 Bur. L. J. 16=101 Ind. Cas. 200. Permission to sue need not necessarily be obtained before the suit is filed. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 39=105 Ind. Cas. 113. Permission may be implied. I. R. 1933 Lah. 382=143 Ind. Cas. 742=34 P. L. The really effective parties to the litigation in such a case are the persons who have been permitted to sue, or be sued, on behalf of, or for the benefit of all the persons equally interested with them, and, until the persons who have been permitted to be so represented or some of them choose to apply under sub-rule (2) to put an end to their representation by the persons appointed under sub-rule (1) and have themselves placed on the record as effective parties, the persons appointed under sub-rule (1) are the only necessary parties for the conduct of the suit and the others need not be shown as parties at all, or if they are so shown, it is done merely for facility of reference and with a view to have a record of the persons who are to be ultimately bound by the decree. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 610=132 Ind. Cas. 657=13 Lah. 195; see also A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 33=157 Ind. Cas. 733. Leave to sue is unnecessary if interested persons have notice of suit and may be given after institution of the suit. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 305=25 Bom. L. R. 689=47 B. 809=83 Ind. Cas. 856; see also A. A person can be ordered to represent the public even against his wishes. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 608=101 Ind. Cas. 738. Authority to represent must be legally expressed and the representatives must be capable in law to represent. A. I. R. 1927 All. 122=98 Ind. Cas. 998. In case of withdrawal of some representatives after leave, fresh leave is necessary. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 547=80 Ind. Cas. 26.

Notice.—Notice to other members is essential. 56 M. 657=A. I. R. 1933 P. C. 183=37 C. W. N. 853 (P. C.); A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 109=46 B. 132=23 Bom. L. R. 972; A. I. R. 1922 All. 16=44 A. 231=20 A. L. R. 1933 Lah. 749. Under Order 1, rule 8, it is the duty of the Court to give notice to all persons whom the plaintiff claims to represent. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 302=14 P. L. T. 361=145 Ind. Cas. 387; see also 143 Ind. Cas. 742=34 P. L. R. 608=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 749. Notice must be given in the language of the persons whom the plaintiffs claim to represent. 34 P. L. R. 608=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 749. In application for filing award of arbitration without intervention of Court in representative action, two separate notices under Order 1, rule 8 and Sch. 2, para 20, are not necessary. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 6. In the absence of leave and notice the suit is not representative but is one between named plaintiffs and named defendants. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 366.

Death of one of the parties.—Where sanction is originally given by the Court to a certain number of persons either to prosecute or defend a suit in a representative capacity and one of them dies his heirs are not competent to continue the suit, because the sanction was accorded to certain persons and not to their heirs. In such a case, the proper procedure is for the remaining persons to apply to the Court for direction as to whether the remaining number is sufficient or whether it is necessary that additional persons who need not necessarily be the legal representatives of the deceased person should be joined. 54 M. 527=34 L. W. 214=130 Ind. Cas. 761=1931 M. W. N. 353=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 452=61 M. L. J. 135; see also A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 610=132 Ind. Cas. 657; 66 M. L. J. 175=A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 202=1937 M. W. N. 907=150 Ind. Cas. 26. The same is applicable if any of the representative defendants dies. 59 C. 961=138 Ind. Cas. 4=55 C. L. J. 8=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 275. In a representative suit, death of one of the two parties does not entail the dismissal of the suit. Any person interested may be added as a party. (1916) 1 M. W. N. 402=31 M. L. J. 279=40 M. 110=3 L. W. 305=34 Ind.

Cas. 384. Appeal will abate, if legal representatives of non-appearing defendants who have died, are not brought on record. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 31=89 Ind. Cas. 328. Where some persons are suing on behalf of a body, fresh sanction of the Court to continue the suit is not necessary on the death of one of the plaintiffs. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 598=7 Lah. L. J. 517=26 P. L. R. 732=88 Ind. Cas. 478.

Sub-rule (2).—When the Court once gives permission to sue under Order 1, rule 8, it is not permissible to the Court to dismiss the suit subsequently, simply on the ground that some persons object to the plaintiff carrying on the suit. The proper procedure is to bring those persons on the record as parties under clause (2) of the rule. A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 65=33 Bom. L. R. 1575=135 Ind. Cas. 806. Where an application under this sub-rule has been made malafide, the order of the Court dismissing the petition is not subject to interference by the High Court under s. 115. 114 Ind. Cas. 904=A. I. R. 1933 All. 154.

Resjudicata.—The object of instituting a representative suit under this rule is to create a bar of res judicata by reason of Explanation 6 to s. 11. But in any case the persons whom the plaintiff represents cannot be saddled with costs of the suit if the plaintiff should fail to win the case. 155 Ind. Cas. 236=1935 O. W. N. 471=A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 369. Unless permission is obtained by the person suing or defending the suit, his action has no binding effect on the persons he chooses to represent, i.e., the judgment in such a case does not bind those whose names are not on the record. In order that the suit under Order 1, rule 8 may have the benefit of Explanation 6 to s. 11 of the C. P. Code the condition of rule 8 of Order 1, must have been complied with fully. The observance of these requirements as to notice, etc., is essential. 56 M. 657=A. I. R. 1933 P. C. 183=143 Ind. Cas. 665=37 C. W. N. 853=38 L. W. 16=65 M. L. J. 87=57 C. L. J. 528=1933 A. L. J. 762=1933 M. W. N. 758 (P. C.). The dismissal of a suit regarding the public right does not bind the persons who are quite foreign to the suit in legal conceptions. 42 Ind. Cas. 275; see also 42 Ind. Cas. 543; 49 Ind. Cas. 796.

Individual suit for public right.—No individual can sue for declaration of a public right unless he suffers some special damages in exercising it. (1918) M. W. N. 175=8 L. W. 377=44 Ind. Cas. 367; 62 Ind. Cas. 888=A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 76. No leave of the Court is required for a suit, by the worshippers of a mosque even when no special damage be caused to prove the invalidity of the transfers. 23 C. W. N. 115=49 Ind. Cas. 355; 58 Ind. Cas. 585=1920 M. W. N. 393=38 M. L. J. 226=43 M. 410; see also A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 76=3 Lah. L. J. 384=62 Ind. Cas. 888; 13 Bur. L. T. 183=63 Ind. Cas. 953; 1922 Oudh 1=9 O. L. J. 111=26 O. C. 82; 66 Ind. Cas. 415=A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 142=8 O. L. J. 395; A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 276=33 M. L. T. 133=1923 M. W. N. 84=17 L. W. 14=44 M. L. J. 116=71 Ind. Cas. 463; A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 475=9 Pat. 391=4 P. L. T. 675=74 Ind. Cas. 403. This rule in no way debars a member of a community from maintaining a suit in his own right, although the act complained of may also be injurious to the whole community. 56 M. 657 P. C.=57 C. L. J. 528=37 C. W. N. 853=35 Bom. L. R. 827=1933 A. L. J. 762=A. I. R. 1933 P. C. 183=143 Ind. Cas. 665; see also 52 I. A. 61=29 C. W. N. 486 (P. C.). When a particular individual is affected by any act which amounts to a public nuisance, suit by him individually to remove such nuisance is not maintainable unless he suffers special damage. The proper remedy is to bring a representative suit. 62 C. 692=39 C. W. N. 590=61 C. L. J. 182. In the above case Nasim Ali J. observed: "The next contention of the learned advocate is that in any view of the case the road being public roads plaintiff is entitled to bring suits to remove the obstructions, even if the special damage pleaded by him is not established. The obvious answer to his argument is that in that case he would be hit by section 91 of the Civil Procedure Code as the acts committed by the defendants amounts to public nuisance. The learned advocate for the appellant, relying on the decisions in the case of Mauzher Hasan v. Mohammad Zanan, (52 I. A. 61=29 C. W. N. 486) and Mandukini Debi v. Basanta Kumari Debi (60 C. 1003), argued that the plaintiff was entitled to sue for the removal of the obstruction in these suits in their present forms. In the first case in which Shiah prayed for a declaration of their right to go in procession in Madam on a public road and for perpetual injunction against the sunnis interfering with them, Lord Dunedin observed that special damage other than the obstruction of the procession was not needed. The facts of the second case show that the plaintiff in that suit was put to much inconvenience as no large articles could be brought into her house along the public road which was the only means of entering into her house on account of the narrowing down of the passage by the defendant by the erection of the wall and privy. In view of these facts Jack J. relying on the said observation of Lord Dunedin in Mauzur Hasan's case (52 I. A. 61=29 C. W. N. 486) held that no special damage was required further than the plaintiff's inability to carry large articles into her house owing to obstructions. The plaintiff in the present suit being one of the members of the public, is equally affected by the obstruction with the other members of the public. He has suffered no special damage. His claim is not in respect of a wrong to him individually. He is one of the numerous persons affected by the obstruction and therefore having the same interest in the matter. Consequently the proper course for him was to bring a representative suit in conformity with the provisions of Order 1, r. 8 of the C. P. Code. See Batiram v. Sibram (25 C. W. N. 95), and Kenaravelu v. Ramaswami (37 C. W. N. 853 P. C.=56 M. 657).

When representative is competent.—Devotees of mult can bring a representative suit for the possession of the endowed property and to prohibit its wrongful transfer. 41 M. 124=33 M. L. J. 867=22 M. L. T. 218=42 Ind. Cas. 366. Under this section some of the landlords are competent to sue on behalf of all. 34 P. L. R. 1035=146 Ind. Cas. 841=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 654. Some members of the managing committee of a school are not competent to bring a representative suit. 37 C. W. N. 497=60 C. 794=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 329=143 Ind. Cas. 457. Where plaintiff has no especial interest, the permission of the Court is necessary. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 345.

9. [S. 31.] No suit shall be defeated by reason of the misjoinder or non-joinder of parties, and the Court may in Misjoinder and non-joinder. every suit deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it.

Scope.—Non-joinder or misjoinder of parties is not fatal to a suit. A. I. R. 1922 All. 404=70 Ind. Cas. 613. Non-joinder or misjoinder is not fatal only where the Court can deal with the matter in controversy with regard to the rights and the interests of the parties actually before it. 1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 7=52 Ind. Cas. 18; 215 P. L. R. 1914. A suit in which no effective decree can be made in the absence of an interested party must not be entertained. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 623=25 C. W. N. 249=62 Ind. Cas. 425; see also 24 Ind. Cas. 831=10 N. L. R. 72; 35 A. 441=11 A. L. J. 630; 62 C. 324=A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 269; 1934 A. L. J. 1006=152 Ind. Cas. 1008. Non-joinder of parties is not fatal to the suit and the Court can proceed with the suit and decide matter in controversy so far as regards the interests and right of the parties actually before it. A. I. R. 1929 All. 439=116 Ind. Cas. 813. The provisions of this rule have no application to an appeal before the Board in a case where the defect has been brought to the notice of the party concerned from the outset of the proceedings, and he has had ample opportunity of remedying it in India. (1931) A. L. J. 797=A. I. R. (1931) 229=35 C. W. N. 977=54 C. L. J. 274=61 M. L. J. 294. Order 1, rule 9, applies to mortgage suits as well as to any other suit. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 220=11 O. W. N. 524=148 Ind. Cas. 903.

Misjoinder of parties.—Where misjoinder has not in any way prejudiced defence, the Court is not justified in dismissing the suit on that ground. 30 P. L. R. 1092=59 Ind. Cas. 522; see also 12 Ind. Cas. 206=4 Bur. L. T. 255; 17 C. W. N. 128=18 Ind. Cas. 117; 6 C. 815; 67 P. R. 1894. This section provides against dismissal in case of non-joinder or misjoinder of parties. The only course open to the Court under such circumstances is formally to call upon the plaintiff to make his election and confine the suit to one set of defendants. 142 Ind. Cas. 542=15 N. L. J. 111.

Non-joinder of parties.—Non-joinder of parties does not cause the dismissal of the suit. 19 C. L. J. 316; 19 C. L. J. 455; 41 C. 581; A. I. R. 1930 Rang. 295=129 Ind. Cas. 508. The parties must be allowed to amend the plaint. The Court of Appeal cannot of its own accord take objection for non-joinder. A. I. R. 1930 Rang. 295=129 Ind. Cas. 508. In case of non-joinder of parties, Court should either add them of its own motion, or direct the plaintiff to do so but should not dismiss the suit for that reason. 8 O. L. J. 310=63 Ind. Cas. 548. A suit by some of several servant owners for a declaration of their right should not be dismissed for non-joinder of the other servant owners. Court can adjudicate on the rights of the parties actually before it. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 303; 78 Ind. Cas. 431; see also A. I. R.

1924 Cal. 1050=40 C. L. J. 74=84 Ind. Cas. 467. The view of the Calcutta High Court is that a mortgagee is not a necessary party to a partition suit provided the question of the mortgagor's interest is not in controversy. 134 Ind. Cas. 307=35 C. W. N. 296=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 594. An appeal cannot be dismissed for non-joinder of parties. 32 Ind. Cas. 749. In a suit for partition in a joint Hindu family, the grandsons are not necessary parties and are represented by their father. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 4=3 P. L. T. 238=67 Ind. Cas. 156. The puisne mortgagee is a proper but not a necessary party to the suit by a prior mortgagee and the suit cannot be dismissed if he is brought on record after the period of limitation. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 651=4 P. L. T. 698=2 Pat. 175=69 Ind. Cas. 677.

In order that a defendant may be considered a necessary party there must be a right to some relief against him in respect of the matter involved in the suit, and secondly, his presence is necessary in order to effectually and completely adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 651=(1922) Pat. 326=4 Pat. 174=4 P. L. T. 698=69 Ind. Cas. 677. A suit cannot be dismissed for non-joinder. All that the Court can do is to add parties itself or cause them to be so added. A. I. R. 1921 Oudh 148=8 O. L. J. 310=63 Ind. Cas. 548. Where a plaintiff fails to add necessary parties or refuses to do so when so required by the Court, the Court can dismiss the suit. 19 A. L. J. 525=63 Ind. Cas. 548. Where in a suit for a declaration of a right of way and for removal of an obstruction, persons interested in servient tenement is not made a party, suit cannot be entertained. 25 C. W. N. 249=62 Ind. Cas. 425. In case of mortgage suits, Order 1, rule 9, is controlled by Order 34, rule 1. 60 C. 777. Where a party takes objection on the ground of non-joinder, he must show which of the parties are absent. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 44. In a suit for redemption by one heir of the mortgagor non-joinder of other heirs is not fatal. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 220.

Non-joinder, if fatal.—Where a Court directs the addition of parties under Order 1, rule 10, the plaintiff must obey the order of Court, and cannot proceed with the suit as originally constituted. 5 L. W. 207 ; 15 R. D. 657=39 Ind. Cas. 160. If a necessary party is not on record the proper course is to apply to have him joined. If he is not brought on record or if when brought on record the suit against him is barred, the suit will be dismissed. 36 Ind. Cas. 77 ; 1930 A. L. J. 247. Rule 9 which provides that no suit can fail for non-joinder of parties does not mean that only one trustee may be sued in contravention of Order 31, rule 2, and a decree passed against the trustee singled out for the suit. 55 A. 687=1933 A. L. J. 1933. Whether a person is a necessary party to the suit in the sense that it cannot proceed in his absence must depend upon whether the decision would necessarily affect the interest of that party. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 651=2 Pat. 175=69 Ind. Cas. 677. The general rule laid down by the legislature is that no suit shall be defeated by reason of non-joinder of parties, and the Court may, in every suit, deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it. There is, however an exception to this rule general and that rule is that a Court will refrain from having a decree which would be ineffective and infructuous. But this rule has no application to cases in which, notwithstanding the fact that some of the persons interested in the subject-matter of the suit are not parties to the suit, the Court is in a position to pass a decree that is capable of execution and cannot be rendered nugatory at the instance of the persons not parties to the suit. 152 Ind. Cas. 1008=1934 A. L. J. 1006 ; A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 657=34 P. L. R. 598. Where a party to a suit contends that the suit is defective for want of parties, the party that puts forward this point has to show which, if any, of the parties are absent from the record. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 44. In a matter in which the deity is vitally interested the deity should be made a party and if the shebais have got any interest adverse to that of the deity, it is necessary that the idol should be represented by a perfectly disinterested person. A. I. R. 1937 Cal. 338. Where the plaintiff is one of the dominant owner and brings a suit for the removal of the alleged obstruction to easement and if other dominant owners do not feel aggrieved by the alleged obstruction, it is not necessary that they must join with the plaintiff in the suit as they are not necessary parties under Order 1, rule 9, C. P. Code and the suit does not fail in their absence. A. I. R. 1937 Cal. 355. In a suit by some of several trustees with regard to trust properties all co-trustees must be made parties. A. I. 10. [Ss. 27, 32, 33.] (1) Where a suit has been instituted in the name

Suit in name of wrong plaintiff. of the wrong person as plaintiff or where it is doubtful whether it has been instituted in the name of the right plaintiff, the Court may at any stage of the suit, if satisfied that the suit has been instituted through a bona fide mistake, and that it is necessary for the determination of the real matter in dispute so to do, order any other person to be substituted or added as plaintiff upon such terms as the Court thinks just.

(2) The Court may, at any stage of the proceedings, either upon or without the application of either party, and on Court may strike out or add parties. such terms as may appear to the Court to be just, order that the name of any party improperly joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, be struck out, and that the name of any person who ought to have been joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, or whose presence before the Court may be necessary in order to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit, be added.

(3) No person shall be added as a plaintiff suing without a next friend or as the next friend of a plaintiff under any disability without his consent.

(4) Where a defendant is added, the plaint shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, be amended in such manner as Where defendant added, plaint to be amended. may be necessary, and amended copies of the summons and of the plaint shall be served on the new defendant and, if the Court thinks fit, on the original defendant.

(5) Subject to the provisions of the *Indian Limitation Act, 1877,† section 22, the proceedings as against any person added as defendant shall be deemed to have begun only on the service of the summons.

Scope of sub-rule (1).—A sub-rule (1) is taken from rule 2, order 16 of the Supreme Court Practice. This sub-rule deals with the substitution or addition of plaintiffs after action is brought. To bring a case within the four corners of this sub-rule it must be shown (1) that the action was commenced in the name of the original plaintiff by mistake and (2) that the substitution or addition is necessary for the determination of the real matter in dispute. Joinder of plaintiffs under Order 1, rule 10, is subject to provisions under Order 1, rule 1. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 834=53 M. L. J. 269=1927 M. W. N. 903=105 Ind. Cas. 114. Where a suit brought in the name of a firm carrying on business outside British India, is found not maintainable on preliminary issue and plaintiff thereupon applies for amendment of the plaint by striking out his name and inserting those of the parties, the application must be deemed to be an application for substitution of plaintiffs. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 191=30 Bom. L. R. 117=109 Ind. Cas. 99. In a suit by a benamidar in his own name, the Court can make the real owner a party, if it think that his presence is necessary for the proper determination of the suit. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 268=55 M. L. J. 856=29 L. W. 56=115 Ind. Cas. 340. A suit which is instituted in the name of a sole plaintiff dead at the time of the institution of the suit cannot be amended in any way. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 880=104 Ind. Cas. 623. A person can be added or substituted as plaintiff without the consent of the existing plaintiff, and before he can be so added or substituted it must be shown that the action was commenced in the name of the original plaintiff by mistake and that the substitution or addition is necessary for the determination of real matter in dispute. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 340=45 C. L. J. 146=101 Ind. Cas. 527; see also 12 C. L. J. 537=8 Ind. Cas. 87; 30 M. 419; 9 Ind. Cas. 254. Mistake may either be of fact or law. 66 Ind. Cas. 873; A. I. R. 1921 Sind 59=16 S. L. R. 71; Hughes v. Pump House, (1902) 2 K. B. 485 C. A.; Valde Travers v. London Tramway, 48 L. J. C. P. 312; Ducket v. Gover, (1877) 6 Ch. D. 82; 17 C. W. N. 462. This rule is not meant to give the Judge unlimited discretion to remodel pleadings. Per Miller J. in Turgand v. Feason, 4 Q. B. D. 280. Order 1, rule 10, C. P. Code, enables the Court to add a third party where it is necessary so to do in order to enable the Court to effectively adjudicate and settle all the questions involved in the suit. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 353. Under this rule a person may be added as a party to a suit in the following two cases: (1) When he ought to have been joined as plaintiff or defendant, and not so joined or (2) when without his presence the question in suit cannot be completely decided. A. I. R. 1935 Sind 194=158 Ind. Cas. 814. The word "wrong person" appearing in Order 1, rule 10, cannot be construed as dead person. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 55=148 Ind. Cas. 241. The Court has power under subsection 1 to substitute a right plaintiff in place of wrong one only if the right to sue is not barred under s. 22 of the Limitation Act on the date of institution. 58 B. 536=36 Bom. L. R. 814=A.I.R. 1934 Bom. 385. Where a person who has wrongly filed a suit in his name does not desire to clothe himself with a right to sue, but by an application he expressly divests himself of any claim and prays for the substitution of a person who has a cause of action, admitting that he himself has none, the case clearly falls within Order 1, rule 10. A.I.R. 1934 Nag. 159=150 Ind. Cas. 895. As regards meaning of the words "bona fide mistake" vide A.I.R. 1936 Mad. 960=71 M. L. J. 614=1936 M. W. N. 1184. Living person's name cannot be substituted under Order 1, rule 10, in place of dead person. A. I. R. 1937 Sind 92; but see A. I. R. 1937 Sind 47. The underlying principle regarding the addition of parties is that there must be finality to litigation and to secure that purpose it would be incumbent upon the Court to add a party whose presence could be necessary to put an end to all the controversy in the litigation finally. A. I. R. 1937 Mad. 200; see also A. I. R. 1937 Oudh 229. Adding a new co-plaintiff without paying additional Courts-fees cannot be allowed if the original plaintiff is proved to be incompetent. 8 Bur. L. T. 283=8 L. B. R. 302=31 Ind. Cas. 332.

A suit can be continued by substitution of right plaintiff if bona fide mistake was committed in the institution of it. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 180=1922 M. W. N. 817=16

A person who could not have been originally joined, cannot be made a co-plaintiff either under r. 10 or r. 8 of Order 1. 57 Ind. Cas. 784. Person promising indemnity against plaintiff to the defendant may be made a party at the instance of the defendant unless plaintiff objects and serious harm is likely to be caused thereby to him. 46 C. 48=50 Ind. Cas. 51. Person originally a defendant can be made a plaintiff to claim his share in an administration suit. (1918) M. W. N. 929=9 L. W. 79=26 M. L. T. 147=49 Ind. Cas. 139. In a redemption suit by some of the heirs of the mortgagor, Court can make other heirs as defendants. 45 B. 1007=23 Bom. L. R. 405=61 Ind. Cas. 590. It is not possible in a suit to make an opposing and contesting claimant a plaintiff nor is a decree possible in favour of contesting defendant against his co-defendant. A. I. R. 1921 All. 184=19 A. L. J. 833=63 Ind. Cas. 773. Receiver being a representative of all the parties to the suit, must be made a party in all the proceedings affecting property, but is not a party within this rule. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 144=43 M. L. J. 211=16 L. W. 322=71 Ind. Cas. 293. In a suit against the widow in which the adoption by her is in question, the reversioners are the proper parties though not necessary parties. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 521=17 L. W. 329=44 M. L. J. 322=72 Ind. Cas. 156. Change of period of limitation due to amendment of the Limitation Act is a good ground for addition of parties after the period of limitation. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 347=78 Ind. Cas. 168. Persons whose case conflicts with the case of plaintiffs on record cannot be added as co-plaintiffs at the instance of the plaintiffs. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 459=36 C. L. J. 92=76 Ind. Cas. 915. The expression "proper party" means the party interested in the result of and having a right to seek the assistance of the Court in coming to a decision on the point in issue. A. I. R. 1925 Gal. 1257=89 Ind. Cas. 57. Where necessary, Court may add a person interested in the equity of redemption as a party even after preliminary decree, and re-open the proceedings so far as the added party is concerned. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 648=46 M. L. J. 368=34 M. L. T. 114=(1924) M. W. N. 364=84 Ind. Cas. 122

In a suit under s. 77 of the Registration Act, a person claiming to have purchased the property at a prior sale from the executant is not a proper party, the title question not being strictly within the scope of s. 76. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1257=89 Ind. Cas. 56. Ordinarily the plaintiff has the choice of his opponent and a party can not be added as defendant at his will. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 373=87 Ind. Cas. 988. Fresh parties can not be added after compromise of the suit by the original parties and during proceedings under Order 23, rule 3. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 341=50 M. L. J. 59=98 Ind. Cas. 311. An attaching creditor of the mortgagor's interest in the mortgagee's property applying to be made a party to mortgagee's suit, should not be added as a party if his sole aim in being so added is to challenge the validity of the mortgage. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 67=89 Ind. Cas. 446. A suit for rent against only some of the heirs of the deceased tenant is maintainable. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1056 (F. B.)=29 C. W. N. 400=42 C. L. J. 232=53 C. 197=90 Ind. Cas. 211. A Court can add parties after the suit has been remanded to it by the Court of Appeal but the Court of Appeal cannot do so after passing the order. A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 9=3 Rang. 474=92 Ind. Cas. 125. Where a partner in a business refuses to be joined as a plaintiff, he should be made a defendant in the suit, but the suit should not be dismissed on that ground. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 501=7 Lah. L. J. 280=26 P. L. R. 699=92 Ind. Cas. 569.

Striking out party.—An order striking off the name of a party is appropriate to cases of actual misjoinder. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 737. Party against whom no cause of action is mentioned no relief claimed may be struck off from the suit. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 284=33 L. W. 681; A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 817=59 M. L. J. 932=32 L. W. 836=54 M. 81=127 Ind. Cas. 805; 42 M. 219=49 Ind. Cas. 835. An order striking off the name of a party from the record can be done at any stage of the proceeding. In the old sections the words used were "on or before the first hearing." So the rulings in 18A. 53, 20 M. 360 (362), 9 P. R. 1906; 71 P. R. 1907 are no longer good law as they are made obsolete by the change. Where an appellate Court has joined a party as defendant the lower Court cannot strike off, the same under Order 1, r. 10 (2), on case being remanded. A. I. R. 1930 All. 303=126 Ind. Cas. 225. An order discharging a defendant who is not a proper party and against whom no relief is claimed amounts to striking out his name from the record. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 202=27 P. L. R. 194=93 Ind. Cas. 921. The Court may strike out the name of a deceased defendant who died before the institution of the suit. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 153=89 Ind. Cas. 661. The order striking off name of a party is a decree. 53 A. 466=131 Ind. Cas. 548=1931 A. L. J. 181=A. I. R. 1931 All. 333. A defendant adjudged bankrupt in England is not proper party to a suit relating to property in which he had interest before bankruptcy and he can rightly be removed from record. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 388=34 C. W. N. 53=125 Ind. Cas. 851. Name of a deceased defendant, who was dead at the time of the institution of the suit, should be expunged from the record. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 359=9 Lah. 529=29 P. L. R. 626=110 Ind. Cas. 281.

Substitution of parties.—In a fit case for the ends of justice Court can order substitution of parties. 33 Bom. L. R. 546=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 388=133 Ind. Cas. 823; 15 R. D. 204=12 L. R. 63 (Rev). If the name of a dead person appears on the petition of appeal instead of his legal representative through a bona fide error, petition of appeal can be amended. A. I. R. 1930 All. 131=123 Ind. Cas. 824. A substitute must enforce a single right pleaded in suit and not to bolster up a suit by pleading his own individual right. A. I. R. 1930 Sind 73=120 Ind. Cas. 517. Where the respondent whose name is entered in the appeal as presented, is found to have died before the presentation, legal representative of the deceased cannot be substituted, proper procedure is to file another appeal. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 56=45 M. L. J. 231=18 L. W. 54=75 Ind. Cas. 739; see also A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 56=18 L. W. 54=45 M. L. J. 231=75 Ind. Cas. 739. The Court can grant substitution of parties by virtue of inherent power as well. 1933 A. L. J. 1512. The ultimate reversioners are recognized by Courts of law, as having a right to demand that the estate be kept free from waste and free from danger during its enjoyment by a widow or other owner for life. Where therefore the preliminary decree passed in favour of the original plaintiff (a widow) clearly touches the corpus of the estate, the order substituting the reversionary heirs (some of the defendants) in the place of the original plaintiff is in accordance with the rule but a co-widow of the plaintiff cannot be transposed from the position of the defendant to that of plaintiff without her consent. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 136. A suit can be continued by substitution of right plaintiff provided the suit was instituted by a wrong person as plaintiff. 66 Ind. Cas. 823=16 S. L. R. 71; see also 64 Ind. Cas. 413=A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 180.

Transposition of parties.—Transposition of parties may be ordered by the Court in the interest of justice where the nature of the suit is not changed. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 459=76 Ind. Cas. 915; see also 20 C. W. N. 752=34 Ind. Cas. 186; 45 B. 983=23 Bom. L. R. 391=61 Ind. Cas. 398. The Courts have always liberally interpreted the provisions of law under Order 1, r. 10 as regards the transposition of parties. 24 C. W. N. 110=30 C. L. J. 417=54 Ind. Cas. 636; see also 19 C. L. J. 327=25 Ind. Cas. 440. The Court has power at any stage of the proceedings to add the proforma defendants as co-plaintiffs. Such a course should be adopted when it is necessary for a complete adjudication upon the questions involved in the suit and to avoid multiplicity of proceedings. A. I. R. 1931 P. C. 162=1931 A. L. J. 566=33 Bom. L. R. 1273=35 C. W. N. 870=54 C. L. J. 137=61 M. L. J. 632=132 Ind. Cas. 610 (P. C.); see also 36 Bom. L. R. 807=A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 356; A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 107=160 Ind. Cas. 149. But transposition should not be allowed where the character of the suit would be changed. 76 Ind. Cas. 915=36 C. L. J. 92=A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 459. A party so transposed is not a new party and as such s. 22 of the Limitation Act has no application. 14 C. 400; 22 B. 672; 34 B. 91; 19 C. W. N. 1269; 20 C. W. N. 49; A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 204=52 M. L. J. 33. When order for transposition has been ordered, necessary amendment of pleading may also be allowed. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 561=129 Ind. Cas. 860=58 C. 561. An appellate Court has powers of transposition of parties similar to those exercised by original Court under Order 1, rule 10. A. I. R. 1930 All. 785=1930 A. L. J. 926. Court has power to transfer a plaintiff to the category of defendants. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 328=82 Ind. Cas. 649. Such order can be made for a complete adjudication upon questions involved in the suit and to avoid multiplicity of suits. 58 I. A. 228=54 C. L. J. 137=35 C. W. N. 870=33 Bom. L. R. 1273=132 Ind. Cas. 610=1931 A. L. J. 566=A. I. R. 1931 P. C. 162=62 M. L. J. 632 (P. C.).

A transposition which would have the effect of defeating a valuable right acquired by a party under the statute since the institution of suit should not be allowed. A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 24=9 P. L. T. 238=104 Ind. Cas. 526. In a suit for partition or accounts transposition of parties are allowed even after a decree for partition. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 32=97 Ind. Cas. 1023; see also 96 Ind. Cas. 67=A. I. R. 1926 All. 582=24 A. L. J. 694. Transposing a defendant to the category of plaintiff is entirely within the discretion of the trial Court and if not objected to during the trial, it cannot be interfered with in appeal. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 393=95 Ind. Cas. 171. Merely because transposition of some defendants as plaintiffs would raise the valuation of the suit beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court is no reason for refusing the transfer. Plaintiff can be returned for presentation after such transfer. A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 28=90 Ind. Cas. 82. If refusal of an application for transposition of a party to a suit would lead to a separate suit by such party, the application should be allowed. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 421=40 C. L. J. 535=85 Ind. Cas. 168. Transposition is allowed in limited cases. 15 N. L. R. 21=49 Ind. Cas. 34. It is no ground for refusing the transposition of proforma defendant into a plaintiff that the effect would be to assist the plaintiff. 14 Pat. L. T. 252=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 239. The Court cannot transpose a defendant to the array of plaintiffs without the party's consent and in the absence of an application to that effect. 58 C. L. J. 240. Transposition of parties in a partition suit can be made even after the withdrawal of a part of a claim and the suit thus can be continued. 12 L. W. 563=60 Ind. Cas. 144.

When parties may be added, etc.—In some circumstances it may be right and proper that the Court should add such parties to the proceedings even at the appellate stage, persons who are not amongst the original parties to the suit. But the circumstances must be exception and must be such as renders it really necessary in the interest of the original parties to the suit, that some other persons should be added to the proceedings, so that the matters originally in dispute may be properly adjudicated upon and finally determined as between the original parties to the suit. 59 C. 329=138 Ind. Cas. 104=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 448. Under this rule the Court can add a party at any stage of the proceedings and it is competent for the Court to add a party after the case has been remanded to it on appeal. 33 Bom. L. R. 608=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 408; see also 61 Ind. Cas. 378; 59 Ind. Cas. 233=12 L. W. 25=30 M. L. T. 31; 2 U. P. L. R. 96. Court has jurisdiction after the passing of the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit and before the final decree has been passed, to implead as defendants to the suit persons who were not originally impleaded as defendants and were not parties to the preliminary decree. A. I. R. 1927 All. 455=49 A. 664=25 A. L. J. 369=101 Ind. Cas. 868; see also 40 C. W. N. 1173. Under Order 1, r 10, any party may be joined to the suit at any stage means he should be so joined before the passing of decree which includes preliminary decree and an existing decree. 13 N. L. R. 69=89 Ind. Cas. 849. Court cannot add a plaintiff to the suit after passing of the decree. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 472=44 M. L. J. 282=17 L. W. 422=72 Ind. Cas. 284. Though unusual plaintiffs may be added to a suit after decree especially in representative suits, so that persons interested might enforce in execution the direction in the scheme. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 472=44 M. L. J. 282=17 L. W. 422=32 L. T. 212=72 Ind. Cas. 284. A Court can order joinder of a new party even after a preliminary decree is passed. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 26=89 Ind. Cas. 609. When a suit was wrongly brought in firm's name but objection was not raised till the time of argument, amendment of plaint can be allowed by the appellate Court. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 240=159 Ind. Cas. 138.

Appeal.—An order under r. 10 striking out or adding a party is not appealable. 1930 M. W. N. 971=32 L. W. 766=60 M. L. J. 237=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 987=129 Ind. Cas. 44; 47 Ind. Cas. 725; 69 Ind. Cas. 961=45 M. 199; 36 Ind. Cas. 919; 76 Ind. Cas. 207=45 M. L. J. 703; 85 Ind. Cas. 90=6 P. L. T. 581; 14 L. W. 642=(1921) M. W. N. 799; but see 53 A. 466=131 Ind. Cas. 548=1931 A. L. J. 181=A. I. R. 1931 All. 333. Where it has been held that order striking off name of a party is in substance although not in form of a decree and the proper remedy for the party aggrieved by the order is to file an appeal from it and not an application in revision under s. 115. Revision does not lie against an order refusing to add a party as plaintiff. A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 207=93 Ind. Cas. 932=1 P. L. T. 499; see also 50 A. 276=25 A. L. J. 991=108 Ind. Cas. 735=A. I. R. 1928 All. 97; but see A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 443=1929 M. W. N. 67=118 Ind. Cas. 780. Revision lies against an order refusing to make a person as defendant. A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 148=6 O. W. N. 118=116 Ind. Cas. 58. Whether persons should or should not be impleaded as co-defendants in a pending suit, is a question of pure discretion. An improper exercise of discretion would not amount to illegality or material irregularity, so as to subject to revision under s. 115. 111 Ind. Cas. 141; see also A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 425=15 Pat. L. T. 602=148 Ind. Cas. 347. Erroneous exercise of discretion under Order 1, rule 10, is no ground for interference under section 115 (c), unless such exercise of discretion results in misjoinder of parties and misjoinder of causes of action. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 135=90 Ind. Cas. 721. An order under Order 1, rule 10(2), discharging a defendant from a suit does not operate as a decree and as such is not appealable. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 75=89 Ind. Cas. 331. Proper exercise of discretion is not interfered in revision. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 370=152 Ind. Cas. 778. Where an application is made under Order 1, rule 10, but is dealt with by the Court also under Order 22, rule 10, an appeal lies against the order. A. I. R. 1937 Mad. 200. No appeal lies from an order awarding costs under Order 1, rule 10(2). A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 67.

Sub-rule (3).—No person should be added as a plaintiff without his consent. 13 O. C. 109. When he refuses to be made a plaintiff he can be made a defendant. 7 C. 242=9 C. L. R. 13; 11 C. 618; 17 C. 160; 7 A. 326; 46 P. R. 1911.

Sub-rule (4).—Such amendment is only allowed as is necessary for the addition of the defendant. But no amendment would be allowed which would change the character of the suit. 24 A. 553; see also 25 Ind. Cas. 607; 14 C. L. J. 627=10 Ind. Cas. 503.

Sub-clause (5).—The provisions of s. 22 (1) of the Limitation Act are made inapplicable to a case of transposition of parties by this sub-clause. 11 Pat. 616=140 Ind. Cas. 572=A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 346. Whether a Court acts suo motu or upon the application of a party a Court acting under rule 10 is bound by s. 22 of the Limitation Act. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 647=11 Lah. 688=126 Ind. Cas. 78. "When parties are added by the Court after the institution of a suit under Order 1, rule 10 (2), section 22 of the Limitation Act provides that the date when they are added is deemed to be the date of the institution of the suit so far as they are concerned for the purposes of limitation and the rights which they may have acquired under the Limitation Act are therefore sufficiently safeguarded." Per Sir John Wallis in A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 252=26 A. L. J. 371=30 Bom. L. R. 220=32 C. W. N. 281=47 C. L. J. 136=54 M. L. J. 88=6 Rang. 29=107 Ind. Cas. 237 ; see also A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 501 ; 35 C. 519 (F. B.) ; 50 M. 372=52 M. L. J. 199=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 468 ; A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 33=100 Ind. Cas. 859. Addition of more representatives out of time does not bar a suit to enforce rights of trust by interested persons. 9 L. W. 377=50 Ind. Cas. 353. Even where the Court of its own motion adds a necessary party, the suit will be deemed to be instituted when the party is added. A. I. R. 1925 Sind 181=17 S. L. R. 324=79 Ind. Cas. 914.

11. [S. 32, sixth para.] The Court may give the conduct of the suit to such person as it deems proper.

Scope.—The general rule is that the conduct of a suit will rest with the plaintiff. 21 Ch. D. 647. The word "person" in this rule means a person who is a party to the suit and not a stranger to it. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 143=46 C. L. J. 530=106 Ind. Cas. 854. So suit cannot be conducted by a third party on behalf of absent party without special authorization under Order 1, rule 11, Ibid. Suit by trustee impleading co-trustee as a party defendant, can be continued by co-trustee after plaintiff's death. 62 Ind. Cas. 360=40 M. L. J. 208=13 L. W. 148=(1921) M. W. N. 108.

12. [S. 35.] (1) Where there are more plaintiffs than one, any one or more of them may be authorized by any other plaintiffs or defendants for appearance of one of several of them to appear, plead or act for such other plaintiffs or defendants for in any proceeding ; and in like manner, where there are more defendants than one, any one or more of them may be authorized by any other of them to appear, plead or act for such other in any proceeding.

(2) The authority shall be in writing signed by the party giving it and shall be filed in Court.

Sub-section (2).—Vide 2 B. H. C. R. 103.

13. [S. 34.] All objections on the ground of non-joinder or misjoinder of parties shall be taken at the earliest possible opportunity and, in all cases where issues are settled, at or before such settlement, unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen, and any such objection not so taken shall be deemed to have been waived.

Scope.—Objection as to non-joinder or misjoinder of parties should be taken at the earliest possible opportunity. 70 Ind. Cas. 645=A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 317=15 L. W. 283=(1922) M. W. N. 106=42 M. L. At any rate such objection should be taken before the settlement of issues. 41 Ind. Cas. 527 ; see also 6 A. L. J. 541 ; 25 Ind. Cas. 125 ; A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 459=35 P. L. R. 616. Where a defendant is permitted to file an additional written statement and he therein raises an objection as to non-joinder, which is later on made the subject-matter of a fresh issue the provisions of Order 1, rule 13, are not infringed. 137 Ind. Cas. 274=1932 M. W. N. 494=35 L. W. 279=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 583=62 M. L. J. 154. Where a suit is brought by a person describing himself in the plaint as the proprietor of a firm without making the widow of the other partner a party to the suit and the defendants raise no objection as to non-joinder and the issues between the parties are settled, the objection as to non-joinder cannot be allowed to be raised subsequently. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 459 ; see also 156 P. R. 1889. Where such objections have not been taken in time, it must be deemed to have been waived. 14 M. 498 ; 26 B. 301 ; 69 P. R. 1903 ; 7 Ind. But such objection can be allowed even after the settlement of issues where the reason of the objection has come into existence subsequently. 5 B. 609. Any irregularity in the initial procedure cannot be questioned at a later stage when parties without objection join issue and go to trial upon merits. 23 C. W. N. 876=57 Ind. Cas. 261. Such objection cannot be taken for the first time in appeal. 16 B. 119 ; 14 M. 498 ; 16 C. W. N. 639=13 Ind. Cas. 277 ; 26 B. 301 ; 44 M. 301 ; 18 A. 109 ; A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 295 ; 2 N. L. ORDER II.

Frame of Suit.

1. [S. 42.] Every suit shall as far as practicable be framed so as to afford ground for final decision upon the subjects in dispute and to prevent further litigation concerning them.

Scope.—Though a suit should include whole of the claim, it is not necessary to join all the causes of action. 59 Ind. Cas. 51. Suppressed fact essential for the final decision of the case, cannot be made a ground for second suit. It is barred by the rule. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 114=32 Bom. L. R. 1473=129 Ind. Cas. 787 ; 10 L. W. 170=52 Ind. Cas. 735. The expression "subject in dispute" also includes the right of one party against the other. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 192=6 Mad. 234=49 M. L. J. 701=23 L. W. 13=91 Ind. Cas. 660 ; see also 26 M. 760=13 M. L. J. 448. In the suit for declaration of the title possession of the properties need not be asked where the possession is not with the defendants. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 427=20 L. W. 754=80 Ind. Cas. 929. This rule requires that all the disputes between the parties to the litigation should be disposed of in one suit. 25 C. 371=2 C. W. N. 201 ; see also 27 C. 724 (761). Suit for declaration of a right of residence and maintenance should be so framed as to enable the defendant the ascertainment of actual extent of right. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 18=96 Ind. Cas. 997. Mortgagor cannot in a mortgage suit claim account of the agency from the mortgagee acting as managing agent of mortgagor's business. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 85=124 Ind. Cas. 520. Where in a suit by an adopted son against the widow and her alienees to recover the property of the adoptive father, the plaintiff fails to claim to recover from a particular defendant certain property of the adoptive father which was in that defendant's possession to plaintiff's knowledge, it cannot possibly be held that the suit was so framed so as to afford ground for final decision upon the subjects in dispute and to prevent further litigation concerning them. 32 Bom. L. R. 1473=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 114=129 Ind. Cas. 737. This rule should not be confined in its incidence to the manner in which the pleadings ought to be drafted. It should be the effort no less of the Court to attain a final decision upon the subjects, in dispute and prevent further litigation concerned. 34 Bom. L. R. 125=139 Ind. Cas. 678=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 175.

2. [S. 43.] (1) Every suit shall include the whole of the claim which the plaintiff is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action ; but a plaintiff may relinquish any portion of his claim in order to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of any Court.

- (2) Where a plaintiff omits to sue in respect of, or intentionally relinquishes, any portion of his claim, he shall not afterwards sue in respect of the portion so omitted or relinquished.
- Relinquishment of part of claim.
- (3) A person entitled to more than one relief in respect of the same cause of action may sue for all or any of such reliefs ; but if he omits, except with the leave of the Court, to sue for all such reliefs, he shall not afterwards sue for any relief so omitted.
- Omission to sue for one of several reliefs.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this rule an obligation and a collateral security for its performance and successive claims arising under the same obligation shall be deemed respectively to constitute but one cause of action.

Illustration.

A lets a house to B at a yearly rent of Rs. 1,200. The rent for the whole of the years 1905, 1906 and 1907 is due and unpaid. A sues B in 1908, only for the rent due for 1906. A shall not afterwards sue B for the rent due for 1905 or 1907.

Principle.—The real principle underlying cases under this rule is that if the several items which make up the claim are of the same nature and form part of the same course of dealing, so as to pass under the same description and form part of one transaction, they must be considered as one cause of action and must be joined in one suit, though they may have arisen out of several contracts. But claims which are diverse in character, which do not answer the same description and which would require a different class of evidence to support them, may be made subject of different suits, though they may arise out of the same transaction. 12 C. 339. This rule is directed against two evils, viz., the splitting of claims and the splitting of remedies in respect of one cause of action, and is founded upon the maxim that no one shall be vexed twice for one and the same cause. In order that this section may apply, not merely must both suits arise out of the same cause of action, but they must be between the same parties under whom they or any of them claim. 6. Ind. Cas. 226=7 A. L. J. 627 ; see also 19A. 329 (F. B.) ; A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 539=8 Lah. L. J. 381=22 P. L. R. 630=97 Ind. Cas. 396 ; 56 Ind. Cas. 966=2 U. P. L. R. 108. The rule is intended to deal with the vice of splitting a cause of action. The object is doubtless to prevent the multiplicity of suits. 1931 A. L. J. 797=A. I. R. (1931) P. C. 229=35 C. W. N. 977=54 C. L. J. 274=34 L. W. 444=61 M. L. J. 294=134 Ind. Cas. 654 (P. C.).

Scope of the Section.—This section is directed to securing the exhaustion of the relief in respect of a cause of action and not to the inclusion in one and the same action, different causes of action, even though they arise from the same transaction. The first part of the clause makes it incumbent on the plaintiff to include the whole of his claim in the action. The second portion makes it incumbent on him to ask for the whole of his remedies. The final paragraph is not intended to be an illustration of the foregoing provisions, but a substantive enactment making what otherwise would be independent cause of action, one cause of action for the purpose of the section. 18 C. W. N. 617 P. C.=26 I. A. 228 ; see also 6 M. 49. This rule covers only cases where plaintiff can claim several reliefs as to one cause of action and does not cover case where several causes of action can be joined in one suit. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 840=1928 M. W. N. 336=56 M. L. J. 52=110 Ind. Cas. 554 ; see also A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 237=6 Bur. L. J. 85=104 Ind. Cas. 370 ; A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1022=30 C. W. N. 873=97 Ind. Cas. 73 ; 33 Ind. Cas. 950=18 Bom. L. R. 45=40 B. 351 ; 109 Ind. Cas. 65. In order to make the provisions of Order 2, rule 2, applicable it is necessary that the causes of action should be clearly the same. 145 Ind. Cas. 1010=34 P. L. R. 905=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 542. Where the cause of action in the former suit and the cause of action in the present suit are different this section has no application. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 1017 ; see also A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 515=15 Pat. L. T. 747 ; A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 46=39 L. W. 65. This rule only purports to bar suits for claim omitted from former suits and arising from the transaction under which the claim was made in the former suit and splitting up of the reliefs in respect of the same cause of action. It does not require that where several causes of action arise from one transaction, the plaintiff should sue for all of them in one suit. The rule is directed to securing the exhaustion of the relief in respect of a cause of action, and not to the inclusion in one and the same action, different causes of action, even though they arise from the same transaction. A. I. R. 1937 All. 56. A certain property was misdescribed in a sale-deed and the vendee brought a suit for possession of the purchased property without any prayer for relief of rectification of the sale-deed and the Court dismissed the suit as no cause of action had accrued to the vendee for possession and subsequently he brought a suit for rectification and possession and it was contended that the second suit was barred under Order 2, rule 2 : Held that the cause of action for the two reliefs arose no doubt from the same transaction but were distinct and separate and the suit therefore was not barred A. There is nothing in the rule which limits its operation to cases where two reliefs open to plaintiff on the same cause of action are both cognizable by the same Court. It is operative even where the relief taken separately and alone would be cognizable in different jurisdiction. 1931 M. W. N. 893=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 705. Where the wife brought a suit against the husband in the Ellore Munsiff's Court for maintenance and then brought another suit in the Gudibada Munsiff's Court for having the amount of the decree awarded to her made a charge upon certain property of the husband in the Gudibada jurisdiction, as the husband had no property in the Ellore jurisdiction, held that the second suit was incompetent by reason of Order 2, rule 2. 1931 M. W. N. 893=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 705. First suit as manager for rendition of account against heirs of deceased brother does not bar a second suit for contribution towards the expenses and costs of litigation relating to an agreement of sale under which he and his deceased brother were joint promisees. 152 Ind. Cas. 199. To constitute an omission to sue by the plaintiff under this rule, it is necessary that the plaintiff must have actual knowledge of the item. 71 M. L. J. 264=A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 693. The bar which the Code provides in this rule and s. 11, Explanation 4 in regard to suits does not apply to the case of an application for restitution under s. 144, C. P. Code. 153 Ind. Cas. 572=A. I. Cause of action.—The cause of action for a suit means the fact or facts which the plaintiffs alleges to entitle him to a decree. A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 57=7 O. W. N. 1156=130 Ind. Cas. 79. "Cause of action" should be interpreted not on the basis of English decisions nor on the basis of its meaning in the limitation statutes, but on the basis of rules or on sections of previous Code. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 145=1 Rang. 694=2 Bur. L. J. 169=79 Ind. Cas. 755. "Cause of action" means every fact which it would be necessary for the plaintiff to prove in order to support his right to the judgment of the Court, and refers entirely to the grounds set forth in the plaint as the cause of action, or in other words, to the media upon which the plaintiff asks the Court to arrive at a conclusion in his favour. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 143=60 Ind. Cas. 496. "Cause of action" for a suit is sum total of facts and circumstances which the plaintiff has to prove to entitle him to relief. 38 A. 217=14 A. L. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 313=132 Ind. Cas. 196.

Omission to claim.—Order 2, rule 2, requires plaintiff in a suit to include the whole of his claim he is entitled to make in respect of particular cause of action, constituting the basis, but does not compel him to include all claims arising out of different causes of action. 87 P. R. 1915=181 P. W. R. 1915=31 Ind. Cas. 463. This rule refers to a case where there has been a suit in which there has been an omission to sue in respect of a portion of a claim and a decree has been made in that suit. 45 C. 305=22 C. W. Suits on contracts.—Where a contract contains two covenants a breach of both of them constitutes one cause of action. 10 L. B. R. 111=12 Bur. L. T. 251=56 Ind. Cas. 653. When one instrument contains two separate contracts and the performance of each is secured in a different manner each gives rise to a separate cause of action, although they may be joined in the same suit. 16 N. Where the first suit was by the usufructuary mortgagee for arrears of rent the second suit for sale under a provision in the mortgage-deed and for arrears of rent which had accrued subsequently is not barred. 137 Ind. Cas. 651=1932 M. W. N. 337=35 L. W. 631=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 466=63 M. L. J. 672.

Suit for partition.—The cause of action in a partition suit in a joint-family property must be regarded as exhaustive of the whole property available for division, so far as its existence is known at the date of the plaint. The position of suit properties in two jurisdictions make no difference in the application of the principle involved in Order II, rule 2. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 584=44 M. L. J. 652=72 Ind. Cas. 430; see also 1927 Mad. 213=38 M. L. T. 82=98 Ind. Cas. 538; but see 38 A. 217=14 A. L. J. 257=33 Ind. Cas. 124 (where the properties are situate in two different districts). A suit for partition of all joint properties is not barred under Order II, rule 2, though a suit for partial partition is dismissed. 87 P. R. 1915=181 P. W. R. 1915=31 Ind. Cas. 463. Suit for partition of items not included in previous suit for partition is not barred if plaintiff was not aware of existence of these items and the information about them was withheld from him either by mistake or fraud of defendant. A. I. R. 1931 Sind 27=130 Ind. Cas. 552. Where brothers inherit property from their father and also from their maternal grand-father and the properties become mixed up, the properties do not get consolidated into one whole so as to give one cause of action for partition. A. I. R. 1930 All. 371=122 Ind. Cas. 403. Section 16 and 17 do not override the principles of the provisions of Order 2, rule 2. A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 584=44 M. L. J. 652=72 Ind. Cas. 430. A claim for mesne profits for the period covered by a prior partition suit is a claim based on a different cause of action is not barred by the provisions of Order 2, rule 2, C. P. Code. 3 A. W. R. 735. This section is not applicable in a partition suit where the Court or the Commissioner has omitted to give the income of the

Partnership.—Accounts of a partnership can only be taken and must be taken once for all in a suit to which all the partners and their representatives are parties. 67 M. L. J. 413=A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 665=1934 M. W. N. 539; A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 321=158 Ind. Cas. 378.

Principal and interest.—If the mortgage provides for an independent obligation to pay the principal and the interest then a suit brought to obtain a personal judgment in respect of the interest alone, would not prevent a subsequent claim for payment of the principal. But if the non-payment of the interest causes the principal money to become due, Order 2, rule 2, applies. A. I. R. 1922 P. C. 412=50 I. A. 115=27 C. W. N. 802=38 C. L. J. 126=25 Bom. L. R. 220=32 M. If in a suit for rent the plaintiffs stated that they reserved the right for settlement of rent for the excess quantity of land and no order however, allowing such reservation is made by the Court the plaintiffs are not entitled to claim for excess, are for the period of the prior suit. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 463=40 C. L. J. 538=85 Ind. Cas. 162. A decree obtained under old rent, pending proceedings for enhancement under s. 105 does not bar suit for difference after the termination of proceedings under s. 105. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 681=32 C. W. N. 870=110 Ind. Cas. 395. Where the rent for certain premises is payable monthly and is in arrears for a number of months the cause of action remains the same in respect of each of the monthly rents. But the effect of the institution of separate suits for recovery of rent for different periods so as to bring each portion within the pecuniary jurisdiction of Small Causes Court is not the dismissal of all of them. But the moment one of them is decreed the other suit must fail in as much as separate suits are not maintainable for the several instalments. 37 C. W. M. 730=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 821=146 Ind. Cas. 351. 8. [S. 45. Cf. R. S. C. O. 18, r. 1.] (1) Save as otherwise provided, a plaintiff may unite in the same suit several causes of action against the same defendant, or the same defendants, jointly; and any plaintiffs having causes of action in which they are jointly interested against the same defendant or the same defendants jointly may unite such causes of action in the same suit.

(2) Where causes of action are united, the jurisdiction of the Court as regards the suit shall depend on the amount or value of the aggregate subject-matters at the date of instituting the suit.

Scope.—Order I, rule 1, lays down rules as regards joinder of plaintiffs and order 1, rule 3 that of defendants. This rule lays down rules as regards joinder of causes of action. This rule is to be read subject to rules 4 and 5 of the order. This rule applies to cases where there are only one plaintiff, and one defendant and several causes of action, and also to cases where the plaintiffs and defendants, though consisting of two or more individuals, may be considered as a unit with reference to all the different causes of action. 2 C. L. J. 602. In Umabai v. Bhan Balwant, 34 B. 358 at p. 367, Davoor J. observed: "In Narshing Das v. Mangal Dubey, 5 A. 163, a full Bench of that Court held that a plaint had been properly rejected because the suit was open to the objection that different causes of action against different defendants separately had been joined in the same suit. In the course of the judgment it is said at p. 171: 'The plaintiff has united different causes of action in one suit against different defendants, who are not jointly liable in respect of each and all of such causes of action—a mode of procedure that the law does not sanction. This statement of the law by the Full Bench of the Allahabad High Court is important having regard to the fact that the language of section 45 of the old Code and that of rule 3, Order II of the present Code which deal with the joinder of causes of action against several defendants is the same. As I read the judgment it lays down that the meaning of the word 'jointly' in the old section, and therefore in this rule, is that all the defendants in a suit must be jointly liable in respect of "each and all" of the cause of action which the plaintiff unites against the defendants in the same suit. (See also 6 A. 106; 23 C. 821; Burstable v. Beyfus). The result of the authorities seems to me to be that the plaintiff may in one action unite several causes of action against several defendants, provided that all such defendants are 'jointly liable in respect of each and all of such causes of action' and that the condition precedent to the plaintiff being allowed to join several causes of action against several defendants, is that such defendants must all have a joint interest in the main question raised by the litigation and that cause of action joined in one suit against several defendants must be causes of action in which the defendants are all jointly interested." Under these rules read together different causes of action against different defendants also can be joined. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 66=19 S. L. R. 395=90 Ind. Cas. 970. When the suit is framed under s. 92 of the C. P. Code, the plaintiff cannot claim against stranger to the trust either a declaration of title or possession or any other relief. 10 Rang. 342=140 Ind. Cas. 317=A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 132. The cause of action for a personal decree upon a promissory-note is incompatible with, and could not be joined to a cause of action upon the mortgage; for the relief in respect of the claim based on a promissory-note is a personal decree against the promissors, whereas the decree in a mortgage suit does not impose any personal obligation upon the mortgagor to pay the mortgage debt. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 315. The mere fact of misjoinder of parties or causes of action is not sufficient to entitle the defendant to have the proceedings set aside or action dismissed. When the merits of the case have been satisfactorily disposed of in spite of the complication of the proceedings, no effect can be given to the objection of misjoinder. When a multiplicity of parties or causes of action have been joined, there is no absolute right to have them struck out; it is discretionary with the Court to do so if it thinks right. The Court may refuse to permit the joinder of numerous parties and numerous causes of action in one suit even when such joinder does not strictly offend against the rules. 41 C. W. N. 418 (P. C.).

Illustrative cases.—Claims on three pro-notes can be joined together in one suit. 100 P. R. 1915=189 P. W. R. 1915=32 Ind. Cas. 40. All alienees form one person though on different occasions may be made co-defendants in a suit to set aside the alienations. 40 B. 351=18 Bom. L. R. 45=33 Ind. Cas. 950. Claims against different estates can be joind in one suit against the same person, if they are affected by the same instrument. 11 Bur. L. T. 222=50 Ind. Cas. 528. Where a landlord sued to eject, it is highly irregular to join in ejectment suit as defendants several tenants in possession of different parcels of land. 43 M. 567=47 I. A. 76=27 M. L. T. 102=38 M. L. J. 476=22 Bom. L. R. 578=25 C. W. N. 485 (P. C.)=22 Bom. L. R. 578=56 Ind. Cas. 117. In a suit for partnership accounts, relief regarding a certain item can be claimed against only one of the defendants. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 65=1923 Pat. 276=76 Ind. Cas. 950. Plaintiff's suit involving his one capacity of shebait for one property and another personal capacity for other properties should be treated as two suitors which should be tried separately. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 199=55 C. 164=32 C. W. N. 885=109 Ind. Cas. 755. Court should allow persons seeking individual reliefs to join in same suit for identical investigation as the policy of the rule is to avoid needless expense where it can be done without injustice to any one. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 92=103 Ind. Cas. 811. But where several persons who has each separately contracted to supply cotton are jointly suing to recover the price from the same defendant, it cannot be said that they are jointly interested within the meaning of the rule. A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 342=27 L. R. 472=87 Ind. Cas. 435. A pre-emptor can bring a single suit against the vendee in respect of all the sales taken by the latter, impleading the various vendors as pro forma defendants. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 156=6 Lah. L. J. 349=82 Ind. Cas. 605.

Only certain claims to be joined for recovery of immovable property. 4. [S. 44.] No cause of action shall, unless with the leave of the Court, be joined with a suit for the recovery of immovable property except—

(a) claims for mesne profits or arrears of rent in respect of the property claimed or any part thereof ;

(b) claims for damages for breach of any contract under which the property or any part thereof is held ; and

Provided that nothing in this rule shall be deemed to prevent any party in a suit for foreclosure or redemption from asking to be put into possession of the mortgaged property.

Scope.—This section is intended for the benefit of the defendant and as such waived by him is competent. 8 C. L. J. 196. "Section" 44 (=this rule) of the Code of Civil Procedure forbids the joinder with a suit for the recovery of immovable property, or obtain a declaration of title to such property of any claim other than the claims specified in the section." 24 A. 553 (555). A suit for sale or foreclosure in respect of a mortgage is not a suit for the recovery of immovable property. 25 A. 229=A. W. N. 1909, 19. There is nothing irregular in seeking to recover in one suit immovable and movable property if the cause of action is the same in respect of both. 31 C. 262 (P. C.)=31 I. A. 10=8 C. W. N. 146=14 M. L. J. 6. But the observation of the Privy Council in 31 I. A. 10, must be limited to cases where a party sets up the title to movable and immovable properties. 17 M. L. J. 135. A mortgagee who purchases in part of the mortgaged property in execution of his decree is entitled in a suit for partition and separate possession of his share to claim also rendition of accounts regarding that share from those in possession. 159 Ind. Cas. 463=A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 161. Where in a suit for possession of immovable property and for mesne profits of different claims have been made, in consequence of separate orders having been passed in respect of different parcels of the same property but all those claims are based on the same cause of action, namely, the assertion of the adverse title by the defendant all these claims fall within the purview of clause (c), rule 4, and the suit is therefore clearly a suit which is permissible under rule 4 without leave of the Court. A. I. R. 1935 Sind 129=156 Ind. Cas. 702.

Leave of the Court.—A plaintiff may with the leave of the Court join causes of action with a suit for recovery of immovable property. But he is nowhere compelled to do so. 6 A. 358=1 A. W. N. 115; see also 20 M. 48 (F. B.); 19 M. 90. Where objection to the joinder of certain causes of action is disallowed in the Court of first instance and the suit is decreed, the proceedings of the Court imply and indicate that leave was given to the joinder. A W. N. 1882, 207. The leave must be obtained previously. 30 C. 369=7 C. W. N. 553. A leave of the Court may not be expressed but may be inferred from its acquiescence. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 613=3 Pat. 244=5 P. L. T. 573=78 Ind. Cas. 885.

Cases.—This rule does not bar joinder in an administration suit claim in respect of the partnership with that for recovery of immovable property based on the same cause of action. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 470=51 B. 800=29 Bom. L. R. 937=104 Ind. Cas. 764. It is generally convenient in mortgage suit to decide question of paramount title of persons in possession and likely to resist possession of a successful plaintiff in a mortgage suit. A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 613=3 Pat. 244=5 P. L. T. 575=78 Ind. Cas. 885.

5. [S. 44.] No claim by or against an executor, administrator or heir, as Claims by or against ex- such, shall be joined with claims by or against cutor, administrator or heir. him personally, unless the last mentioned claims are alleged to arise with reference to the estate in respect of which the plaintiff or defendant sues or is sued as executor, administrator or heir, or are such as he was entitled to, or liable for, jointly with the deceased person whom he represents.

Scope.—Where the executor or administrator has been dealing with assets or making contracts in the course of the administration properly and fairly in his character of executor or administrator and then it becomes a question whether, the contracts being personally entered into by him, he should be sued in his character of legal personal representative or in his personal character. Padnick v. Scoll, (1876) 2 Ch. D. 736, 743. The estate means the estate in its physical sense whether rightly or improperly held by executors. 21 C. W. N. 939=41 C. 615. Suit asked for dissolution of partnership and its account and for another account between plaintiff's father and defendants to which former was entitled as administrator does not cotravene this rule. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 436=16 L. W. 175=43 M. L. J. 218=69 Ind. Cas. 966. Money in the hands of an executor who is also a legatee to whom the money is due cannot be attached in execution of a decree against him personally but legatee's interest can be attached, and executor restrained from dealing with it otherwise than in his representative capacity. 9 Bur. L. T. 226=38 Ind. Cas. 563. This rule prohibits joinder of essentially different causes of action and not when they arise out of common fact such as accounting as executors of will for money received thereunder and as trustees under scheme settled by District Judge. 36 Ind. Cas. 29; see also 51 B. 800=29 B. L. R. 937=104 Ind. Cas. 764=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 470. Where a promissory-note has been executed in favour of a father, his only son cannot, on death of father, sue for the sum as the sole surviving co-parcener of a joint and undivided Hindu family of which he and his father were members, or in the alternative as the sole heir and legal representative of his father. The two claims cannot be joined together under the terms of this rule. 59 B. 573=37 Bom. L. R. 405=A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 343.

6. [S. 45.] Where it appears to the Court that any causes of action Power of Court to order joined in one suit cannot be conveniently tried separate trials. or disposed of together, the Court may order separate trials or make such other order as may be expedient.

Scope.—This rule is applicable where the joinder has been properly made and the suit is properly constituted but cannot be conveniently tried. 27 M. 80. In a fit case the Court may order a separate trial. 8 B. 617; 8 M. 175; 14 A. 531; 6 Ind. Cas. 577. Issues on cause of action misjoined but noticed at a last stage should not be struck out but tried separately, if embarrassing. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 764=113 Ind. Cas. 865; see also 20 W. R. 482; 19 C. L. J. 316=25 Ind. Cas. 438. This rule does not apply to rent suits under the Agra Tenancy Act. A. I. R. 1924 All. 720=22 A. L. J. 156=79 Ind. Cas. 560. Appellate Court should not interfere with trial Court's discretion under this rule. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 156=73 Ind. Cas. 892.

7. [New.] All objections on the ground of misjoinder of causes of action shall be taken at the earliest possible opportunity and, in all cases where issues are settled, at or before such settlement, unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen, and any such objection not so taken shall be deemed to have been waived.

N. B.—After this rule, rule 8 has been added in Punjab.—Vide infra.

Principal.—The principal of the exception to the rule against multifariousness has all along recognized and now embodied in this rule is that where a party has, without objection, gone to trial on issues on the merits, he will not be allowed to plead after failing on the merits that his was a paramount title and one that ought not to have been adjudicated in the mortgage suit. 10 Pat. 234=130 Ind. Cas. 257=11 Pat. L. T. 898=A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 64.

Waiver.—Objection when not taken at the early stage, it is deemed to have been waived. 63 Ind. Cas. 168=A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 361=33 C. L. J. 317; but see 6 Ind. Cas. 327=11 C. L. J. 513; 13 Bom. L. R. 1061; see also 9 S. L. R. 11=30 Ind. Cas. 24.

ORDER III.

Recognized Agents and Pleaders.

1. [S. 36.] Any appearance, application or act in or to any Court, required or authorized by law to be made or done by a party in such Court, may, except where otherwise expressly provided by any law for the time being in force, be made or done by the party in person, or by his recognized agent, or by a pleader [appearing, applying or acting, as the case may be]* on his behalf:

Provided that any such appearance shall, if the Court so directs, be made by the party in person.

Notes.—This rule is intended primarily for the mofussil Court. Order 3, rule 1, has not the effect of authorizing an attorney of the original side of the High Court to file an appearance for a limited purpose only. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 450=36 Bom. L. R. 987. The language of Order 3, rule 1, C. P. Code means no more than a recognized agent can appear, make application and take such steps as may be necessary in the course of litigation for the purpose of the case of the principal being properly laid before the Court. It cannot justify his being allowed to argue and plead. 161 Ind. Cas. 351=A. I. R. 1936 Oudh 261=1936 O. W. N. 351. The only proof of a pleader's authority to act for a party that can be taken is a written instrument filed in Court as required by Order 3, rule 4 of the Civil Procedure Code. The omission of the words "duly appointed to act" in Order 3, rule 1, by the amending Act of 1926 does not make an oral authority free the client sufficient for a pleader to act. 39 C. W. N. 534=62 C. L. J. 277. Power not invalid even if name of pleader engaged does not appear in body of power. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 281=6 N. L. J. 179=73 Ind. Cas. 251. Power by pardanashin lady must be explicit. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 181=11 L. T. 21=127 Ind. Cas. 457. Omission of name and indorsement of acceptance by pleader is simply a mistake. A. I. R. 1930 All. 112=(1980) A. L. J. 394=121 Ind. Cas. 546; but see A. I. R. 1927 All. 816=102 Ind. Cas. 255. Vakalatnama must be signed like plaints. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 175=51 M. 242=27 L. 2. [S. 37.] The recognized agents of parties by whom such appearances, applications and acts may be made or done are— Recognized agents.

(a) persons holding powers-of-attorney, authorizing them to make and do such appearances, applications and acts on behalf of such parties;

(b) persons carrying on trade or business for and in the names of parties not resident within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court within which limits the appearance, application or act is made, or done, in matters connected with such trade or business only, where no other agent is expressly authorized to make and do such appearances, applications and acts.

N. B.—Rule 2 (a) has been amended in Bombay—Vide infra.

Scope.—This rule does not deal with the liability of the principal to be bound by the acceptance of service by the agent and if in the case of business where the business is carried on or in the name of the principal by somebody then whether that principal is or is not resident within the local jurisdiction the service upon the recognized agent is good service upon him. A. I. R. (1931), p. 282=133 Ind. Cas. 679=10 Pat. 441. Recognized agent as such has no right of audience. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 563. It would appear that for an act, in Court to be valid, the act must either be performed by the party himself or by a party authorized by a power of attorney or by a pleader appearing on his behalf, that is to say authorized by a proper vakalatnama. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 290=15 Pat. L. T. 233. Where a power of attorney authorizes the agent to "prosecute the claim" it confers an authority on him to file an appeal. 36 P. L. R. 135=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 973. To plead is not make or do an appearance, or an application or an act, and is not within Order 3, rules 1 and 2. Therefore a director of a company holding a power-of-attorney authorizing him "to appear for and on behalf of the company, to conduct and represent the company in the proceeding, etc." as such has no right of audience. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 563=61 C. 324=151 Ind. Cas. 753. Where a vakalatnama is in two sheets of paper, and each sheet was signed by different parties, who were aware of the contents of the other sheet, the vakalatnama was validly executed by all the parties. Clause (a).—Vide 108 Ind. Cas. 513=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 733 ; 32 P. L. R. 389=133 Ind. Cas. 877 ; A. I. R. 1931 All. 320=133 Ind. Cas. 606 ; 1931 A. L. J. 904.

Clause (b).—The expression "carrying on business" is used in a restricted sense, viz., as relating to commercial business. Hence a person who is merely looking after factory of another is not a recognised agent of such another within the meaning of Order 3, rule 2 (a) or (b), specially for purposes of presenting petitions in matters not relating to the factory. A. I. R. 1937 Mad. 293 ; see also 1936 M. W. N. 1175=44 L. W. 567=71 M. L. J. 607. Political agent is not recognized agent. 11 B. 53. A mere servant is also not an agent. 4 B. 416. A partner is a recognized agent. 11 B. L. R. App. 26. Person looking after Zemindary of a person is not his recognized agent under this section. 132 Ind. Cas. 808=1931 A. L. J. 404=A. I. R. 1931 A. 449. Plaintiff's clerk is not his recognized agent. 46 B. 150=A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 113=68 Ind. Cas. 217. The management of an estate is business and service of summons on such manager is sufficient. 12 Lah. L. J. 13.

3. [S. 38.] (1) Processes served on the recognised agent of a party shall be as effectual as if the same had been served on the party in person, unless the Court otherwise directs.

(2) The provisions for the service of process on a party to a suit shall apply to the service of process on his recognized agent.

Scope.—This section does not bar service on party. 3 U. B. R. 94. A service upon attorney's clerk is not good service. 2 Hyde, 116. A person holding general power of attorney can accept or refuse service at his option. 8 C. 317.

* "4. (1) No pleader shall act for any person in any Court, unless he has been appointed for the purpose by such person by a document in writing signed by such person or by his recognised agent or by some other person duly authorised by or under a power-of-attorney to make such appointment.

(2) Every such appointment shall be filed in Court and shall be deemed to be in force until determined with the leave of the Court by a writing signed by the client or the pleader, as the case may be, and filed in Court or until the client or the pleader dies, or until all proceedings in the suit are ended so far as regards the client.

(3) For the purposes of sub-rule (2) an application for review of judgment, an application under section 144 or section 152 of this Code, any appeal from any decree or order in the suit and any application or act for the purpose of obtaining copies of documents or return of documents produced or filed in the suit or of obtaining refund of monies paid into the Court in connection with the suit shall be deemed to be proceedings in the suit.

(4) The High Court may, by general order, direct that, where the person by whom a pleader is appointed is unable to write his name, his mark upon the document appointing the pleader shall be attested by such person and in such manner as may be specified by the order.

(5) No pleader who has been engaged for the purpose of pleading only shall plead on behalf of any party, unless he has filed in Court a memorandum of appearance signed by himself and stating—

(a) the names of the parties to the suit,

* This new rule (4) has been substituted for the following old rule by Act 22 of 1926 :—

"4. (1) the appointment of a pleader to make or do any appearance, application or act for any person shall be in writing, and shall be signed by such person or by his recognized agent or by some other person duly authorized by power-of-attorney to act in this behalf."

(b) the name of the party for whom he appears, and

(c) the name of the person by whom he is authorised to appear :

Provided that nothing in this sub-rule shall apply to any pleader engaged to plead on behalf of any party by any other pleader who has been duly appointed to act in Court on behalf of such party"

When an appellant dies his power-of-attorney in favour of his counsel ceases to be operative and the counsel cannot file an application on behalf of the legal representatives to bring them on record without a fresh power from such legal representatives. 32 P. L. R. 389. The practice of the Calcutta High Court has always been that no order for change of attorney is made.

(2) Every such appointment, when accepted by a pleader, shall be filed in Court, and shall be considered to be in force until determined with the leave of the Court, by a writing signed by the client or the pleader, as the case may be, and filed in Court, or until the client or the pleader dies or until all proceedings in the suit are ended so far as regards the client.

(3) No advocate of any High Court established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, or of any Chief Court, and no advocate of any other High Court who is a barrister, shall be required to present any document empowering him to act, unless provision is made for payment of the attorney except where the attorney has by own conduct or misconduct discharged himself. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 58.

Sub-rule (3).—This sub-rule defines the term “until all the proceedings of the suit are ended.” Defendant's attorney can appeal against order refusing to set aside ex parte decree. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 134=99 Ind. Cas. 690. Advocate appointed in a case can present appeal also. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 68=116 Ind. Cas. 184. Appeal includes second appeal also. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 733=108 Ind. Fresh vakalatnama is not required for representation of plaintiff. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 182=6 N. L. J. 100=71 Ind. Cas. 436. Vakalatnama embodied in general terms does not include power to refer a suit to arbitration. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 338=79 Ind. Cas. 48.

Sub-rule (5).—Sub-rule (5) is inconsistent with the rules of the Calcutta High Court framed under s. 37, Letters Patent of 1865, as such the rules framed under s. 37, Letters Patent are to prevail. A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 1=135 Ind. Cas. 789; 35 C. W. N. 1100. When a pleader appears to plead in a case he must also be considered to be appearing on behalf of his client and for the purpose of appearance on behalf of his client neither a power-of-attorney nor a memorandum of appearance is necessary. A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 2=153 Ind. Cas. 937.

5. [S. 40.] Any process served on the pleader of any party or left at the office or ordinary residence of such pleader, and whether the same is for the personal appearance of the party or not, shall be presumed to be duly communicated and made known to the party whom the pleader represents, and, unless the Court otherwise directs, shall be as effectual for all purposes as if the same had been given to or served on the party in person.

N. B.—Vide C. P. Madras, Nagpur, Oudh, Patna and Peshwar rules for amendment of this rule.

Scope.—Notice to duly appointed pleader is good notice to the client. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 426=108 Ind. Cas. 62. Under rule 5 there is a presumption that notice which was served on the pleader is communicated to the client. The only method by which a pleader can avoid his duty of communicating notices served upon him is to file a document in writing under Order 3, rule 4. sub-clause (2) of the Code showing that his authority is determined. Else the irrebuttable presumption under s. 5 arises. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 592=152 Ind. Cas. 589. He is bound to protect client's interest. A. I. R. 1922 Oudh 75=25 O. C. 40=9 O. L. J. 170=67 Ind. order of filing award to pleader is sufficient compliance with para 10, Schedule 2. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 619=45 C. L. J. 458=103 Ind. Cas. 625.

6. [S. 41.] (1) Besides the recognized agents described in rule 2 any person residing within the jurisdiction of the Court may be appointed an agent to accept service of process.

(2) Such appointment may be special or general and shall be made by an instrument in writing signed by the principal, and such instrument or, if the appointment is general, a certified copy thereof shall be filed in Court.

ORDER 1V.

Institution of Suits.

1. [S. 48.] (1) Every suit shall be instituted by presenting a plaint to the Court or such officer as it appoints in this behalf.

(2) Every plaint shall comply with the rules contained in Orders VI and VII, so far as they are applicable.

N. B.—For local amendments in Allahabad C. P. and Oudh Sind,—Vide infra.

Scope.—Presentation of plaint is the starting point of a case. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 480=133 Ind. Cas. 550. It does not matter if it is imperfect at the time of institution. A. I. R. 1921 Sind 166=17 S. L. R. 223=85 Ind. Cas. 893; see also 62 C. 1115; A. I. R. 1935 Sind 225. Plaint substantially in accordance with Order VI and VII is valid even with certain defendants. A. I. R. 1921 Sind 166=17 S. L. R. 223=85 Ind. Cas. 893. Presentation is proper when it is presented to Head Ministerial Officer authorized to receive plaint. 40 Ind. Cas. 587=6 L. W. 16 (on appeal 40 M. L. J. 229=19 A. L. Plaint presented out of office hours is not good presentation. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 201=20 L. W. 655=82 Ind. Cas. 928. But when accepted it is good presentation. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 448=47 M. 312=46 M. L. J. 78=19 L. W. 468=79 Ind. Cas. 1017. Plaint presented at Judge's residence after usual hours is valid presentation. A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 167=65 Ind. Cas. 674. Where a blank plaint has been signed by the plaintiff it cannot be treated as a proper plaint. A. L. R. 1934 All. 39=2 A. W. R. 932. The absence of signature or verification or for the matter of that the absence of presentation on the part of some of the plaintiffs out of several does not affect the jurisdiction of the Court and the suit must be deemed to have been duly instituted on their behalf if it was filed with their knowledge and authority. 134 Ind. Cas. 26=1931 A. L. J. 777=A. I. R. 1931 All. 507 (S. B.). A plaint is presented when it is handed over to proper officer appointed in that behalf. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 91.

2. [S. 58.] The Court shall cause the particulars of every suit to be entered in a book to be kept for the purpose and called the register of civil suits. Such entries shall be numbered in every year according to the order in which the plaints are admitted.

ORDER V.

Issue and Service of Summons.

Issue of Summons.

1. [S. 64.] (1) When a suit has been duly instituted a summons may be issued to the defendant to appear and answer the claim on a day to be therein specified:

Summons.
Provided that no such summons shall be issued when the defendant has appeared at the presentation of the plaint and admitted the plaintiff's claim.

(2) A defendant to whom a summons has been issued under sub-rule (1) may appear :—

- (a) in person, or
- (b) by a pleader duly instructed and able to answer all material questions relating to the suit, or
- (c) by a pleader accompanied by some person able to answer all such questions.

(3) Every such summons shall be signed by the Judge or such officer as he appoints, and shall be sealed with the seal of the Court.

N. B.—For local amendment in Oudh.—Vide infra.

Scope.—Onus of proving service of summons is on the plaintiff. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 801=52 C. 453=88 Ind. Cas. 929. Where there is allegation that summons was not served by fraud, the defendant must prove it. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 291=3 P. L. T. 451=66 Ind. Cas. 137. Where no date is fixed, suit cannot be dismissed for default under Order IX, rule 3. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 320=27 P. L. R. 1921=60 Ind. Cas. 475. Sub-rule is equally applicable in the case of a plaintiff. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 842=17 M. L. J. 514=20 L. W. 795=82 Ind. Cas. 107. It is not sufficient appearance, when a pleader instructed only to apply for adjournment, does so. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 46=4 Rang. 408=99 Ind. Cas. 717 ; see also 24 M. L. J. 235=18 Ind. Cas. 360 ; A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 123.

Copy or statement annexed to summons.

2. [S. 65.] Every summons shall be accompanied by a copy of the plaint or, if so permitted, by a concise statement.

N. B.—For local amendment in Allahabad and Oudh, Vide infra.

Court may order defendant or plaintiff to appear in person.

3. [S. 66.] (1) Where the Court sees reason to require the personal appearance of the defendant, the summons shall order him to appear in person in Court on the day therein specified.

(2) Where the Court sees reason to require the personal appearance of the plaintiff on the same day, it shall make an order for such appearance.

Scope.—Where the Court finds a date for the personal appearance of a party he is not bound to appear on the adjourned date. The suit cannot be dismissed for default for his not appearing on the adjourned date. 39 A. 476=15 A. L. J. 522=39 Ind. Cas. 634. Where no sufficient attempt is made to serve summons personally and the person served is not shown to be authorized to receive summons appeal to set aside ex parte decree must succeed. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 128=70 Ind. Cas. 292. The Court under this rule cannot compel the personal appearance of a pardanashin lady on the ground that at her examination in commission she was tutored. This rule is confined to those cases in which the Court before the issues are framed desires the personal attendance of a party. 55 A. 666=146 Ind. Cas. 885=1933 A. L. J. 1384=A. I. R. 1933 All. 551 ; 28 N. L. R. 146=140 Ind. Cas. 716=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 135.

No party to be ordered to appear in person unless resident within certain limits.

4. [S. 67.] No party shall be ordered to appear in person unless he resides :—

(a) within the local limits of the Court's ordinary original jurisdiction, or

(b) without such limits but at a place less than fifty or (where there is railway or steamer communication or other established public conveyance for five-sixth of the distance between the place where he resides and the place where the Court is situate) less than two hundred miles distance from the Court-house.

N. B.—For new rule 4 A. in Allahabad.—Vide infra.

5. [S. 68.] The Court shall determine, at the time of issuing the Summons to be either to settle issues or for final disposal. summons, whether it shall be for the settlement of issues only, or for the final disposal of the suit; and the summons shall contain a direction accordingly:

Provided that, in every suit heard by a Court of Small Causes, the summons shall be for the final disposal of the suit.

N. B.—For local amendment in Calcutta and Madras.—Vide infra.

Notes.—In simple cases a summons for the final disposal of the suit should be issued. 38 B. 377 (379)=16 Bom. L. R. 39=24 Ind. Cas. 665. In a mortgage suit a summons for the settlement of issues should be issued. Ibid.

6. [S. 69.] The day for the appearance of the defendant shall be fixed with reference to the current business of the Court, the place of residence of the defendant and the time necessary for the service of the summons; and the day shall be so fixed as to allow the defendant sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer on such day.

Notes.—Vide 3 M. H. C. R. 167; 7 B. H. C. R. 138; 5 W. R. (Act X) 39; 1 L. B. R. 226; 17 Ind. Cas. 351=8 S. L. R. 153.

7. [S. 70.] The summons to appear and answer shall order the defendant to produce all documents in his possession or power upon which he intends to rely in support of his case. Summons to order defendant to produce documents relied on by him.

8. [S. 71.] Where the summons is for the final disposal of the suit, it shall also direct the defendant to produce, on the day fixed for his appearance, all witnesses upon whose evidence, he intends to rely in support of his case. On issue of summons for final disposal, defendant to be directed to produce his witnesses.

Service of Summons.

9. [S. 72.] (1) Where the defendant resides within the jurisdiction of the Court in which the suit is instituted, or has an agent resident within that jurisdiction who is empowered to accept the service of the summons, the summons shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, be delivered or sent to the proper officer to be served by him or one of his subordinates. Delivery or transmission of summons for service.

(2) The proper officer may be an officer of a Court other than that in which the suit is instituted, and, where he is such an officer, the summons may be sent to him by post or in such other manner as the Court may direct.

Notes.—Service by registered post if brought into question, very slight evidence is necessary to displace it. A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 568=113 Ind. Cas. 698; see also 46 B. 130=64 Ind. Cas. 130. Notes.—Attempt should be made to find out the defendant, by an enquiry from his neighbours and other persons. This rule must be strictly followed. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 638 = 35 C. L. J. 203 = 26 C. W. N. 359 = 68 Ind. Cas. 991; see also A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 274. Service on son will bind the father, if he is adult. 26 C. W. N. 359 = 35 C. L. J. 203 = 68 Ind. Cas. 991; see also 37 C. L. J. 478 = A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 682 = 75 Ind. Cas. 105. Service of notice to mumim is no notice to party or pleader. 45 Ind. Cas. 932 = 105 P. W. R. 1918. A servant is not a member of the family. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 202 = 8 Lah. 54 = 102 Ind. Cas. 523. Service of summons on son is not service on father where the son is not living with father. 34 P. L. R. 963 = A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 797. Where in an ejectment suit there are defendants in different villages, service of process on one defendant is not service on all. 17 R. D. 608 = 14 L. R. 500 (Rev.). Where from evidence it did not appear that the service peon had used any diligence at all in serving a notice under Order 5, rule 17, and where also it appeared that the house on which a notice was struck up was not within Order 5, rule 17, the service was irregular. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 274 = 15 Pat. L. T. 273 = 13 Pat. 467. Summons can be delivered to be tendered to a pardanashin lady, even though it may not be possible for a process-server to have access to her; nor can a pardanashin lady be considered to be a person who cannot be personally served. It is the duty of the process-server to make an attempt to find ways and means of delivery or tendering the summons to the pardanashin lady for whom it is intended. He can very often find some one living with her or in the neighbourhood, male or female who can take the summons to her. If the pardanashin lady accepts service, it is personal service as contemplated by rr. 10 and 15. He should in ordinary cases obtain the attestation of the witness taking the summons to the pardanashin woman concerned which should also be done in case of refusal by her to accept the summons. If the process-server cannot find any one, male or female, who can take the summons to her, it may be a case referred to in rule 15, namely, that the defendant cannot be personally served. A. I. R. 1935 All. 660 = 155 Ind. Cas. 676.

16. [S 79.] Where the serving officer delivers or tenders a copy of the summons to the defendant personally, or to an agent or other person on his behalf, he shall require the signature of the person to whom the copy is so delivered or tendered to an acknowledgment of service endorsed on the original summons.

17. [S. 80.] Where the defendant or his agent or such other person as aforesaid refuses to sign the acknowledgment, or where the serving officer, after using all due and reasonable diligence, cannot find the defendant, and there is no agent empowered to accept service of the summons on his behalf, nor any other person on whom service can be made, the serving officer shall affix a copy of the summons on the outer door or some other conspicuous part of the house in which the defendant ordinarily resides or carries on business or personally works for gain, and shall then return the original to the Court from which it was issued, with a report endorsed thereon or annexed thereto stating that he has so affixed the copy, the circumstances under which he did so, and the name and address of the person (if any) by whom the house was identified and in whose presence the copy was affixed.

Report of a process-server not containing the name of any witness while there must have been persons present at the time of service cannot be deemed to have been framed in accordance with law and does not furnish prima facie proof of due service. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 80=23 N. L. R. 116=107 Ind. Cas. 666. The service of summons is not made simply by delivery of a copy of summons to the defendant where the defendant refused to append his signature to the acknowledgment of service. On such refusal it is incumbent to effect service in the manner prescribed by Order 5, rule 17 of the C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1933 A. 165=144 Ind. Cas. 1019=1933 A. L. J. 165 ; see also 33 P. L. R. 5=A.
